Countersigned:
Archie Livingston, City Clerk.

Moved by Ald. Washburn, seconded by Ald. Hiller that application of Fred J. W. Bergman for sewer lateral be granted. Motion prevailed.

Moved by Ald. Levinson, seconded by Ald. Hiller that the city clerk be instructed to prepare a list of all accounts unpaid 30 days and present to council the first meeting of each month. Motion prevailed.

On motion of Ald. Hiller, seconded by Ald. Benton, council adjourned. Archie Livingston, City Clerk.

The First Thousand

AFTER A MAN has saved a thousand dollars the hardest part of his financial battle is over, and the accumulation of money afterwards is comparatively easy.

THE FORCE of this will be apparent to anyone who gives thought to the subject.

THE EASIEST WAY and only sure way to obtain that "first thousand" is by regular, systematic saving.

IF DEPOSITED with us, the four per cent. interest, compounded twice yearly, will help you materially.

ONE DOLLAR starts you on the way to a competency for old age and the inevitable "rainy day."

HIGHER FREIGHT RATES INEVITABLE

That further increases in freight rates will be necessary in order to enable the railroads of the country to restore their former equipment, is the opinion expressed by the Republican Publicity Association, in a statement given out today through the President of that organization, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. The statement says:

"From facts already developed in the study of the problem of re-establishment of our transportation systems under private management, it is clearly evident that the people of America must make up in one form or another, the depreciation in railroad equipment suffered in the past few years because of inadequate railroad revenue. Upon an efficient transportation system the prosperity of every other industry and enterprise depends. The short-sighted and unbusinesslike policy of railroad regulation by one Federal and 48 state regulatory bodies resulted in what has been appropriately called starvation of the roads—a condition that must be corrected by adoption of a constructive, unified supervision.

"The present condition of the transportation facilities may be better understood if we review briefly the changes that have taken place in the past few years.

"The great prosperity of the railroads was between the fiscal years ending in June, 1898, and June, 1907. During this period the railroads showed continuous increases in their gross revenues year by year, and, as a result of that prosperity, the physical condition of the railroad properties was raised to the highest peak.

"In the autumn of 1907 the panic occurred, and from July 1, 1907, the beginning of the fiscal year, 1908, the financial and physical conditions showed, with two exceptions, continuous depreciation up to the time the railroads were taken over by the government at the close of the calendar year, 1917. Between 1908 and 1914 twenty-eight major railway corporations and over fifty minor corporations went into bankruptcy.

"During the period above stated the railways had only two prosperous years, viz: the fiscal year 1910, during which there was a quick recovery from the paralysis which followed the panic of 1907, and again in 1913, following a year of banner crops in practically all lines of agriculture. During those years the railroads were full maintained and probably some gain was made, but the fiscal years 1911, '12, '14, '15 and '16 were all lean years, and in order that the roads might meet their interest and dividend obligations, expenses were reduced beyond a safe limit and the properties depreciated.

"In the year 1917 railroad revenues reached a very high level, but due to the high cost and scarcity of labor, and the unusual increase in the cost of materials, the depreciation of the physical properties continued.

"At the close of the fiscal year 1914 there were in service on Class 1 and 2 railroads 2,325,647 freight cars. Of that number 847,000 cars were of the capacity of 60,000 pounds, or under, and were practically all of wood construction. If it had not been for the meagre earnings of the railroads in the period from 1907 to 1914 and the loss of credit due to their impoverished condition, probably all of those cars would have been renewed with modern cars within that time. As the railroad disabilities extended to 1917, it is fair to assume that very little was done in the replacement of those cars up to the time the government took over the properties. Those modern cars were uneconomic, being deficient both in carrying and public capacity, too weak to meet the strain when interspersed with cars of modern construction, and further loss of efficiency was suffered in the time consumed in making frequent and extensive repairs. The pre-war cost of maintaining those inefficient cars averaged about $130 per annum, as against $60 per annum for modern steel under-frame or all-steel cars. It is safe to say that all those 847,000 cars, except those that were no longer fit to run, are still in service, and that their war cost of maintenance is in the neighborhood of $300 per annum.

"There was a deficiency of $446,000,000 in car replacement in the period from 1908 to 1914, inclusive. At the prices current in the year 1915, those cars could have been replaced new at a cost of $847,000,000. At current prices the cost would now be $2,445,600,000.

"An expert estimate was made in 1915 of the depreciation of permanent way bridges, buildings, etc., and the conclusion was reached that the depreciation had been up to that time $2,000 per mile of main line. As that condition has not been improved since then, it is safe assumption that it will require $3,000 per mile of main line to bring the railroad structure up to the required status at this time or $780,000,000 on the basis of pre-war cost. Assuming the present cost, the amount would be double or $1,560,000,000.

"Notwithstanding the increase of twenty-five per cent in freight rates and approximately fifty per cent in passenger rates, ordered by the Railroad Administration, effective June 25, 1918, there is a deficit to the government under its guarantee, up to an including May of this year, amounting to $451,000,000. It is thus evident that there must be another increase in rates, and the public cannot have much hope of any reduction in these rates until the depreciation of the physical properties which has occurred in the past thirteen years has been made good. The experience of the past few years has doubtless convinced the public that the greatest essential to the prosperity of the country is an efficient transportation system, and there is no way of securing it except by placing railway tariffs upon a level that will afford the means of attaining the desired end and turning the properties over to their owners for efficient and competitive management with such governmental regulatory encouragement as will insure the peak of service and prevent the exploitation of either the public or the stockholders.

MILESTONE IN AMERICAN HISTORY

Some people are just discovering that American independence is saved. The saving was done on March 4, 1919, when 39 Republican senators placed in the Congressional Record a "round robin" bearing their signatures and notifying all the world that they would not stand for a treaty that gave away American independence. Some people thought they did not mean what they said, and it took these people a long time to realize the importance of the signing of that document. History will record it as the most important American document since the signing of the original Declaration of Independence in 1776, and the signers will be remembered as the saviors of American independence.

WILSONIAN MORALITY

It looks as though the President is determined to fasten the short and ugly word upon himself. He signed a treaty with France and, in the last clause of that treaty, agreed that the treaty "will be submitted to the senate of the United States at the same time as the treaty of Versailles." Instead of submitting the treaty as he agreed to do, he expressly informed the senate that he "took the liberty" of reserving it. France can scarcely help recalling past expressions of a much distrusted ruler who spoke of treaty agreements as "scraps of paper."

LEAGUE WRECKING DEMOCRACY

Democrats in Missouri are striving to explain numerous defections from their ranks by saying that they are due to dissatisfaction with "local conditions," but from others comes the explanation that the real cause for desertions is the unwillingness of patriotic Americans to be led by Woodrow Wilson into a league of nations in which this country will be subjected to the dictation of a council in which Europeans have a majority.

NO PEACE FOR TREASURY

Secretary of the Treasury Glass estimates that the expenses of the government from June 30, 1919, to June 30, 1920, will be $6,500,000. That period will be not merely a full year of peace, but a full year beginning about nine months after the armistice was signed. Before the war was spending about a billion a year.

TRAVELING HOME ON FORD CHASSIS

Unique Cottage on Wheels Passed Through Friday

A unique cottage on wheels passed through Charlevoix on Friday of last week. It was made of some light material and set on a Ford body.

The windows were neatly curtained and there were chairs, a bed and everything necessary for comfort. The owner, slept, ate and traveled in the outfit and it was about as neat as we have yet seen. The best part of it all was the sign on the side, "This cabin has not tipped over yet."

AUTO LICENSES SWAMP STATE

Many May Lack Necessary Permit to Operate Car August 14

The first mail delivery to the state department Monday contained more than 25,000 applications for motor operators' licenses. Many were mailed individually and accompanied by money orders for 50 cents in payment of license fee.

It is now certain the department will be deluged with applications from all parts of the state during the last days before the law becomes effective, August 14, and Deputy Frank E. Fitzgerald predicts that thousands will not receive their licenses on or before that time.

At least 200,000 applications are expected from Detroit at once, of which but a few thousand have been received. Of those received Monday, less than half were from that city. Counting an average of two drivers for every car, of which there are now 325,000 licenses in Michigan, the number of operators' licenses will be at least 650,000.

Although blanks have been distributed for more than five weeks, only about 65,000 licenses have been issued. They are now being folded and made ready for the mail.

The department is equipped to handle 12,000 a day and every effort will be made to meet the demand to get them out as rapidly as possible.

They say the Boyne City Silo is the best on the market today. Have you seen it. 18tf.

Have you heard about the Boyne City Silo?

Notice to Light and Water Users.
The ordinances of the city make it my duty to enforce the collection of delinquent light and water accounts. If accounts are not paid before the 28th of each month, the user is subject to discontinuance of service. I believe that all users are acquainted with this rule. I am instructed by the common council to observe and strictly enforce it. It has been the practice to call delinquents and notify them of the expiration of the time limit. This has proved expensive and impracticable and the council has ordered it discontinued. This notice is to appraise all users of the change so that they may govern themselves accordingly. The rule will be observed impartially.
Dated, August 6, 1919.

Amusements for Employees.
The secret of having thoughtful care for the amusement of employees is not a new discovery. It has been in use for more than a generation by one of the most successful department store proprietors now in this country. The "Bon Marche" also introduced the idea in Paris years ago. New York merchants arrange picnics and dances for their woman and man clerks.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or have Bladder trouble—Salts fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with alkali, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

"Those boys didn't know what retreat meant. And, pep! Say, every mother's son charged as tho' he was the whole American Army. It was the proudest moment of my life."

More than 32,871,000 tins of Velvet Tobacco were sent to the boys in France—enough, if placed end to end, to reach 2340 miles or nearly from New York to Brest. How much it helped them, their friendly letters testify.

Velvet makes friends easily—because, like true friendship, it has been allowed to ripen naturally. For two years, Velvet ages in wooden hogsheads, and when it comes out it is just right—no kick, no bite, no harshness.

You and Velvet—begin that friendship now.

ONE WEAK SPOT

Many Charlevoix People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's The Back

Many people have a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist.

Dull aching keeps up, day and night. Backache is often from weak kidneys.

In such case a kidney medicine is needed. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

For backache and urinary ills. Charlevoix people recommend the remedy.

Mrs. R. S. Hammond, 207 Belvedere Ave., Charlevoix, says: "Several years ago my kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. At times my hands and feet were swollen and my face was bloated, also. I felt miserable all over. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills I began their use and three boxes removed all the trouble, making me feel like a different person."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hammond had. Foster-Millburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy, with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

BAND BOYS

MADE A HIT

HUNDREDS ENJOY CONCERT SATURDAY EVENING

Ellsworth Packed With Cars and Buses Houses Remain Open Until Late Hour

The band made its first appearance on the streets for concert work last Saturday evening and made a decided hit with the hundreds of visitors gathered from all parts of Antrim and Charlevoix counties to do their weekly shopping.

Autos and wagons began arriving hours before the time set for the start of the concert and by eight o'clock all available space between the river bridge and the old school house site and from Skow's grove north almost to Chas. Kinner's was taken up by parked cars.

All business places were rushed with business and at one o'clock Sunday morning, when the stores finally emptied, the tired clerks wended their way homeward, grateful that Saturday only comes once a week.

During the rush of business between 6:00 and 10:30 in the evening, a summer visitor here from Chicago remarked that the crowd resembled the one at the corner of State and Madison streets of Chicago during the rush hour of a busy day.

The crowds of last Saturday are no exception, as crowds of this size are a regular thing here, the people for miles around meeting their friends here and doing their business where they can and do get more for their produce and pay less for the necessities of life than at any other place in northern Michigan.

Anyone doubting this statement is cordially invited to drop into Ellsworth any day and prove to themselves the amount of money they can save.

HOME COMING SURPRISE TO PARENTS

Emery Wilson Has Been Discharged From Service

Emery Wilson has been discharged from the U. S. Navy and arrived home on Monday of this week, his arrival coming as a surprise to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Wilson.

Emery enlisted at Detroit, one year ago and after two months training at Great Lakes, Ill., was sent to the League Island Navy Yard at Philadelphia. He made one trip across and was prevented from a second voyage by engine trouble which developed shortly after leaving the American waters. It is needless to say that his parents were overjoyed to see him as are his many friends.

REPORTS HURT RESORT TRADE

CAUSE HEAVY FINANCIAL LOSS TO RESORT TOWNS

Press of State Severely Censured for Allowing Misleading Reports to be Published

Contending that reports published recently in lower Michigan papers regarding forest fires, in the northern peninsula, and in the northern part of the lower peninsula have been greatly exaggerated, and that their misrepresentations of facts is damaging to the prosperity of resort towns and cities, Joseph P. Wenzel, of St. Ignace, writes the following letter, which is endorsed by every newspaper and person interested in the success and development of northern Michigan resorts. That the reports have had a serious effect on the tourist, there is no doubt, as hundreds of inquiries have been made regarding conditions in this section of the state alone. Mr. Wenzel's letter follows:

"Gentlemen: I wish to call your attention to the erroneous dispatches that are appearing daily in the Detroit Free Press and the Grand Rapids Herald, relative to forest fires in the northern part of the lower peninsula, and in the upper peninsula. These dispatches are daily, and they go on to state that this town that summer resort and this and that, are seriously threatened with fire.

"From reading these dispatches one would believe that the entire northern country is a roaring furnace and that it is about to be destroyed.

"To we people who live in the localities referred to, these articles are to be scoffed at. But the point is that every one of these erroneous dispatches is causing a heavy financial loss to the summer resorts, which means that every business man in these resorts is suffering his share of the loss. I am in a position to know that this is the truth.

"Because of the forest fire reports many people who have contemplated auto trips to the upper peninsula have cancelled their trips. Many of those who do get across the straits, ask me 'How are the fires?' Can we get through?"

"True, the forest fires have been serious, but why allow this sensational stuff to get into the papers at the expense of a large section of the state? I feel that it is your duty to publish the truth about these forest fires. We have only the month of August left for this year's touring season. Let's get together and get the truth before the public and let the people know it is perfectly safe to come up here with their automobiles. In this way we will get our share of the tourists, and we will also give the people a true idea of our country. It is a grand country, with good roads being built, good climate, grand scenery, and not a roaring furnace, where you will be burned up without even a chance to make a will.

Yours truly,

Joseph P. Wenzel."

Members of Detroit Passenger Club Here August 10

Plans have been completed for the entertainment of some 95 members of the Detroit Passenger Club, due to arrive in Charlevoix at 6:55 Sunday morning.

The party will be guests of the Inn hotel for breakfast. At 9:30 a. m. they will leave the Inn for an automobile trip around the city, visiting all points of interest. After the sight-seeing trip they will return to the Inn and enjoy the fine bathing in Pine Lake.

At 11:30 a. m. they will be guests of the Charlevoix Commercial Association at a luncheon at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel.

At 2:04 p. m. they leave on the dummy, over the Pere Marquette, to receive entertainment of about the same kind from our neighboring city, and given a ride around the bay to Harbor Springs and resorts on the railroad line.

SEAMAN WINS THE FIRST RACE

Local Boy Lowers Record of Rink in Mile Event

Vercial Seaman won the first race in the four-night event at the Charlevoix Roller Rink Tuesday evening, over his competitor, Paul Drew, the Chicago champ.

Seaman's time for a mile was three minutes and 28 seconds, and he finished some fifteen feet ahead of his opponent. Prior to this the mile record on the rink floor was held by Allie Moore, time, three minutes and 32 seconds.

The contest is the best two out of three, and will take place on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

COMMUNICATIONS

Mr. Editor—I, along with several suffering residents, would like to have you tell us why it is in this city, where the law forbids the keeping of hog pens, out houses, or any offensive litter; a city that prides itself on being beautiful and sanitary; where in some cases the law is rigidly enforced and in others people are allowed to make their premises not only a nuisance, but a menace to health as well. Also why we who are law-abiding have to suffer to such an extent that we cannot have the pleasure of sitting on our own porches in the evening on account of the disgusting odors which are wafted hither and yon upon old Lake Michigan's breezes which should be pure and bracing. But anyone living in the 400 block on Mason or Antrim street will testify to the fact that the perfume we get is anything but pure and balmy. NOW WHY MUST WE SUFFER? WE PAY OUR TAXES. If we have laws, let us have them enforced, evenly, not in spots.—A Subscriber.

(If such conditions really exist, we advise you to report the same to the Board of Health. It is their duty to investigate and if conditions are as above stated, they will remedy them, or fail in the performance of their duty. Try this method, and if it fails, the Courier will give the matter the publicity it deserves.—Ed.)

Playing a horn is just like having a family quarrel, one cannot keep the noise from reaching the ears of the whole neighborhood.

But what a roar you would have put up a little while ago if you had to get up an hour earlier! Now you don't know you are doing it.

WILSON DECLARES THERE IS PLENTY OF FOOD.

Attorney General to Ask County
Food Administrators to Appoint Fair Price Committees.

An investigation has been started by attorney General Palmer to ascertain how much of the high cost of living is due to excessive profits by retailers. In a telegram to all state food administrators who worked with Administrator Hoover during the war, the attorney general requested the appointment of a fair price committee in each county to investigate what is being charged for retail necessities, and if in excess of what the committee considers just, to publish a list of fair prices for the guidance of the public.

This is the "extra legal" means of reaching profiteering which Mr. Palmer recently indicated was under consideration. He has frankly stated from the start that there are no means to prosecute directly a man guilty of extortion in prices. Retailers who are gouging the ultimate customer will have to be disciplined by public sentiment, which officials have no doubt will be sufficiently alert to the situation to act vigorously in clear-cut cases.

Hoarders, on the other hand, can be reached through the war-time food laws or the Sherman act, and Mr. Palmer requested the state food administrators to transmit to him any evidence of hoarding or other violations of the law which they might encounter in their work, with the promise that the government's law enforcement machinery would act promptly.

"There is a pressing necessity for the restoration of normal conditions," Mr. Palmer's telegram said. He asked the administrators to serve without compensation believing the public service to be performed now is as important as when the country was engaged in hostilities.

The attorney-general's telegram follows:

"In order to secure accurate information relative to charges of profiteering by dealers in necessary commodities it is the desire of the government to ascertain whether or not such dealers are making more than a fair margin of profit. Will you assist in your state by requesting those persons who have been county food administrators under your jurisdiction to appoint fair price committees, including one retailer of groceries, one of dry goods, a representative of the producers, of organized labor, of housewives, two or three representatives of the public generally, also a wholesaler when practicable.

"Please request them to pursue approximately the same inquiries with reference to food products and the ordinary necessities, in dry goods and clothing that were pursued by your fair price committees under the food administration act. The committee will be an extra legal body without power to summon witnesses or fix prices. It is requested, however, to ascertain the cost prices, determine a fair margin of profit and, if retail prices are in excess of what the committee regards a fair price, to have published its list of fair prices, reporting to you for review. You are requested to report to the department of justice a general review of the situation in your state.

"Any evidence of hoarding or other violation of the food control act which may be developed in the work of such committees should be turned over to the United States attorney, who will be instructed to employ all his resources as well as those of the bureau of investigation, to co-operate with you and your committees in seeking out and punishing all violators of the law.

"There is pressing necessity for the restoration of normal conditions and it is believed that through the same organization which you had as federal food administrator you and your county administrators, together with their appointees, can render a valuable service to the country at this time, and your co-operation and theirs, without compensation, will be greatly appreciated. The widest publicity of this movement and the results obtained by the county committees, it is believed, will be an important factor in its success. Please wire whether the government can count on your active co-operation."

The issue is of great importance to the people of Charlevoix county as well as every other county in the State of Michigan. Our old food administrators will be called back to aid in the situation. Work has already been started in this county. Prosecuting Attorney Rueggesser is now in Lansing in response to a telegram received Saturday from A. J. Groesbeck, attorney general. A grand jury proceedings, investigating the matter is being launched this week in Lansing, and Prosecutor Rueggesser left Monday night to represent this county.

SEAMAN DEFEATS CHICAGO CHAMP

Defeats Paul Drew and Lowers His Own Record.

Verbal Seaman, Charlevoix's roller skating sensation, hung another scalp to his belt Friday night, when he beat Paul Drew of Chicago for the second time. At the same time he not only broke his own record for the local rink, but lowered the world's record for a mile on a flat track of this size. The best time previously known for the mile on this type of floor was three minutes and twenty four seconds.

Seaman's latest time was three minutes and seven seconds, lowering his own record of three minutes and twenty-eight seconds.

This victory speaks high for the local boy, as Drew, the Chicago champ, is supposed to be one of the best men in the country.

PRIMARY SCHOOL MONEY RECEIVED

COUNTY GETS $41,002.50 FROM THE STATE.

Of This Amount $5,574.80 Comes to Charlevoix District Reports

County Treasurer Emrey has apportioned the amounts to the several districts in the county.

STR. ODD FELLOW ON EAST JORDAN RUN

Takes Place of Str. Mable Sold to Chicago Parties.

The Steamer Odd Fellow, F. C. Sears, master, which has been making daily runs to Boyne City for the past season, has been discontinued. This has been brought about by the sale of the Steamer Mable, which has been plying between this point and East Jordan, to Chicago people. Captain Sears announces that in the future the Str. Odd Fellow will handle the trade on the South Arm the same as has been done in the past.

WELL KNOWN STEEL KING DEAD

PASSED AWAY MONDAY AT HIS HOME IN LENNOX

Had Been Ill for Some Time From Bronchial Pneumonia—Head of Carnegie Steel Co.

Andrew Carnegie, the well known steel king, died at his home in Lennox, August 11, of bronchial pneumonia, from which he had been suffering for some time.

Andrew Carnegie is without a doubt best known to the American public through libraries and other institutions that he has founded in the past few years. He was born in Dunfermline, Fifeshire, Scotland, November 25, 1835 coming to America in 1848 with his family, settling in Pittsburgh.

Carnegie made his entrance into the business world as a weaver in one of the eastern cotton mills and later became a messenger in Pittsburgh. Learning telegraphy his rise was rapid and in short time he was manager of the Pittsburgh division of the Ohio Telegraph Co. From this he began manufacturing sleeping cars in connection with T. T. Woodruff inventor and wisely invested the profits in oil lands.

At the outbreak of the Civil war he was placed in charge of the Railroad and Telegraph lines by the government and at the close of the war founded the famous Carnegie Steel Co. and was one of the foremost factors in the foundation of the great United States Steel Corporation.

In 1901 he retired from active business announcing that it was a disgrace for a man to die rich. He started at once to give away his tremendous fortune and has devoted his life since then in founding institutions which are of benefit to the public. Scarcely a town in the United States missed his generosity and monuments in the form of libraries appear everywhere as a memorial of his great work.

Libraries were only a portion of his amazing program of public improvement. Millions were donated to pension funds, hero benefits, the Hague Peace tribunal and various other benevolent organizations.

RECEIVES WELL DESERVED PROMOTION

G. Ellsworth Dutton Making Good in New Position.

Another well deserved promotion has been given one of our former Charlevoix residents, Ellsworth Dutton, who is now residing in Bay City.

In June, 1918, he accepted a position with the International Mill & Timber Co., located at Bay City, and was sent to St. Helena, a suburb of Baltimore, to superintend the erection of three hundred houses being built at that point for the Sparrow Point ship yard builders. Having made good in this position, he was promoted to factory manager in Bay City the latter part of September the same year.

The International Mill & Timber Company is now working on an order from the DuPont de Nemours Company for about 1,000 two story, five, six and seven room houses to be erected for workmen at the General Motors plants in Flint, and Pontiac by the first of October. With the large number of orders already on hand, the company has enough work to keep the entire force busy for the next three or four months.

The success of this depends entirely upon the manager, Mr. Dutton. His many Charlevoix friends join the Courier in congratulating him upon the well deserved promotion and success which is bound to come to a man of Mr. Dutton's ability.

MRS. J. H. TIMMER DEAD AT MUSKOGON

Death Caused by Cancer—Former Resident Here.

Mrs. Frank Hull of this city, received a telegram Tuesday which stated that Mrs. J. H. Timmer of Muskogon, had passed away on Monday, cancer causing her death.

Mrs. Timmer was a resident of this city for a number of years, where Mr. Timmer was engaged in the meat business. They moved to Muskogon about three years ago. Deceased had many friends and acquaintances in Charlevoix who will regret to learn of her death.

The Courier carries all the news.

DROUGHT HAS HURT ALL CROPS

MARKED DECLINE IN ALL CROPS IS SHOWN.

Rye and Oats are a Disappointing
Crop to Farmers—Corn Shows Up Well.

From the excellent prospects that prevailed on July 1, a marked decline in all crops has taken place since. The drought that began in June continued until after the 20th of July before general rains came to relieve the situation. In the meantime pastures had dried up, the growth of all cultivated crops checked, the ripening of hay and grains hastened, and fruit prospects decreased. This is the substance of the joint report issued by Coleman C. Vaughan, secretary of state, and Verne H. Church, Michigan Field Agent, U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. Harvesting is nearing completion and threshing is in progress. Yields of wheat are generally good, but rye is disappointing many growers. Oats and barley are light in yield and short in straw. Corn, potatoes, beans and sugar beets withstood the severe drought remarkably well and are in a condition to improve, except in occasional local areas. Fruit prospects show a further decline.

The estimated yield of winter wheat is 19.5 bushels per acre, which is considered above the ten-year average and the largest crop in the last 15 years except that of 1915. The total production is placed at 19,247,000 bushels. Extremely hot weather, rust and smut have produced some shrunken grain in localities but, on the whole, the quality is fairly good. Based upon the reports of mills and elevators, 990,000 bushels of wheat were marketed during July, which practically cleans up the 1918 crop. The condition of spring wheat is 66 per cent, indicating a crop of 915,000 bushels; the yield per acre is 14.0 bushels as compared with 19.2 last year.

Corn withstood the effects of the dry weather to a remarkable degree, and only small local areas "fired" to any extent beyond recovery. The condition during the month declined from 97 to 83 per cent. Allowing 40 per cent of the acreage to be cut for silos, the estimated grain production on the remainder is 34,400,000 bushels.

The condition of oats has declined 11 points to 62 per cent since July 1. This represents a yield of 24.5 bushels per acre and a total production of 38,180,000 bushels as compared with 66,320,000 last year. The crop with unfavorable weather conditions from the beginning, developed a thin stand, short straw and light heads. The estimated amount of last year's crop still in farmers' hands is 4,642,000 bushels.

Barley suffered similarly with oats, the condition declining from 76 to 65 per cent during the month. The yield will be about 19 bushels per acre, which will give a total production of 5,369,000 bushels. The estimated amount of last year's crop remaining on farms is 250,000 bushels.

The threshing returns on rye show disappointing yields. There is an abundance of straw but the hot weather during the filling period reduced the quantity and lowered the quality of the grain. The estimated yield is 16.0 bushels per acre, giving a total production of 9,136,000 bushels. This relatively large production is the result of an abnormal acreage rather than a high yield.

The acreage of buckwheat is estimated to be 20 per cent less than last year, and the hot dry season has given it a poor start. From the present condition of 73 per cent, the 62,000 acres sown should produce a crop of 792,000 bushels.

While early potatoes are yielding very poor returns, the late crop withstood the drought fairly well except in some southern counties. The recent rains will undoubtedly cause some improvement in the prospects. The outlook was reduced during the month from a crop of 31,250,000 bushels to one of 27,845,000.

The hay crop was secured in excellent condition, and is estimated to be 5,282,000 tons. The total acreage is five per cent less than last year, and that of clover is 14 per cent less. The yield of clover is 1.15 tons per acre.

Beans have suffered less than most of the other crops, only occasional fields showing yellow leaves which is the first signs of maturing. The present outlook is for a 77 per cent crop, or 3,262,000 bushels, a decline of 13 points during the month. The condition declined in New York one point, to 90; Colorado, four points to 70; New Mexico, two points to 90; and California, four points to 78 per cent.

There has also been a decline in fruit prospects. Apples are now estimated at 39 per cent of a full crop; peaches, 25; pears, 50; grapes, 85; and raspberries and blackberries, 75 per cent. Winter apple are scarce except in occasional well-kept orchards and where the crop happened to be light last year. Early apples, particularly Duchess, Yellow Transparent, and Wealthy varieties are more plentiful. The prospects for peaches, apples and pears are the best in Oceana, Mason, Manistec and Benzie counties, the percentage of a crop decreasing in all directions from this area.

The condition of sugar beets is excellent in portions of the "Thumb" district, but they have suffered more or less in other sections from dry weather, insects, disease, and a shortage of labor for thinning. The present condition is 72 per cent as compared with 85 last month and 89 one year ago.

POSTOFFICE SLOW ON LICENSE MAIL

Clerk Shortage Holds Up Letters Mailed at Lansing.

Hundreds of thousands of Michigan citizens will become violators of the law August 14, when the set requiring drivers of motor vehicles to carry licenses becomes effective despite the fact that they have applied for their licenses a sufficient time in advance and Coleman C. Vaughan, secretary of state, has broken all precedents for public work in the capital by employing a night force and mailing 20,000 per day. The state's extraordinary efficiency in issuing operator's licenses is being backed by the policy of the United States postoffice department which refuses extra clerks at Lansing. Of the 250,000 licenses that have been delivered to the postoffice up to today, 75,000, it is said, lie untouched in the Lansing postoffice.

CERTIFICATE OF THANKS AWARDED

GOVERNMENT APPRECIATES
SUPPORT RECEIVED

John M. Ackert Receives Acknowledgment from Washington for War Work.

The fact that the government appreciates the favors received from various sources during the recent war was certainly made evident here this week.

At the outbreak of the war the greatest difficulty facing the American government was the shipment of troops to Europe, due to the submarine routes of the Atlantic. In order to overcome this difficulty, a large well trained and well equipped navy was necessary.

One of the greatest problems was found to be a lack of marine glasses, fondly called the "Eyes of the Navy" by the sailors. To solve this problem the government sent out a call to the American public, asking for any glasses that might be available.

One of the many to donate these glasses in answer to the call was John M. Ackert, 933 State street, of this city. His glasses were accepted and saw a great deal of service being returned to him last spring. Mr. Ackert received the glasses and taking it for granted that the matter was over, nearly forgot the instance.

Tuesday was recalled to his mind in the shape of a certificate of thanks from the United States government, thanking him for the use of his glasses during the war, stating that it was this type of co-operation that enabled the American soldiers to drive the "Hun" from the heart of France to the Rhine.

PASSENGER CLUB VISITS CITY

SIXTY RAILWAY INFORMATION
AGENTS OF DETROIT

Entertained by Local Commercial Club and Visitors Sing High
Their Praises of City.

Charlevoix had the pleasure of entertaining about seventy enthusiastic visitors in the form of the Detroit Passenger Club. This club is composed of the information agents from the various railway terminals of the city of Detroit.

They arrived in the city Sunday morning and were met by the Charlevoix Commercial Club, who were to furnish the entertainment for the day.

After breakfasting at the Inn, the Club was shown through the city, cars being furnished by the various business men of the city.

They made a complete and evidently interesting inspection of the Loeb farm. After marveling at the efficient manner in which the stock was handled and cared for, they were shown the interior of the house. Returning to the city, luncheon was served at the Beach hotel, under the supervision of the business men. The party left for Petoskey on the 2:07 dummy train, highly praising Charlevoix, not only for its appearance, but its hospitality.

From the following letter one may conceive what an impression was made by our commercial club while entertaining the members of the Detroit Passenger Club during their visit here:

Detroit, August 11.
Mr. Mason H. Rose, Secy.,
Chamber of Commerce,
Charlevoix, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Rose—"In the absence of President Allen, I want to extend to you my sincere appreciation of the generous co-operation given by your Board of Commerce in entertaining the members of the Detroit Passenger Club at Charlevoix, Sunday, August 10th.

"I feel certain that they will not soon forget the delightful trip and entertainment they received at your hands. I wish therefore, you would please extend my thanks for the co-operation given me in the preparation of the program arranged for this party.

"I would like also if you would convey my thanks to Mrs. Baker of the Beach Hotel, to Mr. Sloan, who so kindly gave us the privilege of seeing the Loeb Farm, and last, but not least, the gentlemen who so kindly tendered their automobiles for the trip.

"Hoping to have the pleasure of seeing you again in the near future, I remain, Yours truly,
W. E. WOLFENDEN,
G. P. A.

MET WEDNESDAY AT METCALF HOME

M. E. Missionary Society Hold Interesting Meeting.

One of the most pleasant meetings of the M. E. Missionary society was held Wednesday, August 6, at the home of Mrs. Frank Metcalf. This was the children's branch, known as "Mothers' Jewels," led by Miss Annie Metcalf.

The children played on the lawn during the business session and when the program was announced they came in and seated themselves in a circle on the floor. Their summer attire and bright faces made a pleasant sight in the already well filled parlor.

Several of the children had recitations and one little tot announced that she would sing her piece when she got around to it. The Misses Hildegarde and Clara Wilkinson sang a duet which delighted both the children and adults. Mrs. P. D. Campbell read an interesting story to the children and the program closed with the song "Jewels."

The children were then served with ice cream cones and the adults with ice cream and wafers.

The dues for "Mothers' Jewels" are only ten cents a year and we hope that the society will be much larger next year. All children of the church and Sunday school are cordially invited to join.—Contributed.

The ladies of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will hold a baked goods sale, Saturday, August 16, at Benjamin Brown's store. Sale to begin at 2:00 o'clock.—Adv. 331.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

While the city council of Muskegon was passing an ordinance Tuesday night of last week limiting the street car fares to six cents, from August 16 on, hundreds of rioters were attacking cars even in front of the city hall, practically unopposed by the police. A score of cars were wrecked with a loss of $50,000.

Disorders started early in the evening when 4,000 employees of the Continental Motors Corporation refused to pay 7-c. fares and insisted on riding for six. Cars were pushed off the track and across the street, and in some instances the crews were forced to defend themselves with controller bars and brake handles.

The police were powerless to cope with the riots. At one time 30 cars were tied up in front of the city hall. At the Horace Mann school a triangle of tracks, five cars were wrecked, their motormen and conductors being ordered out to the street, while scores of workmen, mainly youths, swept down upon the trolleys aending them crashing head on into each other.

In Lakeside, on Pine street and even near the Continental Motors corporation plant, wreckage also was conspicuous, the officers seemingly making no effort to control the situation.

All violators of the duck law this year will be taken into Federal court and prosecuted before a United States district judge instead of a justice of the peace, as formerly, Commissioner John Baird announces.

Fred Olin, the garage man and Sherman Richard, section hand, of South Boardman, took a Ford out one day last week to see what it would do. At twenty miles the car ran fine; at twenty-five miles it fell on its side, rolled over three times, wrecking it.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast, fast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning, inside bath, what a startling change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with puffy or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists, we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening, and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, austy breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Emmet County will vote at the election Oct. 6th on bonding the county for $400,000.00 to build more roads. The U. S. Government would pay fifty per cent, the state thirty-two and one-half per cent, and Emmet county seventeen and one-half per cent of the total cost.

Fifty-five grasshoppers make a meal for one spring chicken, says Mrs. Herman Darling, of Central Lake, who is raising a flock of more than a hundred springers on grasshoppers with a bit of corn for the evening meal. Mr. and Mrs. Darling had a ten acre field of radishes which the grasshoppers were putting out of business very rapidly when Mrs. Darling decided to turn the chickens loose to battle the hoppers. She says it did not take long for the chickens to clean out the hopper nest and now the radishes are showing fine progress. She is moving her chicken coops to other fields where the grasshoppers are doing damage.

Boyer City will have a monster Labor day celebration this year under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce. Committees have been appointed and the work is well under way to make it the big event of the year in Northern Michigan.

Authority to increase temporarily the parcel post weight limit to 125 pounds so that buyers of army food may take full advantage of opportunity to purchase through post masters and letter carriers was granted the postmaster general by the interstate commerce commission. It was also announced that during the sale buyers might place several orders at the same time without paying the initial postal charges of five cents a pound more than once. The orders must be in writing and in duplicate and the cost plus postage will be collected with them. They will be filled in the order received. Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, offered the government the mailing list of Sears, Roebuck & Co., of which he is president, as a means of assisting in the general distribution of army food. He also offered routing and shipping of army food and to otherwise co-operate.

Three distinct organizations of Traverse City are co-operating to help reduce the cost of living. They are the county, through the prosecutor, the city, through the city attorney, and the Chamber of Commerce. Now it becomes known that the churches will join in the campaign by attempting to bring down prices through moral suasion, contending that the house of God should not be the house of the profiteer. The first encouraging step in the campaign is the announcement by the city that contemplated raises in electrical rates will be temporarily withheld.

Henry W. Sullivan son of the Purchasing Agent of the G. R. & I. R. R. had one foot crushed while ties he was inspecting, were being loaded at Van station north of Pellston. He was taken to his home in Grand Rapids Sunday. At least one bone was broken and the injury will confine him to his room for some time.

Author of the "Doxology." The author of the "Doxology" was the English bishop, Thomas Ken (1637-1711), who, in 1681, was deprived of his see (Bath and Wells) as a non-juror. His most widely known hymns include the morning and evening hymns, "Awake, My Soul," and "Glory to Thee, My God, This Night," both of which end with the famous "Doxology," "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

National Anthems. "The Star-Spangled Banner" is now regarded as our national anthem; that of England, "God Save the King"; France, "The Marseillaise." The other allies apparently have no distinguishing title for their national hymns. The national air of Italy is known to us simply as the "Italian National Hymn" and that of Portugal as the "National Air of Portugal," etc.

Sponge Reembs Plant. Seen alive in its natural surroundings at the bottom of the sea, the sponge looks like a small plant. Sponging is an old industry in Nassau. Most of the "harvest of the sea" in pre-war days was shipped to the great sponge-markets of Europe—London and Paris. New York also came in for its share.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL By J. E. Jones

"CRACKED HEADS."

Matters have been drifting towards a race riot in the national capital for a long time. The proximity to Virginia, where the old "Jim Crow" laws are still in force, may have had something to do with it; for the difference in the freedom of movements of the colored people on the Washington side of the Potomac is always the source of comment. The colored people are "ruffled" by the restrictions placed upon them in Virginia; and a portion of the capital residents—particularly the whites from the south, find no end of fault because the "color line" is not drawn on the street cars and in many public places where the negroes mingle with the whites.

During the war negroes acquired a good deal of prosperity, and some of them bought automobiles and made a considerable show of their new riches. At about the same time "boot-legging" became a big industry among the colored people, and great quantities of bad liquor were stored among them. It needed only a half dozen assaults upon white women, and the failure of the police to locate the guilty brutes, to touch off the torch.

The result was that a crowd of soldiers, sailors and marines—most of whom were discharged from service, spent a pleasant evening "smashing niggers." Hundreds of young boys, some not more than seventeen years of age, were among the white rioters who were locked up. At first these youngsters seemed to think that the serious business in which they were engaged was as much fun as "chasing the cows." The colored people evidently well prepared for the fray, and "cracked heads" multiplied in numbers on white and black shoulders, and in the spilling of blood from the assaults of combatants.

As some of the fighting occurred within a block of the White House grounds, it is evident that a good many people in the Capital do not believe that the treaty of peace was made to affect fighting between the whites and blacks.

These race riots were very foolish performances, but they likewise turned out to be very serious. They have stirred up a bitterness between the whites and blacks which will have lasting and unpleasant consequences.

Another Wonderful Puzzle The Federal Commission appointed by President Wilson for the purpose of attempting to solve the question of what is to be done with the traction systems of the country has been holding hearings in Washington. The "high cost of living" appears to have included the traction interests in its universal operations; and for a year or so political scientists have been trying to find methods for meeting the plain conditions of from fifty to one hundred per cent of increased cost of operation, by some other remedy than increase of fares that will be sufficient to keep the juice flowing over trolleys, and wheels turning round on tracks. Naturally the answer has not been found in the circuitous trail. The forty-seventh problem of Euclid and the age of Ann are simple in comparison with the puzzle.

Painful Process of Fixing Rates For twenty years the mock operation of keeping rates permanent, and making adjustments of railroad difficulties in a way except by changing rates, has been tried on the railroads of the country. Whenever the Interstate Commerce Commission consented, in the past years, to a small raise in rates, the process seemed as painful as an operation in surgery. It took a genuine crisis to start the straightening-out process, and when that crisis arrived and the Government took over the roads, the clear-sighted Mr. McAdoo reasoned that the two sides of the ledger most come somewhere near balancing. He accordingly raised rates very promptly, in order to match up with the increased cost of labor and operation. Even at that the railroad administration underestimated by several hundred millions of dollars a year. On top of this the Congress (Continued on Page 8.)

Suppose there were no more advertisements

Just imagine for a minute that some power could stop all advertising. How would that affect you?

It would cut you off from all direct, commercial news about things that you need and use in your every-day life. Somebody might be selling a new, better, more economical food; or a utensil that would save money and time; or an article that would add greatly to your comfort and well-being; or some better material for making shoes or clothing—but you would never know it.

Merchants and manufacturers would be unable to tell you about new and better things. They would thus find it hard to put these things on the market, and often would not try.

Merchants, unable to tell you what they had to offer you, could not take the risk of buying goods for which they might have no customers.

BANKS.

There is more public good will towards the bank as an institution than ever before, says the Appleton Post. One reason is that the bank has more good will towards the public than ever before. More people are using the service of banks. People are seeing their relation to the banks, and the banks are seeing their relation to people.

Through better banking laws and better order and system there have been but few bank failures within the past five years. Go into even the small rural town and about the best systematized and best appearing business institution is the bank. The bank and the postoffice in a small town are about the only institutions where all the patrons do not run behind the counters and where there is no loafing. Yes the courtesy of bank officials and employees is becoming almost universal.

By their advertising banks have performed a splendid social service in teaching people to save. Pick up the average weekly paper of even the remote rural community and you will find one or more well written and well reasoned advertisements by the bank for the starting of savings accounts.

The banks have and are performing an immense educational service in the country: First, they induced us to take our surplus funds, out of stoves, tin cans and stockings and put them in the bank; then they induced us to save more and more and now they are teaching us how to produce more.

Even comparatively small banking institutions are issuing well prepared literature on household economy, gardening, chicken raising, bee culture and the like. Other banking institutions are appealing to the young, the coming generation, for increased production and organizing boys and girls into corn clubs, garden clubs and even pig clubs. Throughout the country a few months ago there was exhibited a moving picture of a troop of boys running out of the elegant banking building of a southern town, each with a squealing pig under his arm.

A bank in Cleveland has recently been conducting industrial exhibits in a small space along the sidewalk and in front of its building. These include tractors, wire weaving machines, electric welders, gear cutting and screw machines and all in full operation.

This is not only generally educational, but it shows the relation of the bank to industry. Many of the larger New York banks are circulating to manufacturers over the country literature on foreign trade. All of this is prepared by specialists after first hand research and is of the utmost value to our future commerce. Any effort that will increase our thrift and production is a service to humanity, and service to humanity is good business.

THE PIPP LETTER.

E. J. Pipp, formerly editor-in-chief of the Detroit News, and at the present holding down a similar job with The Dearborn Independent, otherwise known as the Ford International Weekly, has sent out a circular letter telling why, since the libel suit trial commenced in Mt. Clemens, he has been sending out news stories about the trial and about Henry Ford. Mr. Pipp explains that his fingers just itch to hit the typewriter keys for the purpose of writing things about the most interesting man in the world. But he explains, "Mr. Ford requests that we not use his weekly for that sort of thing. Therefore I must choose a different medium. So I send out the letters." The inference being that he sends them out on his own hook, and foots the bills himself.

Which, of course, is foolish. Mr. Pipp is not a wealthy man. He cannot afford to dump thousands and thousands into the press bureau just to say nice things about the most interesting man in the world. So it is fair to assume that Henry pays the bills. Henry expurgates Ford stuff from his weekly, but is entirely willing, if our supposition as to who pays the bills is correct, to work a news bureau overtime, and to finance Mr. Pipp's personal letter scheme in addition.

For the good of that weekly, by the way we make the suggestion that Henry get over that idea of his about leaving himself out of it. We have suggested before in these columns that he is leaving himself out of it altogether, even to the extent of hiring the hands that produce the so-called "Mr. Ford's Own Page." Innocuous as that page is, we leave it to Vox Populi if it is being manufactured by the man who thought Benedict Arnold was a writer. Henry Ford is one of the Most Interesting Men in the World. Of course he is. And if there were more of him, in fact more of anything that could by any chance be called interesting, his weekly would thrive to a greater extent than is at present the case.

Which is getting off the subject somewhat. We are wondering why Mr. Pipp took the trouble to send out that letter explaining why he is sending out the letters. Is it possible that someone might have accused him of ulterior motives.—The Soo News.

PROTECT YOUR CHILDREN

Thomas Richard Fitzgerald was an apartment house janitor.

He held this position in Chicago, where he came daily into contact with the small children of apartment dwellers. Yet he was known to be a sex prevert who had once been punished for a crime against a little girl.

And then—the other day Fitzgerald dragged into his flat the six-year-old daughter of John S. Wilkinson as she passed along the hall, and brutally mistreated her and killed her.

Somewhere in your neighborhood there probably is a Thomas Richard Fitzgerald.

His degeneracy may be known—as it was in the case of Fitzgerald—and yet he is at large.

It may show in his appearance and his low mental development, though he has never been charged with an offense.

But he may be a sleek and unsuspected member of society, whose person will be known only after he has blighted or taken a young life.

Some states by surgical treatment remove the danger of sex crimes by defectives. All states have institutions where the feeble-minded and criminally insane are placed—but usually some innocent member of society has suffered.

The best protection for your little girl is constant watchfulness.

Refuse to live under the same roof with such a man as killed Janet Wilkinson.

Make your child fear to accept favors from any man you do not know well, or to be alone with him.

Then, lend your voice and your aid to the getting of laws that will put the mental and moral defectives where they can harm no one's child.

ALIBI FOR AMERICANS

When the American people realize what it all means, they will be glad that Woodrow Wilson signed the treaty "in his own name and by his own proper authority." The nation need not accept the responsibility.

END OF FLIVVER STATESMAN

Whatever the jury may decide, the American people have already decided upon their verdict in the Ford-Tribune libel suit.

Captain Archie Roosevelt's youngest daughter has been christened Theodora, but there isn't a chance on earth of her ever being called anything but "Teddy."

Walter Savage Landor, so they say, got mad at his cook once upon a time, and threw her out of the window. Immediately after remembering a bed of violets underneath the window, he exclaimed, "Good Lord! I forgot the violets!" If Walter lived in these times he would be sending violets to the cook, not sending the cook to the violets.

The minister of a little up-state New York church started out with a little old automobile, made a 55-mile journey, traded four times, and came back with a better car and $55 more than he started with. Isn't that man wasting his talents in the pulpit?

Buy your coal now, if you've got the price. If you haven't got the price, borrow it. It will be easier to borrow money than coal next winter."

Uncle Sam's air postmen went on a strike the other day, because their machines were not safe. Just like all the other strikers—they wanted to live on a better plane.

The fire department made the run, but arrived too late to be of any assistance.

LIME SHOWS PROFIT ON MICHIGAN SOILS

Big Increase in Yield Per Acre Follows Fertilizer Tests.

That the yield per acre, on many Michigan soils can be increased tremendously by the use of lime and complete fertilizers is shown by figures recently given out by Dr. M. M. McCool, head of the Soils department at the Michigan Agricultural College. The figures are based upon extensive tests carried out in different parts of the state by the college soils specialists, and represent an accurate study of average conditions.

In fertility tests carried out on light soils in Southwestern Michigan by Dr. McCool and G. M. Grantham the use of lime alone is found to increase the acre value of rye from $19.75 to $37.25. The use of lime and a high grade complete fertilizer in the same series of tests increases the acre value to $49.80. The complete fertilizer used was composed of fifty pounds of nitrate of soda applied at the time of seeding, fifty pounds applied in the spring as a top dressing, and two hundred and fifty pounds of acid phosphate and one hundred pounds of potash applied to soy beans the previous year.

The typical heavy soils of central Michigan were also found to respond well to treatment. Tests carried on by Dr. McCool and C. E. Millar returned $16.20 per acre above the cost of treatment when an application of lime and acid phosphate costing $3.00 per acre was made. Where lime, nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, costing approximately $10.00 per acre, were used, the returns were $43.50 per acre above the cost of treatment, showing clearly the actual cash returns from the use of proper fertilizers.

Information regarding fertilizers and tests to determine proper fertilizers for any soil may be had by writing to M. M. McCool, Soils Department, M. A. C., East Lansing.

Notice to Light and Water Users

The ordinances of the city make it my duty to enforce the collection of delinquent light and water accounts. If accounts are not paid before the 28th of each month, the user is subject to discontinuance of service. I believe that all users are acquainted with this rule. I am instructed by the common council to observe and strictly enforce it. It has been the practice to call delinquents and notify them of the expiration of the time limit. This has proved expensive and impracticable and the council has ordered it discontinued. This notice is to appraise all users of the change so that they may govern themselves accordingly. The rule will be observed impartially.

Impulsive Connie

By GEORGE PHELPS

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Two old maid sisters and a mother, who insisted upon all gentleman callers leaving at ten o'clock sharp— isn't it a wonder Connie managed to keep a beau? But, then, you don't know Connie. Without exaggeration she was the sweetest little piece of femininity in existence; that's what Harvard Cullen thought, at any rate.

How Harvard was able to find an opportunity to ask her to marry him is more than could be told in a paragraph, but, anyway, he did grasp it one time when her mother had gone to bed with a sick headache and the sisters had fallen asleep on guard. It was a hurried consent Connie gave, but she had to have one eye on the sisters all the while.

When would they get married? That was the first big question that started the first misunderstanding. With visions of a long courtship that ended every night at ten o'clock before him, Harvard urged speed.

"But I could never get married until Priscilla and Lucette are married," Connie told him. "Mother doesn't believe in the youngest daughter being married first."

"Good heavens!" Harvard was next thing to being stunned. "Why they'll never be married. They are on the shelf for good."

"They have both been engaged for fourteen years," Connie said, a little indignantly. "James and Charles call every Wednesday night. They have called ever since I can remember, and every fourth of July they take the girls out driving."

"And haven't married them yet? Well I never!"

"But they are going to marry them. The girls have had their things ready for years and years."

"Let's elope!"

"Oh!" Connie put her hand over her mouth and half smothered the cry of alarm. One of the sisters stirred uneasily, but Harvard was not going to lose any time.

"Why can't we?" he demanded.

"Oh, because!" Connie was fairly shaking with excitement. The tantalizing answer so often used by women had irritated Harvard, so she hastened to explain. "Can't you see? I want a wedding—a real honest-to-goodness wedding, with bridesmaids and flowers and presents and cake and things. I want to have a trousseau and a green trunk and things like the girls have."

"Yes; and if you wait until they are married you'll have them all and they

DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take Salts for Back ache or Bladder trouble—Neutralizes acids.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is foul. Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

YOUTH SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

Mixed with Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking nine strands at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet regenerator. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

will never be used," Harvard was aroused, as it was just as well one of the sisters opened her eyes and caught sight of him sitting close to Connie. She might have said something that would have brought an unpleasant answer had not the other sister awakened and found it was five minutes past tea. Her exclamation of horror was sufficient to send Harvard on a jump for his hat and coat. With two chaparones in the vestibule there was no chance to speak further on the subject to Connie.

Harvard had always wondered why Wednesday night was the night he was banned from calling on Connie, but the next Wednesday night he pretended he had lost track of the days and arrived to size up James and Charles. Two Scotch tightwads, that was his first deduction, and he knew at once why Priscilla and Lucette were still on the shelf. On the way home he tried to work out a plan.

If some old uncle or somebody would only leave the twin sisters a fortune as bail for their long-staid lag swains, he thought; or better still, if some uncle that had not been heard of for years would show up and offer a thousand dollar bonus to the sister who was married first, James and Charles would likely fall over one another to drag the sisters to the altar first. Why, they did have an uncle somewhere—an Uncle Ben that had not been heard of for years, he remembered. Why couldn't Uncle Ben show up?

"Look out!" Harvard was just in time to pull the old gentleman in front of him out of the path of an oncoming car. The night was a stormy one, and the old man's eyesight seemed defective.

"Thank you so much," the old fellow began. Harvard could feel him shaking under his grasp.

"Can't I help you home?" he offered. "The streets are slippery and the lights are poor."

"Thank you so much," the old man said again, but this time in a tone that gave consent. Harvard helped him along in silence. "They stopped in front of the city's best hotel."

"I'm going in here," the old gentleman said, as he fumbled in his pockets. He drew forth a card. "Come to see me in the morning," he invited.

Harvard pocketed the card. He had no intention of calling on the old fellow, but when he was undressing that night and the card dropped to the floor he picked it up and looked at the name. "Benjamin Coles" was neatly engraved upon it.

Harvard laughed. The old man seemed to have come as an answer to his thoughts, but he had sense enough to know that this was not Connie's uncle Ben. Things like that only happened in stories. Just the same it set him thinking.

In the morning he did make the call on Benjamin Coles. He came awing snuggly. Now for the race between Charles and James, he thought, as he sauntered off to the office.

"Hello," it was Connie's voice over the telephone and Harvard recognized the excitement in her tone. "I must see you at once. I'm waiting at the drug store on the corner," she cried eagerly, and hung up the receiver before he could answer her. He hurried to meet her, for Connie excited was not the safest person to disappoint.

"Harvard, we must be married at once," she gasped breathlessly as soon as she saw him. "We'll get a thousand dollars if we do."

Harvard tried to appear surprised as she poured out the story of the letter from Uncle Ben. He was in the city, but was disappointed because all his nieces were unmarried, and would give a thousand dollars to the one who was married first, and perhaps an additional thousand if she was married right away. What were wedding presents and bridesmaids to two thousand dollars? It was an unexpected turn of events, but Harvard was equal to it. They hurried to get the license.

"Why, this is the third Miss Lamar I have made out a license for today," the justice told them as he affixed his signature. "That knowledge only added to Connie's speed. They arrived at the nearest minister's in record time.

"You are the third Miss Lamar I have married today," the minister announced after the ceremony was over.

"Oh!" Connie could not hide her disappointment, but Harvard hurried her out before she could give it all away.

"I was never so disappointed in my life," she almost cried as they reached the street. "Just think, two thousand gone."

Then Harvard had to confess. He had persuaded Benjamin Coles to write the letter so as to get the sisters married off. It had all been a frame-up. The old man was not her uncle at all.

"Why, he's at the house now, and he's kissed mother and everything," Connie cried in horror.

"The old impostor!" Harvard exclaimed indignantly. "We'll show him." They fairly raced home. An odd scene presented itself there. Two sobbing brides in the arms of their mother and two newly married husbands arguing over the right to the $2,000. Harvard demanded silence while he made the explanation.

"It was all a frame-up," he confessed, "but I am sure we are all going to be happy. Uncle Ben didn't write that letter at all, and the two thousand dollar bonus was only a set."

"Let Uncle Ben speak for himself," Benjamin Coles stepped from the background. "I did write that letter, and, what is more, I am going to make good my offer; in fact, I am going one better—I am going to give each of my nieces $5,000 each for a wedding present. You see, young man, we all make mistakes. I am Uncle Ben, as my sister here will testify."

"You dear old darling!" Connie, with all her impulsiveness, fairly swept him off his feet as she threw herself into his arms. "Can't you make it ten?"

"Indeed, seeing your husband saved my life last night, I think I can," he agreed, "and, young lady, I envy that young man these hugs."

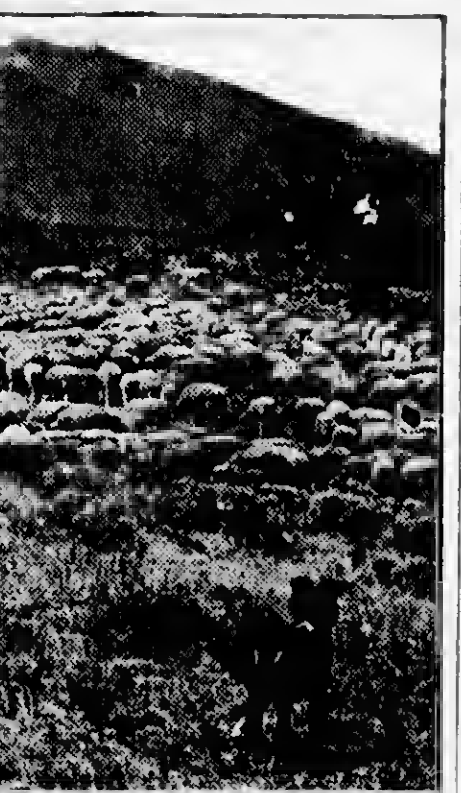

CONTROL SHEEP-KILLING DOG

Secretary of Agriculture Asks Twenty Governors to Urge Laws Protecting Sheep.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The enactment of more adequate state laws to control sheep-killing dogs is urged by Secretary Houston in a letter just sent to the governors of 20 states. The secretary points out that, although there has been a gratifying increase in the number of sheep in the United States in the past year, there is room for further expansion of the industry. Farmers, he says, are discouraged in many instances from keeping sheep on account of the danger of damage by dogs. The letters were sent to the governors of Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin, where state legislatures are now in session. Following is the letter: Legislation to encourage the larger development of the sheep industry by removing or controlling the dog menace. During the past year, as you perhaps know, there has been a gratifying increase in the number of sheep in the United States. There is undoubtedly room in many sections of the country for further expansion along this line, especially in the settled farming areas. The field representatives of this department, however, generally report that farmers are discouraged in many instances from keeping sheep on account of the danger of damage by dogs.

"The question seems to be primarily one for consideration and action by the various states. I am, therefore, taking the liberty in bringing the matter to your attention, with the hope that you will look into the situation and make such recommendations as may seem wise to the legislature of the state. May I not, in this connection, call your attention to the carefully drawn and apparently well-enforced laws of several states, notably those of New York and Pennsylvania, which are set forth in the bulletin (Farmers' Bulletin 935) inclosed herewith."

No Mystery About Them. Poets are fond of plucking to the picturesque tradition that pearls are made from the dew of heaven, but the fact of the matter is that those milky balls just merely represent the efforts of the oyster to cover up an annoying grain of sand and render it less irritating.

This Courier carries all the news.

Now All You Good Fellows, Come Fill Up Your Pipes

15c

The Velvet tin is twice as big as shown here

If ever men are "Tom" and "Bill" to each other, it's when good pipes are a-going. If ever good pipes go 'their best, 'tis when Velvet's in the bowl.

For Velvet is a mighty friendly smoke. Kentucky Burley is the leaf that Nature made for pipes. Wholesome and hearty, honest as the day. And Velvet is that same good Burley leaf, brought to mellow middle age.

For eight long seasons Velvet "meditates" in wooden hogsheads, throwing off the rawness of "young" tobacco—truly "ageing in the wood." Out Velvet comes—cool, calm and generous—the tobacco Nature made good, kept good and made better.

Velvet's sweetness is the sweetness of good tobacco, not "put on" like "frosting" on a cake. Its mildness comes from natural ageing, not from having the life baked out. Its fragrance is true tobacco fragrance, not a perfume. And Velvet makes an A Number One cigarette. Roll one.

As good old Velvet Joe says:

"Fill yo' heart with friendly thoughts,
Yo' mouth with friendly smoke—
An' let the old world wag."

Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Wilson entertained a party of about thirty neighbors and friends on Tuesday evening of last week in honor of their son, Emrey. The evening was spent with games and music and refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake was served. All present enjoyed themselves to the limit and regretted the arrival of the hour for bidding their hosts good-night.

Among the entertainments provided for the crowd on Saturday evening of this week will be a "needle" race, which event never fails to provide fun and excitement for both young and old where ever it is on the boards. The needle race is done by teams consisting of one boy and one girl in each team. A certain distance is marked off and lines drawn, at one end of the line being the boys and at the other end are the girls. At a given signal the boys each carrying a thread run to the other end of the course, where the girls await with the needle. The girl must thread the needle and the first perfectly threaded one returned to the starting point is declared the winner. Suitable prizes will be given in this event and the race will take place at 7:45 p. m. Hunt up your team partner and get in practice.

HUGE CROWDS VISIT ELLSWORTH

HUNDREDS DRIVE MILES TO TRADE AND VISIT

Village Council Makes Special Preparations to Handle Traffic—Do Rushing Business.

The village council met in special session on Tuesday evening of this week to try to make some arrangements to handle the huge crowds which gather here every Saturday evening to hear the band and to do their shopping.

On last Saturday night the crush of humanity was simply appalling and in spite of the fact that six special traffic cops were on hand to assist the regular traffic squad, several fatalities were narrowly averted at the main crossings.

Among the things suggested to remedy this condition was the installation of a block system, to be placed at the city limits south of town to control the heavy traffic from that direction.

All business places were better equipped to handle trade last Saturday, however, than formerly, by the use of extra clerks and also owing to the fact that many people had phoned in their orders earlier in the week, thus only having to settle for and remove their goods and make room for their less fortunate fellow citizens.

The reason for this stupendous rush of business is plain to anyone who has decided to save money by trading here. Ellsworth is situated in the heart of the best community in northern Michigan, where the farmers are more progressive and their farms are more productive than any other spot in Antrim county.

Merchants here believe in quick sales and small profits and display the same courtesy to all regardless of whether the sale is a carpet tack or a locomotive engine. This accounts for the rush of customers from all parts of the surrounding country, people coming for miles and knowing they will receive one hundred cents value for every dollar they spend.

Get in the game and meet your friends in Ellsworth on Saturday night. Selah!

DISTRICT NO. 9 NOW A GRADED SCHOOL

People Have So Decided by an Overwhelming Vote.

By a majority vote of the members of School District No. 9, at the special meeting held at the school house Monday evening of this week, No. 9 became an accepted graded school, thus taking its proper place among the leading schools of this part of the country.

This action compelled the election of a governing body consisting of five members, called a board of education, instead of the old school board of three members.

The new board consists of D. Patterson, elected for one year; G. C. Townsend and D. E. Clow for two years, and W. A. Boss and Wm. Kooyer for three years. Patterson, Clow and Boss were the old school board members.

The newly elected board held a business meeting immediately following the election, at which D. Patterson was elected president, D. E. Clow, secretary, and W. A. Boss treasurer, with Kooyer and Townsend trustees.

Rich Chinese Provinces.

Shantung, the Chinese province which Japan has been demanding from China, is a mountainous promontory 100 miles wide, which projects eastward from the mainland into the Yellow sea for 200 miles. Its area is about 55,370 square miles. The central portion is occupied by massive limestone mountains, culminating in Mount Tai, famous in history and considered sacred by the people. West, southwest and north of these mountains lie the Shantung portions of the great alluvial plain of north China. East and southeast of the mountains and throughout the promontory are many fertile valleys and small plains. The province is well watered, though its lakes are few and small, and there are no rivers of importance except the Huang-ho, which traverses the great plain in the west and north. The Grand canal runs through the whole province from north to south. Agriculture is a flourishing industry and the crops include some cotton, a little rice, tobacco, indigo, wheat, barley, maize, millet, pulse, peanuts and vegetables.

Novel Use for a Periscope.

Turning the sword into a plowshare is a figure of speech, but using the periscope to direct the players in a pantomime has actually come to pass. This peaceful adaptation of the means whereby the submarine commander has watched the ocean, to the purposes of a musical director watching a stage, took place at the first performance of a pantomime, in New York. The composer of the music had come from Chicago to direct the orchestra, and found his seat in the orchestra pit so far below the stage level that only a neck like that of Alice in Wonderland, after she had eaten the mushroom, would have let him look over the footlights. So the management installed a periscope. It was probably some little time before the whole audience had guessed what the thing was, and that a musical director down below was periscopeing the players on the stage while he beat time for his orchestra.

dition is becoming worse, as shown by Director Hines, whose report for the five months ending May 31, discloses that in comparison with the same period last year, that there has been a net falling off in operating revenues of $108,661,949. The net loss to the government in operating the railroads for the single month of May of this year was $35,511,380.

Meeting the High Cost of Living
During, and previous to the war, the federal government solved the problems of wages for railroad and street railway employees. Everybody, including President Wilson and Mr. McAdoo, and Mr. Taft as head of the war Labor board, agreed—and the country supported their views—that in order to meet the increased cost of living, the employees must have more wages. These wage decisions, as applied to all forms of industry, including shipbuilding, munition plants, and factories, doubtless affected fully 10,000,000 employees throughout the country.

And the the government was consistent in its own tremendous purchases, made on account of the war, since it allowed all contractors and builders sufficient increased sums to meet the advanced costs of production.

But when it came to applying this same sound, economic doctrine to the affairs of the railroads and traction lines, the route to discovery is as winding as Pearl street. Congress the Railway Administration and the federal electric railways commission have problems which the country are told are "deep and intricate." But book-keepers learn in their instruction classes that there must be increased earnings when the costs of maintenance and operation go up.

In the public mind these points are, unfortunately, confused with the big, broad issues of the right of the government to exercise general control over the railroads, and to supplant in a large measure the conflicting systems of each of the states. These are the questions that the senate committee and the railroad administration are endeavoring to settle on a basis that will be permanent, before the roads are turned over to the owners at the end of the year.

Crisis on Traction Lines
Just what the Federal Electric Railways Commission, which is an entirely new body, hopes to accomplish, does not appear up to the present time, but it is reasonable to suppose that President Wilson's idea is to promote standardized methods of traction companies throughout the country, in order that the shackles of franchises made under conditions that are now out of date in our industrial and economic scheme, may be broken and cast aside. That the condition is serious is shown by facts submitted in the hearings, which disclose that 62 companies operating 5,912 miles of track are in the hands of receivers, and that 763 miles of track has been dismantled and junked in a year. In addition 38 companies with 257 miles of track, have been abandoned. These losses total 16 per cent of the total electric railway mileage of the country.

GREATEST SOCIAL SUCCESS OF SEASON

Benefit Entertainment Given at the Inn August 9.

The entertainment given at the Inn Casino, Saturday evening, August 9, for the benefit of the permanent blind War Relief Fund for the soldiers and sailors of the Allies, was probably the greatest social success of the season.

Mrs. Alfred Kohn, of Chicago, acted as chairman of the committee to arrange the entertainment, which was in the form of a favor dance. Much credit must be given to her and to her husband, who assisted her in every way possible for its success. The Inn furnished the Casino, music, favors, and other incidental expenses.

The favors consisted of many colored caps, ties, parasols, balloons and wands which added beauty and gaiety to the already delightfully decorated Casino.

While the success was great, the financial success must indeed be mentioned. The funds came from the hotel and cottages and amounted to approximately $1,450.00, the entire proceeds being forwarded to the treasurer of the Permanent Blind Relief institution in New York City.

W. C. T. U. MEETS AT EMREY HOME

Program Was in Charge of Mrs. Lois Campbell.

Last Friday afternoon the members of the W. C. T. U. and their friends, about 50 in all, spent a most delightful time at the summer home of Mrs. Sarah Emrey, on Pine Point.

A fine program in charge of Mrs. Lois Campbell, on child welfare, was given. Mrs. Campbell gave a reading and Mrs. Harry Nicholls a short talk.

At the close of the program a bountiful supper was served in honor of Mrs. Taggart, who expects to leave in the near future. The ladies presented Mrs. Taggart with a beautiful cut glass dish. Mrs. Taggart's long years of faithful work among the members and her lovable character has endeared her to all and all wished her the best of success in her new home.

HUNDREDS ATTEND K. of C. PICNIC

Day Spent in Boating, Swimming and Athletic Sports.

The Knights of Columbus picnic held at Pine Point Sunday last, proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs held in Northern Michigan for some time. It was largely attended by people from numerous points in this vicinity, about 300 coming from Petoskey, Boyne City, East Jordan, Harbor Springs, Pellston, Mancelona and Cheboygan. A great number of Charlevoix Knights attended, the local body being represented by James Gaskins, Sr., with Grand Knight William Golden of Petoskey at the head of the committee.

The day was spent playing base ball, swimming and other like amusements that picnics afford. At the close of the day all reported a very enjoyable time. The trip was made by train and cars from Petoskey and nearby cities, and by boat from Boyne City and East Jordan.

Floyd Bartholomew, who lives west of Horton Bay, has just most forcefully demonstrated the value of acid phosphate on his land. In a field of 19 acres of rye and vetch, 14 acres were treated with 400 lbs. of acid phosphate to the acre and five acres were untreated. The yield of vetch on the treated part more than doubled that on the untreated area. By the way, Mr. Bartholomew has sold better than a ton of vetch which at the present price for the seed is no small item.

It was a distinct pleasure for us to look over the 60 acre field of Russett Rye and Red Rock wheat on the Cobb and Mitchell farm in Chandler township. The value of good seeds, good varieties and good farming methods were very noticeable. The 27 acres of wheat threshed out 676 bushels of fine grain, which is not bad for this year. Manager Lock saved the certified inspected seed or the whole field, which, together with the very clean condition of the ground, should make the crop a very desirable one for seed. This wheat can be seen at the store in Springvale.

WOULD NOT HEED WARNING

World Refused to Profit by Exhibition of German Cunning Given Forty-Eight Years Ago.

Alsace and Lorraine, those familiar names, found almost every day in almost every paper; those two oblong strips of country between France and Germany—how little some of us know about them, after all. The ex-crown prince, in order to prove the ignorance of our fighting men, reported an American prisoner as saying that Alsace was a large lake. Perhaps he did, this soldier of ours—and perhaps there was a twinkle in his eye and a laugh in his heart when he said it; for our boys poked a lot of humor in their kits.

When we come down to it, however, we Americans—yes, and our English, even our French, brothers—might well have known a more of these two "lost provinces." We had a chance. But in our crowded lives many books are left unread; and so it is that these Alsatian stories, translated from the French of two authors who wrote under their combined names of Erickmann-Chatrian were little known except to college students. Even then, the prophecy which these books contain went unheeded—a warning so plain, so certain, so convincing, that as we read it now in the light of what Germany has done these last four years, we wonder it was not trumpeted to us in every street.

In their book, "The Plebschelte," Erickmann-Chatrian gave us not only the tragic story of what happened in Alsace and Lorraine in 1870 and 1871, but warnings of the German designs on the rest of the world. Before most of us dreamed of this awful war, they told the story of 48 years ago, and in the telling pointed a certain finger to the future. Only a year after the Franco-Prussian war ended, after picturing freshly remembered German brutalities, they said:

"Those who shall come after will see worse things than this; since men are wolves, foxes, hawks, owls, all this must come round again."

"Those Germans are the most perfect spies in the world; they come into the world to spy, as birds do to thieve; it is part of their nature. Let the Americans and all the people who are kind enough to receive them think of this. Their ingratitude may some day cost them dearly. I am not inventing; I am not saying a word too much. We are an example. Let the world profit by it."

That was our warning almost half a century ago.—Arladue Gilbert, in St. Nicholas.

Ways of Young Sparrows.

After the young sparrows leave the nest, they gather in flocks, which with other flocks return every night to the same roosting place, writes Frank W. Chapman, in "Our Winter Birds." Sometimes this is a densely-foliated tree, at others in ivy or other vines. The birds all seem to have much to say as they retire, and chatter together in a chorus which is fortunately hushed by the approach of darkness.

TAG DAY PROVES HUGE SUCCESS

CHARLEVOIX CITIZENS AND RESORTERS CO-OPERATE

With Result That $1,551.01 Is Added to the Building and Maintenance Fund.

Due to the combined efforts of the various committees and the hearty co-operation of the public the hospital tag day held last Saturday proved very successful.

The work started early in the morning and long before noon a large number of tags had put in their appearance due to the ability of the youthful solicitors. About noon John Wineman came on the scene with the Inn "Jazzers," and from then on business was doubly flourishing.

The reports of the various committees are as follows:

The Inn headquarters in charge of Miss Watson netted $155.49. The Beach Hotel in charge of Miss Belle Greensfelder and John Wineman brought in $816.11, the largest amount from any one headquarters. The Belvedere headquarters headed by Mrs. W. H. Miller obtained $159.63. The Chicago Club was in charge of Mrs. Douglas and netted $49.16. The downtown district, the field for everyone, was in charge of Mrs. R. F. Sloan, Mrs. John Burns, W. E. Hampton and Ira Adams, and turned in $369.72. There were in all 400 subscriptions, netting the hospital fund $1,551.01.

The credit is due Mrs. Harry Nicholls for the organization of the tag day. Other contributing were the Charlevoix Sentinel, Charlevoix Courier, Mrs. Baker of the Beach Hotel, Henry Wood, J. L. Crane, Blanchard Hardware Co., A. E. Mason, Emrey Clothing Store, M. A. Levinson, Orlovski & Son and A. Bergeon. Prizes were awarded to the one selling the largest amount of tags. Miss Nanon Newman and Miss Emily Candler carried off the prizes among the girls and Charles Goldman was the winner of the boys prize.

Work bringing in money for the hospital is still being carried on. Friday afternoon Mrs. Baker will give a bridge party and dance at the Beach Hotel and Friday evening the chauffeurs of the city will give a dance at the Lakeside Pavilion, the proceeds of each going toward the hospital benefit fund.

FOOD INQUIRY IS STILL ON

PRESIDENT HAS POWERS TO COMBAT HOARDERS.

Appropriation and Law Punishing Offenders Asked by Congress —Meat Business.

The investigation as to food profiteering started a week or so ago is still in progress and is endeavoring to lower the present day high cost of living. To date very little local work has been done, as operations so far have been confined to the state and national capitals. Here, however, a thorough investigation has taken place, which has stirred up a great deal of comment throughout the country.

An appropriation of $500,000 has been asked for and a bill has been introduced before congress whereby violators of the food laws who should create a monopoly, hoard or cause a restriction of the food supply, can be punished with a sentence of $10,000 fine or five years imprisonment. It is said, however, that more laws to enforce this ruling are unnecessary, as the President now has sufficient authority to do away with profiteering and other food law violations if it would only be put into force.

An investigation will be made, it is said, of the large pecking concerns. A number of appeals have been sent in from the governor of different states asking for the abolishment of "red tape" which now prevents forcing back upon the market large supplies of food stuffs at present held in storage, which is the direct cause for the soaring of prices.

The progress so far made at the state capitol at Lansing is not so pronounced as yet. The governor practically told the prosecutors that he believed that they were wasting their time upon a fruitless task. The real cause of the trouble as he saw it was not the prevalence of profiteering, but the fact that the labor supply had been reduced through cessation of immigration and because thousands of former producers of foodstuffs have moved to the cities and are now only consumers.

Another serious trouble is said to be with the American housewife. Fair food prices are published and perhaps some housewives try once or twice to impose these prices on the huckster or grocer with whom they transact business. But failing in the first or second instance, they abandon the attempt.

If many women would form the practice of demanding only fair prices and stand by the price list published, there would soon be a great change in the prices charged. The American women is somehow ashamed to have even the huckster or grocer think she cannot afford any price asked. In these circumstances the average woman is largely in the hands of the dealer.

BUY HAY AT FULL WEIGHT

ALL BALED PRODUCT MUST BE OF FULL WEIGHT.

Government Officials and Large Buyers Buy by Weight Only, Not at Balers Figures.

For the past few years the farmers in this vicinity have been baling their hay and putting it on the market in Charlevoix. It has been the custom in doing this to make no note of a few pounds under weight, that is, if a bale of hay should weigh 181 pounds, it would be called 185 pounds, or if the bale weighed 186 pounds it would go through marked 190 pounds.

This custom has been practised without an exception for some time. In pre-war times when the price of hay was not so high as it is now, this did not make a great deal of difference. At the present, however, the large buyers in the cities are weighing their hay and they pay for only the exact amount that they receive. The government is also purchasing a large amount of hay and using exactly the same system.

Therefore it would hardly be fair to expect one to buy hay, receiving from two to four pounds less on each bale than one pays for. No business man could do this and expect to prosper, a fact which no doubt everyone will realize. It is a known fact that on each bale of hay there is more or less lost weight due to shrinkage, the hay being baled when it is green and freshly cut, and then sold after the drying and shrinking process has taken place.

Every fair minded person will no doubt agree that this method should be changed. Due to the rigid observation now kept up by the government, an investigation by the inspector of weights and measures will be held without a doubt if this practice is continued in the future. "The most reasonable and agreeable method to deal with this problem is the hearty co-operation of all the farmers in this district. Place yourself in the buyers position and then act accordingly.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN NEW YORK

Mrs. W. H. Phillips Had Numerous Friends in Charlevoix.

A few days ago Mrs. George Meggison received word of the death of her mother, Mrs. William H. Phillips, which occurred August 11, at her home in Webster, N. Y.

Mrs. Phillips was for a number of years a resident of Charlevoix, and very much loved by all who knew her. She was always active in every good work, never sparing herself when she could be of help to friend or stranger. Her life was a noble Christian life and an inspiration to all with whom she came in contact. She leaves many friends in this city who wish to extend their love and sympathy to her daughter, Mrs. George Meggison, her son, Orville Phelps, and the sister and niece with whom she made her home.

U. S. FOOD SALE OF NEW SEIZURES OPEN TO PUBLIC

Surplus Army Foods to Be Sold to Help Reduce High Cost of Living—Sales to Be Made Through Postmaster for Staples in Large or Small Amounts.

Starting Monday, August 18, the government began weeding one of their mightiest clubs in combating the high cost of living, by placing before the public the surplus army food stuffs.

Orders for this food are to be placed through the local postmaster and will be delivered by parcels post. Purchasers must pay for the goods and postage in advance. In the list of foods offered for sale are baked beans, dry beans, bacon, corn, tomatoes, fruits, corned beef hash, roast beef, corned beef, soups, flour, rice, peas, string beans and pepper. With the exception of certain grades of bacon, flour and rice, all of this food is canned.

Samples of food can be ordered by the purchaser who desires to know the quality of the food before ordering large quantities. All goods will be sold at list price, plus the postal charges. The parcel post weight limit has been raised to 125 pounds, on which the prevailing rate should be computed. Bulk supplies such as flour and rice will not be sold in quantities less than contained in the original packages.

It is estimated that from a week to ten days will be required to make deliveries after orders have been taken. Purchases will be delivered through the regular parcels post channels.

Consumers must write out their orders in duplicate form, one copy of which goes to the postmaster, and the other is retained by the purchaser, and is signed by the clerk taking the order, so that the purchaser has written proof that an order was given in case no delivery is made in the specified time.

On submitting an order for food supplies to the post office officials, the consumer pay the full value of the goods ordered and also the postal charges. No goods will be sold or delivered until advance payment is made. An illustration of the method of procedure, if the buyer desires a small can of baked beans costing four cents, he makes out a duplicate order and deposits four cents for the beans and eight cents postage with the order. In a week or ten days the can of beans will be delivered.

Postmaster T. G. Finucan announces that he will receive orders at the post office from 9:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m., when correctly submitted. The following list quotes the prices of most of the foods handled:

NEW PHONE RATES ANNOUNCED TODAY

RESIDENCE PHONE PRICE SET
AT $1.50 MONTH

Business Phones Listed as $2.50 Per Month—Farm Lines at $1.50 to $1.75 per Month.

Local telephone rates have been made public by the state utilities commission. These rates have been put into effect as temporary rates, until the commission can investigate and find out which rate will be the proper rate to do business under.

Manager Solomon of the Charlevoix exchange of the Michigan State Telephone company announces that the rate for the business telephone is $2.50 per month and $2.00 for a four party business line. Residence phones cost $1.50 per month and four party residence phones $1.25 per month.

Farm telephones outside a radius of six miles from the exchange are $1.75, and telephones inside the six mile radius are $1.50 per month. Office extensions are $1.00 per month and residence extensions are 50 cents.

These rates are in effect as of August 1 and on the September bills the difference in the new and old rates for August will be cared for in the way of rebate.

DRAY OVERTURNS IN PECULIAR MANNER

Injuring Young Son of P. R. Ross—Ankles Sprained.

Franklin Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollett Ross, met with quite a painful accident last Sunday. Franklin was on the dray with his father, which was standing in the yard at their residence, when Mr. Ross attempted to turn the team around. In doing this the dray turned over, throwing both Mr. Ross and Franklin.

Mr. Ross caught the horses before they had time to get out of the yard, then returned to his son, whom he had picked up and set to one side, and then learned that both of his ankles had been badly sprained and bruised. Mr. Ross cannot account for the dray turning over in the manner it did.

NOTED DIVINE TO SPEAK SUNDAY

Congregational Church Offers Special Inducement to Public.

Rev. Dr. John Gardner, pastor of the New England Congregational church, Chicago, will preach next Sunday morning at 10:30 in the Congregational church.

Dr. Gardner has recently returned from Northfield, Massachusetts, where he has come to be recognized as one of the most popular and inspiring speakers at the widely-known Bible conferences, which are held there every summer. Dr. Gardner has previously spoken in Charlevoix a number of times, and his messages are always greatly appreciated.

In the evening at 7:30, Dr. J. Milton Vance, of Wooster, Ohio, will speak. For nearly a year Dr. and Mrs. Vance were in Palestine, engaged in relief work, under the direction of the American Red Cross. Most of that time they were in Jerusalem. But Dr. Vance was also on the east side of the Jordan, in the land of Moab and Ramoth-Gilead. They had some wonderful experiences, about which Dr. Vance will speak. The public is cordially invited to these services.

WRECK ON THE PERE MARQUETTE

THREE KILLED AND SEVERAL BADLY INJURED.

Accident Occurred Six Miles South of Traverse at One of Roads Worst Curves.

The report has been received relative to a head-on collision of the south bound Pere Marquette passenger train No. 6, and a north bound freight train. The information received so far has been very brief, so that a detailed account of the accident cannot be given.

The collision occurred about noon six miles south of Traverse City on one of the worst curves between this place and Grand Rapids. No reasons for the accident have so far been received. Twelve persons aboard the passenger train have been reported slightly injured, one of whom suffered a broken collar bone and another several broken ribs. Fireman Beeman of the passenger train was badly scalded, while the fireman of the other train and the two engineers are still under the wreckage of the engines.

LATER REPORTS.

The last report received as to the Pere Marquette wreck near Traverse City yesterday states that there were six killed and fifteen injured.

Frank Cushman, mail clerk, Fletcher Gage, engineer, Roy Wantz, engineer, and Fireman Beeman, are the names received of those killed.

Two other members of the train crew were killed, besides these, but their names have not yet been reported.

Fourteen passengers were injured but all were able to leave the scene of the accident without aid, also other employees were slightly injured.

ANOTHER BOOST FOR HOSPITAL FUND

Palace Theatre Will Donate 25 Per Cent of Admission Price.

Another example of the co-operation that has been extended by the people of Charlevoix toward the building of the new hospital, was brought out this week.

L. A. Moon, manager of the New Palace Theatre, is going to give 25 per cent of the admission receipts taken in at the theatre Tuesday to the Hospital Benefit Fund.

This is the sort of thing that will make our hospital a success and this is an excellent opportunity for the public to lend further aid by seeing that the Palace Theatre is well filled Tuesday night.

FORD WINS HIS LIBEL SUIT

CASE BEFORE JURY FOR THE PAST THREE MONTHS

Awarded Six Cents in Damages by Court in Case That Has Cost a Million.

The Henry Ford-Chicago Tribune libel case that has held sway in the Mt. Clemens court for the past three months, was brought to a close at 8:15 o'clock Friday night, resulting in a victory for Mr. Ford.

The jury which for the past three months has been hearing testimony and argument in the suit, returned a decision in favor of the automobile manufacturer, who has been seeking satisfaction in the courts for the charge made against him by the Chicago Tribune that "Ford is an anarchist."

It is estimated that the trial of the suit cost a million dollars, and was featured throughout by the testimony of Mr. Ford, his son Edsel, the editors of the Tribune and many notable writers and clergymen.

The jury awarded Mr. Ford the verdict and damages amounting to six cents, thus establishing a moral victory and following the precedent of the famous Roosevelt cases of a few years back.

The jury was out all day, being instructed by Judge Tucker that the right of fair comment was expected of Mr. Ford, due to the fact that he was a great manufacturer, employer of labor, which brought him constantly before the eyes of the public. Judge Tucker also stated in regard to the Chicago Tribune, that a newspaper had no greater privileges in making comment than an individual. He stated that Mr. Ford's charge against the Tribune as to their being pro-German and advocating an intervention in Mexico as not proven and not to be considered. Mr. Ford and his son, Edsel, were apparently over-joyed at the verdict and are alleged to have said that they were not at all surprised with the outcome of the case.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN FAIR GROUNDS

Record Crowd Is Looked for at East Jordan.

The work on the fair grounds and buildings at East Jordan in preparation for the coming event is progressing rapidly. The school building, which is to be a 30x60 structure, is now ready for the roof, and the 21x41 building is ready for the studding. Clark & Rogers are pushing the work as rapidly as possible.

Work was commenced this week on the new A. H. Loeb building. This building is 40x68 feet, and will be used to house their stock exhibition, which without a doubt will be one of the finest ever shown in this state of Michigan.

Changes have been made in the gates, which has made entrance more convenient, as there is now both an entrance and an exit. The addition of the new office has furnished a place at which tickets may be purchased, thus doing away with the confusion at the gate which has always happened in the past.

The fair management not only expect to have a record-breaking exhibit, this season, but also a record breaking crowd. Automobiles are to be admitted free, thus making it much more convenient for those holding membership tickets, as they will be allowed to enter without delay. Remember the days of the fair, September 16, 17, 18, and 19.

STR. MANITOU BREAKS WHEEL

Repairs Will be Finished in Time for Run Friday.

Reports have been received here that the Steamer Manitou has been forced to go into dry dock in Chicago. The cause for this delay is a broken hub on her wheel.

The accident occurred between here and Chicago after she had left this place on her trip south last Thursday. An order for repairs was sent to Cleveland and Manager Conley announces that the work will be finished and the boat back in the trip from Chicago to Mackinac Island in time to make her usual Friday.

Maybe they call them "dog days" because it takes such dogged determination to stick on the job through August.

This is Certain-teed Week August 18 to 23

This is a "big" week the country over—a week especially set apart by Certain-teed dealers to assist you in properly starting your new home and in setting your present house in order for the fall and winter.

Every home and building needs Certain-teed extra quality roofing or paint; possibly the interior woodwork needs touching up a bit, or the floors need a coat of wax or varnish.

You will find it to your advantage to visit your Certain-teed dealer this week and learn from him how you can carry out your plans at the least expense and with the best results.

Your Certain-teed dealer will advise you in making the selection which will best fit your need.

And whenever you have painting or roofing work done, make sure to specify Certain-teed. You will then be assured of the best and most lasting results.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION

CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

The fall campaign of the American Red Cross to enroll members for 1920 and to raise $15,000,000 to enable the organization to complete its war obligations will open Nov. 3, and close Armistice Day, Nov. 11, according to an announcement by Dr. Livingston Farrad, chairman of the executive committee at Washington, D. C.

Robert Benjamin De Fer, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. De Fer of Traverse City, fell into a deep hole in the pond along the east side of the river near the Hankey Milling company dam, at Petoskey, last Thursday afternoon, and was drowned.

The little fellow was playing along the steep bank with other boys of about his own age. He stepped too near the edge and toppled over. The other boys ran for assistance and the lad's mother succeeded in getting him out of the water but too late to save his life.

Mr. and Mrs. De Fer were residing at 116 Grove street for the summer. Mr. De Fer is a Pere Marquette trainman and had his headquarters here this season.

The body of the drowned boy was taken to the home at Traverse City Friday afternoon for the funeral burial at Traverse City.

A Cheboygan news item says: "Two masked men held up Herbert Kelley, night watchman at the Lake Shore turpentine plant and robbed him of $36 he had on his person. While one held him at the point of a revolver the other ransacked the factory and broke open the safe. Finding nothing of value to carry off the men escaped before Kelley could summon the police. The turpentine plant is not in operation."

In the arrest in Traverse City of two boys, Clifford and Roy Thompson of Newyago, and the arrest at Hersey of two others, Frossard Thompson, a cousin, for burglary of the Louis Morris store at Kingsley several weeks ago, the officers believe they have nabbed the parties responsible for the theft of five automobiles and for a series of burglaries extending from Petoskey to Grand Rapids. Two of the boys have confessed to burglary of the Morris store.

A new law of interest to all who drive motor cars is one providing that a machine striking another in the rear shall be prima facie presumption of negligence on the part of the driver in the rear. Question of liability in such cases, it is stated, has often come up in the Michigan courts, and although it is often difficult for the occupants of the car in front to prove that they are free from blame in such accidents, the supreme court ruled on an appeal that no presumption of negligence may be attached to the driver of the rear car, and that negligence resulted in the passage of the new law.

Everybody and his brother are out with a reason for the abnormal prices and nearly everybody has a suggestion. Editor Vaughn of the Clinton County Republican, secretary of State and a close student of affairs says:

"The first conclusion is that if food prices come down the farmer must take less. While that may eventually be so to some extent the prices the consumer pays is a long way from the price the farmer receives. The farmer gets six cents a pound for beans, the consumer has been paying double that. The cost of business has increased along with the increased price of farm labor, machinery and clothing that the farmer has to buy, but in some cases the price the farmer receives is 100 per cent less than the consumer pays. Every business feels the increased cost of operation, and probably may feel that they are the greatest sufferers. Labor has greatly increased in cost, but the laboring men claim that wages have not advanced as fast as the cost of living. In the opinion of the Republican there must be decreased prices for food, clothing and the things that go into the home before there can be any great decrease in the price of labor. Some prices seem unjustifiably high. If the President and congress can find a way of stabilizing prices all around, with justice to all, it will be a great blessing. Prices cannot continue to soar. There will be a break after a while, and it will cause serious hardships unless the check comes gradually and as far as possible, fairly. Goods will not sell for less than they cost and a man cannot pay out more than he receives. It will take a lot of patience, wisdom and fairness to put conditions on an equitable and stable basis."

Jesse Cook, a farmer of Maple City, is under arrest and Frank Pollick, farmer of same vicinity, is at the point of death in the Traverse City hospital, the result of a shooting affray at the home of the latter. It is reported that Cook's daughter and a local young man eloped and were married by Rev. Otto Pollick, a friend of Cook and also a Lateer Day Saint priest. Enraged because the minister performed the ceremony, authorities say, Cook borrowed a revolver and went gunning for Rev. Otto Pollick. Frank Pollick, brother of Otto, attempted to take the gun away from Cook and the latter shot him through the head. The bullet lodged in his brain and it is believed he will die. Cook is said to have made a futile attempt to also kill Otto Pollick. He went to Leland and gave himself up to the authorities.

You drive up to a garage. The garage man comes out. "Give me a quart of oil," you say. The "quart of oil" is poured into the reservoir. You drive on. You think you have amply protected your engine. But have you?

Consider what is actually going on inside your engine

MORE AND BETTER CHICKENS

Owner of Common Mongrel Flock Will Soon Apologize for Its Existence—Keep Pure-Breds.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

It will not be long before the owner of a common mongrel flock will apologize for its existence. This is the opinion of the poultry-extension worker of the United States department of agriculture who is a leader in the campaign for more and better poultry on farms in south and southwestern Arkansas. In many parts of Arkansas the importance of better poultry and more efficient management is being recognized by progressive business men, commercial organizations, bankers and others and they are active in their moral and financial support in co-operating with the government and state extension forces in their efforts to convince the farmer that standard-bred poultry properly managed is a paying industry, and that the old barnyard mongrel hen must get out of the way for standard-bred, uniform flocks.

The county agent of Drew county has placed 50 pens of one male and four females each of pure-bred Barred Plymouth Rock and Rhode Island Reds on 50 farms, in charge of a boy and girl poultry-club member. The Monticello Chamber of Commerce and the banks of Monticello have advanced the money to purchase these pure-bred fowls and have assisted in their distribution. In addition to the 50 pens of chickens, over 100 sittings of pure-bred hatching eggs have been secured for the club boys and girls. The farm and home demonstration agents of Ashley, Union and Desha counties are busy with poultry-club work on farms and in the organization of poultry clubs. In each of these counties an effort is being made to double last year's poultry-club enrollments.

On March 12 the Southwestern Arkansas Poultry association was organized at Magnolia with 18 charter members. It is reported that practically every business man in the town will become a member and lend his influence and support for more and better poultry. Plans have been made to hold the state poultry show at Magnolia November 25 to 28, where the finest birds of the state will be on display competing for the coveted American Poultry association gold medal offered to only one association in each state.

Baptist Church

Those who were so fortunate to be present at the church Sunday morning last were well repaid for going, for Dr. Hazen, pastor of the First Baptist church of Peoria, Illinois, certainly gave us a rich treat. While at night it was a pleasure for the many who came out to the B. Y. P. U. to hear Archie Carey give his experience in Christian work in some of the large churches of Detroit. Next Sunday Dr. E. E. Branch of Ionia, Mich., will preach for us at 10:30, and probably lead the B. Y. P. U. at 8:30. At 3:30 services as usual at Burgess. This week we expect Rev. L. S. Slaybaugh, pastor of the First Baptist church, Ithaca, and until quite recently pastor in Petoskey, to be present at the weekly prayer meeting Thursday night at eight. So let there be a large turn out. Everybody welcome to all our services. Chas. A. Rice, Pastor.

Notice to Light and Water Users. The ordinances of the city make it my duty to enforce the collection of delinquent light and water accounts.

If accounts are not paid before the 28th of each month, the user is subject to discontinuance of service. I believe that all users are acquainted with this rule. I am instructed by the common council to observe and strictly enforce it. It has been the practice to call delinquents and notify them of the expiration of the time limit. This has proved expensive and impracticable and the council has ordered it discontinued. This notice is to appraise all users of the change so that they may govern themselves accordingly. The rule will be observed impartially.

NEWSY LETTERS FROM GERMANY

Captain Vargas Engaged in Obtaining Pictures of France and Germany.

The Courier has been fortunate enough to obtain some letters written by Captain Ariel Vargas to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Vargas, who are at present visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Richardson of Norwood. They contain some very interesting description of France and Germany also some experiences of the captain.

Captain Vargas is a Chicago boy and entered the British service at the outbreak of the war. He is now connected with the International Film Service, engaged in securing pictures from the interior of Germany being located at present in Berlin. He was engaged at the famous Inter-Allied Games which were held at Pershing Stadium, Paris, and also at the great peace march, July 14th, in securing the films for this country. He gives a very good account of this parade in one of the following letters:

Paris, July 17, 1919.

My Dear Parents—"The great parade of the 14th has passed and France has achieved her dreams. The New York office has requested that I proceed to Berlin to start a service of German pictures and I am glad of the opportunity to get away from Paris for the moment.

"The parade was a most wonderful sight, as the French simply went mad. Really, to much for me. I can now appreciate why the American soldier is so 'fed up' with the thought of remaining in France. The cost of living has gone up lately beyond all proportion.

"The parade of the Allied troops was a great sight and I know, Dad, will be keen to learn that the American boys represented the smartest body of drilled troops on the Champs Elysees. I was standing near the reviewing stand when Pershing gave his 'Eyes Left,' in honor of the dead. The American soldiers to a man saluted en masse. Even the British Guards, which followed, who are supposed to be the best drilled troops in the world, did not touch the Yanks. It certainly made me laugh to see the way the different races were disappointed when our boys arrived. I, too, as an ex-British officer, give all the credit in the world to the American soldier. The French were a bit annoyed that the Americans led the parade, and one overheard amusing remarks along the line about how well dressed the boys looked.

"I will write you in full about my impression of Germany, as I am sure you will be waiting word from me. With love as always,
Ariel.

Coblentz, Germany, July 22.

My Dear Parents—"Hunland is really a pleasant change after Paris, as everything is so wonderfully clean and then the cost of living is reasonable. I arrived from Metz on Friday and have been having an awfully good time.

"The Germans are a rather singu-

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Drink lots of water.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have aching pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe head aches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jai Salts; take a tablespoonful to a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Jai Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss
and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

lar crowd and look the part of the caricatures one sees of them in the English newspapers. German girls are most impossible, and their shape like their voice, sounds i. e. horrible.

"On Sunday I motored to Mainz and Wiesbaden, which is a 90 mile trip, and was awfully bucked with the ride. At the present moment I am living in a most swaggar hotel and have a large room and bath which in Paris would cost $15.00 a day. However, here the army billets one and its free. I believe the Americans pay 20 cents a day for the room.

"I am off for Berlin tomorrow night. The army refused authority for me to proceed to Berlin. However, I have arranged my voyage through the German mission.

"Unfortunately it has rained each day since my arrival and has been none too pleasant. This afternoon I will motor across to Cologne, which is in the British area."

Living and trusting all is well,
Ariel.

Moved by Ald. Levinson, seconded by Ald. Wood, that the report as read be accepted and the Mayor and Clerk be instructed to issue warrants on the City depository for $6,749.18, and the clerk be instructed to draw orders on the several funds of the amount of each respective bill. Motion carried by the following aye and nay vote: Ayes, Alds. Benton, Geneit, Hiller, Levinson, Washburn and Wood. Nays, none.

Having received a special invitation to the citizens of Charlevoix from the Boyne City Chamber of Commerce to join in their celebration Sept. 1st, in observance of Labor Day, and for the Welcome Home to returned service men, moved by Ald. Hiller, seconded by Ald. Benton, that the communication be accepted and placed on file and that the clerk be instructed to acknowledge the receipt of the invitation and offer the assistance and co-operation of the City of Charlevoix. Motion carried.

On motion of Ald. Hiller, seconded by Ald. Levinson, the council adjourned.

Art of Coloring Glass.

It is probable that the coloring of glass, and particularly the garnet tint and not the ruby hue, as some authorities would have us believe, originated in Bohemia. This color—garnet—is obtained by alloying or fusing an extremely minute quantity of gold with the other ingredients—silica, soda, lime, iron oxide and alumina. On its first heating the glass is colorless, but on reheating it develops its soft, rich appearance.—New York World.

Spirits of Trees.

The Malaysians and other Johore natives believe that each species of tree has a spirit or divinity that presides over its affairs. The spirit of the camphor tree is known by the name of Bisan—literally, "a woman." Her resting place is near the tree, and when at night a peculiar noise is heard in the woods resembling that of a cirrula, the Bisan is believed to be singing and camphor will surely be found in that neighborhood.

Sensitiveness of Plants.

When rain is about to fall the clover shuts its leaves, bringing two of its three leaves face to face and folding the third over the top. The young blossoms are also carefully sheltered by inclining leaves which move forward in the evening and wrap them round.

Optimistic Thought.

To the coward there is neither glory nor safety.

Look and Feel Clean, Sweet and Fresh Every Day

Drink a glass of real hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning insulo bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should each day, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store which will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of L. W. Lane.

Guy Sedgman of East Jordan is spending the week with his sister.

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Charlevoix Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Charlevoix adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsements which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills.

Read it: Charles Hebert, 405 May street, says: "My back and kidneys gave out on me, causing me much suffering. My back was so sore and lame I could hardly go about my work. My kidneys were out of order and this caused me a lot of annoyance. Dizzy spells bothered me, when specks floated before my eyes, blurring my sight. I was in bad shape before I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills but they soon had me feeling fine. Three boxes of Doan's cured me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hebert had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WELL REPAID FOR THEIR TRIP

SATURDAY CROWDS ARE INCREASING EACH WEEK.

Hundreds Enjoy Entertainment and Enlivening Music Furnished by the City Band.

The stupendous horde of people who from far and near gathered last Saturday afternoon and evening on their weekly pilgrimage to the business center of Antrim county, i. e., Ellsworth, were well repaid by the bargains they received and the entertainment offered them.

The needle race was won by Harry Loughe and Margaret Ardema, with Walter McElroy and Wilhelmina Cooper second, and appropriate prizes were given. The tossing of presents from the top floor of the Weiss Department Store was greatly enjoyed by both young and old, as was "Lonely Luke's Leap for Life" from the roof of the same building.

The band concert followed the street attraction and was a decided success, the boys showing marked improvement with each appearance. One thing has been done this week, however, which will prove a disappointment to numerous auto owners.

This is the ordinance forbidding the parking of cars on the school grounds. Last Saturday night cars, estimated at from three to five hundred, were parked there and the people residing in the surrounding district objected so strenuously to the noise of starting motors that the council was forced to take action in the matter.

It is planned to have some kind of entertainment each Saturday evening during the balance of the season so those who visit Ellsworth will be sure of a good laugh or two in addition to the satisfaction of seeing their money spent where they receive full value for each and every dollar.

ATWOOD.

Thrashing machines are busy. Mr. Faber is building an addition to his barn.

Two young members of the Coaling family from Grand Rapids are visiting their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. T. Coaling.

J. C. Leonard of Chicago, president of the Leonard Seed Company, was here last week looking over the radish crops.

Ethan Joliffe, Aaron Harwood and George Parsons went to Traverse City last Friday on business.

J. M. Weese, representative of the Traverse City Napoleon Auto & Truck Company, was here on business for a few days last.

BREEZY SIDE OF BANKS.

(Too late for last week.)

M. Wynsma has purchased a new car of the Ford variety.

Mrs. Wm. O'Dell of Lake View, spent Wednesday at the Youagdiike home.

Albert Snitzler has been entertaining his brother, who is here on a short visit.

James D. McMartin of Jackson, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Youngdyke.

James D. McMartin and Miss Nellie Youngdyke and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Youngdyke attended church in Barnard Sunday evening.

Arthur Williams of Detroit, is spending a few days at the home of his father, James Williams of this community.

Fred Boss and family and John Boss and family of Barnard and Mr. Lambert Ardema and family of Jackson, were Friday evening callers at the Vester Shooks home.

The entire community was saddened Saturday, as word reached here announcing the death of E. A. Carlisle, which occurred at Kingston, Oregon, on August 2. We wish to express our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family in their hour of sadness.

ESSEX.

Edward Tillman spent Friday visiting at the Wieland home.

Mrs. Kate Chellis of Detroit, visited at the Wieland home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wieland spent Sunday at the Carpenter home at Bentley Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Smith of Detroit visited at the Wieland home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wieland, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Curtis of Mitchell on a motor trip to Traverse City last Saturday.

Jim Wilson of Pleasant Hill, was through here last week with his threshing outfit and threshed part of of the grain around here, but lots of it was not ready.

The wedding of Miss Ada Cooper and Ed Glass of Bentley Hill has been announced to take place next Wednesday evening. Mr. Glass has recently returned from Russia.

McCann's Milk-Made bread is the kind you want and insist on your grocer giving it to you.

THE CADDIE COLUMN

Don't look any longer for the Caddie Column in last week's Courier. There wasn't any.

Clyde Cross (15, first class) was professional's caddie for the first three days of last week. From Thursday morning on Bradley Atchison, (47, first class) served. Ross Loy (8, first class) had the job last week.

Ted Cooper, Ted Loper, Ernie Hamilton and Norman Shanahan were made first class caddies last Monday morning. Frank Nowland, Alton Bugbee, Clayton Trimble, Vance Smith, Harry Paulson and Webster Bacon came dropping in from here, there and the other place the week previous and were all placed immediately in the first class. This makes 65 first class caddies, boys and girls, out of 162 enrolled.

The plan to keep accurate account of the caddies' earnings at the links during the month of August was not carried out. However, on August 1st, the total was $126.35, and on August 2, $127.40. There were on August 1, 194 players and 200 on August 2. Friday, August 8, was the record day, having 236 players, and every day, excepting Sunday, now runs over 200. From these figures you can easily estimate the money the caddies are making these days.

The Library Fund grows day by day. Two weeks ago the column announced that the fund amounted to $7.00. Last week's column had it been written, would have raised the amount to $19.70, an increase of $12.70. Last Saturday evening the total amount was $33.00. As soon as all the subscriptions are paid, The entire sum will be turned over to the Library Board for the purchase of book for boys. We hope to give at least $60.00 for this. Twenty-nine of the subscriptions are paid in full. It was planned to announce the subscribers as they paid in full, but it will be better to publish the list after the fund is closed. It is hoped that the boys will pay in advance, finishing this week or next, so the money can be turned over soon and the books ordered.

The executive committee gave the caddie master the service flag, which hung on the Club House porch at the links every day last summer. This flag had stars for all boys in the service who had been caddies or employees since the season of 1913. The caddie master wishes to express his thanks, appreciation and pride.

To receive the 10 per cent on bank savings, caddies must have their bank books in the caddie master's hands by the morning of August 30, at the very latest. This is absolutely necessary because of the caddie master's leaving on September 1. Get busy!

There will be a caddie tournament this fall, probably the first week in September. Further announcement will be made later.

TANNIN.

Paraguay has valuable resources, the most important of which is quebracho, which is particularly rich in tannin.

CAN'T FIX PRICE BUT 11 CENTS FAIR

The recent opinion by the food administration officials that 11 cents was a fair price for sugar is being transmitted by the Department of Justice to district attorneys for their information in the campaign against profiteering. Attorney General Palmer said however, that no price for sugar could be fixed by the government.

CHOICE OF SCHOOL IMPORTANT MATTER

HIGHER EDUCATION DEMAND-ED BY BUSINESS WORLD.

Returned Soldiers and Sailors Anxious to Rise to Higher Level Than Before War.

Is it to be passed up as a mere coincidence that just now while the country is rapidly approaching a crisis in the matter of labor shortage, that all schools, colleges, universities and companies selling correspondence courses, are preparing to enter into the most tremendous business they have ever enjoyed? Can the scarcity of labor be credited to loss of many foreign workmen during the war? And if it could be dismissed so easily, how would we account for the thousands of inquiries directed to our various schools; many of them from persons of low intellectual development, and not a few from high school graduates of many years ago?

The whole world has been brought up short, due to the sobering influence of the recent world conflict. Everywhere the feeling is rife that a parting of the ways has been reached and without a moment's hesitation the choice made is that of the rugged uphill climb. Thousands of soldiers fresh from the service are hesitant about accepting their old positions. They invariably want something better. And this is not because for services rendered they feel they should get something for nothing. No more are they content to drift. Their hands are willing, their minds receptive, and their brains grasping. They are willing to work and work hard. Many of them will try to make up for lost time and in this way as a unit they constitute a force that the young man of today will do well to recognize.

Advertisements for positions open that are worth while and do not specify at least a high school education are the exceptions to the rule. To many young men entering upon their second or third year in high school, the work may seem superfluous, but it can be dispensed with only to the detriment of the whole educational structure. It is the foundation that employers want and will eventually demand, upon which to build the more imposing edifice. And the more thorough the education—the deeper the foundation—the higher the building. The only ones who will "booh" at the idea of the young man of today sacrificing everything to the acquiring of knowledge is not higher than one or two rungs on the ladder which all must climb to achievement.

Education is not on the stand; it needs no defense; it speaks for itself. To those who have not as yet made up their mind to continue their education this fall: Do it now. That "the meek shall inherit the earth" is a good way to believe, but just at the present it belongs to those two-fisted, brainy giants who clamp their jaws on the words. "I will!"

SUB-CHASER NO. 13
VISITS HARBOR

Ford Eagle Boat on Tour of Exhibiting and Recruiting.

The arrival of a U. S. submarine chaser in Charlevoix harbor last Friday evening created rather a warlike appearance. The Eagle 13, manned by a crew of regulars, including a number of over-seas men, started from Detroit with the object of cruising through the great lakes, exhibiting the boat, and recruiting.

The Eagle 13 is one of the many submarine chasers turned out by the Ford people during the recent war. It is about 220 feet long and propelled by a 3000 h. p. turbine engine which uses crude oil as fuel. Driven by twin screws, this boat is able to drive through the water at the speed of twenty knots an hour. It is armed with three and four inch naval rifles, one three-inch placed mid-ship and a four inch fore and aft respectively.

While these boats were never able to give a real demonstration during the war, it is understood that they are to be of great service to the government. Their late development made it impossible for any of them to reach the ocean, but there are a great number on the lakes and at the close of the war they were being turned out from the shipyards at the rate of one a day.

While in the harbor the chaser was visited by a large number of the towns people and they were allowed to inspect the boat thoroughly, which proved of great interest.

POOR WAY TO WOO SLEEP

Man Who Experimented Pronounced Insomnia "Cure" to Be at Least of Doubtful Value.

A new cure for insomnia, we read, is to "list the first names of all your friends and acquaintances, taking each letter of the alphabet in order."

Of course this is only a variant of the old device of counting imaginary sheep jumping over a wall. Personally we never found that to work at all. We counted between 11,000 and 12,000 of these alleged soporific sheep one night, and then the alarm clock went off and it was time to get up, which we did with a groan, a headache and a pair of astigmatic eyes.

Making an alphabetical catalogue of your friends' first names is an even more stimulating and nerve-exciting process. We would be willing to wager that no normal persons could get further than the N's before being interrupted by the first call for breakfast. It is doubtful, at least, if the night contains enough time to go through with the whole list from Alfred to Zorilla. We should say that this might be the surest way to banish sleep altogether.

The best way to woo slumber, we have been told, is to go into the silence, relax all muscles and nerves, and then in a mental way, pull all the edges of the mind into a dead mental center and fold them in. It is hard to say just how this is done, but it sounds plausible. Frequently, of course, there are some difficulties merely in going into a silence. Somewhere on the premises, perhaps in an adjacent apartment, there may be someone who has gone to sleep without going into the silence. This interferes materially with the working of all anti-insomnia devices. If there is no neighboring obstacle of this sort it is a much easier matter.

And yet, even after the silence is arranged, the mind is apt to go on providing its own disturbance. Arithmetical and alphabetical diversions only accentuate the tumult. The only thing to do is to regard the very center of the mind as a hypothetical hole, or vacuum, contract the mind until it is all pulled into this hole, and then pull the hole in after it. And there you are. Of course if there is a certain degree of reality in this imagined condition, one does not have to exercise the hypothesis, and that makes it so much easier.—F. H. Young in Providence Journal.

Lithuania and Its People.

Lithuania is situated in the bustle of the Nemen and Dvina rivers on the southeastern coast of the Baltic sea. The capital is Vilna. Its area is approximately 80,000 square miles, the population about 9,000,000, of whom 7,000,000 are Lithuanians, 3,500,000 Lithuanians proper, 1,500,000 using Slavic dialects and 2,000,000 Letts. The country also contains a third of a million Poles. The rest of the population consists of Jews, White Russians, Germans and Mongols. It is said that there is no trace in the world's history of any other people having lived in these regions. Although situated between the Slavs and the Teutons, the Lithuanians are in no way related to them. They claim that their language is one of the oldest now spoken in the world. It is said strikingly to resemble ancient Sanskrit.

Many Tyrants.

He was a high school pupil, and was studying many bits of philosophy. At home he watched the women folk and the ways they devised for doing as they pleased and for getting every other person to do as they wished them to do. And from these he drew conclusions which he later voiced.

"Times have changed since my history was written," he told his father one night. "Then the tyrants were the men who used to stamp around and kill and frighten people into submission. Today the tyrants have dropped those weapons and use much more subtle ones—tears. I think a woman who cries in order to get her own way is a bigger tyrant than ever those old fellows of long ago were."

Anyhow, it set father to work thinking.

Primroses of Picardy.

Nature in her own way is looking after the solitary war graves scattered throughout the shell-shattered Picardy countryside, according to a writer in the London Daily Chronicle. Those that lie in the three-fought-over ground between Albert and Comblès are covered with early spring primroses. In Liermont the daffodils are blooming, and the brambles on the graves in Bernafny wood are green with new leaves. The lonely war-torn areas are to be gathered together in the central cemeteries under the care of the Imperial war graves commission. The French government, in fulfillment to the British soldier, has purchased the necessary land, and has presented it for all time to England.

Hotel Chateau Thierry.

There is said to be a plot on foot for a large American-managed hotel at Chateau Thierry. If it is built, a small bet might be placed that the services of a German-speaking clerk will not be required there on the opening day. Their memories of that section will not be so keenly pleasurable that Germans will return there in great numbers.

Rhetorical Spendthrifts.

"How's politics coming out your way?" "It isn't what it used to be. Every time anybody would think up a good husky epithet he'd use it on the Holborn. Zillions instead of saving it up for the local campaign."

What about that Boyne City Silo?

Will Be Glad When Able to Leave France and Return to God's Country.

G. E. Spayd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Spayd, of Marion township, writes the following interesting letter to his parents.

Paris France, July 27, 1919.
Dear Mother—"Just a few lines to let you know that I am in Paris and having a fine time taking in the sights. Arrived here last Wednesday morning and am due back at Brest the 1st of August.

"Went out to Versailles Wednesday afternoon and saw the place where the peace treaty was signed. Last Thursday I went to Reims and Chateau Thierry. This trip was conducted by the Y. M. C. A. The train left Paris at 7:20 a. m., and arrived in Reims at 10:30 a. m. From there the party was taken out to the battle ground in trucks, which is about six miles. We were also out to Fort Pompelle and it was from this fort the Germans shelled Reims. We left Reims about 2:00 p. m. and on our way back stopped off at Chateau Thierry. There were four or five Y. trucks waiting for the party, so we piled in and drove out to Belleau Woods, where the Americans did their first fighting. There are over 2,000 American soldiers buried in a cemetery right near there.

"This morning I saw the picture, Phoebe de la Guerre, and that painting alone was well worth my trip to Paris. Was out to the Louvre museum last Friday, where they have some very fine paintings and statuary.

"Paris has a fine sub-way system. Of course they lack the speed of the trains in New York, but otherwise when you get in a sub-way station, here you think that you are in the states.

"Hope I do not have to stay in Brest long, as I am anxious to get back to God's country, and then I will tell you all about my ten days leave to Paris."

HOLD SERVICES
AT M. E. CHURCH

Visiting Lutheran Attend Meeting
Last Sunday Evening.

The Rev. Mr. Succop, pastor of the Lutheran church in Petoskey, preached at the local Methodist church last Monday evening. This service was held at the request of many Lutherans who are spending the summer in Charlevoix and who having no church, asked for the use of the Methodist church, which was gladly granted. The service last Monday night was well attended and the preacher delivered a very interesting discourse.

Another service will be held next Wednesday night at 7:30. Not only members of the Lutheran church are invited, but people of all the churches.

CHARLEVOIX COURIER

VOLUME 27. NUMBER 35.

TEN PAGES

COURIER, CHARLEVOIX, MICH., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1919

PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

ROLE OF SOUTHERN PLANTER

RALPH DAVIS TELLS OF THE SUNNY SOUTH.

Now Conducting a Farm of Two Hundred Acres—Has Corn Twelve Feet High.

The following letter was received by the Courier from Ralph Davis, formerly a resident of Phelps: Greenville, North Carolina. Friend Usher—"I have not been getting the Courier regularly this summer as the address has been wrong, so please send it from now to Greenville, as I like to know how you are acting up in old Charlevoix. Not that I would care to go back there to live just yet, for the climate here is just grand and the people are all right and very nice to us, but we shall always have a warm spot in our hearts for the many old customers in Antrim and Charlevoix counties.

"We did not get into business at once as I expected, because I could not find an opening in Greenville, or an empty house to move my goods into. Greenville, by the way, is a very pretty place about the size of Petoskey, and does a lot of business, and I will get an opening here yet, probably this fall.

"Last spring an old gentleman, a retired planter, offered me his country residence for the season, an offer I was pleased to accept. The house, a large one of southern type, has wide porches on three sides and is situated about a quarter of a mile from the main road, in the center of a large grove of oak, elm, beech, cedar, mulberry and pecan trees. These trees have large tops and the trunks are about a foot in diameter, and are covered with large bunches of flowers much like lilacs, which are very fragrant.

"The house that we are occupying is well worth describing. The rooms which are very large, all open into a huge hall which runs the entire length of the house. There are six open fire places and I don't know what they are for as we have had no use for them yet. The strangest part of the house is that one has to go outside and unlock the house before getting breakfast. People here do not know what a kitchen is for. The cook room and the dining room of the better homes are entirely separate from the balance of the house, but usually under the same roof, with a hall or mid-way six or twelve feet wide between.

"This plantation is a small one consisting of two hundred acres and has five tenant houses on it. Most of the farm tenants are colored, there being only one white tenant on the place. We have about twenty acres to crop, so my dear brother, picture if you can the dignified form of yours truly in the role of a southern planter. I can't feel entirely safe with the mules that are here, although they have some of the finest I have ever seen, but the negroes pronounced "niggers", get along fine with them. I got a couple of horses and started in, and it might be well to state that it is very seldom that two horses are worked together in North Carolina. One of them was a big, rangy fellow, weighing about fourteen hundred, and can drag a plow over two acres of ground a day. Now perhaps I didn't part with some good, honest perspiration? Now don't smile, for I am willing to bet dollars to doughnuts that even a northern Michigan editor could be made to part with a little if he would spend a few days in this climate. You go out in the morning and fill your lungs with the sweet perfume of flowers and listen to the hundreds of song birds in the trees and quail whistling in the adjoining fields. I tell you it will bring out the best there is in any man and make it a joy to live in God's fair sunshine.

"I never saw a place where vegetation grows as it does here. There is a rain every week and generally showers oftener, and it is always warm afterward. Corn a month after planting is higher than one's head and at maturity is from eight to twelve feet high, yielding from eight to ten barrels of shell corn per acre, which means forty or fifty bushels of shelled corn. The early planting is mature now and they are stripping off the leaves and tying them into little bundles to dry for fodder. After a while they will go through the fields with a wagon or a two-wheeled cart and mule, break off the ears, husks and all, and store it in the barn. Our dent corn is much harder than that grown in Michigan. I am using corn two years old that was never husked until fed. Corn bread is two thirds of the colored peoples' living, but they also relish pork, melons and chicken great deal.

"Many acres of melons are grown here and they are of excellent quality. They began to ripen last June and are still to be had. Watermelons weighing forty pounds and cantaloupes weighing fifteen to seventeen pounds are common. Oats are sown in February and harvested in late June. Then the land is disked and planted to corn and soy beans. We are about, through planting a second crop of Irish potatoes. Sweet potatoes are set out all the way from May 1st to August 1st, with good results and produce from two to four hundred bushels per acre. Cotton and tobacco form a most important part of the money crop of North Carolina, although melons bring three to four hundred dollars per acre and corn is now worth ten dollars per barrel. Peanuts are also raised in large quantities, many planters growing them, entirely for pig feed, taking from twenty-five to seventy-five pigs and letting them run in the peanut fields.

"Tobacco is now about harvested and brings from four to six hundred dollars per acre. There is a large tobacco business here and it is a fine crop to grow, but I haven't time to tell you about it now, but if you are interested, let me know. Peaches, pears and grapes are abundant here and we have several rods of them that are the sweetest that I ever tasted. The woods are full of wild grapes as large as Michigan Concord and I am told that they are fine eating grapes after the first frost touches them. Must stop and say goodby. Give my best regards to any of my old patrons that you chance to see."

Ralph Davis.

PHEASANT SHOOTING FOR CHARLEVOIX

ROD AND GUN CLUB OBTAINS FIFTY BIRDS.

Hunters Should Refrain From Molesting and Protect Birds as Much as Possible.

It was the object at the time of the organization of the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club to promote good, clean sportsmanship and to improve hunting and fishing possibilities of Charlevoix and vicinity. In order to do this they had to have the aid of every one in the community. Lakes and streams have been restocked with small fish, replacing those caught each year, and other work, along this line has been accomplished.

The best manner in which to aid the work of the Rod and Gun Club is to adhere strictly to the state game laws, which furnishes proper and sufficient protection for fish and game. The latest work of the Rod and Gun Club is the acquiring of fifty English ring-neck pheasants. These pheasants are of last spring's hatchling and were obtained from the state game farm at Mason, Michigan. They have been placed in the woods in such places that it will be convenient to watch and feed them through the winter months. In addition to this flock of fifty, there has been fifteen setting of fifteen eggs, each placed with various farmers to be hatched and turned loose. These birds are now at large in the woods of this territory.

If carefully watched and protected for a few years, the increase will be such that there will be fine pheasant shooting in this part of the country. In order to help promote this enterprise, those who hunt in the fall should obey the game laws which protect these birds and refrain from disturbing them as much as possible.

FUND STILL GOING UP

BOOSTS COMING IN NEARLY EVERY DAY.

Chauffer's Ball and New Palace Theatre Receipts Raise Hospital Fund to $2051.46.

The Charlevoix chauffer's ball proved to be a grand success, with the result that the Hospital Benefit received a big boost.

The dance was given not only by the home town chauffeurs, but those here for the summer as well. The affair was promoted by John Wine-man, one of our summer visitors and directed by Mr. William O'Connor of St. Louis. Mr. Dice and Mr. Beard donated the use of the Lakeside Pavilion for the evening and the Beach Hotel "jazz band" furnished the music.

The dance hall itself was packed to full capacity and on the outside an enormous crowd was waiting for a chance to get inside or even have a look at the interior of the place. Many tickets were bought by people wishing to aid toward the hospital rather than to dance. During the evening's entertainment three Italian impersonations were given by Arthur Lazarous of Chicago, which made a big hit with the crowd and certainly was cleverly done. The music by the Beach Hotel orchestra also made a big hit with the crowd and at the close of the dance, everyone went home, tired and satisfied. This ball netted the hospital benefit fund $403.85, bringing the total subscriptions now on hand up to $2051.46.

The result of the Tuesday night's admission at the Palace Theatre, 25 per cent of which was donated to the hospital fund, added $26.60 more to the ever growing fund, and the donations of Mrs. Ackley of the howling alley must be added to this. The balance is now $2051.40. Can anyone else think of something to give the hospital project a boost?

ODEN TO GET FISH HATCHERY

STATE ACCEPTS A SITE ON ODEN STREAMS.

Residents of Crooked Lake Resorts and Petoskey Donate Land—To Be Beauty Spot.

Oden and the other Crooked lake resorts and the entire region are enthusiastic over the prospects of a beautiful and much needed fish hatchery to be erected by the state of Michigan between Oden and Conway, in Emmet county.

At a meeting held at Oden Sunday last, four thousand dollars to purchase a site was raised in about fifteen minutes among the summer residents of the Crooked lake resorts and Petoskey men. The state fish commission has already appropriated $15,000 for this year and about as much for next year if the site is provided. The commission has accepted the offer for the site along the Oden trout streams between Oden and Conway and it is expected work will start soon.

It is believed the plan of the state to make this hatchery and park which will surround it one of the most beautiful show places of the entire state.

The commission decided on the site mentioned after carefully examining proposed sites in various sections of Michigan. The streams supply an ample amount of cold, fresh water the year round and the state will control the entire length of the streams from their source to the lake.

The fish hatchery at this new hatchery will be grown to what is known as "finger size." The trout will be grown to from three to five inches in length and the bass from five to seven inches in length. They will be used mainly to stock the Northern Michigan lakes and streams.

Fishermen are greatly enthused over the prospect of having a big state hatchery of this kind in Northern Michigan which will supply stock for the lakes and streams of the region. They believe that the fishing in this region will rapidly grow better.

MOTOR LAW TO BE STRICTLY ENFORCED

Must Have Licenses—No Drivers Under Fourteen.

It has been determined by the officials of Charlevoix county that the automobile drivers' license law, which went into effect August 14, shall be rigidly enforced.

Many motorists who are without licenses, find themselves in an embarrassing position through their own negligence or delays in the mail, whereby their license was not delivered by August 14. The statute as passed by the 1919 session of the legislature requires all resident auto-operators to have a license which is issued by the secretary of state, after being approved by the chief of police or sheriff. Motorists driving without this license are liable to a stiff fine and penalty. Persons under fourteen years of age are prohibited from driving cars, it being expressly provided that no license shall be issued to one under that age.

Sheriff Weaver announces that this law will be rigidly enforced. The law was made for the state of Michigan and it will be the duty of every official in Charlevoix county to see that it is carried out in every respect.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SERVICES SUNDAY

DEATH CLAIMS OLD-RESIDENT

Mrs. Andrew McCall Sr., Dies After Long Illness.

Death claimed one of Charlevoix's oldest residents Sunday at 6:00 p. m., when Mrs. Andrew McCall, Sr., passed away, following an illness of several months from cancer.

Douglas Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Shaw, was born May 29, 1864, in Paris township, Huron county. She was united in marriage to Andrew McCall at St. Ignace, June 3, 1882. To this union five children were born. In 1886 she with her husband moved to Charlevoix and from that time has continued to make this city their home.

Mrs. McCall's health has been gradually failing for over a year. Last November she was taken to Detroit, where she underwent an operation for cancer, but this proved of no avail, her health steadily failing and death claiming her Sunday evening. She received the best of medical attention and everything was done to make her last days as comfortable as possible.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist church and always took an active part when it was possible for her to do so. She was also a member of the Rebekah lodge.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. James Tree and Mrs. George Coffey of Detroit, three sons, Andrew, Harrison and John, all of this city, and mother, Mrs. Campbell Shaw, two brothers, John Shaw of Detroit and Campbell Shaw of this city, and sister, Mrs. William Hunt of Detroit. She will be mourned by a number of friends and neighbors besides the family.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 from the residence, Rev. Henry Candlor, officiating. Interment at Brookside.

REV. TAGGART LEAVING CITY

WILL BE MISSED BY A HOST OF FRIENDS.

To Take Charge of Congregational Church of Almont, Michigan, First of September.

The announcement of the departure of Rev. Charles E. Taggart, pastor of the First Congregational church of Charlevoix, will be received with regret by the people of this city.

Rev. Taggart became pastor of the Congregational church of Charlevoix in June, 1912, coming here from Reed City, having been pastor of the First Congregational church in that city.

Since taking up his work in Charlevoix, Rev. Taggart has gained a host of friends by whom he will be greatly missed. The Congregational church, under his leadership, has prospered and enlarged.

Rev. Taggart leaves next week for Almont, Michigan, about forty miles north of Detroit, and will begin his work with the Congregational church of that place the first week in September. The host of friends of Rev. Taggart and family join hands in wishing him the best of luck in the future.

WOMEN MEET ON FRIDAY NEXT

County Federation of Women's Clubs Meet at Congregational Church.

On Friday, August 29, at the Congregational church, will be held the third annual meeting of the County Federation of Women's Clubs.

There will be a business session at 10:00 a. m., in the auditorium. At noon a pot luck will be served in the dining room, followed by a program at 2:00 p. m., in the auditorium. We are not in possession of the details of the program but it promises to be an excellent one.

An organ selection by Mrs. Harry Oldham, speaking by Mrs. Joseph Friend of Louisiana, chairman of that state's Federation of Women's Clubs; Miss Belle Greensfelder, nursing; Miss Helen Armstrong, folk dancing; illustrated reading, Miss Lulu Loveday of East Jordan, and music, vocal and instrumental, by members of Boyne City and East Jordan clubs constitute part of the program now arranged.

Ladies of Charlevoix and the resorts are cordially invited to attend the afternoon session.

For mileage, service and satisfaction, buy Goodyear Tires. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 35tf.

CHANGE IN THE GAME LAWS

COPIES OBTAINABLE FROM THE COUNTY CLERK.

Bounties on Weasel, Wood Chuck, Crows, Owls, Wolves, Coyotes, Lynx, Wildcat and Foxes.

New and revised game laws for the state of Michigan as passed at the last session of the legislature went into effect August 14. Copies of these are on hand at the office of County Clerk Richard Lewis and can be obtained at his office free of charge.

A new law relative to the payment of bounties in the state was passed by the legislature, which gives part of the work in preparing the certificates for bounty to the township clerk, relieving the county clerk's office of these detailed duties.

The section of the law relative to this change in bounties is as follows:

Every person being an inhabitant of this state, who shall kill a weasel, woodchuck, crow, great horned owl, barred owl or hawk, except circus hudsonius, commonly called "marsh harrier," blue hawk or mouse hawk, in any organized township, village or city in this state, shall be entitled to receive a bounty of fifty cents for each; and twenty-five cents for each crow thus killed, to be allowed and paid as hereinafter provided. Every person applying for such bounty shall bring the heads of such animals or birds to the clerk of township, village or city, within such territory, the animal or bird shall have been killed, in the state of good preservation.

The act providing for the payment of bounties for wolves, coyotes, wildcats and foxes provides that the evidence shall be presented to the county clerk.

The bounties are: Wolves, $35; wolf's whelps under six months old, $15; coyotes same as wolves; wildcats and lynx, $5.00 each and foxes $1.00 each.

All animals or birds must be destroyed by the township clerks. Weasels can be marked without destroying the hides.

ODD FELLOWS WILL GIVE PICNIC

Saturday, September 6, at Horton Bay—Speaker of Day.

Saturday, September 6, the Odd Fellows of Charlevoix, Horton Bay, Boyne City and East Jordan will give a picnic at Horton Bay. It will no doubt be very interesting and afford everyone a good time.

The speaker of the day will be Grand Master Harland of Detroit. Mr. Harland spoke at an Odd Fellow gathering last June, and his talk was one of the most interesting ever heard in this part of the country. The program arranged for the day will be carried out as follows:

Potato race, boys, first prize $1.00, second, 50 cents. Potato race, girls, first prize $1.00, second 50 cents.

Cracker eating contest, first prize $1.00.

Running race, boys, first prize $1.00, second 50 cents.

Running race, girls, first prize $1.00, second 50 cents.

INCREASE IN DAIRY PROFITS

Dairy Bull Associations Have Done Good Work and Show Big Increase in Income.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Scrub dairy bulls are doomed. The bull association sounds their death knell, but it replaces them with bulls of better breeding. In June, 1916, there were 44 dairy bull associations and several have been organized since then. They are doing excellent work. Without exception they show an increased income without an increased cost.

The New Windsor (Maryland) Bull association has furnished production records of dams and daughters for three successive years. Each year the daughters have produced more milk and butter fat than their dams, which demonstrates that the bulls were well selected. Of the 21 daughters of association bulls, for which the 1918 records are available, 16 excelled their dams in butter-fat production, and 15 excelled their dams in production of both milk and butter fat.

The average yearly production of the dams was 5,500 pounds of milk and 215 pounds of butter fat. The average yearly production of the 21 daughters was 6,523 pounds of milk and 263 pounds of butter fat. In milk production the daughters excelled their dams by 963 pounds, or 17 per cent, and in butter-fat production by 44 pounds, or 20 per cent. These are not as large gains as some other bull associations have given, but are well worth while.

Because of co-operative ownership the bull cost the farmers no more; they would have been paid for scrubs; it costs no more to feed the daughters than to feed the dams, and it costs much less to feed the bulls than to feed the dams and their daughters. The increased production, therefore, was all net profit.

Buy Your Coal Direct From Mine—Big Saving

The high cost of coal is a thing of the past. At least, there are no complaints on this account—since the removal of government restrictions—among those who have learned how to buy coal. The way to buy coal is to get it direct from the mines. This saves several middlemen's profits. It saves hauling expenses. Anyone can now buy at mine prices, whether a carload buyer or one who uses only ten or fifteen tons a year. This has been made possible through a plan evolved by a large and old-established concern, THE BERNICE COAL COMPANY, with main offices at 1443 Como Building, Chicago.

This company has thousands of customers in various sections of the United States who receive all of their coal direct from the mines. These customers are pleased not only because of the many dollars they save every year, but also because of the quality of coal they are getting. Many write that they never before had coal that makes so little dust, that burns so well, leaving so few ashes. If you are a coal user—whether you use hard or soft coal, much or little—it will be greatly to your advantage to write the Bernice Coal Co. at once for prices, stating kind and quantity of coal you use.

Camel

CIGARETTES

18c. a package

CAMELS supply cigarette contentment beyond anything you ever experienced! You never tasted such full-bodied mellow-mildness; such refreshing, appetizing flavor, and coolness. The more Camels you smoke the greater becomes your delight—Camels are such a cigarette revelation!

Everything about Camels you find so fascinating is due to their quality—to the expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos.

You'll say Camels are in a class by themselves—they seem made to meet your own personal taste in so many ways!

Freedom from any unpleasant cigarette after-taste or unpleasant cigarette odor makes Camels particularly desirable to the most fastidious smokers. And, you smoke Camels as liberally as meets your own wishes, for they never tire your taste! You are always keen for the cigarette satisfaction that makes Camels so attractive. Smokers realize that the value is in the cigarettes and do not expect premiums or coupons!

Compare Camels with any cigarette in the world at any price!

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes or ten packages (500 cigarettes) in a glassine paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

The business men of Petoskey have made arrangements to increase the capital of the Country Club. They will add nine holes to their golf course and build a club house and tea room on the bluff overlooking the grounds. The project was agreed to at a dinner given at the Bay View house August 15th. The Petoskey citizens are nothing if not progressive. Every feature of high class community building that presents itself receives the attention of able women and men and the delightful little city is without a rival in whole north country.

A freight train wreck at a point about a half mile below Levering at about 5:30 o'clock last Thursday morning delayed traffic on the G. R. & I. several hours.

The trouble was caused when one of the freight cars was derailed, five other cars following this one off the rails. It was necessary to transfer the passengers of trains No. 17 and No. 6. The larger part of the mail and express of train 17 was unloaded at Petoskey to be held for a later train after the wreckage could be cleared away.

The Perry Hotel, second largest hotel in Petoskey, was sold Wednesday evening of last week by N. J. Perry, the owner, to the Petoskey Hospital, Incorporated, and will be converted into a hospital and sanitarium in the late fall.

The place being of brick and practically fire-proof, is believed a practical building for a hospital.

It is understood that an elevator will be installed and other improvements made before the place is changed into a hospital. It will be under the management of the Petoskey Hospital, Inc., which was organized in 1909, with Dr. G. W. Nihart, president; Dr. John Reycraft, vice president; Dr. George Reycraft, manager; Miss Jesse Fairfield, secretary and treasurer, and Miss Anna March, superintendent.

Tourists passing through St. Ignace have won another point. The railroad administration at Washington set the price for ferrying automobiles across the straits of Mackinac, from Mackinaw City to St. Ignace, to a flat rate of $4 per car with $1 dockage at each end of the trip.

The Mackinac ferry situation has long been a thorn to the tourists, and the conditions early this year were

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by is the best guaranteed of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from kidney ills, should find comforting words in the following statement:

Mrs. John Hull, 102 W. Lincoln Ave., Charlevoix, says: "I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for they have done me worlds of good. I suffered from an attack of lumbago. I tried various remedies but got no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. In a short time they entirely removed the trouble. A short time ago my back and kidneys troubled me again but Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief promptly."

FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. Hull said: "I can speak just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills as I did when I recommended them before. I use this medicine occasionally and it keeps my back and kidneys in good condition."

GROWS GARDEN TO BUY CALF

Washington Boy Raises Prize-Winning Vegetables and Buys Jersey Heifer With Money.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Alfred Olson of Killekit county, Wash., is a member of one of the calf clubs organized by the United States department of agriculture and the state college of Washington. With his pure-bred Jersey heifer calf, Aron's Babe, he won the state championship prize last year. In 1917 Alfred became interested in the calf club work, but he did not have funds to buy that requisite for membership. To end in a garden club as the first step toward entering the calf club may seem unusual, but that was what the Killekit county boy did, and he reached the desired goal. The weeds in his club garden kept him busy all summer, but he gave it such faithful care that his vegetables were prize winners. He exhibited a collection of them at the state fair and took $50 worth of prizes.

Meanwhile he had been writing to Jersey breeders for prices and descriptions of calves. He decided on Jerseys because that was the breed his father had. With $10 of his garden prize money he bought a month-old Jersey heifer calf in October. He kept her in the barn all winter, but in the spring she was turned out on the range. When brought in in September to be made ready for exhibition purposes she was larger at eleven months than his father's grade calves of fifteen months. At the state fair Alfred's Jersey was awarded the state championship prize, in the boys' and girls' club class and was valued at $150.

Untying the Knot.
This is a marriage custom among the S. S. Indians, India, by which, after a ceremony has been set on the bride by the bride and the bride and his lady tie a knot in a string for each day to intervene before the wedding. Then the parents separate; day by day a knot is untied, and when the end of the string is reached the real knot is tied that makes the couple one.

NUT TREES FOR ROADS.

It has been suggested more than once that fruit trees be planted along American highways as is done in some parts of Europe.

Little attention has been paid to the idea since it seemed unlikely that the fruit trees would flourish very long in a country where the public is just learning to let things grow.

Now there is an agitation for planting nut trees along the road.

The flowers of nut trees are less attractive than those of fruit trees, and for the blossoming season at least, they would be safer from the highway robber. When the nuts ripened, the boys in any locality would see that they were equally distributed, at least.

"Nuts have great food value," also urge the members of the nut fraternity.

Whether the nut crop would be sufficient greatly to effect the food problem of the country is questionable, but there are things distinctly in favor of the nut tree.

Chestnut, hickory, walnut, beech and some others are trees of notable beauty, and good for shade as well.
Every one of them is valuable for lumber.

Systematic nut tree planting and re-planting along the roadsides of this country might not be so "nutty"
as it sounds.

TWO OF A KIND.

Having heard of Arnold Bennett, the author, Henry Ford said, on the witness stand, in response to an inquiry, that Benedict Arnold was "a writer." Which reminds us of the story related by George Harvey concerning his conversation with a man of Ford's type. After talking with the man for some time about Mark Twain's works, Harvey asked:
"Have you ever read 'Puddenhend Wilson'?" "Oh, yes," was the reply,
"I voted for him."

The plan to take twenty billion dollars of the people's money, buy the railroads with them, and turn the roads over to those on the payroll of these lines to operate them, calls for a division of the "profits" between the government and the employees. Under government operation the railroads, with vastly increased passenger and freight rates, are operating at a loss. Who will divide the losses?

Do not be too hard on Newt Baker for protecting the "conscientious" socialist objectors from service. He wanted a few fellows left in the country who could still repeat in good conscience the slogan of 1916: "Thank God for Wilson: he kept us out of war."

After six years of complete control of government the Democratic politicians are taking up the cry of high cost of living right where they dropped it in 1912. Meanwhile the cost of living, under their administration, has trebled.

Colonel Bryan's announcement that "some day all news will be heard through government channels and will have the approval of property authority before is printed," shows that he has caught the spirit of the new freedom.

When the throat to strike is used to attempt to force upon the country the policy of government ownership, the action of the leaders who do this represents, primarily, not labor, but politics.

"Patriotism is not enough," said
Edith Cavell. But any statesman who represents his country in international dealings ought to have at least that much.

George M. Bailey of Texas, writes:
"Dixie is the stainless mother of the nation." Been acting like a stepmother the last three or four years.

POMONA GRANGE MEETING HELD

Met at Ironton August 14—Several Interesting Lectures

Charlevoix Co. Pomona Grange was held in due form with Ironton Grange, August 14. The meeting was featured with a large attendance and lively discussions.

Brother Chew, assisted by Sister Terry Barber and Mr. Wing, gave a discussion on "Doing Our Best to Help Feed the World." This was followed by another discussion on "Good Roads, Taxes and School," led by Worthy Lecturer MacNeal, assisted by Brothers Barber, Fuday and Matthews.

A very interesting talk was given by Miss May Stewart, subject: "The Child, the Teacher and the Parent."
This was followed by talks on farming and fruit raising by Professor Taft of Lansing, and George E.
Nichols of Ionia. It was decided that each grange obtain as many members as possible to take the sixth degree and to notify the Pomona secretary as soon as possible.
The Master of each grange will act as a committee of one to solicit his grange for members.

The next Pomona meeting is to be held at Peninsula Grange, November 6th. As there is a considerable amount of business to be attended to it is hoped that there will be a good attendance. The election of officers will be held at this meeting.
—Ella Fuday, Pomona Secretary.

M. E. CHURCH.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the First Methodist church next Sabbath morning at 10:30. The Sacrament of Baptism will also be administered and a number of candidates received into church membership.

The fact that Mr. Lewis is to have charge of the Epworth League service at 8:30 warrants us in predicting a service of unusual interest and large attendance.

Preaching service preceded by service of song at 7:30. Thursday evening prayer and praise service at 7:30.

It is very important that all members of the church pay in full their pledges for current expenses and this year's Centenary pledge as soon as possible as their remain but two more Sundays before the annual conference that meets at Lansing on September 9.

READING CONTEST AT BEAVER ISLAND

Thirty Dollars in Prizes to Be Given to Winners of Contest.

St. James, Beaver Island.
To Superintendent of Schools, Char-

Dear Sir—I wish to announce that a reading contest will take place at Peffer Beach on Sunday, September 7th, at 3:00. I am offering two prizes for the winners. One a ten dollar gold piece for the best reading from those living on Beaver Island. Outsiders cannot compete for this prize. The other prize of twenty dollars is open to all.

The following restrictions must be adhered to in this contest:

1. Contestants must be between the ages of 12 and 24 years of age.
2. There must be at least three contestants for the Beaver Island prize and for the twenty dollar prize at least three from other places than the Island.

3. Teachers cannot compete.
4. Readings must not be too lengthy and of readers own selection and not more than three readings can be entered by one person.

The teachers in the public schools of Charlevoix and Emmet counties are cordially invited to attend and act as judges. They are also requested to ask as many pupils and young people as possible, and I hope to make this contest an annual affair in the future.

A LECTURE

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Entitled

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE:
THE VISION OF JESUS CHRIST

By

Rev. Andrew J. Graham, C. S.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ,
Scientist, in Boston, Mass.Dr. F. H. Wilkinson introduced the lecturer, and spoke as follows:

Jesus said, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Christian Science has brought into the world the truth about God and man and has proved that the so-called material law which seems to make man subject to sickness and sin, sorrow and suffering, is no law at all, but merely a false conception of law. When the truth is made known, this false law is seen to disappear. That this is the truth which makes man free from all these forms of error is being demonstrated by Christian Scientists in every corner of the globe.

We are met here this afternoon to learn more about the truth which makes man free, and I take great pleasure in presenting Rev. Andrew J. Graham, C. S., a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., who will speak to us.

The Reason Why

The subject to be elucidated is: Christian Science: The Vision of Jesus Christ. A lecture on Christian Science brings together people who hope and I trust, expect to learn about God; how His goodness is available to heal sickness, sorrow, and relieve sorrow. This was the Savior's mission on earth, and Christian Science continues that work. It is not only desired, but expected, that each truth seeker in the audience be inquiring at this time on what authority the statement is made that Christian Science, as operating among men today, is the realization of the vision of Jesus Christ. The answer is simple and entire. A tree is known by its fruit. The destruction of sin and sickness which the Savior accomplished and which he foretold would swallow up death in victory, is being done through Christian Science in this generation. That which claims to be able to bless man, and can sustain the claim through demonstration, is worthy of full acceptance.

Christian Science not only teaches, but demonstrates it, thereby offering strictly to the declaration of scripture: "I will show thee my faith by my works." Many thousands of written testimonials of healing, regeneration, covering the last fifty years, are preserved and accessible; current testimonials of redemption from sickness and sin appear regularly in The Christian Science Journal, Christian Science Sentinel, and the Christian Science Herald in French and German; each Wednesday evening in all Christian Science meetings are heard the living voices of grateful men and women testifying to the power of Christian Science to heal and to save; throughout the world beyond broad waters and behind lofty mountains, in great cities and quiet hamlets, by the domestic fireside and in trench and hospital, men and women, confident and calm, joyous and active, are found declaring that through Christian Science they have come to know, and in some measure have been able to increasingly to demonstrate, that God is a sure remedy for every ill, here and now. When one finds the correct answer to a problem in mathematics he is certain the rule by which he works is true. So when through the application of the Principle of Christian Science one sees the destruction of disease and mental misery, he knows that the rule of healing as taught by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, is true. The test set up by Jesus the Christ is this: "By their fruits ye shall know them." This is the initial reply to the earnest inquirer who asks on what authority it is declared that Christian Science is the fulfillment of the vision of Jesus Christ.

The Vision

What is this vision? Jesus the Christ was pure in heart and therefore was a seer; he saw God, good. Only purity can see purity, and purity can see only purity. The root meaning of vision is "sight, faculty of seeing." The new edition of Webster given the first main definition of vision as "Act of seeing external objects; actual sight; perception." In meaning, vision is closely allied to the Greek verbs "to see" and "to know," which indicate that really to see a thing is to know it. This is the nature of the vision of Christ Jesus. It has no connection with mysticism; it is supremely natural; it is not a dream, but a reality; not a promise for the future but present possession. There are other derivative meanings given to the word "vision," such as the approaching shadow of events. Isaiah and other Old Testament prophets foretold coming events, things afar off. Christ Jesus saw real events, the Kingdom of heaven at hand. On that Sabbath day in the synagogue at Nazareth, when he stood up to read the Scriptures, there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Isaiah and he found the place where it was written: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he has sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bound, to preach the acceptable year of the Lord" (Luke 4:18, 19). He sat down, and as the people wondered at his gracious manner he said to them: "This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears." And at once it began to be fulfilled in their eyes also, for "in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil." And Jesus rebuked him, saying, "Hold thy peace, and come out of him." And he came out of him, and hurt him not. From thence Jesus went directly into a house and healed Simon's mother-in-law. And the same day "when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him, and he healed them." On page 313 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mrs. Eddy writes: "Jesus of Nazareth was the most scientific man that ever trod the globe. He plunged beneath the material surface of things, and found the spiritual cause." Again, on page 476 of the same book she writes: "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Savior saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick." The vision of Christ Jesus, therefore, was not to him a deferred fact; it was seen and known as present. It was not some far-off divine event, it was high, even at the foot of the hills that stand around about Jerusalem. The consciousness of the Father's loving power was over with him. Through it he dominated sickness, sin, and death absolutely. Whatever sufferings fell to his lot, from the hands of sinful men, were permitted by his spirit to pass. He said, "I lay down my life, that no man take it from me, but I lay it down of myself" (John 10:17, 18). All power was given unto him. He ruled the raging of the sea and the tempest of mortal mind; at once there was a great calm on the waters, and the sin-tossed, suffering man clothed in his right mind, as Jesus feet. Was it not a glorious vision which Jesus the Christ beheld. What penitent sinner was left unhealed, what weary invalid unhelped, what broken heart uncomfited?

The Vision Extended.

The workable knowledge of the omnipotence and omnipresence of God was not confined to the consciousness of Jesus the Christ. He left the witnesses of himself, empowered to extend and manifest the works of healing and regeneration which he had done. For a long time after Jesus had vanished from sight, the divine command: "Heal the sick, . . . raise the dead," was obeyed and fulfilled. "Like trailing clouds of glory," the faith and works of the primitive Christians were as a light shining in heaven darkness. Witness the Bible testimony recorded in the Acts of the Apostles, that book written on Christian church history, and without doubt the most reliable. In the third chapter we read: "Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk." . . . and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking and leaping, and praising God." This was in A. D. 33. In the ninth chapter we read: "And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and . . . said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, . . . hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost. And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales, and he received sight forthwith." That was in A. D. 35. In the same chapter we read: "And there he found a certain man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick with palsy. And Peter said unto him, Aeneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole; arise and make thy bed. And he arose immediately." This was in A. D. 37. In chapter 14 we read: "And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked: the same heard Paul speak; who steadfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed, said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked." This was in A. D. 45. In the twentieth chapter we read: "And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep; and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead. And Paul went down, and fell on him and embracing him said, Trouble not thyself, for his life is in him." This was in A. D. 60. Between A. D. 54 and (not later than) 110, all that part of the New Testament, following the Acts of the Apostles, was written. These books, whose authors were Paul, Peter, James, John, and the author of the Epistle to the Hebrews, abound in expressions of the same confidence and victory displayed in the Acts of the Apostles.

Thus we have the vision of Christ Jesus extended beyond the date of his ascension to at least A. D. 95 by credible witnesses who ethnologically overlapped each other. Furthermore, by A. D. 100, perhaps earlier, the catacombs near Rome, those subterranean burial places for the primitive Christians, began to appear. As the bodies of believers were placed in these rock-hewn resting places, symbols and descriptions expressive of active faith and wonderful works were cut in the stone. In course of time it is likely that more than a million bodies were received in these catacombs. The Christian records in stone were correspondingly numerous, and many of them are accessible to students. Burials in the catacombs continued for three hundred years. Even further; when the catacombs were in their infancy subapostolic believers began writing down, in Greek, records of the wonderful works still wrought among men, through the power of Christ, Truth. If one would read this testimony, let him consult the translation of the writings of Justin, Irenaeus, Tertullian, and Origen, whose lives covered the years from A. D. 114 to A. D. 254. Thus can he see for himself that the earnest followers of Christ Jesus were repeating his wonderful works in casting out evil, healing the sick, and raising the dead. This is what is meant by the Vision Extended. Historically considered, the chain of testimony has no missing link.

The Gathering Clouds

About A. D. 300 "shades of the prison house began to close" upon the glories of early Christianity. Worldly minds like Elymas sought the Christly power from base motives; their desire was never realized. Rome ruled the then known world, and when the emperor became a convert to the Christian church practically the whole empire soon passed under the waters of ecclesiastical baptism and nominally became Christian. Mere material baptism of itself has never placed a man in vital relation to God as given him a glimpse of the Christ vision. I pause for a moment. I have too many loving friends in the different churches to permit myself to wound or estrange them by harsh reference to anything they hold dear. Tenderly, but with profound conviction, I declare the subtlest danger that can ever beset a follower of Christ is submitting to material sacraments without correspondingly spiritual. This species of idolatry dimmed the light of early church. The ardent faith of the Christians which had thriven under merciless persecutions was caught in the insidious snare of formalism. Its light began to wane, its vision vanished, and it sank approximately to the world's level, where it seemed to sleep for a thousand years, while every phase of sin and tyranny was practiced in its name. These centuries constitute what may properly be called the Dark Ages. A theoretical system of salvation had thrust itself between God and the individual man. "And it was night."

The Re-dawn

In 1366 A. D. John Wycliffe called the Morning Star of the Reformation, was at the zenith of his influence. An article in the Encyclopedia Britannica which gathers up the thought of many scholars says: "He (John Wycliffe) may at least claim to have discovered the secret of the immediate dependence of the individual Christian upon God, a relation which needs no mediation of any priest, and to which the very sacraments of the Church, however desirable, are not essentially necessary." This spirit of the reformation began to do away with serfdom and feudalism and to emphasize the right of the individual. It broke somewhat the bondage in which the human mind had been held, and thought thus released became active in many directions. The printing press appeared, the Bible was translated into languages understood by the people, the catacombs with their valuable early Christian records were thrown open. In Florence and Venice painting, sculpture, architecture, and metal work displayed themselves in wonderful forms and colors; Spain and Scandinavia sailed distant seas in quest of new worlds; while England, Ireland, Scotland, and Bohemia were stirred by a more vital sense of religion. The renaissance of thought known as the Rise of Learning quickened also the spiritual faculties so that the ecclesiastical body which opposed the Reformation hastened missionaries to India and the new world. Among most European Protestants, missionary bands and Bible societies were active. Wherever British merchant-men sailed the seas there were earnest efforts to carry the blessings of Christianity.

Christian Scientists are not unmindful of, but recognize, the value of this Reformation movement in human history which prepared mankind for the reception again of the unimpaired gospel. They acknowledge the Reformation stood for activity in the right direction, but was not radical enough to remove all the misconceptions about God with which the Dark Ages had beclouded thought. If man is to be freed from the burden of sin, sickness and death, he must find such freedom through a God who neither creates nor sustains these evils. Christian Scientists know no god but the good God. God is revealed more clearly through the teachings of Christian Science than through any other religious instruction, and the real Christian understanding which Jesus possessed becomes possible, at least in some degree, to everyone through the study of Christian Science, which proves that Christian Science is the genuine Christ-understanding, or Christian knowing. The Reformation movement did not free itself entirely from the false teaching of the Dark Ages. To some extent it still sees God as through a "smoked glass," doctrinally it holds to mental positions which evolve the belief that God creates and sustains sin, sickness, and death, while practically it teaches that the man who is sorry for his sin may always be forgiven, but the sick man who is sorry for his sickness can hardly ever be healed. This contradictory attitude of thought was never entered into by Jesus. The fact is that so far as specified cases in the New Testament are concerned, he healed sickness much more frequently than sin. This is the prominent feature in the ministry of Jesus the Christ which the Reformation movement did not recover. This work remained to be accomplished by a movement more spiritual in its precept, more comprehensive in its understanding of the gospel.

In the year 1866 Mary Baker Eddy, whom medical skill had failed to relieve of a serious physical trouble, was instantly healed through reading the Scriptures. Christian Scientists know that with healing began the modern fulfillment of Jesus' promise: "When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth." Instead of taking her physical healing and losing herself in the throng of the unthankful, her gratitude to God and compassion for suffering humanity led her to investigate and to meditate on pages 109 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Mrs. Eddy writes: "For three years after my discovery, I sought the solution of this problem of Mind-healing, searched the Scriptures and read little else, kept aloof from society, devoted time and energies to discovering a positive rule. This rule she discovered, stated, elucidated, and demonstrated, over and over again, in healing the sick, thus re-instituting the most practical feature of primitive Christianity. All of Mrs. Eddy's writings bear, directly or indirectly, on healing; but in the text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," there is a chapter entitled Christian Science Practice, which will abundantly explain to any earnest reader what this teaching is. To deny that Mary Baker Eddy discovered the Principle of divine healing and that by it her students are healing the sick and the sin-fol, would be to close one's eyes to the most far-reaching fact of modern times. This thing was not done in a corner. It is seen and known of all men who have eyes to see and ears to hear. We may well call it the renaissance, or re-birth, of the vision of Christ Jesus. The discovery and demonstration of Christian Science might justify its beneficiaries to-day in repeating Solomon's joyful exclamation: "Mine eyes have seen thy salvation, which thou hast prepared before the face of all people."

Personal Testimony.

Nor can I be silent at this time concerning the love of God which guided me into the land of Christian Science, where mental bondage is broken and freedom reigns. "I was sick, and . . . in prison, and ye came unto me." I myself verily believed that I ought to say and to do many things contrary to what I thought Christian Science was. To end frequently from a Christian pulpit I named the name of Mrs. Eddy and vehemently denounced what I thought her teaching to be. Up to the hour of my healing, which was instantaneous, I had not read one line of authorized Christian Science literature, but had assembled in my library many volumes and pamphlets adverse thereto. In August, 1911, while in a hopeless physical condition, I requested and received a treatment in Christian Science. A part of that treatment was a recommendation that I read "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mrs. Eddy. This I at first refused to do, but that day, noon and one o'clock on that day, while reading the first few lines in the chapter of Prayer, I found myself suddenly released from physical ills and mental distress. The matchless worth of that release no mortal can ever express. A new heaven and new earth began to appear in my thought, and the precious truth of healing, widening and deepening in my human consciousness, as brooklets widen and deepen into rivers, has enabled me to see more clearly and to work more intelligently toward the realization of that vision which Christ Jesus saw.

Mary Baker Eddy.

A Christian Scientist does not give his testimony to exploit himself, but to express gratitude for the great things divine Love has done for him. The psalmist expresses this desire in the words: "I have not concealed thy loving-kindness. . . from the great congregation." I have alluded to my own healing out of the deepest gratitude to the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. I had hated her without a cause, and I had ascribed to her base motives, and I had conceded to her no acknowledgment of good. I opened the book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and read on page 1: "The prayer that reforms the sinner and heals the sick is an absolute faith that all things are possible to God—a spiritual understanding of Him, and unselfed love." My heart was moved. I said to myself, Only one who has lived near to God could write thus. With that honest recognition of justice to Mrs. Eddy, the healing came. About six months afterwards I began a careful study of her life. From various sources I found an illuminating mass of unquestionable testimony to her worth. In studying the records of the courts to which Mrs. Eddy appeared in order to protect her writings and maintain the truth of Christian Science, unadulterated, there was revealed corroborative evidence of her unselfed love for humanity. This candid investigation clarified my thought and deepened my conviction already formed that Mrs. Eddy was the most remarkable woman since the birth of Christianity. Her audacity in suffering, unwavering pursuit of truth, common sense, of human life, loftiness of ideals, knowledge of acquirers, mastery of details, simplicity in daily life, resistance to popular applause, composure of noble purpose, appreciation of the beautiful, compassion toward mankind, and devotion to God were some of the qualities which fitted and enabled her to rescue a crippled Christianity from the feeble grasp of a sleeping world and to restore to it the lost power of physical healing. It is rapidly coming to pass in all the world that the great service to humanity which this woman wrought is being told as a memorial of her.

God—Divine Principle

The fact which preceded and accompanied Mrs. Eddy's discovery of Christian Science have been touched upon and are in the nature of his testimony. To understand the Science itself, however, it is necessary to go deeper than the history of Christian Science however wonderful, and endeavor to gain a clearer thought as to the nature of God. A right understanding of God brings freedom and peace to those afflicted with pain and guilt. The world needs to be redeemed, and you know better than anyone else knows that you, as an individual, need to be released from the bondage of sin and disease. Many in this audience have received the benediction of healing, through Christian Science. The fact should be kept in grateful, humble, obedient, and active. There are others here who know not this wonderful truth, who are groping in the darkness of sin and disease, longing for a Savior. To these weary ones the Christ, Truth, is ever saying: "Them also must I bring, . . . and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd." The promise and its fulfillment are for today. Healing and regeneration are for this moment, for God is here now. Why is God here now, and what is God? Christian Science answers these questions. On page 485 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mrs. Eddy writes: "God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love." God is all the life, mind, intelligence, truth, love, there ever is anywhere. These qualities manifested by men and women are the reflection, expression, of God as the Scripture saith: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights." The word "lights" means that which is confined within limits, as to time, place, quality, or activity. Infinite means the very opposite. God is infinite. Because God is everywhere all the time He cannot exclusively be anywhere at any time. Because God is infinite He cannot for an instant be away from us, for there is no other place for Him to be. We cannot be separated from God, even though we try, because He is always everywhere.

A hundred years ago there was a word much in use which now is seldom heard, though the false belief associated with it is quite prevalent. That word is "deism." It represented the belief that God created the universe, and having started it on its way, withdrew, leaving it for itself either to succeed or fail, be saved or lost. This false teaching has a subtle hold on many people to-day, causing them to think of God as a finite, limited person. Instead of being "all in all," according to the Scriptures, deism says He is only a part of all. Such people, when they pray to God, think of Him as being at a great distance, so that their petition must be sent over a vast stretch of desert before it reaches Him. Christian Science teaches with logical and spiritual exactness that with God are no vacancies, no absences. Mrs. Eddy gave God a new name, which so appeals to human reason that it destroys the sense of aloofness and coldness inculcated by deism. She defined God as divine Principle. He who begins to see and to know God as Principle can no longer view Him as a limited person dwelling somewhere. To do so would be like declaring that the activity of the multiplying table is confined to the United States—that it is inoperative in all other countries, except when a very earnest petition on the part of some one persuades it to act temporarily elsewhere. In the realm of human knowledge the mutual attraction of the planets, the law of gravitation, the harmony of music, and the rule of addition and subtraction are absolutely continuous and applicable everywhere all the time, and so constitute a principle for human activity. Divine Principle is not only continuous and unerring, but it is also a loving, guiding, protecting, healing Father-Mother God.

Jesus.

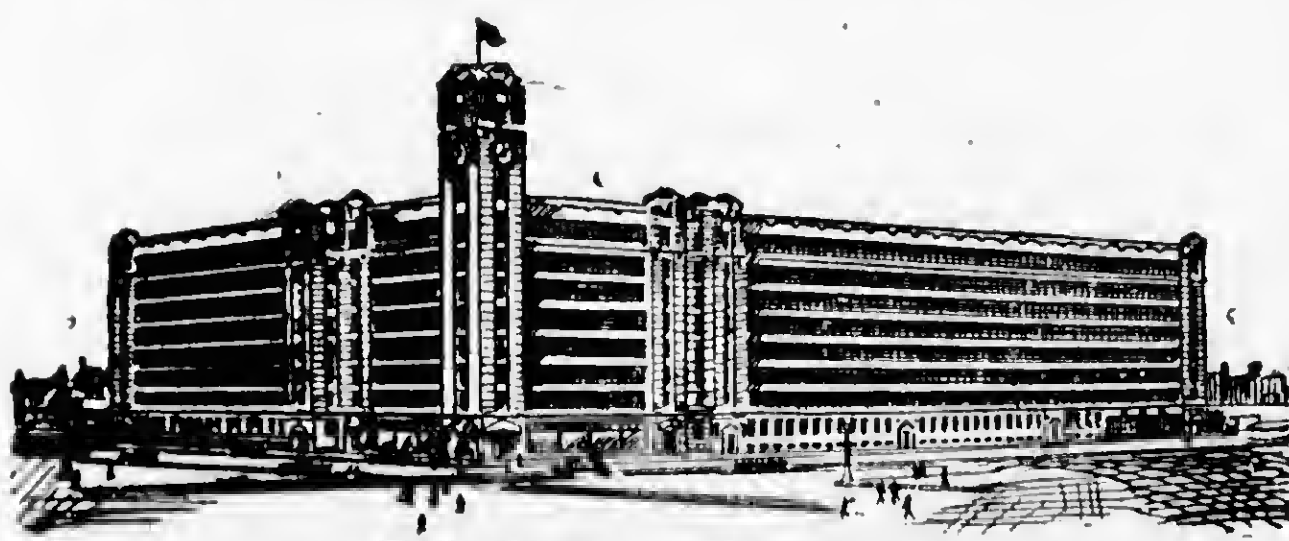

It is well at this time to reflect somewhat on the meaning of the words Christ and Jesus. The teaching of Christian Science is clear as opposed to that confused thought held by many people concerning him known as Christ Jesus. Christian Scientists learn to speak and love to speak gently and considerately on religious matters. They earnestly seek to avoid that wounding of others' sensibilities which has been so rife in the past. One of the results of the old theological systems was to lead men to the belief that Christ Jesus was God. Jesus himself explicitly denied that he was God in the words: "Why thou callest me good? there is none good but one, that is, God." Mrs. Eddy says on page 332 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Jesus was the son of a virgin. He was appointed to speak God's word and to appear to mortals in such form of humanity as they could understand as well as perceive." Jesus was not God. This is proved by the fact that he was tempted and suffered. If a man, what, then, the difference between him and us? It may be answered that he was able not to transgress God's law at any point; we are able at the present stage of our growth, not to transgress at some points. God is just as near to us as he was to Jesus, but Jesus was spiritually awake and knew God was at hand; we are asleep and know it not. This is the difference between the man Jesus and ourselves, a difference which through the leading of Christian Science should grow less and less. Jesus' mission was to show us by teaching and example how to attain the fulness of truth. To accomplish this he came to men on the plane on which they lived and thought, and spoke to them in a language which they understood. By way of illustration, we know that the mechanic, in utilizing electric current, sometimes is compelled to reduce it to correspond with receiving capacity. In like manner, truth was taught by Jesus, who said: "I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now." Through Jesus the activity of Christ, Truth, appeared to men in gracious words and loving, healing works. So complete did this realization of divine power become that Jesus the Christ boldly declared: "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." When Jesus had demonstrated over the temporal at every point, all material needs and suffering dropped away from him forever. This complete victory over matter and so-called material laws is known in Christian parlance as the ascension. His ascension was not an isolated experience in his career, but a process which began with his birth at Bethlehem and reached perfection on that day when the disciples saw him vanish from mortal sight. Jesus was our elder brother, marking the way. He journeyed toward and attained to the goal of freedom from matter; so may we do the same.

The Christ.

Jesus became the model for us all because he was always actuated and guided by Christ, Truth. The supposititious distance which exists between God and man is filled and ever has been filled by the unceasing activity of Christ, Truth. Mrs. Eddy says on page 332 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "Christ is the true idea voicing good, the divine message from God to men speaking to the human consciousness." The active love of the eternal Father is over all His works, and this love is the Christ. Christ is not a competitor of God, but an emanation from God and an impartation from God. Every manifestation of good in human peace, joy, health, and harmony is the

THE already tremendous chewing gum factory of the Wm. Wrigley Jr. Company, at 55th Street and Ashland Avenue, Chicago, is to be doubled in size. The first large unit of the new structure is now under construction. When completed, the new plant will comprise a million and a quarter square feet of space, devoted entirely to the manufacture of chewing gum. The area covered is six hundred by three hundred feet, the building being eight stories high with basement. It is of heavy re-inforced concrete and steel, white terra-cotta exterior. Track facilities for loading fifty cars at one time are provided. Special features are a modern roof-garden, recreation hall, restaurant, hospital, welfare department, library, club rooms, smoking room, hand-ball courts, gymnasium and showers. S. Christ, Christ is the mediatorial path to God. He himself says, "No man cometh unto the Father, but by me." Mrs. Eddy named her discovery Christian Science. Science means something that is known. Christian Science means Christian knowledge—knowing God and His universe as Jesus the Christ knew them. Christ, Truth, is the alpha and omega of Christian Science. When this truth enters man's consciousness he begins to realize his at-onement with God. Accepting and applying this Christ-truth in his daily life is what made Jesus the supremely good man. On page 497 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mrs. Eddy says: "We solemnly promise to watch, and pray for that Mind to be in us which was also in Christ Jesus." Christian Scientists' adore the Christ: they reverence Jesus.

The Bible.

Christ Jesus said, "Search the scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me." Of course he alluded to the Jewish Scriptures, for the New Testament was written at a later date. However, I am certain you will all agree that we may rightfully include the New Testament, for the latter is simply the fulfillment of the former. For twenty-five years before her healing Mrs. Eddy had been a devout student of the Bible. She was instantaneously healed while reading the Bible. She saw as no other person had seen in this or any other age since the early Christian period, that because the Scriptures are spiritual they are for that very reason practical, and she has magnified the teachings of the Scriptures in all her works as no other writer of modern times has done. In six hundred pages of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," the literal quotations from the Bible aggregate twenty-three solid pages. All the spiritual wisdom and understanding which came to her was from the unfolding of Bible truth. Many books have been written on the Bible. The greater part of them are called commentaries, a title fittingly applied, for they are comments on the Bible rather than elucidations of it. Mrs. Eddy's writings open the Scriptures from the inside out. On page 547 of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," we read: "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually. . . . It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith."

The Textbook.

It is fitting at this time to say something about the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mrs. Eddy. This book is not a commentary on the Bible, but a key to it. Other writers claim to bring out treasures from the Scriptures and to hand them to us. Mrs. Eddy gives us the key, saying, Open the book and help yourselves. Any claim to excellency can be sustained and maintained only by results—"by their fruits ye shall know them." The spiritual vitality and illumination which the student of the Bible receives through study of the Christian Science textbook is undeniable proof that the latter is what is claimed for it,—a key to the Scriptures. The dominant thought of the textbook is spiritual. If any, thing else is sought in its pages it will be unresponsive. To those who are hungering and thirsting after righteousness and to the sick and sinners who are seeking peace, it is as deep responding unto deep. Simply the reading of it has lifted thousands of sufferers out of despair. Friends: the man who is really homesick to know his heavenly Father, God, from whom he seems to be separated, is ready to study this textbook, and to gain through its teaching, healing and purity and peace. The Christian Science textbook, through informing and guiding the truth seeker, disposes thoroughly of a cold storage Bible, by throwing the door wide open and exposing its treasures to all who desire them.

Credible Witnesses.

Many professional men and women of to-day are testifying to the truth of these statements. They are teachers, professors, authors, actors, medical doctors, clergymen, and lawyers, most of whom were members of orthodox churches and students of the Bible, yet could not see through it, the way to peace, until Christian Science came to their aid. One does not find these people flippant critics of the church to which they formerly belonged. They are tenderly grateful for many blessings in the past, nor do they forget the dear ones with whom "they walked in the house of God as friends." Unto them a light has shined from the Bible as it never shined before. These men and women are among you. They are sensible people, credible witnesses to the supreme value of the Christian Science textbook, through the spiritual study of which healing is wrought and the "peace of God, which passeth all understanding" is realized.

Christian Science Healing.

What is Christian Science healing? It is the overcoming of disease by the same method which Jesus employed, that is, by understanding and utilizing the infinite power of God who, according to the psalmist, healeth all our iniquities. The results in Christian Science healing differ from those brought about by other methods in that they are moral as well as physical, and are far more complete, satisfactory, and enduring. Jesus never employed nor recommended the use of matter in any form to cure disease. It is not easy to see how a physician can be a follower of Jesus and yet in his profession adopt a remedy exactly the opposite of that which Jesus, by his acts, authorized. This is no insidious argument of the medical profession. This is not an assertion that medical doctors cannot be Christians. It does not impugn their sincerity and noble purpose. It simply asserts what they themselves sometimes vehemently declare, that they do not follow Jesus' method of healing. Christian Scientists while by the fact written in the Bible that "the effectual, fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." In one of her books (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 98) Mrs. Eddy says of Christian Science healing: "It is not one mind acting upon another mind; it is not the transference of human images of thought to other minds. . . . It is not of the flesh, but of the spirit, one mortal thought transmitted to another's thought from the human mind that holds within itself all evil." "It is Christ come to destroy the power of the flesh; it is Truth over error." This definition of Christian Science healing is a partial exposition of Jesus' words: "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." If one desires a fuller explanation he must study Christian Science, and learn how evil is explained and overcome metaphysically.

The Time of Healing.

When may mortal man be freed from torturing woes? When may erroneous thought be corrected and physical healing come? When can he begin to awaken to that true likeness which brings satisfaction? In other words, when can he begin to see the vision of Christ Jesus—perfect God and perfect man? Only as Christian Science awakens understanding and reveals Spirit can the answer to these questions be realized. Jesus gave this comforting advice: "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you." And he gave this comforting promise: "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled." We gather from these statements that man's profoundest prayer is an honest, sincere desire for health and peace. The man may not know it, but such a desire means he wants to know good, that is, God, here and now. When sin and sickness are tired of themselves, when trust in material pleasure is seen to be the betrayal of one's highest good; when human pride and self-will are humbled, then one may know that the ground of the heart is being prepared for the good seed. These are some of the signs which indicate that man is preparing an "upper room" for the Master's coming. So he not discouraged; God has no favorites; opportunity to know God is never lost. "Awaken thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light." The time for healing is now; and the opportunity is for all who seek it.

The Handicap.

Sooner or later mortal man is forced to the conclusion that he has no health, that is, no healing power in himself, and by the same token he knows that no other mortal can heal him. He finds himself suffering from a handicap, which must be removed by some outside power before he can take any step into freedom. As a team of horses, on a rough road, unable to start the load without help, is able after the start is made to draw even a heavier load, so man, under the sore burden of sickness and sin, must have help before he can start. It is not required that a sufferer must believe in nor understand Christian Science before something can be done for him. I love Christian Science because it first loved me; because while I was as yet ignorant of God as boundless love, Christian Science stretched out, as it were, a helping hand. The Scriptures state this truth of the removal of the handicap very beautifully: "We love him, because he first loved us." Divine Love always takes the initiative. This thought gives us courage; but to be fully benefited we must turn fully to divine Love. "It is God which worketh in you both to will and to do." It is God who removes the handicap and enables us to start. Wherefore, "Arise, let us go hence."

Workers With God.

When by means of Christian Science treatment the individual is conscious of coming freedom, he must himself begin and continue mental activity; he must be a worker together with God. Christian Science healing puts one in the ranks of the first-born; a great blessing has brought with it a great responsibility. Freely he has received, and no great progress toward final peace is possible unless one's gratitude manifests itself in sincere endeavor to live the truth he has seen. Christian Science does not relieve one from the stern necessity of observing exactly the Ten Commandments, and conforming one's life to the precepts of the Sermon on the Mount. The Christian Scientist must grow in grace, and this growth comes through the channels of mental activity supplied by the Bible, the Christian Science textbook, Mrs. Eddy's other writings, the Christian Science periodicals and the opportunities for work in the Mother Church and in branch churches.

Safe Under His Feathers.

Consciously working with God, one need never be afraid. The Christian Scientist does not claim that he is immune from all sin and sickness; he still wrestles with error, but "not as one that beateth the air." What he claims is that whereas he used to struggle in the dark, he now works in the dawn. He has aspired to freedom and has attained such a measure of it, and he sees some of the truth about God with such absolute clearness, that many of his troubles are gone forever, and he rests in calm conviction that victory over all discord is reachable. He does not demand that the seed he planted yesterday shall be in full blossom to-day. He knows that if he attends to his part the process of spiritual unfoldment will bring to him increased good day by day. A man awakening to the truth of Christian Science is somewhat like a sailor cast upon an angry ocean with fog so heavy he can see but a few feet away in reaching out his hand he lays hold of a rope, which must be firmly fastened somewhere, for it keeps him from sinking. The waters are still surging around him, and the fog is so dense that he can discern but five feet of the rope. He does not cast it away because he cannot yet see the remaining ninety-five feet. He knows that the portion of the rope which is hidden from view is as real as the part which is already in his hand. The Christian Scientist knows that when failure stared at him on every hand, and all other so-called remedies brought no relief, Christian Science saved him. He has learned the universal applicability and absolute reliability of spiritual truth. Divine Love offers no variety of remedies. The same principle which heals a headache also purifies the leper and raises the dead. Through understanding of this Principle the Christian Scientist helps to realize to-day the vision of Christ Jesus in destroying sickness and sin. He begins to see with some clearness that because God is good and has all power, therefore evil has no power, that sin, sickness, and death have only a pretense of power which is accorded to them by the spiritually uneducated state, the frightened human mind. He learns that this human mind, with its fears and fear-full imaginations, passes to nothingness as the Mind which was in Christ Jesus gains the ascendancy. He knows that each step toward health and peace taken by one man or by the race, has to start in the individual consciousness, and that madness, whether the madness of a selfish man in this audience or the world's madness of a world's wicked war, must give place to Him of whom it is written: "He must reign, till he hath put all his enemies under his feet" (Revised Version).

We shall be safe under his feather—the warmth and gentleness and protection of divine Love will save with an everlasting salvation. Therefore he who has learned even a little of Christian Science is able to look with a measure of confident calmness not only upon the disease of the individual who ask healing for himself, but also upon the unutterable woes of a world war. He knows that Jesus wept at Lazarus' tomb, not because he had any doubt as to Lazarus' safety, but because of the perverted thought of those who stood around. Christian Science teaches us to have pitiful patience and loving compassion for all who are suffering, either through ignorance or sin. It calls to-day to all who are imprisoned by material thought: "Come forth!" And they are coming out of great tribulations, in numbers, into the land of Christian Science, wherein and whereby are appearing those works of healing and regeneration which constitute the realization again on earth of the vision of Christ Jesus. Friends: I want you all to be comforted with the same comfort wherewith I myself have been comforted. To that end and with no desire but loving-kindness, I ask you to "think on these things."

THE A B C OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

By DR. FRANK CRANE.

1. What is the League of Nations?
A. A union of the strongest civilized nations formed at the conclusion of the great war.
2. What is its object?
A. First, to promote the Peace of the World by agreeing not to resort to war. Second, to deal openly with each other, not by secret treaties. Third, to improve international law. Fourth, to co-operate in all matters of common concern.
3. Does it presume to end war?
A. No more than any government can end crime. It claims to reduce the liability of war.
4. What will be done to any nation that makes war?
A. It will be boycotted and otherwise penalized.
5. How else will the probability of war be lessened?
A. By voluntary, mutual and proportionate disarmament; by exchanging military information, by providing for arbitration, by protecting each nation's territorial integrity and by educating public opinion to see the folly of war.
6. What else does the League propose to do for mankind?
A. (1) Secure fair treatment for labor.
(2) suppress the White Slave Traffic, the sale of dangerous Drugs, and the traffic in War Munitions.
(3) control and prevent Diseases.
(4) promote the work of the Red Cross, and
(5) establish International Bureaus for other Causes that concern the human race.
7. Who are to be Charter Members of the League?
A. The United States of America, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, British Empire, Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India, China, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Ecuador, France, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, Poland, Portugal, Rumania, Serbia, Siam, Uruguay and the following states which are invited to accede to the covenant: Argentina, Republic, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Netherlands, Norway, Paraguay, Persia, Salvador, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela.
8. What other nations may join?
A. Any self-governing State which will agree to the rules of the League, provided the League accepts it.
9. What Agencies will the League have?
A. (1) An Assembly, composed of representatives of all the member Nations.
(2) A Council of Nine.
(3) A Secretary-General.
(4) A Mandatary Commission, to look after colonies, etc.
(5) A Permanent Commission, for

10. What is a Mandatary?
A. Some one nation designated by the League to attend to the welfare of "backward-peoples residing in colonies of the Central Empire, or in territories taken from them." This is to be a "sacred trust," and in selecting a mandatary the wishes of the people of the area in question shall be the principal consideration.
11. Does the League mean a Super-nation?
A. No. It interferes in no way with any Nation's Sovereignty, except to limit its power to attack other nations.
12. Can any Nation withdraw when it wishes?
A. Yes. The League is Advisory and Co-operative, not coercive.
13. Does the League put Peace above Justice and National Honor?
A. No. It puts Reason before Violence.
14. Does not the League take away the Constitutional right of Congress to declare war?
A. No. The League can advise war; Congress alone can declare war.
15. Does it destroy the Monroe Doctrine?
A. Exactly the contrary. For the first time in history the other nations recognize the Monroe Doctrine; and extend it to all the world.
16. Does it not interfere with Treaty Making Powers of the United States?
A. No. It is a Treaty. We can make any Treaty we please.
17. Would we have had the Great War if we had had this League?
A. No. That War cost the world over 7,000,000 lives and 208,000,000,000 dollars.
18. Of what importance is the League?
A. It is the greatest deed of mankind in the history of the world.
19. Has not anyone a right to object to the League?
A. Yes. This is a free country. Any one has a right to any opinion he chooses.
20. Why is the League so bitterly opposed by a few?
A. Because, unfortunately, any Treaty or League must be made by the President, and a President is chosen by a political party and many members of the opposite party think they must defy whatever he does.

Coffee Instead of Booze.

If the dose of Mr. Manuel Goryzyl is correct coffee will supplant booze and coffee houses will stand where the beer drinks were held forth. Mr. Goryzyl, who by the way is from Porto Rico, bases his predictions upon what already has happened in his own country, which recently went dry. From statistics, he says Porto Ricans are drinking 75 per cent more coffee now than before prohibition went into effect. "There is no demand for the so-called soft drinks," declared Mr. Goryzyl, "and there will be no increased demand for such drinks in your own country. Coffee will become the favorite drink between meals as it is now at meals. Coffee shops will take the place of corner saloons."

This Reason.

"Monday is generally a flae day for motorists."
"Why Monday especially?"
"Because it comes after the Sunday speeding pinches."

A Comparison.

One of the largest squares in London, the open space called Piccadilly, is said to be the same size as the base of the Great Pyramid at Gizeh.

Kindliness Appreciated.

What a comfort a dull but kindly person is, to be sure, at times! A ground glass shade over a gas lamp does not bring more solace to our dazzled eyes than such a one to our minds.—Holmes.

How Many Times Have You Said This? Give Me a Quart of Oil

This is a Careless Request That Invites Costly Penalties

You drive up to a garage. The garage man comes out. "Give me a quart of oil," you say. The "quart of oil" is poured into the reservoir. You drive on. You think you have amply protected your engine. But have you?

Consider what is actually going on inside your engine

An automobile engine is made up of many moving parts. If these moving parts are permitted to rub without lubrication, disastrous friction that wears away the rubbing surfaces results. Our Oils are Guaranteed by Us and by the Manufacturer

Suppose there were no more advertisements

Just imagine for a minute that some power could stop all advertising. How would that affect you?

It would cut you off from all direct, commercial news about things that you need and use in your every-day life. Somebody might be selling a new, better, more economical food; or a utensil that would save money and time; or an article that would add greatly to your comfort and well-being; or some better material for making shoes or clothing—but you would never know it.

Merchants and manufacturers would be unable to tell you about new and better things. They would thus find it hard to put these things on the market, and often would not try.

Merchants, unable to tell you what they had to offer you, could not take the risk of buying goods for which they might have no customers.

HUNDREDS HEAR HEWITT TALK

ADDRESS A FEATURE OF SATURDAY'S ENTERTAINMENT.

Opposed to Present Form of Peace League—Hands Administration Service Jolts.

Dr. C. W. Hewitt's address, delivered from the band stand opposite the hotel, was the feature of last Saturday night's entertainment, and those who were able to get within hearing distance were more than repaid for the inconvenience of remaining standing during the time of his talk.

Some men say something each and every time they speak, and Dr. Hewitt is decidedly in this class. He is a man of liberal mind and broad understanding, who has had a wide experience in addressing the public, both from the pulpit and from the lecture platform, and who aside from his church work keeps in such close touch with current events that he can deliver an entertaining and educational talk along any line.

On last Saturday evening he talked for 45 minutes, touching during that time on village affairs, affairs of state and on reconstruction work with which the countries of the world are now mainly interested, and to the immense throng of interested listeners, 45 minutes was all too short a time.

It is safe to say that at least 95 per cent of the people who heard Dr. Hewitt's talk of last Saturday evening would travel miles to listen to this able man were he to again favor the people with a public address, no matter what his subject.

Following are just a few extracts taken from Dr. Hewitt's address of last Saturday evening:

"This great American republic is today facing the greatest crisis in all its history, and it is because we need new laws? No. It is because we have a set of spineless, slimy men in office who haven't the backbone or courage to enforce the laws upon our statute books.

"The Bolshevik movement is sweeping over this land and carrying with it, want, starvation, rioting and blood shed and why? Because we are drifting away from the religion of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. I tell you, sir, when you forsake the principles of righteousness purchased by the life-blood of our forefathers upon which this great American republic rests, you have kicked the props from underneath the sacred principles of Abraham Lincoln.

"It was a great thing for our brave boys a few miles out from Paris, when they were outnumbered two to one, to courageously face the most barbaric, inhuman and greatest military geniuses that the world has ever known, and when in the face of death, after they were told by the officers in charge that they must retreat and to that order they gave this answer: 'No, we come to fight!' I tell you sir they cut through those lines like a hot knife through butter, and had our boys been left alone for six months longer, they would have whipped the tur out of every Hun on the European soil and placed Old Glory on the flag staff of the imperial palace, and I am not so sure but that would have been the thing to have done.

"But there is a greater task for you and I to perform, and that is

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Get less meat if kidneys feel like lead or Bladder bothers you—Meat forms uric acid

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the lungs, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithium, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless, inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Weyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Weyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

that we throw every ounce of our strength and influence on the side of righteousness, and by our every act maintain the principles of democracy for which our noble boys made the supreme sacrifice that a government by the people and for the people shall not perish from this earth.

"I do not know what you think about it, but I believe there is only one place for the Kaiser, and that is in Hell, and if he has any sympathizers in this great American republic, they ought to be sent back there and go to Hell with him.

"You ask me if I believe in a league of nations? Yes, I do, but I am unalterably opposed to the present embodiment of a league of nations. I am opposed to it because it leaves out the most sacred principles upon which our government rests. It destroys the Monroe doctrine and on this point I challenge any man to take the platform with me and prove to the contrary.

"I wish to call your attention to the fact, sir, that at the time our president sat at the so-called peace table in Europe, the blood of our brave American soldiers was dripping the Russian soil. There was rioting and bloodshed throughout Germany, and murder and rioting in Turkey, and at this very hour thousands of poor women and children are being persecuted and slain by the blood-thirsty Turks. God knows that this, the greatest peace loving nation on all the face of the earth, wants peace, but with it we want honor that will maintain the dignity and righteousness for which Old Glory stands. I don't know what you think about it, but I would like to see once more the grand old principles of Abraham Lincoln in this land of ours. I think that when one of our American aviators wishes to fly over foreign soil he can do so safely, for no one will dare trample upon the folds of the Stars and Stripes.

"I want to see once more in America a government by the people, and for the people, and a class of men in office who have the courage to say, and back by their acts, that a government by the people and for the people shall not perish from the United States."

Mrs. Walter Taylor and Mrs. George Trimble entertained Friday evening August 22, at the home of Mrs. Trimble, with a birthday and farewell party for A. D. Matchett, who left Saturday morning for Miami, Florida; also in honor of Mrs. Taylor's and Mr. Matchett's birthday. Three sisters and four brothers and their families were the guests.

A social evening was spent, the guests departing at a late hour wishing both parties more happy birthdays.

LEGAL NOTICES

Notice to Light and Water Users

The ordinances of the city make it my duty to enforce the collection of delinquent light and water accounts. If accounts are not paid before the 28th of each month, the user is subject to discontinuance of service. I believe that all users are acquainted with this rule. I am instructed by the common council to observe and strictly enforce it. It has been the practice to call delinquents and notify them of the expiration of this time limit. This has proved expensive and impracticable and the council has ordered it discontinued. This notice is to appraise all users of the change so that they may govern themselves accordingly. The rule will be observed impartially.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Harriet Gensman, widow of Edward Gensman, to W. S. Davis, which mortgage dated November 18, 1910, and recorded in Register of Deeds office, Charlevoix county, Mich., in Liber 49 of mortgages, on page 60, and was assigned December 24, 1910, by W. S. Davis to John H. Dietz, assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 34 of mortgages, at page 523, and was, later assigned by said John H. Dietz to the trustees of Aerie Number 583, of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, of Boyne City, Mich., assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 34 of mortgages, at page 536, and was again assigned by C. C. Burnett, John H. Parker and Sabie Hooper, trustees of Aerie No. 1583, Fraternal Order of Eagles, of Boyne City, Mich., to Chester A. Harner of Marion, Mich., assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 53 of mortgages, at page 413, on which mortgage there is due at the date of this notice for principal and interest three hundred fifty-two and twenty-six one hundredths dollars ($352.26), and in addition there to the sum of two hundred ninety-eight and sixty-six one hundredths dollars ($298.66) for taxes paid by said mortgagee, for which a lien is provided for in said mortgage, and an attorney fee of $15.00 provided for in said mortgage, and default having also been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Harriet Gensman to Chester A. Harner, which mortgage dated September 11, 1911, and is recorded in the register of deeds office for Charlevoix county, Mich., in Liber 18 of mortgages at page 127, on which mortgage there is due at the date of this notice for principal and interest ninety-six and fifty-one hundredths dollars ($96.51), and an attorney fee of $15.00, provided for in said mortgage, both of said above described mortgages are now owned

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here to brag, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning insides bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headaches, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphates in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphates on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphates is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the insides organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skin, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of insides-bathing before breakfast.

Give Me a Friendly, Natural Hand-shake

an' a friendly natural tobacco. Keep yo' put-on airs an' 'sauced-up' tobaccos for the fellow that likes nut sundaes better than home made pie—

So says a friend of ours named Velvet Joe. And he just about hits the nail on the head.

Velvet is made for men who think there's no smoke like real tobacco. If you are that sort of man, listen:

Velvet was born in old Kentucky, where more than one good thing comes from. It was raised as carefully as any other Kentucky thoroughbred. But the real secret of Velvet's friendly qualities is its slow natural ageing in wooden hogsheads. Ageing in the wood never hurt anything—and least of all, tobacco.

And so we say, Velvet is good tobacco—nothing more or less. It runs second to none.

The picture of the pipe on the tin needn't keep you from rolling a jim-dandy cigarette with Velvet.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster were home last week from Pellston, where Mr. Foster is working this summer.

Miss Mae Skow expects to leave this week for Mt. Pleasant, where she will teach in the city schools the coming year.

Wm. Drenth purchased a new silo filler last week from W. A. Boss and expects to fill silos in this vicinity in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Davis, recently married at Central Lake, spent Friday of last week at the home of the former's grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Williams.

William Cole has been busy with a gang of men cutting the brush and clearing up around the old Sleeper mill yard on the land he recently purchased from Mrs. Campbell.

John Bos has handed in his resignation as manager of the Farmers' Marketing Association and Julius Elzinga has been appointed as the new manager. He expects to take up his duties some time this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Horrengé entertained Mrs. Paul DeLong and the Misses Mary and Nina DeLong of Muskegon, and Miss Minnie Milkamp of Reeman, several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Norris of Detroit, who have been spending the past few days at the Art Palmer home here, have returned to Detroit.

Mr. Norris is manager of the Detroit Credit Clearing house.

Many of the farmers of this vicinity have commenced cutting corn. They are starting this work at least three weeks earlier than in former years and the prospects are good for a good yield of excellent corn.

Mrs. Donald Patterson left on Tuesday of this week for Ontario, California, where she will visit at the home of her brothers, Fred, John and Wallace Fallas. She expects to be gone about six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bachmeister and little nephew will leave some time this week for Chicago, their winter home. Mr. Bachmeister will return in a few days, however, and occupy their summer cottage until cold weather.

Highway Commissioner Bradford has been at work the past week surveying the road between Ellsworth and the county line east of town towards the St. Clair swamp. Charlevoix county has surveyed west from East Jordan to the county line, and it is hoped both parties will get busy next year and make a passable road between the two towns.

Irving Hemstreet of Bellaire, who has had his well-driving machine in this section for the past two months, has moved to the Vernon Vance home in Echo township, and will go from there back to Bellaire.

E. R. Harris, manager of the local opera house, announces a first-class road show which will hold the boards at the Blue Hall on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week.

Everett Glass and Miss Ada Cooper were united in marriage on Wednesday evening of last week and will make their future home on the Alfred Mobio farm, about two miles west of Ellsworth, on the Atwood road. The ceremony which was performed by Rev. Beute of the Christian Reformed church, took place at the Blue Hall, Ellsworth, before about one hundred and fifty guests, and was followed by a wedding supper and reception at the same place.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cooper, and is well and favorably known in this vicinity, where she has lived since childhood. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Glass, farmers living about four miles northwest of Ellsworth, and is also a favorite among the younger people. He recently returned from Russia, where he went as a member of the 339th Inf. The happy couple have been busy since the wedding receiving the congratulations of their many friends.

HAD "INDIAN SIGN" ON CENTRAL LAKE

Ball Game at Eastport a Walkaway for Ellsworth.

Quite a number of Ellsworthites spent last Wednesday at the Gleaner picnic at Eastport and apparently enjoyed themselves to the limit. Good speakers were on the job and the music furnished by the Central Lake band was a pleasing part of the days events.

The main feature, however, was the ball game, which was between the two old rivals, Ellsworth and Central Lake, the former winning in a walk by an 8-1 score. Willis and Powers did the battery work for the winners against Lamb and Wilson for Central Lake, and the former literally had the "Indian sign" on the Central Lake boys, striking out sixteen men and allowing only four hits. He also received gilt-edge support, while the support of the opposing pitcher was ragged in spots.

The same aggregation which won at Eastport will meet some fast team at the picnic and home coming carnival, held at Ellsworth September 5th, and any one interested in the great American game will do well to give themselves a holiday on that date.

ANTRIM CITY.

Some storm Wednesday night. Jack Smith bought a cow at the auction sale Friday.

Mrs. Ayott and her sister visited at the home of their uncle, J. J. Smith, last Friday.

Most of the folks are ready for threshers, but we understand they have gone north again.

Mrs. McDowell and three younger children spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her parents south of Central Lake.

Mr. Baumbach balled about thirty-five ton of hay at his home Tuesday and Wednesday he went over toward Ellsworth to bale.

All those from around here who attended the Gleaners' picnic seemed to have a good time except Mr. Glealy. He said he didn't have a good time—"poor fellow."

Mrs. Frank Mason was driving the horses up from the pasture Thursday evening, when one of them kicked her in the face. She is able to be around but has on ugly cut near her mouth.

MILES DISTRICT.

John Murphy of Kansas, called at the Miles home last Friday afternoon.

Clarence and Esther LaLonde went to East Jordan, Sunday, to see the hall game.

Gus LaLonde of East Jordan is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allie Carr.

Ira E. LaLonde, who has just returned from overseas, was a guest of his cousin, Mrs. A. Miles a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miles and daughter, Meredith, of Vermontville, Mich., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carr.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Carr went to East Jordan Sunday, Allie catching for the East Jordan ball team against the Traverse City team.

BASKET PICNIC AND HOMECOMING

ELLSWORTH EXPECTS TO ENTERTAIN LARGE CROWD.

Attorney Clayton Bailey of Bellaire, Speaker of Day—Ball Games and Athletic Sports.

Friday, September 5th, 1919, has been the day set for the basket picnic and home-coming carnival, which will be held at Campbell's Park, Ellsworth, and prospects are that Ellsworth will on that day entertain the largest one-day crowd in the history of the village.

M. R. Nelson, G. C. Townsend and Arthur Gidley are the committee in charge of affairs, and it goes without saying that with these live wires at the helm, the day will be a hummer from soup to dessert.

There will be sports for young and old and cash prizes aggregating more than one hundred dollars will be hung up. One feature of the day will be the base ball game between "Elzinga's Pets", J. H. Elzinga, manager, and the "Flying Dutchmen" with Ennis Schafer as the guiding star. Both teams are working hard and the game will be for a side bet of five hundred dollars—maybe?

The big issue of the day will be the game between Ellsworth and Central Lake. The latter will be considerably strengthened over their line-up at Eastport, and a game between these two towns is always a fight to a finish. They are also planning on bringing a strong, loyal bunch of rooters and the clash will be worth going miles to see.

Among the field sports will be a tug of war, greased pig, hundred yard dash for boys under 20 years, fifty yard dash men over twenty years, barrel race, fifty yard dash girls under eighteen, married lady's nail driving contest, fat han's race, girl's three-legged race, banana eating contest and several other contests not yet listed.

Attorney Clayton Bailey of Bellaire, will be the principal speaker of the day, and those who have heard Mr. Bailey will be more than anxious to hear him again, while those who have never been fortunate enough to hear him will anxiously await the opportunity to do so.

The sports will start at 9:30 a. m., so come early and see the whole thing. Remember the date, September 5th, 1919, and the place, Campbell's park, Ellsworth, Mich.

BUILD NEW ROAD TO WAREHOUSE

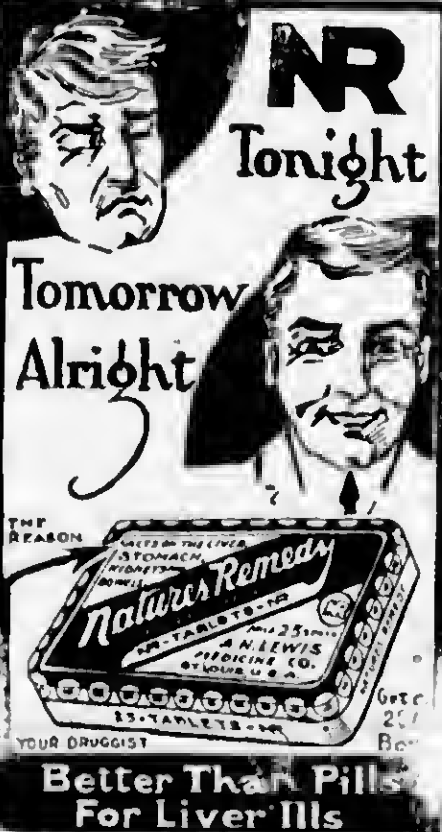

Manager Nelson Has Work Now Under Construction.

M. R. Nelson, manager of the Ellsworth Produce Co., has been making several decided improvements in the roads leading to the warehouse during the past week or ten days, improvements which will be greatly appreciated by the farmers who haul in their produce.

He has been using several men and two teams and has cut the high bank of earth back of the warehouse away and made a fill towards the P. M. tracks, which will enable teams to come in either direction.

He is also installing another set of scales near the tracks north from the coal sheds, which will enable teams to weigh in and weigh out, with the trouble of driving back and thus blocking other loads done away with.

A.E. MASON

The Golden Barrier

By A. W. PEACH

From his window overlooking the village square, Attorney John Stephens had seen the springs or 40 years work their magic spell on the gray grass left after the receding snows. He was the only lawyer in the town, and the secrets hidden under his white hair were the secrets of generations. He knew the sorrows and lives of his people, and their interests were his.

So, when he saw a dapper, stylish, polished man coming up the street from the station, he became suspicious, knowing the type that sprang trouble wherever they go. He saw the man was coming to the office.

He did enter, greet the lawyer cordially and skillfully state his mission. He wished to engage Stephens to act as the local attorney for his firm at a salary that made the old attorney start.

"Just what do you want in return for that salary?" Stephens asked.

With assurance the other explained, and Stephens, old in the ways of men, read the purpose.

"Mr. Amiens," the old lawyer said quietly, "I have read that in your city there is a firm that offered to sell post-holes, and the proposition you have is worse than that. You should be jailed for representing it. My advice to you is to go on—leave the people here alone. You will bring nothing but regret."

The other smiled. "Sorry, but I can't accept your invitation. I have other business here. In fact, I was asked to come."

Stephens watched the well-dressed figure cross the street and enter a store over which was the sign, "William Joslyn." With a grunt of disgust the lawyer leaned back.

Stood in Thought.

"So Will is after another scheme to get rich fast," he said to himself, and lapsed into musing.

The romance of the village was centered in William Joslyn and Emma Adams. Emma had inherited the wealth of her father and lived in the old mansion on the hill. William had loved her, and still did; and she loved him—of that the old attorney was certain.

The one thing that stood between Will and her was her money. Whether she knew that or not, Stephen did not know. He listened over the matter, had chatted with William, but that firm, quiet, old-fashioned and not individual could not see how he could live upon his wife's money and keep his own respect—and he had little money of his own.

Now, so the lawyer mused, he was probably going into a get-rich-quick scheme to get the money he wanted in order to have the right to speak to Emma.

"It's a queer world and there are a lot of queer people in it," Stephens said as he rose from his chair.

That evening he met the calm-faced, patient Joslyn and warned him against investing in the Starr investment company. Joslyn thanked him for his advice, and then went on to say that he had invested in it—all he had.

"You stand to lose every cent of it," the lawyer said.

"I stand to win, too. I am tired of waiting for my ship. I am going out to meet it," was the quiet answer.

"Tired of waiting," the lawyer said to himself as he went to his office for his evening smoke. "He'll have a longer wait still."

Three months went by, and then came the shock. He discovered that there was a rumor around the village that Emma had invested all her fortune in the Starr company. The old lawyer, getting the rumor straight, immediately set out for the Adams home.

Like some picture of other days came to life she came to meet him, as simple, honest and beautiful as one of her roses.

He asked her anxiously about the situation—whether it was true that she had invested in the firm. She nodded. Stephens looked at her in despair and wrath. "Miss Adams, your father and his father trusted me. Why did you not come to me for advice? That firm is a gang of crooks operating within the law and just a statute or two out of jail. You will lose every cent—and I know it."

She was smiling into her lawyer's eyes, and she said simply, "I am not worrying."

He stared at her, wondering, but when he was on the way home he guessed the reason behind her indifference.

"If all wild dreams of foolish hearts be true," she wants to lose the money so that dump of a fortune Joslyn will ask her to marry him; and that fool to get rich, so he can, has invested in the same crazy scheme—good heavens! the angry lawyer muttered to himself.

Once more in his office, he shammed down his hat and stood in thought—to be aroused by his telephone. He answered it and heard Miss Emma's sweet voice say, an odd note of pleasure in it, "Dear old friend, I just got my mail; and they write me that for several reasons the investment failed and my money is gone."

He dropped the receiver with a groan. "And you want me to get the word to Joslyn! Never, I'll get the money back!"

To plan was to act; and the evening train carried the old lawyer to the city miles away. The next morning he was but on the trail of the Starr investment company.

He found them, and grimly held on until he was ushered into the splendid private office of Amiens, who greeted him with the same smooth manner as months ago in the office in the village. Swiftly the old attorney told his errand and his purpose—to save for Miss Emma Adams the fortune her father had won by hard toil; and as quietly as ever the lawyer spoke the promoter explained why the money could not be reached.

Stephen rose, his white hair ruffled, his eyes aflame, knowing himself defeated. "You and your kind shirked by the law though you are, should be hanged! You—"

"Wait," said the other. "We have some sentiment at, at least, I was in love once myself. Besides, our husband is a big one."

The lawyer stood, puzzled by the words, and watching the white fingers searching through some papers.

"What we have done, my dear sir, is so to arrange matters that, in a word, the money Miss Emma invested with us is credited to the account of Mr. Joslyn, and here is the certified check we are sending Mr. Joslyn. You see, there was a bit of romance in my own life, and I heard the story of Emma and Will while in your pleasant village, and after verifying facts, I thought we might do this. I imagine when the facts come out, there will be a marriage in your town. William's investment succeeded, Emma's failed. You get the idea? And now, would you care to act for us in your village?"

ing, inscrutable face. "Act for you? Never! But I'll take your case on the last judgment day! Good day!"

HONEST PEOPLE IN MAJORITY

Experiment Made by New York Newspaper Would Seem to Prove Fact Beyond Dispute.

A widely known New York newspaper some time ago had one of its representatives take twelve pocketbooks, each containing a hospital sum of money, some checks that were to all appearances perfectly good, a few papers of legal nature, apparently valuable, and the address of the owner. At different sections of the city, including the Bowery, the East side, the lower West side, business localities, residential sections; all kinds were included—he would slip one of these purses out of his pocket and walk briskly along about his business.

Everywhere he went, someone would either pick the purse-up or call his attention to it, but by perseverance he succeeded in "losing" the entire twelve without being noticed.

During the next week nine of the twelve were mailed to him—contents intact! Yet none of us immediately mistrust a man who kicks about a balance of $4.50.—Farm System.

Heathenism in Lithuania.

It is maintained that in certain parts of Lithuania, in isolated corners and secretly, the old rites of the heathen cult are observed even today. Almost every piece of furniture is beautifully ornate. The wood carving of the peasants is of marvelous delicacy and the gift they have for colors has already been remarked by the whole artistic world. In the long winter months such works are carried out by each member of the family, and reputations spread there as rapidly as elsewhere. The ability and the industry of the Lithuanians is evidenced by the following proverb: "A Lithuanian goes into the forest leading his horse and returns from there with the horse harnessed to a carriage."

Had Long Sitting at Whist.

The curious fascination cards possess for their devotees is illustrated by the following story of Lord Granville, at the time England's ambassador to France: One afternoon, when he was about to return to Paris, he repaired to Graham's to have a farewell game of whist, ordering his carriage to be at the door at 4. When it arrived he was much too deep in the game to be disturbed. At 10 o'clock he sent out word that he was not ready and that the horses had better be changed. Six hours later the same message was sent out, and twice more the waiting horses were changed before he consented to leave the table, after losing £10,000.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS TO MEET SATURDAY

Two Hundred and Fifty From All Over Michigan to Attend.

A meeting of the newly organized Holstein Breeders Association will hold its first meeting in Charlevoix, August 30th.

This organization is composed of stock breeders of Charlevoix, Emmet, Cheboygan, Antrim and Otsego counties, a co-operative body working with the idea of consolidating the northern half of Michigan into a Holstein Breeders' Association. Holstein breeders from all over the state of Michigan will be present and a crowd from two hundred to two hundred and fifty are expected to attend.

Just Once.

Edward had had trouble with the new boy in the neighborhood, and always got the worst of it, having had black eyes at different times. Soon after this the new boy was ill, and the teacher told the pupils of her class to remember the sick boy in their prayers, as it would be long time before he would be strong again. Edward replied that he would, but he was heard to say, "Just let me meet him once before he gets good and strong."

GLEANERS GIVE BASKET PICNIC

In Monroe Creek Grove on Thursday, September 11th.

Thursday, Sept. 11th, the Gleaners are holding a basket picnic and rally that promises to be one of the best gatherings held so far this year.

The picnic will be held in the grove at Monroe Creek, near East Jordan, and is accessible by boat or car. A good time is promised and the day will be spent enjoying such sports as nut or door picnics afford. The speaker of the day will be Hon. Grant H. Slocum of Detroit, founder of the Gleaner order and its supreme secretary for twenty-six years.

An evening session of the lodge will be held at the Armory in East Jordan, where the secret work of the order will be exemplified by finely drilled degree teams from different arbors.

Everybody is invited by the committee to come and have a good time and everyone is advised to bring well filled lunch baskets.

CADDIES GIVE TO PUBLIC LIBRARY

Donate $50.00 for the Purchase of Children's Books.

For the past season or two the boys employed at the Charlevoix Golf Club have been making donations to various public organizations of the city. Last year they gave to the Red Cross and this year they have made a fifty dollar donation to the Charlevoix Public Library.

The money given to the library is to be used to purchase the type of books that will interest young children. The check has been received by the library and the books will be selected from the American Library Association book list.

The boys should be congratulated for their good work and encouraged in every possible manner. A list of all books will be published with review of each copy.

BIG ATTRACTIONS AT THE FAIR

NUMEROUS IMPROVEMENTS MADE THIS YEAR.

Larger and Different Type of Amusements Offered—New Buildings—Modern Schools.

The 36th Annual Charlevoix County Fair will be staged at East Jordan, September 16th to 19th. Each year the fair management endeavors to improve upon the preceding fair and there is no doubt but that the 1919 fair will eclipse all former fairs.

For some time past the fair association has realized that its entrance was entirely inadequate, and this was brought home to them so strongly in 1918, when there was a line of cars extending from the fair grounds clear to Main street, waiting their turn to get into the grounds, that it has decided to remedy this condition at once. At the present time the new entrance is under construction and it is so arranged that there will be separate entrances and exits for autos and foot passengers, a place for the jitneys to unload their passengers without interfering with autos desiring to enter the grounds, a new ticket office and a safety zone in front of it. The ticket office will be larger than the old one, permitting of a faster handling of the crowds, and there will also be at least two other ticket offices placed down town and along the road to the fair grounds. This will be much appreciated by the patrons of the fair, who will this year have no difficulty in getting into the grounds.

An addition to the Educational building is also under construction, which will more than double the capacity of the present building. This addition will provide room for an audience of at least five hundred people; will permit placing of exhibits from city schools together in the old part of the building and leaving the new part for the country schools. The south wing of the building will be a model Standard school and should create a great deal of interest in this type of school house throughout the county, and will undoubtedly be an incentive to many school districts to replace their inadequate school buildings with a model standard school. It is expected that the citizens of the county will donate liberally toward this addition, as the school exhibit for many years has been a great incentive to better school work in the county. The school exhibit this year will surpass by far any school exhibit of former years, and in addition to the work exhibited, there will be a contest in oral arithmetic between the winners of the township contests held last winter, to determine the county champion, in this form of school work. There will also be contests between declamation and four-minute oration contestants, to determine the county champion in these divisions. Miss Stewart has secured speakers of national reputation on educational subjects.

Another new building on the fair grounds will be that of the Loeb Farms, which they are putting up for the purpose of exhibiting the best of their registered cattle, horses and swine. This will be a building 34x60 feet, with feeding trough in the middle and a walk around the outside. The exhibit which the Loeb farm will put in it will be well worth going miles to see. Mr. Loeb offered to put up this building to help make the fair attractive and of educational value and his action is very much appreciated by the fair management and the people of Charlevoix county.

The association is also constructing a new judges' stand for the judges of the horse racing; has worked on the race track all summer so that it will be in first class condition for fast and exciting races.

The Collins Amusement company of Grand Rapids, are under contract to furnish a merry-go-round and Ferris wheel, and will bring with them at least twenty concessions which with the unprecedented demand for concession lots will insure a first-class midway. In addition to the usual concessions there will be at least a half a dozen side shows and one big tent show. The big tent show requires a one hundred foot frontage on the midway for their tent and will be a regular circus. The Fair Association is spending more money for free attraction this year than ever before, and have secured entirely different attractions from anything which has been offered to the patrons of the fair.

Carlisle's Frontier Wild West Shows have a program of six different acts which they put on between the races and in the evenings. Ewing's Zouave Band of Champaign, Illinois, has been secured by the association at great expense to furnish the music for the fair. This is a chautauqua band, the members of which have played together for the last five years and their repertoire consists of both classical music and the latest popular band music. This band has been the principal feature of many chautauquas and has played in the larger towns of every state of the union. It is handsomely uniformed and will in every respect delight lovers of good band music. It is such a treat as it is seldom the privilege of the people of northern Michigan to enjoy.

Mr. Wiig, the County Agent, is looking after the interests of the farmers of the county and is securing competent, expert outside judges for the judging exhibits. He also has charge of securing speakers on agricultural subjects and the association assures the farmers that they will hear experts on agricultural subjects at the fair. Every indication is that all departments will be (Continued on page six)

ANOTHER WRECK ON THE P. M.

PASSENGER TRAIN LEAVES
TRACK AT BELLAIRE.

Baggageman's Collar Bone Broken and Expressman is Injured About Knees.

Two Grand Rapids men were injured at 3:30 Saturday afternoon, when southbound passenger train No. 8, on the Pere Marquette railroad was partially derailed one and one-half miles south of Bellaire.

The injured men are: William H. Chondler, baggageman, residing at the Y. M. C. A., Grand Rapids, collar bone broken.

S. S. Watkins, express messenger, 218 Franklin St., S. E., Grand Rapids, slightly injured about the knees.

Cause of the accident, which resulted in the derailment of the tender, mail car and combination baggage and smoking car, is unknown. Ties for a considerable distance at the rear of the wreck were badly pounded and broken.

The front end of the baggage car was buried four feet in the ground. Rails were derailed and cars piled up. The debris was strewn all about the wreck. The small number injured and the little damage done was due to lucky circumstances. Ordinarily under the same conditions a very serious wreck would have resulted.

BIG RAID MADE AT MACKINAC ISLAND

State and Mackinac Officials Pinch Island Gambling Resorts.

Arrests of five men as the result of state raid on the gambling room in the Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island were made last Wednesday, August 28, by Lieut. Fiske, who was authorized to take such steps by Attorney General Groesbeck.

The men arrested are Fred Tully of French Licks, Ind., alleged keeper of the room in which the gambling was being conducted at the time of the raid; W. W. Dale of West Baden, Ind., reported to be assistant to Tully; E. C. Wood of Detroit, alleged assistant; J. W. Goodmore of Denver, Colo., and Logan Ballard, owner of the Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island.

Their arraignment in court probably will take place today. It is understood from the office of the prosecuting attorney that all five men will plead guilty when they appear in circuit court in September. Tully is charged with keeper of the room and Ballard with knowingly permitting gambling on his property. The other three are charged with aiding and abetting the games. The hardest blow to the quintet will be the confiscation of the $30,000 worth of gaming apparatus seized by state troops.

Charlevoix Couple Married.
Miss Eva Barber and Mr. Harlan McGhan of Charlevoix, were married at the Baptist church, Saturday, August 30, by the Rev. Charles A. Rice.

HOLSTEIN ASS'N IS ORGANIZED

BRING MEN TOGETHER AT SATURDAY MEETING.

Frank Lesher of Mancelona, Elected President and Wm. Hurd Vice President.

Holstein enthusiasm ran high at the Loeb Farm last Saturday, when 250 fanciers of the black and white cattle gathered there for their first annual meeting.

The breeders and their families began gathering early and by noon the barns and grounds were thronged with visitors from six counties of Northern Michigan.

The forenoon was spent in inspecting the horse and cow barns, looking over the cows on test, herd sires and the Belgian horses.

At noon a basket dinner was held in a grove near the buildings. The management at the farm furnished the coffee, sugar and milk. It had been planned to have outside speakers from the Holstein Breeders' Association of America, but due to the circumstances over which no one had control, it was impossible to obtain them.

It was the general idea that an organization of Holstein men of Northern Michigan should be perfected. Mr. Sloan, manager of the Loeb Farms, called the meeting to order. K. K. Vining, county agent of Emmet county, was elected chairman. A nominating committee was appointed. This committee nominated the following officers and those present approved the same:

President, Frank H. Lesher, Mancelona.
Secretary, Wm. Hurd, Harbor Springs.
Treasurer, A. A. Lash, Traverse City.

Vice presidents from the following counties were elected:
Antrim, R. E. Morrow.
Grand Traverse, G. B. Pinks.
Leelanau, Stephen Lautner.
Emmet, Paul P. Schnelle.

Charlevoix, Robert F. Sloan.
Cheboygan, Samuel McMonagle.

Several short talks were given by those present, after which the crowd returned to the dairy barns to see the herd, which had been brought up. The milking machines excited a lot of interest.

At 3:15 the party was taken for a drive to the Loeb home, which overlooks Pine Lake, and the people were very much interested and pleased with the inspection of the place.

The first annual meeting of this association has proved successful and it is planned to enlarge this organization and continue these meetings each year, endeavoring to increase and better the breeding of Holstein cattle in the territory.

TURNED BACK BY BAD STORM

Fishing Party on Puritania Report
a Good Time.

Logan Thompson of the Belvedere, and a fishing party started for Batchawan Bay over a week ago on a fishing trip aboard the yacht Puritania, with Roy Ranger in charge. They discovered, however, after they had reached "Point-in-the-Pines, that due to the recent storms they could not comfortably go further, so the trip into Lake Superior had to be called off.

Turning back the party cruised along the Canadian shore by the way of Detour, fishing as they went. They covered the territory around the mouth of Georgian Bay and through the Cheneaux Islands and Mackinac Island and from there home.

The party reported a very enjoyable trip, not only from the cruising standpoint, but also from that of fishing, as several fine catches were made during the trip.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Harold Van Kirk from Hudson, Michigan, will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church next Sunday morning and evening. He will also preach at Ironton at 3:00 p. m. Sunday.

A regular prayer meeting will be held at the church Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m.

FINE SCHOOL YEAR PROMISED

VALUABLE ADDITIONS MADE TO PRESENT FACULTY

Efforts of Board of Education in Securing Efficient Teachers Insure Progress.

The following list of instructors who will compose the faculty of the Charlevoix Public Schools for the coming year promises to be one of the best body of teachers that has been obtained in a number of years.

H. A. Craig, Superintendent.
High School Faculty
G. E. Loomis, Principal.
Dottie D. Sickles, Science.
Ruth Hooper, Languages.
Irene North, English.
Dora Steveson, Domestic Science.
Robina Bemont, History and Art.
Anns Lombard, Commercial.

Junior High School.
Lela Genett, Mathematics and Geography.
Elizabeth Irish, English and History.

Central Building Faculty.
Lacie Ainslee, Chart.
Genevieve Jarvis, 1st Grade.
Audrey Guscett, 3rd Grade.
Laelie McDonald, 4th Grade.
Theresa Bettiga, 5th Grade.
Aurelia Verduin, 6th Grade.

Lincoln School Faculty.
Dorothy Zylstra, 2nd and 3rd grades.
Lillian McNeill, chart and 1st grades.

Washington School Faculty.
Katherine Forman, Chart, 1st and 2nd Grades.
Sophia Manson, 3rd, 4th, and 5th Grades.

Charlevoix County Normal Faculty.
Helena Bates, Principal.
Ethelyn Morrison, Critic.
Muriel Waterhouse, Supervisor of Music and Drawing.

The Charlevoix Public Schools have been very fortunate under the prevailing conditions to secure the services of so efficient a body of instructors before the shortage became serious. At the present time teachers are very scarce and those that are obtainable are able to demand an enormous salary under present day conditions. These instructors that have been obtained come very highly recommended from those with whom they have been previously connected. The Charlevoix public is acquainted with the members of the faculty that have been here before and they need no introduction or statements as to their ability as it has already been proven.

Mr. G. Loomis, who has been connected with Charlevoix High School for some time will fill the position of Principal for the coming term. Last season Mr. Loomis was in charge of the school athletics and under his direction this branch of the school work prove very successful. There is no doubt but that he will continue to deliver the same brand of efficiency the coming year.

Miss Dottie D. Sickles, who will have charge of the Science department is a graduate of Albion College, and comes highly recommended by the faculty at that school, also by the High School in Petoskey, where she has taught in the past. The high standard of the science department that has been maintained in the past is expected to continue under her direction.

Another change will be Miss Irene North, who will have the English. Miss North is a graduate of Olivet College and from the recommendations received should promote this branch to the very highest standard. The Junior High School has had the addition of Miss Elizabeth Irish, a graduate of Ypsilanti, who has taught very successfully so far. She will supervise the English and History departments of the Junior High branch.

It is the desire of the school to develop the departments of music and drawing to a higher standard this year. For the past two or three years, while this department of school work has been carried on, it has not been as highly advanced as the school board wished. They have endeavored to re-establish this branch of education by securing a supervisor of real ability. Miss Muriel Waterhouse will have charge of this work for the coming season. She is a graduate of North-western University of Music and Arts and has also had normal school training in the North-western Institute of Normal Methods. Her recommendations are the very highest and they state that she is an accomplished pianist and has a beautiful soprano voice.

The Charlevoix County Normal will be under the same supervisors as last year, and their ability is well established and recognized by the people of Charlevoix. Miss Helena Bates will be principal of this department, with Miss Ethelyn Morrison as critic. From present indication the county normal will be larger this year than ever before, due to the fact that the wage of the rural teacher is now advancing so rapidly that teaching has much more attraction for the young people.

The summer work on the school buildings has been completed and everything will be ready for the opening of the school season September 15. Superintendent Craig expects from present indications to have one of the most successful school terms of recent years.

High School Enrollment.
Enrollment for high school pupils will be held in the Charlevoix High School assembly room Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 10, 11 and 12. The Board of Education wishes to announce that starting September 15, all pupils will be expected to start on time and no extra work will be allowed to be made up without special permission from the superintendent.

BIG CELEBRATION AT BOYNE CITY

LABOR DAY EVENT WAS A HUGE SUCCESS.

Big Parade, Auto Racing, Ball Game and Other Amusements Feature the Day.

The Home Coming and Labor Day celebration at Boyne City was a big success and was attended by one of the largest crowds gathered in Boyne City for years. People attending the festival state that it was one of the finest ever staged in this part of the country and every one present were entirely satisfied with the days program.

The big parade which started promptly at 11:00 a. m. was made up into eight divisions and was a sight worth going miles to see. Among the different divisions were the returned soldiers and sailors, the Boyne City Marine Band, the various lodge organizations of the city, the village cut-ups and floats displaying the advertisements of the different stores of Boyne City.

The automobile floats were beautifully decorated and caused a great deal of comment, as did the attractions secured by the entertainment committee to amuse the crowd that had gathered. One of the most exciting events of the day was the ball game between Boyne City and Atlanta, in which Atlanta proved superior. This game was featured by a pitchers' duel, but bad luck in the first inning was the undoing of the Boyne City team and the final count was 5 to 1 in favor of the visitors.

The program of the day was closed in the evening by auto racing on the main street and a band concert in the park at night. The many people who were fortunate enough to enjoy this celebration were very well pleased and regretted the coming of darkness, which brought the day to a close.

CHARLEVOIX BOY UNITED IN MARRIAGE

R. S. Bowdish of City and Miss Anna
E. Denny of New Orleans.

On Monday, September 1, Roy S. Bowdish of this city and Miss Anna E. Denny of New Orleans, Louisiana, were united in marriage by the Rev. Henry Candler at the Methodist parsonage, the ring service being used. They were attended by Miss Beulah Bowdish, sister of the groom, and Mr. John Beattie.

After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. M. S. Bowdish.

Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known, the groom having always lived in and near Charlevoix, while the bride has made many friends during the three summers she has spent in this city.

The happy pair left on the afternoon train for Grand Rapids and other southern points. Their friends extend their heartiest congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy married life.

NEW SALES ROOM FOR THE CITY

BENJ. BROWN TO ERECT NEW AUTO BUILDING.

New Property to Be Used to Display
Overland, Oakland and Chevrolet.

It is a pleasure to announce still greater advancement of one of Charlevoix's most modern and progressive business men, Benj. Brown.

Starting with comparatively a small repair shop and harness store some nine years ago, Mr. Brown through hard work and progressive ness has brought the Brown Garage up to such a standard that it is recognized all over the state of Michigan as one of the most modern and best equipped garages in this section of the country.

In the past the location occupied by Mr. Brown has been next to the Masonic building, where he has erected a building of which Charlevoix is justly proud. Here in addition to his repair work and auto supplies, he has handled the Overland car, the Oakland and accessories to the many others. His work with these cars has been a tremendous success and few garages in this state can boast of a bigger sales record than can be produced by the Brown garage.

The last move made by Mr. Brown in enlarging the automobile field in this vicinity is the purchase of the Ferguson corner, at Bridge and Mason streets, from Fred H. Thomas. This was brought about by the increase of business calling for more ground space and by the excellent location furnished by this property. The corner is 88x50 feet and faces on both Bridge and Mason streets, being one of the very best locations in Charlevoix.

Mr. Brown proposes to erect a large two story building on the site, to be used exclusively for a sales room in which to display and demonstrate the various makes of automobiles that he is handling. This will be something new for Charlevoix, as we have never yet had a real, up-to-date sales room with all its equipment, and it surely will cause a stir in garage circles and bring many new prospective car buyers to this city.

Mr. Brown has also made arrangements with the manufacturers of the Chevrolet car to handle their goods in this section in the future. There is now on display at the garage a Chevrolet Baby Grand and a Sedan is expected this week. The public is invited to stop and inspect this latest addition, as well as the other makes carried.

Mr. Brown certainly has the good wishes of this community and without doubt will carry out this new enterprise successfully. He should be congratulated for his progressive-ness and display of ability to not only give Charlevoix publicity, but also aiding in raising the commercial standards of the city.

CENTRAL LAKE MAN IS DEAD

Neck Broken in Auto Accident Near Saginaw.

The report has been received here that George Fisk, a well known Central Lake hardware merchant, was killed in an automobile accident near Merrill, Saginaw county, Monday, September 1st.

The cause of the accident is unknown to date, but the report states that the car turned turtle, breaking the neck of the driver. Mr. Fisk had been on a visit with his wife and child to Flint, and was on the way home when the accident occurred. His wife and child had been left in Flint, thus escaping the tragedy.

FINE CRUISE THROUGH STRAITS

Yacht Enchantress Reports Unexcelled Fishing.

The yacht Enchantress, under the command of Franklin Sears, made a fishing cruise last week through the straits with a party of summer people from the north side.

The party left here Tuesday, September 19, and returned Friday, the 20th. They cruised through the Cheneau Islands and the other various islands in the straits and also touched Detour. A very good time and plenty of fine fishing was reported by all making the trip.

Miss Lucile Lewis returned to Detroit after spending the summer at home. She will attend the Detroit Business University this year.

Malcolm Lewis left on Sunday night for Detroit to visit his grandmother there and will go to Cleveland later.

Stanley and Douglas Clark returned to Grand Rapids this week, having spent the summer with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark.

Mrs. James Slater and son and daughter, who have been visiting Mrs. Peter Block, returned to their home in Chicago the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Reed and children returned to Detroit the first of the week, after spending the summer with Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark.

The ladies' aid society will meet next Wednesday with Mrs. A. B. Clark. Every member is urged to be present, as it is election of officers and there is other important business to transact.

Miss Charlotte Williams entertained a party of girls at an afternoon tea in honor of Miss June Lewis on Friday afternoon. Those present were Misses Emma Bystra, Lucile Hoyt, Etta Dougherty, June Lewis and Dorothy Gornell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Shapton, Mrs. George Sands and Miss Isabelle Smith started Sunday on a motor-trip to Flint and Detroit. They will attend the state fair at Detroit, besides visiting friends and relatives in both places, and expect to be gone about two weeks. Miss Isabelle will remain in Detroit for the winter.

Quite a party of young people visited Mackinac Island last Thursday. Included in the crowd were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Reed, Orville Beattie and children, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Shapton, the Misses Lucile Lewis and Hazel Beattie and John Beattie. Needless to state that all enjoyed the excursion.

HAYES.

Bert Wightman's daughter in law returned to her home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Novak returned to their home in Chicago last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Booth and children were callers Monday afternoon at the home of C. Pant.

Mr. and Mrs. Jericho, Mrs. Pant and children spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wightman.

Mrs. Bert Wightman surprised Mrs. Novak last Sunday, when she called her to dinner. She saw the table adorned with flowers and a cake covered with thirty candles, all shining with fire. She also received some beautiful gifts.

The people at large think the farmer is getting rich. We wish we could give the correct number of bushels to the acre of grain that was being threshed. Wheat and oats are a very poor crop. Forced to pay three dollars and a half for seed wheat last spring and now getting less than two, and with the high prices for every commodity we have to pay, makes the farmers rich (?). You who think the farmer is getting rich, come out and try. There are plenty of chances this fall to commence, so do not be bashful in making your wants known.

CLARION.

Miss Marie Older was at Chulevoix on Friday.

Mrs. J. E. Weaver spent Friday in Petoskey.

Henry Cooper of East Jordan was in town on Friday.

Leo Holmberg clerked in the store owned by Lynn Clark during the absence of G. E. Brown.

Miss Agnes Johnson, who has been in Marquette for several months, returned home last week.

Mrs. James Niles of Petoskey visited for a few days last week at the home of her brother, L. H. Herrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jackman and family of Marquette, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson.

A reception was held at the K. O. T. M. hall on Monday evening in honor of Sgt. Orlando C. Johnson, who recently returned from Germany, where he had seen several months service with the 1st Division.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

E. Sherwood Martin, manufacturer of Williams famous ice cream, has recently completed the installation of one of Voigt Brothers six-top ice machine.

This machine, which is operated by the ammonia process, is used in the freezing of the cream. Because of the shortage of ice this season it was necessary to install the plant at once in order to finish the summer's business of the factory.

This addition makes Mr. Martin's factory one of the most complete ice cream factories in Northern Michigan.—Potoskey News.

Boyer City's young railroad strike which tied up train service in and out of Boyne Falls ended Saturday morning, August 23rd after a meeting between a committee representing the men and the heads of the B. C. G. A., railroad company. It is reported the men accepted the agreement reached at this meeting which included a raise in pay.

Boyer City was without railroad service one day and passengers and mail as well as moved in and out by motor trucks.—Boyer Citizen.

S. J. Sitter, who was lost in the woods and hills of the country between Pellston and Alanson, is now safely back at the home of his son, D. R. F. Sitter, on West Mitchell street, Potoskey, tired from much tramping but evidently none the worse for his experiences.

The man walked for a considerable distance through the woods and slashings before finally reaching Pellston. Large parties of searchers combed the hills and valleys of that region all day Thursday of last week.

They located a number of farms where it was believed the man had visited, but he had passed on and trace of him was lost again.

Mr. Sitter is from Detroit and unused to the woods and slashings, became confused at dusk and wandered away from the others who were in the woods after blackberries.—Potoskey News.

C. R. & I. northland limited train known as No. 19 in railroad circles, struck a large touring car at the crossing at Houseman, near Fife Lake, probably fatally injuring F. S. Monroe of Chicago and painfully injuring I. Wepman of Grand Rapids.

Dr. Espay of Zexia, Ohio, a passenger on the train, treated the men and Mr. Wepman was left at Kalkaska. His injuries are confined to a broken arm and a cut head.

Mr. Monroe was brought to Potoskey hospital. Just how badly he is hurt cannot be determined for a while, but it is said he is in bad shape.—Potoskey News.

Morris Rolfo of Boyne City, was badly injured August 27, when a bursting pulley in the Michigan Tanning & Extraet company tannery at Boyne City struck him on the forehead.

The man's skull was crushed and it is reported at Potoskey hospital where he was taken for treatment that his chances for recovery are slight.

Rolfo was a soldier in the American army during the war and only lately was discharged.

The richest haul ever made by a crook in Cheboygan was pulled off at the Michigan Central depot last week, the thief getting away with $860 in currency which he abstracted from the money drawer in the coach which has been used since last winter as a passenger depot.

The robbery took place while the southbound passenger train was standing at the depot when both night operators, Carl Coolbaugh and of the train. The job was done in about five minutes, as they were not absent from the improvised depot any longer than the time mentioned.

The money taken belonged to the Michigan Central and Pullman companies. Had the thief not been pressed for time he could have found $75 of D. and M. money in another drawer. Before starting the job he took precaution to pull down the shades in the car.

Since the depot was burned last winter it was without a safe until a day or two ago, when one was provided for the money, but the ticket men were unable to use it as no combination had been furnished.

Howard Southerland, who lives in Cheboygan, has later confessed that he was the man who planned the robbery. He declares he explained his plan to Frank Hatch and that the two men decided to do the job together and divide the plunder. Southerland says Hatch actually took the money. He gives as his reason for the robbery that he was in debt and hoped to relieve the stress in that way.

William Sly, a resident of Cheboygan for twenty years, was found dead Thursday of last week by his son, Daniel Sly, with whom he made his home. Death was caused from a wound from a 32-calibre rifle. Coroner Tweedale of Cheboygan, has expressed the belief that the man accidentally discharged the rifle while cleaning it.

Property loss of $172,858 was caused by forest fires in Michigan between June 2 and August 14, which burned over 17,864 acres of land in 33 counties and cost the state $20,334 to extinguish, according to the report of W. J. Pearson, chief fire warden, as submitted to the public domain commission last week.

Of all the fires, 126 were from unknown causes; railroads caused 86; incendiaries 26; clearing 73; smoking 47; campers 65; and other causes 86.

"Residents of the fire zones do not seem to think they have a loss," writes Mr. Pearson, "if they save their towns, especially in the upper peninsula."

All but about one-twentieth of the fire-fighting is done by farmers and lumbermen, says Pearson, who points out that the lumbermen saves his wood products, mostly decked logs or wood, and the farmer his buildings, leaving the second growth fires to be fought by such help as can be obtained.

"It is too bad," comments Mr. Pearson, "that this condition prevails and that we have to lose so much second growth."

Michigan state police, who were sent to aid in forest fire fighting, did impress upon residents that they should be careful. Mr. Pearson writes, "but they are not fitted for fire fighting as they cannot carry a shovel or axe."

Wm. Pabo, an Indian, who got drunk on niter, chokeberry wine and denatured alcohol and threatened to burn up a wood camp east of town, was arrested and fined $20 or thirty days in jail. He went to jail at Bellaire.—Manelona Herald. Well, this is a new deception, but from the account given by the Herald, it appears to produce the desired "kick."—Elk Rapids Progress.

Many Extra Miles

We can show you—and prove to you—that there is a genuine money saving in the use of United States Tires.

The extra miles they give mean just so many extra dollars counted in real money.

And there are further actual economies in the saving of gas, oil, repairs and depreciation.

The reason of all this is in the tires themselves—their liveliness, ruggedness and sturdiness.

There are five United States Tires—a type for every make of car.

No More Worries Over Excessive Coal Bills

It is not generally known that even the small coal consumer can have his coal shipped direct from the mines, thus saving the profits that otherwise would go to wholesaler and retail dealer, besides saving hauling expense. Of course, big manufacturers and other large consumers have always bought this way, but the man who buys only enough for his household is now in position to take advantage of the same purchasing privileges. The well-known BERNICE COAL CO., 146 Como Building, Chicago, is doing an enormous business in supplying small consumers—as well as the big ones—with all grades of hard and soft coal at mine prices.

That these customers are highly pleased is evidenced by the letters they write after receiving and trying their coal. The following are extracts from several such letters: "Have found your coal entirely satisfactory and your dealings courteous and fair. I shall continue to buy my coal from you."—Ed. G. Gereka, Burlington, Ia. "More than pleased with it. Please quote me prices on same coal for December."—Arthur Churchman, Alexandria, Ind. "Well pleased with it. Expect to buy more from you."—Fritz Bros, Fompeil, Mich. "Coal arrived on time; has given entire satisfaction; am exceedingly well pleased. Wish to thank you for your courteous treatment in our dealings."—M. B. Ford, Franklin, Ky.

PRISON BARS FOR PROFITEERS.

The Chicago Herald and Examiner in a recent editorial, gives the profiteers a good lambasting, declaring that prison bars, and not fines, will put fear into the hearts of the scoundrels responsible for the non-stop flight of prices for the necessities of life. "Throw the profiteers in jail," is says, and then goes on:

"Fines don't hinder these rascals. Any practical profiteer can make enough illegitimate profit to pay his fines and keep on profiteering."

"Fines are merely licenses to profiteer. Look at the New York Central. That railroad was continually convicted of rebating, continually fined, and it continued to rebate."

Why? Because it can make enough by breaking the law to pay its fines and leaves a handsome profit besides.

It PAYS the New York Central to break the law. That's why it does it. That's why it will keep on doing it so long as the penalty for breaking the law is only giving A PART of the profit it makes by law-breaking.

But suppose the law had jail teeth in it. That would be different. One Vanderbilt or one Rockefeller put behind the bars in years gone by would have stopped the whole practice.

That you can be sure of.

Only jail penalties count with these money-mad profiteers. Fines don't frighten them. Fines don't deter them. But jail doors and iron bars—those do put fear in their hearts.

They think twice before reaching out their greedy hands for the earnings and savings of the people, if the shadow of the penitentiary falls between them and their prey.

And don't they deserve to go to prison?

The thief who snatches a pocket-book or who steals a pair of shoes or who robs the baker or the butcher of bread or meat goes to jail—and generally deserves to go.

We say this is the right thing, because society must be protected.

Well, then, what do these profiteers do that is any different?

They rob the people's tables; they steal the people's money; they take food and clothing from the people's families; they steal the wages of working men and working women. They are meaner than any highwayman, meaner than any sneak thief—because they have not even the poor courage to risk the resistance of their victims or to chance going to prison.

The courage they have is the courage to steal at long range and when they know that they are perfectly safe.

And they are the most contemptible thieves in the world.

They even rob babies! Why, a yellow dog won't do that.

Talk about jail penalties being "too drastic" for such thieves! That's what some Congressman said the other day—"too drastic," he said.

Too drastic! Why, jail terms are TOO GOOD for such miserable, cowardly, greedy sneak thieves! They ought to spend the rest of their lives breaking stone in the penitentiary quarry.

Attorney General Palmer is absolutely right in this matter. The congress ought to do what he asks. Folks are good and mad about this profiteering. It isn't just a few folks or a majority of folks who are mad. It's everybody. The whole country is indignant.

There will be trouble if the congress does not go after these scoundrels with a real club and hit them a clout or two that will knock them out.

Just taking away a part of these profiteers' stealings in the shape of fine isn't going to satisfy the people. The people will not be satisfied with slapping profiteers on the wrist.

They want the government to hit profiteering on the head—and hit it hard.

It is a proposal that has a bite in it—a proposal that will put the fear of the law into the hearts of these thieves.

Think of men who can actually be so unspeakably mean and contemptible as to coin into illegal profit the patriotism, the sacrifices and the necessities of the very families who have just given their sons to the nation in a war waged to protect the lives and the properties of these very same exploiters and thieves!

Can villainy itself imagine anything baser or more vile than such conduct?

You don't think jail terms are "too drastic" for such thieves, do you, folks? In jails with rock piles, too. Men who refused to do army duty were sent to the penitentiary for long terms—some for life. And what comparison is there between the treason of a poor devil who refused to carry a gun and the treason of the rich scoundrels who rob the wives and widows and mothers and sisters of the men who did carry the guns—yes, and rob the men who carried the guns?

Even the jails would be ashamed of their company.

They ought to be berded on one of the big Alaskan islands, given some tools and fish-hooks and told to rustle a living out of the land and sea or starve.

That's what they have said to millions of better folks—said even to little children—the mean baby-robbers.

BIG WASH—LITTLE HANG-OUT.

"What are you going to do about it," is a question the New York Times (Dem.) should ask itself after publishing an article showing that the Federal Board of Vocational Education with its 1,653 employees has been able to get jobs for only 11 disabled soldiers. The Times attributes these inconsequential results to "red tape." In other words, there is incompetence in the ranks of the higher-ups, who are responsible for the red tape. But the Times continues to toot the Democratic horn.

ANNUAL CADDIE'S TOURNAMENT

To Be Played on Golf Links This Week and Next.

The golf tournament that has been given annually for years for the caddies of the Charlevoix Golf Club, will be held again this year. The qualifying rounds were played Monday and Tuesday and those winning the right to compete will play off their matches the last of this week and the first of next.

The eight highest scores turned in will be arranged in the first flight in four matches. The winner of this flight will receive a ten dollar prize offered by the golf club, and the runner up of this set five dollars.

The next eight high scores will compose of the second flight the same as the first, a four match flight. The winner of these matches will be given a five dollar prize and the runner up three dollars.

Everything that has been possible has been done by the Golf Club officials to make the work and play of the boys working on the links pleasant, and the boys seem to be appreciating the favors and responding to the best of their ability.

One always expects to get full value for money paid. Goodyear tires give this. Benj. Brown.—Adv. 35tf.

full of exhibits and the competition will be very keen. This is especially true of the cattle department, as the raisers of thoroughbred stock in the county have been preparing their best animals for the purpose of exhibiting them at the fair.

Last year the association had the grounds wired for the purpose of holding a night fair as well as a day fair, and this year it is hoped that the weather will be such that the night fair will be well patronized. Each evening there will be a band concert and free acts by Carlisle's Frontier Wild West Shows, dancing and fun on the midway. The price of admission has been changed from 35 cents for adults to 50 cents, and the charge for teams has been removed. Anyone purchasing a ticket for the day fair may, if they remain on the grounds, stay to the night fair without extra charge. Admission for the night fair is 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

Fair week marks the close of summer and the approach of winter and is the one week in the year which everyone in the county looks forward to as the week for renewing old acquaintances, seeing what their neighbors have done in agricultural lines, getting new pointers from others' methods for another year, hearing good music, seeing exciting horse races and circus attractions and generally having a wholesome, good time. It is the week when worries and cares are thrown at the discard and everyone gets out with Hip! Hip! Hurray! for a good time.

HARMFUL GREEN- BOTTLE FLY

Causes Wool Maggot of Sheep and Has Been Known to Deposit Eggs on Calves.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) The green-bottle fly has a wide distribution throughout the world. It is known as the green-bottle or green blowfly in this country. It is rather closely associated with habitations of man and is not as commonly known on the range as are the screw-worm fly and the black blowfly. It is often abundant in cities, especially if garbage is not properly cared for.

This is the fly which causes the wool maggot of sheep in the British Isles.

The Green-Bottle Fly—Enlarged.

and the same habit has been recorded for it in this country. It has been known to deposit eggs on the soiled rumps of calves as well as sheep, following diarrhea, and occasionally it infests wounds on animals.

It is usually slightly smaller than the black blowfly and the screw-worm fly. Its color ranges from a brilliant bluish green to a dark metallic bronze.

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney diseases.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She mixed Sulphur with it to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

green. It has no stripes or other markings.

The adult flies usually appear during the first warm days of spring and are present throughout the summer, though they seldom become as numerous as the screw-worm fly or black blowfly. The length of time required for development is about the same as that required by the black blowfly. The maggots breed exclusively in animal matter.

There are two or more species of flies of this group which occasionally breed in living animals, apparently attacking only old festering wounds. They are of comparatively little importance, and since there are a great number of different kinds of flies of this group some of which are not at all injurious. It is hardly necessary that the stockmen learn to recognize them. Their size varies considerably from a little larger than the common housefly to somewhat larger than the black blowfly. The color is usually uniformly gray, with black stripes on the back.

Many of the members of this group of flies retain the eggs in the abdomen until they hatch, and thus bring forth living maggots. Those species which attack living animals breed in decaying animal matter, and their life history is almost the same as that of the screw-worm fly. The flies seldom become very numerous, and in most of the cases in which they are found in living animals they are located in old festering wounds or the young are deposited after a sore has become infested by screw worms. These flies seem to be able to withstand the hot, dry weather of midsummer in the Southwest and probably are responsible for many of the cases of infestation of animals during such periods.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

A healthy herd of cattle is the farmer's working capital.

There is money in good sheep—and very little in any other breed.

Sheep raising does not require expensive equipment or heavy labor.

Sheep are the sworn enemies of weeds. Do you keep weeds or sheep?

It's a mistake to sell the brood sow just because she happens to be grown up.

The amount of grain to feed hogs on pasture is about 3 per cent of their weight.

Look after the brood sow when she farrows. A little attention will save a few pigs.

Velvet beans and peanut meal are used in cattle-feeding tests at the University of Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Prince and Mr. and Mrs. John Fielstra visited the Dekkenga home Friday.

Mrs. John Powell, who was going to Traverse Saturday, got as far as Bellaire, where the wreck occurred, and had to come back.

While Mr. Baumbach was trying to fix something on his engine, his hand slid and he got his fingers badly cut. He was taken to East Jordan for medical care.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat seems to form gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel: like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headache or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

Velvet Always Hits a 3 Bagger: Sight! Smell!! Taste!!!

THEN it's easy to get to the home-plate, right where you snuggle down in an old coat and slippers to enjoy life.

To begin with, Velvet Tobacco, in its jolly red tin, has a wholesome generous look to it. Nothing namby-pamby about it. A red-blooded tin full of red-blooded tobacco, for red-blooded folks.

Open it up—and you get the fragrance that Nature stored in the tobacco during eight changing seasons, while it mellowed in great wooden hog-heads.

And say! It's great! That good, natural fragrance of Kentucky's wonder tobacco—Burley—King of Pipe-land. No camouflage about it. No dolling up.

Pack a pipeload. Light up and you'll get the fragrance of real tobacco—the incense to solid comfort.

And a mild, pleasant taste, that only our Nature-ageing method can impart. You will never taste a finer cigarette than the one you roll with Velvet.

Fifteen cents a tin—not a cent more.

Batter up!

A friendly pipeful makes even the umpire seem almost human.

ELLSWORTH LOCALS

Mrs. W. A. Boss visited friends and relatives at Petoskey several days last week.

Maurice Henry and family of Atwood, spent Sunday at the W. G. Patterson home.

Mrs. John Ardima was called to Chicago last week by the serious illness of her father.

School started on Tuesday of this week in the Bentley District with Clarence Best of Alden as teacher. Joseph Blazie of Louisville, Ky., arrived on Saturday of last week for a two weeks stay at the New Orient.

Arthur Gidley was busy the first of this week moving into the Harris house recently vacated by Dr. Hewitt. The Citizens' Bank building is receiving a new coat of paint this week, the work being done by Geo. Liberty.

Miss Naomi Carpenter is handling the switch board at the local telephone exchange during the absence of Mrs. Ardima.

Donald Patterson was at Bellaire on Monday of this week, attending the convention of letter carriers from Antrim and surrounding counties.

Don't forget the picnic and homecoming at Ellsworth on Friday of this week. Bring your dinners and come in time to see the start at 9:30 a. m.

The show given at the Blue Store hall on Friday and Saturday evening of last week was fairly well patronized. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond give a good, clean show and deserve a good attendance wherever they appear.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Chamberlain of Hodsenville, and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Plume of Grand Rapids, visited last week at the Peter Wieland home, west of town.

The new warehouse of the Farmers' Marketing Association is progressing rapidly. The brick and tile work is completed, the rafters are up and this week the men are putting on the roof boards.

Word was received from Mrs. Donald Patterson early this week, written from Albuquerque, New Mexico, where all passengers were held by the strike on the western railroads. She was on her way to Ontario, California.

A ball team representing the district near Pleasant Valley, reinforced by two or three members of the Ellsworth team, journeyed to Traverse City on Saturday of last week and crossed bats with the State Hospital team. The visitors lost by a 6-4 score after a game fight.

The north bound passenger train last Saturday, due at Ellsworth at 3:38, was several hours late due to a wreck in which three coaches were derailed. The accident, which was caused by spreading rails, occurred about one and one-half miles south of Bellaire. Only two persons were injured, however, neither seriously. The train due at Ellsworth at 8:30 in the evening came in Sunday at noon.

Dr. C. W. Hewett and family have shipped their household goods to Jackson, Michigan, and left last week in their car on the drive there, where they will make their future home. It was thought for a time that Dr. Hewett would be the next pastor of the M. E. charge here, at Atwood and at Norwood, to succeed Rev. E. F. Vane, who will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday, and it was also the apparent wish of a majority of the Methodist members, but as Dr. Hewett is not a member of the Methodist conference, the district superintendent, Rev. R. E. and will send a different minister to fill Rev. Vane's place.

ANTRIM CITY.

People are still after blackberries. There certainly was a good crop this year.

Oscar Ward and family and Albert Brower and family spent Sunday at the Rolfe Baumbach home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Mason called at the home of Mr. Moore, Sunday, also at the home of Mr. Brant, as Mr. Flanigan is very poorly now.

START EARLY AND MAKE A COMPLETE DAY OF IT

Largest Crowd in History of Village Anticipated—List of Sports and Prizes.

Everything is ready for the biggest picnic and field day of the year, which will be held at Ellsworth, September 5, 1919, and weather permitting, the largest crowd gathered this year in Northern Michigan is expected.

The committee, headed by M. R. Nelson, has been pulling wires for the past two weeks and at this time nothing remains undone which will help to make the affair a huge success.

A large number of entries are already signed up for the different sports and a ruling has been made that all who wish to enter any of the events must register with Mr. Nelson before 12:30 noon on the day of the picnic. This is so each event can be called promptly on time.

There will be something doing every minute of the day from 9:30 a. m. until the finish of the Ellsworth-Central Lake base ball game in the afternoon.

The stores and business places will all close at 11:30 a. m. and will open again at 5:00 p. m. Shoppers please bear this in mind and do your shopping early.

The following is the program. Subscribers would do well to clip this out for reference on September 5th, for although it is the aim of the management to have plenty of programs on the ground, the supply might run short of the demand.

9:30 a. m. Band concert.

10:00 a. m. Ball game, "Elzinga's Pets" vs. "Flying Dutchmen."

12:00 noon. Dinner. Bring baskets.

12:30-1:00. Band concert.

1:00 p. m. Speech.

1:30-2:30 p. m. Sports, including the following:

Girl's 3-legged race: 1st prize, 2 pound box of candy; 2nd prize, 1 pound box candy. Albert Parsons.

Pot Man's Race: 1st prize, Casting reel; 2nd prize, casting rod. W. A. Boss.

Ladies' 50 Yard Race: 1st prize, pair silk hose; 2nd prize, box candy. L. VanSkiver.

Girls Running High Jump (under 16 years): 1st prize, pair $5.00 shoes; 2nd prize, pair silk hose. H. Klooster.

Barrel Race: 1st prize $1.50 jack knife; 2nd prize, $1.00 necktie. D. E. Clow & Co.

Sack Race (boys under 14 years): 1st prize, watch; 2nd prize, flash light. E. R. Harris.

Men's 50 Yard Dash (over 20 years): 1st prize, $3.50 inner tube; 2nd prize, tire gauge. J. H. Elzinga.

Boy's Running High Jump: 1st prize, $3.00 cap; 2nd prize, $1.50 tie. Ellsworth Produce Co.

Best Loaf of Bread made from Gold Seal Flour: 1st prize 50 pound sack flour; 2nd prize, 25 pound sack of flour. Banks Township Marketing Association.

Catching Greased Pig: prize $5.00 pair of shoes. W. Weiss.

Banana Eating Contest: 1st prize $2.50 flash light; 2nd prize, card case. Ellsworth Drug Co.

Prettiest Baby Contest (under 2 years): 1st prize $3.00 savings book; 2nd prize, $2.00 savings book. Citizens' Bank.

Tug of War, captains Albert Elzinga and John Hennip, ten men teams: Prize, box of cigars. A. L. Ely.

3:00 p. m.: Ball game, Central Lake vs. Ellsworth; 1st prize, $25.00; 2nd prize, $15.00.

Judges will be chosen from out of town and all discussion will rest entirely in their hands.

Committee: M. R. Nelson, chairman; Arthur Gidley, and Glenn C. Townsend.

BLOW-OUT FEATURED BY BLOW-OUTS

Enjoyable Evening Spent at Norwood by Charlevoix Young People.

Wednesday evening last was one of intense excitement in the thriving village of Norwood. Roaring automobiles and spluttering Fords dashed madly up and down the streets, confusing the local traffic force and causing the appearance of many a night-capped head from second story windows along the village thoroughfares, seeking the causes of the unusual commotion.

'Twas nothing but a group of the more quiet type of Charlevoix's younger set arriving to enjoy an evening's entertainment at the Ferguson home. And the evening was a most enjoyable one, all credit due the hostess.

A light luncheon introduced the evening program, but it was opened by many who watched a certain long, lean gentleman deposit sandwiches in the various parts of his anatomy, that the lunch was evidently anything but light from his point of view. Dancing followed to the mean, mournful notes of Bill Bellinger's saxophone, aided by others. Who cared if the musician became confused and played two pieces at the same time. 'Twas not even noticed.

At last the party broke up and again the air was filled by the horrible roaring of motors, throwing the

COLDS AFFECT THE KIDNEYS.

Many Charlevoix People Have Found This to Be True.

Are you wretched in bad weather? Does every cold settle on your kidneys? Does your back ache and become weak? Are urinary passages irregular and distressing?

These symptoms are cause to suspect kidney weakness. Weakened kidneys need quick help. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened kidneys. Charlevoix people recommend them.

Mrs. Albert Lemieux, 704 State St. Charlevoix says: "A heavy cold settled on my kidneys, causing me much suffering. My back got so sore I could hardly get around. Spots appeared before my eyes, blurring my sight. I can never forget how badly I felt. I had dizzy spells, also. Mornings I felt more tired than upon retiring. On the advice of a druggist, I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and three boxes removed the trouble."

department of law and justice once more into a high pitch of official excitement. Homeward bound, the habitual knock of the motors joined by the popping of rear tires blowing out and the mild words of disapproval from the drivers chiding their cars for being so thoughtless.

Thus ended a very successful evening featured by many exciting events, the most interesting of which were the blow-outs and the tale of the "disappearing woman."

FORGER ARRESTED IN BOYNE CITY

Sheriff Weaver Makes Trip to Ionia and Flint.

Mrs. Carrie Zabroski of Martin county, Minnesota, formerly Miss Carrie Lant of this city, is now in the county jail awaiting extradition for forgery. While in Minnesota it seems that Mrs. Zabroski forged two checks, one $25.00 and another for $35.00. She came from Minnesota with her husband to visit her sister in Boyne City, and it was at that place that word was received from the Minnesota officials. She was brought here from Boyne City and will be held until the authorities arrive from Minnesota to accompany her back.

Sheriff Weaver made a trip to Ionia, Saturday, having in charge Louis Bancroft, who was sentenced to one to three years for wife desertion. On his return he went to Flint and brought back Archie Gravelin from that place, who is wanted by the county authorities.

ANOTHER CHARLEVOIX COUPLE MARRIED

Wm. J. Higman and Miss Milada Volter Happily Wed.

William J. Higman and Miss Milada Volter were united in marriage at the Congregational parsonage Wednesday evening, August 27, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. C. E. Taggart. The couple were attended by Mrs. Otto Volter of Scranton, Pa., Miss Elizabeth Higman, daughter of the groom, and Merritt Miller of this city.

Both the bride and groom are very well known in Charlevoix and have many here who join the Courier in wishing them a long and happy married life.

Mr. and Mrs. Higman are at home to their many friends at 104 East Upright avenue.

The Courier carries all the news.

BEGINS PRODUCTION OF NEW CAR

OVERLAND 4 IS SOON TO BE ANNOUNCED

New Car, Delayed by the War, Has Been Exhaustively Tested and Perfected Last Two Years

Production of the new light four cylinder car, held up for the last two years because of war conditions, has been begun by the Willys-Overland Company of Toledo and shipments to dealers are being made.

The car is known as Overland 4. Its production, which marks the culmination of one of the most interesting undertakings in the history of the automobile industry, is a tribute to the persistent purpose which has guided President John N. Willys of the Willys-Overland company since he built the first Overland car ten years ago.

Back of the whole production plan has been the equally great development of the Willys-Overland engineering department. Heading the department are men who played a prominent part in the development of Packard, Cadillac, Pierce Arrow and other notable cars. The development of the new car from an engineering standpoint represents a concentration of skill as intensive as the manufacturing skill concentrated in its production. Chief among the many engineering features of distinction in the new car is the new spring suspension which it is said, after two years of exhaustive test, marks a really notable advance in motor car riding qualities.

More than 30,000 employees in the many allied Willys-Overland industrial plants have taken part in the development and production of the new car. Although the announcement of the new model was made more than two years ago by President Willys, the entire interval according to him, has been devoted to perfecting details, improving and refining the car, with a view to bringing every part up to the standard of its riding qualities which are said to be exceptional.

Plans call for an output that will greatly exceed that of any single Overland model yet built. To affect these plans and bring the new car into actual factory production has required the complete re-adjustment of the production program of the Willys allied plants.

The size of this achievement is more readily understood when it is realized that barely eight months ago, the Willys-Overland industry was almost entirely devoted to war production. Following this came the re-adjustment to motor car production which reached 425 cars a day;

then a complete new adjustment has been made to a new car program without holding up the production of current models on order from dealers.

Since the armistice was signed, factory routine and methods have been simplified; specially designed machinery built and installed for making the new car parts. For the insurance of permanently attractive finish, three batteries of electric ovens, each about 150 feet long and 40 feet wide, have been constructed at the factory and through these the all-steel bodies of the new car will pass through a series of enamel coating and bakings under high temperature.

To assure uniformity of steels in the new car, a new system of inspection was installed. Expert metallurgists from the Willys-Overland begin their inspections and tests at the mills and this inspection is constant at every operation until the car leaves the factory. Steel mills, accordingly, have been organized to meet the strict Overland requirements for the special alloys and steels in the new car. Raw material markets have been organized to provide for a steady flow of the required materials.

Allied plants have been at work for months, under pressure, to produce the specially designed lighting system, steering gear, bearings and other parts essential to the new Overland.

But this picture gives only a limited idea of the tremendous concentration of resources which are brought to focus in the first production of the new car. To be fully conceived, these great special preparations must be seen in the perspective of the existing structure of the Willys-Overland organization of which the Toledo plant alone comprises 120 acres of floor space and thirteen miles of private railroad yards with provisions for loading and unloading 1,000 railroad cars a day.

Not alone in material preparations but in the training of men as well, the Willys-Overland organization has made seven league strides in preparing for the new car. A training school of huge proportions has been in operation for months training mechanics. The school follows the plans used by the United States government so successfully in training men intensively during the war. It is headed by the man who directed the training for the Department of Labor during the war. By this plan, hundreds of men while working under good wages are trained to greater perfection, higher skill and better jobs. This in a measure explains the Willys-Overland company's herculean achievement in arriving so soon after the war in production of the new car.

DON'T MISS THE COUNTY FAIR

BIGGEST AND BEST IN FAIR HISTORY

Many Improvements — New Buildings — Unexcelled Exhibits and Races

At the Charlevoix County Fair grounds in East Jordan, gangs of workmen are busily engaged in getting the grounds in first-class condition for the 1919 fair which will be held September 16th to 19th. The addition to the new educational building is progressing rapidly and is nearing completion. The 30 x 60 room in this addition is practically finished and the Standard School is being plastered. This Standard School will be a model for the country schools and will be complete in every way.

The new ticket office and entrance to the fair grounds are being built and also the new judges' stand. A wide center walk is being placed the entire length of the midway. This will do away with the sand of former years and is an improvement which will be greatly appreciated by the patrons of the fair.

The building which the Loeb farm is to build for their exhibit is not as yet started, but Mr. Sloan, manager for the Loeb farm, expects to put a large force of men at work on this building and to erect it in a very short time. This building will be an addition to the County Fair which no other fair in the state will have, and in this building patrons of the

NATIONAL CELEBRATION OF CONSTITUTION DAY

SEPTEMBER 17, 1919

A Proclamation by the Governor

Wednesday, September 17, will mark the anniversary of the adoption of our Federal Constitution and that day will be generally observed throughout the nation as Constitution day.

The Constitution of the United States is the great charter of American liberties. Through conformity to its principles we have enjoyed, as have the people of no other land, the blessings of civil and religious liberty, and in these days of world-wide readjustment it is well that we should take time to study its provisions and consider its effect upon our history and development.

THEREFORE, I, Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby designate Wednesday, September 17, 1919, as Constitution Day.

I particularly urge that the day be fittingly celebrated in all the communities of our State and that local committees be organized for this purpose.

I request that the day be observed also in all the Schools of the State, that the Constitution be read and such other exercises carried out as will impress the minds of the pupils with its tremendous significance and importance.

I request, too, that Sunday, September 14, 1919, be observed as Constitution Sunday in all the churches of Michigan.

Given under my hand at the Capital in Lansing this 3rd day of September, A. D. 1919.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER,
Governor.

MONEY SAVED FOR FARMERS

NEW CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED

Middle-man's Profits Will be Saved and Better Outside Market Obtained

It has been discovered in the past years that a great deal of money and profit that should have gone to the farmers and producers of this section of the country has gone to the outside buyer or middle man, who have been handling the rural products of this district.

Endeavoring to eliminate this the farmers have organized and formed the new Charlevoix Co-operative Association, with the idea of promoting better sales that will insure the local producers fair profits and will do away with the former losses due to middle-men.

This association is composed entirely of farmers and men who are interested in the agricultural advancement of this section. The following officers have been elected to take the leadership in this new venture: President, Emmet Coulter; Secretary, Harry Nichols. In addition to these men there is a board of directors which has been elected, and which will aid in the supervision of the enterprise. Earl Shapton has been engaged as manager and has charge of the company's warehouse. This movement of organizing co-operative associations has been sweeping the United States and has proved very successful in the communities that have adopted the plan.

The Gleaner building, erected a short time ago, has been obtained and is being used as a warehouse and headquarters. An option has been taken on the building and it is expected to become the property of the association in a short time. This building is located just west of the Pere Marquette railroad track opposite the old sugar factory.

The warehouse was opened about the first of August and has been doing a thriving business since then. One of the most modern cream stations obtainable has been installed and the farmer wishing to have his cream weighed, tested and placed on the market at the best possible price need only to bring it to the warehouse. It is the object of the association to aid every one and any amount of produce no matter how small may be brought to them. Large storage bins have been built in the basement of the building and any amount can now be handled. Also an up-to-date sack elevator and grader has been ordered and will be installed on its arrival.

This enterprise is of a new order and one of the most beneficial for the farmer that has yet been brought forth and it deserves the hearty co-operation of all farmers in this district. Manager Shapton extends an invitation to everyone to stop and inspect the warehouse and to discuss the matter of further development of this new work.

Mrs. Alice Peister of the S & H Premium company will be in Mason's grocery department all day Saturday, September 13th, with premiums and will give free stamps in exchange for coupons, soap wrappers, etc.

HUGH PAGEANT FOR COUNTY FAIR

COMPOSED OF PUPILS FROM VARIOUS SCHOOLS

Boysen City, East Jordan, Charlevoix Each Have Own Day — The Attractions

One of the many attractions that will help to make the Charlevoix County Fair one of the most interesting in the history of fairs will be the huge Pageant that will be directed and organized by Charles B. Wagner of Detroit, assisted by Mrs. J. N. Peterson, of Potoskey, and the teachers of the public schools.

Mr. Wagner has successfully conducted like pageants all over the United States and was leader of the great Health parade which took place in Detroit in 1916, proving to be the largest the world has ever known.

This pageant will be given by the pupils of the High Schools of Boysen City, East Jordan and Charlevoix, each town having its day on which to carry out its part of the pageant program. The program itself will review the history of the United States from the time that Columbus first conceived the idea that the world was round, which later led to the discovery of America, up to the present day, giving through drills and like entertainment the progress made by this country during all this time and every interesting and famous event that occurred.

The first part taking the period from the days of Columbus to the election of George Washington as president of the United States will take place Wednesday, September 17th, the second day of the fair. This part of the program will feature the discovery of America, the Revolutionary, signing of the constitution and the Declaration of Independence, the making of the first flag and the election of Washington as the first president of the United States.

Thursday, September 18th, will be Charlevoix day and the history will be resumed from the time of Washington to that of Abraham Lincoln. This part will be demonstrated by the pupils of Charlevoix High school. This section of the pageant will picture the life of the slaves and their emancipation, taking in the events of the Civil War and reconstruction days.

The third part of the program will continue the history from the time of Lincoln to that of Woodrow Wilson and present day happenings. The World's War will of course predominate this section, also touching the ratification of the prohibition bill, the plea for the League of Nations and the ratification of the Peace Treaty.

Due to the fact that school has not yet begun in Charlevoix, the announcement is being made that there will be a meeting of the pupils at the assembly room Friday night, September 12th, for drill and also for the pupils to receive their free tickets to the fair. It will be necessary to have about seventy-five cars to transport the children from here to the fair and return on Charlevoix day. This is one of the largest affairs of this kind that has ever been tried in this county and it is hoped that it will prove to be a success.

The pageant will be accompanied by the Ewing Zouave Band which will furnish the music for the pageant. Appropriate songs and music of the times will follow the pageant throughout and the community singing will be led by the soprano soloist from the Ewing organization. The pageant will begin at 7:30 p. m. on each of the days that it is scheduled.

FAMILY REUNION AT BOGART HOME

Mother, Father, Five Sons and Sixteen Grandchildren

A family reunion consisting of mother and father, five sons, their wives and sixteen grandchildren and other relatives was held last week at the Will and James Bogart homes. The following motored up from Kingsley, arriving Wednesday night at 6 o'clock: Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Bogart, mother and father, their sons, Ray, Amos, Edmond and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Box of Kingsley, and their son and daughter of Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Luck of Kingsley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Box of East Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Uitz of Flint.

The guests remained from Wednesday to Friday, every minute being fully enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. James and Will Bogart proved themselves charming hosts and hostesses, turning their homes over to the entertainment and comfort of their guests. Visiting, talking over old times, music and dancing and various games for the little folks made the few days pass all too quickly. It was a few days spent that will live long in the memory of both old and young.

FIRE DESTROYS BIG INDUSTRY

Confagration Destroys Kalkaska's Handle Plant—City's Best Asset

The Kalkaska Handle company plant at that city was completely wiped out Sunday morning, September 7th, by a fire of unknown origin. The loss has been estimated at $30,000 and is partly covered by insurance. This loss seriously affects the future of Kalkaska as it is doubtful if the plant will be rebuilt. New machinery had just been installed the day before the fire and there was timber enough in sight to insure the run for the next six years.

This is the third of a series of disastrous fires in Western Michigan in the last few days but the idea of fire bugs endeavoring to wipe out important manufacturing plants has so far been scoffed at.

HELP SAVE OUR GAME FISH

PROTECT THOSE GIFTS MADE BY NATURE

Petition Given Unwittingly Allows Fishing in Pine Lake to Be Injured

The intention of this article is to make a direct appeal to farmers of this vicinity, the business men, the citizens of Charlevoix, the sportsmen, in fact everyone who is in any way interested in the growth and advancement of Charlevoix and her future prosperity.

It is a well known fact and widely advertised that one of the biggest drawing cards that Charlevoix now has is her splendid inland lake fishing. It is amazing to find how many people are drawn here in the summer to fish for rainbow and steelheads in Pine Lake alone. Without any question fishing is one of the most prominent features of this resort and one that it could not get along without.

Would it be the wise thing after being so richly gifted by nature with this wonderful attraction, to stand by and watch it taken away without a struggle? You wouldn't do that if anyone was trying to steal your money or property. Then why allow this rare fishing to be taken away which is bringing business and trade to every one in this vicinity? It is a matter to be deeply considered by everyone in Charlevoix, due

HEMINGWAY NURSERY A SUCCESS

INTERESTING FARM ON SHORES OF PINE LAKE

Various Plants Raised Are Now Acclimated to Northern Michigan Soil and Weather

How many times have we discovered, after going to outside concerns to obtain different things, that the identical thing was being produced right at home for less money and of much better quality and much more easily to secure.

Hidden away in the hills of Charlevoix county and until recently unadvertised and almost unknown, is the Hemmingway Nursery, handling one of the finest and best developed lines of shrubbery, decorative flowers and shade trees of any nursery in this section of the United States.

The farm itself lies on the north shore of South Arm, directly across from Ironton, on the long slope leading down to the water. Here in the native soil of this region, sheltered in the winter from the cold north winds by the hills behind and so arranged that full benefit will be received from the warm summer breezes and sunshine, one may find one of the most interesting sights in this portion of the state.

This nursery is owned by Geo. R. Hemmingway, of Chicago, who makes this place his summer home, and is managed by George McMullin, one of the oldest settlers in this part of the country. Mr. McMullin's knowledge of the soil found in this region and the methods to be employed to bring plant life to its highest stage of development, is one of the big reasons that this farm is successful.

When buying trees or shrubs for ornamental purposes, one of the most important points is the future life of the plant. A plant may be perfectly healthy and normal at the time it is taken from the ground and shipped to you, but the nursery where it was raised and cared for may be a thousand miles away from the place where it is going to be planted, and the nature of the soil may be entirely different. One cannot expect a young plant to be taken from rich, well fertilized soil and be placed in widely different ground and thrive. That is why the plants from the Hemmingway Nursery have been a success.

Planted in the native soil of Northern Michigan, these plants have been hardened and are thriving, which insures their successful development when transplanted. There are the very finest specimens of Red Cedar, Lilac, Weeping or Cut Leaf Birch, Concolor Fir, White Spruce, Mountain Ash, Mugho Pine, Colorado Blue Spruce, Irish Juniper, Japanese Quince, Hydrangia, Tulip Trees, Althea (Rose of Sharon), Black Hill Spruce, Green Ash, Norway Spruce, White Pine, Mulberry and Austrian Pine.

Most of these plants were set out three years ago and now are well on the way toward full development. This enterprise should prove of interest to all prospective buyers of shrubbery, and the fact that these plants are acclimated to this section of the country should insure their future development.

VERY INTERESTING WINDOW DISPLAY

Green Trading Stamp Exhibition at Blanchard Hardware

There is now on display at the Blanchard Hardware Co., one of the most interesting window exhibits that has been produced here for some time.

It is composed of the various premiums that are to be awarded by the Sperry-Hutchinson people for Green Trading Stamps. There will be another display of premiums Saturday at A. E. Mason's.

These exhibits are under the supervision of Mrs. Alice Peister, who is with the Green Stamp headquarters at Potoskey and she has had charge of the arrangement of these displays in this city and will also conduct this work at the Green Stamp display booth at the county fair to be held at East Jordan. Photographs are to be taken of the displays and will be sent in to the Sperry-Hutchinson headquarters.

A Baked Goods and Auction Sale will be held at 323 Bridge street on Saturday afternoon and evening. Refreshments will also be served. Benefit St. Mary's church. 37t1

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY FAIR

DAY and NIGHT
East Jordan, Mich.
SEPTEMBER 16-17-18-19

Some of the Features

Eight large buildings filled with exhibits. Demonstrations of latest farm machinery. Best cattle exhibit in Northern Michigan, including exhibit from Loeb Farms of some of the highest priced horses and cattle in the state. Finest exhibit of registered cattle north of Grand Rapids. Finest educational exhibit in new educational building to be seen anywhere outside of State Fair. Speakers of national repute each day of the fair. Celebration of Constitution Day, Wednesday, September 17. Fast and exciting horse races each day. Base ball games on Wednesday and Friday. Free acts each afternoon and evening by Carlisle's Frontier Wild West Shows. Band concerts afternoon and evening by Ewing's Zouave Band of Champaign, Illinois. Big pageant each evening depicting the development of America from its discovery to victory in the Great War. Merry-go-Round, Ferris Wheel, Jumping Horse Carrousel, Side Shows and many other entertaining features on the biggest midway in years. You will miss the best County Fair in Michigan if you do not attend the Charlevoix County Fair.

The Charlevoix County Fair will be held at East Jordan, September 16, 17, 18 and 19. This is one of the oldest fairs in Northern Michigan, having held an annual fair at East Jordan for the past thirty-five years. The fair grounds are large and commodious and well equipped. The plant includes fourteen buildings, a good half mile race track and both buildings and grounds are lighted with electricity. The Fair Association owns forty acres of land, the grounds are well sodded over, there is a nice grove of trees and all conditions are ideal for a first-class fair.

The Charlevoix County Fair has the reputation throughout this section of the country as being one of the best if not the best and this year the management is doing everything in its power to make the 1919 Fair its banner fair. Carlisle's Frontier Wild West Shows have been secured to furnish the free acts. This outfit puts on ten different acts including capturing the horse thief, riding bucking bronchos, the educated horse, fancy riding, etc. The music will be furnished by Ewing's Zouave Band, a handsomely uniformed band of professional musicians which has played together for a number of years and just finished a thirteen weeks chautauqua engagement and is this week furnishing the music for the South Bend, Indiana, fair. This organization had with it Miss Ima Huntley, lyric soprano, and Mr. Turner Nearing, cornet soloist. In fact nearly every member of the organization is a soloist. Their repertoire includes classical and popular music and their concerts will be worth going miles to hear.

The Association is assured of a midway the likes of which they have never had before. The midway will have a merry-go-round, a jumping horse carrousel and a ferris wheel, large and small tent shows, confetti stands, shooting galleries, high-striking machines, nigger baby outfits, novelty stands, ice cream cones, red lemonade, red-hot, in fact something doing for everyone.

The Fair will run day and night and at night in addition to the free attractions, band concerts, midway attractions there will be dancing and other forms of amusement. The grounds are lighted by more than five hundred electric lights and present a very beautiful and fascinating appearance at night.

The Loeb Farms are constructing a 34 by 60 foot building to house their own exhibition and there will be in this building imported Belgian horses, blooded cattle and swine. The patrons of the fair will see in this building some of the highest priced thorough-bred animals in the State of Michigan and animals which can not be beat anywhere. The cattle building will be full of registered stock as will also the sheep, swine and horse buildings.

The educational building has been more than doubled in capacity by an addition built this summer and in this building there will be the finest educational exhibit to be found at any of the county fairs in Michigan, bar none. In addition to the exhibits there will be oral arithmetic contests, declamation and four-minute contests, community singing, addresses by our best educators and many, many other educational and entertaining features. The Fair Association is very proud of its educational building and of its educational exhibit and challenges anyone to find a better one.

In the floral hall there will be on display the most excellent fruit exhibits, a very fine grain and vegetable exhibit as well as fancy work and dairy products. The merchants of the county will also have a fine display in this building, every booth in this building being taken.

Poultry, boy's and girl's club products and all other departments will be full of excellent exhibits. This summer several important changes have been made on the grounds which will make for the comfort and convenience of the patrons of the Fair. The old ticket office has been moved away and a modern ticket office and modern exit and entrance to the grounds have been built. This will do away with the congestion at the gate and with the ticket offices down town will enable the patrons of the fair to get into the grounds without any difficulty. A wide cinder path has been constructed along the midway doing away with the sand of former years. The new addition to the educational building costing $2,000 has been built. The south wing of the addition is a modern Standard school house and the balance is a large hall to be used for speaking, oral contests by the winners of the township contests of last year and for exhibition purposes. The race track has been kept in good condition all summer and a new judges' stand built. As mentioned elsewhere the Loeb Farms are building their own exhibition building which will be a great addition to the grounds.

This is one of the fairs which you should attend this year and if you miss it you will miss a great County Fair.

You should see our elegant line of all Wool Serges, Fancy Worsteds and Cashmeres in all shades and patterns at

RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS

Red Cross seals, the little stamps which are sold each Christmas to aid in the fight against tuberculosis, are to be sold this year to big firms and factories throughout the country attached to envelopes according to the announcement made by the National Tuberculosis Association.

This is a new departure in health education, but through it, all December bills from department stores, factories, mail order houses and other large concerns, together with all of their regular correspondence, will be messages of health to everyone who receives them.

The seal, with a health slogan, will be printed on the back flap of the envelope. Orders for the envelopes are coming in to the headquarters of the health campaign, 124 East 28th street, New York, rapidly and it is evident the plan has met with the enthusiastic approval of all big users of envelopes.

Claus going down a chimney into a home carrying the message "Merry Christmas and a Healthy Happy New Year." The seal itself is printed on the flap of the envelope and above it is the slogan "For the health of this community."

The plan is designed to promote the actual use of the seals. During the past few years, when the seals have been sold, purchasers have not actually used them on envelopes to any great extent. But because health is a matter of such public importance, the National Tuberculosis Association has decided on the new scheme to get wider publicity for stamps.

Seals will be sold, of course, not attached to envelopes. They will be offered in post offices and stores as they always have been but the envelope plan is merely to give a wider circulation of them through the country.

Each envelope printed will have the corner card of the firm using it in the corner, if the firm so desires.

GUARD THE BONDS

If a man who owns liberty bonds desires to let them go in part payment for an automobile, or some other luxury of life, his judgment may be questioned, but he is assured of going value on them, and will get measurable pleasure and satisfaction out of the thing he trades in for.

But if he is persuaded to trade them off for stocks about which he knows very little, he will, in many instances find he has nothing at all in return.

The extensive field of Liberty bond holders is one that is being assiduously cultivated by salesmen for securities at which sophisticated investors, those who are accustomed to putting their money into sound issues and to getting good returns on it, turn up their noses. For the thorough exploitation of these Liberty bond investors shoal of dubious stocks have been put on the market.

If a man who holds Liberty bonds and who knows little about stocks or bonds is solicited by vendors of securities of which he is guiltless of knowledge he should, as a precautionary measure, if he contemplates investment, consult his banker. If he carries no account in a bank, let him consult the nearest banker. He will be given, without charge, full information about the character of the security he is offered, and may be prevented from taking a step he will long regret.

A HAPPY MEDIUM

An observing farmer is responsible for the following: "When you pass a farm and see a large barn and a small house you may know the man is boss; when you see a fine house and a small barn you may understand that the woman has things her own way; and when there is a good barn and a nice house you may take it for granted that the woman and man are equals and work in harmony."

SPEAK OUT.

President Wilson's League of Nations scheme proposes to give Great Britain six votes to our one, and to place the United States on the same voting basis in the league council with Liberia. What do you think about it? Don't tell us—write to your senator and tell him what you think.

MERE INTERRUPTION.

U. S. troops have again returned from Mexico without Villa, and "watchful waiting," like the owl in Gray's elegy, resumes its "ancient solitary reign."

Why does Great Britain have six votes and the United States one in the proposed league of nations, the New York Herald wants to know. That figure represents the relative importance of Great Britain and the United States in the eyes of those chiefly concerned in framing the covenant.

LODGE PICNIC AT HORTON BAY

Oddfellows Give Annual Picnic — Ball Game and Big Feast Enjoyed

Saturday, September 6th, marked the date of the Oddfellow picnic held at Horton Bay, by the members of the Oddfellow lodges from Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City and Horton Bay.

Grand Master, George Harland of Detroit, was the speaker of the day and his address proved of great interest to all present. Alma Critchell, warden of the Rebekah Assembly, of Petoskey, who was present by special invitation, also gave an address. Wm. G. Critchell, Grand Junior Warden of Grand Encampment, Judge Mayne, past Grand Patriarch of the Grand Encampment, and Representative Chew, of East Jordan each gave short, interesting talks.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Eugene Stroud, Charlevoix, President; Richard Lewis, Charlevoix, Treasurer; Newton Jones, East Jordan, Vice President; Malcolm Ellis, Boyne City, Secretary. A special committee was appointed to be known as the executive committee, on motion of the president, one from each lodge appointed to select and to name time and place of the next annual picnic. A ball game and big feast was enjoyed by all and everyone had a good time.

AT THE MOVIES

The A. E. F. ranked Douglas Fairbanks as its favorite actor, according to Homer Croy of the Y. M. C. A. That opinion would doubtless find considerable backing among the folks who stayed at home. "Doug" is one of America's favorites, and everybody from the President down likes his pictures. When the history of the screen in America comes to be written, Fairbanks' name will loom large as one of those whose personality not only helped to bring the motion picture before the public, but one of those who actually changed the type of picture presented to the public. Mr. Fairbanks has brought to the screen the gospel of good cheer, the spirit of "Never-say-die," and the breeziness of his own magnetic individuality. Every one of his pictures is a point against the Demon Grouch, and every one carries a lesson in optimism, none the less potent for its sugar coating. That was the sort of stuff that appealed to the A. E. F., and that is the sort of stuff that appeals to most Americans. Never a Fairbanks picture yet that sent an audience out sad-eyed and sighing. Nobody can go to a Fairbanks film and not be vitalized. Doug's breeziness is infectious. And "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo," whose very name is full of "pep," promises to be one of the fastest bits of Fairbanksianism yet shown. It's a swift story, and Douglas, after spending five months producing it, breaks all records, taking every hill on high. At the New Palace Theatre, Saturday, September 20.

Pershing Home—Made Full General Gen. John J. Pershing, Commander-in-Chief of the American forces during the past war, arrived in the United States on the U. S. S. "Levinthorpe" Monday morning, September 8th. He was greeted in New York by a record breaking crowd and was made full general by Secretary of War Baker as soon as he landed. He and his staff have taken up their headquarters at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York.

W. C. T. U. Meeting

The next regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. John Burns on Clinton street, Friday afternoon, September 12th. Topic for the day, "Health a National Asset."

The dancing masters in convention assembled at New York have decided that "the shimmy must go." Hasn't it gone far enough?

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Less than half the estimated number of automobile drivers have made application to the secretary of state for a driver's license. It was estimated that approximately 800,000 licenses would be issued. Thus far, however, only 400,000 have been sent out by Secretary of State Vaughan.

Police chiefs in various parts of the state have notified Secretary Vaughan that sufficient time has elapsed for every driver to get a license and they propose to begin a systematic campaign to ascertain whether motorists have observed the law. Traffic officers will request motorists to produce their license. The state police, who are scattered at various points throughout the state, may also be used in their work.

Another Northern Michigan newspaper, the Honor Leader, has suspended publication. The high prices of everything entering into the publication of a newspaper and the production of job-printing has taken the profit out of the business. Most papers, especially in the west, have put their subscription at $2.00 a year. With all the advance in price the printer dares to make—an advance that makes it look as if he were profiteering—his percentage of profit is nowhere near what it was a few years ago when dollar papers and cheap job work and low-priced advertising rates were in vogue. The number of papers that have been forced to suspend within the past three years is something surprising, and yet there are more to follow.—Elk Rapids Progress.

A coroner's jury September 3 at Traverse City found that Fletcher Gage, Earl Beeman, Frank Cushman, Earl Eighthy, Guy Scheneman and Frank Davis came to their deaths accidentally by being in a wreck between Pere Marquette passenger train No. 6 and freight train No. 362 near Traverse City Aug. 20, which was caused by the forgetfulness of the entire crew of the freight train. Eighthy, Davis and Scheneman were the freight crew, of which Conductor Frederick Neubecker, of Grand Rapids, was the only member to escape death.

A near-fatal accident occurred at Aiden Sunday afternoon, Aug. 31, when the six-year-old daughter of John Main of Aiden was hit by an automobile. There was a bull game at Aiden that day and both sides of the roadway was lined with people. In picking his way with his car through the crowded thoroughfare, Dan Way saw a little child jump from behind a passing car, directly in front of his own. He instantly put on brakes and reversed his car—so suddenly he backed into a car in the rear—but the fenders of his car struck the child—Little Della Main, own cousin of Dan's and his little chum and pet.—Dr. Miller of Rapid City was summoned and found one hip broken, a slight cut somewhere on the face, but apparently not suffering any other injuries except a few bruises. The child is improving, and what might have been a tragedy was averted by a mere margin.

The dates of the Antrim county fair are Sept. 30 to Oct. 3, and there is every reason to believe that the fair this year will be the best ever held in this county. County Agent Cribba and T. E. Niles are now at the state fairs with an exhibit from this county and with this and other exhibits which will be there this part of the fair will be a success. The other features of the fair will be the horse races and ball games, and a score of other amusements, which have been arranged by the secretary, Geo. F. Frink. The Antrim County Free Fair is something that every person in the county should boost and help to make a success, as it is your fair and is not a Bellaire fair, or a fair for a few chosen ones. The fair is put on each year to give the people of this county and others to show what quality of produce can be grown in the county and to bring people from far and near to see what we can do, in the line of agriculture and stock raising. It is also a medium for people to go and forget their troubles for a while and meet your friends from around the county and have a few days of pleasure mixed with the hard work of the year in an endeavor to make a living for the family. Good weather has been ordered for this year's fair and you are assured of a good time if you attend.

A man who was too economical to subscribe for his home paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by a neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His father ran to his assistance, and failing to notice the barb wire fence, ran into that, cutting a hole in his anatomy and ruining a $5.00 pair of trousers. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing a racket, the wife ran out, upset a four-gallon churn full of cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire bunch. In her haste she dropped a $35 set of false teeth. The baby having been left alone crawled through the spilled milk into the parlor, ruining a brand new $25 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up eleven setting hens and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four shirts on the clothesline.

In response to a large number of queries from trappers as to the opening of the muskrat season, State Game Warden John Baird says the new law provides an open season for muskrats from Dec. 16 to March 31, inclusive, in all counties south of the north line of Arenac, Gladwin, Clare, Osceola, Lake and Mason counties. North of that line the muskrat season opens Oct. 16 and closes April 14.

FIRE BLIGHT FOUND IN STATE ORCHARDS

Pear and Apple Trees Killed in Fruit Belt—Control Methods.

Reports from plant pathologists who have been making investigations in various fruit counties of the state indicate that fire blight, which has been less frequent in the last two years than formerly, is now developing rapidly in pears and to less extent in apples.

"It is possible to check the disease and prevent loss of trees if the blight is cut out at once," says the plant disease men of the college. "The cuts should be rather severe, since the blight germs may have worked their way some distance down the limbs and yet give no signs on the outside. After the cuts are made and the trees are completely freed from the blight infection, the some disinfectant such as 5 per cent carbolic acid or corrosive sublimate, 1 to 1000. Then the trees should be given a second inspection in a week or two to catch any new out-cropping of the disease."

"The disease is sprinkled through nearly all the pear orchards in the southwestern part of the state," said G. H. Coons of M. A. C. "A few minutes work will eliminate the disease from any tree and save it. It will do more if the clean-up is thorough in an orchard and in a neighborhood. In this way the danger from fire-blight can be practically eliminated."

Detailed information on control methods for fire blight may be had by writing to G. H. Coons, Botany Department, East Lansing.

It is a good thing that the boys who fought the Germans at thirty dollars a month did not have leaders who were capable of coming to Washington in an emergency and threatening to paralyze their country and throw it into the throes of bolshevism if they did not get an immediate raise from that meager pay.

If all these wear continue it will be necessary to run League of Nation "standings" just as they do on the baseball page, showing wars won and lost by each member country, with percentages.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach heaves, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent calomel, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissues, also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not irritate the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inoperative and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your bladder troubles you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and cloggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS

Charlevoix Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the itching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages, sediment or retention. Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years. You will make no mistake in following this Charlevoix citizen's advice.

John McCall, 905 Bridge St., says: "My back was so lame I could just about move. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. Dizzy spells bothered me and I would often have to grasp something to keep from falling. I was in awful shape when a friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. I tried them and they completely and permanently cured me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. McCall had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SCHOOLS OBSERVE CONSTITUTION DAY

County Commissioner Stewart Notifies
Teachers of County

Obedient to the call of democracy, and in co-operation with the county committee on arrangements for appropriate celebration of Constitution Day, Miss Stewart has sent the following letter to the rural teachers of Charlevoix county:

Dear Fellow-teachers:
We are asked to observe Sept. 17,
Constitution Day, by appropriate exercises in our schools. You know, no doubt, that this is required by Act 43 of the Laws of 1919, but because our country needs native Americanization, we wish to use all means at our command to develop intelligent citizenship in our schools.
The sentiment which is being created to surround these exercises affords an opportunity which the schools can not afford to lose.

Following is a suggested program which may be given on Sept. 17 or the nearest available date:

Song: Columbia.
Patriotic Reading: One of the rider pupils.

Work of the Constitutional Convention: A seventh or eighth grade student

Song: Mount Vernon Bells.
Explanation of "Government by the People", Teacher.
And what it means to us, Teacher.
Courtesy to the Red, White, and Blue. A returned soldier.
Singing of America.

Helpful printed matter has been ordered and will be placed in your hands at the earliest possible moment. If you wish a speaker for the occasion, you should write or telephone the nearest member of the county committee, Hon. J. M. Harris of Boyne City, Hon. Servetus A.
Correll of Charlevoix, and Mayor D.
L. Wilson of East Jordan.

Let us work together to make this,
the 132nd anniversary of the adoption of our greatest American document, truly commemorative of the birth of democracy.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to keep her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home.
All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, ba-sided beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustrous appearance of abundance which is so attractive.
This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Camel CIGARETTES

If you want to know what rare and unusual enjoyment Camels provide smoke them in comparison with any cigarette in the world at any price!

CAMELS are a cigarette revelation any way you consider them! Take quality, or refreshing flavor and fragrance; or, that wonderful mellow-mild-smoothness you never before got in a cigarette smoke! Yet Camels are so full-bodied and so full-of-satisfaction you marvel that so much delight could be put into a cigarette!

Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos makes them so irresistibly appetizing! And, the blend explains why it is possible for you to smoke
Camels liberally without tiring your taste!
You will prefer Camels to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

You'll realize pretty quick, too, that among the many reasons you smoke Camels is their freedom from any unpleasant ciga-retty aftertaste or unpleasant cigarety odor!

Once you know Camels you won't take much stock in premiums, coupons or gifts! You'll prefer Camel quality!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Smokers realize that the value is in the cigarettes and do not expect premiums or coupons!

Camels are sold everywhere in substantially sealed packages of 20 cigarettes; or in packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton.
We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

There is a world of interest in reading advertisements

Your weekly newspaper is far brighter and more interesting for the advertisements it contains. You get information from them. You learn all about many little things that are of so much personal importance in your life. They keep you posted. They tell you what is new and desirable.

Sometimes they keep you from making an unwise purchase by pointing out just the reasons why one article suits your needs better than another. Reading advertisements helps you to economize. You know that economy is not alone a matter of saving money but of spending money to advantage. Advertising identifies goods of unquestioned value.

When a store or manufacturer puts a name on goods and tells you about them you may be sure they are worth while because it does not pay to advertise merchandise that is not good.

Make a practise of reading advertisements. Read them as news from the business world, published for your benefit. They will help you live better and dress better and make more of your income in every way.

ELLSWORTH DEMONSTRATES ABILITY TO ENTERTAIN

Huge Crowd of Merry Makers Enjoy Program and Ball Game—Winners of Contests

Friday, September 5th, has come and gone and with it has come and gone one of the largest and best satisfied crowds ever gathered in Antrim county, this despite the fact that from ten o'clock a. m. up until sundown it rained at times and threatened rain continuously.

Ellsworth citizens have again demonstrated the fact that when they start a thing they stay until the finish, the finish in this case coming at two-thirty Saturday morning, when the lights at the Blue Hall were extinguished and the dancers started for home.

All events listed on the program were pulled off on time with the exception of the catching of the greased pig. Owing to a misunderstanding the pig did not materialize, but as the time was all taken up during the day none of the spectators could offer a kick.

One disappointment was the failure of the Central Lake base ball team to live up to their agreement to meet the Ellsworth for the afternoon game. Following their agreement to play, the advertising was put out and a large number of people came more to see Central Lake take their third besting of the season at the hands of the Ellsworth boys, than for any other reason.

The two teams clashed at Central Lake on Decoration day, score Ellsworth 7, Central Lake 5. They met again at the Gleaners' picnic at Eastport, August 20. Score Ellsworth 8, Central Lake 1. So there was a good reason for the yellow streak which developed in the Central Lake players. Still everything would have been O. K. had they shown enough sportsmanship to have notified the Ellsworth management a few days before the game, instead of waiting until eleven o'clock on the day of the picnic. They had known for several days prior to September 5th they were not going to play and had so stated to several people, but had neglected to notify the Ellsworth management, probably intending to cause a hitch in the days program.

If this was their object as many believe, they were due for disappointment, as during the short time between noon and 3:00 o'clock p. m. East Jordan picked up a ball team were here to begin play at 3:30, just thirty minutes later than the program called for.

The following is the results of the different events on the day's program:

Ball game: "Pets" 11; "Dutchmen" 3.

Girls 3-legged race: Swarthout sisters 1st, Cornelia Elzinga and Laura Peebles; 2nd. Fat man's race: John Brown 1st, C. Gruley 2nd. Nail driving contest: Mrs. Ardima 1st, Mrs. Speyer 2nd, Young ladies 50 yard race: Emily Weeland 1st, Bessie Prince 2nd.

Girls running high jump: Pearl Johnstone 1st, Margaret Swarthout 2nd.

Barrel race: Alex Sinclair 1st, Elber Joliffe 2nd.

Men's 50 yard dash: Leo Powers 1st, Frank Aikens 2nd.

Men's running high jump: Leo Powers 1st, G. C. Townsend 2nd.

Best bread baked from Gold Seal flour: Mrs. Mandell 1st, Mrs. Peter Weeland 2nd.

Banana eating contest: C. Swarthout 1st, B. Barnes 2nd.

Pretty baby contest: Mr. and Mrs. John Brown's baby 1st, Mr. and Mrs. John Bos's baby 2nd.

Girls under 12 years 50 yard race: Beatrice Weeland 1st, Dee Nelson 2nd.

Tug of war: Team captained by John Hennip won.

Ball game: Ellsworth 9, East Jordan 6.

A novel feature was added to the program at the last minute when Hubert Bearss volunteered to give a five minute exhibition of bag punching. This was new to many spectators and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

The speech by Clayton Bailey was full of pep and although short, was strictly to the point. During the thirty minutes Mr. Bailey held the platform, he demonstrated his ability as a public speaker away above the average.

Taken all in all the picnic was a hummer and while the committee wish to extend their thanks to all who helped make the day a success, especially to the judges, Mr. Deevy of Bellaire, Mr. Usher of Charlevoix, and Mr. Gruber of East Jordan, and to the East Jordan base ball team for their sportsmanship. The citizens are congratulating themselves on their choice of a committee so well able to carry affairs through to the end of a perfect day.

WILDWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wilson were Sunday visitors at the Roy Rushton home.

Mr. and Mrs. Will McLachlin of Kewadin spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mrs. Mary Emery of Yale, Mich., is visiting relatives and friends here for a while.

Little Miss Louise Crawford is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford.

School began Tuesday September 2, with Miss Edith Cady as teacher. We bespeak a successful year for the school.

Miss Bessie Hardy returned on Sunday to her home in Charlevoix, after a two week's visit at the Clarence Fales home.

Miss Kate Wilson and Mrs. Cross accompanied by Miss Isabella Smith of Central Lake, Master Wm. Eaton and his sister, Miss Margaret, of Williamsburg, were callers Sunday on Mr. and Mrs. Brooks at the Wildwood cottage.

Miss Hazel Irey of Central Lake visited friends here on Friday last.

Several from here attended the picnic at Ellsworth Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brooks were in Central Lake last week a couple days.

Miss Kate Wilson and her mother, Mrs. Cross, were over Sunday visitors with relatives here.

Milford McElroy and his sister, Miss Helen, were over Sunday visitors at the E. R. Wilson home.

Mrs. Duncan Crawford is home after several days in East Jordan at her parental home, and while there had extensive dental work done.

Miss Tena Shawley of Duluth, Minn., has been visiting relatives here for several days, going to Charlevoix on Monday.

Mr. Harding of Central Lake drove through here on Tuesday, enroute to points north with an immense load of ripe tomatoes.

Miss Mildred Hammond and a party of friends from Traverse City motored through to the Crawford home on Sunday, returning to their city home the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Brooks and baby daughter, who motored up from Belding last week to visit relatives, were calling on old time friends the first of the week. Mrs. Brooks is a daughter of Mrs. Robert White of Ellsworth and a sister of Mrs. Clarence Fries and Harry Taylor of this neighborhood.

RANNEY SCHOOL NOTES

Archie Olney began his 9th grade work Monday at East Jordan.

School began Tuesday, September 2, with 31 answering roll call.

Our new school books have been ordered and we expect them earlier this year than last.

Some of our new improvements this year consist of a drinking fountain, a pencil sharpener, and a set of new maps.

Our new scholars this year are: Curtis Evans, Robert Evans, Frances Ranney, Russell Crawford, Ernest Olney, Frank Ranney, Clarence Moore.

Eighty-three drunks appeared in municipal court at Detroit one day last week. Such is life in a dry city.

Stoves!

Time to think about them

Not quite late enough to place them in operation, but time to decide what you will do about keeping your house warm the coming winter.

Our last year's stove sales surpassed previous years and this year we expect to sell more than last year. Why? Because we have the stove that gives the best of satisfaction, economical in fuel use, and neat in appearance. We have fair will be able to see blooded horses, cattle and swine, which are without a doubt the very best in the state.

Applications for the concession spaces are coming in rapidly. The Collins Amusement Company have contracted with H. P. French, manager of the Muskegon Park for his Jumping Horse Carrousel and ten concessions. They will also have a Merry-Go-Round and perhaps a Ferris Wheel. The midway this year will commence with a tent show, requiring a 100 foot frontage opposite the dining hall on the space used in 1918 by the Red Cross bower dance and will extend about 200 feet south of the grand stand.

Plans are practically completed for the huge Victory Pageant to be put on by the school children of Boyne City, Charlevoix and East Jordan. If this pageant is carried out as now planned Boyne City schools will carry out the Wednesday evening program, Charlevoix the Thursday, and East Jordan the Friday evening portion of the pageant. The pageant will depict the development of America from its discovery by Columbus to the present day.

Ewing's Zouave Band will furnish music for the fair, giving concerts each day and night. This is a chautauqua band of unusual merit. It has with it Miss Alma Huntley, lyric soprano, of recognized ability. From press reports there is no doubt that this band will furnish music such as has never been heard before at the Charlevoix County Fair, and it will repay any lover of good music to hear this organization.

Carlisle's Frontier Wild West show with ten different acts will take care of the free amusement features of the fair as they have never been taken care of before.

Reports from all sections of the county indicate that the exhibits will be larger, of a greater variety and of greater merit than ever before. This is especially true of the cattle department, as a great many owners of registered cattle have for some time been getting their animals in condition to exhibit them. Only progressive farmers own registered cattle and they are proud of their stock and wish their neighbors and visitors of Charlevoix county to have an opportunity of seeing the class of stock which is being raised here. This is also true of the owners of registered swine and sheep, and a great exhibit of live stock is assured for this year's fair.

Every effort is being made to hold a fair which will be replete in every department and which will be entertaining and instructive to all who attend. The race track has been worked since last May and is in A-1 condition. Horsemen are sending in their entries and good races are assured. All residents of Charlevoix county should plan to attend the County Fair at least one day, and evening.

MRS. OLDHAM BUYS PARRISH GROCERY

Old Established Business Changes Hands Wednesday

Mrs. J. D. Parrish, who has conducted a grocery store on Antrim street for the past sixteen years, sold the stock to Mrs. J. T. Oldham, who took possession on Wednesday of this week.

Mrs. Oldham needs no introduction to the public as she has lived in and around Charlevoix for several years and in taking over Mrs. Parrish's interest takes a well established business.

Mrs. Parrish will move into the home formerly occupied by Mrs. Oldham on Antrim street, for a short time and then go to Detroit for the winter for a much needed rest.

Mrs. George, who has clerked for Mrs. Parrish during the past summer will continue with the new proprietor.

FOOT BADLY CUT WITH AXE

Bumble Bee Flew Into Face Causing Painful Accident

A bumble bee was the cause of a very painful accident last Saturday morning when John Zeitler cut his foot with an axe.

He was splitting wood at the time, and just had the axe poised for a blow when the bee flew into his face disconcerting him to such an extent that he misjudged the blow of the axe and it split his left ankle to the bone.

He was hurried at once to the office of Dr. Armstrong who dressed and cared for the wound. The mishap has proved a most painful one and it will be some time before the foot will be well enough to stand on.

Charlevoix Tax Equalization for '19
The valuation of Charlevoix County as equalized by the state board of equalization at its regular session of this year is as follows: Valuation as equalized by board of supervisors for county in 1919, $11,978,238. The amount that was added by the board of equalization in 1919 amounts to $821,762, making the aggregated amount $12,800,000. The percent rate of tax for 1919 will be .00284.

to the fact that it affects the welfare of every single person here. It is a well known fact that the resort business has made Charlevoix and it is up to Charlevoix to make the things given by nature hold out as long as possible. What would this place be without the resorter?

A short time ago a few men interested in the commercial fishing industry gained permission from the State Game Department to use pond nets or trap nets in Pine Lake, proposing to rid that lake of suckers, gar and carp, so-called obnoxious fish. The petition was signed by the property owners along the shores of the lake, who did not know or realize the intent of the promoters. Thus unwittingly permission was given to indirectly rob Charlevoix of one of her greatest attractions.

Now to the knowledge of those who have followed the lakes there are few if any gar or carp in Pine Lake, and a comparatively small number of suckers. But there are rainbow, steel-head, speckled and lake trout, bass and perch, all types of fish dear to the heart of the sportsman and types that he will go miles to obtain.

In placing nets in Pine Lake these fish will be caught as well as the alleged obnoxious ones, and while they may be placed back into the water, the mere handling of them will result in the death of the biggest percentage of them. According to statements made by students of fish life all over the country, game fish cannot be handled and be expected to live, and it is an absolute impossibility to get nets in Pine Lake without catching a large number of these game fish.

Those promoting this enterprise have only the small amount of money gain made by the sale of these fish in sight. How does this compare with the money lost if the summer people should stop coming. Now should the people of Charlevoix allow this thing to go through without opposition, when it means so much to the welfare of the community? Think it over, people, and see if you want the work of nature which has taken years to bring up to its present standard done away with entirely, by an enterprise that has nothing but a few easily-made dollars in sight.

NOVAK RESTAURANT CHANGES HANDS

Ed O'Neill and Monte Withers Buy Old Pfeister Stand

The cafe and restaurant which for the past year has been under the management of Charles Novak has again changed hands. The sale was made last Wednesday, the new owners being Edward O'Neill and Monte Withers. They will take possession of the business the first of October. This is the old Adam Pfeister stand and has been doing a thriving business for the past years. The new management announces that the restaurant will run along the same lines as in the past and special effort made to please every one.

Relatives and Friends Surprise Mr. and Mrs. Gebeau

Last Thursday afternoon thirty-nine friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gebeau called to help them celebrate their third wedding anniversary. The ladies had prepared a bounteous pot luck supper which was served at six o'clock. Several pretty and useful gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Gebeau in honor of the day. Needless to say the guests, as well as the host and hostess, enjoyed the afternoon and evening.

Dan Soule of Bellaire was a business caller in the city Wednesday. Dr. D. F. Newman, veterinary surgeon, and family have moved back to this city from Cedar Run, where the family have been living for about two years. Dr. Newman has but recently been discharged from the service.

SOLDIERS TO GRAND RAPIDS

American Legion State Convention to Be Held Oct. 13, 14, 15

The state convention of the American Legion will be held at Grand Rapids, Oct. 13, 14 and 15. All ex-service men of the world war are invited to this gathering, regardless of whether they are members of the legion. At least 3,000 men who wore the uniform during the late war are expected at Grand Rapids at this, the first state wide reunion of the soldiers.

Matters of interest and of importance to every soldier will be discussed. At the same time there will be many entertaining features during the three days. Special provisions have been made for accommodation of all visitors. Among the speakers expected are Theodore Roosevelt and others of national reputation.

The American Legion already has become a tremendous factor in the nation. Local organizations are being formed everywhere. The state convention at Grand Rapids will be one of the biggest held anywhere this fall. All local associations of soldiers who have not yet arranged to attend this convention are asked to get into communication with Howard C. Brink, Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Alice Peister of the S & H Premium company will be in Mason's grocery department all day Saturday, September 13th, with premiums and will give free stamps in exchange for coupons, soap wrappers, etc. Adv37t1pd

J. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be at East Jordan, September 17 and 18, the second and third days of the fair. Adv37t2

LIBERTY BONDS PAY SEMI-ANNUAL INTEREST

Victory Loan Pays Higher Interest Than Other Four

Liberty Loan pay days will be Sept. 15, Oct. 15, Nov. 15, and Dec. 15, and on each of these dates the holders of $100 of each issue will be entitled to clip a coupon that will be good at any bank for $2.12. On Dec. 15, also will be paid the semi-annual interest on the Victory loan, and this will be larger than the other payments because the interest rate is 4 per cent. This money will come in handy for the fall and holiday shopping.

The treasury department, however suggests an excellent use for the money would be in the purchase of war savings stamps. The stamps yield an income of 4 per cent, compounding semi-annually and their purchase would be equivalent to putting the original investment out at compound interest at better than 4 per cent.

How Many Times Have You Said This?

Give Me a Quart of Oil

This is a Careless Request That Invites Costly Penalties

You drive up to a garage. The garage man comes out. "Give me a quart of oil," you say. The "quart of oil" is poured into the reservoir. You drive on. You think you have amply protected your engine. But have you?

Consider what is actually going on inside your engine

An automobile engine is made up of many moving parts. If these moving parts are permitted to rub without lubrication, disastrous friction that wears away the rubbing surfaces results.

IN NUMBER OF YEARS

Indications Point to Certain Success for the Coming School Term—
Excellent Material for Team

"Oh, Ma, where's my cap? Gee whiz, those kids are always throwing it where I can't find it."

"Johannie, did you wash your neck? You are old enough now to take some interest in your appearance."

"Gimme a nickel, Pop, I got to get a new pencil."

"Gee Golly, who the deuce went and took my report card out of that desk? I'll betcha I can't get into school now."

"Mother, does my petticoat show, is my nose shiny, is my hat on straight? You know they have the awfellest looking teacher for History this year, I hope I get in his class."

Such are the questions and exclamations that bombard Mother and Dad on the opening morning of school, after the long period of summer vacation. Willie, Johnnie, Frankie and Percival will want Mother to do this or that on the spur of the moment, while Annie and Maggie and Susie are loudly demanding something else at the same time.

The school year opened in Charlevoix Monday morning with a bang. Every seat in the high school assembly room was full and more could be used. Every indication pointed to one of the most successful school years that Charlevoix has ever known.

The school is in the best of condition due to the summer's work and the students and instructors are all full of pep from their summer vacation and ready to jump into the winter's work with worlds of vim and confidence.

Mr. Loomis states that the prospects of a successful foot ball team for this year are the best ever. Practically the same team that did so well last year is back on the roster and several additions from incoming students has also boosted the team's chance for a big season. Foot ball practice starts Wednesday night with hopes of the Northern Michigan championship and possibly more in sight. The material for a wonderful team is on hand and the only thing left to obtain is practice and public support, and that will surely come.

ENTERTAINED ROYAL NEIGHBOR LADIES

Mrs. D. J. Eckinger Hostess at Evening Party

Mrs. D. J. Eckinger entertained the Royal Neighbor ladies last Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. A. Paulson, who left last Saturday to make her home in Grand Rapids. A short special meeting was held after which the ladies enjoyed a few social hours in music and visiting. The hostess served dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake.

RED CROSS NOTES

The County Red Cross directors held a meeting Monday evening to talk over plans for a public health nurse for the county. Places where this has been tried find it very valuable and as some eldies, even of our own county felt the need they hired a nurse. Why can't all receive the benefit even to the rural districts?

As for means to carry this out the Red Cross will push the plan and when the November drive comes all do your part, push and help and we will have a nurse.

Refuge Knitting

Mrs. Cross will be at the Red Cross rooms Saturday afternoon to give out yard. Let all knitters respond and we will have our quota.

Announcement

The Manager of the New Palace Theatre wishes to announce that owing to so many requests from patrons who will be unable to see Douglas Fairbanks, Saturday, in the "Knickerbocker Buckaroo", he will give a special matinee Sunday p. m., 2:30 to 6 with this show.

Evening attraction, Ilyant Washburn in "Poor Booh."

The roller skating rink has opened under the management of Will O'Neil.

MEETING TO BE HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

First Gathering of Charlevoix Commercial Association—Supper 6:30

The first full meeting of the Charlevoix Commercial Association will be held Friday night, September 19, in the I. O. O. F. club rooms.

It is understood that a supper will be given there at 6:30 p. m. and the meeting will follow later. It is important that every member of this organization attend this meeting as it is the first and will be of unusual interest. Several interesting speakers have been obtained from Grand Rapids and will give talks during the evening's program. Cards will be mailed to the different members giving particulars of the meeting.

AUTO ACCIDENT ON BOYNE CITY ROAD

Dodge Car Turns Turtle Near Smith's Corner Monday

What might have been a serious accident had not luck prevailed, occurred Monday afternoon at Smith's corner on the Boyne City road, when a Dodge car driven by W. H. Taylor of Kingsley turned turtle.

The accident was due to loose, greasy brakes that did not hold while the car was rounding the corner. Mr. Taylor was pinned under the car by the steering wheel which was resting on his chest. He was slightly injured as a result of his experience and the car was quite badly smashed but still able to run.

SMALL BLAZE ON TRAIN MONDAY

Spark from Engine Starts Fire in Bellows Connecting Coaches

A peculiar fire started on the morning Pere Marquette train from Petoskey Monday morning.

A cinder from the engine dropped into the bellows connecting two of the passenger coaches and started the blaze. The fire gained such headway that the train had to be stopped in order to work in the portion of the train that was on fire. With the aid of fire axes and a few buckets of water the blaze was extinguished and the train continued on its way.

BADLY INJURES WRIST CRANKING CAR

L. J. Ranney Suffers Sprain Considered Worse Than Break

L. J. Ranney, bookkeeper at the Booth Fisheries, suffered a badly sprained wrist while endeavoring to crank a Maxwell car last Sunday.

He was with a party blackberrying near Harbor Springs, and volunteered to crank the car after the starter on it had refused to work. In some manner the engine back-fired and he was hit in the wrist. It was attended by Dr. Armstrong who pronounced the injury worse than a break.

NEW PHYSICIAN TO LOCATE HERE

Dr. McMillan, Formerly of Indian River to Begin Practice in City

Dr. F. F. McMillan, who in the past has been practicing in Indian River, Mich., will locate in Charlevoix in the near future.

He will occupy the offices formerly used by Dr. A. M. Wilkinson over the postoffice. Dr. McMillan has carried on a successful practice at Indian River for the past ten years and comes here highly recommended by the people of that community. He will make his residence in the A. L. Coulter house at the end of Antrim street.

SHERIFF WEAVER GOES TO GRAND RAPIDS

Brings Back Man Wanted for Larceny in East Jordan

Sheriff Weaver made a trip to Grand Rapids Friday last and returned Saturday night with Fred Miller of Nashville, Michigan, who is wanted at East Jordan for larceny. He also made a trip to Kalkaska last week and brought back Chester Kent of that place who was wanted for obtaining goods under false pretenses from the Argo Milling Company.

MANY STUDENTS ATTEND COLLEGES

CHARLEVOIX WELL REPRESENTED IN UNIVERSITIES

All Are Anxious to Gain Higher Education Afforded by These Various Schools

That the young people of Charlevoix are anxious to obtain further education in schools of higher standards is made evident by the enrollment of ex-high school students in the various universities in this part of the country.

Following is a list of the different students and the various colleges at which they will continue their studies for the coming year:

Margaret Saunders, American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, Ill. Roberta Ferguson, University of Iowa.

Marion Saunders, Kalamazoo Normal. Hilda Glassford, Ypsilanti Normal. Beatrice Harrington, Alma College.

Bessie Hammett, University of Michigan. Ruth Hammett, University of Michigan.

Betty Candler, Albion College. Frank Weaver, University of Michigan.

Jack Superinaw, Albion College. John Walker, Albion College. Odell Weed, University of Michigan.

Herbert Taggart, University of Michigan. William Hampton, Jr., University of Michigan.

Russell Sweitzer, University of Michigan. Joseph Sanford, Notre Dame College.

Allen Arnold, University of Michigan. Leo Butler, U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

Irving Hallett, Notre Dame College. Kenneth Widdifield, University of Chicago.

Perry Mason, University of Michigan. Robert Sloan, Jr., University of Cincinnati.

FAREWELL PARTY

M. E. Church Parlor Scene of Enjoyable Occasion

A farewell surprise was given last Wednesday in the parlors of the Methodist church in honor of Miss Betty Candler and John Walker, both young people having left this week for Albion college to resume their studies. The evening was pleasantly passed with music and games, after which light refreshments were served.

AT THE MOVIES

An announcement of great interest to the photoplay patrons of the Palace Theatre is made this week by Manager Moon to the effect that he has succeeded in securing for presentation at his theatre "Virtuous Men," a new S-L Picture. This special production, which stars E. K. Lincoln, was personally directed by Ralph Ince. It is one of the biggest features ever made, and has been aptly called "the greatest melodrama of the year." Manager Moon points out that "Virtuous Men" took seven months to produce, containing an extraordinary cast, headed by E. K. Lincoln and has more than 10,000 superlatives, who appear in many scenes. The story told by "Virtuous Men" is highly melodramatic, setting forth in many absorbing situations the adventures of a red-blooded young American whose courage and quick mind overcome unsurmountable obstacles. The production has been given by Ralph Ince, who personally directed every scene, many highly spectacular and thrilling moments. Lavishness in settings has made "Virtuous Men" the initial S-L picture one of the most beautiful productions of the year. Among its more striking scenes may be mentioned a society ball in which 2,500 people participate, a tremendous forest fire and the biggest fight in screen history. Manager Moon promises the patrons of the theatre one of the biggest entertainments of the season when "Virtuous Men" is presented in the near future as a special attraction.

IN THE AUTO WORLD

Royal Cords are Popular
Standing on Fifth Avenue in New York and watching the endless stream of handsome automobiles pass by is good enough entertainment for any visitor to the metropolis.

One thing that strikes such a watcher is the predominance of the United States Royal Cord tires on the finest cars. The watcher will also note the same predominance of the taxicabs that mingle with the throng of passenger cars.

To the automobilist this popularity of Royal Cord on these two types of cars demonstrates that this tire has made its reputation not only as a tire suitable for the purse of the wealthy, but also as adapted to service of the roughest and most exacting nature, for no vehicle gets harder service than a New York taxicab.

Royal Cords are built so as to be light flexible, and at the same time to stand hard usage. It costs more to equip a car with these tires than with ordinary tires, but they give so many more miles that, reckoned on the basis of mileage, they are cheaper in the end than ordinary tires.

SOME OF NEW GAME LAWS

DIGEST OF IMPORTANT LAWS
OF LOCAL INTEREST

Partridge Shooting Season Opens November 1—Rabbits October 1—Ducks Sept. 15

Here's the law on hunting game and fur-bearing animals, according to a digest of the important general laws of the state of Michigan governing hunting and fishing.

Moose, elk and caribou, unlawful to hunt or kill at any time and unlawful to have in possession at any time.

Deer may be hunted from Nov. 10 to Nov. 30 inclusive. One deer allowed under hunter's license and one under camp license. Unlawful to have in possession more than 30 days after close of season. Unlawful to use artificial light or dogs in hunting or to kill deer in red coats or fawn in spotted coats or while in water.

Rabbits and hares may be hunted from Nov. 1 to March 1 inclusive; north of Town 20 north range, Oct. 1 to March 1 inclusive. No limit on number legally killed, may be transported and sold. Charlevoix county is north of range 20, thus the open season begins October 1.

Fox squirrel may be killed from Oct. 15 to Oct. 31 inclusive.

Black and gray squirrels must not be hunted or killed until 1921.

Beaver may be killed from Nov. 1 to April 15, inclusive under special license costing $10. Additional licenses may be procured at same price. Unlawful to destroy houses or dams or to have in possession without license seal attached.

Otter, fisher, martin and mink may be killed from Nov. 16 to Feb. 14, inclusive. Number is unlimited. Unlawful to have in possession taken during closed season.

Raccoon may be killed from Oct. 15 to Dec. 31, inclusive. Number is unlimited. Unlawful to have in possession taken during closed season.

Muskrat may be killed from Dec. 16 to March 31 inclusive; north of range 20 north, Oct. 16 to April 14, inclusive. Unlawful to have in possession taken during closed seasons, or to destroy or disturb house or hole.

Coyote, wolf, lynx, wildcat, fox, weasels, owls, woodchucks, crows and certain kinds of hawks may be killed at any time. Persons hunting and killing noxious animals must have small game license in possession. Bounty on wolf and coyote over six months old is $35; under six months $15. Bounty on lynx is $5 and bounty on wildcats same.

Bears and other animals not protected by laws of state may be killed at any time, but persons hunting and killing such animals must have small license in possession.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BELL ON THE BLINK

Sends Forth Wails of Agony and Woe, Causing Much Curiosity

A mystery hovered over the streets of Charlevoix Monday morning sending the pedestrians into an uproar and placing the question of "what is it", on the tips of all the tongues of the people on the village thoroughfares.

Out of the morning air wafted the most horrible sound, most like that of a lost soul giving up the ghost. Many ventured to say that it was a dog fight in the center of town, while others thought that it might be a number of cattle escaped from the Loch farm and gathered in the school yard. What could it be?

At three different times that morning the mysterious sounds came forth and three different times were the curiosities aroused. Through the stellar work of the village Pinkertons, who commenced gun-shoeing at once, the plot was at last untangled. And what do you think was the cause of this terrible wailing? 'Twas nothing but the village school bell trying its best to make noise enough to attract the attention of the children so they could come to school. Due to the fact that there is now more crack than bell left it was doing its very best and was not succeeding very well. Let's hope that the new bell gets here quick.

CONTRACTS LET FOR HIGHWAYS

CONSTRUCTION STARTS ON SEVERAL BRIDGES

Department Awards Building in Various Parts of the State

Lansing, Sept. 9.—During the last two weeks the state highway department awarded contracts for the construction of twenty-six miles of road at a total cost of $284,520.51, while the new bridge contracts for the week total $54,357.

The bridge contracts follow: Crossing Boyne river, Evangeline township of Charlevoix county, $18,500; crossing Pine river in Deep River township of Arenac county, $5,675; creek crossing in Limn township of Washtenaw county, $6,718; creek crossing in the same township, $9,684; crossing Clinton river in Pontiac township of Oakland county, $5,810; creek crossing in Clayton township in Genesee county, $7,970.

The road contracts follow: 3.1 miles of 15-foot macadam road in Franklin township of Houghton county, $21,610.10; for grading and drainage structure on 2.5 miles in Greenland township of Ontonagon county, $10,366; for three miles of 14-foot macadam road in Bergland township of Ontonagon county, $33,960.06; for 5.7 miles of 16-foot macadam in Mapleridge township of Delta county, $42,445.46; for 3.2 miles of the same kind of road in same township, $24,231.14; for 3.1 miles of 18-foot concrete road in Ridgeway township of Lenawee county, $91,482.35; for five miles of 15-foot gravel road in Harrisville township of Alcona county, $60,425.40.

DUCK SEASON OPENED TUESDAY

Ducks May be Legally Shot from Sept. 16th to Dec. 31st

Duck hunting in the state of Michigan began Tuesday, September 16. The season remains open until the 31st of December.

It is necessary for every duck hunter to have a license this year. The license fee for a resident hunter is $1, while that for a non-resident hunter is $10. An unnaturalized alien resident must also pay $10 for a license.

The limit of birds to be taken in one day is twenty-five and not more than this number can be had in one's possession at one time. It is unlawful to kill more than fifty ducks in one calendar week.

It is unlawful to shoot ducks or any other water fowl while upon any craft propelled by steam, gas, gasoline or naphtha.

The Lady Maccabees will give a 15 cent tea at the home of Mrs. Louise Elston on Dixon avenue, Wednesday, September 24th, in the afternoon. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

MANY CHANGES IN MICHIGAN LAWS

SOME THAT ARE OF GENERAL INTEREST TO PUBLIC

Drawing of Checks When There Are Insufficient Funds Deposited
Made a Felony

The first complete text of the Public Acts of 1919 shows radical changes made in many of the laws, that are of general interest to the public. Among these is Act Seven relative to the registration of electors. Under the old law the elector had to appear in person and request that his name be registered, before the clerk could legally register him. The elector may now appear personally and be registered, or he (or she) may, if they so desire, make an affidavit as prescribed by the law, and send same to the clerk, who will then register them.

Of particular interest to township officials is Act No. 258 which provides that the highway commissioners draw all orders for the highway funds on the Township Clerk, who in turn draws his order on the Township Treasurer. It is made the duty of the township clerk to keep an accurate record of all orders drawn by him upon the highway funds, in a special book to be provided at the expense of the township for that purpose.

Act No. 30 changes the fee of Justices of the Peace, jurors in justice court, and constables and sheriffs for the service of civil papers. It increases the mileage allowance for service of civil process, from ten cents to twenty cents per mile, from place of service to place of return. It increases the fees of justice court jurors, and justices of the peace, and increases the amount that must be advanced when a jury is demanded in justice court, from six dollars to thirteen dollars.

The entire dog law has been changed, and these changes will be considered at length in a later article.

Laws have been enacted relating to persons afflicted with venereal diseases and regulating the treatment with such persons. This law carries severe penalties for its violation and it will be well for all doctors and all druggists to acquaint themselves with the provisions of this act.

Another law carrying a severe penalty is the one making it a felony to issue, with an intent to defraud, a check or draft upon any bank when there are insufficient funds for the payment of the same. The giving of a check, payment of which is refused in the ordinary course of business is made prima facie evidence of guilt, unless such check or draft, and all expenses incidental to the nonpayment of same, are paid within five days after notice of dishonor.

An act of general interest to automobile owners is the law providing that the owner of a garage is responsible, under certain regulations, for all damages done to any car left in a garage, while such car is therein.

NEW ADDITION TO PALACE THEATRE

Canopy Being Built on Front of Theatre, Improving Appearance

A steel canopy, the same that is being used by all of the large city theatres, is under erection this week at the new Palace theatre.

This new canopy is constructed with steel girders and when finished will greatly improve the appearance of the building. Lights will be arranged around the entire length of the new front and will be another addition that is making this theatre one of the most up-to-date in Northern Michigan. The construction work is being done under the supervision of Wm. Wallace.

If the senate fails to ratify the treaty of peace and the league of nations covenant as they now stand, according to Senator Nugent of Idaho, upon the senate will rest the responsibility for the next great war. And if it does ratify them, the question naturally arises, will the senate be permitted to shun with Woodrow Wilson in the responsibility for the next great war we are kept out of?

At about the same time that the hotels went up to five and ten dollars a day, a lot of automobile parties appeared on the road with tents and complete camping outfits.

CLARK SCHOOL DISTRICT

Clyde Warner has been absent all week on account of farm work.

School opened Monday, September 8th, with an enrollment of twenty-five pupils.

September 17th is Constitutional day, but on account of this being county fair week, we are not going to have our patriotic program until next week. Besides listening to a short program given by the school, all who come will be able to hear an address by Judge Mayne of Charlevoix. Judge Correll will also be present on this occasion. A large crowd from our own and from adjoining districts is expected on Thursday night, September 25th.

HAYES

Bert Wightman has filled his silo. School started in the Undine and Maple Grove districts Monday morning.

Miss Horton of Watersmeet visited her aunt, Mrs. C. Pant last Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Addie Lewis has returned to her home in South Bend, Indiana, after visiting friends in this neighborhood.

Beans are practically all harvested and some have threshed. We understand the yield is fairly good and the quality fine.

Mrs. E. E. Stroud took Mrs. Frank Kane, Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Pant to the Gleaners' picnic last Thursday to hear the talk given by Grant Slocum. Those who failed to attend the picnic missed a treat.

Results That Last Are What Appeal to Charlevoix People

Kidney sufferers in Charlevoix want more than temporary relief. They want results that last—Results like Mrs. Cowan tells about.

Her's was a thorough test. Five years is a long time. Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test and stood it well.

Why experiment with an untried medicine? People here in Charlevoix have shown the way.

Read the story of Mrs. W. L. Cowan, 210 Antrim St.

She says: "I suffered from a severe backache and pains across my kidneys. The action of my kidneys was irregular, also. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Metcalf's Drug Store, fixed me up in good shape."

FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. Cowan said: "Since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble, I have recommended them to many people. Doan's Kidney Pills certainly are worthy of endorsement."

CONDITION OF MICHIGAN CROPS

AS REPORTED BY AGRICULTURAL EXPERTS

Ground Exceedingly Dry All Over State Which Has Prevented Fall Plowing

The prospects for corn, alfalfa, millet, buckwheat, pastures, sugar beets and some of the fruits have improved during the past month according to the joint crop report issued by Coleman C. Vaughan, Secretary of State, and Verne H. Church, Field Agent, U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. Moderately cool weather prevailed, with only light, local frosts over very small areas. The rainfall was generally deficient, but the local showers were of great benefit to pastures, clover seedings, corn and root crops. The ground is exceedingly dry over much of the state and is hindering the plowing for and seeding of fall grains. Threshing is progressing rapidly, with comparatively light yields of oats, barley and spring wheat, good yields of winter wheat, and fair yields of rye. The acreage of clover seed is small, but of the little threshed to date some good yields have been reported.

No change is made in the estimated production of winter wheat from last month's report, which was 19,247,000 bushels. The amount of wheat marketed during the month, as reported by mills and elevators, was 1,750,000 bushels; 21 mills and 16 elevators reported the purchase of no wheat during the month.

The acreage of spring wheat is 66,000, which is probably the largest ever grown in the state. The hot, dry season was unfavorable for the crop so that the yield was reduced to 12.2 bushels per acre, or a total production of 804,000 bushels, as compared with 778,000 bushels from 43,000 acres last year.

The corn crop has revived considerably under the influence of moderate temperatures and local showers during August. It is maturing nicely and will be out of danger of frost within a few days. Much has already been cut and shocked or put into silos. The present condition of 87 per cent indicates a total crop of 61,631,000 bushels; as it is estimated that 40 per cent of this is utilized as silage, there remains a grain crop of 36,979,000 bushels or nearly 3,000,000 bushels more than estimated last month, and about 8,000,000 bushels more than was harvested last year.

The crop of oats is comparatively light, being only 36,169,000 bushels as compared with 66,320,000 bushels last year, and is the smallest production since 1907. The yield is estimated at 23.2 bushels per acre. Barley also suffered from the hot and dry summer, and the total production is estimated at 5,124,000 as compared with 8,360,000 bushels last year. The yield per acre is estimated at 18.3 bushels.

Buckwheat has improved during the past month, and if frost does not interfere the outlook is for a good crop. The present condition of 78 per cent indicates a yield of 14.4 bushels per acre, or a total production of 895,000 bushels. The estimated yield of rye is 16.0 bushels per acre, and the total production, 9,136,000 bushels as compared with 6,811,000 bushels last year.

The late potato crop has held up well throughout the long drought, but is in a critical condition now. Unless rains come immediately the crop will be very short except in a few northern counties where the moisture has been sufficient. The condition is generally good in the Cadillac district, but in the Upper Peninsula, Montcalm County, and some southern counties, the prospect is for less than one-half crop. The outlook is for a crop of 28,032,000 bushels as compared with 28,560,000 bushels last year.

The inquiry on hay develops the information that the average yield of tame hay is 1.20 tons per acre, making the total crop 2,962,000 tons as compared with 2,676,000 tons last year. Wild hay yielded 1.25 tons per acre and a total crop estimated at 51,000 tons.

The estimated number of hogs on September 1 for fattening purposes is 1,265,000, or three per cent more than last year. The production of wool has increased eight per cent over last year, giving a total estimated clip of 9,466,000 pounds. Large flocks of sheep are being brought from western ranges and located on the cut-over lands of the northern counties. There is also a tendency to increase the size and number of flocks on the farms in many parts of the state.

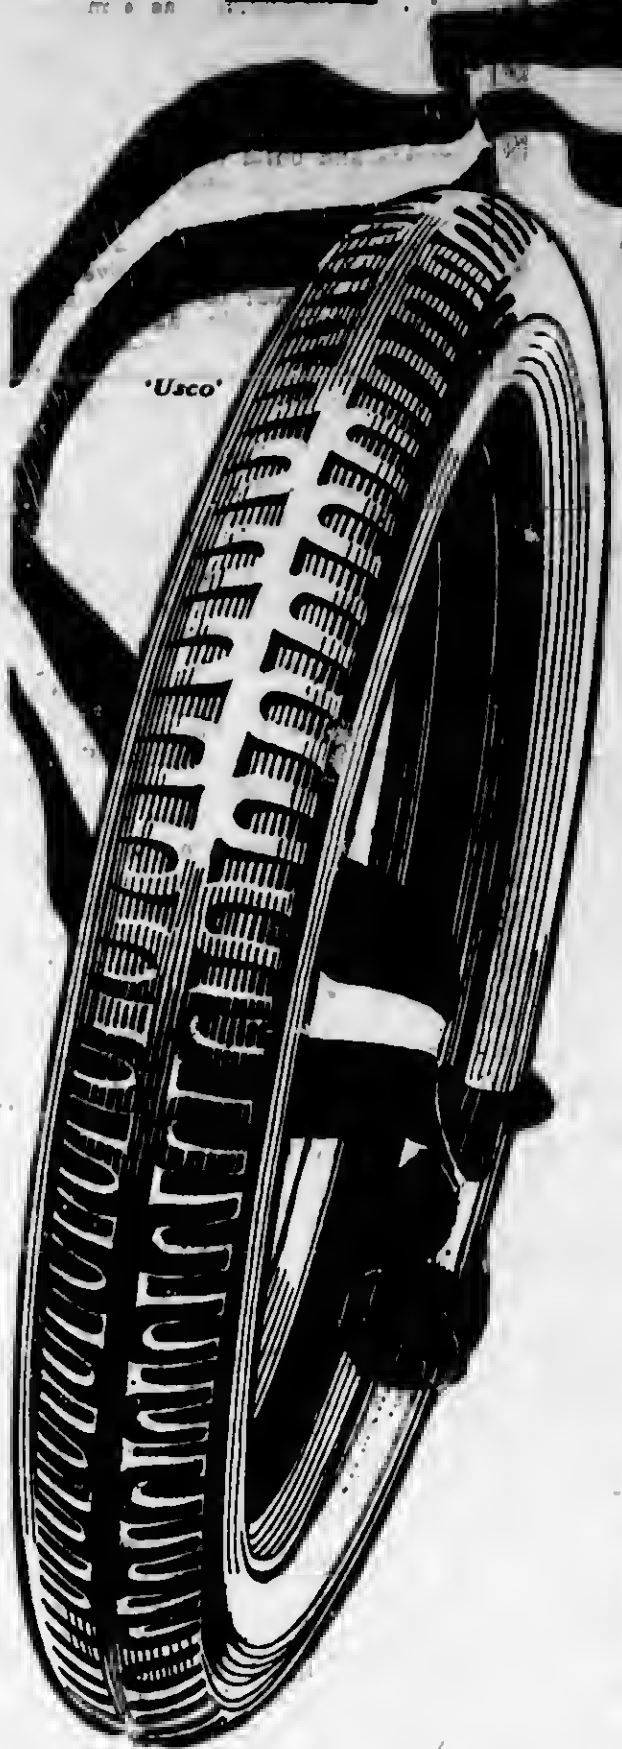

Early threshing returns on clover seed indicate a fairly good yield. However, the acreage is small, being only 80 per cent of that cut last year which was also a year of small acreage. Last spring's seedings have been severely injured by the drought and are entirely lost in some sections. The prospect for beans has improved during the month. The estimated production is placed at 3,534,000 bushels, the condition being 77 per cent as compared with 82 in New York, 66 in Colorado, 92 in New Mexico, and 71 in California. Much of the crop is matured and the crop is being harvested under ideal weather conditions.

The commercial apple crop of Michigan is 35 per cent as compared with 27 in New York, 46 in Virginia, 26 in Illinois, 43 in Missouri, and 48 for the United States. The commercial peach crop in Michigan is 16 per cent as compared with the same percentage in Ohio, 25 per cent in New York, and 75 per cent in the United States. The pear crop is estimated at 65 per cent, and the grape crop at 90 per cent of a full crop in the state.

Sugar beets have made a gain of 14 per cent during the month, having risen to a condition of 86 per cent, one per cent better than the ten-year average and four per cent better than on the same date last year.

Advantages of Fall Planting of Nursery Stock

- 1st—The ground is in much better condition in the Fall, being mellow and warm.
- 2nd—Before Spring, stock which has been planted in the Fall gets well established in its new position, and so gets an early start and makes a large growth the first season.
- 3rd—Stock is completely dormant in the Fall and therefore, can be easily and safely handled.
- 4th—Stock planted in the Fall gets the benefit of the late Fall and early Spring rains, which is of vital importance.
- 5th—FARMERS and OTHERS have more time to attend to stock in the Fall, and can, therefore, give it better care, which is very important.
- 6th—Stock delivered in the Fall arrives in better order, because Nurserymen have more time in which to handle it.

COMMUNICATIONS

THE BLACK RACE

It is not the purpose of this brief article to go into the history of the negro race, but merely to indicate some facts about these people and four possible solutions of this ever growing problem.

There are approximately 11,000,000 negroes in the United States, who, because of the Great War, have sensed a new place in our social order. No longer do the negroes care to be subservient to the whites, or to be thought of as racially inferior, or to be judged as a race instead of individuals, or to be denied rights and privileges which are inherently theirs. Perversely, they wish to enjoy all the immunities of the whites and to assert a place of equality in our social, political, and industrial spheres. In short, they want no demarcation between themselves and the whites.

Now, this idea of negro nationalism was materialized in course of the Great War. The black regiments of this country that were sent to Europe to fight observed one striking thing, namely that there was no racial antipathy in France. A native French "black" stood just as high in the social scale as any "white." At the same time in this country many of the negroes of the south were asked to migrate north into the big industrial centers, and there work in munition factories. Here, a good deal of free play was given them; and as the result of this and their experience over in France, we have the awakening of the black race.

What does this awakening mean? It means dissatisfaction with the old order of things. If a man is dead, little has to be done to please that individual. But is a man is very much alive and conscious of his place in relation to his fellow men, much has to be done to satisfy him. Now, what shall be done with the negro? Well, four solutions have been suggested—education, deportation, segregation, and amalgamation.

Some educators have thought: were the negro educated, he would become a useful person in society, and that he would maintain his own place with regard to the white population. This is well in theory, but not so well in practice, for human nature remains profoundly the same in all persons of all races. It is true that an educated negro is of more value, socially and commercially than one who has had no training. But it is not true that all educated negroes will remain submissive to the white race, socially, politically, industrially, etc. Hence, a mere education will not cure the race problem in this country.

A deportation of our 11,000,000 negroes back to Africa has been suggested. Some job! This task is possible but not probable, for these people are all native American citizens, whose homes have been here for many decades. To do this, would mean a revision of our constitution—which is very unlikely. Furthermore, it would be unjust and a grave mistake to even consider such a plan.

Segregation, to many sincere thinkers, is an ideal plan; i. e. set aside a certain amount of territory in the south near Mexico for the negroes exclusively. And there let the negroes make a nation and work out their own destiny. This created nation would be recognized by other countries as a self-governing state. Under this plan the blacks would be excluded from white territory, and the whites from black territory, with the exception of travellers, students, educators, etc., for whom provisions would be made. It is understood that the best will would be exercised towards this new Republic.

And the last solution for the black race is amalgamation—a process of intermarriage—till after a few centuries there will be no pure white or black blooded races in this country, but a mixture. This is a thing that the whites despise. However, this is the road that we are now headed. Recent years the blacks have spread nearly all over the country. And as the result of this, many intermarriages have occurred. It seems that the better educated negroes have a strong tendency to marry whites.

Only a short time ago it was found that of 139 negroes who had been granted Ph. D's by our American colleges, only four of them had pure black blood in their veins. Yet it is hard to tell whether amalgamation will complete itself, for some day there may be a reaction. But presently we are following the Laissez-Faire policy—letting things have their own course.

A negro has a right to life and fair treatment, and above all, a place that he may call his home; but his rights and privileges stop as soon as they interfere with those of his neighbors. After all this is a world in which human beings must recognize the existence of each other; and if this principle is thwarted, trouble will always be inevitable.

Wirthmor Waists

The price of these Waists is just $1.50.

With materials and labor up to their present high and unprecedented standards you wouldn't hardly believe it possible to make really good Waists to sell at so modest a price.

Still it is possible, but only because of the Wirthmor policy, and Wirthmor practice; the forehanded purchase of materials and the unfailing determination to give to the wearers of Waists every advantage and savings that results from the unique Wirthmor Plan.

It's the creed of the Wirthmor makers as it is of Wirthmor Stores to "keep prices as low as you can as long as you can." For this reason the present prices prevail while the values would really warrant a considerably higher price.

Wirthmor Waists can be sold at just one good store in every city. It is always the value giving store. In this city they are sold here only.

Throwing Dollars in the Mud

No sane man would pitch money into a mud hole. But that's what happens on farms where corn is fed to hogs in a muddy feed lot.

A government bulletin states 10 per cent or more is the proportion that never gets down the hog's throat — and what he doesn't swallow cannot make pork.

You or your contractor can build a concrete floor on which corn can be fed without a lost kernel, where every kernel will be saved, and where hogs will eat corn and corn only instead of a liberal allowance of mud with their ration.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Lakes Michigan-Huron are 0.20 foot lower than last month, 0.62 lower than a year ago, 0.29 foot above the average stage of August of the last ten years, 2.37 feet below the high stage of August 1876, and 1.20 feet above the low stage of August 1911. During the last ten years the August level has averaged about the same as the July level and 0.2 foot higher than the September level.

The Central Lake Torch says in a recent issue that an average of 200 loads of sweet corn are being brought to the Central Lake canning plant daily. The Torch further says: "The sweet corn season is not yet at its height, and the rush during the next two weeks bids fair to far outstrip the present deliveries. And with pumpkins, squash, and other vegetables to come, not mentioning immense quantities of beans, the fall and winter season bids fair to be most active for the canning concern and most remunerative to the farming element of the county as a consequence."

Prosecuting Attorney Harry F. Hittle, at Manistee, has begun an assiduous campaign against wife desertion. Aroused by the large number of complaints reaching him, in the last week he rounded up four in several Michigan cities and promises as many more arrests this week.

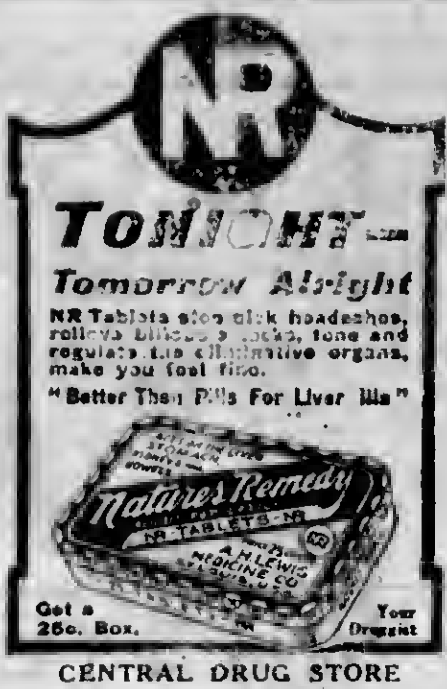

Auditor General Fuller at Lansing refuses to pay a bill amounting to $2,361.09 for the purchase of land by the Mackinac Island park commission until there is some explanation concerning interest charges of $255.20 and no item for abstracting amounting to $105.89.

While the legislature last winter appropriated $2,000 for the purchase of additional land, it appears that the property was acquired in January, 1918, a year before the legislature authorized the purchase. This accounts for the interest but the auditor general does not include the item for abstracting.

"When a man sells a piece of land he furnishes the abstract of title. The purchaser is not required to pay for the abstract," said Mr. Fuller.

Clinton Beverly, of Bay City, who is one of the Michigan Central signalmen at Mackinaw City, was struck Monday last by the morning Michigan Central train and terribly cut and injured about the head and body.

The man's skull was crushed in and he suffered concussion of the brain, both ears were nearly torn off, there were seven cuts on his head, his left arm and hand were broken, his left wrist dislocated, his right thigh crushed, right knee dislocated, and bruises and cuts all over his body.

Receipts found on the man's purse indicate he is a Mason in good standing with the Wolverine lodge.

Hereafter persons in Michigan who purchase for their own use direct from the commercial fisherman or shipper fish taken from the waters of the state and retailed at the home port, fish house or other place where the fish are inspected, packed or shipped, will be amply protected against payment of excessive prices by the provisions of act 159 of the 1919 legislature.

The construction of this law and the manner in which it shall be applied are embodied in a notice which John Baird, state game and fish commissioner, is distributing to the fishing ports of the state, directed to producers, shippers and consumers. In substance this notice will permit fishermen and shippers to charge only one cent a pound more than the wholesale shipping price for trout and whitefish retailed to consumers at the ports or shipping points.

The law will in no manner affect either the control of the wholesale or retail price at any inland market.

Saturday morning of last week the fire alarm called attention to a fire which totally destroyed the two H. B. Sayles store buildings located at 109 and 113 West Michigan avenue, Boyne City. Occurring as it did at so early an hour it was not discovered until it had gained considerable headway and by the time the department arrived practically nothing remained but a heap of smoldering ruins.

The buildings were without insurance protection and Mr. Sayles, who had stored in them a quantity of household goods, store fixtures and seasoned lumber, reports a financial loss roughly estimated at $3,000.00.

Work is already under way on the new concrete and steel crusher plant for the Petoskey Portland Cement company at the crusher plant west of the city.

The new building is to be of the very latest model and the very best machinery will be installed, including a crusher for the larger pieces of rock and crushers for the commercial lime rock.

The commercial lime rock is rapidly increasing in demand and the Petoskey Portland Cement company is getting many orders for carloads of this rock from farmers of this part of the state. The Michigan Potato Growers' association is also selling this rock to farmers.

The new crusher plant will turn out 2,500 tons of rock a day. This rock will include all sizes from that used so extensively in road building to rock used in steel manufacture, cement plants, agricultural lime rock, etc. Large steel companies are placing orders for rock to be shipped by boat as soon as the wharf is completed.

JUDGES IN COUNTY EDUCATIONAL HALL

Many Come for Miles to Take Part in the Work

If we may judge the interest in our County School Exhibits by the cordial manner in which busy superintendents for miles around agreed to leave their daily work and come to us for a day of even harder work for which they would receive bare expenses, then we may say that our school work is indeed well known.

The state club leader, R. S. Turner of Lansing, came Monday and spent Tuesday and Wednesday assisting in the judging and leading in out door games. Since he has a number of handicraft clubs throughout the state, he will be one of the best judges we have ever had in manual arts.

Commissioner Kate Wilson of Antrim county and Superintendent Fawcett of Central Lake judged the grade work of the city schools. Superintendent L. L. Tyler of Traverse City, Superintendent Otterbein of Grayling and Principal Greene of Vanderbilt judged the high school work of the city schools. They comprised the Wednesday board of judges for wall exhibits for city schools. For the rural schools, Superintendent Keyworth of East Jordan, and Superintendent Metcalf of Boyne City kindly consented to act as judges, and had to work with them, some of their city staff. This is especially appropriate as it enables them to know better the work of students who will later enter their schools.

On Thursday, Judge Bailey of Belaire will act as assistant chairman, Miss Stewart taking charge of the rural and Mr. Bailey of the city contests. The board of judges for these oral contests consists of Miss Delano of the Traverse City English Department, Superintendent Gee of Mancelona, Superintendent Pischner of Alaba, Superintendent Northon of Kalkaska, and the superintendent of schools in Elk Rapids.

On Friday, Superintendent Lantz of Petoskey, Superintendent Payne of Frederick, Commissioner Washburn of Petoskey and Superintendent Reel of Harbor Springs will take charge of the Newcomb game, and judge both oratorical and forensic contests.

REMAINS BROUGHT HOME FOR BURIAL

Mrs. William St. Clair, a Pioneer Resident of District

Lucinda Tallman was born at Sutton, Canada, in 1842 and died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Russell at Muskegon, Mich., September 11th, 1919, aged 77 years.

When a young girl she came with her parents to Wisconsin where she resided for eleven years.

She was married to Wm. St. Clair, who died April 8, 1896, at Fredricksburg, Iowa, August 30th, 1866, and in October of the same year came with her husband to Michigan and took up a homestead on what is now known as the L. K. Clark farm, about one and one-fourth miles east of Ellsworth.

Three children were the result of the marriage, William, Jr., who died at the age of four and one-half years, Mrs. Gardner Miller of Ellsworth and Mrs. Wm. Russell of Muskegon, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair were among the earliest settlers in this part of the state and did their full share in carving out a home and converting the land from forests to cultivated country.

Mrs. St. Clair was a good friend and neighbor, always ready with a helping hand in times of trouble.

She was buried at Boss cemetery Saturday, September 13th, Rev. Clark officiating.

SCHOOL OPENED MONDAY MORNING

One Hundred and Nine Pupils Enrolled to Date

School began in District No. 9 on Monday morning of this week with one hundred and nine pupils enrolled, and if one may judge by the eager faces and enthusiastic bearing of those pupils, the school will this year be fully up to last year's standard.

Mrs. Taisey is again in charge of the higher grades with twenty-eight pupils, two in the tenth grade, seventeen ninth graders and nine eighth grade pupils.

In the intermediate room taught by Mrs. Patterson there are enrolled thirty-six pupils graded as follows: Ten fourth graders, nine fifth graders, seven in the sixth and ten in the seventh grades.

The primary room this year is in charge of Miss Ethel Smith. In this room there are forty-five. There are ten tots in the chart class, seventeen in the first grade, eleven in the second grade and eight in the third grade.

Both Mrs. Taisey and Mrs. Patterson were members of last year's teaching force and parents of pupils in the grades piloted by these teachers are at once knowing that the children are in excellent hands; Miss Smith is new as a teacher in No. 9, but is well known by both parents and children and in the two years she taught in the Wright District gave such excellent satisfaction that she was offered the position for a third term. This speaks well for her ability as a teacher and thus the prospects are bright for this school year to be the equal if not the best of any in the history of the district.

Will Conduct A CORN SHOW

Citizens' Bank Offer Prizes for Best Grown in Territory

The Citizens' Bank of Ellsworth will conduct a corn show this fall. It has been the practice of the bank to conduct agricultural shows each year and many and varied have been the products exhibited. Although all kinds of vegetables and fruits will be welcomed and shown, the purpose of the bank this year is to make one of the best exhibits of corn ever shown in Northern Michigan.

Prizes will be given for first and second exhibits in different varieties. The Antrim County Fair Association, have announced that the Marketing Associations will arrange exhibits instead of the Gleaners, Grange and other farm organizations. The corn exhibit at the bank will be moved to the county fair in charge of the Banks Township Marketing Association. Bring in your best corn and make this show one for Banks township to be proud of.

ROCK ELM

Miss Sadie Metz is expected home this week for a short vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas and family reached Harriman, Tennessee, September 8th. All well and enjoying their new surroundings.

School Notes

We have an enrollment of twenty-eight pupils.

Our school will observe Federal Constitution day with appropriate exercises.

On Thursday, September 11, 1919, our teacher, Miss Violet Gilbert, organized a sewing club. The following officers were elected: President, Dorcas Hipp, secretary, Ina Hutton, treasurer, Alta Shaw. The name chosen for the club is "Blue Bird Sewing Society." The members are as follows: Dorcas Hipp, Olga Hipp, Ina and Fern Hutton, Anna Kowalske, Alta Shaw, Gladys Myers, Dorothy DeShane, Velma LaCroix and Lila Danfourth. The Blue Bird Sewing Society has as a leader Violet Gilbert and so far has only one advisor, Mrs. Victor LaCroix. The society will meet at the home of Victor LaCroix. A full attendance is expected.

"THE KNICKERBOCKER BUCKAROO"

An Artercraft Picture

Directed by Albert Parker

6 Months to Make - 7 Reels - Cost $264,000

Six months to make "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo"! That's 184 days! Seven reels! That means 77 solid minutes of the Douglas Fairbanks brand of entertainment!

"Doug" spent two and a half days making every minute of amusement that you get from this picture!

He's made you wait a long time for one of his pictures but now it's here!

"Doug" thought out a lot of new stunts during those six months. For instance: He leaves the window of a flying train, climbs over the car's side to the roof, runs along the roof to the mail-coach, is swung from that car to the station by the mail conveyor like a sack of fourth-class mail, dropping onto the back of a horse that gallops madly off.

That's only one of his stunts! That's only one of the laughs! You can't afford to miss all the rest.

NEW DOG LAW VERY DRASTIC

EVERY DOG MUST WEAR A LICENSE TAG

Must Stay at Home Every Night and Not Go Running Around With His Master

For the benefit of farmers and dog owners generally, we herewith make generous extracts from Michigan's new "Dog Law," which should be of general interest. A reading of this article will show what great changes have been made, all losses in the future being paid from the "General Fund" of the County.

Some drastic dog laws were needed. Many farmers in Charlevoix have gone out of the business of growing sheep, because of the ravages made by dogs, invariably of the "cur" variety. How the new Dog Law will work out is not known, but all will admit that its provisions are somewhat drastic.

According to the new Dog Law, it will be unlawful from and after Jan. 10, 1920, for any person to own a dog four months old or over unless the dog is licensed. Every dog between sunset and sunrise must be confined on the premises of the owner, or custodian. The State Live Stock Sanitary Commission shall have general supervision over the licensing and regulation of dogs, and the protection of live stock and poultry from dogs.

Under this law, County Treasurers must purchase their dog tags from the State Live Stock Sanitary Commission, and the tags will be sold at cost to the Treasurers, and the commission will furnish the County Treasurers before Nov. 15th, a book containing proper forms for issuing licenses.

Before Jan. 10, 1920, every owner of a dog four months old or over, and on or before the same date each year thereafter, must apply to the County Treasurer in writing for a license for each such dog kept by him. If a tag is lost it will be replaced without cost by the County Treasurer upon production of the license and a sworn statement regarding the loss. No license or license tag shall be transferrable to another dog.

Every township or City Treasurer in the State, shall on or before Dec. 1, 1919, and of each year thereafter, make application to the County Treasurer for the necessary license blanks and tags for the ensuing year, and after receipting therefor, may issue dog licenses and tags in like manner, and upon like application as prescribed for issuing licenses by the County Treasurer. Each township or City Treasurer shall not later than Jan. 25th of each year return to the County Treasurer all unused tags together with the book or books from which he has issued licenses with the stubs properly filled out.

The County Treasurer shall keep a record of all dog licenses and kennel licenses issued during the year in each city and township, the record to contain the name of the person to whom the license is issued, a description of the dog, age, breed, sex, etc., and the record shall be public.

The Supervisor of every township and the assessor of every city in the state, shall annually on taking his assessment of property, make diligent inquiry as to the number of dogs owned, harbored, or kept by all persons in his assessment of property, make diligent inquiry and report of same to the County Treasurer on or before June 1, 1920, and annually thereafter, on a blank form furnished by the State Live Stock Sanitary Commission, setting forth name of every owner or keeper of any dog or dogs subject to license. For this work the Supervisor or Assessor shall receive 10 cents for each dog so listed.

On June 15th, 1920, and each year thereafter, each County Treasurer shall make a comparison of his records of the dogs actually licensed in each city or township with the report of the Supervisors or Assessors to determine and locate all unlicensed dogs. On and after June 15th of each year every unlicensed dog, subject to license, is declared a public nuisance, and the County Treasurer shall immediately thereafter list all such unlicensed dogs by the returns in his office of the supervisors and assessors, and deliver copies of the lists to the sheriff and Prosecuting Attorney. On receiving from the County Treasurer the name of any owner of an unlicensed dog, the Prosecuting Attorney shall at once commence proceedings against the owner of said dog as required by the provisions of the law. It shall be the duty of the sheriff or any member of the State Constabulary to locate and kill, or cause to be killed, all such unlicensed dogs. Failure, refusal or neglect on the part of any sheriff to carry out the provisions of this action, shall constitute nonfeasance in office. The sheriff shall also kill, on complaint from the Prosecuting Attorney, any dog that is in the habit of running at large unaccompanied by his owner or agent. It is the duty of every police officer, on complaint, to kill any dog or dogs which are found outside of an incorporated city, running at large and unaccompanied by owner or keeper. The Supervisors shall determine remuneration of such officer for doing this work.

Any person may kill any dog in the act of pursuing, worrying or wounding any live stock or attacking persons, and there shall be no liability on such person in damages or otherwise for such killing. Any dog that enters any field or enclosure outside of an incorporated city, unaccompanied by its owner or owner's agent, shall constitute a private nuisance, and the owner or tenant of such field or other enclosure, or his agent or servant, may kill such dog while it is

HIGH SCHOOL LYCEUM COURSE

SECURED FROM WELL KNOWN REDPATH BUREAU

Furnishes Good, Clean Entertainment Which Promotes Better Citizenship

An excellent list of attractions has been selected for the Lyceum Course here this season, and the sale of season tickets should be unusually large.

Reports from the well-known Redpath Bureau, from which the attractions on the course were secured, state that never before have so many communities arranged for Lyceum courses. People everywhere are welcoming the great opportunity offered by the Lyceum for good, clean entertainment and lectures of an inspirational and authoritative character.

A Lyceum course is certainly an asset to any community. It brings to the community men of note in talk on important themes, and it also furnishes music, song and story of high standard. The Lyceum cannot but make for better citizenship.

The local course has been carefully selected, and the attractions will be found to be both inspiring and enjoyable. The different numbers may be briefly described as follows:

Oct. 22—Kryl's Orchestral Sextette. This is a strong number and one that is sure to please.

Dec. 1—The Winters Company. They will give full satisfaction, rendering a program substantially artistic.

Feb. 26—The Montague Light Opera Singers. A program that will appeal to all classes.

March 5—Maud Ballington Booth. The little mother of the prisons. Classed with the great modern Americans.

March 24—Lou J. Beauchamp. The thinker who makes you laugh, the humorist who makes you think.

Remember to read the program which will soon be delivered to you, and then buy a season ticket.

YOUNG BOY INJURED IN ACCIDENT AT FAIR

Struck by Auto at Entrance of Grounds—Skull Fractured

Wm. Aldendifer, aged eleven years a grandson of W. H. White of Boyne City, received a fractured skull in an accident near the fair grounds entrance about 9:45 p. m., Thursday.

The lad was in company of relatives and was endeavoring to get a car for down town. He ran out into the road to see one of the jitney drivers and was struck by a passing car.

He was taken to the home of Peter LaLonde in an unconscious condition in which he remained for 24 hours. He is recovering now, however, and if complications do not act in will soon be out of danger.

NEW OVERLAND IS A WONDER

GRAND RAPIDS TO CHARLEVOIX ON 9 GALLONS GAS

Riding Qualities Praised by All Those That Have Ridden in Latest Overland Production

The new "Overland 4" which has created such a stir in the automobile world, is at last here. Benj. Brown, local Overland dealer, received his first car last week and it is now on exhibition at the Brown Garage.

It is well known that the Overland people have spent the last three years in developing this new car and every thing possible has been done in the way of material and engineering to make it as near perfect as possible. The work on the car first started before the United States entered the war, but on the outbreak of hostilities the work of production was stopped as the Overland plant was turned over entirely to war work. The tests and experiments on the new car did not stop, however, and all during the period of war men were working to find the weak points and to perfect them. As a result of this labor they are bringing forth a car that is said to outclass anything of its type ever produced.

The production of the "Overland 4" marks the culmination of one of the most interesting undertakings in automobile history, and is a tribute to the persistent purpose which has guided President John N. Willys of the Overland company since he built the first Overland car ten years ago. The factory has not only road tested this new car for over 200,000 miles but has worked out service plans to the smallest detail. They have figured on the time and cost for each mechanical adjustment that can be made on the car. By a clever combination of cantilever springs arranged in V shape at each end of the car, the little machine is given the equivalent in riding qualities of a 130-inch wheel base.

Simplicity is the new model's middle name. An example is seen in the lubrication. The oil in the crank case of the motor, for instance, oils not only every part of the motor but the transmission and universal joint as well. There is no pump, but the oil is circulated under high pressure by the gear teeth on the fly wheel.

Nothing ever built on four wheels probably was ever so accessible. Even the upholstery comes out. It is a car of units, any one of which may be taken out of the car in a few minutes, and this includes the motor, gas tank, transmission, axles or any other major unit.

It is all enamel finish, the kind that is baked on and will not come off under rough usage or exposure. The car turns in a 30-foot street, climbs like a squirrel and gets away like a jack rabbit. It is a bear cat for power and only weighs 1825 pounds.

Alfred J. Brown of the Brown garage went to Grand Rapids and drove the new car from that place here. He left Grand Rapids Tuesday, September 16, and arrived in Charlevoix September 17. The driving distance from here to Grand Rapids is 268 miles and in making this run the car driven by Mr. Brown used nine gallons of gasoline and one and one-half quarts of oil or an average of nearly 30 miles on a gallon of gasoline. This is only one of the many cases where a 30 mile average has been made. Mr. Brown, as well as those from the city who have ridden in the new car, say that it is the easiest riding that they ever saw and also the easiest to handle. They say that words can not express the way it rides and one must try it for themselves before they will be able to realize the riding qualities of this new Overland.

Any one who is at all interested in automobiles is invited to stop at the Brown garage and inspect this new production.

Reeves—Party

Mr. George Reeves, who for some months has conducted a shoe repair shop at 209 South Lake street, and Miss Florence Party also of this city, were united in marriage at Charlevoix, Wednesday the 17th by Elder C. N. D. of the Latter Day Saints church of Boyne City. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves will make their home in Charlevoix, having acquired by purchase the Carter restaurant, which they will personally conduct. —Boyle Citizen.

SCHOOL WINNERS AT FAIR

CHARLEVOIX EXHIBIT BEST IN YEARS

East Jordan Wins First Place, Charlevoix Second and Boyne City Third

The Charlevoix County Fair Association feels justified in saying that it owns the largest county fair school display building in the state, and possibly in the United States. Handsomely constructed in the shape of a double cross, with the first cross sixty by sixty feet and the second cross seventy by seventy-two feet, it affords a fine opportunity for school work of every description and the exhibit was the largest in years.

The East Jordan exhibit covered over sixteen hundred square feet of wall space, and a floor area sixty by twenty. The manual arts and mechanical drawing attracted most attention, although the sewing and history note books were very popular. In the oral contests in the auditorium of the building, East Jordan won first place in experiments in physics and chemistry, in a baking contest, and in declamations and orations. The school agricultural exhibit was in the Charlevoix County Boys' and Girls' Club building, and in this also East Jordan won first place.

The Boyne City exhibit was unusually good in quality, although much of the work that had been prepared had been lost through many changes in the teaching corps of the city. The work covered over eight hundred feet of wall space, and filled a room twenty feet square. Their kindergarten, and first and second grades display won first place, and the sewing exhibit won first place. Boyne City had a very good school garden exhibit in the Club Building and carried off second honors in this department. Due to local difficulties they were unable this year to enter the oral contests.

The Charlevoix exhibit was the best in years. The grammar grade display was unusually good, commercial department a close rival with East Jordan, history, English, science and Latin first place in high school work. In size Charlevoix's display was about the size of Boyne City's but they lacked the manual arts, except in mechanical drawing, and brought with them no sewing display. They have no agricultural department and are usually handicapped in the number of departments which they will represent, but this year they seem to have fully made up their minds that the ones they do have will speak for themselves. They were without competition in the little folks dance—in which three of their little girls won first place.

The grand total of the score as turned in by the board of judges showed Boyne City third with 337 points, Charlevoix second with 551 points, and East Jordan first with 1147 points. Her neighboring cities had much to overcome during the past year, but spirit is high and it is doubtful if East Jordan can do this again.

Ironton was the only two-room school represented and won first place without competition, but the exhibit was good and she would not need to have feared competitors.

Among the one-room schools, Norwood was easily first, with a splendid exhibit, including both canning and vegetable exhibit in the club building, and contestants in the oral contests. Their score was 223 points. Horton Bay, excluding the club exhibit in which they had no entries, was the best shown. Horton Bay score was 175 points. The Knop school came third with a score of 131 points. Rock Elm, Johnson, and Wildwood had splendid exhibits in which many individual prizes were awarded.

Leslie Burns of Hopyard won first place in the county in rapid addition, giving the answers to thirty-six combinations in twenty-two seconds. Harriet Chaddock of the Chaddock school was second with a record of twenty-eight seconds.

In the third and fourth grade multiplication contest, Wilbur Seymour of Norwood gave thirty-six correct answers in seventeen seconds, and won first place in the county. Olga Schultz of the Knop school had a record of twenty-two seconds, and Mary Shew of Chaddock school twenty-three seconds.

In the fifth and sixth grades a royal race was on. Anna Jones of (Continued on page 12)

BURGLARS BREAK INTO CAMPBELL SHOE STORE

Pulled Bars From Window and Break Lock on Back Door

The Campbell Boot Shop was entered by burglars late Thursday night or early Friday morning. The robbery was committed by Floyd Bradley and James Clab, both of Chicago.

The men entered the building through a window in the back of the store from which they pulled off the iron bars that protected it. They then broke the lock on the back door and left this way.

When the affair was discovered Friday morning on opening the store shoe boxes were piled on the floor and shoes scattered around the place. About seventy-five pairs of shoes were missing.

The authorities were notified at once, which resulted in the capture of one of the men, a Floyd Bradley, who was employed at McCann's bakery. He was found in bed with a pair of ladies' shoes on.

The other man, James Clab, was taken later on and both of them are now in the county jail. The shoes were all recovered, part of them being hidden in a grain sack in McCann's basement. Aside from the damage to the shoes, the loss only amounted to about ten dollars.

ST. JAMES MAN BADLY WOUNDED

SHOT THROUGH ABDOMEN SUNDAY EVENING

Allie Ward Being Held as Man Who Fired the Shot—High Powered Rifle Was Used

John Floyd, aged thirty-five years and single, was shot through the lower abdomen just at dusk Sunday evening at St. James, Beaver Island, by Allie Ward, a St. James mechanic. A high powered rifle was used in the shooting and the bullet tore a bad hole through Floyd's body, fracturing the top of one hip and causing a dangerous wound. The man was given first aid by Father Jewel, there being no physician on the island, and was taken to Petoskey by boat late Monday to the Petoskey hospital. He suffered much pain Sunday night and Monday but Tuesday was reported to be resting more and in much less pain.

Ward, the man who did the shooting, was brought here Monday by Sheriff Weaver and is believed to be slightly crazy. He is said to have stood on the side walk about twelve rods from his shop and fired three shots at Floyd, the last one hitting him in the abdomen. There were other people about at the time and one man was standing a few feet from Floyd, several children also being nearby. Floyd, it is said, was just starting his automobile, having visited the machine shop to secure a wrench.

Mr. Floyd can give no reason for the shooting and expresses the belief that Ward is crazy. Ward's home is said to be at Manistee but for some time he has been at St. James. Floyd is a fisherman.

REV. HENRY CANDLER HERE NEXT YEAR

Will Again Head M. E. Church as in the Past

It has been announced that Rev. Henry Candler, pastor of the First Methodist church of Charlevoix for the past year, will again be in that pulpit for the coming year.

This announcement is met with great satisfaction by the members of this church as the work of Rev. Candler in the past has been above the average and he has made a host of good friends since coming to Charlevoix.

Rev. Candler says that he and his family are more than pleased at the prospects of another year here and is thankful for being able to spend another season among his many friends.

Moves to Detroit

M. E. Silverstein, a well known Charlevoix county attorney, who in the past has been located at Boyne City, left that place Wednesday for Detroit, where he will become a junior partner in the law firm of Co-hane and Silverstein, with offices at 705-706 Free Press Building. Mr. Silverstein expresses a desire that his many friends call on him while in Detroit.

LARGEST FAIR OF HISTORY

RECORD BREAKING ATTENDANCE—NEW ADDITIONS

New Buildings Made Grounds More Attractive and New Entrance a Great Advantage

It has been the aim of the fair committee each succeeding year to give its many patrons a better fair than the one the preceding year. Some years the step forward has been slight, due to the many obstacles to overcome, but this year's annual exhibit was an advancement so far forward that it will be hard to keep up the same pace from year to year.

Progressiveness was shown this year in material changes from the main entrance to the opposite side of the grounds where the new Loeb building was erected. And between these two limits of the grounds many substantial improvements were manifested which brought praise from the numerous fair visitors.

Without a question the greatest improvement was that of the new addition to the Educational Hall. Charlevoix county may well feel proud of its record in developing the school educational exhibits at its county fair. Going back into history it can well be remembered when the school exhibit was cramped up into a small corner of the old fine arts building, without the proper space for a display of any size. Then the Charlevoix County Fair Association became the pioneers in developing the school educational exhibits by erecting what was considered at that time a very large structure dedicated to the schools of our county. It is a matter of satisfaction that this plan has since been adopted by many fairs in this and other states. However, as the years passed, it became evident that the building was inadequate to meet with the ever increasing demand for exhibits in the school branch of the fair. This year the entire building has been reconstructed and remodeled, making it by far the finest exhibition building on the grounds, and a credit to any fair association, big or little, in Michigan or any other state.

The remodeling of the entrance proved also to make a big hit with the public as it eliminated the former confusion in entering and made the work of the men at the gates much less complicated. Aside from improving the appearance it formed a safe-guard for the ones coming in on foot.

Many other improvements of lesser importance were manifest but each and all showed progress toward making the fair what it is intended to be—the best fair in this part of the state.

Never before in fair history was there such crowds as were present at the fair grounds Wednesday and Thursday. Due to the down-pour Friday nearly all of the attractions had to be cancelled but the attendance had already been broken on the two previous days. This means that the gate receipts were larger than ever heretofore, and shows that the people of this county appreciate the efforts spent by the fair committee in arranging their program and their work in bringing the fair up to the standard that it reached this year. A large amount was spent in making the new additions to the grounds and bringing in the free attractions and this added gate receipt will help balance the additional expense.

ANOTHER STEAMER FOR MICH. NAVIGATION CO.

Purchases Passenger and Freight Steamer from Government

The Michigan Transportation Company, which owns and operates the steamers Manitou, Missouri and Kansas, has just announced the purchase of the large passenger and freight steamer Puritan of the United States government. The ship has been in service on the Atlantic and is now being brought to Manistee, the home port of the company's winter quarters. The ship is ten feet shorter than the Manitou and has beautiful passenger quarters as well as large freight space. It is understood that she will be placed on the Northern Michigan run next summer.

Loren Duffey has delivered several loads of alfalfa hay to the Loeb farm during the past week.

Jack Jardine, who has been spending a few days with his parents, has returned to his work in Lansing.

James Wilson, who is working in Charlevoix, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wilson.

We are glad to report that Waneta and Floyd Beers are on the road to recovery, but sorry that Glenn is now sick with scarletina.

We were glad to have Missionary Weaver and his wife with us at Sunday school last Sunday, and enjoyed the interesting talk which he gave.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coblenz, who have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Coblenz, left Wednesday to attend the fair, after which they returned to their home in Charlevoix.

Our farmers, who own silos, invested in a new International Silo Filler this season, which is doing excellent work. So convenient, too, to be able to fill your silo just when it suits you best.

MARION

Several from Marion attended the fair at East Jordan and report that the crowd was the largest ever known of at the fair.

The new school house in District No. 5 has almost reached the state of completion and it is expected that it will be ready for school the first Monday in October.

Mrs. F. W. Smith returned home from Detroit Thursday after spending the past six weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Goheen, and her sons, Edgar and Arlie.

BARNARD

Farmers are busy filling silos these days.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Potter, Sr., moved into their new bungalow on Monday.

Mrs. George Clark and family spent Sunday at the Howard Gornell home.

Everybody and their neighbors attended the fair last week, reporting the largest crowd ever present.

Mr. and Mrs. John Holliday of Harbor Springs were in the neighborhood on business last Thursday.

Some reckless auto driver, driving without lights, collided with Mrs. H. Potter's horse and buggy on Wednesday evening last and caused her considerable damage and inconvenience, although she considers herself lucky to escape injury. However, the driver wasn't troubled as he never slowed up but drove straight on. Surely this is getting to be a fast race.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION

The Antrim County Fair association and the board of supervisors of Antrim county will entertain the service men of the world war at the fair grounds during the fair, Oct. 1 and 2. Everything possible is being arranged to give the heroes the time of their lives. They will be camped on the fair grounds. Tents, cots and blankets will be furnished by the state and meals served free on the grounds. In fact, everything will be free to the boys in khaki and navy blue. Maj. John C. Emery, of Grand Rapids, will be in charge of the assemblage. Other features of the fair will be an auction sale of stock on the last day of the fair, which, from all indications, will prove a winner.

As a result of a survey of the national markets by officials of the Michigan Potato Growers, exchange at a Cadillac meeting recently, it has been decided to market a special trade marked 100-pound sack of Michigan potatoes this year in addition to the regular output of 150-pound sacks. The select sack will be sewed with a red string to protect the Michigan brand.

The survey of markets was made by Oscar D. Buell, president of the potato exchange, and C. E. Prater, Jr., sales manager. The territory covered included potato brokers in Toledo, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Chicago, the principal markets for the Wolverine tuber.

Dealers everywhere are enthusiastic about the Michigan potato and stand ready to pay a premium for graded potatoes from the central exchange. The special sacks that the Cadillac exchange plans to market will contain nothing but No. 1 potatoes of nearly uniform size, with culls and speared tubers eliminated. While on the tour about the central states, Mr. Buell spoke at several farmers' meetings and served on a committee at the grain shippers' convention in Chicago.

Government officials of the treasury department are authority for the statement that the indebtedness of the United States, at the close of business August 13th, amounted to the sum of $26,596,715,648. Our allies are indebted to this government in the sum of $9,684,272,567, according to a statement made from the same source.

Francis Shakanaba and John Nognishe, Petoskey Indians, who were captured some weeks ago a few hours after they had sawed their way out of the county jail, have served out their terms, and are being held for jail breaking.

Francis Shakanaba was in for violation of the liquor law but his case was dismissed recently in Circuit court. He would have had his freedom had he remained in jail. John Nognishe was serving sixty days for violation of the liquor law and would also have been free today had he not tried to shorten his term by the jail-breaking route.

Fossard Thompson, half-breed Indian, and said by officers to be the man wanted for the theft of the A. A. Wheat automobile, has been arrested in South Bend, Ind., and is being held there for Michigan officers. Sheriff Miller, of Petoskey, and Sheriff Taylor, of Traverse City, working together, have been looking for the man. Thompson's cousin, Herbert Thompson, also wanted for being implicated in the car stealing deal, is being held in Chicago.

Both men are wanted on a charge of breaking into a store at Berkley, near Traverse City, and it is not known on what charge they will be tried first.

The Wheat car was one of about a half dozen it is said these men stole or helped to get away with.

An Iowa local paper prints the following, which, to say the least, we fear, is somewhat overdrawn:

"Seven years ago a farmer living west of this city hung his vest on a fence in the backyard. A calf eighed up a pocket in the garment in which was a standard gold watch, bought from Jim De Wit. Last week the animal, a staid old milch cow, was butchered for beef and the time-piece was found in such a position between the lungs of the cow that the respiration, the closing in and the filling of the lungs, kept the stem-winder wound up and the watch had lost but four minutes in the seven years."

president; May Tilley, vice president; Ruth Whitney, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Morrison spent the summer in Charlevoix, tutoring, except for trips, two weeks each, to Menominee, Mich., and Fayette, Ohio.

Miss Bates did degree work at the Mt. Pleasant Central State Normal College and also attended the Inter-denominational Bible Conference at Winona Lake, Indiana.

News from the 1919 class, that all are well launched in their new schools.

Good news also from the 1918 class, one of which, Lillian MacNeill, is teaching in the Lincoln school of the Charlevoix schools. She, with her sister, Leone, attended summer school at the Ypsilanti Normal college.

AT THE MOVIES

Why "Virtuous Men" is "The Great Melodrama of the Year"

"Virtuous Men" was directed personally by Ralph Ince, responsible for the biggest screen success of the past few years. It stars E. K. Lincoln, one of the favorites of the motion picture public. The production was eleven months in the making—cost over $150,000 to produce and contains a brilliant array of celebrities of both stage and screen appearing in support of E. K. Lincoln. "Virtuous Men" abounds in spectacular scenes, magnificent sets, tremendous climaxes and real thrills.

Among the outstanding features of "Virtuous Men" are scenes in which 10,000 supernumeraries appear, a tremendous forest fire, a society ball of magnificence and beauty and the most terrific hand-to-hand fight ever witnessed. The ball room scenes are the most extraordinary and gorgeous ever filmed. Beautiful women, exquisite gowns, rare jewels and massive settings make these scenes the finest spectacle ever seen. Suspense—action—beauty—finely played drama—all these have their share in making "Virtuous Men" the great melodrama of the year.

At the new Palace theatre Wednesday, October 1.

The free dance for the soldiers and sailors at the D'Ooge barn has been postponed until Thursday, October 2nd.

PRESIDENT WILSON ASSUMES A TERRIBLE RESPONSIBILITY

If Germany had dreamed that the United States would enter the war
she would not have undertaken it, President Wilson declared at Indianapolis.

The logical consequence of that statement is that if President Wilson, inspired by those motives of world service he now claims prompted us to enter the war, had notified Germany that unless she withdrew to her borders when Belgium was invaded, or before Belgium was invaded and we knew, as a competent diplomatic service could have learned, that this act was in contemplation,
then the war would then and there have ended.

In other words, President Wilson, by this statement, loads upon himself the responsibility for the continuance of the war, with its vast loss of life and treasure, for failing to make clear to Germany that this country would not tolerate such a war as Germany waged.

Why did Germany not dream that we would enter the war? German diplomats had reported to headquarters the inauguration of a Secretary of State under the Wilson administration who declared this country would never go to war while he held office. He had seen hundreds of American lives and hundreds of millions of American property destroyed in the neighboring nation of Mexico without response from this country.

other than frequent gushes of rhetoric.

It was this policy, coupled with the adoption of that pathetic ditty,
"I did not raise my boy to be a soldier," as the Democratic national hymn; this "he keeps us out of war" cry with which President Wilson fooled the people in 1916 as he is now trying to fool them for 1920, that, more than all else, made it necessary for us to sacrifice fifty thousand lives and forty billion dollars.

President Wilson makes it clear that if Germany had understood that other nations, particularly England and the United States, were not so pacifistic that they would endure insult and assault without resentment, there would have been no war.
Where, then, does the responsibility rest? Upon those who believed in a policy of reasonable preparedness and firmness, or upon those who taught Germany to believe that she was the only fighting nation on earth and that the rest of the world was made up of mollycoddles and cowards?

The only way to curb bullying, individual and national, is to have every national bully understand that goodness, either individual or national, is not necessarily coupled with anaemic mollycoddles; that men and nations will fight to defend themselves, if necessary, as well as to impose on others. Surely that lesson has now been learned.

We had to have the war just ended because the nations Germany otherwise would have feared were dominated by men who advertised themselves as being too proud to fight, and led the Kaiser to believe that they could be trampled upon and spit upon with impunity. It required vast sacrifice of blood and treasure to eradicate from the minds of the Kaiser and the militarists he typified this terrible delusion.

Why buy cheap, short lived tires?

BEST EXHIBIT IN FAIR HISTORYFRUIT AND VEGETABLE EXHIB-ITS BELOW FORMER YEARS

Stock Exhibit and Educational Work
Boost Average of Exhibition
Far Above Normal

The exhibits at the County Fair this year, as a whole completely out-class any exhibition ever shown in the past years. The departments handling the showing of fruit and vegetables fell off considerably, but the products that were on exhibition were of the very best, the only thing lacking being quantity.

Outside of these two departments the exhibit was of the best, particularly the stock department. There were more blooded cattle on exhibition than ever before and it is evident that the farmers in this region are beginning to realize the value of developing their stock.

The Fancy Work division was well filled with excellent exhibits which was a source of amusement for the ladies.

The new Educational Hall was,
however, superior to anything else on the grounds, and here was shown the work done by the pupils of the public schools of Charlevoix county.
This department was in charge of Miss May Stewart, Commissioner of Schools, and under her direction the department was thoroughly revised and the list of rewards placed on a standard basis, and the work exhibited followed a definite plan showing wonderful progress over that of last year.

The Boys' and Girls' Garden Club exhibit, shown in a separate building was excellent, showing what good work young people can do in the way of producing vegetables.

In the department of Farm Machinery several tractors were on exhibition, giving demonstrations; also a silage machine. Many other makes of machinery were exhibited.

CHARLEVOIX COMMER-CIAL ASS'N MEETS

Supper and Speaking Featured the Evening's Program

The Charlevoix Commercial Association met Friday night, September 19, a fair attendance and a good program resulting.

A supper was served and a program of speaking and discussion followed. Mr. Roe, president of the West Michigan Tourists and Resor-ters' Association, Hugh J. Gray, secretary of the same organization, and
A. L. Creamer of the Inn were among those who spoke.

The reasons for calling this meeting was to discuss the subject of continued membership in the local commercial organization of which many of the business concerns of this city are members.

Are Coats High?

It All Depends—

"Why, these coats are not high!" exclaimed a shopper yesterday afternoon. "I expected to pay at least $10 more for a coat as nice as this."

The secret of these prices, apparently lower than elsewhere, is that we bought the coats right and we are selling them right.

That is why we invite your buying by comparison, and if you do, it is almost certain that your coat will be bought here.

M. A. Levinson & Co.

It has been the idea of many that farther outside advertising of Charlevoix was useless, but those who heard Hugh J. Gray speak on this subject should be thoroughly convinced as to the results that the outside advertising has done for Charlevoix. It may not be known by the people of Charlevoix, that this place is practically unheard of in many parts of the country. Take the east, for instance, where the largest number of people looking for summer resorts are to be found. They do not even know that Charlevoix is on the map, and it is up to the people here to let them know the kind of a resort that Charlevoix affords.

Every point of Mr. Gray's address pointed to wonderful progress made by advertising and the proofs that he offered were ones that hold water.
A motion was then made by A. F.
Bridge that the sum of $1500 be raised to continue this advertising, and the motion was passed.

The Call to Students

September sounds the call to students to return to their studies after summer relaxation.

Each new term brings our young men and women nearer the day when they will launch out for themselves, taking their place beside their parents as factors in the great world of progress.

As we have the privilege of serving the older generation we hope also to serve you. A growing Savings account here now will be found advantageous—a definite aid in making preparations for a successful future.

WEDDING AT M. E. CHURCH THURSDAY

Fred W. Sweet of Muskegon and Miss Edna V. Kulham

A very pretty wedding took place at the M. E. parsonage Thursday night when Fred W. Sweet of Muskegon, Michigan, and Miss Edna V. Kulham were united in marriage by Rev. Henry Candler.

They were met in front of the parsonage after the ceremony by a large number of friends, including a large number of the teachers of the public schools. The couple were attended by Bernard Miller and Miss Ruth Hooper.

PLYMOUTH COUPLE MARRIED HERE

Ceremony Performed at the Home of George Swinton

Herald F. Hamill and Miss Mildred L. Tyler, both of Plymouth, were married Thursday night at the home of George Swinton, Rev. Henry Candler officiating.

The groom is the assistant engineer on the new Charlevoix road and the bride a well known Plymouth girl. They were attended by Perry Mason and Miss Eunice Carr. They are now at home to their friends at their home at Pine Point.

MATE OF LIGHT SHIP DIES

Stricken by Apoplexy While Leaving Life Boat

George Gunderson, mate of the lightship on Lansing Shoal, was stricken by apoplexy while leaving a life boat to get on the lightship last Monday.

The body was brought to Charlevoix Tuesday and then shipped to Sheboygan, Wisconsin, the home of the stricken man, Wednesday afternoon.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless, no sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a scorching twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to finish out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

SAGE TEA DARKENS HAIR TO ANY SHADE

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

Not brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FARM POULTRY

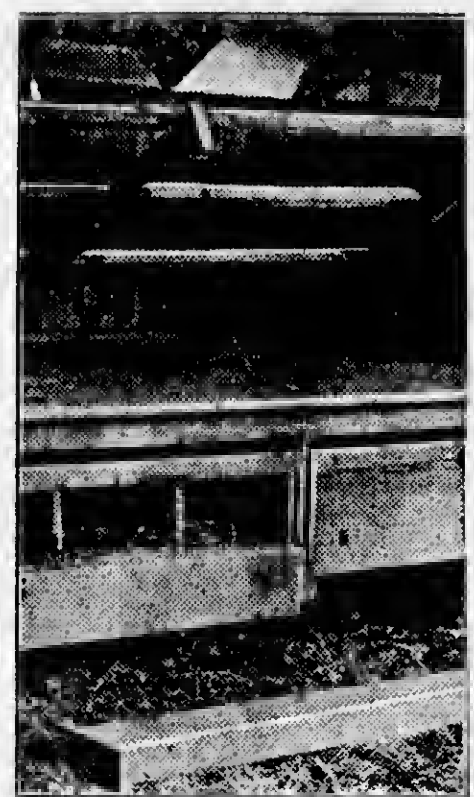

CARE FOR HEALTH OF FOWLS

Dropping Boards Should Be Cleaned Weekly—Isolate Birds With Colds—Keep Away Insects.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Clean the dropping boards at least once a week, and spray the roosts once a month with kerosene or some commercial preparation for killing mites. Have a good supply of sand or dry dirt on hand to use on the dropping boards.

If any of the birds develop colds

A Clean House Promotes the Health of Poultry.

put as much potassium permanganate as will remain on the surface of a dime into a gallon of water and keep this material in their drinking water for several days, or until the symptoms of the colds have disappeared. Remove any sick birds from the flock as soon as noted and treat them in coops by themselves or kill and bury them if they are not worth treating.

Examine the pullets and hens for lice and dust thoroughly with a good insect powder or apply a mixture of equal parts of vasoline and mercuric or blue ointment, applying a piece about the size of a pen one inch below the vent of the bird, rubbing the mixture lightly on the skin. An application of this ointment two or three times a year will keep the fowls free from lice. Where insect powder is used, it should be applied three or four times a year, or often if the fowls become infested with lice. Provide a small box in the house, partly filled with dry road dust or fine dirt, in which the hens may dust themselves, thus helping to keep them free from lice.

Nest in Communities.
The weaver birds of South Africa join forces. Scores of pairs nest together under a huge umbrella-shaped structure which they build by their combined labor. Some of these amazing co-operative nests contain a good cartload of grain.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flush any time.

Camel Cigarettes

They Win You On Quality!

Your enjoyment of Camels will be very great because their refreshing flavor and fragrance and mellowness is so enticingly different. You never tasted such a cigarette! Bite is eliminated and there is a cheerful absence of any unpleasant cigarette after-taste or any unpleasant cigarette odor!

Camels are made of an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos and are smooth and mild, but have that desirable full-body and certainly hand out satisfaction in generous measure. You will prefer this Camel blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

Give Camels the stiffest tryout, then compare them with any cigarette in the world at any price for quality, flavor, satisfaction. No matter how liberally you smoke Camels they will not tire your taste!

There is a world of interest in reading advertisements

Your weekly newspaper is far brighter and more interesting for the advertisements it contains. You get information from them. You learn all about many little things that are of so much personal importance in your life. They keep you posted. They tell you what is new and desirable.

Sometimes they keep you from making an unwise purchase by pointing out just the reasons why one article suits your needs better than another. Reading advertisements helps you to economize. You know that economy is not alone a matter of saving money but of spending money to advantage. Advertising identifies goods of unquestioned value.

When a store or manufacturer puts a name on goods and tells you about them you may be sure they are worth while because it does not pay to advertise merchandise that is not good.

Make a practise of reading advertisements. Read them as news from the business world, published for your benefit. They will help you live better and dress better and make more of your income in every way.

PREVENT INJURY BY ARMY WORMS

Important That Pest Be Discovered Before Crops Have Been Seriously Damaged.

EXAMINE MEADOWS CLOSELY

Grass or Grain Should Be Carefully Inspected to Detect Presence of Caterpillars—Poisoned Baits May Be Used.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Watchfulness is the key to success in cases of invasion by army worms, which are young of certain moths or caterpillars that fly only at night. The eggs from which the army worms hatch are laid commonly on grasses or grasslike plants and the tiny caterpillars, upon hatching, feed for several days near the ground, hidden by overhanging grasses or grains and thus may escape notice until nearly full grown, by which time they have become widely distributed over the infested fields.

Upon the discovery of the pest in its younger stages depends very largely the possibility of stamping out infestations before serious injury to crops has occurred. Meadows therefore should be examined frequently, particularly those planted to timothy, bluegrass, wheat, and especially millet, to discover the young worms.

If the infested spot be small, the grass or grain can be mowed off and straw scattered over the spot and burned, thus destroying the worms. If the caterpillars have become distributed over a considerable area, this can be marked off by stakes and the crop sprayed heavily with a solution of paris green at the rate of one pound to 50 gallons of water, or of arsenic of lead at the rate of one pound of the paste or one pound of the powder to 50 gallons of water.

Poisoned Baits for the Army Worm.

Poisoned baits have long been used as a means of destroying the numerous species of cutworms and also the army worm. An efficient bait of this kind may be prepared and used as follows: To 50 pounds of wheat bran and one pound of paris green or two pounds of powdered arsenic of lead; add the juice of one-half dozen oranges or lemons. Then bring the ed by fattening or diluting completely around the infested area.

Summary of Control Measures for the Army Worm.

1. Watch fields of growing grass and grain carefully, especially the meadows, during the spring and early summer months, to discover the army worms before they become full grown and spread over the entire farm. When the worms are discovered at work, do not lose a minute, but attack them vigorously by means of the measures outlined in foregoing paragraphs.
2. Poison them by spraying crops not intended for forage with one pound of paris green to 50 gallons of water, or with two pounds of powdered arsenic of lead to 50 gallons of water. In case the paris green is used on tender plants, like corn, add two pounds of freshly-slaked lime to 50 gallons of the mixture. This is to prevent burning the tender plants. Where spraying is not practicable, the use of the poisoned-bran bait at ready mentioned is strongly recommended.
3. In case the worms are crawling in a body, surround them with a furrow or ditch and crush them with a log drag as they fall into it.

KEEPING POULTRY IN TOWNS

Especially in Suburbs of Large Cities Families Should Keep Small Flocks of Hens.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When conditions render it feasible small flocks of poultry should be kept by families in villages, towns and especially in the suburbs of large cities. The need for this extension of poultry raising is particularly great where consumption exceeds production, as in the northeastern states. Through utilization of table waste, scraps and other refuse as poultry feed much wholesome food in the form of eggs and poultry for home use may be produced at relatively low cost.

STRONG BIRDS FOR BREEDING

Comb, Face and Wattles Should Be Bright Red—Eyes Bright and Prominent.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Fowls for breeding purposes should be strong, healthy, vigorous birds. The comb, face and wattles should be of a bright red color, eyes bright and fairly prominent, head comparatively broad and short and not long or crew-shaped, legs set well apart and straight, plumage clean and smooth.

SMALL-TOP MILK PAIL BEST

Prevents Entrance of Dust or Dirt and Greatly Reduces Number of Bacteria in Milk.

In modern dairies where clean milk is produced the small-top milk pail is a necessity, as it presents only a small opening into which dust and dirt may fall from the air or from the cow's body. It has been found by experience that the use of a pail of this kind greatly reduces the number of bacteria in milk from dairies where it is used. Many types of milk pails are for sale, but any thinner by the addition of a hood can convert an ordinary pail into a small-top pail.

In the Margin.

Occasionally one finds unobscured, sometimes of quite common words, and makes pleasure in writing them neatly in the margin of the dictionary. Often there is more satisfaction in finding the dictionary lacking than there would have been in finding the desired word in its place; in any case it serves small purpose to make these entries, but the inclination is irresistible.

Talking of faults recalls the anger of the antecurial Scottish parson who, when his meanings were disputed by reference to the first dictionary makers, asked his argumentative parishioners the despot question: "Am I not as good an authority as Doctor Johnson?"

This was merely an extreme way of expressing dissatisfaction with one definition or accent.

HESSIAN FLY IS VERY INJURIOUS

Another Outbreak of Pest Is Expected, Perhaps Within Next Few Months.

CAPABLE OF GREAT DAMAGE

Insect Feeds Chiefly on Wheat Plant and in Smaller Measure on Barley and Rye—Straws Break and Fall Before the Harvest.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Knowledge in possession of experts of the United States department of agriculture leads to the belief that the Hessian fly, the worst enemy of wheat, has begun gradually to increase. The percentage of infestation, according to the fall count, showed a distinct increase over that of last year. The principal controlling parasites are apparently absent or very scarce, particularly in the middle West. Another outbreak of the pest is expected, perhaps within the next few months. The accompanying illustration, which is being distributed by the department as a poster, presents the means of combating it.

Among insect crop pests in the United States, the Hessian fly stands first in evil reputation and possibilities. In bad years, hundreds of thousands of acres of wheat may be totally destroyed or the yield reduced as much as 75 per cent by this parasite.

Named for Mercenaries.

The Hessian fly is not a native of America and nobody knows whence it came or how. It was noticed in 1779 on Long Island, N. Y., in the vicinity of the place where Lord Howe's army, largely Hessian mercenaries, had camped three years before. The popular belief was that the Hessians had brought the insect over in the straw used by them as bedding on board ships. This came the name—and that guess is as good as any as to how the fly got here. All that can be authoritatively said is that it arrived from some transatlantic country some time after the middle of the eighteenth century.

The Hessian fly is one-tenth of an inch long, of a obscure dark color, and appears much like a very small mosquito. It lays a glossy red egg one-fifth of an inch long, from which is hatched a maggot slightly smaller than the egg. This transforms into a pupa that appears like a flaxseed and is so called. From the flaxseed the adult fly emerges. Here are four forms so extremely unlike us to be confusing to any except the expert entomologist.

The fly usually deposits its eggs in grooves on the underside of the leaves of wheat. The larva, shortly after hatching, makes its way down the tent and behind the sheath, continuing in young wheat to the roots of the plant. In older wheat it is able to go only to the joint below. Larvae are frequently so numerous as to be packed one against another and overlap. Two generations a year are produced. Overwintering is accomplished in the flaxseed stage.

Destructive to Wheat.

The Hessian fly feeds chiefly on the wheat plant, and in a smaller measure on barley and rye. The oat plant is immune. The effect is that if infestation begins while the wheat is young, the plant grows without stem and becomes a mere mass of overgrown leaves. If infestation comes after jointing has begun, the straws break over and the wheat falls before harvest.

The distribution of this pest includes North Africa, western Asia, all of continental Europe, the British Isles, New Zealand, and portions of the United States and Canada. In the United States its range extends from the Canadian border as far south as northern Georgia, and west to western Kansas, and the middle of the Dakotas. It includes, also, a narrow strip of the Pacific coast from Puget Sound to a point half-way down the California coast.

Kill Canadian Thistles. Frequent cultivation will help kill a patch of Canada thistles.

Will Pay Big Interest. Deposit the measure in the soil and it will pay big interest.

The Courier carries all the news.

"Of Two Evils," Etc.

A child with his mother was visiting some relatives. One day upon being naughty he was put to bed in the middle of the day. After being in bed a while he called for his mother and said: "Mother, Aunt Jennie spanks her girls when they are naughty. Won't you please spank me and let me get up?"

Guard the Thoughts.

A man can never do anything at variance with his nature. He carries within him the germ of his most exceptional action; and if we wise people make fools of ourselves on any particular occasion we must endure the legitimate conclusion that we carry a few grains of folly to our ounce of wisdom.—George Eliot.

Show Volcanic Formation.

The whole of the west of Scotland and northeast Ireland are of volcanic formation. Look at the Giant's Causeway, with its queer piles of basalt, and the Bile of Skye, which is simply a mile of lava. Staffa consists of sheets of heaved basaltic lava, and the famous Fingall's cave is excavated from pure lava.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Who's Intriguing Now?

When the big conference between the representatives of capital and labor meets in Washington, someone should endeavor to find out the real reason why there were more strikes in the United States last month than during any previous month during recent years. The President, in his addresses, is hopeful that the causes of discontent will be located and annointed with Governmental balm. The Washington statesmen are in "search of the trouble," and like the tramp looking for work, praying that they won't find it. One short year ago everybody knew who to blame, and Mr. Wilson pointed it out: "No intrigues of the enemy can ever divide our unity by means of those industrial quarrels, and class dissensions which he (the German) has tried so diligently to foment," declared the President. We were accustomed, particularly in Washington, to dismiss discontent with a gesture and lay it all up against "German propaganda." And in each and every instance when "industrial quarrels" threatened, the War Labor Board, with Mr. Taft at its head, shoved wages up another peg. But the beneficiaries of most wage increases have complained that the purchasing power of money has shrunk so fast that their new long pay checks do not get them any further than their old short ones.

Everyone admitted in our most troubled days that labor had fully met its responsibilities in the progress of human democracies. A good many, who were not ungrudging, said that capital had also fully met that same responsibility.

"Ah, but capital profiteered," observed the Cynic.

"Correct, but so did labor," responded Truth.

"But both, as a whole, remained true to their responsibilities to human democracies," interposed impartiality.

"Granting all this," inquires E. Pluribus Unum, "who's doing the intriguing now, for everybody knows that any man in this country has the right to cease work for any reason that may be sufficient unto himself; but there are mighty few employers who can fire him, notwithstanding which there is under-production at a time when the high cost of living is pinching everywhere?"

"Ah, lay it up to distribution, we've got to have a goat now that 'German propaganda' isn't in good working order," growled Cynic.

"But why is production below normal at a time when unemployment has given place to a decided scarcity of women as well as men, in industry," insisted Truth.

"It's a cinch that somebody is still intriguing," asserted E. Pluribus Unum.

It is a clear case for the big conference, with the American public in the grandstand. Somebody is getting away with the "goods," and the big industrial show-down between the principals of labor and Capital should uncover the intriguers.

Everybody's Doing It

Let's all strike! The policemen have been at it in Boston; and the cub reporters of New Haven whose jobs, ordinarily, aren't worth a penny, have been stacking pens and asserting their rights. Actors and actresses recently joined the proletariat movement and brought the tyrant managers to time. A delegation of red-eyed agitators out in Seattle gave their orders, first hand to the President, while he was there; and they, like the railroad brotherhoods, in their talk to Congress, said in substance: "Be quick about things, Mr. Government, or we'll tie up the industries of the country with strikes."

"Who said so?" dissents American Citizen questioningly.

"Sam Gompers," is the answer. And Sam, with his fine organization, is the biggest single-fisted man in the United States. Senator Myers warns that the success of his program in organizing policemen will extend to the affiliation of the army and navy with the American Federation of Labor. And the Senator is not lone-some in the holding of these views.

Whenever Secretary of Labor Wilson goes out to make a speech one might almost suspect that he was press-agenting for Sam Gompers. While the Secretary is sane enough with reference to the basic differences between labor and capital, still it is apparent that his department is very partisan, and its attitude towards the conditions of unrest are, to say the least, not discouraging to those "educated geniuses" outside the agitators' ranks whose inflammatory modes of speech suggest the thought that they could perform a patriotic duty to their country by holding their tongues.

Socialism appears to be digging its own grave as a distinctive doctrine, and seeks to hide its identity while its plans are being sponsored, officially, and unofficially, by the very men who protest that they hate it.

Making Oshkosh Famous

Grass rugs are in as general use as swivel chairs in the Government buildings at Washington—and while swivel chairs have won fame and blame, grass rugs have softened and enriched the lanes and corridors of war buildings, and the stone and marble edifices used by the departments of Government are also adorned by Deltox, the rugs that made Oshkosh famous.

The first carpet was created, not made; and Adam and Eve used to stroll across its velvety surface, while they looked into one another's dreamy eyes and saw apples. Thus the first parents were the original discoverers of grass carpetings. In succeeding centuries people went out into the deserts and waste places where they lost the art of joy-walking. But the time came when inquiring intellects solved the problem as to why the marshes of Wisconsin and Minnesota were luxuriant in a vegetable growth known to botanists as carix stricta, and to the home-folks as wire-grass. The answer was grass rugs. Deltox, as it develops through the surveys made by the Agricultural Department, which has prepared interesting thesis on the subject of carix stricta, is so logical to commerce and industry as was the fall of the Kaiser to the higher civilization of the Universe.

Most natural products that grow in profusion have a definite place in the scheme of Creation, which eventually inventive genius unfolds; and we may expect that some day somebody will answer the demand of a big clientele by selling cactus done up in packages de luxe, thus separating that wasteful product from its exclusive place as the background for movie films. Wire grass was nearly as far removed as cactus from the useful purposes of society before the grass rugs were perfected, ready for offices, homes and bungalows, by the inventive creations at Oshkosh.

Ordinary grass had joints and branches, and will not stand friction, crumbling, or wear—it is a sort of staff of life, or bread and cne for live stock. But carix stricta, despite the attempt to conceal its identity under an elusive botanical name, is all different. It is a long, slender, jointless vegetable growth, and grows as high as timothy or oats, in a single stem. The fibre is round and is encased in a hard outer wrapper, which is removed in the rug-making processes. Wire grass is as essential to making good rugs as hroom corn is to the grower who now sells brooms at a dollar apiece as a means of hardening his conscience before sanding the sugar and watering the gasoline tank out front. These are high spots concerning grass-rugs that have excited the attention of the Government because of their splendid progress in commerce; rugs that have flattened themselves out so extensively as to prove their success beyond all question. And at the rate these floor coverings are winning their way, the cycles of time may find grass rugs used as exclusively in buildings as were grass carpets out of doors when the first man and woman kept house and were afraid of other things besides the dark.

ELLSWORTH LOCALS

Mrs. W. A. Boss spent Friday and Saturday of last week at Petoskey. John Parsons, Sr., visited over Sunday with friends and relatives at Charlevoix.

A large number from this vicinity attended the Charlevoix county fair at East Jordan last week.

Mrs. Chas. Cornwell was called to Detroit on Saturday of last week by the serious illness of her sister.

Mrs. George Potter of Sand Point, Idaho, arrived last week for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Eugene Best.

Mrs. Winnie Potter is driving a new Ford sedan which she recently purchased from the Central Lake garage.

D. E. Clow reached home on Saturday morning of last week after a four weeks visit with his parents at Mill City, Oregon.

James Ruis and Henry Waasnaar were in Flint the first of the week and drove home two new cars for the Ellsworth garage.

Hubert Benriss, baritone player with the Ellsworth band, played with the Zouave band at East Jordan on Thursday of last week.

John Skow left on Monday of this week for Taylor's University at Uplands, Indiana, where he will study during the coming year.

George Angel of Alden and Robert Pearson of Elk Rapids each bought and shipped a car load of cattle from Ellsworth last week.

G. C. Townsend and S. P. Baar were at Traverse City one evening last week attending the banquet of Group 2 of the Michigan Bankers' Association.

Mrs. Taisey and Miss Ethel Smith, teachers in the Ellsworth schools, have rented the Lee Seism home and will board themselves during the balance of the school year.

Rev. B. O. Shattuck of Flint, former pastor of the Holiness church of Ellsworth is expected some time this week to assist in the series of special meetings now being held.

Word was received here last week that Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bushey sailed from Seattle, Washington, September 15, for Japan, enroute to their mission field in China.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sutton announce the arrival of an eight pound son at their home on September 14. The little lad, whose name is William Richard, is doing well as is the mother.

Wm. Yarrow is building an addition to his house on Park street, which, when completed, will make one of the coziest little homes in town. Albert and Calvin Supernaw are doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gidley spent Sunday and Monday at Northport, visiting Mrs. Gidley's sister. Jamea Gidley of East Jordan looked after the local drug store Monday during his brother's absence.

Gerrett Nickola has rented the W. G. Patterson farm near town and will move on it some time this fall. Ill health has forced Mr. Patterson to give up farming, temporarily at least, and he expects to work in Detroit or Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. George Watson, who have been occupying the Liberty cottage during the summer, left for their home at Chicago the first of this week. Perry Palmer left for Chicago on Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall of Grand Rapids are spending a few days visiting the latter's uncle, Frank Davey and family. Mrs. Hall was formerly Miss Ida Shug and was for a number of years an Ellsworth resident. They were married at Grand Rapids September 18 of this year.

The conference of the Michigan Methodist Association held at Lansing the first of the month appointed Rev. R. J. Slee of Ionia as District Superintendent to take the place of Rev. R. E. Meader. E. F. Vane, pastor at Ellsworth since last year, was given the charge at Cope-mish and Rev. E. E. Clark will take charge of the Ellsworth, Atwood and Norwood churches. Rev. Clark has been pastor of the Fife Lake church for the past year.

Several deals in real estate have been made in this locality during the past week. James Rues has purchased the Frank Foster home on Main street and will take possession in a few days. Gerritt Drenth has sold his farm east of town to William Bolhuis. Mrs. May Hoffman has sold her farm on the state road to Egbert Wynsma and has purchased the Byers farm near Atwood and John Bos has purchased the Conrad Schreiner farm between Atwood and Norwood.

FAIRVIEW BANKS

Rumors of a wedding. Farmers are busy filling silos these days.

Ennis Schaver buzzed wood for H. J. Timmer Monday morning. Frank Kass and Nicholas Veldkamp are building additions to their houses.

Ennis Schaver has given his house a few coats of paint, which improves it very much.

Mrs. J. Parsons visited at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. De Groot, Monday.

A few from here attended the Charlevoix county fair at East Jordan last week.

Mrs. John Jansma is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kniper, where Mr. Jansma is building a new house.

ENTERTAINMENT AT COUNTY FAIR

Outlook is That It Will be the Best Ever Held

Arrangements are completed for entertainments at the Antrim County fair held at Bellaire on September 30th and October 1, 2 and 3, and Secretary Geo. Frink assures us that this year's fair will be far and away the best ever held in Antrim county.

The entrance to the fair grounds this year will be free and in addition to ball games, horse races, etc., a number of free attractions will be given daily. The Mancelona band will furnish music on Wednesday and Thursday and the Central Lake band on Friday, the last day. The Ellsworth base ball team will oppose the Bennett team on both Thursday and Friday, and good games are looked for each time. Banks township people have always been strong supporters of an Antrim county fair and weather permitting, this year promises to be no exception.

Frank Boyd announces that his cider mill will be in operation each Saturday until the close of the season. Located at his farm two miles east of Ellsworth and three miles west of East Jordan. 39t2pd

ANTRIM CITY

Mr. and Mrs. H. Mason called at Mr. Moon's Sunday.

F. Mason and family visited with Mrs. Glazier Sunday.

Miss Dora Smallegan is spending a few days at the farm.

J. Smith has been filling silos. He is doing quite a business this fall.

Mrs. Brooks, who has been very poorly, is some better. She is under Dr. Gates' care.

At last the threshing machine arrived in this vicinity. All were glad to get "threshed."

Mr. and Mrs. McDowell and three children visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Oliver, near Bellaire.

Mr. Stoel, Mr. Stott, Mr. Brant and Inez enjoyed a jolly ride in the heavy rain storm Saturday afternoon. No real damage was done only Mr. Stoel lost his hat and Inez lost her hair pins and all got a little damp.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Simon and Grace Brooks attended the East Jordan fair Thursday. They report a very large crowd but it won't be anything compared to the crowds who will attend the home coming at Central Lake this week.

MILES DISTRICT

Roy Fowler sold 14 head of cattle last Saturday.

Esther Lalonde came home yesterday from East Jordan.

Clarence Lalonde did some farm work for Fred Kowalski last week.

Lawrence Cincush is helping Fred Baneroff cut corn and fill his silo this week.

Al Moore is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moble and helping with the farm work.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fuli and Mrs. Bert Stevens of Jackson, Mich., Mrs. James Richards and little daughter, Vivian, of Bellaire, visited with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Allie Carr Saturday.

ROCK ELM

Quite a number from this neighborhood attended the fair at East Jordan Thursday.

Mr. Metzke's brother is visiting him this week.

Mrs. Mina Donaldson visited at the home of her son, Charles, Sunday.

School Notes

School closed Thursday for the fair.

On Tuesday, the sixteenth, the school observed Constitution Day with appropriate exercises. An interesting program consisting of songs, recitations and select readings was rendered by the pupils after which Rev. Sidebotham of East Jordan gave an interesting address. There were thirteen adult visitors present, who expressed their appreciation of the work being done by Miss Gilbert.

in such field or enclosure, without liability for such killing. Except, as provided in this section, it shall be unlawful for any person, other than a police officer, to kill, injure, or attempt to kill or injure any dog which bears a license tag for the current year.

Whenever any person sustains any loss, or damage to any live stock or poultry by dogs, or whenever any live stock is necessarily destroyed because of having been bitten by a dog, such person, his agent or attorney, may complain to any Justice of the Peace of the township or city within which the damage occurred. Such complaint shall be in writing, signed by the person making it, and shall state when, where, what and how much damage was done, and, if known, by whose dog or dogs. Such Justice shall examine the place where the alleged damage was done, and the live stock or poultry killed or injured if practicable, and shall examine under oath, or affirmation any witness called before him. After making diligent inquiry the Justice shall determine the amount of damage, if any, and if possible, who was owner of the dog, or dogs causing same. If the owner of the dog, or dogs becomes known, the Justice shall issue a summons commanding the owner to appear before the Justice and show cause why said dog, or dogs, should not be killed. Any owner or keeper of such dog, or dogs, shall be liable to the County in a civil action for all damages and costs paid by such county on any such claims. Justices are to receive $2 for each case, and five cents for each mile travelled, to be paid by claimant. In all cases where damages are awarded, the fees paid by claimant shall be included.

Upon the Board of Supervisors receiving such report, if it appears that a certain amount of damages has been sustained by the claimant, the Board of Supervisors shall immediately draw their order on the County Treasurer in favor of the claimant for the amount of damage sustained, together with the necessary costs incurred by claimant. Such amount shall be paid by the County out of its general fund, no payment being made for any item which has already been paid by the owner of the dog, or dogs, doing the injury. When payment is made by the County for live stock bitten by a dog, or dogs, such payment shall not exceed $100 for each horse or mule, $40 for each head of cattle, or $12 for each head of swine.

At the time this act takes effect, all moneys then in the "dog fund" in the hands of the Township or City Treasurers, derived from taxation of dogs under existing laws, shall be turned into the County General Fund.

Any person or police officer, violating or failing or refusing to comply with any of the provisions of this Act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed three months, or to both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. All fines so collected are credited to the Library Fund.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the owner of a licensed dog from recovery, by action at law, from any police officer or other person, the value of any dog illegally killed.

Nothing in this Act shall be construed as limiting the common law liability of the owner of a dog for damages committed by it.

Dogs imported into the state for show, trial, breeding or hunting purposes, for not to exceed 30 days, do not require license.

ESSEX

Mrs. N. Dekkinga visited Mrs. Tilton Thursday.

Quite a bit of fall plowing is being done around here.

The Cooper family had a shingling bee last week Monday.

Lots of people from around here attended the East Jordan fair last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wieland returned home Sunday evening from Grand Rapids, where they and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis had been spending the week and taking in the fair. They all had a very nice time.

FIRST PRIZE AS MILK PRODUCER

HOLSTEIN WINER AT WEXFORD COUNTY FAIR

Contest Held Under Auspices of State Agricultural College—Three Highest Averages

A Holstein cow walked away with first prize as a milk producer and her half sister got second money in a three day milking contest which was the novel agricultural event at the Wexford County Fair at Cadillac, September 15-19. The cows were both three-year-olds, are registered animals, and belong to Thomas Alexander, of Cadillac.

The contest was held under the auspices of the state agricultural college. The prizes, first, $50; second, $30; and third, $20, were donated by Swift & Co., which has a creamery at Cadillac. The entire event was another move to bring Northern Michigan a step nearer 100 per cent efficiency in dairy production. It also revealed the value of keeping good cows.

The prize winning animals are a part of a herd of 50 registered animals belonging to the Cadillac dairyman. The third prize was won by a

SUMMING UP THE EVIDENCE

Many Charlevoix People Have Been Called as Witnesses

Week after week has been published the testimony of Charlevoix people—kidney sufferers—backache victims—people who have endured many forms of kidney, bladder or urinary disorders. These witnesses have used Doan's Kidney Pills. All have given their enthusiastic approval. It's the same everywhere. 50,000 American men and women are publicly recommending Doan's—always in the home papers. Isn't it a wonderful, convincing mass of proof? If you are a sufferer your verdict must be "Try Doan's first."

Here's one more Charlevoix case. Rome Pappin, 117 E. Garfield Ave. says: "About three years ago I got wet while watching a fire and about a week later was on my back suffering from rheumatic pains. For eight weeks I was in such bad shape I could hardly move. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly and the secretions were highly colored and unnatural. Dizzy spells came over me and spots floated before my eyes. Doan's Kidney Pills straightened me up in a short time, curing all the trouble."

grade cow, owned by Clifford Bertholf, of Cadillac.

The contest was based upon economy production of butterfat. The rules, formulated by the state college, provided a handicap for the fresh cow, since the cows having a long period of lactation behind them were allowed 2 ounces of butterfat for each day of the contest, for every ten-day period (not counting the first 40 days) since calving time. The Holsteins, which were fresh last spring, secured this "bonus" while the grade cow received only slight advantage through this channel, having freshened last July. In the results given below, this allowance is added to the total amount of butterfat actually produced during the 72 hour period.

The Holsteins were fed the following ration: (total for three days) silage, 94.0 pounds; alfalfa, 36.1; bran, 7.4; cottonseed meal, 7.5; corn meal, 7.5; total 169.3 pounds. This feed was valued at $1.38, which was charged against the cow. Every step in handling, feeding and milking was under the direction of the judges.

F. T. Riddell, of the department of dairying, state agricultural college, was in charge of the event.

The score of the cows follows:

IN THE AUTO WORLD

U. S. Rubber Company's Great Plantation

Far around on the other side of the world, where the fierce rays of a tropical sun beat down on the Indian Ocean, is the great rubber plantation of the United States Rubber Company on the Dutch island of Sumatra.

Yankee genius for handling big business ventures in a big way finds one of its best examples in the establishment of this enormous plantation so far from American shores. Though faced with jungle conditions, the greatest rubber company in the world has set up the largest rubber plantation in the world, and has at the same time set to working in the midst of Asiatic environment a germ of American ideas and methods that is slowly but steadily bringing about improved conditions among the 20,000 Malays and Mongols who toil on the plantation. A perfectly equipped hospital manned by American and European physicians has already won a royal medal from the Dutch government.

The big tract covers seventy square miles. It is a great orchard of stately trees growing under a high state of cultivation. Large staffs of tree, soil and rubber experts are constantly finding new methods of increasing and improving the output.

Users of United States tires have a direct interest in this plantation, because by growing and preparing its own rubber, this company is enabled to prevent adulteration and deterioration and to give a high quality and uniformity to the crude rubber used in its tires.

SCHOOL WINNERS AT COUNTY FAIR

Norwood gave thirty-six correct answers in multiplication in twelve seconds and Dale Cook of Miles school won a record of fourteen seconds.

The same two then entered the factoring contest. Anna factored fourteen numbers in twelve and one-half seconds, and Dale took only thirteen seconds for his fourteen numbers. Anna is champion of the county.

In the rural oratorical contests, the following were the winners:

In the sixth grade contest Mildred Masters of Walloon Lake, first place; and Arne Jardine of the Mountain school, second.

In the seventh grade contest Con-suella Gillespie of St. James, first place; and Gladys Morton of Boyne Falls, second.

In the eighth grade contest, Mildred Wangemann of Three Bells, first place; and Willow Morton of Boyne Falls, second.

The building was fine—but the exhibits were better yet. The contests were splendid and expressed just what the superintendents wished to express—that our schools are the best in the land and growing better all the time. They went in the foreground the schools of Charlevoix county and the people in Charlevoix county are willing to work to earn and hold that place. One more thing: One glance at the county fair grounds will tell the passing stranger that the County Fair Association holds that education is and ever shall be the central interest of worth while citizens.

"Virtuous Men"

Starring E. K. LINCOLN

The Greatest Melodrama of the Year Personally Directed by Ralph Ince

WHY "VIRTUOUS MEN" IS THE GREATEST MELODRAMA OF THE YEAR

"Virtuous Men" was directed personally by Ralph Ince, responsible for the biggest screen successes of the past few years. It stars E. K. Lincoln, one of the most popular film favorites of the motion picture public. The production was seven months in the making—cost over $150,000 to produce and contains a brilliant array of celebrities of both stage and screen appearing in support of E. K. Lincoln. "Virtuous Men" abounds in spectacular scenes, magnificent sets, tremendous climaxes and real thrills. Among the outstanding features which make "Virtuous Men" the great melodrama of the year are scenes in which 10,000 supernumeraries actually appear, a tremendous forest fire, a Society Ball of gorgeousness and beauty, the most realistic and terrific hand-to-hand fight ever witnessed. Beautiful women, exquisite gowns, rare jewels and massive settings make these scenes one of the finest spectacles ever seen on the screen. Suspense, action, beauty and finely-played drama—all of these have their share in making "Virtuous Men" the great melodrama of the year.

SELECT SEED AT DIGGING TIME

THE ONLY TIME TO SECURE THE PROPER SEED

Growers Each Year Realize Importance of Selection of Seed and Time to Do It

Much has been said and written during the last few years about the importance of securing seed potatoes from fields which are comparatively free from disease as well as from those which show high yield. The writer has been spending a large portion of the last two months visiting the different potato producing counties of the state. Evidence has accumulated on every hand showing the advantage of the use of good seed.

The proper time to make a selection of seed is when the potatoes are being harvested, or, in some cases, even before the main crop is dug. If the selection can be made before the frost kills the vines, so much the better as it will give the grower an opportunity to secure the seed from plants which show vigorous growth until killed by frost.

Late potatoes as a rule will show less injury from such diseases as Fusarium Wilt than those planted earlier. For this reason and also because late planted potatoes have proven superior for seed purposes, it is desirable when possible to select seed from late planted fields.

During the past season many cases have been observed of a comparison between the use of whole seed and cut seed. In most cases the whole seed has proven superior to the cut seed. This is in part due to the fact that the season was very dry and hot and that in many instances the planting was done when the soil was either dry or hot or both. The use of whole seed is gaining in favor among the Michigan Potato Growers. This is a good practice providing precaution is taken to secure the seed from healthy, productive fields, or better still, high yielding hills. Growers who have noted a considerable amount of disease in their fields this season will find it profitable to change seed entirely or to select their seed from their best hills. Those who use horse diggers will find that it is not very difficult to dig a few bushels of potatoes for a seed plot before the machine is started, and where hand digging is practiced this is a very easy matter. It should be kept in mind that it is not necessary for the potato to be fully matured to make good seed. In fact there is some evidence to indicate that immature potatoes are preferable for seed purposes.

If enough potatoes cannot be selected to plant the entire area, which is planned to put out another season, the grower will find it to their advantage to select enough to plant at least a half-acre which can be used for seed purposes the following season.

While we do not wish to give the impression that the seed question is the only one which needs consideration in connection with economic potato production, we are calling attention to this matter particularly at this time because it is the proper time to secure seed for the next season's planting.

SHERMAN-LEWIS WEDDING ANNOUNCED

Reception to Their Friends Will Be Given Friday Evening

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Mrs. Estella Elnora Sherman of East Jordan to Mr. Richard Lewis of Charlevoix, to take place at the home of the bride, corner William and Second streets, next Friday, October 3rd.

A reception will be held at the home on that evening from 8:30 to 9:30 and all friends of the contracting parties are invited to attend. Both Mrs. Sherman and Mr. Lewis have made many lasting friends in their years of residence in this vicinity and at Charlevoix who will be glad of the opportunity to extend congratulations to them on their most happy occasion. — Charlevoix Co. Herald.

Ironton Grange will hold a meeting on Friday night, October 3. Pot luck supper. A full attendance of the entire membership is desired. Visitors always welcome.

MEN WANTED FOR THE ARMY

Hundreds Asked to Enlist at Once for Overseas Service

Instructions have just been received from the adjutant general of the army to resume enlistments for infantry and signal corps, American expeditionary forces in Europe. This will bring joy to the hearts of many men who did not get in on the proposition before enlistments for this service were closed some weeks since. Men with previous service may enlist for one year, others for three years. All men enlisted under this authority will be sent immediately upon enlistment to overseas replacement depot, Camp Meade Md., with a view to early sailing. Telephone operators and repairmen, expert radio operators and telephone linemen are specially desired for the signal corps. The one year term for overseas duty is something entirely new and the immense amount of travel within the short time makes the engagement very similar to a sight seeing tour. Men who intend to take advantage of this opportunity should do so now, as the quota will without doubt be filled very quickly. Make your applications at the Petoskey Recruiting station, Sergt. Lindsay in charge.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT EAST JORDAN

TWO CARS COLLIDE AT FAIR GROUND CORNER

George Eckert of Alpena Killed — Driver Bound Over to Circuit Court With $1000 Bond

A fatal accident occurred last Saturday night at East Jordan when two cars collided at a turn in the road near the fair grounds, resulting in the death of George Eckert of Alpena.

Eckert was enroute home to Traverse City and had stopped in East Jordan to visit his cousin, Oscar Writzel, over night. Writzel proposed to take his cousin for a ride in his car in the evening. They started out the road leading towards the fair grounds and it is said that Writzel was driving very fast and was swaying all over the road.

Another car driven by Ed. Kake of East Jordan and occupied by John Green and Ernst Holberg was coming along the road toward the car driven by Writzel, but on seeing how fast it was going stopped and pulled off to the side of the road to allow it to pass.

Writzel's car did not go wide enough and struck the other car on the front wheel and fender, throwing it back about fifteen feet. His own car was turned around several times and smashed to pieces. Eckert was thrown from the car and struck at the base of the skull by the rear hub breaking his neck and crushing his skull, causing death almost immediately. The other car suffered very little damage in comparison, losing a front wheel and fender, and a few dents.

Oscar Writzel, driver of the death car, has been bound over to Circuit court and is being held under a $1000 bond.

RABBIT SEASON OPENED WEDNESDAY

Lawful to Hunt Until the First of Next March

The hunting season on rabbits opened Wednesday, October 1, in all territory north of town twenty north range.

The bunnies can now be lawfully killed until the first of March, 1920. It is unlawful to use ferrets or any other rodent while hunting rabbits except by farmers or fruit growers on their own land.

Finest Climate in North Michigan

As a proof of the wonderful climate of Northern Michigan it can be stated that in the regions in the vicinity of the lake there has yet to be any indication of frost, while a couple of hundred miles south frosts did considerable damage some time ago.

This region is wonderfully favored and bathing still continues and probably will continue until the middle of this month.

PETOSKEY WINS FIRST GAME

CHARLEVOIX WAS OUT LUCKED BY VISITORS

Next Game with Mancelona High School Friday Afternoon of This Week

The foot ball season opened in Charlevoix Saturday last and resulted in a defeat for the local boys.

Although the score was close and the game quite interesting, it was slow and rather poorly played. Fumbles by both sides marred the team work and slowed up the play.

The Charlevoix team although beaten, displayed more aggressiveness and pep than did that of Petoskey, and they were decidedly out lucked rather than out played.

Lack of condition and not enough practice proved costly for the Charlevoix boys. With more practice and a shift in the line up the results of the future games should be a great deal different.

The line up of the two teams were as follows:

Henry Gray	L.E.	Sec, Jones
Grosskopf	L.T.	Brown
Paige	L.G.	Eckinger
Any	C.	Wickstaff
Miller	R.G.	Burns
Ernst	R.T.	Paddock
McCarthy	R.E.	Smith
Hammill	Q.	Halverson
Curtis	L.H.	Usher, Jones
Ruggles	R.H.	Cartier
	F.B.	Hallett

Next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock the home team meets the Mancelona team here and Coach Loomis promises that the score will be different with Charlevoix on the long end. Support is one of the necessary things for a successful team and it is requested that everyone who can possibly turn out to be there.

WAR EXHIBIT AT PETOSKEY AND BELLAIRE

Victory Buttons to be Issued to Service Men and Army Nurses Corps

An army exhibit of the various articles of regular infantry field equipment, machine guns, Stokes mortars, artillery periscope, range finder, sectionalized artillery shells, etc., as well as captured German machine guns, rifles, gas masks and other things will be on display at the Bellaire fair from September 30th to October 3rd, and at the Petoskey fair from October 7th to 10th.

The display is under the charge of Lt.-Col. John L. Boer and five non-commissioned officers from the army recruiting station at Grand Rapids. This recruiting party will have Victory buttons for issue to former service men. Former members of the Army Nurses Corps, Army Training Corps and Field Clerks, are eligible to receive the Victory button as well as the ex-"Doughboys," and men who have been furloughed to the regular army reserve. All that is necessary is for the applicant to present his discharge to the officer in charge, fill out a simple form and the button will be presented.

NEW COUNTERFEIT NOTE CIRCULATED

Watch Your Bills or Possibly You May Get One

There is a new counterfeit $20 bill out and the treasury is sending out warning to this effect. The note is on the federal reserve bank of New York and the border of the note and the background of Cleveland's portrait are solid black instead of having the cross lines, and the treasury numbers are black instead of blue.

We are not very much alarmed that we will have one of these notes passed on us, as we so seldom use them of that denomination. If we should happen to get hold of one by our back subscribers paying up we would say nothing about the matter, but just frame it.

Time Does Not Change

It has been the impression of many people that there was to be a change in the time taking place October 1st. The official change in time will go into effect the 26th day of October, Sunday.

LARGE CROWDS AT BLANCHARD HOW.

COURTESY AND SERVICE IN HANDLING LARGE CROWD

Many Special Bargains and Numerous Attractions to be Given Free—Watch for Ad.

The big dissolution sale that has been running at the Blanchard Hardware Co.'s store since last Saturday has so far proven to be a big success. Seldom has there been as large crowds in a Charlevoix store as there was at this sale Saturday.

In spite of the crowd there was no confusion in the handling of the customers. A large force of clerks had been obtained and there was some one right on the job to wait on every person that came into the store. Courtesy and service has been made the slogan of this sale.

The store's stock, all of which is being sold, is on display and has been reduced in price to such an extent that there are some wonderful bargains to be had. The original prices as well as the sale reduction prices are on each piece of goods being sold. Manager Allen and Sales Manager Mors have announced that the sale will continue until Saturday, October 11th, but he advises that those wishing to make purchases not to put it off until the last minute as the stock is reducing with such rapidity that some might be disappointed in not being able to secure their wants. Every article in the store is being sold with the guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

Attention is called to the displays in the windows of the store, which are changed every other day. These displays are to denote the various bargains for that day and it is in this way that the store keeps the public acquainted with the specialties of the day. Also note the advertisement in this week's paper as it contains full information of the sale and the many bargains and free attractions which are to be given away.

STATE POLICE FOR NORTH MICHIGAN

Post at Pellston, Traverse City, Gaylord and Alpena

Four detachments of the Michigan state constabulary will be stationed in Northern Michigan, with headquarters at Pellston, Traverse City, Cadillac and Gaylord. The Pellston and Traverse City posts have been in operation for some time and the two new branches will be opened shortly, with nine men on duty at each place.

Lieutenant LaFeyer, who has charge of the troops in the north end of the peninsula, announced Monday that in addition to their other duties, that the force would assist in advising labor where they could obtain employment. It is the intention of the officials to keep a list of communities needing additional help, and where they strike a district containing men seeking employment, to direct them to where profitable employment may be found.

The constabulary is also charged with general law enforcement, and has been instrumental in the arrest of several reckless drivers who have been scorching the roads. The troops have full authority to arrest motorists who are driving without a driver's license, and have picked up a few who were evading the state law.

WORK STARTED ON SALESROOM

TO BE COMPLETED AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

A New Brown Garage to be Established in East Jordan for Overland—Oakland

The work on the new salesroom that is to be built by Benj. Brown for the display of the Overland, Oakland and Chevrolet cars, has been started and from now on the work will be hurried as fast as possible in order to have the building completed for handling the sales work of these cars.

A short time ago Mr. Brown acquired the Thomas property at the corner of Bridge and Mason streets and it is here that the new salesroom will be erected.

Mr. Brown also announces that he has purchased the old skating rink property in East Jordan and will remodel the building into a garage. This new garage is to handle the Overland and Oakland cars in East Jordan and vicinity. Work will soon begin on this new addition and the garage will open next April. The building on completion will be 50 x 90 feet and will be thoroughly equipped and made ready for an Overland-Oakland service and sales station.

TWO RESORT TRAINS ARE DISCONTINUED

Remaining Trains Will Operate on Present Time

The summer schedule of trains on the Pere Marquette railway ended Sunday, September 28th, but the only change made was the removal of the through sleepers.

The winter schedule of the Pere Marquette will be the same as now used for the regular service. The morning train will leave Charlevoix at 9:05 o'clock and the afternoon train at 2:35 o'clock. The north bound trains will arrive at 4:07 o'clock and 8:55 o'clock. The train leaving Charlevoix at 2:35 o'clock in the afternoon picks up a sleeper at Traverse City.

OUTLOOK BAD FOR SUGAR

SCARCITY AREA CONTINUES TO WIDEN DAILY

Demand is Increasing and the Supply is Limited According to Reports

Little improvement is expected to occur soon in the sugar situation. Canning operations, which have been restricted because of the shortage in sugar, will be hindered for the balance of the season, according to all indications. Handlers of fruits declare that the sugar shortage is causing a loss of fruits, which housewives would put up for the winter if they could procure the needed sugar.

Facts in regard to the sugar situation, and the absence of hope for betterment this year are given in an article in a weekly publication, "Facts About Sugar" published by the Domestic Sugar Producers, Inc., New York. The statements in the article preclude hoarding by wholesalers or other distributors of sugar. The supply is limited and the demand is heavy for sugar.

The text of the article is: "The strained refined supply situation shows no sign of immediate improvement. The scarcity area continues to widen, while the demand from all points is increasing in volume."

"With the eastern refiners back in a position to sustain meltings close to a capacity basis during September and October, some later measure of relief will unquestionably result from this improvement when the full effects of increased deliveries are felt. Because, however, of the existing heavy record rate of consumption, which shows no signs of diminishing, this relief will not serve to build up stocks, and until these accumulate the trade is of the opinion that undesirable scarcity conditions will continue."

"The question now receiving serious consideration in sugar circles is as to how long this scarcity period will last. Opinions as to the outlook are difficult to form, because of the uncertainty which now obscures future market conditions relative to the continuation of control and future prices for new crop sugars. Statistically the figures obtained from adding the balance of the Cuban old crop supply, the full Louisiana new crop sugars and the movement to market of a much larger percentage than normal of this year's beet production, indicate a supply ample to prevent a scarcity during November and December."

"But this statistical position in the light of the present sugar situation is of little value in forecasting the probable movement of sugars to market the last three months of the year. If a free market develops distribution will likely be stimulated for new crop beet and Louisiana sugars. Such a development would theoretically forecast an ample supply, although its accomplishment would press production and distribution facilities to an extreme degree."

"On the other hand, if for any reason a free market does not exist, but is in sight for 1920, the outlook points to a restricted movement of new crops far below present indicated requirements for the last quarter, producers naturally awaiting a more favorable price period."

"Based on the Cuban Producers' committee's latest estimate, which places the balance of Cubas to come forward after September 30 to the United States for the account of the Sugar Equalization Board, at 267,618 long tons, it is evident that by the end of October the Eastern refiners' supply of raws from that source will have been exhausted. They will likely be able during part of November to continue meltings, and at a sharply reduced rate possibly through the entire month. Their prospects for December are extremely dark with indications pointing to their operations during that month adding but little to the supply."

"With the inward flow of raws ending the last of October, a heavy burden will fall on the domestic beet and Louisiana producers to provide the

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION
CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Both prosecution and defense are ready to proceed with the trial of Mrs. Stanislaw Lypcynska, charged with the murder of Sister Mary John, which opened at Leland Wednesday, October 1. Work of drawing the jury will be started immediately on the opening of court.

It is the opinion of the prosecution that no great difficulty will be experienced in securing twelve men to act as jurors, though it may be necessary to examine two or more panels. Denominationalism will not enter into the eligibility of veniremen.

Judge Frederick W. Mayne has indicated that the trial will be held at Leland, where the majority of the witnesses live. Attorneys Dayton and Gilbert of Traverse City, will appear for the state and attorneys Campbell, Gaffney and Glassmide of the same place for the defense. Mrs. Lypcynska is held for the murder of Sister Mary John at the Isidore convent. She is at Leland in charge of Probate Judge Martin Brown.

Rollo McCune of Elk Rapids, who has been overseas many months, tells of the frightful destruction of government property in France at the command of American army officers;

The Chamber of Commerce of Boyne City, is considering the organization of a building and loan association. The State has furnished the local chamber with a complete text of the law together with several drafts of by-laws governing such institutions and also application blanks for charter and authority to do business. It believed that a building and loan association will be a great asset to the community and eventually assist many in owning their own homes. The matter is being thoroughly investigated and will be given due consideration in time.

While crossing Water street at the corner of Lake street, on Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. W. L. Martin of Boyne City was struck, knocked down, and badly bruised by the car driven by Mrs. Joseph Mahar.

Mrs. Martin had started from the Watson corner to cross the street and had about reached its center, when the machine operated by Mrs. Mahar and occupied by a lady friend and several children, in its progress up Lake street rounded the corner. Mrs. Martin evidently did not see the automobile until it was very close to her, she hesitated for the fatal second as to whether to proceed or step back, unfortunately she made the latter movement and the car, which luckily was proceeding at but an eight mile speed, struck her and she was thrown to the pavement. The car repeatedly hit her but the wheels did not pass over any portion of her body.

Those who witnessed the accident claim Mrs. Martin had a miraculous escape, she was doubled up and mauled beneath the machine, rolled over the paving for over twenty feet, her clothing ruined, and still she escaped with a few more or less serious bruises.

No one seems to blame Mrs. Mahar, the driver of the car, in fact it is generally considered just an unfortunate mishap which might have ended far more disastrously.

The offices of at least three of Boyne City's physicians were entered Tuesday of last week by some party suspected but not positively known, who robbed the drug supplies of all habit-forming drugs, such as cocaine and morphine.

Today the doctors are without these pain deadening medicines while some one is undoubtedly enjoying a "jag".

All hilarious citizens, also those who seem unusually "dead-to-the-world", are being looked upon with suspicion.—Boyne Citizen.

Eight cars of structural steel are on the ground at the site of the proposed new crusher at the plant of the Petoskey Portland Cement company and work on the building was put under way Thursday. The contractors are on the ground with their men and it is believed they will make rapid progress on this fine new addition to the company's manufacturing equipment.

Wednesday night's storm washed away some of the big fill at the end of the wharf but the giant concrete blocks which face the side of the wharf stood the storm in fine shape. The great waves failed to move them an inch.—Petoskey Evening News.

Friday, Oct. 3, Harbor Springs will celebrate at a home-coming for her returned soldiers. The different committees are carefully arranging a splendid program for the event and the occasion will be made one long to be remembered by everybody. The day's program will be carried out at the school grounds. The public schools will close and no doubt every business place will close and everyone participate in the festivities of the day. The Red Cross will serve a free dinner to all the soldiers and their wives. During the day there will be a baseball game and football game and every man, woman and child in the village is invited to come and have a good time. The Harbor Springs brass band will furnish music throughout the day.

country with sugar. Viewed from either an optimistic or a pessimistic angle, it is apparent that a very difficult situation lies ahead, to bridge which will severely tax distributors. "Meltings for the week ending September 6, as reported in the Sugar Equalization Board's statistics, showed a slight falling off from the improvement recorded in the preceding week, when they returned close to the 100,000 ton mark. They were placed for the entire country at 88,056 tons, as compared with 99,493 tons for the week ending August 30. Receipts also declined and were given at 85,650 tons, as compared with 113,514 tons the week before. Raw stocks on hand as of last Monday showed a slight gain and were placed at 89,181 tons.

"Refining operations for the present week are reported to have been speeded up again, and meltings are estimated at the close as having reached the 100,000 ton mark once more."

ANSWERS QUESTION
IN QUAINT MANNER

Examination Question Brings Answer in Poetic Form

In the August teachers' examination one of the geography questions was, "Trace a loaf of bread made of Minnesota wheat from the field to the table." Sr. Angelita of St. James, who was writing in Grand Rapids, and who had her papers forwarded to Charlevoix county, is musical in heart and the rhythm of the suggested answer appealed to her so strongly that she composed the following as her answer to the question:

"With apologies to Longfellow's 'Hiawatha'—
From the fields of Minnesota
O'er the highways does the farmer
To the mill his product hasten;
Thence to flour it is ground
Soft, white, beautiful, and strengthening.
Into bags, it now is taken
From the mill and to the grocer
Sold for money is the flour.
Then the busy housewife coming
Buys the flour, white and strengthening
To feed therewith her hungry family.
Lard, salt, water, yeast, and flour.
All together then are taken,
Baked in oven, hot and cleanly,
Out come loaves of bread so comely
"Staff of life"—and gift from heaven."

LIGHT POTATO CROP

The government report on potatoes, just issued, places the crop for the United States at 51,000,000 bushels less than last year. In many places, including the northern points, the general potato harvest has not yet started, but in other sections more than fifty per cent of the potatoes have been dug. It is now predicted that potatoes will sell at an average of $3 a bushel next spring, before the new crop comes into the market. Chicago dealers are now getting from $2 to $2.25 a bushel for potatoes, though it is anticipated that the price will come down somewhat within the next week, when the local harvest is well under way. Farmers of this section usually market their potatoes at a price much below that prevailing early in October. The potato harvest here will be in full swing within the next ten days.

THREE CANDIDATES

Arthur H. Vandenburg, editor of the Grand Rapids Herald, will soon announce his candidacy for the Republican nomination for lieutenant-governor in the 1920 campaign, according to information being discussed in state political circles. He is the third candidate to date for that nomination, the other two being Lynn J. Lewis, of Van Buren county, and Charles A. Weirfelder, of Kalamazoo, both members of the present legislature in the house. It has been known for some time that Mr. Vandenburg has entertained political ambitions, but to be either for the governorship or as a member of congress.

President Wilson has lost none of his expertness in working both sides of the street. He orders the Commissioners of the District of Columbia to revoke their order suspending policemen who join a union affiliated with a striking organization, and then makes a speech denouncing striking policemen in Boston. That sort of a course, of course, ought to satisfy everybody, proving that he talks one way and acts another.

Just to show how honest it is in the statement that the league of nations covenant will end war, the administration asks for a billion dollars a year for the army and a few hundred millions for the navy. For those who believe that sort of thing that is about the sort of thing they would believe.

1912—"Repeal the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and abolish the high cost of living." 1919—"Ratify the league of nations covenant without change and stop the high cost of living." What will Mr. Wilson's next remedy or excuse be?

After we get through seeing to it that they have a square election in Silesia we may turn our attention to the same job in the old slave states.

President Wilson says his opponents do not know what altruism is. Isn't it the opposite of egoism?

trouble, stopped the strike, and saved a great many lives. With reference to the steel strike, he observed: "This great strike seems to be the first skirmish in an industrial warfare in this country, and we may as well face it. There is no use putting our heads in the sand, ostrich like, and saying it does not amount to anything. It does. Let us face it, find out the facts, give it all publicity, and see if there is anything the American Congress can do."

Senator Knox supplemented Mr. Kenyon's remarks by saying that he was not "ordinarily in favor of miscellaneous investigations," but in this instance he said that the Senate should ascertain the facts "as a basis for a policy that the Government should pursue." Senator Owen said an investigation would establish the facts, and Senator Norris asserted that "an investigation will develop the desirability of some remedy or some legislation."

And so the Senate has decided to investigate the steel strike.

What Everybody Knows

Doubtless there has been a good deal of grafting on the consuming public, and the profiteers are not confined to any locality or section of the country. They are in the manufacturing centers, and they wholesale and retail foods. Thousands of them are doing pleasant handshaking sets in the "corner store," and the fellow who wants four dollars for moving a trunk, or an excessive sum for fixing the bad boards on the back porch, is in the same class with the other gougers, who because they are big and powerful, are threatened by the Attorney General.

No doubt the Government has a pretty good opportunity to fix up the affairs of the railroads, since they were turned over as a war emergency. And the Government can properly and effectively straighten out a great many difficulties in the affairs of the nation. But the people who expect that the United States, through its executive, or legislative branches is going to turn the precedents of the country upside down in a night, are doomed to the same disappointment as the San Franciscans and their supporters, who want the judicial system revised in order that one Mooney may get out of jail in which he is properly lodged.

There is no questioning the propriety of the agitation over high prices, but instead of expecting the government to do everything the country can well afford to forget price-fixing schemes, regulated hours of work, and rules for getting up and going to bed; for what everybody knows is; that increased production and greater care in consumption will solve nine-tenths of the industrial complaints of the consumers.

"Work and save" was a mighty fine slogan for war time, but it was on a panel that was turned towards the wall when the armistice was signed.

This is Push Coat Headquarters

YOU can shop and shop and shop, but you'll find nothing these cold days to beat a Worth Styles coat of plush. Here is a new one that we can specially recommend. It is handsomely lined, of course, has a sash belt, collar buttoning up for the coldest days.

This is the store where you can almost always find your size in plushes—we feature them because there's nothing that will give more satisfaction.

Naturally the linings and quality of plush are better in the finer garments, but these popular-priced garments will give you a lot of service.

While almost every article of wearing apparel has advanced, we are still selling some of these plush coats at prices of two or three years ago. This does not apply to all garments, but on certain numbers.

IT PAYS TO GRIND CORN COBS

The following analysis under the signature of H. E. Wiley, United States Agricultural Chemist at Washington, D. C., shows the relative values of corn cobs and kernels:

	COBS	KERNELS
Water	9.33 per cent	10.49 per cent
Ash	1.33 per cent	1.55 per cent
Oil	.47 per cent	5.49 per cent
Carbohydrates	56.01 per cent	67.72 per cent
Crude fibre	30.36 per cent	2.13 per cent
Albuminoids	2.50 per cent	10.62 per cent

This analysis shows that corn cobs are of value only as considered from a standpoint of the nutriment they contain. But their value goes beyond this, as they make the ration light and fluffy so that it is more digestible.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Harriet Gensman, widow of Edward Gensman, to W. S. Davis, which mortgage dated November 18,
1910, and recorded in Register of Deeds office, Charlevoix county, Mich., in Liber 40 of mortgages, on page 60, and was assigned December
24, 1910, by W. S. Davis to John H.
Dietz, assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 34 of mortgages, at page 623, and was later assigned by said John H.
Dietz to the trustees of Aerie
No. 1583, Fraternal Order of Eagles, of Boyne City, Mich., assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 34 of mortgages, at page 536, and was again assigned by C. C. Burnett, John H. Parker and Sabin Hooper, trustees of Aerie
No. 1583, Fraternal Order of Eagles, of Boyne City, Mich., to Chester A.
Hamer of Marion, Mich., assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 53 of mortgages, at page 413, on which mortgage there is due at the date of this notice for principal and interest three hundred fifty-two and twenty-six one hundredths dollars ($352.26), and in addition thereto the sum of two hundred ninety-eight and sixty-six one hundredths dollars ($298.66) for taxes paid by said mortgagee, for which a lien is provided for in said mortgage, and an attorney fee of $15.00 provided for in said mortgage, and default having also been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Harriet Gensman to Chester A.
Hamer, which mortgage dates September 11, 1911, and is recorded in the register of deeds office for Charlevoix county, Mich., in Liber 48 of mortgages at page 427, on which mortgage there is due at the date of this notice for principal and interest ninety-six and fifty-one hundredths dollars ($96.51), and an attorney fee of $15.00, provided for in said mortgage, both of said above described mortgages are now owned by the said Chester A. Hamer, and the total amount now due on both is $777.43, and no suit at law or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover on either or any of said mortgages, the amount claimed due thereon or any part thereof, and the power of sale having become operative, now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale provided for in said mortgage, and in pursuance

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

Change in System Made Necessary

There are so many things about which our readers have wished to know much, and so many notes with but little information concerning the news portion, coming to the office of the county school commissioner, that a change in system is made necessary. To do justice to a topic of the day, and tell the story of the schools of the county as it should be told is no minor task, but the story should be told. Parents have asked again and again "What are we going to do about this?" or "Will the children do so and so this year?" It has been found that quite frequently explanations, instructions, opinions, in answers to these questions crowded out the little bits of news that will ever be of interest to teachers and parents of school children.

But the news for other reasons had to be incomplete. Several letters would arrive with little items of interest. Perhaps a few of these items had already appeared in one or two of the papers of the county, and must necessarily be omitted. On other occasions, boys and girls with records worthy of mention neglected to send in the record, or took it for granted that the commissioner knew the good news and would put it in the notes. When the summary was made each week, it was either incomplete or full of old news. Omissions were unpleasant, but as the amount of material increased, newspaper space, and the readers' time, would forbid including all that might be of interest in some if not all sections of the county. Not that the editor ever refused the notes:
far from that, even though he knew of the statute in such cases made and provided, said mortgages will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house, at Charlevoix, Mich., in said county of Charlevoix, on the 1st day of December, 1919, at one o'clock in the afternoon, the premises described in each of said mortgages is the same, to-wit:

Lot forty-seven (47), in Block G, in South Boyne addition now a part of Boyne City, Charlevoix County,
Michigan.

Dated this 20th day of August,
A. D. 1919.

gagee, Business Address, Marion,

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals will be received by H. Bedford, chairman of the Building Committee of the Board of Supervisors, at Charlevoix, Mich., until 12 o'clock, noon, Friday, October tenth, 1919, for the General
Construction, Heating, Plumbing and Wiring of a Sheriff's Residence and Jail at Charlevoix, in accordance with drawings and specifications prepared by A. E. Munger, architect, 420 Shearer Bldg., Bay City, Mich.
A certified check for three percent (3 percent) of the amount of the proposal must accompany same, made payable to H. Bedford, chairman, and in case of the failure of the bidder to execute a contract and furnish bonds as required within one week after the acceptance of his proposal, the check shall be forfeited to the County.

The contractor to whom the work shall be awarded shall furnish satisfactory indemnity bonds in accordance with the law, to cover liability for labor and material, and maintenance for one year after the completion of the work.

Drawings and specifications may be obtained from the architect, and they shall be returned to him promptly.

All proposals shall be made upon blank forms furnished by the architect, shall be delivered sealed, and within the time limit above stated.

The Building Committee reserves the right to accept any, or to reject all bids.

(Signed) HAROLD BEDFORD, Chairman.

that sometimes it rather hurried his assistants, and might not interest all of his readers. Your editor liked the notes—he likes them yet.

To meet both conditions, after careful consideration by both editor and commissioner, we are going to try an experiment. The commissioner will write an article each week either in the form of newspaper correspondence or an editorial on school work, which will answer the situation of the hour as it is reflected in her office. The editor invites all the teachers of the county to kindly send directly to him, or to have the advanced pupils of the class send to him, the news of the schools, the names of boys and girls who are not absent or tardy, the ones who were sick, the good things that the school is doing either through the school board or through the teacher, the things they hope to do. Since the editors of the papers are glad to send complimentary copies of the paper to their correspondents, and possibly also make other satisfactory arrangements, this may prove the best thing yet in helping school spirit by an exchange of ideas.

(The above article meets with our approval. Each individual school should write and send in their own school news. The teacher should see that this is done; that it is a part of the work accomplished each week.
We will gladly give space and furnish supplies to all who will send in a weekly letter. Call at the office and we will make arrangements.
Editor.)

United States Tires are Good Tires

Most Economical

Wear—life—service—mileage—safety—comfort. These are the things that count in a tire.

These are exactly what you get in United States Tires—general all-round tire satisfaction.

This greater total of tire values means greater economy—less cost of maintenance

—less repairs and depreciation.

Car owners who do their own thinking prefer United States Tires. Their merit is recognized everywhere.

We have them—a type and size for every car.

We know United States are good tires. That's why we sell them

ATWOOD

Mrs. Skinner left for Saginaw on Saturday last.

A man by the name of Goman was here on business one day last week.

Mrs. Albert Harwood's niece from Fox Island is here attending school for the winter.

Several attended the fair at Traverse City last Thursday. All report it exceptionally good.

Edna Jolliffe has accepted a position in Ellsworth in the D. E. Clow & Co. store for the winter.

John Bos, who purchased the Schriener farm two weeks ago, has taken possession and seems very happy. Good luck to you, John.

A Mr. Coeling of Grand Rapids, nephew of our Mr. Tice Coeling, has rented the Albert Parson farm and expects to take possession about the first of next March.

A nice crowd was out last Sunday to hear the new Methodist minister, Rev. Clark. A fine sermon, indeed. Next Sunday his subject will be "What Lack I Yet?" Time 10:30 a. m. Come.

Another store in Atwood, Albert Sneller, our creamery man, has fitted up half of his creamery and has received his stock of groceries and some clothing ordered and on the way. Probably this partially accounts for the new gravel road to be built from Eastport to the Jolliffe corner next summer, a goodly part of the expense to be paid out of the federal aid fund.

Kate and Bess LaLonde came home Saturday from Charlevoix where they have been working this summer.

ROCK ELM

A heavy cold on her lungs placed Mrs. Levi Metz on the sick list last week.

Mr. Ostrum is selling off his household goods with the intention of going to California to spend the winter with his daughter.

Jesse Lawton raised a few rows of sorgham this season which was so suggestive of a little "sweetening" that he cast about in his mind for some means of extracting the juice. The only thing at his command with any resemblance to a cane mill was a Freeman feed cutter. He found that by removing the knife and fastening down the upper roll and putting the stalks through three times he could press out most of the juice. This when boiled down and clarified produced about 1 1/2 quarts of first-class syrup.

School Notes

Violet Gilbert had callers from Boyne City Sunday.

George Secord was absent from school the past week on account of sickness.

Violet Gilbert spent Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Shaw.

Jesse Lawton entered school Monday with the intention of completing the eighth grade work.

The month closed with the following pupils receiving certificates of award for perfect attendance: Velma, LaCroix, Lilah and Lester Danforth, Dorcas, Olga and H. B. Hipp, Merritt and Alta Shaw, Jimmie and Floyd Meyers, Fern Hutton, Herbert Teboe and Raymond Canda.

John McElroy and his son, Milford, were callers on friends one day last week.

The O. P. Barber family of Central Lake were callers on friends here Sunday.

Mrs. Selma Pearl of Charlevoix and her brother, Ed. Nelson, of Central Lake, and Elmer Nelson of Port Huron, were calling on old time friends here one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brooks have shaken the dust of northern Michigan from their feet and returned to their southern Illinois home, after a very pleasant summer in the Wildwood cottage.

Duncan Crawford is a new member on our telephone line with a ring of 4-R-31, while the phone at the Fielstra home is in working order now with a ring of 4-41. Nearly everyone is glad to have new parties within reach of the phone.

Work Harness and Collars

A good, strong work harness with easy fitting collars is most essential. No team can do a good day's work with a worn-out, patched up harness, with collars that gall their necks and shoulders. Don't expect the team to work well in a harness that will break with the first heavy pull. You can buy today as cheaply as you will be able to for several years. We have

DOUBLE TEAM HARNESS, LIGHT HARNESS, COLLARS, SWEAT PADS, ETC.

Received several sets last week and more are on the road. We have just what you want and our price is right.

TRE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

Our National Morale

America was an npt pupil in the big game of fighting, and every easy tongue rolled the word "morale" with a glibness that made one forget that many people never knew the meaning of the word. It was sufficient that it was a thing that "we" saved for the soldiers and citizens of France, and kept out of the lost columns of the English newspapers. Now, in search for what ails the United States, Secretary of the Interior, Franklin K. Lane digs up the real reason — that it is our old friend "morale", down and out, and as completely lost as were the babes in the woods. Peace came so suddenly that our objective got mixed up in the maze of internationalism. But let's follow the thoughtful Mr.

WOOD BROS.

Lane, who takes up the case of the "people", and says:

"They knew what they were doing during the war. They were all co-operating for the destruction of the enemy. They enjoyed the definiteness and the concreteness of that object. They could see where they were going each day. Then peace came and they lost that objective. Life seemed comparatively without purpose. They were thrown back on themselves and to purely selfish concerns. We lost our national morale because we failed to keep alive the idea of Americanism as we had kept it alive during the war."

Mr. Lane says he does not pretend to say what the full significance of these mutterings may be, but that they always follow war. He wisely suggests that it will be well to "put all our steam into the work of giving a new motif to the American drama."

As a diagnostician Mr. Lane is unsurpassed, and all will agree with the further thought that the people want thought given to their concern. But while supplying that thought, wouldn't it be well to offer a little support to the morale of the United States in peace time?

Industrial Welfare

The wail of the calamity howlers who think America is going to the dogs because everything is dead wrong, is not supported by facts, for the pictured dread of unemployment is met by the force of the official statement that eighty per cent of the returned fighting men have been cared for by their former employers, and there are left out of work now only the number normally constituting the labor turnover. In the "slums" of the cities the men are wearing ten dollar shoes and the women have balances at the savings banks.

Of course Ireland is in a hole. Fiume is in a fog. Shantung pig-tails are in the hands of Japanese hair-dressers, and the Prince of Wales cannot get his English yacht up the Potomac to Washington. But why worry and get wrinkles?

It is a truth as patent as patent shoe leather that the national morale is low, in evidence of which we have the steel strike, promoted by a crowd of agitators and staged principally by foreigners who have not assimilated our Americanism. In addition coal operators, who mostly nil speak in tongue that Americans cannot understand, threaten to tie up the mines as Winter is beginning to send forth its first frost bites.

Skilled workmen and the more intelligent employees of the country are going about their affairs soberly, and industrially; but the fact remains that the country is in the throes of industrial warfare. It is of deep concern that on the very eve of the meeting of a conference between leaders of labor and capital, convened by the President, that there are great strikes in progress. The fact that foreigners are the ones principally at the bottom of these disputes ought not to be lost sight of—for us that "wakeup America" stuff was the bone and sinew of morale in war time, its importance is equally vital in the piping times of peace.

Why Congress Investigates

Sometimes even Washington tires of "investigations" by Congress, and for the very good reason that many of these affairs are dull and tiresome. The fuel and food investigations were as barren as a wren's nest in mid-winter. Investigations covering war activities have been quick to "strat" but none of them have ever "arrived." Congress never tires in its efforts to locate the ills and evils of the human family; and if they were as eager to apply intelligent remedies the acme of perfection in government might be realized.

It is no secret that politicians are notoriously "afraid of the cars," and when these politicians reach the pyramids of statesmanship their nervous systems still border on the edges of collapse.

Senators sometimes candidly admit their shortcomings, and by charging their omissions up to their collective numbers they are relieved of the embarrassment of facing their individual failures. Senator Kenyon, in presenting his resolution for an investigation of the steel mills employees, voiced the belief that "the whole situation will be helped by the publicity that an investigation by the Senate will give it." He added: "I know there is a general feeling—and I share in it, too—that such investigations do not amount to very much; but I remember full well when the Point Creek and Clinch Creek strike was taking place in West Virginia. A great deal of property had been destroyed before Congress acted. Many people were killed. It was veritably a civil war in West Virginia. A committee was appointed by the Senate that went to West Virginia." After reviewing the excellent work of that Committee, he stated that they had located the

LARGE EXHIBITION FARM PRODUCTS

DISPLAYS OF FRUIT, GRAIN, AND VEGETABLES

At Store of S. M. See & Sons Beginning
October 14—Prizes to be Given for Best Display

Realizing that the time of the Charlevoix county fair is a little early to allow the best fruit, grain and vegetable products of the county to be placed on display, the Argo Milling Co. and S. M. See & Sons have decided to hold an exhibit of the various farm products at the store of S. M. See & Sons from October 14 to October 18.

This is being done with the intention of giving the farmer a chance to display his fruit, grain and vegetables at such a time as it is ready for exhibit at its very best. This method not only brings the different growers together so that they can discuss the different topics for the improving of the farm products, but it arouses an ambition to place the best that can possibly be obtained on display, and tends to bring out better production. It also gives the grower a chance to put his product where the public can see it and know exactly what he is doing and in this way he finds a market and at the same time is advertising for the future.

Following is a list of the different products to be displayed and a list of the prizes for each of which is being offered by these two concerns to encourage this exhibit will be found listed in the exhibit's advertisement on page 8. List of products: Apples: Northern Spy, Wagners, Greenings, Baldwins, Snags; potatoes: Long White, Round White, Potosky, Golden Russet; Onions: Red, White; Cabbage: Round, Flat; Hubbard Squash, Rutabagas; Wheat: Red, White, Winter, Spring; Rye: Rye, Rye; Oats, Buckwheat; Beans, White, Red.

The grains placed on display must be in two to four quart quantities.

All apples and vegetables placed on exhibit will be retained by S. M. See & Sons, and the grains will be the property of the exhibitor to be called for Saturday evening or later. All entries must be in by Monday, October 13, and will be on display the 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, and 18th. Exhibits will be judged Wednesday, the 15th, by competent judges and the exhibitor's name placed on each display. The prizes will be awarded the different winners Saturday afternoon.

These two concerns are very anxious to make this exhibit a success as they know from experience what benefit is derived by placing products of the type in a position where the public can see them. In order to make this a success they will have to have the hearty co-operation of the farmers in this district which they no doubt will get.

RED CROSS NOTES

Why a Public Health Nurse?

Whenever any board of directors or public commission act upon a new proposition, or adopt a new ruling, the public rightfully asks the question, "Why?" It is right that they should ask this question and the board of directors of the Charlevoix county chapter of the American Red Cross gladly submit to the people a few of their reasons for recommending a Public Health Nurse for Charlevoix county.

PRACTICAL MARY AND HER SHEEP

Mary had a little lamb, its wool was almost nit. She heard the cry of Uncle Sam to grow a fleece on it. She sent it up to Cloverland where clover's growing wild. Mary seemed to understand; she was a knowing child. The lambkin grew while Mary dreamed and took on wool and mutton. The way it grew it really seemed a right voracious glutton. It grew so fast, in a few weeks, when Mary came to visit, she asked the shepherd in six shrieks: "For heaven's sake what is it?" He is too big to go to school; he'd cause too great a flutter. He'd break the teacher's golden rule if once he chanced to butt her. So Mary kept the little sheep and bought a dozen others, and likes the game of wean peep, just as will many others. —Ispheming Iron Ore.

It is well known that doctors are busy men, but it has been found in epidemics such as we had last fall that a general public advisor was needed—such as can give sane advice for health rules and organize the health forces of the county. To such a public servant, the busy health officers could turn for help and enlist their service as deputy health officer in township or county.

Teachers have found that their most troublesome truancy problems are not those of stubborn or ignorant parents, but those from homes where disease and poverty make attendance impossible or undesirable. The nurse could best investigate such cases and recommend the course to be pursued. Knowing both the health and school laws, she would be able in many cases to effect the desired solution.

It is well known in probate courts that delinquency is the result of physical conditions which have been unfavorable for normal development. Crime and disease are but the product of undernourishment or neglected illness. The nurse should organize the home and school forces to detect all possible preliminary stages, to save us the disgrace and expense of crime in the coming and in the present generation.

These are but a few of the reasons why the Charlevoix county Red Cross wants a Public Health Nurse for Charlevoix county. The National Red Cross recommends that we do this, and we submit it to the people contingent upon the success of the November drive for membership and funds.

To the oars, boys, and pull for success.

The annual Red Cross meeting will be held November 26th in place of October by order of the Central Division, on account of annual drive.

SMALL BLAZE ON LINCOLN STREET

Fire at House Occupied by Santos
Family Tuesday Night

A fire starting from apparently an unknown cause broke out about 9:30 o'clock last night in the house occupied by the Santos family on East Lincoln street.

The fire had made a great deal of progress by the time that the men arrived and the upper part of the house was in flames. With the aid of water and chemical the blaze was soon under control but it took an hour more to completely extinguish the flames as it had worked inside of the wall and was hard to get at.

At the time of the out-break of the fire the family were all out of the house except the children, who were in bed. The fire started in the kitchen near the door and worked its way to the top of the house. Mr. Santos says there was a fire in the house. The furniture was all removed in time to save it from any injury by the fire or water.

SURPRISED HER ON BIRTHDAY

Friends Gather at Farm Home of Mrs. Roy Kane

Mrs. Roy Kane of Hayes township was given a complete surprise last Monday evening when some twenty of her friends and neighbors walked in on her, with baskets well filled with good things to eat, and gifts to remind her of the occasion.

When lunch was served, the table fairly groaned under its weight of food, and the hostess further helped by bringing forth a number of delicious, home grown water and muskmelons. The birthday cake, made by Mrs. Rose Wightman, adorned with its forty candles, was placed in the center of the table.

The occasion was one long to be remembered by those present who, when departing, wished the hostess many more delightful meetings of the same nature.

ENTERTAINS IN HONOR OF GUEST

Informal Party Friday Night at the Price Home

An informal party was given at the Price home last Friday night in honor of Miss Marion Welsh, of Hartford, Conn., who is visiting there at present. Those present were the Misses Levinson, Price, Ryan, Baker, Mrs. Partridge, Carey, Emery, Olmstead, Kimball and Mayne.

A most enjoyable evening was spent and a dainty lunch was served and the party will be remembered with pleasure by all those attending.

SHERMAN-LEWIS WEDDING FRIDAY

BOTH PARTIES WELL KNOWN THROUGHOUT COUNTY

Married Last Friday Evening at the Home of the Bride in East Jordan

Mrs. Estella Sherman and Richard Lewis were united in marriage last Friday evening at the home of the bride, corner Williams and Second streets, East Jordan. The ceremony took place at eight o'clock, Rev. R. S. Sidebotham of the Presbyterian church, officiating.

Only a few of the immediate relatives and friends were present, those from out of town being Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lewis of Lapeer, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bettes of Grand Rapids.

Commencing at 8:30 a reception was given which was attended by a large number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, who called to extend congratulations. Punch and wafers were served and the guests were registered.

Mrs. Lewis is one of East Jordan's most esteemed ladies. Always active in church and social work, doing her part toward the up-building of the community, she has won for herself a warm spot in the hearts of the people of East Jordan.

Richard Lewis is well known to the people of Charlevoix county, having served as county official for a number of years. He was formerly a resident of Wilson township before coming here to take up his duties at the county building. He is esteemed by the people of the county as shown by the fact that he has been repeatedly returned to office by the county voters.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will be at home to their friends after October 15th at their newly acquired home, 215 Antrim street, as soon as they return from a short wedding trip to Grand Rapids and Muskegon.

REV. HAROLD VAN- KIRK NEW PASTOR

Served Three Years With French
Army in World's War

The First Congregational church of this city has been fortunate in securing Rev. Harold VanKirk as future pastor of that church.

He was formerly director of boys' work and assistant in connection with Jenkin Lloyd Jones at Chicago prior to 1916.

In 1916 he volunteered in the French Ambulance Service and remained with this branch of the service until 1919. During this time he participated in the different drives that took place.

Rev. VanKirk is from Hudson, Michigan, and is a graduate of the University of Chicago, serving as assistant editor of the Chicago Literary Monthly while there.

Without a doubt the Congregational church will make progress under the guidance of Rev. VanKirk and he has the best wishes of the community.

The members and friends of the Congregational church are invited to a reception given for the new pastor on Monday evening, October 10th.

EMMETT CO. FAIR OPENED WEDNESDAY

Large Program and Prospects for Successful Fair

The annual Emmett county fair opened Tuesday morning, October 7th, and will continue until Friday, October 10th.

Emmett county fair officials state that there is every reason to believe that the fair this year will be a very successful one and a very elaborate program has been arranged.

Some of the best races in years will be staged and the fruit and school exhibits promise to be better than ever before.

Announces Engagement

Mrs. Ida Puleph of Charlevoix announces the engagement of her daughter, Helen, to John E. Lewis of Detroit, the marriage to take place during the early winter. John E. Lewis, we believe, formerly lived at Yuba, and at one time attended our high school. He recently returned from several months service with the American Expeditionary forces. —Elk Rapids Progress.

WHOLE TOWN GETS PINCHED

MOST OF GRAND MARAIS MEN
IN COURT

Arrested for Killing Deer and Partridge
Out of Season—Run
Runners Caught

There are thirty-two cases to be tried in the courts of Grand Marais of men held for killing deer and partridge out of season and no one to try them as the judge was one of the men pinched.

The arrests were made by Deputy Game Warden E. A. Nowack, of Kalkaska, on the charges of killing deer, running deer with dogs, aelling venison, and killing partridge, and it was necessary to move the whole male population of the town to Munising for trial.

Among those arrested was H. P. Spencer, of Cleveland, who says he is superintendent of a large detective agency; members of the Grand Marais school board, two fire wardens, two former U. S. coast guards, hotel proprietors and business men.

While taking the men to Munising the warden stopped all vehicles and searched them for venison and found three run runners and several cases of whiskey. Several dogs were put to death and an auto load of high power rifles, a ton of canned and salted venison was confiscated.

DEATH SUMMONS MRS. ROBERT REED

Found Dead in Bed by Members of Family Thursday Morning

Death came very suddenly to Mrs. Robert Reed, mother of Mrs. T. W. Milner, and with whom she had for several years made her home, during the morning hours of Thursday, October 2. Mrs. Reed retired for the night in apparently as good health as usual, and upon failing to arise in the morning at her usual time, her daughter entered her room and found that death had occurred during the early morning hours, without a doubt while deep in slumber.

Deceased was 84 years of age and was born in Perth, Ontario. She was married in March, 1860, to Robert Reed of Lombardy, Canada. To this union six children were born, Robert Reed of Detroit, J. H. Reed of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Mrs. Sam Bertel of Manitowish, Mrs. George Lynn, Battle Creek, Mrs. Will Rife of Milner, B. C., and Mrs. T. W. Milner of this city. She came to Charlevoix some 25 years ago with her husband and since that time has resided here.

Funeral services were held from the Milner home at 10:00 a. m. Monday, Rev. Henry Candler of the M. E. church, officiating. Interment at Brookside.

FAIL TO RECRUIT ANY NEW MEN

Issue Many Victory Buttons to Those Presenting Their Discharges

The party of soldiers under the charge of Lt.-Col. John L. Boer, which was in the city Saturday, Sunday and Monday, left Monday night for Potosky where they will have charge of a war exhibit at the Emmet County Fair.

The party was in Charlevoix on recruiting duty and also to issue Victory buttons to those holding the right to receive them. Recruits they did not get but they did issue a lot of buttons and were kept busy while here looking over the discharges of the men applying for their buttons and issuing them.

Baptist Church

Every adult may vote on the flag, to be won by one of the rooms of the public school of our city. To vote you must be present, as no proxies will be accepted. Of course you will be welcome whether you vote or not. So everybody come out and give Dr. McCallister a rousing welcome, as he discusses questions in relation to temperance and prohibition. Dr. McCallister has been in the Anti-Saloon work for quite a while, and comes highly recommended. So you may expect a rich treat.

The lecture is free to everybody. COME.

NEW $100 WAR CERTIFICATES HERE

Can Be Exchanged for 1919 Issue of War Savings Stamps

The local Post Office has received new $100 war certificates and also instructions as to their disposal.

The new 1919 War Savings Stamps can be exchanged for the new War Certificates for their present value. The 1919 War Savings Stamps are valued at $4.21 while the 1918 War Savings Stamps are valued at $4.33. The new 1919 stamps can be exchanged for the War Certificates, but the 1918 stamps are not exchangeable, as their present value exceeds that of the 1919 issue.

However, anyone desiring to exchange their 1918 stamps into war certificates, can do so through the following method. File them with the local Post Office, for disposal, with the usual ten days notice, and when the stamps are redeemed the funds can be used to purchase the new War Certificates.

The War Certificates are of the same value as the war Stamps and are considered a better investment than an ordinary investment at 6 per cent.

The certificates carry a four per cent interest compounded quarterly.

An intensive campaign will be carried on about Oct. 6th for the sale of these War Certificates.

The $100 certificates will be sold at $84.20 during October and the $1,000 certificates at $842.

BIG SALE STILL IN PROGRESS

500 Tickets to Palace Theatre Given Away

The big sale at the Blanchard Hardware Company's store that has been in progress for the last week is still going full blast and will continue to do so until Saturday, October 11th. Those wishing to make their purchases while the prices are cut to the present rate had better do so at once before it is too late.

Friday has been set aside from all others as Farmers' Day and will be observed as such by those conducting the sale. An invitation is extended to all farmers in this district to stop and look over the store and stock.

Arrangements have been made with the manager of the New Palace Theatre for an exceptionally good show to be given Friday, October 10, and for this show five hundred tickets will be given away free by the hardware company. All that is necessary to secure one of these tickets is to make a purchase of fifty cents at the store which entitles the buyer to one draw from the Lucky Box which contains 250 free tickets, and 250 half price tickets. Come and get one. These tickets are good for both the afternoon and evening shows.

CHAR. COMMERCIAL ASS'N TO MEET

Business Meeting and Fish Supper
Has Been Arranged

The Charlevoix Commercial Association will meet next Friday night, October 10th, at a business meeting and fish supper at the usual place of meeting.

This meeting will be one of importance due to the fact that four additional members to the board of directors must be elected and other matters attended to that require the votes of the members.

It is requested that all members of the association that possibly can make arrangements to attend to do so.

M. E. CHURCH.

Miss Helena Bates will have charge of the Epworth League devotional service next Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church.

Preaching services at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. The Sunday school, under the superintendency of Edward Edwards, is showing a marked improvement in interest and attendance.

At the monthly meeting of the official board it was voted to put a new covering on the roof of the church, work to begin as soon as the necessary funds were in hand. It is expected that these repairs will start next week.

At a recent meeting of the Ladies' Aid society Mrs. P. D. Campbell was elected president.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the many friends who so kindly sent flowers and extended sympathy to us during our bereavement.

SCORES VICTORY OVER MANCERONA

VISITORS COMPLETELY OUT-PLAYED THROUGHOUT

Final Score 40 to 0 With Home Team on Big End—Chance for Much Improvement

The Charlevoix High School foot ball team completely smothered the visiting team from Mancelona on the south side field last Friday afternoon. Mancelona was slightly out-weighted and also out-clasped. Charlevoix scored her first touchdown in three downs after the game had started and but for two slow quarters would have run up a higher score than she did.

The winning runs for Charlevoix were scored by Cartier and Hallett, Cartier tearing off several fine runs behind good interference around the right end. A number of forward passes were tried and they proved successful.

There is still a big chance for improvement before the home team can be reasonably sure of winning the remainder of the games scheduled, and it will mean a fight every minute if they expect to bring home the bacon.

Couch Loomis announces that Byers is back on the squad and his appearance in the back field will greatly strengthen that section of the team as he is one of the best backs in northern Michigan.

The work of Beam, Neeland, Ashdon, Montayne, Derrer and Embrey was the best of the visiting team, although all were apparently green at the game. The Charlevoix line-up was as follows: Right end, Smith, See, Galloway; right tackle, Krulick; right guard, Paddock; center, Wickstaff; left guard, Eckinger, Burns; left tackle, Brown; left end, Usher; quarter, Halverson; right half, Jones, Smith; full back, Hallett; left half, Cartier.

The next game will be with Traverse City at that place and will be one of the most important of the season, as the winning of it may mean the northern Michigan championship. The following Saturday the team will meet Boyne City here.

ENGINEER SUFFERS PAINFUL ACCIDENT

Arm Caught in Machinery as Light
Ship is Leaving Harbor

Chief Engineer N. Lezette of the light ship Relief suffered a very serious injury Tuesday afternoon as the ship was leaving Charlevoix harbor.

In some manner his arm was caught in the machinery, dislocating the shoulder and badly mangling the arm. Due to the accident the machinery of the boat was put out of commission but the boat was picked up at once by the steamer Bruce and towed back to port where the injured man was given medical attention.

Lezette is doing very nicely now and considers himself lucky to get off as easy as he did, as the accident was one of the type that as a rule results in permanent injury and often death.

The Relief is now in port receiving repairs on the damage done to her machinery.

NATION TO SLEEP AN HOUR LATER AFTER OCTOBER 26

The nation will get up one hour later on October 26. At 2 o'clock on the morning of October 26, the hands of the clocks of the United States will be set back one hour, marking the finale of the daylight saving law. The law will die by act of congress at the overwhelming demand of farmer and miner interests and with protests from cities and industrial centers. To repeal the daylight saving law, which was inaugurated March 19, 1918, as a war measure, congress had to override President Wilson's veto of the first repeal measure.

CEDAR VALLEY SCHOOL NOTES

There are seventeen pupils in our school this year.

We are taking drawing lessons in our school this year.

The fourth and fifth grades are making hygiene booklets.

We have also sent for about $20 worth of library books. We will all be glad when they come.

We have received our new geography, grammar and arithmetic books but still are waiting for our reading books.

Miss Stewart visited our school last Wednesday. She taught us how to play a new game which we all enjoyed.

Richard Carson is not attending school this week because he was exposed to the small pox. We will all be glad when he will be able to come again.

We have chosen sides in our school and the captains are Barbara Martineck and William Zoulek and the side that finds the most new games by Christmas will be treated by the losing side.

CLARION

O. V. Holly is ill at his home here. O. C. Johnson left last week to visit relatives in Marquette.

INTERESTING BITS OF IN- FORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

A Tecumseh shoe dealer, in the course of a high-cost examination, blamed the present excessively high prices of shoes upon the vanity of woman, and her persistent demand for shoes in the height of fashion.
The course of causation, may be clearly seen; the stylish shoes, which cost the merchant $7.75 per pair, he sells for $11, making $3.25 profit, while a more staple grade of shoes which cost him $5.75 per pair, he sells for only $7.50, making a profit of $1.75. Hence, if the vanity of women were not so great, the merchant would not be making 42 per cent on shoes, but only 30 per cent, and prices would be lower.

Game Warden Charles Peterson of Gaylord on Tuesday of last week arrested Joseph Vario and Joseph Rithey of Afton and took them before a justice at Indian River. They were charged with killing partridge out of season, the season not being open until November 1st. They were fined $50 each and costs of $6.50 each. The game warden's department is emphatic that no mercy be shown those who violate the bird laws.

The fourteen-year-old son of Mr.
and Mrs. Amos Gaseo of Harbor Springs was drowned off from the Harbor Springs Lumber company's dock Thursday afternoon of last week.

The boy was fishing from the end of the dock and lost his balance and fell into the water. Several were around at the time of the accident but for some reason were unable to help him.

As soon as the body was recovered a physician was called but the boy was beyond medical aid.

Speed demons are getting unsolicited jolts on the country roads by the state constabulary says the Petoskey Evening News. One car driver, tearing around the fair ground corner greatly in excess of the limit, was promptly taken to court and fined, with the admonition that things would go stronger on the next violation. The smooth stretch between Alanson and Brutus, has also led to several arrests for speeding.
The constabulary in Emmet county, under Sergeant McGuire, are out to establish the fact that the safety of others is superior to speedsters' joy.

The Palace Theatre company of Petoskey, composed of the Misses Clara, Anna and Elizabeth Galster and Charles Galster, has purchased the Ames property on East Mitchell street and will erect there Northern Michigan's finest theatre building.
The proposed new house will seat a thousand people and will be modern in every detail, and large enough to handle the largest show companies.
It is believed that ground for the structure will be broken this fall and that work on the theatre building will be pushed ahead as rapidly as possible.

It is the plan of the Palace Theatre company to give Northern Michigan the best and very latest in the way of shows, vaudeville and motion pictures, and to provide a place to take care of the crowds of people who will be attracted to these entertainments, especially in summer.

It is believed that such a theatre will draw to Petoskey much larger numbers of summer tourists from the surrounding resorts than ever before and that their coming here will benefit other lines of business as well as the theatre.—Petoskey Evening News.

Copyright 1919 by
R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

YOU certainly get yours when you lay your smokecards on the table, call for a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag of Prince Albert and roll a makin's cigarette! You'll want to hire a statistical bureau to keep count of your smokestunts! Why, you never dreamed of the sport that lies awaiting your call in a home rolled cigarette when it's P. A. for the packing!

Talk about flavor! Man, man, you haven't got the listen of half your smokecareer until you know what rolling 'em with P. A. can do for your contentment! And, back of P. A.'s flavor, and rare fragrance—proofs of Prince Albert's quality—stands our exclusive patented process that cuts out, bite and parch! With P. A. your smokesong in a makin's cigarette will outlast any phonograph record you ever heard! Prince Albert is a cinch to roll. It's crimp cut and stays put like a regular pal!

Prince Albert upsets any notion you ever had as to how delightful a jimmy pipe can be! It is the tobacco that has made three men smoke pipes where one was smoked before. It has won men all over the nation to the joys of smoking.

THE BIG QUESTION

A leading western paper asks its subscribers to write short letters for publication, explaining what each one has done toward reducing expenditures in:

1. Making over old clothes.
2. Finding meat substitutes.
3. Earning an extra dollar.
4. Recognizing certain "needs" as luxuries, rather than necessities.
5. Saving money instead of spending it.

The Country Gentlemen suggests that to these inquiries should be added "the most significant one of all: What have you done towards producing some of the food, clothing and shelter that all the world wants?"

Thrift, the Country Gentlemen acknowledges, is one of the foundation stones of national prosperity, but it continues: "Just at the present the chief need of the world is more food, more clothing and more shelter than now exists, or will exist until the people produce more. That is the real root of our difficulty, and the sooner we diagnose the distemper the sooner the world will get well."

It seems a pity that the great unions of steel men cannot consider this fact. For so basic an industry as steel to be tied up by a strike means that every other industry must suffer, including transportation, upon the facility of which much of the cheapness of commodities depends.

Strikes mean shortage, and shortage means higher prices than ever..

SUGAR, SUGAR, WHO'S GOT THE SUGAR.

Mr. Newett, editor of the Ishpeming Iron Ore asks: Why doesn't Mr. Wilson go home and look after the sugar business? Then he would be doing something. Gallivanting about the globe isn't accomplishing anything for the people. Sure, Mrs. Wilson, likes it, but isn't it about time she concluded her vacation? There's no sugar for preserving the things we want to keep next winter. There's barely enough for the sweetening of the coffee of the people, and many do not use sugar at that. We are advised to put up stuff for winter use but we cannot, the sugar being lacking. And where's the sugar? Any one know who will tell?

A new coat of paint adds greatly to the value of your car. Our paint shop is ready for business. Benj. Brown. Adv40tf

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Dr. W. D. McAllister will speak on "America's Part in the World-round Task" at the regular Sunday morning service at 10:30 October 12th. As ex-superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of Tennessee, Dr. McAllister rendered ardent service to the cause whose world extension he is now championing. Hear him!

The Cecilians will enjoy a social hour at the church on Wednesday evening at 7:00. All members, new or old, are cordially invited.

On Thursday evening at the usual prayer meeting hour, the minister will devote a portion of the time to an intensive study of the lesson for next Sunday's Church School. It is the intention to make this hour particularly helpful to teachers.

Mrs. Brayton Saltonstall will entertain the Missionary society of the church at her home on Friday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. Harry Nicholls will be the leader. An enthusiastic meeting is planned for.

Something special is planned for next Sunday evening. Watch for further announcement.

This is Push Coat Headquarters

YOU can shop and shop and shop, but you'll find nothing these cold days to beat a Worth Styles coat of plush. Here is a new one that we can specially recommend. It is handsomely lined, of course, has a sash belt, collar buttoning up for the coldest days.

This is the store where you can almost always find your size in plushes—we feature them because there's nothing that will give more satisfaction.

Naturally the linings and quality of plush are better in the finer garments, but these popular-priced garments will give you a lot of service.

While almost every article of wearing apparel has advanced, we are still selling some of these plush coats at prices of two or three years ago. This does not apply to all garments, but on certain numbers.

MA Levinson & Co.

GROUND FEED VS. WHOLE GRAIN

IT PAYS TO GRIND CORN COBS

WE CAN GRIND YOUR GRAIN FOR YOU

The Michigan Experiment Station carried out an experiment a short time ago to determine the relative feeding value of whole grain and ground feed. The summary of the results of the experiment is as follows:

Whole corn not masticated:

Cows 22.75 per cent
Heifers 10.77 per cent
Calves 6.29 per cent

Whole oats not masticated:

Cows 12.06 per cent
Heifers 5.48 per cent
Calves 2.98 per cent

Whole corn and whole oats not masticated:

Cows 26.46 per cent
Heifers 17.50 per cent
Calves 5.78 per cent

Chemical analyses showed practically the same composition of grain as before feeding; therefore it is safe to conclude that the animal derives no benefit from grain which passes through the digestive tract unmasticated.

Don't you want to see the World?

ROMANCE is calling to you! Strange and smiling foreign lands are beckoning to you. Shove off and see the world!

Learn to "parley-voo" in gay Paree. See the bull-fights in Panama. See surf-riding on the beach of Waikiki.

Learn the lure that comes with the swish and swirl of the good salt sea. Eat well—free; dress well—free; sleep clean—free; and look 'em all straight in the eye—British, French, Chinese, Japanese, Spaniards, Egyptians, Algerians and all manner of people.

Come! Be a real man of the world. See the world. See it with the red-blooded, hard-working, hard-playing men of the U. S. Navy.

Pay begins the day you join. On board ship a man is always learning. Trade schools develop skill, industry and business ability. Thirty days care-free holiday each year with full pay. The food is good. First uniform outfit is furnished free. Promotion is unlimited for men of brains. You can enlist for two years and come out broader, stronger and abler.

Charles Hillman has decided to quit farming and with his wife, will move to Lansing some time this week. Leonard Hillman will be home soon and will run the farm for the coming year.

Produce has been coming in rapidly for the past few days and both warehouses have been rushed to capacity. So far apples and beans have been the main stock in the trade with some hay for a side line, but the end of this week will no doubt see potatoes beginning to move.

Monday, October 13th, is the date set by W. Weiss and A. B. Sneller for the opening of their new store at Atwood andp rizes will be given to each customer on that day. A good up-to-date line of groceries, both staple and fancy, are on the shelves and Messrs. Weiss and Sneller invite your custom.

Claud Thompson, 39 years of age and a resident of this part of Michigan since childhood, died at the Petoskey hospital last Friday at noon after an illness of but a few hours. Mr. Thompson had been in good health up until the evening preceding his death, when he was taken suddenly ill and on the advice of physicians was taken to the hospital early the next morning, dying about three hours later. He was born in Boyne City and with the exception of two or three years spent in Detroit, has lived on his farm near Chestonia. He leaves a wife and one son, a brother, Sidney Thompson of Ellsworth, and other friends and relatives.

FINE CORN AND VEGETABLE EXHIBIT

Specimens Show What Can Be Raised in Township

The corn and vegetables on exhibit at the Citizens' Bank again demonstrates the class and variety of products raised in Banks township and immediate vicinity.

Many fine specimens have been brought in during the past week and much comment made on the excellent show. The bank has made a practice of conducting an exhibit each year and expect it to be a feature of their business in future years. Arrangements will be made to have more room for this exhibit another year.

If you have not brought in any of your produce the bank will welcome any and all products which you care to show.

Several fine apples, pears, quinces and some specimens of corn were received from D. Bowman of Bravo, Mich., which have caused considerable comment and are appreciated by the bank.

PICKLE STATION CLOSING ITS SEASON

Farmers Realize Hundreds of Dollars From Cucumber Crop

The Libby, McNeil and Libby pickle station at Ellsworth closed the 1919 season on October 1st, after one of its most successful years, and from the amount of money paid out to the farmers in this locality it would seem that cucumbers are an excellent cash crop, especially as the money comes at a time when no other crop is ready for market.

The following is a summary of business done at this station given to the public through the courtesy of the local manager, H. J. Timmer. Season opened July 19, 1919, and closed October 1, 1919.

Bushels of "cukes" taken in 5765 and for these was paid $4,402.53.

Two hundred and sixty barrels of dill pickles were manufactured during this time.

John Doctor received $269.61 from one acre and John Clark received $196.00 from one acre.

Arthur Ruis and Gerrett VanDerark each planted and cared for one-half acre, the former being repaid for his work with $120.20 and the latter with $97.99.

John Cole received $68.04 from ¼ acre, while Geo. Rubiugh realized $41.23 from the same space and A. E. Sinclair received $25.35 for one pick from one acre.

COUNTY FAIR WELL ATTENDED

Despite Rainy Weather and Poor Condition of Roads

The Antrim county fair was the best this year of any year in its history and entertained exceptionally large crowds, considering the rotten weather. Two good ball games were pulled off, one on Thursday, when Ellsworth defeated the Bennett team by a 4-3 score and again on Friday, when the same teams clashed, the winners of the first game copping it again by the count of 5-1.

The races were fair considering the heavy condition of the track and the free attractions were extra good. The crowds from the north were held down, however, by the almost impassable condition of the roads between Central Lake and Bellaire. Only a small percent of the expected crowd of soldiers were on hand to take advantage of the thousand dollars appropriated by the board of supervisors for their entertainment, but those who did so apparently enjoyed themselves.

DIED AFTER ILLNESS OF BUT FOUR DAYS

Grief Stricken Mother Has Sympathy of Entire Community

Bernice Bernard Boes, the two and one-half year old son of Mrs. Elsie Boes of Ellsworth, died at eight o'clock last Sunday evening after an illness of about four days, in spite of all the help that skilled physicians and nurses could give.

Death was caused by appendicitis and an operation was performed as a last resort after everything else had been tried, but it was of no avail and the little life went out.

The funeral services were held Wednesday, October 8, at 1 p. m., at the M. E. church, Rev. Beute of the Christian Reformed church officiating, and the little body was laid away in Boss cemetery.

The mother has the deepest sympathy of the entire community. On October 26, 1918, her husband, the father of little Bernice, was taken by the dreaded influenza, and this added blow coming less than a year later seems more than she can bear.

FURTHER YANK BONUS ASKED

Would Refund $15.00 Monthly Collected for Dependents

A concerted drive for an additional bonus for soldiers and sailors has been begun in congress.

The ways and means committee was stormed on Monday by a delegation of congressmen, most of whom had plans for further reimbursement of former service men. They urged legislation, authorizing bond issues of from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 to supply the funds necessary.

In this delegation were Representatives McKenzie, Illinois; Nelson, Wisconsin and others.

Mr. McKenzie urged his plan of refunding to soldiers and sailors the $15 per month, collected from them for the care of their dependents, and to pay them, in addition, $15 per month of service exclusive of the first two months, to equalize the depreciation in value of the dollar.

"I don't believe the boys are asking for gifts, or presents," he said. "Their dependents were the charge justly of this government."

"Many men were exempted from service on the ground of their dependents. The $30 a month paid them did not represent this amount actually because of the expansion in currency and inflation, and their pay should now be adjusted to compensate for this depreciation."

"PASSING THE BUCK"

The farmers blame the middleman for what we pay for "truck."

While middlemen say that the price is all the grocer's luck.

The grocers pass it back again. And thus it goes around—A dizzy ring of dealers, but No remedy is found!

Now comes a warning that our shoes And other clothes will bring Much higher prices in the fall, Along with everything!

The maker of shoes lays blame Upon the tanner, and The clothing manufacturers Say wool—you understand!

But ultimate consumer seem To be all out of luck, As there's no one for them to soak— They cannot "pass the buck!"

REBEKAHS GIVE FAREWELL RECEPTION

Tender Gift to Mrs. Ella Shearer for Services Rendered

Charlevoix Rebekahs had a meeting Tuesday evening, September 30, which will always dwell in the minds of those present as a very pleasant affair.

A pot luck supper had been planned, also a farewell reception for the Noble Grand, Mrs. Ella Shearer, who expects to leave soon for her future home in Washington. One of the pleasant features of the evening was the farewell verse, composed and read by Mrs. Lucina Withers:

"Sister Shearer will still be with us, Though many, many miles apart. She has always been so kind, she will be in our mind

As well as in our heart. She is going away, but not to stay, But she did so once before;

But if she don't come back, we are on her track, And will meet again where parting is no more."

So we all bid you all goodbye—but don't you cry, We know it is for the best; And each day for you we'll pray

For you have only gone out west, Nothing could have been said that would have more expressed the feelings of all the members present as these few words did. At the close of the supper, Mrs. Alma Critchell, Assembly Warden, of Petoskey, with a few well chosen words, presented Mrs. Shearer with a slight token to show the appreciation of her past services in the lodge.—Contributed.

TIME IS THE TEST

The Testimony of Charlevoix People Stands the Test

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Charlevoix people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? Below is testimony such as the sufferer from kidney ills is looking for.

Mrs. John Cook, 307 Mason St., Charlevoix, gave the following statement in October, 1911: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions for kidney disorder and back-ache and they have always given me splendid results."

FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. Cook added: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble and I have had no occasion to use a kidney medicine since. I am always ready to say a good word for Doan's."

DEFEATS TRAVERSE CITY 20 TO 0

THREE TOUCHDOWNS BY HALLETT, GOALS BY CARTIER

Home Team Displayed Championship Form — Plays Boyne City Next Saturday

The story of the football game played last Saturday at Traverse City should be told in chapters as there would be ample material. The game was between Charlevoix high school and Traverse City high school, referees, State Constabulary and general public, Charlevoix winning by the score of 20 to 0.

The game was a battle from start to finish, but after the first five minutes of play there was no doubt as to who would be the winner. The first touchdown was scored early in the first quarter by Hallett, Cartier kicking the goal making the score 7-0 in Charlevoix's favor at the end of the first period.

Two more touchdowns by Hallett and another goal by Cartier were made in the remainder of the game, the team displaying championship form throughout. Halverson at quarter showed 100 per cent improvement over the two preceding games and handled the team like a veteran. Hallett and Cartier gained the most ground for Charlevoix although Byers showed up well for his first game this season. In the line Krulick, Burns and Smith played stellar ball, Smith making line tackles throughout the game.

The Charlevoix line-up was as follows: left end, Hammett; left tackle, Brown; left guard, Paddock; center, Wickstaff; right guard, Burns; right tackle, Krulick; right end, Smith; quarterback, Halverson; right half, Byers; full back, Hallett; left half, Cartier.

The Traverse City referee played a wonderful game of football making at least five yards every time he carried the ball, generally more, while the State Constabulary displayed great talent at blocking and according to Coach Grooms very little gain was made through their side of the line. That referee surely would have made a wonderful second story man and it didn't do any good to try to argue as the State Constabulary were right there to pinch you if you did. The ex-bar tenders union was there and put up a rattling good game from the side lines and at times things gave promise of becoming quite interesting but for some reason nothing serious developed.

The trip was made to Traverse by cars and several cars full of rooters accompanied the team, so the boys were well represented on the side lines. Next Saturday the home team meets Boyne City, if arrangements go through as now planned, and the game promises to be the hardest of the season as Boyne defeated Alpena Saturday by a score of 40-0 and is the chief contender for the Northern Michigan Championship.

BANQUET HELD AT BARTLETT

To Organize Roosevelt Memorial Association Here

A banquet was held at the Bartlett Wednesday evening, October 15, with the purpose in view of organizing on a solid basis Charlevoix section of the Roosevelt Memorial association.

Mrs. Harry Nicholls, vice president of the county branch, was chairman of the occasion, and those present were the leaders of the various churches, lodges and other societies of the city.

This was really a get together meeting held in order to start this branch of the association out in the right direction and in the right manner.

STATE TO TAKE LICENSE FEES

New Order Deprives County Clerk of 25 Cent Commission

According to a new order received by all county clerks, all money paid over to the county for deer licenses this fall will have to be sent to the state. It has been the custom for the county to withhold twenty-five cents from every $1.50 paid for a deer license, this twenty-five cents being used toward the payment of two county wardens, appointed by the board of supervisors. This usually amounts to several hundred dollars.

Under the new ruling, the county will receive no money to pay these deputies.

The notice from the state game warden reads as follows:

"Under a new amendatory act, there is no provision for retaining any portion of the moneys received from the sale of deer hunting licenses excepting the 25 cents, which the county clerk is authorized to retain, the provision in Act 268 authorizing the retention of 25 cents by the county treasurer for the payment of services in enforcing the game and fish laws having been repealed."

Notice has also been sent out by the state game department that deer licenses will be sent, shortly, to all counties in order to give hunters an opportunity to get them before the grand rush for licenses begins at the opening of the season.

From now on, according to a change to the game laws, applicants for licenses to trap beaver will not have to present permits from the owners of land on which they wish to trap. The section of the law which required these permits has been repealed.

FIRST MEETING OF DICKEN CLUB

At Home of Mrs. R. L. Lewis Last Tuesday—Officers Elected

The Charlevoix Dickens club was organized on November 19, 1912. Last Tuesday, October 7th, this club held its first meeting of the year in an informal way at the home of Mrs. Abby Lewis.

The new and artistically arranged programs of study were a source of interest during the afternoon. The session closed with a dainty three-course luncheon served in honor of Mrs. Marion Harris Purdy, a charter member of the club, who is here from Los Angeles, California, and Mrs. Lois Frazier Thomas, who leaves soon for her new home in Detroit. Miss Ione Catton, who is spending a few weeks here, was also a guest.

The new officers are: President, Mrs. Abby Lewis. Vice President, Mrs. Mary Cooper. Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Ione Craig.

Librarian, Mrs. Mildred Ochs.

The club now has eighteen active members, eleven honorary members and one associate member. The work this year will be a continued study of Mr. and Mrs. Browning and a few selections from Tennyson and Longfellow. The first regular meeting of study was held Monday, October 13th, with Mrs. Cornelia Bailey.

M. E. CHURCH.

"The Power of the Holy Spirit," will be Rev. Henry Candler's sermon subject for next Sunday morning at the First Methodist Episcopal church. The large chorus choir under the leadership of Helena Bates will render special music at this service.

The Sunday school, which meets at 12 o'clock, is well organized with classes for all ages. A special effort is being made to interest the men of the church and congregation and their friends in the Men's class.

All Sunday evening services will be evangelistic in character, a brief sermon will be preceded by a service of song, assisted by a specially trained girls' chorus.

Epworth League devotional services at 6 o'clock. Last Sunday evening the young people listened to a splendid talk by Miss Helen Bates. Prayer and praise service every Thursday night at 7:30.

FISH SUPPER AND MEETING

COMMERCIAL ASSOCIATION ELECTS NEW DIRECTORS

Matter of Having Salaried Secretary Threshed Out—Important Resolutions Passed

The regular meeting of the Charlevoix Commercial association was held last Friday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall, a fish supper being served in connection with the meeting. The supper was very nicely served and was greatly appreciated by all those present. This section of the program was under the supervision of S. M. Rose, while the cream for the coffee was furnished by the Loeb farm and was a treat.

The attendance at this meeting proved quite a disappointment as a number of the members were not present and there was important business to attend to. The real object of the meeting was to elect four new members to be added to the board of directors, which formerly has consisted of only three members, the president, vice president and secretary, but which will now have seven members in all. The new officers elected were: Archie Livingston, A. F. Bridge, Harold Bedford and A. J. Usher.

At the business session it was moved and passed that the board be given authority to hire a paid secretary to handle the work of the association, for four months, a display of progressiveness in this line. Work was also done relative to taking fish from Pine Lake by means of pound or trap nets, the motion to be placed on record by the association secretary.

Moved by A. A. Swinton, seconded by A. F. Bridge, that this association go on record as unalterably opposed to the granting of permits to set pound or trap nets in the waters of Pine Lake for the purpose of taking suckers or other rough fish, and that the secretary be instructed to communicate the contents of this motion to the State Game, Fish and Forestry Commissioner.

The meeting continued its usual business, upon the completion of which it adjourned.

ADDITIONS BEING MADE TO GARAGE

New Display and Office Room—To Handle Chalmers and Maxwell

Another Charlevoix business concern has found it necessary because of insufficient space to enlarge their place of business.

A 35 x 28 foot addition is being built onto the back of the Fowler garage which will greatly enlarge their floor space and make the handling of cars inside of the building a whole lot easier.

The front of the building will be open so as to have an entrance from that way, also making a place there for an office and display room. The back of the building will be used as the service and repair department, also for storage.

Mr. Fowler announces that he has secured the agency for the Chalmers motor car and will soon have a car here for demonstration purposes. He will continue to handle the Maxwell agency in the future.

NEW OVERLAND MODEL 4 HAS SERVICE BUILT-IN

Willys-Overland Local Dealer Predicts Car With Service Troubles Squeezed Out

How to keep the car you drive out of the repair shop when you need it for the business trip or on the Saturdays and Sundays you planned to spend in the country with the family has long been an owner-worry.

That the real solution of the service problem will be found shortly in the construction of the motor car itself is the interesting prediction of Benj. Brown, Willys-Overland dealer in Charlevoix.

"The light-weight popular car of tomorrow," says Mr. Brown, "will have its service built right into it. Today the purchaser of any car expects to undergo certain service adjustments, repairs and so forth after his car goes into use. Tomorrow he will ask that most of this sort of service be built into the car before he buys it."

"And this can be done with the careful selection of material and the right balancing of parts in a car of right design. Manufacturers who retain leadership will check these important details as never before. They will be certain that their car is right before the public passes judgment."

"Take, for example, the two years of tests made by the Willys-Overland Company after the completion of its new car which will soon be on the market. Every detail was put through tests equal to the average life strain before it was approved for the car. "Owners nowadays have very definite ideas about the qualities a car should have. You appreciate that fact when you watch prospects looking closely into the design of the car under consideration."

"To get actual light weight, which in itself saves tires, gasoline and car wear," continued Mr. Brown, "nearly everyone knows now that a car must be designed light weight. It can not merely be a heavier car shaved down in weight."

"In designing the new Overland, Willys-Overland engineers appreciate from the start that the light-weight car to meet the requirements of comfort and economy must be a newly designed car from the ground up—new chassis, new body, new springs are the result. The new Overland 4 is bound instantly to commend itself to the discriminating motor car buyer because it is actually a new type of car—a direct answer to the list of requirements every motorist has in mind."

"Service is built right into it. The chassis, for instance, is as simple as an outline drawing. There are only five units to assemble in the car and the feature of the new design (making a car more accessible and more easily get-at-able than any car I have yet seen) is the new cantilever spring suspension which introduces an absolutely new riding comfort and an entirely new protection for the car."

"These elements combine to keep the car in uninterrupted use, free from the usual garage and repair bills. We believe this car will help solve the service problem in the way I have indicated."

SUFFERS PAINFUL INJURY SUNDAY

Elory Pontious, little son of Rev. A. G. Pontious, suffered a very painful accident Sunday when he broke his left leg while running after a football.

In some manner the little fellow's foot caught while chasing the ball and he fell in such a manner that it broke his left leg near the hip.

The fracture was reduced by Dr. Armstrong Sunday night and he is now resting quite easy, although in a great deal of pain.

DEATH TAKES THOMAS SHAWLEY

Died While at Breakfast Table Tuesday Morning

Thomas Shawley, for years a resident of Charlevoix, died suddenly Tuesday morning at 7:30 a. m., while at the breakfast table, after several years' illness of heart trouble and general breaking down.

Deceased was 76 years of age and was born in Peterboro, England. He was married in 1870 and a year later with his wife located in Canada, where they resided until 1890, when he came to Charlevoix county, locating in Barnard, Marion township, later entering business in Charlevoix, which he continued until about five years ago, when on account of ill health he disposed of his holdings.

Thomas Shawley was a good, substantial citizen and held the respect of all who knew him. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary G. Shawley, and four children, Omar, Ernest of Belding, Mrs. Agnes Huber of Chicago, and Mrs. Blanche Watson of Manitoba.

He was a member of the local I. O. O. F. lodge and the Congregational church.

Funeral services will be held from the house Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. VanKirk of the Congregational church. Interment at Brookside cemetery.

FINE EXHIBIT OF FARM PRODUCTS

Farmers' Day at S. M. See & Sons' Store Saturday—Prizes Awarded

The fruit, grain and vegetable exhibit that is being given by S. M. See & Sons, and the Argo Milling Co., at the S. M. See & Sons' store this week is now on display in the window of that store.

While the display is not as large as it should be the products there are certainly of fine quality and a credit to their growers. Some of the finest corn displayed in this county for some time is now on exhibition.

The apples, beans, wheat and other products are also of the very best and show the results of care and good farming. Mr. See announces that Saturday, October 18th, the day that the prizes will be awarded, will be Farmers' Day and he extends an invitation to everyone to make that place their headquarters for the day. Come there and rest and see your friends.

L. B. Aseltine Writes of Wonderful Grape Harvest in That Section

Word for L. B. Aseltine, connected during the years of 1917-18 with the Charlevoix high school teaching force, states that the past summer and fall months have been busy ones for him. Mr. Aseltine is now located on a farm near Paw Paw, in the grape belt, and according to his statement at the time he wrote about two-thirds of the crop on their farm had been harvested, amounting to some 24,000 bushels.

Early in the season Mr. Aseltine broke his heel bone when he jumped off a load of grape baskets, which laid him up for several weeks. Despite the farm activities, he states he often thinks of Charlevoix and his many friends, and at times wishes he were back among us.

NEW SCHOOL LAW DRASTIC

COMPELS EDUCATION OF CHILDREN UNDER EIGHTEEN

School Boards Must Establish and Maintain Part-time Vocational or Continuation School

Local school officials have received from Thomas E. Johnson, executive officer of the state board of control for vocational education, a copy of the new law passed by the state legislature regarding compulsory vocational education and general education of employed children under eighteen years of age.

The new law takes effect September 1, 1920, and is intended to supplement the compulsory school attendance law and also the labor law concerning children.

"All school districts having a population of 5,000 or more," says Mr. Johnson, "should make preparations to determine the number of children as described in the act, and make provisions for this special type of education. These part time or continuation schools may come under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes law governing such schools, and entitle the district to share in the federal and state funds for the maintenance of industrial education."

Provisions of Act

The new act provides that all minors in the school district between the ages of fifteen and eighteen years, are required to attend the general or continuation schools of instruction at least eight hours each week, unless they have completed a four year course in high school.

Minors are excused from compliance with this law for the same reasons and conditions that children under fifteen years of age are now excused from the provisions of the compulsory education law. It is further provided that minors who are employed and who shall have reached the age of sixteen years prior to September 1, 1920, shall be excused from the act's provisions.

The act follows:

"Section 1. On and after the first day of September, nineteen hundred and twenty, every school district having a population of five thousand or more and containing fifty or more children subject to the provisions of this act, shall, and any other school district may, through its board of education, establish and maintain part-time vocational or general continuation schools or course of instruction for the education of minors under eighteen years of age who have ceased to attend all-day schools. Said schools or courses of instruction shall be in session at least as many weeks in each year as the common schools of such district. When a school district shall have established said schools or courses it shall require the attendance thereof of every minor under eighteen years of age residing within the confines of said school district, who has ceased to attend all-day school and who has not completed a four-year high school course or its equivalent, provided that said minors may be excused from the provisions of this section, for the same reasons and under the same conditions as children under fifteen years of age may now be excused from the provisions of the compulsory education law; Provided further, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to employed minors, who shall have reached the age of sixteen years prior to September one, nineteen hundred twenty. The required attendance provided for in this act shall be at the rate of not less than eight hours per week, and shall be between the hours of eight o'clock in the morning and five-thirty o'clock in the afternoon of any working days, or days, except that it shall not be Saturday."

Announcement

The management of the new Palace Theatre wishes to announce that it is discontinuing Monday and Tuesday shows until further notice, excepting special shows that may be booked on these dates. This will enable us to give the public a better class of shows for the balance of the week. Trusting this will meet with the approval of our patrons, I remain,

THE BIG SUNDAY DINNER

The Rev. Charles Stelze, a writer on Religious topics says: "The Bible denounces the glutton as much as it does the 'wine-bibber'."

"This is a good thing to remember in these days of temperance agitation."

"Most of us imagine that 'temperance' has to do merely with cutting out 'booze'—it has just as much to do with cutting out bread or beef—that is, bread or beef that is to be eaten by one who has already been overfed."

"It is just as possible to waste food-stuffs by putting them into our stomachs as it is to waste them by converting them into 'booze'."

"A man who over-indulges in food doesn't usually make as bad an impression upon the public as one who over-indulges in liquor, but he may be just as intemperate at heart and in his appetite as the man who reels along the street. And it is a question as to who is doing the most harm."

"Most of us are more intemperate on Sundays than we are other days, in food consumption. Sunday is supposed to be the day when the mind and the body is to be rested—recreated, in preparation for the next week's work."

"By the way some of us load up on food on Sunday is enough to put us out of commission for the rest of the week."

"We tackle a big Sunday dinner, the preparation of which has kept the women folks busy for a day or so, and which will keep them busy washing dishes most of the afternoon, while we go off somewhere in the back yard or on the roof or in a hammock under the trees or we'll lie down on the grass or sneak off to the porch or maybe upstairs to bed—so loggy and stupid that we aren't fit to talk with anybody."

"Many of us spoil the day in this way not only for ourselves, but for our families, who have a right to expect something more of us on Sunday—the only day we are around the house to take part in family affairs and to make the home more like what it should be."

"What about cutting out the big Sunday dinner? Let's have mercy on our wives and daughters who get the meals ready for us, as well as upon our own physical systems, which we are over-working because we eat too much."

"Try it out for a while and see what happens. The chances are that you'll be so pleased that you'll say: 'Never again on the big Sunday feed.'"

THE YOUNG MAN OF TODAY

"What is wrong with the average young man of today?" a writer asked several business men. His question assumed that there really was something wrong, and the answers seemed to justify the assumption. They varied somewhat, but they might all be boiled down to this one terse characterization by a disgusted employer:

"He doesn't want to work."

To verify the verdict of these business men—or disprove it, if possible—the writer hunted up a young fellow like a typical specimen, and was. He was a likeable chap, lively, entertaining and appreciative. He talked well about sports and movie stars. Had all the latest phrases and "dope" about them. When the writer drew the conversation around to captains of industry, doctors, lawyers, statesmen, scientists and others who were doing big things in the world, he grew silent, and nervously fingered his necktie.

That writer sizes him up thus:

"He utterly lacks such a thing as an objective or life purpose. He lives merely for the fun of today."

He has no thought of what he will be doing ten or twenty years hence. His forward look stops at next pay-day.

He is not concerned about really promoting the interests of his employer.

His idea is to do as little work as possible and expect an increase in pay the second week he is on the job.

He will quit and go to another concern for a small raise regardless of what the new job may mean in self-improvement, or an increase in earning power.

This young fellow is not a fool. He has brains, but he does not use them. He needs a swift kick that will kick the nonsense out of him, and head him in the right direction.—Appleton Crescent.

President Wilson says: "The conference is the healing influence of civilization." And President Wilson's idea of a conference is a place where he tells the other fellow just how it is all going to be.

Amphibious Soldiers.
A Frenchman has suggested that with a little training the soldier may be amphibious to a certain degree. It is contended that with practice a body of soldiers with their arms and accoutrements could cross a stream 90 feet wide by merely walking across on the bottom with the water over their heads.

This is Push Coat Headquarters

YOU can shop and shop and shop, but you'll find nothing these cold days to beat a Worth Styles coat of plush. Here is a new one that we can specially recommend. It is handsomely lined, of course, has a sash belt, collar buttoning up for the coldest days.

This is the store where you can almost always find your size in plushes—we feature them because there's nothing that will give more satisfaction.

Naturally the linings and quality of plush are better in the finer garments, but these popular-priced garments will give you a lot of service.

While almost every article of wearing apparel has advanced, we are still selling some of these plush coats at prices of two or three years ago. This does not apply to all garments, but on certain numbers.

GROUND FEED VS. WHOLE GRAIN

IT PAYS TO GRIND CORN COBS
WE CAN GRIND YOUR GRAIN FOR YOU

The Michigan Experiment Station carried out an experiment a short time ago to determine the relative feeding value of whole grain and ground feed. The summary of the results of the experiment is as follows:

Whole corn not masticated:

Cows..... 22.75 per cent
Heifers..... 10.77 per cent
Calves..... 6.29 per cent

Whole oats not masticated:

Cows..... 12.06 per cent
Heifers..... 5.48 per cent
Calves..... 2.98 per cent

Whole corn and whole oats not masticated:

Cows..... 26.46 per cent
Heifers..... 17.50 per cent
Calves..... 5.78 per cent

Chemical analyses showed practically the same composition of grain as before feeding; therefore it is safe to conclude that the animal derives no benefit from grain which passes through the digestive tract unmasticated.

LATE RAINS

WORTH THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS TO AGRICULTURISTS

Late Potatoes Promise a Fairly Good Yield But State Average Falls Far Below Normal

Good rains during the latter part of September greatly improved seeding conditions, benefited wheat and rye that had already been sown, revived pastures, and increased the yield of late potatoes and sugar beets says the joint crop report issued by Coleman C. Vaughan, Secretary of State and Verne H. Church, Field Agent, U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. Seeding was greatly hindered by the extreme dryness of the soil, and grain that was sown prior to the rains was very much in need of moisture to promote satisfactory germination and growth. Pastures had dried up in many sections of the state and farmers have been compelled to resort to feeding more or less dry feed. Late potatoes have improved somewhat but the rains arrived too late to make a full crop. Notwithstanding the extreme dryness of the season corn is an excellent crop. Beans are showing good yields in the main bean counties of the central and eastern districts.

The average yield of winter wheat is 19.5 bushels as compared with 14.0 bushels last year and a ten-year average of 17.0 bushels per acre. The total production is estimated at 19,246,000 as compared with 10,010,000 last year. The average yield of spring wheat is 12.0 bushels per acre as compared with 18.1 bushels last year. The number of bushels of wheat marketed during September was 2,009,000; 17 mills and elevators reported no wheat purchased during the month. The total amount marketed since August 1 is 3,759,000 bushels.

Corn is a much better crop than any since 1910, notwithstanding the dry summer and the damage it caused in some localities. The condition is 88 per cent which is equivalent to 37 bushels per acre, or a total production of 65,159,000. As 40 per cent of the acreage is usually utilized for silage purposes, the net grain production is placed at 37,895,000 bushels.

The average yield of oats is 24.4 bushels per acre, giving a total production of 38,040,000 bushels which is the smallest production since 1907. Last year the yield was 40 bushels per acre, and the production 66,326,000 bushels.

The condition of buckwheat is 75 per cent, representing a total production 750,000 bushels from the 52,000 acres planted, as compared with 780,000 bushels from 78,000 acres last year.

The potato crop shows some improvement since the recent rains, but only 66 per cent of a crop is expected. This represents a production of 28,571,000 bushels, as compared with 28,569,000 bushels last year.

The quality of the crop is generally good and digging has commenced in some sections.

The indicated yield of clover seed is 1.72 bushels per acre, as compared with 1.30 bushels last year. The acreage is small but the yield and quality are good.

The average yield of beans will be around 14 bushels per acre, the yield last year being nine bushels. Early threshing returns show a yield of 15 bushels, but later returns are expected to reduce this average. The crop matured early and a large portion was gathered without rain so that the quality is excellent. Some late fields are weather damaged. The following average yields are reported from other states: New York, 15; New Mexico, 9; and Colorado, 4 bushels per acre.

The apple crop is 37 per cent of normal as compared with 62 per cent last year; the greater part of it was in commercial orchards in the western counties, particularly from Oceana county north to Traverse City. A good crop was also reported from portions of the Upper Peninsula. Grapes were unusually fine in quality and there was practically a full crop. Pears are 62 per cent of a crop, two per cent better than last year.

FINE RECEPTION

AT BLUE HALL

Friends Gather to Meet Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Clark

A very pleasant evening was spent last Friday by ninety or a hundred people who gathered at the Blue Hall in honor of the M. E. pastor, Rev. E. E. Clark, who recently took charge of the Ellsworth church. The meeting of last Friday night was in the nature of a reception for Rev. and Mrs. Clark.

The evening was spent with music and songs and refreshments were served.

Rev. Clark, in the short time he has been with us, have given an excellent impression and the church is crowded each Sunday to listen to his address.

Did you get one of the Farmers' Account Books at the Citizens' Bank of Ellsworth? We have a few left. Come in and help yourself. Adv38tf

DEATH SADDENS

COELING HOME

Community Shocked by Sudden End of Popular Young Man

The community was saddened last Thursday to hear of the death of Martin Coeling which occurred that morning at his home near Atwood. The young man had complained of severe headaches for a few days, but thought it was nothing serious. Early Thursday morning he began to sink rapidly, however, and died before a physician could reach him.

He was 23 years of age and was born in Grand Rapids, but had with his parents lived near Atwood several years.

The funeral services conducted by Rev. E. E. Clark were held at the Methodist Church at Atwood at 10 a. m. on Saturday, October 11th, and the body was shipped to Grand Rapids for burial. He leaves a father, mother and one brother to mourn his death, besides a host of other friends and relatives who will miss his happy smile and his cherry greeting.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

The Industrial Conference

One of the most important gatherings ever held in Washington in peace times was promised when the industrial conference, assembled at the call of President Wilson, was convened in the historic Hall of Nations of the Pan-American building. Earnest leaders in industrial and economic life and thought, including the leading trade unionists of the United States, were brought together in "a council of national progress." Such was the definition of purpose furnished by Secretary of Interior Lane, who was chosen permanent chairman of the conference. Describing briefly the conditions in "a torn up world," Mr. Lane in his opening address said that "the troubles that exist today do not arise out of mere physical conditions; they arise largely out of the inner yearnings of the man himself." And, he continued "Man wants to be recognized as a thinking man, a participant in life." The speaker contended that "you cannot standardize men since every man is a genius by himself," a condition, he argued, that made it impossible to make one rule of efficiency applicable to all.

At the outset of the conference, Secretary of Labor Wilson, in the opening address, asserted that it was the right of any man to quit his employment whenever he chose to do so, and it was the right of any employer to close down his establishment whenever he chose to do so. He told the members of the conference that it was their duty to help in bringing about a condition so that neither the workman nor the employer would resort to these alternatives. Mr. Wilson emphasized the need of industrial harmony. But the nims of the conference were more clearly defined by one of the western labor delegates, who said, unofficially, that it was "to prevent strikes and check the Bolshevik craziness that has followed in the wake of war."

Traditions Upsel

There is a theory almost old enough to be tradition, that labor and capital are enemies. The ogre of Wall Street has been pictured by the same lurid artists of tongue and pen who have held up labor's representatives as universal enemies of civilization. The great American public, which has been carried away with this idea, might reverse its opinions had it been privileged to behold the scenes in the great industrial conference at Washington, where there were evidences of respect, even admiration exchanged between men like Judge Elbert H. Gary and Samuel Gompers, whose basic ideas are far, far apart. Or the scene might have been one wherein the rich John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and a gress. Such was the definition of purpose furnished by Secretary of Interior Lane, who was chosen permanent chairman of the conference. Describing briefly the conditions in "a torn up world," Mr. Lane in his opening address said that "the troubles that exist today do not arise out of mere physical conditions; they arise largely out of the inner yearnings of the man himself." And, he continued "Man wants to be recognized as a thinking man, a participant in life." The speaker contended that "you cannot standardize men since every man is a genius by himself," a condition, he argued, that made it impossible to make one rule of efficiency applicable to all.

There were three distinct groups in the conference, representing capital on the one side, labor on the other, and "the public." This latter group was supposedly the balance of power, and in its selection President Wilson evidently had in mind a choice of men and women—for there were two distinguished women in the group—who would stand between "radical capital" and "radical labor," which might swerve in their zeal and partizanship to an extent that might prevent capital or organized labor from the purpose of attempting to solve one of the greatest human problems of the times. President Wilson, in making his call for the conference, referred to this, when he said: "The wastages of war have seriously interfered with the natural course of our industrial and economic development; the nervous tension of our people has not yet relaxed to normal." There was, therefore, brought together what was supposed to be the strongest group of people the country could produce, who were identified with the industrial situation. They were asked to devise methods which would result in the speedy recovery of the people from the conditions described by the President, and to obviate the wastefulness caused from the continued interruption of our industrial enterprises through strikes and lockouts. As a collective body it may be said that the task was undertaken in a spirit of patriotism that matched the heroics of war-time days. Much so-called "new thought" and "new ideals" was brought out in the conference. Early in the proceedings the preponderance of strength held by organized labor seemed to run away with the entire situation. But the pendulum always swung backward and forward, and let us hope it ticked off minutes and hours that spelled victory and achievement for all humanity.

It was not contemplated that the conference would perform miracles toward increased production; neither was it anticipated that profiteering evils would be solved through the deliberations of the conferees. The aim was to restore "the nervous tension of our people which has not yet relaxed to normal," as the President expressed the thought. And the chances are that considerable progress was made toward that goal.

Thou Shalt Not Earn

One of the most extraordinary suggestions, outside the soviet doctrine incorporated in the so-called Plumb plan for running the railroads, is contained in the Cummins bill for the taking over of the railroads under private ownership and management, to be operated under government control. The Cummins bill provides that if any railroad shall earn more in any year than a "fair return" upon a "fair value" the entire surplus earned shall be taken from the railway company earning it. It evidently did not occur to the framers of the proposed legislation that a penalty would be placed upon increased efficiency, since the legitimate profits earned by any wide-awake and profitable railroad would accrue to the government. The opinion of Charles Evans Hughes is that such legislation would be unconstitutional, and no matter what may be the individual opinion of Mr. Hughes as a republican leader, the fact is not to be lost sight of that he was very recently, a highly esteemed member of the United States Supreme Court. Therefore his view point concerning this feature of the Cummins bill has been given the most thoughtful consideration on Capitol Hill.

Congress has resolved the railroad transportation question into a problem of credit almost entirely. There seems to be an unwillingness on the part of any law makers to pull the lever open in such a way that railroad initiative, industry, economy and good management will obtain their best results. One Senator, who has progressive ideas upon the subject, puts the problem in a nut shell when he says that "one of the absolutely essential provisions in any legislation calculated to solve the railroad problem permanently must be encouragement of efficiency in operation." He adds that any plan that would take away everything except what the rate-making authority determines is a fair return, would remove all incentive to efficiency after a fair return is made. Another class of Senators and Representatives are still playing upon the public prejudices against the railroads and other forms of big business to such an extent that they are unwilling, even in the face of the conviction entertained by the Administration leaders, and the best republicans in Congress, to support measures which the experiences of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Railroad Administration show to be essential, if the transportation systems of the country are to be placed upon a safe and sound basis of operation.

The Steel Strike

Since the opening day the steel strike has been watched in its every detail by the public men and students of industrial conditions in Washington. The steel industry has asked for no sympathy, and evidently the public mind is concerning itself but little regarding the interests involved in the ownership and management of the industry. But is a very patent fact that Washington is overwhelmingly convinced that the steel strike is the result of an unreasonable exercise of the power of bad influences over great groups of foreign-born laborers who have centered in this industry.

POOR BRAND OF SCHOOL SPIRIT

BOYNE CITY CANCELS GAME ONCE SCHEDULED.

Aver Charlevoix Team Are Rough Players and Seek Newspaper Notoriety.

The question of a foot-ball game between Boyne City high school and Charlevoix high school, and Boyne City's replies to our request for games, has aroused a great deal of comment here recently.

It was observed with great amusement the article published in the Grand Rapids Herald, dated October 18, which originated in Boyne City, stating that Boyne City and her foot-ball team were very disappointed in not being able to secure a game with Charlevoix this year, and that they (Boyne City) never considered a season complete without handing the "boys at the foot of the lake" a good drubbing.

The brand of school spirit that has been followed in Charlevoix makes it impossible to answer a letter received from Boyne City, canceling the game that was scheduled with Boyne City last Saturday, in the same manner that it was received. Never in the history of the school has the team manager told an opposing team that they deliberately played a dirty game. These statements were made with reference to last year's game, when Boyne City came here for a so-called practice game which was to prepare them for the future bigger games. Boyne City was on the small end of the score and unfortunately one or two of their men were slightly injured, due absolutely to the brenks in luck. Foot-ball is a rough game, a well known fact, and those participating in it must be able to stand a little roughing around. It is not a game for girls or small boys. This was the only reason given by Boyne City for not wanting to play Charlevoix. An other, not stated by them, was that Charlevoix defeated Traverse City 20-0. We are sorry that the Boyne City boys do not play rough games, but we are sure that we can get enough of our girls together to arrange a sociable little game of "puss in-the-corner," or some other like game, which all could enjoy. Surely the girls wouldn't play rough. We would be glad to arrange a party of this kind for Boyne City, but undoubtedly would have to get the written permission from all of the Boyne City mothers before we could get them here.

Boyne City never has, nor never will, turn out a team that Charlevoix will not meet, even if they do hent Traverse City 20-0, and they will never complain of the opposing side playing rough. Nor do they cancel game, once scheduled rather than chance defeat.

In answer to Boyne City's article in the Grand Rapids Herald, we wish to say that we would very much appreciate the "drubbing" that would complete Boyne City's season, and that the "boys at the foot of the lake" are more than willing at any time to play Boyne City here, there, or on a neutral field.

CHARLEVOIX MAN FOREMAN OF GRAND JURY

Robert Sherman of Eveline to Help Decide Important Case.

Word has been received from Grand Rapids where the Grand Jury is now in session that Robert Sherman of Eveline a member of the jury has been elected foreman of the jury.

The Grand Jury is now investigating the case of U. S. Senator Turman H. Newberry as to the manner in which he used funds in his nomination and election campaign in Michigan. It is stated that it will take at least a month to secure the testimony of the various witnesses.

CAUGHT IN BELT OF GAS ENGINE

Earl A. Clark of Ironton Seriously Injured Saturday.

Earl A. Clark, manager of the Breezy Point Farm near Ironton, was seriously hurt Saturday afternoon about 2:00 o'clock, while working around a gasoline engine, the power plant of the electric generator.

In some manner he was caught in the belt of the machine and tossed about, breaking his left leg in two places, below and above the knee. It was twisted about in such a manner that the skin and flesh below the knee was broken about half way around.

The fracture was reduced by Dr. Dicken of East Jordan. Monday Dr. Reycraft of Petoskey was called and it was discovered that he had also suffered a wrenched back and a cracked rib, which had not been noticed before due to the severe pain from the broken leg. Mr. Clark is resting easy now, considering the extent of his injury.

PRIZES AWARDED DISPLAY WINNERS

C. W. WING, E. B. WARD AND MARTIN STALEY JUDGES.

Exhibit Was Small But of Finest Quality—Best Corn Display in Years.

Saturday last was Former's Day at the store of S. M. See & Sons, and was also the day set aside for the awarding of prizes to those having winners in the fruit, grain and vegetable exhibit held there last week.

The display, although not as large as it should have been, was very good and some very fine farm products were entered. The corn display there would rival any state in the union, being the best in years. The apples were also of exceptionally fine quality. The display was judged by C. W. Wing, county agricultural agent; E. B. Ward and Martin Staley, and by them the following persons were awarded the different prizes:

Apples.

HOLD HUNT AND GAME SUPPER

MEMBERS OF K. OF P. LODGE PREPARE FOR GOOD HUNT

Losing Side to Cook and Serve Supper in I. O. O. F. Hall Thursday Evening

The members of the K. of P. lodge will hold a hunt and game supper next week, recalling an event which took place several years ago and that has always been remembered by the members of that lodge as a very enjoyable event.

Two teams have been picked from the lodge roll and will measure each others ability to "bean the bunny", next Wednesday, October 29th. L. E. Benton has been chosen to captain one team and A. J. Usher the other. Benton says he knows that there isn't a man on Usher's team that could hit a rabbit if it had crawled down his gun barrel and Usher is in favor of sending instructors along to teach his opponents how to load their guns. The losing team of this match is to cook the supper for the winner and it will be served in the K. of P. hall the night following the hunt, Thursday, October 30th.

It would be a good policy if all land-owners wish to have any hunting the rest of this fall and winter in their woods and swamps to notify the rabbits and other game to keep under cover October 29th, as some of the fellows shoot a mean barrel. It would also be well to tell them if they sit right still there will not be much danger, but if they start moving around they are liable to run into some stray shot. Notice is also given Dr. Armstrong that he will not be able to turn in guinea hens as partridge, and expect to get away with it as he tried to do last time. It will probably be cats in place of rabbits this year. The men who will take part in the hunt and the teams upon which they will be as follows:

Team No. 1, A. J. Usher, Captain
A. J. Usher, A. L. Fitch, Grover Genet, Oluf Nordrum, Richard Lewis, Robert Bridge, Wm. P. Johnson, E. C. Lewis, Geo. Stafford, Jay Adams, Ed. Klooster, Andy McCall, John McCann, Charles H. Emrey, W. COUNTY'S QUOTA IS ONLY $500

ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL CAMPAIGN BEGINS OCT. 20

Big Feature of Memorial Campaign is That It Will Appeal to Both Young and Old

"One flag, the American flag; One language, the language of the Declaration of Independence; One loyalty, loyalty to American people."

ROOSEVELT.

Charlevoix county is to have a prominent part in the Roosevelt Memorial Movement which is under way throughout the entire country. Michigan's quota is $200,000 and Charlevoix county's quota is $500. It is the purpose and earnest wish of the county chairman, F. O. Barden, that all thought of partisanship be removed from the campaign. Theodore Roosevelt's memory is the common heritage of all Americans. Every man, woman and child shall be given the opportunity to assist by their energy and gifts in perpetuating memory of the man of robust honesty, dauntless courage, tireless energy and of one hundred percent Americanism, which he preached and lived befused into the lives of our American youths.

This campaign will begin Monday, October 20th, and close Monday, October 27th, when public programs will be held in commemoration of his birthday and his picture dedicated with appropriate exercises in every school house.

The campaign for Charlevoix county was opened Wednesday evening in Charlevoix, where forty-five representative people of the county and representing the cities of Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City and Boyne Falls, were called together at the Bartlett House under the direction of the chairman and enjoyed a well appointed banquet. Following the banquet plans were laid for the forthcoming campaign.

The county was divided into four districts, namely: Charlevoix with Dr. Armstrong and Mrs. Harry Nicholls, chairman, amount to raise $150; East Jordan with Superintendent R. M. Keyworth, (chairman of woman's division to be supplied), amount to raise $150; Boyne City with Dr. J. R. Furman and Mrs. J. M. Harris, amount to raise $150; Boyne Falls with E. S. Stacks, (chairman of women's division to be supplied), amount to raise $50.

One of the big features of this Memorial campaign and one that will appeal to the school boy and girl, is the giving of from five cents and more of their present funds for a memorial that will perpetuate the memory of our popular National hero. It is understood that pupils thus giving and by handing in his or her name, will get a certificate from headquarters in New York City. Miss May L. Stewart, county school commissioner, will have charge of this campaign.

During this campaign, it is the expressed wish that everyone will contribute to this fund for memorials to the great American and that every cent obtained in this campaign will be used in carrying out these plans.

GIVEN FAREWELL SURPRISE PARTY

At Home of Mrs. Eckinger—Pot Luck Supper Served.

Mrs. Olive Nowland was most pleasantly surprised last Friday evening by a number of her lady friends, who united in giving her a farewell party at the home of Mrs. D. J. Eckinger.

She was invited to supper by Mrs. Eckinger, and upon arriving there found the rest of the party ready to receive her. A pot luck supper was served and a very pleasant evening enjoyed by all. Mrs. Nowland left this week for Ann Arbor, for the winter.

Those present Friday evening were Mesdames Hull, Schwetzer, Loper, Jones, Powell, and McCann.

The ladies of the Congregational church will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday of this week in the vacant store north of Bellingers. There will be a baked goods sale in connection. Adv 43tl.

RADICAL CHANGE IN TELEPHONE SYSTEM

Petoskey Aerie Headquarters for Northwestern Michigan.

The changing of the system of managing the business of the Michigan State Telephone company from the district plan to a functional organization has brought some changes in the work here.

The business is now handled under commercial, plant and traffic departments, with trained workers at the head of each. These chiefs report to the head district office, which for Northern Michigan is at Saginaw. Petoskey is made an aerie headquarters for the phone exchanges in Northwestern Michigan and Manager Charles Adler of the former Petoskey district takes over the commercial end of this region. Harry McIntyre will be head of the plant department and Miss Georgia Adams of the traffic department. There will be no exchange managers as before.

CHARLEVOIX 73 EAST JORDAN 0

EAST JORDAN OUT-WEIGHED AND OUT CLASSED

Runs By Byers, Hallett, Halverson Cartier Pile Up Big Score

The Charlevoix High School football team met the high school team from East Jordan Tuesday afternoon and the result was an overwhelming victory for Charlevoix the score being one of the most one-sided reported in the state this season. The final count was Charlevoix 73, East Jordan 0.

From the minute that the whistle blew opening the first quarter it was a foot race for the goal by the home boys only stopping long enough between touch-downs to kick the goals. The East Jordan team was out-weighted and by far out classed and seemed to have no idea of winning from the start.

There was so little opposition that it would be hard to pick the individual stars of the game. Capt. Hallett played the same old smashing game which defeated Traverse City, and put across several of the touch-downs. Cartier played a fine game pulling off several long end runs for gains and three touch-downs. He also kicked the goals making a fine average. Halverson at quarter showed still farther improvement and also scored a touch-down on a long run around end for sixty yards. See played a mighty fine game at end and on being pulled back to carry the ball went straight through the line for a score. Every man on the team played stellar ball from start to finish.

The next game will be with Petoskey High next Saturday at Petoskey and the boys are going over there with the idea of avenging the defeat suffered at the hands of the Petoskey boys earlier in the season. They should have no trouble defeating them according to the dope on the teams of this section. Harbor Springs held Petoskey to a 12 to 6 score while East Jordan defeated Harbor Springs by the same score. Our defeating East Jordan 73-0 gives us a large margin over the Petoskey team, and if proper dope proves correct, should defeat them by a large score. The boys are after the Northern Michigan title, every one dig in and help win.

HAVE ROLL CALL NOVEMBER 2-4

RED CROSS ANNUAL DRIVE WILL START ON THIS DATE

$1.00 Membership Fee Will Be Only Thing Asked For—Half Goes to Local Chapters

The American Red Cross is preparing to launch its third roll call, to be held from November 2 to 11, for 20,000,000 annual members and $15,000,000.

The first question that will arise is: "Why does the Red Cross need money? The war is over."

National headquarters of the American Red Cross has answered this question and has outlined graphically the reasons why it is necessary to raise $15,000,000 for its international, national and local work.

In brief the answer is as follows: Because—The actual war work is not completed. The Red Cross cannot lay down its responsibilities to the American soldiers, sailors or marines until everyone of them has been released from service, recovered from illness or wounds or receiving proper care, or back in the place in the world from which the war snatched them.

Because—The American Red Cross is planning to launch a comprehensive program for peace times, designed to prevent the needless waste of human lives through preventable diseases and accidents in America; continue and broaden its home service work and public nursing, first aid, home hygiene and Junior Red Cross activities.

Because—By a recent act of Congress medical, surgical and dietary food supplies valued at $35,000,000 were turned over to the Red Cross by the government, the supplies having been purchased for use with the American forces. These supplies are scattered throughout Europe, many of them far from the places where they are most needed. The prompt and efficient distribution and handling of these supplies means the maintenance of a force of trained workers where the supplies are and where they are most needed.

Because—Pestilence and starvation have gripped many European countries because of the war. These countries are unable to cope with their own difficulties, and the only force organized with facilities capable of stepping into the breach and bringing order from chaos is the Red Cross. Typhus is sapping the man strength of many countries, and the American Red Cross is using every available power to check it.

Because—The Red Cross must be maintained at its present high standard. Every enrollment is a vote of confidence in the past performance of the American Red Cross and a realization of the belief in the principles for which it has stood in the past and its plays for the future.

The Red Cross, having committed itself to a definite and comprehensive program cannot turn back, and to go forward it must have as general a membership as possible, and ample funds to provide for any contingency.

During this roll call only the membership fee of one dollar will be asked, although voluntary subscriptions for any amount in excess of the one dollar will be accepted, but not solicited. Of each dollar collected for membership fees, fifty cents will go to the local chapter for relief work in the home service department, for the relief of service men and their families.

CHARLEVOIX CEMENT PLANT TO BE SOLD

By Receiver in Front of Court House on November 25th.

The situation at the Charlevoix Rock Product Plant, which has been idle for the past two years, has at last given promise of being cleared up.

The concern has been in the hands of the receivers and has been for sale. It has now been ordered by the United States courts that this concern be sold by the receiver, free from all claims, mortgages and redemption, in front of the court house in Charlevoix, Tuesday, November 25th. The case was given the hearing in the court last Monday morning.

BAY SHORE SCHOOL

The boys have organized their Handicraft Club and the girls their Sewing Club for another year. Leonard Gilmartin was elected president of the boys club and Alice Worth of the girls club. A Halloween party was planned at their last meeting.

Our teacher, Miss Brotherton suggested that we have a horse shoe orchestra. The boys went to an old blacksmith building secured an old bolt and filled it with horse shoes. We picked out the ones with the best tune and returned the rest. We tried strings to them as it made the tone clearer than if the children held them in their hands. They bent time with large nails. The smaller children use them most. It aids them in keeping together with their poems. We have not as yet any special music. We expect to get some soon.

The Story of a Turret Captain

Promotion in the Navy comes quickly to those who qualify for higher ratings. In March 1909, A. E. Nelson, enlisted in the Navy as an Apprentice Seaman, 3rd class. In April 1907 he was rated Chief Turret Captain. His pay today is $165.75 per month.

A man's life—among men!

Reel them off—"Tip," Gibraltar, Ceylon, Yokohama—all the great ports of the world—are they only places on the map to you—or are they ports where you've gone sailing in from the high seas with every eye along the shore turned admiringly on your big ship—your ship! Every ocean has a United States ship sailing for some port worth seeing.

If you've any call in you for a full life—join, and color all your years ahead with memories of things worth seeing—with knowledge—worth having—with an inexhaustible fund of sea tales and adventures picked up ashore and afloat that will make you a welcome man in any company.

Work?—sure, and a man's work it is, among men.

Play?—well, rather, with a bunch of men who know how to play. These comrades of yours carry in their ears the sounds of great world cities, of booming guns, of swashing seas—sounds you will share with them and that will never die away.

And when you come home, you'll find life ashore with level eyes—for Uncle Sam trains in self-reliance as well as self-respect. The Navy builds straight men—no mollycoddles.

Enlist for two years. Excellent opportunities for advancement. Four weeks holidays with pay each year. Shore leave to see inland sights at ports visited. Men always learning. Good food and first uniform outfit free. Pay begins the day you enlist. Get full information from your nearest recruiting station. If you do not know where the nearest recruiting station is, ask your Postmaster. He knows.

Wholesale raids on liquor dealers are being planned by the government today. Within ten days the prohibition enforcement legislation probably will be law. It makes illegal the sale of liquor containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol. This puts into Attorney General Palmer's hands power for which he has been waiting before prosecuting illicit liquor dealers. Reports on liquor sales are being made by government agents now, it was learned. When the president signs the bill, it is expected to start. If the president does not sign within ten days the measure automatically becomes law.

According to Ironwood papers, Henry Ford, who, with members of his party, toured the upper peninsula for several days, may purchase timber lands in the district. The Ironwood News-Record says: "Men close to the business affairs of Henry Ford and his son declared that the party was simply on a 'hunting' expedition. When asked what the party was hunting for at this early date, it was learned that Ford is interested in the timber lands in this vicinity and that he is desirous to obtain several large tracts chiefly for conservation purposes. An official of the Oval Wood Dish Co., who accompanied Ford on his trip north of Ironwood, gave color to the story that options had been obtained through Ford's representatives on the timber lands of the company in Ironwood township. It has been alleged for some time that the Oval Wood Dish Co. has been in financial difficulty in handling its large property holdings and that plans are completed for the removal of the entire company's plants from Michigan to the northern part of New York state. Through the sale of their interests in Gogebie and Ontonagon counties, the concern could readily realize more than a million dollars and place their financial and business affairs on a sound basis. Whether a deal will be consummated and what are the exact plans of the Detroit millionaire if he becomes interested in lands in this county, are not known, but there is no person that would not welcome Ford and his company to this section of the country."

Right now no lake trout are being netted in upper lake waters and Lake Huron and Michigan fishermen are practically idle. Spawning season is on for several weeks and it is likely no commercial fishing will be done until the first week in November. So far work of gathering spawn for the government fish hatcheries has not yet opened but it is believed the work will be well under way by late this week. The great government hatchery here will then get under way and millions of trout and whitefish spawn will be turned into fish fry and put back into the upper lakes next spring early.

For the first time in history Mackinac county will pay more to the state of Michigan in taxes than the state pays back in primary school funds. This year, because of the unusually high state tax Mackinac county will actually be out $9,113. Voters of the county say candidates for senate and house next term must pledge themselves to cut state expenses to the minimum.

captive while a small boy, it is alleged, destroyed the hides.

The squaw and her husband were later arrested and looked up. In justice to Ed, it might be stated that he was not alone in the adventure. Deputy J. B. Smith was with him and fared no better than our local man.

Enma Bradley, thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley, who reside near Cheboygan, was badly hurt last Wednesday when she accidentally discharged a shotgun she was bringing to a field for an older brother.

The charge tore several bad wounds in the child's abdomen, arm and hand, and she is in serious condition at Cheboygan. However, physicians do not believe the wounds will prove fatal.

The brother was working in a potato field and asked his sister to bring him the gun that he might shoot at crows. The child was dragging the gun by the muzzle when it was discharged.

The big Yuill Brothers' general store at Vanderbilt was burglarized last Friday night, burglars effecting an entrance during the night, taking the big iron safe from the store, rolling it a half mile up the road, blew it open and escaped with about two hundred dollars.

So far one suspect has been placed under arrest, but authorities refuse to state whether or not the man has confessed, or if they have any new clues.

The Cheboygan Hardware company's store at Cheboygan was burglarized last Friday night and as near as can be ascertained by a survey of the place by Joseph Louisigneau, the proprietor, about eight or ten rifles and shotguns, a quantity of ammunition and thirty five cents in silver was taken from the open cash register. One of the large lights of glass in the front window was broken and on the counter case was found three old door keys.

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

SAY, you'll have a streak of smokeluck that'll put pep-in-your-smokemotor, all right, if you'll ring-in with a jimmy pipe or cigarette papers and nail some Prince Albert for packing!

Just between ourselves, you never will wise-up to high-spot-smoke-joy until you can call a pipe by its first name, then, to hit the peak-of-pleasure you land square on that two-fisted-man-tobacco, Prince Albert!

Well, sir, you'll be so all-fired happy you'll want to get a photograph of yourself breezing up the pike with your smokethrottle wide open! Talk about smoke-sport! Quality makes Prince Albert so appealing all along the smoke line. Men who never before could smoke a pipe and men who've smoked pipes for years all testify to the delight it hands out! P. A. can't bite or parch! Both are cut out by our exclusive patented process!

Right now while the going's good you get out your old jimmy pipe or the papers and land on some P. A. for what ails your particular smokeappetite!

You buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold. Tappet red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half pound tin humidors—and—that classy, practical pound crystal glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.

This is the Stove Polish YOU Should Use

It's different from others because more care is taken in the making and the materials used are of higher grade.

Black Silk Stove Polish

Makes a brilliant, silky polish that does not rub off or dust off, and the shine lasts four times as long as ordinary stove polish. Use on simple stoves and solid hardware and grocery dealers.

All we ask is a trial. Rub on your cook stove, your parlor stove or your gas range. If you don't find it the best stove polish you ever used, your dealer is authorized to refund your money. Test on black silk stove polish.

Made in liquid or paste—one quality.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works

Sterling, Illinois

The Black Silk Stove Polish is famous on restaurant stoves, hotel stoves—prevents rusting. Black Silk Stove Polish for silver, nickel or brass. It has no equal for uniform action.

WORDS FROM HOME

Statements That May Be Investigated. Testimony of Charlevoix Citizens

When a Charlevoix citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Charlevoix resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

H. R. Fox, carpenter, 205 Park Ave., says: "Sometimes when I catch cold or do too much stooping my kidneys get out of order and my back becomes lame. Whenever I get these attacks, I feel all tired out. All I have to do when I get an attack like this is to take Doan's Kidney Pills and they straighten me up in a No. 1 shape. All kidney sufferers should use Doan's."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Fox had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

'IRON DUKE' FLOUR

"IRON DUKE FLOUR" is among the high priced flours. It is made for those who care enough about their bread to notice the difference in different kinds.

The price of "IRON DUKE" FLOUR is sufficiently high to permit-- —The constant maintenance of a standard grade.

—To blend the best of winter with the best Minnesota Blue Stem wheat.
—To permit us to keep up a quality that we can guarantee as not only good, but enough better than other flours to be immediately noticeable, that you can make bread from it, that in purity, whiteness, rich flavor, even texture and general goodness is better than the bread you can make from any other flour.

THIS IS OUR OFFER:

Try a sack of "IRON DUKE" and make as many bakings as you wish. If you are not satisfied that it is better than any other flour you ever used, return the sack and GET YOUR MONEY BACK.

For sale by all dealers. If your dealer is out please notify us at either mill.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Second in the sermon-trilogy, the minister will speak from the theme, "Bread versus Ideas," on next Sunday morning, at 10:30 o'clock. In these modern restatements and practical applications of old truths you are cordially invited to share.

After the splendid "feed" served by the ladies of the church on last Monday evening, the Young People's Society went into business session, electing the following officers:

President, Miss Lillian McNeill. Vice-president, Miss Hazel Burns. Secretary and Organist, Miss Leone McNeill.

Treasurer, Miss Caroline Ball. At the regular meeting of the society next Sunday evening at 6:00 p. m., Miss Isabel Mitchell will lend.

The class in Religious Education is a growing thing. But we need your presence to make it realize its best. So come to the mid-week meeting next Thursday evening, prepared with a serviceable pencil and a sturdy note book.

Were you among those who came a little late last Sunday evening and consequently sat too far to the side to get a good view of the screen? That will be partially remedied next Sunday evening by the use of chairs—but a better way would be to come a little before the appointed hour of the lecture—seven o'clock. The slides are furnished by the Art Institute of Chicago, and are consequently the best to be secured. The subject for next Sunday evening will be "The Grand Canyon of the Colorado."

UNDINE SCHOOL NOTES

Mrs. Stroud and Mrs. Burns visited the school one day last week.

The second and third grades dramatized "Little Boy Blue" last week.

Columbus Day was fittingly observed with speeches and songs by the pupils.

We have on exhibit some very good papers on the life of Columbus, written by the seventh grade.

Friday afternoon was spent cleaning the ground, sodding the front, and making gravel paths.

The school board kindly furnished us with new sash curtains which make the room more home like.

We hope soon to have a new pencil sharpener and some lamps which will add to the interior of our school.

Total number enrolled twenty-six. Little Vera Beeman began school this week. Certificates of Award for the month ending October 10, 1919, were given to Edna Hunt, Celia Howe, Ruth and Oscar Stroud.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our gratitude and sincere thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us in our sad bereavement, through the death of our beloved son and brother, Martin. BEANS "DRUG" DUE TO IMPORTATIONS

Cheap Oriental Product Resulted in Oversupply of Homegrown.

Extent to which Michigan and other home-grown beans were made "a drug on the market" because of importation of cheap oriental beans is shown in a report transmitted to the senate by Acting Secretary of Commerce Edwin F. Sweet last week.

For the year ending June 30, 1918, when the war was on and Michigan farmers were being urged to plant more beans, there were imported into this country 4,125,625 bushels of beans and lentils, of which 3,309,327 bushels came from Asia.

Stocks of beans reported on hand Jan. 1, 1919, which were largely unsold because of foreign competition, amounted to 12,711,539 bushels; on January 1, 1918, there were 8,983,420 bushels on hand. Michigan reported 769,760 bushels of beans on hand January 1 last. While the food administration was purchasing foreign beans and allowing the American crop to go to waste, the railroad administration also was showing favors to the foreigners. The railroad administration fixed freight rates on commodities originating in Asia and consigned to points east of the Rocky mountains way below the rates on the same articles originating in the United States. Michigan's bean crop on Aug. 1, was estimated at 3,262,000 bushels, while the whole country will produce 12,338,000 bushels according to the estimate. This is the reason Michigan bean producers and those from other sections of the country are asking the levy of a protective tariff on beans.

FRED B. SNEATHEN TAKEN BY DEATH

Was Resident of Hayes Township for Many Years

Fred B. Sneathen, sixty-three years of age, passed away last Tuesday morning at 7:45 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. R. Dean, 119 North East street, Boyne City.

Mr. Sneathen was seemingly in the best of health when he retired the night before at a comparatively late hour, and in the morning walked from his home at 318 State street to that of his daughter, where he died.

The deceased was born at South Boston, Ionia county, Michigan, in 1856. Thirty-five years ago he acquired land near Horton Bay in Hayes township, and has spent the years of his life since that time clearing and improving his property until his farm is considered one of the best in the county.

Last March he moved to Boyne City but has constantly felt lonesome for his country home and had decided to return to it the first of next month.

Mr. Sneathen is survived by his wife; a daughter, Mrs. J. R. Dean; and two sons, Arthur and Guy, both of Horton Bay.

RED CROSS HAS STARTED CAMPAIGN

LOCAL MANAGERS HAVE BEEN APPOINTED

Charlevoix Expected to Go Over the Top Gaining Her Quota by a Large Majority

Charlevoix county has always been a strong Red Cross county. It was one of the first northern counties organized and one of the first in the state to go over the top in every drive. In the 1917 drive, Charlevoix county had the fourth highest record in the state, for membership in proportion to its population. It is proud and has reason to be proud of the stand it takes in Red Cross work.

The usual Christmas Roll Call is this year appointed for the period between November second and Armistice Day. It is fitting the Roll be called during the anniversary of that terrible Argonne drive, when the blood was spilling over all the great war front of Europe. Shall we finish the job?

Charlevoix county is all organized for the fray. Mr. Rollie Lewis of Charlevoix is manager of the campaign, with Miss May Stewart of East Jordan, as publicity director. Mr. Lewis has appointed as local managers the following: Mason Rose of Charlevoix, R. W. Merrill of Boyne City, and John Chew of East Jordan. Supt. Metcalf of Boyne City, Supt. Keyworth of East Jordan and Supt. Craig of Charlevoix have charge of the publicity work in their respective territories. The committee feel the importance of success at this time, and realize the great need of the Red Cross.

They believe that Charlevoix will go over the top.

BECAUSE she will want to see the good work continue.

BECAUSE SHE WILL WANT THE JOB FINISHED.

Army supplies taken over by the Red Cross must be transported to devastated countries. The Red Cross needs funds.

BECAUSE THE AMERICAN LEGION had and have confidence in the American National Red Cross.

BECAUSE THE Peace Program of the Red Cross is even more commendable than its war time activities.

TEN BABIES DIE NEEDLESSLY EVERY YEAR TO EVERY ONE SOLDIER KILLED IN THE EUROPEAN WAR.

THIRTY TUBERCULOUS PATIENTS DIE EVERY YEAR IN THE UNITED STATES TO EVERY SOLDIER KILLED IN AMERICAN FORCES DURING THE SECOND YEAR OF THE WAR. THIS THE RED CROSS FIGHTS. SHE WAGES A PEACE TIME BATTLE.

The Charlevoix county committee feels that Charlevoix county will be one of the first to go over the top because the good people of Charlevoix county have long wanted a public health nurse. The county chapter wishes to employ a nurse to assist in work already begun and to help the new public health committee, which is to be elected, to carry out the Red Cross Peace Time Program.

During the war, we were accustomed to taking orders. There was no time for reasons, and rather than cause any delay, we blindly obeyed.

Now comes the recommendation from the American National Red Cross that all counties that can afford to do so employ a Red Cross Public Health Nurse. There is time to consider the proposition and the Board of Directors asked the question, "Why?" and "What would she do?"

MUST HAVE PERMITS TO SELL REVOLVER

A law—Act 337 of the Public Acts of 1919—which became effective in August, makes it unlawful for "any person, firm or corporation, to sell, give, furnish or deliver any pistol or revolver, without first securing from the purchaser a permit signed by the sheriff of the county in which the sale is made. An exception is made in providing service equipment of police officers and deputy sheriffs.

The penalty for violation of the act is a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment for not more than one year or both.

CHARLEVOIX DOLLAR DAY
NOVEMBER 8

and "What have such nurses done?" The answers to these questions have been printed in previous issues of this paper. The directors also feel that the members of the Red Cross throughout the county will wish to know what reasons primarily prompted the American National Red Cross to recommend that the public health nurse become a servant of the American people.

1. The health of a community needs as much care as the health of the individual. The army life revealed this to the Red Cross and made imperative the new action of the executive committee that the community health be cared for through a separate and distinct health servant—the public health nurse.

2. The International Red Cross adopted at the great International Conference a very important Tuberculosis and Anti-Tuberculosis program. To carry out this program, education, co-operation, and organization will be necessary. The public health nurse comes as a preliminary leader in the peace program of the Red Cross.

3. The International Red Cross Conference also adopted a strenuous Anti-Venereal Disease program. A part of the peace program, second only in greatness to its wonderful work on the battlefield, will be the protection of the unborn and innocent man and woman. The public health nurse is but a forerunner of the army of recruits that the Great Mother of Mankind is employing to make better the world we live in.

GREAT NEED OF PUBLIC NURSE

Community Should Be Well Prepared For Serious Epidemic

Which do you think is the worse? The occasional deluge that sweeps out a town and leaves its sad memory behind it? Or the steady, black hand of death that takes one here, one there, and continues to awaken in our minds of sadness and the suffering of the world? Which is the greater problem in the world today? The swift vengeance of diphtheria or small pox, or the slow, sure trail of the great white plague? Do you dread most the return of the flu or the awful continuation of the most terrible of diseases—the social disease which men scoff at and call a slight cold? If you could choose the fighting chance at venereal or influenza, which would you attack? We are too near the flu to give our answers and the public knows too little of blindness, the operations, the epilepsy, the feeble-mindedness as a result of venereal diseases to rightly take a stand in open opposition.

There are many who have asked if the Red Cross Nurse would arrive in time to assist in fighting the influenza epidemic should there be a recurring wave of this disease. We must first raise the funds, but this the Red Cross does know, there has been suffering ever since the world began; there is suffering now, needless suffering. There always will be suffering, but what the Red Cross wishes to do is to diminish to the least possible degree all needless suffering, and all unnecessary deaths.

The Peace Program of the International Red Cross includes suffering from all these causes. The success of this program is contingent upon funds—enough money to really do the things that it knows should be done. The Red Cross of this county believes that the best beginning can be made by the employment of the Public Health Nurse.

HUNTERS CAN'T CHECK LUGGAGE

Only Clothing Will Be Accepted This Year by the Railroads

Recent instructions received by railway baggagemen are that hereafter hunters' luggage, tents, etc., cannot be checked and shipped as baggage. Heretofore hunters have taken big boxes of food and camp equipment with them to the north woods, and this has been largely handled as baggage by the railroads and carried free of charge under the rules and regulations. This will have to be shipped some other way this year.

POTOSKEY AGAIN GAINS VICTORY

FINAL SCORE POTOSKEY 14,
CHARLEVOIX 7

Home Boys Out-Fought in Last Half of Game—Played in Downpour of Rain

The Charlevoix high school team went down in defeat last Saturday to the tune of 14 to 7, the drubbing being administered by the Potoskey high team.

Potoskey was out-weighted by far, but their aggressiveness won them the game in the final half. It was one of the best exhibitions of fight to the finish ever displayed in high school football in this section.

Out-played in the first half, ending that period with the score 7 to 0 against them, they came back and came back so hard that they won the game.

The game began at 2:30 p. m., Potoskey receiving. Cartier kicked for Charlevoix and the ball exchanged hands on downs several times. By straight football Potoskey worked the ball down to the thirty yard line and then pulled a fake, taking the ball across the line. The ball, however, was fumbled back of the goal and the score did not count. From then on until the end of the first half, Charlevoix had the ball in Potoskey's territory all of the time, scoring one touch down. Cartier kicked the goal, making the score Charlevoix 7, Potoskey 0 at the end of the first half.

From the beginning of the second half Potoskey started playing straight football and soon had a touch down, but failed to kick the goal. Charlevoix received and on a fumble behind the goal line Potoskey gained a safety, making the score 8 to 7 with Potoskey in the lead. From then on they seemed to smash through portions of the line at will and scored another touch down before the whistle, making the final score 14 to 7.

The game for this coming Saturday has not been announced as yet as the game scheduled with Harbor Springs was cancelled by them.

HORTON BAY
MAN DIES THURSDAY

County Resident For Thirty-Eight Years.

August Skornia, sixty-nine years of age, died at his farm home three miles north-east of Horton Bay, at 11:45 Thursday. Mr. Skornia was born in Germany but has been a resident of Charlevoix County for thirty-eight years. The cause of death was cancer of the stomach and came after an illness of about two years.

Mr. Skornia buried his first wife in the Dyer cemetery Bay Township twenty-eight years ago. To this wife was born two children, who still survive, Charles, who lives on a farm, and Mrs. Mary Campbell of Detroit.

He is also survived by his present wife and their six daughters and four sons. The Mrs. Bertha and Anna Janacek of this county, Emma, Martha and Edith of Detroit and Elizabeth at home. Sons, Paul Albert, John and Fred, all at home.

MAGAZINE READERS
FEEL BIG STRIKE

Monthly Publications May Be Delayed a Month.

Charlevoix readers of magazines are beginning to experience their first touch with the results of the pressmen's strike in the east, through failure of a number of popular weekly, semi-monthly and monthly publications to arrive here although they should have been in as long ago as a week and ten days in some cases.

Magazine circulation departments have advised local dealers to retain old copies of magazines, on the theory that the public being unable to get current issues, would buy the old ones when the craving for that class of reading matter became strong.

Dealers are advised that some 155 magazines are likely not to appear for next month, unless the pressmen's strike, in which the printers have joined, in the east, is settled soon. Publication days are every day and every day the strike lasts means that a considerable number of magazines are not being printed.

DOLLAR DAY NEXT SATURDAY

SURPRISING BARGAINS FOR ONE DOLLAR

All Merchants Participating in Large Sale—Demonstrating What One Dollar Can Do

What is a dollar worth during these days of high prices has long been the question of the many households of this country. Saturday, November 8th, the merchants of Charlevoix are going to demonstrate what can be done, with a dollar if used right and spent wisely.

All of the business men of the city have arranged and organized this Dollar Day, which will take place on Saturday, November 8th, and each one of them have made special lists of the various brands of goods that they handle and placed them on sale this day for one dollar. It is the chance of the season to put away a supply of winter stores at a price that will be a surprise to every one. By watching the advertisements of the different merchants one can discover their wants and also be able to make arrangements and plans to get exactly what they want when in the city next Saturday.

Saturday will be the day for the farmers to put away their big supply for the winter; in a short time trips to town will be hard to make and at that time the special prices of Dollar Day will not be available. Why not buy in large quantities now and save money and effort? Every store in town invites you to make their place of business your headquarters. Come in and look around whether or not you buy anything.

Some of the announcements for this event appear this week and the rest will follow next week, and Saturday will be Dollar Day from morning until night.

ARTHUR ZIPP AND
LAURA DONALDSON

Married at Home of George Zipp in Potoskey

Arthur Zipp, a well known Charlevoix man, who is engaged in the lumber business here, and Mrs. Laura Donaldson, also from this city, were married Monday forenoon at the home of the groom's brother, George Zipp, of Potoskey, Rev. J. W. Leonard of that city officiating.

The bride is well known in Charlevoix, having been employed in Mason's department store for some time. They are congratulated and wished the best of luck by everyone.

After a short visit in the southern part of the state they will make their home in Charlevoix.

SAYS INFLUENZA
WILL RETURN

U of M. Medical Authority Warns of Proper Precautions

According to Dean V. C. Vaughn, of the medical school of the University of Michigan, it is almost certain there will be a recurrence this fall of the epidemic of influenza.

According to Vaughn, the best precautionary measures against the epidemic are avoiding unnecessary crowds, eating only where certain that table ware has been sterilized, living in the open air night and day, dressing sensibly so as to avoid undue warmth or exposure and attention to the details of personal hygiene.

"Influenza is never absent from this country," said Dean Vaughn. "It is present usually in a mild form. There has been no time during the past 20 years when influenza has not existed in sporadic form."

"Just how extensive the influenza will be this winter depends upon existing circumstances. The most important factor in the increasing virulence of influenza poison is the crowding together of susceptible individuals. Influenza develops and spreads in direct proportion to the density of the susceptible population."

"During the fall of 1918 this disease was most evident among young adults even in civil life. These are the people who crowd together, as in movies, dances, restaurants and places of like character."

"Should there be a scarcity of food or fuel this winter, or any other condition leading to a lowered vitality, influenza will again take the form of a serious epidemic."

FRIENDS SERVE
POT-LUCK SUPPER

Twelve Friends Entertain Mrs. A. Chamberlain Tuesday Night

Last Tuesday night a social evening was arranged and given for Mrs. A. Chamberlain at her home by twelve of her friends. A pot luck supper was served and an enjoyable evening spent by all discussing old times. Mrs. Chamberlain composed the following poem in honor of the occasion:

O friendship thou art dear to me,
And happy is my lot,
For I so oft thy kindness see, and know I'm not forgot.

O love refined, thou art so sweet when drawn from friendship true,
The yearning heart is filled complete, with thy refreshing dew.

Thy worth is greater than the gold, that in the coffers shine,
How could we live a life so cold, without thee love divine.

For thou art as true as truth can be, and we are told to share
Thy love, and our kind charity, with neighbors everywhere.

In Friendship, Love and Truth we see, a combination strong,
Then practised all through life will be, a guard from doing wrong.

I thank you neighbors one and all for your attention kind,
And for this very busy call, which I will keep in mind.

At the end of the evening Mrs. Chamberlain bid all her friends good night and on their leaving presented each of them with copies of her two books, "Life Thoughts", and "White Wing."

Ellen and Alfreda Reich, Lyle Jones, Frank and Derby Hayden have not been tardy or absent this month.

Three of the Russell children have been out two days this week, and one has been out all this week on account of the chicken-pox.

There are three new pupils at the Star school now, the Arnott children: Eula, 2nd grade; Charles, 3rd grade, and Wilfred, 5th grade.

The school has some new library supplementary books for the first, second and third grade reading classes, "The Story Hour Readers."

Frank and Derby Hayden, Daniel, Ellen and Alfreda Reich, Charles, Elvie and Wilfred Arnott, and Lyle Jones have not been absent or tardy this week.

MAPLE GROVE SCHOOL NOTES

The first and second grades are drawing maple leaves.

The Undine school gave us a pleasant surprise by visiting us last Friday afternoon.

A few of the scholars went to the Grange last Tuesday night and enjoyed a chicken pie supper.

Mrs. Pant and Alice Howe visited our school Tuesday of last week and took a picture of the school.

The Maple Grove school visited Undine school October 14 and had the pleasure of listening to the Columbus program, which was a good one, and the day was ended with a spelling match.

The roll of cleanliness of hair, nails, teeth and wearing apparel are Ethel Monty, Frank and Willie Keogh, Hilda Whightman, Ruby, Lottie and Neva Webster, Ruth and Ella Pant, Dorothy Cook, William Ferris, Custer Howe, and Harris Minier.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Emmet county road commissioners will be placed under bonds of $20,000 for each three men, according to a resolution adopted by the board of supervisors last week.

There are 2,000,000 "bachelor girls" in Great Britain who have given up all hope of getting husbands because of the shortage of men, according to Hilda M. Love, a prominent woman writer. Miss Love declared a new comradeship is growing up among women as a result of the involuntary reduction of marriages. There are many instances, she said, especially among workers, where two or more girls have established a home together, adopting orphaned children to rear.

Mrs. William Hogan, of Harbor Springs, captured a large barred owl in a trap that she set to catch whatever was getting her hens. The bird is a beauty and is being shipped to Detroit to be placed in a zoo in that city. It is said the price paid for the feathery screecher is enough to induce any one to engage in the business of trapping.

Roy and Martin O'Beck, hailing from Grand Haven, who have been conducting fishing operations in this region for some time with their tug Johanna, were arrested by Deputies Hudak of Cheboygan and Chas. Smith of Cheboygan charged with using illegal nets. They were brought before Judge J. J. Richards in Mackinaw City yesterday, found guilty and each fined $100 and costs of $16.50.—Cheboygan Tribune.

E. A. Nowack, deputy game warden of Kalkaska, motored into Grand Marais, hired lodgings, gave out that he was tired newspaper man from Chicago, was taken to the bosom of the inhabitants and entertained in the best style of the place, so royally and well that after a month's pleasant sojourn he was able to arrest 15 people for hunting out of season. This is one reason why all newspaper men who go into the hunting territory for the next few years had better put on a heavy disguise and pretend to be ministers.—Detroit News.

The Mason county highway construction program for 1920 calls for fifteen miles of trunk lines, supervisors voting $65,000 for the work. The labor situation threatens to hamper operations unless there is marked improvement, the supervisors reported, highway industry having caused an acute shortage. In consideration of the labor problem it was stated potato diggers in Mason county are demanding as high as $8 per day.

Boys City, Oct. 24.—Westbound B. C., G. & A. train due Boys City at 7 o'clock last Wednesday night was wrecked seven miles west of Gaylord. The accident was due to spreading rails after the engine had passed over the bad track. The two coaches were overturned and kerosene from the oil lamps set the car on fire, totally destroying them, together with contents. The passengers escaped without injury.

As the result of the unusually light Michigan oat crop this year, the lowest since 1907, according to department of agriculture estimates, many farmers are questioning the value of growing oats.

The yield this year in Michigan is reported at 24.3 bushels an acre. During only two other years of the last 50 has the crop been reported this low in the state.

TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY

Charlevoix People are Doing All
Charlevoix People are Doing All

Charlevoix testimony has been published to prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills to others in Charlevoix who suffer from bad backs and kidney ills. Last any sufferer doubt this evidence of merit, we produce confirmed proof—statements from Charlevoix people who again endorse Doan's Kidney Pills—confirm their former testimony. Here's a Charlevoix case:

Mrs. M. Olney, 310 W. Hurhut St., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills on different occasions for kidney trouble. I suffered from severe backaches and Doan's Kidney Pills greatly benefited me. Others of my family have also used this medicine for long back and pains in the kidneys with good results."

AGAIN PRAISES DOAN'S

Five years later Mrs. Olney said: "I have never found a kidney medicine that can equal Doan's Kidney Pills. The occasional use of this medicine keeps my kidneys in good condition. I will never go back on what I have said before in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 60¢ at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Olney had. Foster-McBarn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

cost figures will undoubtedly figure this year's crop as a loss," said C. H. Graves, farm management specialist at the Michigan Agricultural college. "It is a mistake, however, for them to condemn oats as a crop for this reason. In making cost of production studies the farmer must either consider his entire rotation for a single year, or else consider any single crop in the light of yields for several years."

Paddy Dourrisaw, Cheboygan laborer, is under arrest in that city, charged with manufacturing and selling moonshine whiskey, and has confessed. Officers in their raid on the Dourrisaw home found a quantity of moonshine. This is Cheboygan's first moonshine case since the state went dry. Word has gone out to the towns and cities of this region that moonshine could be purchased at a certain place in Cheboygan and it is said that for a few weeks there was quite a trade.

THREE BELLS

Will Howe filled his silo this week. Charles Earl drove to Boyne City Friday.

Mrs. Enos Lane was a caller at the D. Gaunt home Friday.

Ira MaKee is at Boyne City this week helping his son-in-law, George Weaver.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Gaunt and Will Howe motored to Boyne City one day last week.

We have been having a few days of fine weather for the farmers to get their potatoes dug.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gaunt and daughter, Mamie, were visitors at the Ira MaKee home Sunday.

Mrs. Lennon and Miss Thelma Spees, our school teacher, were Sunday callers at the Wangerman home. Lyle Wangerman is improving from his sickness. We hope he keeps on improving so he can be out in a short time.

Miss McCarry, of East Jordan visited with her sister, Mrs. Sam Zimmerman, Sunday at the George Zimmerman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gaunt, Ralph Gaunt and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Earl motored to the home of Joseph Gaunt at Central Lake Sunday. They found the roads quite muddy and full of holes.

MOUNTAIN DISTRICT

Bruce Sanderson visited his aunt, Mrs. John Seiler, last week.

Miss Muriel Kerry spent Sunday with her parents near Boyne City.

Esther Clark spent a few days last week with Mrs. Wm. L. Scott.

Miss Correll of Ironton was the guest of Mrs. Geo. Jardine Wednesday night.

Miss Mabel Dunlop of Boyne City spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. John Dunlop.

A Halloween social will be given by the school Saturday evening. A pot luck supper will be served. Everybody invited.

Mrs. Galbraith and Mrs. J. D. Parrish of Charlevoix spent several days with Mrs. John Dunlop last week, and called on several other friends in this vicinity.

Missionary Geo. A. Weaver and his wife of Petoskey visited at the homes of Mrs. John Dunlop and Geo. Jarine the first of the week.

Frank Bears has a farm three miles south of Charlevoix, to which he expects to move his family at once. We are sorry to have them go as we shall miss them in many ways.

Mrs. Wm. Sanderson spent Friday and Saturday in East Jordan having some dental work done by Dr. Bechtold. On Friday evening she attended a chicken pie supper given by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

We are glad, indeed, to report that Earl Clark, who was so seriously injured a week ago, is improving. We hope and believe that all danger of infection is now over, and that nature will soon complete the process of healing.

Mrs. E. R. Stallard has been confined to her bed the past week with rheumatic trouble, but is some better at the present writing. Her mother, Mrs. Grovenger, of Kalkaska, was called at the beginning of her trouble, and expects to return to her home Monday.

We have just learned that a double wedding was celebrated at the home of Isaac Flora, formerly of this place but now two and one-half miles south of Boyne City, when their daughter, Ada, and Clyde Hunter, and their son, Will, and Edna Lamb were united in marriage Sunday afternoon by Rev. Merrill of the Methodist church. Both couple left Sunday evening for Flint where they will make their future home. We wish them great happiness and prosperity. Listen for other wedding bells in the near future.

Camels are an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos. You'll not only prefer this blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight, but you'll appreciate the remarkable full-bodied-mildness and smooth, refreshing flavor it provides! Camels are a cigarette revelation!

Camels win you in so many new ways! They not only permit you to smoke liberally without tiring your taste but leave no unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor!

Compare Camels with any cigarette in the world at any price! You'll prefer Camel quality to premiums, coupons or gifts!

Professional Earnings.

Questionnaires sent to the graduates of the Harvard medical and law schools brought out the fact that the average physician earns $554 in his first year of practice, about $1,000 in his second year, about $2,000 in his fifth year and nearly $5,000 in his thirtieth year, and that the average lawyer earns $664 in his first year, $1,110 in his second year, $2,668 in his fifth year, $4,426 in his eighth year and $5,825 in his tenth year of practice.

Grateful Enjoyment.

Suffering is not necessarily a blessing in disguise. Sometimes it is simply an undisguised evil, an evil that we have no right to be carrying about with us. Self-denial for its own sake is only a foolish refusal of pleasures that we might thankfully enjoy. Courage and faith when trouble comes are no more our duty than is grateful enjoyment of our blessings when the days are bright.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The sermon theme for next Sunday will be "The Economics of Religion." This will complete the trilogy of sermons dealing with the practicalities of religion. The rite of communion will also be observed at the morning service.

Another pleasant evening hour was spent last Sunday evening in the Grand Canyon, via stereopticon. Yourself and family are invited to spend the hour from 7 to 8 o'clock next Sunday evening in Japan. With all of the discussion now taking place about our relations with this country, it is important that we get all the information that we can concerning it. Art Institute slides.

The Young People's Society will meet the usual hour next Sunday evening. Something special is planned.

The Cecilians will meet for practice at the church on Wednesday evening at the usual hour. How they are improving, too!

And the class in Religious Education continues to grow! Have you attended as yet? We need you, and you need us. At the regular mid-week meeting next Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m., the Sunday lesson for the ensuing Sabbath will be taken up.

Special thanks are due Mrs. Harry Oldham for the eminently artistic way in which she presided over the organ last Sunday morning, in the emergency created by the enforced absence of the organist, Mrs. LaLonde.

Were you one of the folks who forgot to get up at two a. m. last Sunday and turn back the family clock one hour? Which reminds us that many energetic folks arrived at 9:25! But if you did forget, don't try to compensate for it next Sunday morning.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Following the successful campaign to raise one hundred and twenty million dollars to be paid within the next five years, the Methodist Episcopal church has inaugurated a movement to bring one million new members into the church during the present conference year. The quota for the local church, based upon its present membership, is seventy-five.

Miss Helena Bates has organized a class for intensive Bible study which meets every two weeks. Miss Bates is well qualified to give direction in this study, having received special training for the work.

Mrs. Edward Stewart is the new superintendent of the Sunday school and has under consideration many new plans which will contribute materially to the success of the school.

Rev. Candler has introduced a novel plan for the mid-week services, the plan being as follows: During the next five weeks the following organizations will have full charge of the meetings in the order given: The Official Board, Epworth League, Missionary Society, Sunday School, Ladies' Aid Society. Each society aims to make its meeting the best in attendance and interest.

Mrs. Henry Candler entertained her Sunday school class at the parsonage last Tuesday night.

Madam Hughes-Thomas' Royal Welsh Lady Singers of Wales, Great Britain, will give an entertainment at the church November 6th.

Rev. Candler held a meeting of the Official Board and the Sunday school board at the Barnard M. E. church on Wednesday night.

The M. E. Ladies will hold a rummage sale Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in the building next to Fred Bellinger's. A baked goods sale in connection on Saturday. Adv441t

AT THE MOVIES

To the thousands of book readers who know the tense dramatic interest and deep emotional thrill of Harold Bell Wright's famous story of love and adventure, "The Eyes of the World," it will be welcome news that a magnificent motion picture production of the romance in nine reels will be seen here at the Palace Theatre on November 11th.

The fight on the cliff in "The Eyes of the World" between King and Rutledge, which is the major climax of the story, is said to be one of the most thrilling things ever shown in a theatre. A musical score has been prepared for "The Eyes of the World" which is said to be a symphonic drama in itself.

"The Eyes of the World" was filmed with the active personal assistance of the author, who not only amplified the story for the screen and prepared the working scenario, but also took part in the day-by-day work of interpreting his characters for the production. A motion picture view of Harold Bell Wright at his literary workshop on his great ranch at Oracle, Arizona, are shown preceding the filmed story.

We will paint your car and store it during the winter for a nominal sum. Ask for figures. Benj. Brown. Adv40tf

FARM ADVERTISING.

"Potatoes! We have 100 bushels of first quality Green Mountains, white and free from disease. Price right. John Jones, Washington, one-half mile north of Corners."

This is a sample farm ad given in a Michigan newspaper. Advertising farm produce in city papers has been tried out successfully in a number of Michigan localities. The farm advertisement is a new step in the elimination of waste of time, energy, and produce in the process of getting farm products to city consumers.

Farmers in many parts of the country have developed the custom of putting signs along the roadside advertising fruit or vegetables which they have on sale. Sometimes they set out baskets of produce. People passing in automobiles stop to purchase as they happen to see something they want.

The farm ad is a better method.
It enables the prospective purchaser to plan definitely on purchases direct from the farmer. He learns through the advertisement just what the farmers near his community have to offer and just how they may be reached. He is glad to go after the stuff in order to secure it absolutely fresh.

There is one thing in the John Jones sample ad which needs particular mention. That is the "Price right" phrase. Some farmers have charged the autoist more for the fruit or vegetables he comes to the farm for than they would charge him for the same goods if he bought them in a city market. The farmer overlooks the fact that the autoist purchaser saves him all the trouble of packing his produce and carrying it to market. He assumes that the autoist is wealthy, forgetting the he uses gasoline and tires, not to mention time, in going after the produce. He should not have to pay more at the farmer's door than he would in the city store or at the market place.

Only through honest prices and fair dealing can the farmer and the city man get together in this way.
The mutual benefits will be great indeed if the farm advertisement is rightly used.

THE CARE OF LIBERTY BONDS

Too many Liberty Bonds are being lost, misplaced or stolen.

Most of us are careless in their handling.

Liberty Bonds are kept in store and office safes with doors open and in unlocked drawers; men carry them in their pockets, women in their handbags, and even large financial institutions send them through the streets in open packages by irresponsible messenger boys.

Hardly a week goes by that the newspapers do not recount the brief, Coal Oil Johnnie-like career of some lad who has sold Liberty Bonds entrusted to his care.

We do not apply the same reason of value in the keeping of our Liberty Bonds that we did in their purchase.

A Liberty Bond has a value of its market price the same as so much cash.

More in fact; for it bears interest. All issues will doubtless go to a premium and they are easily converted into cash by their bearer.

MICHIGAN NEEDS A PINGREE

Michigan needs a Governor Pingree. This time it is the telephone.
In Pingree's day it was the railroads. At the present moment the Michigan State Telephone is asking for an increased rate, which if granted, will proportionately increase the revenue of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which concern receives 4 1/2 per cent of its (Michigan State Telephone Co.) total gross earnings in consideration for the use or rental of telephone instruments furnished, etc. The proof in a recent legal action brought by the city of Detroit against the Michigan State shows that the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. at the time of the hearing owned 97 per cent of the common stock and over 50 per cent of the preferred stock of the Michigan State. The instruments for which a rental charge of 4 1/2 of the total gross earnings is made, are manufactured by the Western Electric Co., the stock of which is also owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph. Boiled down, the A.
T. and T. make the telephones at a profit, sell them to themselves at a profit and declare an additional 4 1/2 per cent rental charge, each item of which is paid by the telephone subscribers. It is the boldest hold-up in this state today. During the year 1915 the Michigan Telephone and Telegraph Company, from its gross revenue, received the sum of $147,415.98, and a raise in rates increases the sum to be paid on this reprehensible contract. If the public had a list of stockholders of the
A. T. & T. it would immediately get some idea of the interest of big business in our politics. How long must Michigan pay tribute to this monopoly? Michigan needs a Pingree.

WERE YOU EVER BLEED.

How many of our readers can tell us what the stripes on the barber pole signify? You see the pole with its stripes and you know there is a barber shop back of the pole, but here the knowledge of the average person ceases. In the early days the barbers did the bleeding for the community because surgeons were not as plentiful as now. The first thing thought necessary away back to the time of the Pilgrim Fathers was that every patient should be bled. Tap him, and take a few ounces of blood from him, no matter how weak he might be. Well, the white stripes on the barber pole signify the bandages that barbers bound over the wounds caused by bleeding people.

A PLATFORM.

The platform of our candidate, reduced to its simplest terms, should read something like this:
Work or starve.
Save or want.
Play together or you'll get hell.
Be a good American or get out.
This is a short platform, but a large order. It can be filled. After we have found and nominated our man the curious can ask him what his politics is. It will not make any any real difference for a long time, can or a democrat. It has not made any real difference for a long time.
There are no party issues—only American issues.—Saturday Evening Post. And we heartily agree with the above statement.

A New York police inspector has had his automobile stolen three times in three months, and now an unfeeling newspaper wants to know whether he's ever tried notifying the police about it.

When a man reaches the point where nothing but lemon extract or bay rum will satisfy him, he'd better run around a telephone pole until he's dizzy.

With publication of so many magazines held up by the strike, just think of the impatience of those compelled to wait for the next installment of their favorite serial.

A brewery in Wales has been bought by a reformer and will be turned into a cheese factory. This is adding insult to injury.

If Germany's economic come-back is to be measured by the fluctuating price of her marks it must be down instead of up-grade.

At the present rate of progress a profiteer soon will be about as popular as an umpire who decides against the home team.

If, as Chairman Gary says, the steel workers are opposed to a strike, who's tying up those mills, anyhow?

The world was not made in a day.
Neither was a fortune—honestly.

We might, of course, all get busy and outprofiteer the profiteer.

Ferk up! Christmas bills will be payable soon.

Come on—let's strike.

The following article on study should be read by both Normal and High School students.

IS THIS STUDY

Fannie (seated at the library table, surrounded by books), "Goodness that certainly can't be our Physics lesson—four pages and five problems. Isn't that awful! Don't you think he gives too long lessons, Mother? Think of it, five problems and I can't do one. Let's see, — laws of fusion; Haa fusion anything to do with blowing up dynamite
Mother?—Oh yes, fuse of course.
Why I know that. Well, every crystalline substance begins to melt to melt at a definite temperature—at a definite—Oh I wonder if I am going to get a bid to the dance. I'll die if I don't. Oh dear, every crystalline substance at a—at a—Oh what is that? Oh yes—every crystalline substance begins to melt—Mother was there any ice cream left? It makes me hungry to study so hard.
Guess I'll look and see. (Returns)
Let's see, what does that mean? Oh yes the melting point. M—m m.
cious—why I thought that was what they called bulldogs. I wonder if Marie knows—guess I'll call her up.
(Silence for a moment) Well what does that mean? Viscious liquid.
Vis-Hello—1234, yes, Hello, is this Marie? This is Fannie. Say have you your Physics there?—Look on page two seventy-five, paragraph three. Do you know what a Viscous liquid is?—Oh yes, I know that. Say how far do we take? You don't say so. I had it marked there but I couldn't believe my eyes. I guess he thinks all we have to do is study Physics. Are you going to the dance?—You don't say say! I think he's awfully cute. I want to go. I have a new dress. It's awfully cute. Well I've got to go to work, —goodbye. What was I studying?
(Music in the next room) Oh is that a new piece? It's awfully cute.
Let me try it once. Isn't that cute.
(Telephone rings) Hello—yes this is Fannie. Oh yes I'd love to come but I simply must study. Some other time I will—goodbye. Oh dear, I wonder if I can say that now. Every crystalline substance at a definite temperature—Oh that isn't right.
Mother don't you think they give us awful things to learn? (Telephone rings) Hello—no I can't imagine who it is. Oh I am alright, studying awfully hard.—To the Majestic tonight?—Oh I'd love to. Mother I'm going to the Majestic tonight.
I really need some recreation. I can't study all the time. Dear I wish I'd get a bid to the dance; my dress is so cute. (Telephone rings) Hello—yes, I'm studying too. I think our Physics lesson is terrible. Got your problems? Neither have I.
Wait a minute, I want to see who's going by. Rather cute—nice fur, but a funny hat. Say are you going to the dance? I have a new dress but nobody to go with. Have you a Current Event? Neither have
I. Well goodbye. Dear, I must go to work. Goodness how the time flies—Mother would you spend more time on this Physics?—Well I'm going to stop, I've been studying an hour and I can't get it."

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGE SALE.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Horriet Gensman, widow of Edward Gensman, to W. S. Davis, which mortgage dated November 18, 1910, and recorded in Register of Deeds office, Charlevoix county, Mich., in Liber 40 of mortgages, on page 60, and was assigned December 24, 1910, by W. S. Davis to John H. Dietz, assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 34 of mortgages, at page 523, and was later assigned by said John H. Dietz to the trustees of Aerie Number 1583, Fraternal Order of Eagles, of Boyne City, Mich., assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 34 of mortgages, at page 536, and was again assigned by C. C. Burnett, John H. Porter and Robin Hooper, trustees of Aerie No. 1583, Fraternal Order of Eagles, of Boyne City, Mich., to Chester A. Hamer of Marion, Mich., assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 53 of mortgages, at page 413, on which mortgage there is due at the date of this notice for principal and interest three hundred fifty-two and twenty-six one hundredths dollars ($352.26), and in addition thereto the sum of two hundred ninety-eight and sixty-six one hundredths dollars ($298.66) for taxes paid by said mortgagee, for which a lien is provided for in said mortgage, and an attorney fee of $15.00 provided for in said mortgage, and default having also been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Horriet Gensman to Chester A. Hamer, which mortgage dates September 11, 1911, and is recorded in the register of deeds office for Charlevoix county, Mich., in Liber 48 of mortgages at page 427, on which mortgage there is due at the date of this notice for principal and interest ninety-six and fifty-one hundredths dollars ($96.51), and an attorney fee of $15.00, provided for in said mortgage, both of said above described mortgages are now owned by the said Chester A. Hamer, and the total amount now due on both is $777.43, and no suit at law or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover on either or any of said mortgages, the amount claimed due thereon or any part thereof, and the power of sale having become operative, now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale provided for in said mortgage, and in pursuance of the statute in such cases made and provided, said mortgages will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house, at Charlevoix, Mich., in said county of Charlevoix, on the 1st day of December, 1919, at one o'clock in the afternoon, the premises described in each of said mortgages is the same, to-wit: Lot forty-seven (47), in block G, in South Boyne addition now a part of Boyne City, Charlevoix County, Michigan.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL By J. E. Jones

The world is short about 81,000,000 ton of coal, according to the statement of the United States Shipping Board. The world, as usual, is looking to the United States to make up the shortage. In the coal industry, where there is collective bargaining, the labor situation has long been ominous. At the moment when collective bargaining was being debated by the Industrial Conference at Washington, as a means to end the steel strike, the principal was found to be in poor working order in the coal fields.

The public has to watch these great industrial disturbances, mindful of the fact that a strike of coal mine operators will add to the discomfort and increase the cost of coal to the consumers a billion dollars this winter. The methods for measuring the burden that will fall upon the public because of the steel strike, is not so simple; but it is certain that the public will eventually pay the tax. Then again, up in New York, conditions in shipping appear to have gone to pot, and the big harbor has been in the throes of strikes-half of the present season. Sugar goes up—and in some cases sails clear out of sight—largely because of labor troubles in shipping. Again, the public pays the tax. The National Adjustment Commission, which has been trying to settle the Longshoremen's grievances, makes the statement that "as wages have gone up, productivity has gone down," with the result that "the direct labor cost of turning a ship around at Atlantic ports is at least three times what it was in 1914." In railroading it is much the same, and Brigadier General W. W. Atterbury, who gained distinction in France in the operation of American railroads in wartime, told the employees in one of the shops of the Pennsylvania railroad that "prior to our entrance into the war you were on a piecework basis, as well as working on a 10-hour day. When the government took over our railroad, piecework was stopped. The output per man per hour fell 25 per cent. The shops were put on an 8-hour basis. This cut the output on additional 15 per cent, so that the output per man per day in our shops is but 60 per cent of what it was before the war."

Thus there is conclusive proof that in the New York harbor and in the Pennsylvania shops, production has fallen off in a manner that is alarming. It is fair to assume that this is a general condition.

It is possible that the United States, flushed with the joys of victory, may still be able to learn a few things from the vanquished Germans, who in setting about to readjust the affairs of their country, have seriously taken up the proposal of the Vorwarts, the Socialist organ, "that workmen must be paid according to the actual work done by them; that workmen must be made to understand that good pay is only obtainable in return for good work, and that capable workers must have the opportunity to earn, by greater application to work, more than the amount represented by a fixed scale." This report, through the Associated Press, comes along with the news that our coal miners seek a six-hour day.

A speaker in the Industrial Conference at Washington, referred to the fact that 750,000 American workmen are on strike—and unfortunately the number is growing—but he did not point out a way to solve the industrial troubles. The public as a party to the ills and evils of industry, does not appear to be given much consideration.

But if the aforesaid "public" is to remain out of the psychopathic ward, riches and poverty, employers and employees, and everybody else concerned, will have to get back to work in good earnest.

Railroad Administration Getting Anxious

For the first time during government tenure of the railroads the director general of railroads has made frank admission of the serious state into which the properties of the country's transportation system have fallen. In a letter to Senator Gummis and Representative Esch, chairmen respectively of the senate and house Interstate Commerce Committees, in which he urges railroad legislation at the earliest possible moment, he says:

"Delay in legislation will seriously impair the public service by virtually suspending improvements and the acquisition of equipment and by seriously impairing the morale of the railroad organization. The difficulties I point out could not be obviated by the government remaining in control of the railroads from week to week pending adoption of the legislation."

Director General Hines goes on to say that the vital need is for the expenditure of large sums by the railroads in acquiring new equipment and enlarging and constructing terminals, shops, engine houses, turntables, trackage and the like. He remarks that just before 1918 this rehabilitation work by the railroads had been arrested by the difficulty of securing materials, labor and new capital; that in 1918 these factors and the war requirements prevented construction, and that "during the calendar year 1919 there has been unavoidably an almost complete stoppage of all these matters." In other words, equipment is still insufficient, tracks themselves have not been adequately renewed, and terminal and ship development, needed to keep the trains moving swiftly, has been delayed, all this despite the fact that the money actually spent out of revenue has been far higher than ever before. A deficit has been rolled up and the railroads themselves have greatly deteriorated.

This declaration made by the director general confirms what the railroad executives had previously told congress in their earnest warning that not only must there be legislation for the return of the railroads, but also this legislation must be such as to make it sure that investment in railroad securities would be attractive to the public. The old requirements of $500,000,000 a year for normal betterment work are no longer sufficient as materials and labor have about doubled in cost. A billion dollars a year, therefore, would be nearer the normal requirements and, as the Federal Railroad Administration remarks, even normal requirements have not been met during the past three years. Mr. Hines makes it quite clear that without new equipment and without early legislation upon which new construction and planning can be based, there is grave danger of a 1920 condition so serious as to affect not only the railroads, but also all industries which depend upon the railroads for transportation.

Up to date Director General Hines has declined to initiate rate changes which will make possible the elimination of the present serious deficit under the standard return, which was arrived at by striking a three year average of railroad operations under private management. During July and August a slight surplus was exhibited, but these figures did not include the recent wage increases granted the shopmen and were a fractional part of the accrued deficit. Current estimates of the ultimate deficit to be shown by the government as a result of its two year experiments in operation are in the neighborhood of $500,000,000.

Before and After Fighting.
The annual expenditures for all Government purposes prior to the war amounted to about $1,500,000,000, and the total bonded indebtedness was approximately $1,000,000,000, the interest charges on the amount being practically $22,000,000, a year. When the books are all put in order the United States will have interest-bearing obligations amounting to about $34,000,000,000, and the annual interest on sinking-fund charge will approximate something like $1,600,000,000. These figures make it perfectly plain that the interest charges alone of this Government in the future will be equal to, if not greater than the total cost of maintaining the Government prior to the war. These are stern figures, yet the American people carefully and deliberately incurred the big obligations they represent.

Congressman Ricketts of Ohio, voices the obligation of Congress toward the public most admirably. He says: "The American people should stop, look and listen. They have apparently gone money mad. They are standing on tiptoe, all working on a high tension. The people of the United States need to be rebaptized in pure, unadulterated Americanism. They should be taught the lesson of thrift, frugality and economy which, of necessity is the result of industry. Our national debt is staggering, but we must meet it and pay it. How are we to do it? Go on making extravagant appropriations? No; curtail them. It is up to Congress to devise the ways and means."

Sepoy Preparedness.
In the Madras presidency to the first half of the last century recruit boys—sons of old soldiers—were kept with each Sepoy regiment, clothed, drilled and fed and enlisted as soldiers when they attained the age of sixteen. The system had something to recommend it, as the state got a trained youth as a soldier instead of a country bumpkin who had all his training to learn.

POULTRY NOTES

It is an easy matter to overfeed fowls. Bear this in mind unless the fowls are on range.

Hens that are laying are not likely to accumulate fat; it is when they are not laying that they do so.

Give the fowls good dust and plenty of it. This is how they keep themselves free of vermin and well.

Hens of light breeds may be profitably kept for three seasons; those of the heavy breeds for two seasons.

Good layers are bred up and not fed up. All the feeding in the world cannot induce a naturally nonproductive hen to change her nature.

A trap nest is the one accurate way to tell whether you are keeping a paying flock, but the poultryman who keeps it must look after the nest in a proper way.

If you have made a failure of everything else, don't think the chicken business will prove to be a life saver. It requires not only brains, but an overplus of energy.

Chickens never wash, as many other birds do but cleanse themselves of insects by wallowing in soil. For this reason every poultry house should be provided with a dust box.

Pile eggs out of every 100 are spoiled by being fertile. Producing fertile eggs does not require anything but the removal of the rooster from the flock after the need for incubating eggs is past.

Milk is no substitute for meat, for it is not sufficiently concentrated. It is impossible for fowls to drink enough of it to take the place of meat. When fed with animal food, milk performs excellent service.

Fertile eggs are more common among poor layers than good ones. Experiments at the Maine experiment station proved it nearly impossible to get fertile eggs from the hens that were the poorest layers.

Arctic Nights. Viewed solely as a matter of optics, the arctic night is as dark as any night. Explorers in high latitudes say, however, that there are many alleviations of the obscurity. The stars dash keenly, the moon comes along in a regular succession of phases, the snow surface reflects the gloom under conditions of the utmost absence of light, and the aurora borealis is the one star kind of illuminant. Explorers all agree that their men pass the winter night without much difficulty if only there are means of amusement.

RED CROSS LOCALS

Major-General Leonard Wood says: "The days of field service are practically at an end as far as our forces are concerned. The army is coming home and work in its behalf will soon be reduced to comparatively minimum proportions. The question arises, What are going to be the peace time activities of the Red Cross and other organizations. Their work must not cease. Millions need their services in this country. Great natural disasters will occur in the future as in the past. It is reasonably certain war will occur. The Red Cross should be organized to meet promptly and effectively the demands made upon it."

Thirty-five and one-half percent of the young men called in the first draft were rejected because of physical disability. And these are the young men upon whom the brunt of the burden in the years to come must rest. The Red Cross faces this problem.

The United States lost approximately 15,000 men killed in battle during the months the United States were actively engaged in war. During the same period 150,000 babies died. Approximately 300,000 babies die in the United States every year 85 percent of them need only, im-

ly because we let them die. We have a continued sick list of 1,250,000 from tuberculosis in this country. The annual cost in the United States is from two and one-half to three billion dollars. (Against this condition the Red Cross wages a mighty battle. Will you enlist?)

A "layette" matinee was held in an abandoned motion picture theatre on the Isle of Chios, in the Aegean Sea, at which 239 young Grecian mothers were taught the proper care of babies by Miss Margaret Johnson of Highland Park, Illinois. Miss Johnson selected one baby as a "sample" and bathed and dressed it, her remarks being interpreted by a white bearded Grecian patriarch. The mothers came from all sections of the island, some in carts drawn by oxen or water bulalo and some on donkey back.

SCHOOL COMMISSIONER'S NOTES

When Is the Teachers' Institute?
There has been no question asked of the commissioner more frequently during the past two weeks than the simple question: "When is the Institute to be held this year?" Teachers and patrons are alike anxious to know when this event is to be held. It has always been a big event, attended by every wide awake teacher in the county, and by many interested patrons of our schools. We want a fall institute. For many years we held successful winter institutes but last year's October meeting was so much superior to all others that this is the favored date.

In answer to this question, the commissioner can only say that she, too, wants a fall institute. Last August Superintendent Johnson wrote asking what date we wished him to appoint for our institute, and was promptly told that the first week of October was the date desired. He said he would do all in his power to arrange this date for us and agreed to have Superintendent Corson of Pennsylvania with us, and to appoint

Miss Perrin of Detroit for recreation work.

Since then, although the commissioner has written several times, no further plans or explanations have been received. It is possible that the speakers could not come at the desired date, and that we shall hear from Mr. Johnson as soon as he can arrange a schedule with the outside speakers. Of course it is true that our state teachers' association wishes county institutes at least two weeks away from their date—the 29th and 30th—in order that they may have the big crowd that their program would warrant. There are only a few of our teachers, however, who go to the state meeting, and these would gladly attend the county institute the following week if such a date were arranged for. We are so far away from the big southern cities that our plans should not interfere with their plans and our city superintendents are getting anxious for our local meeting.

Miss Stewart is again writing to the state urging the earliest date possible and will report what success awaits us in our efforts.

Observance Days in Michigan Schools

We now have six Observance Days in each school year. By this we mean that besides the real holidays, when school will close and boys and girls will celebrate in true childish freedom, besides these there are six days when the teacher must by law have appropriate exercises to educate the school children concerning the history of our country.

On September 17, Constitution Day, the constitution must be studied in every school of the state. It seems best that this be done by explanations of how we govern ourselves and what we mean by government of the people.

On October 12, Columbus Day, the Declaration of Independence must be read to the schools.

On October 27, Roosevelt's Birthday, appropriate exercises must be given to create patriotism such as will best serve as a memorial to Roosevelt.

On November 11, Armistice Day, Liberty Day exercises should be given to explain democracy and celebrate the world war victory.

February 12 is Lincoln Day, and should be appropriately observed.

February 22 is Washington's Birthday, and is always a big day in the schools.

In addition to the above named observance days, October 20-27 is

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Save a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and putrid-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach. After meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject. Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

Better Speech week, and the second week in March is Tuberculosis week. For both of these weeks, and others appointed from time to time, the state furnishes material for special study. These may be prepared as morning exercise material and preparation made for a Friday afternoon program, when in true, old fashioned literary fashion, the children have a program either for themselves alone, or for themselves and friends. The only distinction is that the present day program has a motive, very utilitarian, and unusually very much American.

Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving Day, Arbor Day, several of the poet's birthdays, song festivals, etc., have found a place in our schools and just naturally grow into the life of the pupils. The law didn't make these. Like Topsy, they just grew.

The New Year and Christmas season come not vacation periods, or vice versa, but they occupy a big place in our lives, and naturally bring a vast amount of richness to the school room. The question is "What shall we do with so many observance days?" and again "What would we do without them?"

The Charlevoix State Savings Bank will handle your auction sale notes on a very liberal basis. Adv40tf

EAST MARION

Edd McClunathan has been sick for several days and has not been able to work.

Henry Paquet had a sale last Friday afternoon and moved Saturday out to Orchard Bay farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cunningham and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Matt Allen Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Williams, Mr. and Mrs. James Saunders and Mr. and Mrs. John Zeitler visited at the home of Matthew Saunders Sunday.

Last Thursday afternoon the Nowland school had a party for Glenn and Raymond Paquet, before they left for their new home at the Orchard Bay farm.

Forest Beattie of West Marion visited Wesley Beattie Sunday and helped him eat birthday cake. Wesley entertained and treated eleven of his friends to his cake which was all lit up with ten candles, telling how old he was. He received some nice presents. It is needless to say how many whippings he received.

Italian Philosopher-Martyr.

February 17 is the anniversary of the burning in Rome, in 1600, of the Italian philosopher, Giordano Bruno. He was subjected to continual and terrible persecution for seven years prior to his death, in the hope that he would recant. In 1889 a monument was erected to him under penal protest at the place where he perished at the stake.

We will paint your car and store it during the winter for a nominal sum. Ask for figures. Benj. Brown. Adv40tf

"The End of a Perfect Day"

Do not let the man who says "This is the year when I am going to show you how to farm it—then, that he will have all clear sailing. He will meet wildcats and lions at every turn, and he may even be killed by a lion. The big thing is to get a lion and of the field when the lion is gathered in and be able to say "I did it and I would!"

Compressed Atmosphere.

If the atmosphere of the earth were compressed to the density of water, it would occupy a space of 1,268,000 cubic miles. The idea may be expressed more vividly when it is said that the whole gaseous envelope of the earth, if compressed to this degree, would fill a tank 109 miles high, 109 miles wide and 109 miles long.

Wedding Rings.

The wedding ring was not always plain, as we see it today. It was frequently highly ornamented and wrought with various designs. But as other rings began to be worn the wedding ring was made conspicuously plain. The practice, however, was long in vogue of inscribing appropriate mottoes on rings. The ring may be said to be symbolic. It is of gold and typifies purity and refinement, whereas its rotundity signifies "the round flowing of mutual love and hearty affection."

Overhauling, painting and storage of cars is our specialty. Our work is first-class and we guarantee satisfaction. Benj. Brown. Adv40tf

And a Fight Started.

Mrs. Styles—"This paper says that in front of a large London building there was recently found a pigeon's nest made of hairpins. Where do you suppose the pigeons found the hairpins?" Mr. Styles—"Oh, I suppose a lot of women in the vicinity couldn't keep their mouths shut."

How a Crab Grows.

The crab's equivalent to the internal bones of animals is its tough outer shell, which does not grow. The baby crab is forced to get rid of this tough confining person. So it breaks itself loose internally and then splits its old protecting home across the extreme back ridge, creeping out in that way.

Ed. Davy will have charge of our paint room this winter. First-class work guaranteed. Place your car in our hands and we will do you a good job of painting. Benj. Brown. Adv40tf

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 600 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but—

He never "got out and saw" things. After he gets settled down, it's too late.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!

Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling. "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you'll ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—singles out the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore-leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

Shove off! -Join the U. S. Navy

Mr. McDowell delivered two veal calves and some chickens to Central Lake Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stover and two daughters, who have been visiting relatives, have returned to their home in Indiana. Mrs. Stover will be remembered as Miss Lena Simon.

APTITUDE COUNTS.

Experienced men are not always the ones with executive ability; they often get into a rut. It is the man with aptitude that counts, and if one has that quality he can quite readily get experience, but he must have the chance to show it, and if he doesn't get the opportunity then his business houses are the losers.

Labor in Politics.

In 1872 on the 23d of May the first national convention of workmen, as a political party, at New York nominated Gen. U. S. Grant for president. Grant was the regular Republican candidate.

Farm Wagons at Cost Price

Hard to believe, isn't it. And you know as well as we do that prices are advancing all the time. But it is a fact, nevertheless. We have a number of JOHN DEERE AND WEBER FARM WAGONS that we will sell for less than they would cost us if we bought them on the open market today. Our reason for selling is that our money is tied up in them and we do not want to carry them over until spring. Buy now at the prices we are offering. You need a wagon—we need money—both of us will profit in the deal.

City and County to be Well Represented in the North Woods This Season

Charlevoix city as well as Charlevoix county will be well represented in all parts of the upper peninsula during the deer hunting season, which opens on November 10.

If you should notice one of your fellow citizens walking along the street with a bundle of clothing under his arm and a worried look on his face, you can make up your mind he is getting ready for his hunting trip and a part of his camp equipment has turned up missing.

Reports from the upper peninsula state that deer are plentiful and local hunters anticipate a good time and plenty of venison. Owing to the vast amount of good hunting territory burned over by the forest fires last July and August, many camps heretofore occupied by hunters have been destroyed, and many have been compelled to find new camping places in territory untouched by the fires.

Among those who leave this week are: County Clerk Richard Lewis, A. L. Fitch, A. J. Hamilton, George Stafford, Hubert Ackert and A. Nowland and Jasper Warden, who will camp about four miles east and north of Casino. They expect to leave not later than Friday.

Another party consisting of Harold Bedford, Tom LaLonde, L. E. Benton, Ed. Klooster, A. J. Usher and Will Benton of Roscommon, will occupy the McDonald hunting camp, eighteen miles north of Newberry. This party leaves Charlevoix Thursday evening.

Bernard Newsom, Charles Jericho, Lee Newsom and Job Jackson of Hayes township, leave the latter part of the week, but as yet are undecided just where they will locate.

Albert Staley, Charles Pratt of Charlevoix, Ralph Murphy of near East Jordan and Bert Elliott and Clarence Ingalls of Marion township will hunt north of Lake Gogebic, Ontonagon county.

A number of others from Charlevoix or nearby expect to spend from one to two weeks in the woods, but so far have not decided where they will go.

LIBERTY DAY PROCLAMATION

The eleventh day of November next will be the first anniversary of the signing of the armistice in the Great War, and, inasmuch as the Michigan Legislature in the session of 1919 passed an act making it the duty of school officers and teachers to have the schools under their charge observe said day with appropriate commemorative exercises, it seems fitting that the day should not be allowed to pass without attention being called to its significance.

Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of the State of Michigan, do issue this, my proclamation, and hereby request a proper and appropriate observance, on the part of the people of this State, of the Eleventh day of November, 1919

I further request that this proclamation be read in all the schools of the State.

the business, it has been decided that a larger building had to be secured.

The new building will be built on the lot that lies between the building used and the store of Mrs. Oldham, formerly owned by Mrs. Jennie Parrish. O. D. Hammond will have charge of the construction of the building and has already secured the material and the work will start in the near future.

The building will be of concrete blocks and will completely fill the space above mentioned. On completion a complete garage equipment will be installed, and it will be an up-to-date garage and repair shop in every respect.

VERY PLEASANT HALLOWE'EN PARTY

At Home of Mrs. N. A. Shores Last Friday Evening

Mrs. N. A. Shores entertained delightfully at a Halloween party last Friday evening.

The witches, witches and ghosts glided out of concealed corners and the house, as became the occasion, was in semi-gloom and thrillingly spooky by the spectral light of the grinning faced pumpkins.

Witches and ghosts grinned or frowned from the walls, and black cats arched their backs spitefully at the owls which solemnly blinked in return. After everyone was thoroughly bewitched, and the witch of witches had concluded her witcheries at the door, some more light was allowed the party and all enjoyed the game of obliterating the pumpkin's eye.

With music and other pleasant features of the occasion a most enjoyable evening was spent with Mrs. Shores.

"Spos'n the witches began to witch, And you didn't know which witch was which; Well spos'n'n"

STATE POLICE REMOVED FROM SECTION

Will Probably Be Stationed at Some Southern Michigan Point

The group of State Police that have been stationed at Pellston for the past few months guarding the state's interests in this section of the state, have been ordered to move and will probably be assigned to some other section in the southern part of the state. The men stationed at Traverse City have also received orders to go and will meet the Pellston bunch at Traverse City.

The State Police have done some very good work while stationed in this section, principally in curbing the speeding and their work has been commented on by motorists who believe in safe driving.

DOUBLE YOUR DOLLARS SATURDAY

Some chances come only once in a life time and if at that time they are not grabbed and grabbed quick, pass on and are never available again. You people of Charlevoix have one of these chances coming to you Saturday, November 8th, important for the fact that it has been set aside as Dollar Day. Are you going to miss this chance, are you going to let it get by without making a grab for it?

Saturday, November 8th, will mark one of the greatest assortments of bargains ever offered to the Charlevoix public. Every merchant in the city has combined to make this "Dollar Day", and has cut prices and offered attractions for one dollar to such an extent that the people of this community cannot afford to miss the chance to get in on this day's sale.

Everyone is always more than willing to double their money if they have a chance, and what could be a more opportune time than Saturday? You have to eat food and wear clothes and have the other necessities of life all winter long; one cannot get along without them, but can you buy them at any time for the prices that are being offered Dollar Day? No, and that is the exact reason why every family should put away a supply of these necessities at the prices that will be put on them November 8th. It is one of the best ways to combat the High Cost of Living in your own homes.

Throughout the Courier this week you will find the advertisements of the various merchants and some of the special attractions that they have to offer, and at what prices, they are offering them at. Many other things that were not mentioned in the advertisements, due to lack of space, will be on sale at the same reduced prices.

Read them over and make a list of your own needs. Then wait until Saturday, Dollar Day, and come down and put away your supply.

Every merchant is always glad to have you call on him whether you buy or not. Drop into the stores from time to time and look over the stocks of the different places. Charlevoix merchants extend a joint invitation for the people of this community to come to town Saturday and see just how far one dollar will go if used in the right place at the right time.

LAW PROVIDES FOR PAYMENT OF DAMAGE DONE BY ALL DOGS AT LARGE

Kill Dogs Not Accompanied by Owners

Duty of Police Officers or Sheriff to Kill Dogs Not Accompanied by Owners

The new dog license law recently passed in Michigan provides that it is the duty of every police officer, on complaint, to kill any dog or dogs which are found outside of an incorporated city, running at large and unaccompanied by owner or keeper. The supervisor shall determine remuneration of such officer for doing this work.

Any person may kill any dog in the act of pursuing, worrying or wounding any live stock or attacking persons, and there shall be no liability on such person in damages or otherwise for such killing. Any dog, enters any field or inclosure outside of an incorporated city, unaccompanied by its owner or owner's agent, shall constitute a private nuisance, and the owner or tenant of such field or other enclosure, or his agent or servant, may kill such dog while it is in such field or enclosure, without liability for such killing.

Except, as provided in this section, it shall be unlawful for any person, other than a police officer, to kill, injure, or attempt to kill or injure any dog which bears a license tag for the current year.

Whenever any person sustains any loss, or damage to any live stock or poultry by dogs, or whenever any live stock is necessarily destroyed because of having been bitten by a dog, such person, his agent or attorney may complain to any justice of the peace of the township or city within which the damage occurred. Such complaint shall be in writing signed by the person making it, and shall state when, where, what and how much damage was done, and, if known, by whose dog or dogs. Such justice shall examine the place where the alleged damage was done, and the live stock or poultry killed or injured if practicable, and shall examine under oath, or affirmation any witnesses called before him. MANY IN QUEST OF PARTRIDGE

THE GAME BIRD SEASON OPENED SATURDAY

Michigan—Many Hunters in Woods Sunday

And now comes the sore and yellow, the saddest yet gladdest days of all the year; gladdest to many because Saturday, November 1st, marked the opening of the partridge season in Michigan, after being closed for two years.

The closed season for two years, aided by last winter's mild weather, has done wonders to replenish the fast diminishing supply of partridge and the birds are reported quite plentiful in almost all of the counties.

To many this will be their first experience in quest of the king of game birds and to many others hunt-side of an incorporated city, unaccompanied by its owner or owner's agent, shall constitute a private nuisance, and the owner or tenant of such field or other enclosure, or his agent or servant, may kill such dog while it is in such field or enclosure, without liability for such killing.

Large numbers of Charlevoix hunters were in the woods Saturday and Sunday, and all this week hunters will be almost as thick as the birds in the woods of this region. This week and next many men will go to the upper peninsula for deep, and this will leave fewer here to hunt birds.

To the novice and to the hunter, who has always let his dog do the thinking while he did the shooting, a few kindly tips may not go amiss.

First: Don't hunt the partridge, but hunt his food, which at this time of the year, consists of wintergreen berries and leaves, juniper berries, clover, beech nuts, wild grapes and small acorns—you will find Mr. Partridge right up against his free lunch counter.

Second: The gentleman is also a heavy drinker, but he likes to quench his thirst in his own home. A tiny creek with solid dry banks, trickling through the woods attracts him.

Third: Remember that a partridge is not a duck and will not be found in marshes, or where it is wet under foot. His habits are exactly like those of the barn yard fowl. He relishes dry sunny spots, out of the wind, is crazy about a sand bath and is apt to be out in fairly open places, but always has a refuge near by where the underbrush is thick.

He feeds early in the morning and again towards sundown. In mid-day he seeks a secluded spot and takes his siesta.

Fourth and last: Be a good sport and not a game hog. Game hogs make closed seasons and the fellow who gets fewer birds usually gets the most out of his hunt—he has a chance to study the wonderful works of nature.

SUPPER GIVEN FOOTBALL BOYS

Pot Luck Supper Served Them by Girls Wednesday Evening

A pot luck supper was given the Charlevoix high school football team of 1919 Wednesday evening at the Bartlett by the girls of the high school.

The party was planned and carried out by the Misses Bartlett and Allen, who did all of the arranging and decorating, and certainly did the job right.

Many other members of the school were present besides the players, including the faculty. The dining room and tables were decorated with red and white, the school colors and were very well done. The team and Coach Loomis all ate at one large table over which was hung the school colors and a football decorated with 1919.

At the supper each member of the team was presented with a favor, which was a miniature football of cambric. After the supper, the crowd left the house and all went to the Palace Theatre, where the remainder of the evening was spent.

GIVEN FAREWELL PARTY BY FRIENDS

At Home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Smith Monday Evening

Monday evening, November 3rd, fourteen lady friends surprised Mrs. Jennie Parrish and Mrs. Galbraith at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Smith on Antrim street.

A bountiful pot luck supper was served at six o'clock after which the evening was spent in visiting. A Halloween story told by Mrs. Galbraith was enjoyed by all. A poem read by Mrs. Parrish entitled "One Hundred Years From Now," and a story of her own composition by Mrs. A. Chamberlain entitled, "How Sam Popped the Question," brought down the house.

All went home feeling they had spent a very enjoyable evening. Mrs. Parrish and Mrs. Galbraith expect to leave for Detroit this week for the winter.

EAST JORDAN WHIST CLUB DINNER

Those present were the Messrs. Edward Carr, Dickens, Strobel, Hite, Fitch, Rish, Ashley, Prey, Merchant and Supernaw, all of East Jordan.

Secretary of State Says Licenses Do Not Have to be Renewed

The question has been asked by many Charlevoix and northern Michigan auto owners whether or not their automobile operators' licenses were good for only one year and whether or not they have to be renewed the first of January or one year from the date the license was issued.

Coleman C. Vaughn, secretary of state, says there is no date of expiration on these licenses.

SERVICE STATION ESTABLISHED

TO HANDLE WORK OF COUNTY AND ADJACENT TERRITORY

Will Aid Former Service Men Who Have Been Disabled or Injured in Line of Duty

Dr. Arthur M. Hume, Inspector of the United States Public Health Service, was in the county last week, establishing a service station for this county and adjacent territory, with Dr. VanLeuven of Petoskey as officer in charge.

The work of the local officer will be to look after the needs of service and ex-service men as regards disability incurred while in service.

The Health Service is a branch of the military establishment of the government, and service stations similar to the one established here, are being established in various places throughout the state. In southern Michigan, these stations will be placed in each county, but in the more sparsely settled districts of the northern part of the state, stations will be established which will take care of more than one county.

Stations have been established in this section of the state at Harrisville, Alpena, Cheboygan, Hillman, Rogers and Traverse City.

The work of the service station is broad in scope, covering every field of physical disability incurred while in service by the men of the army, navy or marines, and other related matters.

Any service or ex-service man who has a claim of any kind for injuries or sickness resulting from his service during the war, regardless of where he lives, may take the matter up with the officer in charge of the service station most conveniently located and the officer will forward his claim to the proper governmental office for attention.

In case of sickness or injury sustained in service, or resulting sickness, the officer in charge will prescribe treatment or operation if necessary without delay, that matter being entirely within scope of his authority and judgment. All charges so incurred will be paid by the government, and the patient is under no obligation for such expense.

The officer in charge of the station will also handle all applications for vocational training received from ex-service men. Under the present plan of the government, soldiers or sailors are entitled to training in some trade or profession at government expense. This includes those suffering from physical disabilities, incurred during the term of service. The government has established vocational training schools with special trades for those who were so injured that they are unable to compete physically in the industrial world, or are barred from the trade at which they worked previous to the war by disability.

All applications for vocational training, or regarding physical examination for government insurance will be handled by the station.

Considerable clerical work which must be done in connection with the station will be handled by the local Red Cross, American Legion, or other local organization selected by the officer in charge.

RED CROSS GIVES FULL ACCOUNTING

War Council Tells How Millions Contributed by Public Were Used For Relief.

BIG TASK IS DESCRIBED

In Twenty Months $154,000,000 Was Spent Overseas and $119,000,000 in the United States.

Washington, (Special).—Through a complete report of the work of the American Red Cross in the war by Chairman Henry P. Davison, on behalf of the war council, the organization on the eve of its annual enrollment of members during the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11, has rendered an accounting of the many millions given it by the American people to help our fighting men and our allies. The statement is, in part, as follows:

"The war council of the American Red Cross is now prepared to make a complete accounting to the American people of money contributed and expended, as well as the work done by the American Red Cross during the period in which the war council was in control of its affairs. The war council was appointed May 19, 1919, and went out of existence February 28, 1919.

"It was the practice of the war council to give complete publicity to its policies and finances, but it is only now that a picture of the war period as a whole can be presented. It is the feeling of the war council that a report in this summarized form should be made directly to the public which provided the money and gave the effort which made the American Red Cross a success.

"A statement of the American Red Cross effort and finances since the war council relinquished its control will be made to the public through the executive committee, and it is important, therefore, that the fact that this report covers the period only until March 1, should be carefully noted."

HAVE YOU A BAD BACK?

If You Have, the statement of this Charlevoix Resident Will Interest You.

Does your back ache, night and day; hinder work; destroy your rest? Does it stab you through and through, when you stoop or lift or bend? Then your kidneys may be weak. Often backache is the clue. Just to give you further proof, the kidney action may be wrong. If attention is not paid, more distress will soon appear. Headache, dizzy spells and nerves, Urine acid and its ills. Make the burden worse and worse. Liniments and plasters can't reach the inward cause at all. Help the kidneys—use the pills. Charlevoix folks have tried and proved. What they say you can believe.

Read this Charlevoix woman's account. See her, ask her, if you doubt.

Mrs. Jennie Smith, 1206 Bridge St., says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and my back got so lame I could hardly get about to do my housework. Finally I had to take to my bed, where I remained several days, absolutely helpless; I couldn't even turn over. I felt miserable and was in a terrible condition before I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. They brought relief from the first and continued use cured me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Smith had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

"A SHINE IN EVERY DROP"

Black Silk Stove Polish is different. It does not dry out, it does not leave a sticky residue. It is the best drop, liquid and paste one quality. Absolutely no waste; no dust or dirt. You get your money's worth.

Black Silk Stove Polish

It is not only most economical, but it gives a brilliant, silvery shine that cannot be obtained with any other polish. Black Silk Stove Polish does not dry out. It lasts four times as long as ordinary polish—so it saves you time, work and money.

Don't forget—when you want stove polish, be sure to ask for Black Silk. It isn't the best stove polish you ever used—your dealer will refund your money.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works, Sterling, Illinois.

Use Black Silk Air Drying from linens on grates, registers, stove-pipes, and automobile tire rims. Prevents rusting. Try it.

Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silverware, nickel, tinware or brass. It will quickly, easily and leave a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

Expenditures in the twenty months totaled $273,000,000, divided as follows: By national headquarters in France, $57,000,000; elsewhere overseas, $61,000,000; in the United States $148,000,000; by chapters in the United States, $13,000,000; cost of chapter-produced articles distributed in France, $25,000,000; elsewhere overseas, $8,000,000; in the United States $28,000,000, making total expenditures in France, $82,000,000; elsewhere overseas, $72,000,000; in the United States, $119,000,000.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

The horses should be given plenty of fresh water regularly every day.

Regular feeding is of paramount importance in keeping stock in a healthy condition.

Pasture lands devoted to sheep have greater possibility of their own sustenance than any other.

The rule is that it is better not to milk the cow before freshening unless it become absolutely necessary.

There is nothing like a self-feeder to give pigs a good start, and it is the start they get that tells in the end.

By providing good pasture crops for hinds after weaning, a set-back in growth may frequently be avoided and the hinds marketed at an earlier age.

Moral Purpose.
 The greatest work has always gone and in hand with the most fervent moral purpose.—Shirley Lanier.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Council Chamber, Nov. 3, 1919.
 The common council of the city of Charlevoix met on the above date, Ald. L. E. Benton, president of the council, presiding. Aldermen present: Geneit, Hiller, Levinson and Wood.

Also the board of special assessors met on the above date with the common council to review the special assessment of West Upright Avenue sewer, district No. 23. Present: Dar F. Meach, H. C. Cooper and R. F. Sloan.

The minutes of meeting held Oct. 27th were read and approved.

Moved by Ald. Levinson, seconded by Ald. Wood, the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, that the meeting of the Common Council of said city together with the Board of Special Assessors thereof fixed and appointed to be held in the Council Rooms in said city on the Third day of November, 1919, at eight o'clock p. m., for the purpose of reviewing the assessment rolls for the cost of construction of cement sidewalks on the south side of East Lincoln Avenue and abutting on the north side of Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 of Block eight of Mason's Addition to said city, and also upon the north side of East Garfield Avenue abutting on Lots 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24 of said Block Eight, as made by the said Board of Special Assessors and on file in the office of the City Clerk for public examination, be and the same is hereby adjourned to Monday, the 29th day of March, 1920, at eight o'clock p. m., at the said Council Rooms.

Resolved further, that the City Clerk be and hereby is instructed to cause notice of such adjournment and of the time and place of such adjournment, to be given to the owners of the several respective lots and premises above described, by notice published in the Charlevoix Courier, a newspaper printed and circulating in the said city, for a period of one week.

Resolved further, that the said City Clerk be and hereby is instructed to cause the said assessment rolls to be kept in his possession and on file in his office for public examination until the date of such adjournment.

Adopted at a regular meeting of the Common Council held in the Council Rooms in said city on the 3rd day of November, A. D. 1919, by vote and nay vote as follows: Ayes Aldermen Geneit, Hiller, Levinson, Wood and Benton. Nays: none.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you—Drink more water.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salt occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or neck, headache, dizziness, your stomach aches, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending kidney weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

DOLLAR DAY

At Charlevoix County's Big Furniture STORE

As Saturday, November 8th, has been set aside by Charlevoix merchants as Dollar Day, we shall try to do our part in offering genuine bargains, bargains in fact, not merely in name. Our line does not include many articles on which we can make a price of a Dollar, but we have a few as follows:

Farm Wagons at Cost Price

Hard to believe, isn't it. And you know as well as we do that prices are advancing all the time. But it is a fact, nevertheless. We have a number of JOHN DEERE AND WEBER FARM WAGONS that we will sell for less than they would cost us if we bought them on the open market today. Our reason for selling is that our money is tied up in them and we do not want to carry them over until spring. Buy now at the prices we are offering. You need a wagon—we need money—both of us will profit in the deal.

LAW PROVIDES FOR PAYMENT

making diligent inquiry the justice shall determine the amount of damage, if any, and if possible, who was owner of the dog or dogs causing same. If the owner of the dog or dogs become known, the justice shall issue a summons commanding the owner to appear before the justice and show cause why said dog, or dogs, should not be killed. Any owner or keeper of such dog, or dogs, shall be liable to the county in a civil action for damages and costs paid, by such county on any such claims. Justices are to receive $2 for each case, and five cents for each mile traveled, to be paid by claimant. In all cases where damages are awarded, the fees paid by claimant shall be included.

Upon the board of supervisors receiving such report, if it appears that a certain amount of damages has been sustained by the claimant, the board of supervisors shall immediately draw their order on the county treasurer in favor of the claimant for the amount of damage sustained, together with the necessary costs incurred by claimant. Such amount shall be paid by the county out of its general fund, no payment being made for any item which has already been paid by the owner of the dog, or dogs, during the injury. When payment is made by the county for live stock bitten by a dog or dogs, such payment shall not exceed $100 for each horse or mule, $40 each head of cattle, or $12 for each head of swine.

At the time this act takes effect, all moneys then in the "dog fund" in the hands of the township or city treasurers, derived from taxation of dogs under existing laws, shall be turned into the county general fund.

Any person or police officer violating or failing or refusing to comply with any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $100, or to imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed three months, or to both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. All fines so collected are credited to the library fund.

Nothing in this act can be construed to prevent the owner of a licensed dog from recovery, by action at law, from any police officer or other person, the value of any dog illegally killed.

matwork of intense suffering, the soldier mother, drafted into the service, unprepared and ignorant of the art of protective warfare, fights bravely for the life of her sick baby; and she wages a losing battle. She loses her baby only to learn from her superior officers that it was most probably a needless death.

Back of the battle line, in the country church yard, are the little crosses, row on row, with forget-me-nots and field daisies, counting the rosary of the "things we have not done" to save 350,000 babies annually in America.

Standing as tall, gray sentinels in our disease struggle awaiting the scythe of the grim, approaching reaper, are the consumptives of America, poor innocent victims, drafted by environment into America's army of the uplift. And back of them, hundreds of pale faces, whose span of life is short—the faces of those who never had a chance. And back of them, again, the churchyard, with its larger crosses, 1,500,000 of them, spelling the lost opportunities of America in a battle to kill contagion and give her people a right to a longer, more healthful life of service.

To help us to change the environment, which we ourselves created, to help us to enter this battle on the side of the weak, the poor, and the helpless, the Red Cross speaks. Have you called on your committee to ask to be of service, or to give your contribution?

The minute you see our Patrick all wool Overcoats, you will buy one. Benj. Brown. Adv45tf

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

On account of the inclemency of the weather the attendance at the mid-week service, under the direction of the official board, was not largely attended. Next week the Thursday evening meeting will be conducted by the Missionary societies of the church with Mrs. Dr. Auld and Mrs. Frank Metcalf in charge.

At the monthly meeting the official board it was reported that the total cost of the new church roof was $545; of this amount $380 has been subscribed, leaving a deficit of $165.

The church wishes to thank those who subscribed so generously and hopes that others may have a share in meeting the balance due.

A committee was appointed to correspond with the national headquarters of the Boy Scouts with a view of introducing that movement in Charlevoix.

The Young Married People's class in the Sunday school has been reorganized. Mrs. Edward Stewart, as superintendent, and C. Beers, as chorister of the Sunday school are doing splendid work.

Sixteen members of the Sunday school met at the parsonage last Wednesday and gave a party in honor of their teacher, Mrs. George Beeman, who leaves for Arto Arbor next week. Mrs. Elizabeth Bettis, a former teacher of the class, shared the honors of the occasion.

The ladies of the church cleared over $100 at the rummage sale last week.

NORMAL NOTES.

The Normal was closed Wednesday, Thursday and Friday while the Normal faculty, Miss Bates and Miss Morrison, attended the State Teachers' Institute at Detroit.

Miss Ruth Whitey of Central Lake, Miss Alda Emery of Bellaire, Misses Lillian Thorne and Beryl and Dorothy MacDonald of East Jordan spent the vacation at their homes.

Miss Leone MacNeil substituted in the junior high in the place of Miss Genett on Tuesday and also in the Kindergarten in the place of Miss Ainslee on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

The superintendent of public instruction designates the week beginning November 2 as a period for emphasizing better speech. Michigan thus joins the other states of the Union in the movement to improve American speech.—Moderator Topics.

THREE BELLS

Sam Zimmerman motored to East Jordan Saturday evening.

John P. Siler called the doctor from East Jordan last Friday.

Mrs. Wm. Gaunt was a caller at Mrs. Clarence Johnston's Friday last. Joel Johnston was a business caller at Boyne City one day last week.

Most all the farmers have their threshing done in this neighborhood. Earl Howe drove to Boyne City one day last week with a load of potatoes.

George Staley expects to leave for the Upper Peninsula to hunt deer this week.

Lyle Wangerman, who has been confined to his bed, is able to be around again.

George Zimmerman expects to have Wm. Gaunt fill his silo some time this week.

Mr. Bearss and family are moving out of our neighborhood, to a farm near Charlevoix. We will miss them very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. D. Gaunt and family were Sunday guests at the Will Gaunt home.

A Halloween party was given at our school house last Friday evening. Games were played and everybody had a good time.

Mr. Sanderson of the Mountain District is doing J. P. Siler's chores for the present while Mr. Siler is laid up with the flu.

The D. McDonald children, who are attending school at Charlevoix, were home over Saturday and Sunday visiting their parents.

Frank Swotash and two daughters, Mrs. Libby Snellon, Frank and Charles Shaw, all of Boyne City, visited Sunday evening at the home of Wm. Gaunt.

Wm. Gaunt's summer cottage came almost burning up Sunday noon. But D. Gaunt and some of the others who were in the house at the time saw the fire and put it out. It started around the stove pipe hole.

CLARION

J. A. Dodgson visited relatives in Battle Creek last week.

A son was born on Wednesday, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Masters of Walloon Lake.

Miss Mona Bardwell visited relatives in Harbor Springs on Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Hime and daughter, Miss Lena Hime, were Boyne City visitors on Saturday.

Miss Louise Winkler of Gaylord spent a few days of last week at the home of her mother at Walloon Lake.

Mrs. E. A. Knye and family of Walloon Lake left last week for Palm Beach, Florida, where they will make their home for the winter.

Corporal John P. Colden, who served with the Marines in Haiti for more than a year, was discharged at Brooklyn and returned home Tuesday.

A Halloween masquerade dance was held at the K. O. T. M. hall on Friday evening. A large crowd attended and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

MOUNTAIN DISTRICT

Earl Clark is still improving. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jardine spent Wednesday in Charlevoix.

E. R. Stallard sold his team last week to Ervin Nowland.

Mrs. Myers spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. L. Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Duffey spent Thursday evening at the home of W. L. Scott.

John Sailer is reported as having the influenza. At last reports he was considerably better.

E. R. Stallard leaves this week for East Jordan where he expects to work during the winter.

Several of our young people attended the Halloween social at Iron-ton Friday evening and report a good time.

An enjoyable time was spent at the Halloween social Saturday evening. The program was well rendered and very amusing. Because of sickness in the neighborhood the crowd was necessarily small, the proceeds being only $4.75. A carload of young people came from Boyne and Miss Kerry returned with them to spend Sunday with her parents.

EAST CHANDLER AND THUMB LAKE

Frank Atkin was a Boyne Falls caller Saturday.

Mrs. Wm. Hughes and two sons were Petoskey callers Saturday.

Herb Tainter of Boyne City was a caller in this neighborhood Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Storey spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Fetterly.

George Roles is home again from Pontiac where he has been working for some time.

Miss Julia Jacobs and Jessie Skelton attended the boy social at day Friday night Oct. 31.

Camel

CIGARETTES

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes; or ten cigarettes (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

If you want to know what rare and unusual enjoyment Camels provide smoke them in comparison with any cigarette in the world at any price!

CAMELS are a cigarette revelation any way you consider them! Take quality, or refreshing flavor and fragrance; or, that wonderful mellow-mild-smoothness you never before got in a cigarette smoke! Yet Camels are so full-bodied and so full-of-satisfaction you marvel that so much delight could be put into a cigarette!

Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos makes them so irresistibly appetizing! And, the blend explains why it is possible for you to smoke Camels liberally without tiring your taste! You will prefer Camels to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

You'll realize pretty quick, too, that among the many reasons you smoke Camels is their freedom from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor!

Once you know Camels you won't take much stock in premiums, coupons or gifts! You'll prefer Camel quality!

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 6th

CORRESPONDENCE

BARNARD

Fine November weather.

Mrs. Thos. Matchett and children have moved in with Frank Matchett's for the winter.

W. N. Lewis departed on Monday morning for Iron Mountain, where he will be employed this winter.

The wind storm on Monday of last week played havoc with some of the telephone lines in this vicinity.

Thomas Matchett and N. Zylstra left on Monday for Bay City where they have employment for the winter.

Mr. Long's family moved to Alden last week and Mr. Hoyt and family are moving to the same place this week.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. Howard Cornell next Wednesday, November 12th. Everyone invited.

The official board of the church met on Wednesday evening last for a business meeting, electing officers for the Sunday school and arranging for new cement steps for the church. Frank Matchett was elected Superintendent and Mrs. W. N. Lewis assistant. Nearly all of the classes have new teachers for the ensuing year.

All Hallowe'en was celebrated in fine style by the young people and little folks of Barnard. Mrs. Cornell gave a party in the afternoon for her Beginner's Sunday school class, and Mrs. Joseph Clark entertained her class at the same time and a box social was held in the school house in the evening. Needless to say each event was enjoyed to the utmost by all participating.

Patrick's Overcoats are all wool, well made up, and we are selling them at bargain prices. Benj. Brown. Adv45tf

NORWOOD

Sam Morehouse is the proud possessor of a new Victrola.

Chas. Morehouse is confined to his home with stomach trouble.

Percy Empey bought a nice black colt of Wm. Alward Monday.

Merrill Richardson took a large fat hog to Ellsworth Thursday.

Sam Morehouse and Harris Pierce took cattle to Ellsworth Thursday.

Mr. Owens, Nell Carmen and Faye Wagner motored to Boyne City Monday.

George Lord and Merrill Richardson and wife motored to Petoskey Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Empey and son, Percy, and wife spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Dick Kirby in Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Gregg of Petoskey motored over and ate Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Swartout. They expect to spend the winter at South Bend, Ind.

The Hallowe'en box social held at the town hall last Friday night was quite a success, netting the school $20. The severe rains earlier in the week kept many from attending on account of bad roads, but the program was very genuine even to the ghosts and witches and white cat, which took part. Pupils and teacher deserve much credit and we were able to say we enjoyed it immensely.

A farewell party was given Monday night at the home of Mrs. Carmen for Mrs. Carmen and Mr. Owens, who expect to leave Wednesday for Winnetka, Wis., for the winter. Miss Carmen will remain in Charlevoix. About thirty friends were present and a very enjoyable evening spent with music, games, and a hountiful pot luck supper. Their many friends join in wishing them a pleasant journey and an enjoyable winter.

MAPLE GROVE SCHOOL NOTES

The sixth grade have finished their classic.

And others have drawn some very good pictures.

The first and second grades are dramatizing stories.

The third and fifth grades are having long division.

The sixth grade finished their geography, all but Michigan.

Ethel Monty spelled the school down last Friday afternoon.

The eighth grade are locating the principal cities and schools in Michigan.

The seventh grade have finished North American and are having questions.

Ethel Monty drew a very pretty motto last Thursday which we all praised.

The roll of honor for week ending October 31st are Ethel Monty, Hilda Wightman, Frank and Willie Keogh, Ruby, Lottie and Neva Webster, Ruth and Ella Pant, Willie Ferris, Floris Minier and Austere Howe.

EAST MARION NOTES

We expect to have a social in the near future. Watch for further notice.

Mrs. James Cohlentz visited her sister, Mrs. Henry McClanathan on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Allen visited at the home of Mathew Saunders Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClanathan visited Mr. and Mrs. George Holem of East Jordan Sunday afternoon.

Our school celebrated Friday for Columbus and Roosevelt day, on account of not getting material sooner.

The mothers gave us a Hallowe'en party Friday afternoon and served pumpkin pie, cake, cookies and apples.

HAYES

Dulcie Howe is helping Flo Sneathen for a few days.

George Arnold, wife and family, spent Sunday at Fay Kane's.

Mrs. Frank Kane was a caller at Mrs. Helm's Monday afternoon.

Hay balers at Lee Sneathin's the last of the week and first of this.

Fay Kane left for Pontiac and Grand Rapids Monday morning for the winter.

Mrs. Rose Wightman leaves this afternoon (Tuesday) for Linden, Mich., to help Mrs. Marsac.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsac of Linden, Mich., have sold their place and are expecting to move back here and buy them a home here again.

PIG CLUB MEMBERS PROSPER

Some Have Been at Work Long Enough to Have Porkers for Sale and Make Money.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Pig club members in Florida are working up an industry among themselves. Some of the members who have been in club work long enough to have some pigs for sale are disposing of their stock to other club members. One club boy has sold $100 worth of pigs to club members this year. Another, who joined the pig club two years ago, is now furnishing pigs to other members, and says he is glad he went into the club work, and believes that every boy and girl who can do so should join.

ATTENTION TO BROOD SOWS

After Weaning Her Pigs She Should Be Kept on Pasture and Fed Gaining Grain Ration.

The sow having weaned her pigs, should be kept on pasture and fed a gaining grain ration to build up her system and flesh for re-breeding, and provide nourishment for the oncoming fall litter.

A Big Reunion

Twenty years ago when the inauguration of the International Live Stock Exposition summoned to Chicago live stock breeders and feeders from even the "remote recesses of civilization, the leaders of the trade in an international sense, embraced the opportunity to create a new epoch.

During the intervening period many of these have passed from this sphere of usefulness, a new generation profiting by their public spiritedness and the seed they sowed has borne abundant fruit. The 1919 International affords an opportunity for a reunion of the survivors and a demonstration of how well they build at a critical stage of the industry when public interest was revived in opportune manner.

Every man woman and child enjoying the distinction of attending the 1900 International Live Stock Exposition should embrace the opportunity to participate in the Twentieth Anniversary of that event at Chicago during the first week in December.

STATE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

COUNTY WELL REPRESENTED AT MEETING

Attendance the Largest in Years —
Teachers' Wage Increase Discussed

Charlevoix county was well represented at the State Teachers' Institute, even though the trip to Detroit was too expensive for most of the teaching corps. Supt. Metcalf, and Mr. Mills Wilber of Boyne City, Supt. Craig and Misses Bates and Morrison of Charlevoix, Supt. Keyworth and Miss May Stewart of East Jordan were in attendance. The institute was one of the largest in years with several thousands in attendance. The program began Wednesday afternoon, with a joint meeting for county normal principals and county school commissioners. A banquet dinner was served at six-thirty and the program continued throughout the evening, in lieu of the toasts usually enjoyed on such occasions.

Thursday morning the commissioners had charge of the program and business meeting of this section. General programs and special sections did not begin until Thursday afternoon. At this time five programs were being conducted simultaneously, with four new programs beginning in the evening.

Friday morning there were fourteen programs besides the general session, in which all would be interested. Friday afternoon, twelve programs besides a new general program, with a general program for the evening's entertainment, or a free concert for those who chose the lighter form of amusement.

It may well be seen from the above that all visiting teachers would need to choose carefully in order to select the program which would be most helpful in their own lines of work. It was impossible to hear all the programs but the meeting places were so well arranged, in respect to street car service and location, that it was many times possible to hear the first part of a program of special interest or even all of it, and hear the last part of another program of secondary interest.

The committee were fortunate this year in securing as speakers for the general programs Mr. Strayer of Columbia University, Mr. Waters, editor of Kansas City Star, Mr. Magill, field secretary for N. E. A., Mr. Kilpatrick of Columbia University, Mr. Goode of the University of Chicago, Mr. Burton, president of the University of Minnesota, ex-Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, S. D. Fess, Congressman from Ohio, C. A. Prosser of Washington, D. C., and L. H. Koehsen, the famed American Ace, from Newberry, and P. H. Kelley, Congressman from the Sixth Michigan district. Heads of musical departments from our local colleges led the community singing, and the best of our own state leaders spoke in the programs on special departments.

No matter who the speaker, or what the subject of his address, the theme in hand was "Excelsior." Will our schools continue to serve now as they served during the war? Or will our schools drop back into the old beaten path of bookish preparedness forgetting the need of true citizenship in the country about us? Can we face democracy as it is and develop this in the school room? Can we and will we face the awful truth in the facts on failure brought out in war statistics, put our shoulders to the wheel, and change conditions for the better? Do we realize in what way the illiteracy of our neighbors affects us and why we must support the Smith Towner Bill? Why must teachers' wages be increased? Is it to reward the teacher or to assure a better class of applicants each year? In what ways locally may we meet the shortage of teachers which indications show will be 20 per cent greater next year than this? What laws have been passed in other states to solve problems which Michigan has still unsolved?

These and other problems were answered by the speakers of both general and special programs and gave to all an outlook that it was not otherwise possible to attain.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Services for next Sunday will take on a special significance. Mr. Brayton Saltonstall, who was our delegate to the Cheboygan conference, and Mr. A. F. Bridge, who represented us at the National Council of Congregational churches at Grand Rapids recently, will deliver reports of these meetings at the regular morning service, at 10:30. They will have a message for us. Be there to receive it!

Practically a year ago an armistice was signed, terminating the most terrific outpouring of blood and sweat and tears that the world has ever seen. In the interval they have returned, those men who have so splendidly stood for us—they have returned, although it seemed that the question "When are you going home?" would never be answered—in the affirmative—definite. And so it is fitting that on the anniversary our service flag should be lowered, with appropriate ceremony. There will be special music. All service men, their parents and friends are particularly invited to attend, as our honored guests, the service of Sunday morning, November 9th.

The Cecilians will meet for rehearsal under the direction of Miss Bement at the usual hour Wednesday evening.

Not even a miniature cloud burst was sufficient to quench the enthusiasm of the class in Religious Education at the mid-week meeting. We are expecting a record attendance next Thursday evening at 7:30 sharp.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet with Mrs. A. F. Bridge on Wednesday.

The Young People's society will convene at promptly 6:00 p. m. Sunday next in the church parlors. As a special feature, the minister will take the reading of John Galsworthy's play, "Justice," which was directly responsible for the English prison reforms of recent date. All young people are cordially invited to attend.

The lecture subject for next Sunday evening will be "Monuments of Ancient Rome," with slides specially secured from the University of Michigan. The organist, Mrs. Madeline LaLonde, will present a half hour prelude program on the organ from 7:00 to 7:30 p. m. You are invited to attend this pleasant and instructive hour.

Have YOU responded to the Third Red Cross Roll Call? Which reminds us that there will be a special contributing feature a little later. Watch for further announcement.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR CHARLEVOIX

MUCH NEEDED ADDITION MAY BE MADE

To Occupy Old Sugar Factory Building South of City—Will Bring Increased Business

At last one of the long looked for and much needed industries is probably going to locate in Charlevoix. For years this city has quietly looked on while the adjoining cities have brought in new industries to the town which have brought population and business increase which made them towns that were profitable to live in twelve months in the year. We have had none of this and in the past things have stopped at the close of the summer season, the people hibernating like a bear, waiting for the summer to come again with its business.

The DuRoy Manufacturing Company, which in the past has been operating at Park Lake, Michigan, has been looking over the territory surrounding Charlevoix and have been favorably impressed with the situation. This company operates a turning plant and also puts out a line of doll furniture made from white birch and poplar of the small variety, of which there is an abundant supply here and also on Beaver Island.

Mr. DuRoy of Park Lake and Mr. Carr of Gaylord are the men proposing to put the plant in here and there has been $35,000 worth of stock in the company placed on sale in this community, about half of which has already been subscribed here in the city.

The new factory will be located in the old sugar factory building south of the city, which will be rebuilt and fitted out for the purpose. It has been planned by the company to employ about one hundred persons on opening and in a period of a year or so increase that number to two or three hundred. The plant will employ women and girls as well as men, and would furnish employment for a large number of Charlevoix people as well as bring new people here. This is a chance to make this place a year around town and if supported should certainly locate here, and once located and operations started it is sure to boom the town and give it a big start forward.

SOCIAL SERVICE IN MICHIGAN FACTORIES

Parish Houses in State Colleges and Industrial Centers

Social service work among the girl silk workers of Belding, the foreign and negro industrial workers at Benton Harbor, the railroad shop workers at Niles and in Grand Rapids has been given prominent places in the survey of the Episcopal diocese of Western Michigan, prepared for the Church's Nation-wide campaign now in progress. Work among the students at Albion and Mount Pleasant also is given careful consideration in the survey which tallies for an expenditure of $200,000 for diocesan projects aside from the parochial budgets.

Parish houses for Albion, Big Rapids, Mount Pleasant and Niles are requested in the survey. A woman worker to look after the welfare of the 2,000 girl silk workers in the Belding mills is an item showing the scope of the Nation-wide Campaign program for service. The same applies to Benton Harbor, where the survey purposes to place a resident priest and woman worker among the 3,000 foreigners and negroes, to organize sewing clubs, Sunday schools and the like. A settlement worker is asked for Grand Rapids.

In the educational centers of western Michigan, work among the students is featured. A parish house social center for the State Normal students at Mt. Pleasant, another in Big Rapids for the Ferris Hill students, and one at Albion for the college men and women. The moving of the Pere Marquette railroad shops to Niles created a problem with insufficient housing accommodations complicating matters, and a parish house was deemed imperative.

DEER HUNTERS AR- RIVE IN CAMP

Two Charlevoix Parties Report Fine
Camping Grounds

Word has been received from a number of the hunters from this city who have gone to the north woods in quest of deer, that they have arrived safely in camp and that everything is going fine.

The party consisting of L. E. Benton, Edw. Klooster, Tom LaLonde, Harold Bedford and A. J. Usher reached the camp north of Newberry Saturday and state that it is a fine place to camp and from all observations a fine spot for hunting.

Another party made up of A. L. Fitch, Richard Lewis, T. Nowland, Col. Hamilton and a man named Warden from East Jordan, have reached their camp near Cusino and everything is in fine shape.

About three o'clock Monday morning a chimney fire broke out at the home of Mrs. Beeman on Clinton St., but luckily no damage was done.

LAW LIMITS SALE OF PISTOLS

POLICE OFFICIALS GET NEW REGULATION

Permits Must Be Furnished by the Sheriff or Police Before Any Person May Sell

Sheriff Weaver has received a copy of the new law governing the sale of firearms and which permits no dealer to sell a pistol or revolver without the prospective customer having a permit from the sheriff or chief of police.

The act provides that hereafter it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation or any agent thereof, to give, furnish or deliver, to any person or persons, any pistol or revolver, unless the person shall first receive from said prospective owner a permit in writing signed by the sheriff of the county or the chief of police of the city wherein the pistol or revolver is furnished. The provisions of this act will not apply to any federal, state, county or municipal authority issuing any firearms as part of service equipment.

The sheriff or chief of police are authorized to issue said firearms upon application therefor, if said officer is satisfied that the firearms are to be used in a proper manner; or they may refuse to issue these permits in their discretion.

The penalty for furnishing firearms without a permit, shall be a fine of $500, or not more than one year imprisonment or both.

ORGANIZATION OF AMERICAN LEGION POST

Necessary Number Obtained to Sign Request for Charter

The question of a post of the American Legion for the ex-service men of Charlevoix has at last been solved. Capt. W. E. Spring, formerly with Co. "I", of East Jordan, and who was over seas with the "Red Arrow" division, has charge of the work in this section of the state.

To organize a post in this legion a request for a charter signed by fifteen ex-service men must be sent to state headquarters. This request blank was received by R. L. Lewis and F. H. Wilkinson, and the required fifteen names have been obtained and the request sent in to Detroit.

As soon as this has received attention and the charter granted to this post a regular meeting will be held and an effort made to have every ex-service man in this community put on the roll.

Announcement
Wednesday, November 19th, Mrs. J. M. Saunders and Mrs. N. A. Shores will serve a supper at the home of Mrs. Shores, the benefit of which will go to the new Charlevoix hospital. The supper will be served at 5:30. It's for a good cause, so let everyone come and bring your friends.

Thanksgiving Proclamation

Washington, Nov. 5.—President Wilson Wednesday set aside Thursday, November 27, as Thanksgiving day in a proclamation which said the country looked forward "with confidence to the dawn of an era where the sacrifices of the nations will find recompense in a world at peace."

"By the president of the United States of America:

"A Proclamation—The season of the year has again arrived when the people of the United States are accustomed to extend thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which He has conferred upon our country during the 12 months that have passed. A year ago our people poured out their hearts in praise and thanksgiving that through divine aid the right was victorious and peace had come to the nations which had so courageously struggled in defense of human liberty and justice. Now that the stern task is ended and the fruits of achievement are ours we look forward with confidence to the dawn of an era where the sacrifices of the nations will find recompense in a world at peace.

"But to attain the consummation of the great work to which the American people devoted their manhood and the vast resources of their country they should as they give thanks to God reconsecrate themselves to those principles of right which triumphed through His merciful goodness. Our gratitude can find no more fitting expression than to bulwark with loyalty and patriotism those principles for which the free peoples of the earth fought and died.

"During the past year we have had much to make us grateful that in spite of the confusion in our economic life resulting from the war we have prospered. Our harvests have been plentiful and of our abundance we have been able to render succor to less favored nations. Our democracy remains unshaken in a world torn with political and social unrest. Our traditional ideals are still our ideals in the path of progress and civilization.

"The great blessings, vouchsafed to us, for which we devoutly give thanks, should arouse us to a fuller sense of our duty to ourselves and to mankind to see to it that nothing we may do shall mar the completeness of the victory which we helped to win. No selfish purpose animated us in becoming participants in the world war, and with a like spirit of unselfishness we should strive to aid by our example and by our co-operation in realizing the enduring welfare of all people and in bringing into being a world ruled by friendship and good will.

"Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, hereby designate Thursday, the 27th day of November, next, for observance as a day of thanksgiving and prayer by my fellow countrymen, inviting them to cease on that day from their ordinary tasks and to unite in their homes and in their several places of worship in ascribing praise and thanksgiving to God, the author of all blessings and the master of our destinies.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed:

"Done in the District of Columbia, this fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and nineteen, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and forty-fourth."

"WOODROW WILSON."

AUTO THEFT LAW PASSED

THE NEW MEASURE IS A VERY STRICT ONE

Act Guaranteed to Curb Robberies —Goes Into Effect Without
Wilson's Signature

Automobile thieves are looking forward to a hard, tough winter. Their fences have been torn down by act of congress and their most powerful weapon wrested from their hands by Uncle Sam. The national motor vehicle bill has become a law, without the president's signature, and sponsors of the law guarantee that it will effectively stamp out the menace of nation wide automobile theft.

Interstate traffic in stolen passenger cars will now be reduced to a minimum, and prison gates yawn for those defying the new federal law, declaring the automobile part of interstate commerce and subject to the national statutes, and same as railroads, steamboats and bridges. Persons in Michigan cities who have carried on a traffic in stolen cars had better seek other occupation before it is too late. The new law makes it an offense punishable by a fine of $5,000, or a prison term as high as five years, to steal an automobile in one state and drive it into another.

The passage of this drastic measure, coming at a time when congress was meeting in thrash out other problems, was a complete surprise to many persons. Prominent men of motor row, when told that the bill had become a law, were greatly surprised and agreeably so.

Announcement
The W. C. T. U. will entertain the superintendent and teachers of the public schools at a reception Friday evening, November 14th, at 8 p. m., at the home of Mrs. P. D. Campbell, the Chestnut cottage, on River St.

FRUIT GROWERS MEET IN DETROIT

WILL DISCUSS FREIGHT RATES OF THE STATE

Many From This Part of the State to Attend Meeting Early Next Month at Statler Hotel

The annual meeting of the Michigan State Horticultural society will be held at the Statler Hotel in Detroit December 2, 3 and 4. Northern Michigan fruit growers are greatly interested and many from this part of the state will attend.

The subject of freight rates will be dealt with very minutely throughout the convention. Rates within Michigan are not on an equal basis and other states are getting lower rates into Michigan than Michigan rates are to them. This discrimination is adding hundreds of thousands of dollars to the fruit costs which in the end is paid by the consumer. Mr. Coombs secretary of the Michigan Traffic League, will tell of the results already obtained and give outline of the future plans. Decision in favor of shippers has just been rendered in the "South Bend Case."

The subject of spraying has many new phases and surprising results have been obtained. Mr. Dutton of the M. A. C., has had active charge of the experiments carried on by the college and is well qualified to speak on this subject. The best talent from several other states has been secured and this meeting will be the most important one from a grower's and shipper's standpoint ever held.

All available space has been allotted the manufacturers of insecticides, spraying machinery, etc. Many reservations are being received by the hotel daily and a good attendance is insured.

Ceremony at Home of Bride's Sister in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Word has been received that Leslie W. Beattie, ensign on the U. S. S. Georgia, formerly of this city, has been married to Miss Ethel Anderson of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's sister in Brooklyn, November 8th. The newly married couple will stay in Brooklyn for about two weeks, after which they will leave for California, where Mr. Beattie will join his ship, which is one of the Pacific fleet.

PARTY IN HONOR OF ELEVENTH BIRTHDAY

Ten Girl Friends Entertained by Thelma Klooster

Ten little girl friends of Thelma Klooster were entertained at her home Friday afternoon in honor of her eleventh birthday. Miss Bettlge, the little girls' teacher, was the guest of honor on the occasion.

Games that were enjoyed by all were played and later in the afternoon light refreshments were served by Thelma's mother and the group of little folks started home very well pleased with the pleasure the day afforded, wishing their little hostess many more happy birthdays in the future and thanking her for the royal manner in which they were entertained.

CHX. OBSERVES LIBERTY DAY

SEVERAL ADDRESSES IN HON-OR OF OCCASION

Morning Meeting at the Palace Theatre—Afternoon Session Held at High School Building

In making the appropriate observance of "Armistice Day," on a short notice Charlevoix certainly did her part and did it well. Nothing definite had been arranged for the gathering in observance of this day until Monday and the program that resulted was very successful.

At eleven o'clock the hour set a year ago for the time for the armistice to take effect was the hour for the first observance of this great day in the American history. At this time the people of Charlevoix had gathered in the Palace theatre and as the hands of the clock marked eleven stood silent for one minute in honor of the occasion.

On completion of this ceremony a program that had been arranged by several of the business men began. Rev. Harold VanKirk of the Congregational church was the first speaker on the program and his address was surely fitted for a meeting of this kind. He touched on the reasons for such a day, also of instances occurring a year ago and the beginning of peace and referred to instances during his own service in France.

The second number was given by Capt. Frank Wilkinson, who sang two songs that were greatly enjoyed by every one especially the school children. Following this was an address by Wm. E. Hampton in which he touched upon many issues of the day on Armistice Day.

Nearly all the stores were closed for the day and all of them part of the day, bells of the various churches were rang steadily from eleven o'clock and everyone aided in celebrating one of America's most important memorial dates.

The observance of "Liberty Day" was continued in the afternoon in the public schools, a program being given which was attended by all of the pupils and the public as well. At the high school a large number of the parents gathered and a fine program was rendered.

The afternoon was opened by the singing of "Columbia" by the high school after which an address by W. E. Hampton followed. Captain Wm. Mitchell then gave a talk on the war from the other side and from the army standpoint, after which Mr. Loomis took the same question from the navy point of view.

The program closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" and the "Marseilles" by the audience.

We have Patrick all wool Overcoats at from $10 to $18 less than most merchants are asking for similar garments. Benj. Brown. Adv45tf

ADVISES WAY TO INVEST

U. S. GOVERNMENT GIVES IN-FORMATION

Transfer of Liberty Bonds Held by Banks Urged as Aid to Cut High Cost of Living

Through the State Agricultural colleges of the Seventh district, as well as the other districts of the country, the savings division of the treasury department is starting a campaign to promote savings and investment in government securities, especially for the benefit of the farmer. In a letter to the State Agricultural colleges Benjamin R. Andrews, vice director of the savings division, said in part:

"The treasury department is offering Thrift and War Savings stamps, $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings certificates (War Savings stamps in larger denominations), and Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness. It is also urging the transfer to private investors of the Liberty bonds still held by banks, which, as the federal reserve board has pointed out, by reducing the inflated credit situation will be one effective factor for checking rising prices.

"The farmers of the country took their full share in the war loans and for the first time became generally investors in securities. The problem arises: Can they to their own advantage continue to invest money in securities, and if so, what form shall the investment take? A leading rural economist recently pointed out that the farmers could not do better than place their surplus funds in Liberty bonds. From many quarters comes the warning against the danger in rising land prices, which are in part due to the investment of the farmer's surplus in land which he does not intend to cultivate, but to rent or sell again.

"The government is interested in promoting the holding of Liberty bonds, in preventing fraudulent practices by Liberty bond manipulators, and in continuing the flow of money into Liberty bonds and other government securities."

Following are the chief points the treasury department wishes to be brought to the attention of people in rural districts:

Possible investments for farmer: (a) Re-investment in his own farming desirable as long as more capital can be profitably employed; (b) land mortgages—safe but not readily convertible to cash or convenient as collateral for temporary bank loans; (c) personal notes—risky; (d) shares of stock—speculative and risky, farmer not in position to have special knowledge; (e) government securities, absolutely safe as to principal and interest—no question as to prior claims always marketable or redeemable.

Government securities now available: $5 War Savings stamps and $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings certificates, maturing January 1, 1924, redeemable on demand sooner, paying 4 per cent compound interest; Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness, $500 up, running for a few months with interest at 4 1/4 per cent and 4 1/2 per cent; Liberty bonds and Victory notes, $50 up, purchasable in open market through local banks. Characteristics of these different securities—bonds especially desirable as collateral for temporary loans at banks.

Effect of government investment: (a) Increasing saving fund of the country; the dollar put in government securities releases a banking dollar; (b) expansion of business and trade; effect on foreign trade especially important to farmer as the extension of credits abroad is the sole way of making possible the sale of farm products abroad; increasing capital available for agriculture; (c) high cost of living situation, since increased production and saving are the two fundamental cures for rising prices and investment in government securities provides both; (d) rural land speculation craze—aided by farmer who puts his surplus into farm lands for leasing or sale; checked by government investment; effect of speculation on future farming.

"Holding your government securities is good citizenship." — Why? The government is still borrowing funds.

Farmer now a mark for fraudulent stock operators, Liberty bond scalpers. How check fraud?

What you pay out your good money for is cigarette satisfaction—and, my, how you do get it in every puff of Camels!

EXPERTLY blended choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos in Camel cigarettes eliminate bite and free them from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor.

Camels win instant and permanent success with smokers because the blend brings out to the limit the refreshing flavor and delightful mellow-mildness of the tobaccos yet retaining the desirable "body." Camels are simply a revelation! You may smoke them without tiring your taste!

For your own satisfaction you must compare Camels with any cigarette in the world at any price. Then, you'll best realize their superior quality and the rare enjoyment they provide.

Tested 250,000 Miles Three-Point Cantilever Springs Greatest Improvement Since Pneumatic Tires

OVERLAND 4 has been put through the most thorough and severe test possible.

250,000 miles of mountain trails, desert sand, heat, cold, mud and dust, demonstrated the quality of every part of the car long before we began manufacturing.

This remarkable test showed conclusively that Three-Point Cantilever Springs, exclusive with Overland, are the greatest improvement in riding comfort since the introduction of pneumatic tires.

They protect the car from road shocks and prolong the life of every part.

They enable the wheels to hold better to the road. They give greater comfort under all road conditions.

They do away almost entirely with side sway and rebound which twist and rack the car.

Diagonal attachment of the Three-Point Springs at both ends of a 130-inch Spring-base gives the steadiness and smooth-riding of the heavy car of long wheelbase.

Equipment is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting System to Marshall Divan Spring Upholstery.

Come in and see this car. Ask for Booklet. Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $845; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375; Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

THE FARMER'S WEEK

"We know that the 44-hour week cannot feed the world, and we proclaim that it cannot clothe it." With these words the Farmers' National Congress clinched its arguments protesting against the ever increasing demand of labor for shorter hours.

The 44-hour week in industry has been gaining so steadily in favor that it is doubtful whether the farmers' stand can check its progress. But sympathy can be felt for the farmers' stand when they go on to say, "Those who advocate the short day in industry cannot expect the farmer to work six hours before dinner and six hours after, with before-breakfast and after-dinner chores thrown in."

A little simple, serious propaganda spread among other workmen as to the effect upon the food supply if the farmers should go in for short-hour strikes might do a great deal of good.

Certainly the day on the farm is unfairly long. The only way to help this condition is to have more farm help and the work better divided. If this is to be done, then the farmer, in order to hire the extra help, must be able to buy his farm supplies more cheaply, and have better facilities for reaching his market, or else he must raise the price of his products. This brings the issue right back to men who are making what the farmer needs. If they fail him, he cannot help failing them.

The 44-hour week is not at fault. It is rather the failure of many workers to produce 100 percent while they are working, or the long expensive strike when they do not work at all. The trouble comes from the fact that too much stress is put upon the 44-hour week for labor, and not enough upon labor for the 44-hour week.

LIBRARY NOTES

The public library is making this week a children's week and are doing everything possible to have the people of this community co-operate with them.

The matter of selecting the right type of literature for children's reading should be considered seriously by every parent. Books have more to do with the molding of the life of a person than one would think and by carefully selecting the kind of reading material that will uplift the mind and increase the knowledge, one is utilizing one of the greatest assets given us for advancement along this line.

The normal growing child reads as much as his relative grown-ups (and a great deal more than many of them). He reads books as well written as theirs and often much more beautifully illustrated. If his selection of books is watched the same as his health, he will soon develop a taste for good reading that will remain with him the rest of his life.

It is nearing Christmas and books make a very useful gift for children and here again the matter of selection comes in. What type of books are you going to get your children this year? At the Charlevoix public library there is a fine collection of children's reading material and catalogues containing many more. Go to the librarian and discuss the matter of children's books with her and ask her to offer some suggestions as to the selection of them. She will be very glad to assist you in the selection of any books that you wish to get and you will be aiding your children's progress by doing so.

The German Menace not Dead—Only Salvation For U. S. in United Effort.

The Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., today gave out the following statement from his Washington Headquarters:

"Unless the people of this country perceive the yawning economic abyss that lies before them, and take immediate steps to stimulate production, the fruits of the victory won by the war will be frittered away. The enormous price in men and money that the United States paid in order that the Hun menace might be removed will have been for nothing."

"It is estimated by European and American economists that in ten years Germany will be relatively where she was before the war. She has a huge reserve store of manufactured goods on hand; her munitions industries were planned with a view to their usefulness after the war; her artisans and mechanics are voluntarily working ten hours per day, and are pulling together in a concerted effort to reestablish the nation on a sound basis; her money is so low as to attract purchasers of German-made goods; and her every force and energy is strained to the limit to speed the work of reconstruction."

"What a contrast with the conditions here at home! The country is confronted with a threat from its chief labor leader of a complete industrial tie-up designed to compel the unconditional surrender of every activity to the domination of a small minority of our citizens who happen to have formed themselves into labor unions. Hanging over our heads is the imminent renewal of the inordinate demands of the four railroad brotherhoods with the prostration of our transportation systems as the penalty for non-compliance. More menacing still is the uncompromising attitude of the coal miners. If the mines are shut down for any length of time not only the railroads but practically every other industrial wheel in the country must cease to turn. Our overseas trade, for the stimulation of which we had expected so much with the aid of our merchant marine, is jeopardized. Foreign orders will not be placed in a country whose manufacturing facilities are in such a precarious condition. Not only does a general strike portend, but even while remaining at work labor exhibits a lassitude and unconcern for the future that has greatly lowered its efficiency. Notably is that true on the railroads; and the coal miners seek to substitute thirty hours a week for the fifty-four hours agreed upon by the arbitration committee that settled the great coal strike of 1902."

"Legislation by Congress or State legislature cannot overcome the apathy that is upon the nation. The innate American spirit, as expressed in the individual, must rise to the emergency and triumph over the influence of foreign radicalism that has settled like a fatal blight upon the country. The German menace foreboded no greater danger to the Republic than does the domestic unrest which now threatens our existence as a nation. When the former loomed over the eastern horizon the call went out for funds, soldiers and production. All were forthcoming and the Hun's courage was beaten back. It is now looming again, but in a different form. To combat it successfully we must set our own house rights by everybody falling to and utilizing our resources to the limit. Money and lives are not required, but we must have work without stint. That men will fail in his duty as an American citizen who refuses to do his bit to ward off the economic disaster that threatens. Let him not be guided by the course his neighbor may adopt, but apply himself at once to the all-important task of production."

Prosperous in Flax and Linen.

Linen bedding is a great luxury to the American housewife, who tries to be contented with cotton sheets embroidered and trimmed, and saves her linen pieces for company. But in Lithuania, where flax is a flourishing product and factories are not plentiful, every housewife has her chests full of linen bedding, beautiful, fine, hand-made material that would do for any American beds.

Nicaraguan Burial Custom.

Among the Indians of eastern Nicaragua when a person dies the body is buried at once and a little house is built over the grave in which the soul can live for the time being. A field of sweet manioc is planted. In about eight months the roots are ready for use, so a general invitation to a great Sun or Sicro dance is sent out. A cotton string is stretched over the tree tops from the spirit house over the grave to the dancing place, where the end of it hangs down into a great bowl of misshu.

Mayor S. M. Rose is home from a three week's business trip to St. Joseph, where he has been gathering spawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emrey and son, Robert, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Preston in Petoskey.

T. L. Beddow of Cadillac, former teacher in the Charlevoix high school was in the city Saturday and Sunday calling on friends.

Robert Sherman, who has been on the grand jury in Grand Rapids, is home for a week, the jury having adjourned for one week.

Pat Holland of Charlevoix, and Miss Lena Murray of East Jordan, secured a marriage license from the county clerk this week.

Mrs. Thomas Shawley, who has been in Petoskey for the past two weeks, is at her home on Upright avenue for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. House of Boyne City, were in the city Monday. Mr. House attended to business affairs at the court house while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kimball, who have been spending the past summer at their cottage near Ironton, left Tuesday for their home in Chicago.

Henry Block, Fred Coon and Allen Ulrich left Monday morning for the upper peninsula where they will spend the next two weeks hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Bennett of St. James, were in the city from Thursday to Tuesday visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Eva Henshaw.

Mrs. Joseph Clarke left Wednesday for Howard City, where she will spend a few weeks visiting at the home of her son, Sims Clarke, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey returned home the latter part of last week from Detroit, where Mr. Carey has been working for the past several weeks.

Glenn Hockeridge of Kewadin, was in the city Saturday enroute to East Jordan for a few days visit with relatives before going to Lansing for the winter.

C. H. Adler and Fred Nelson of Petoskey, accompanied by J. J. Curtis of Georgia, were business callers at the Michigan State Telephone company's office on Tuesday.

Mrs. Ada Benman left Wednesday for Ann Arbor, where she will join her son, George, who is attending the University of Michigan. She expects to remain in that city the remainder of the winter.

Mr. Seth Smith and family, of Petoskey have moved to this city and taken a house at 201 Lewis street.

Mr. Smith was the representative of the Brown garage in Petoskey and will be with that firm in this city.

Roy Ripley and Bert Carey left last Wednesday for Detroit, where they expect to secure work for the winter. They were accompanied as far as Petoskey by Mrs. Ripley and Mrs. Carey, who visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gossenger until Thursday afternoon.

Word has been received from Mrs. Dolberg of San Diego, California, that her husband passed away Monday, November 3rd. Mr. Dolberg had been confined to the state hospital at Norwalk for the insane for five weeks before his death. Mr. and Mrs. Dolberg were residents of this city for a number of years up to a year ago when they moved to San Diego, and have many friends here to extend their sympathy to the family.

A Halloween party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gregory in Flint, at which time former Charlevoix residents were the guests. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Verl Cram and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cram and two children, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Durrance, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. English (Mrs. English was formerly Miss Marie Lammann), Miss Bessie Henshaw and Miss Carrie Guetschow, who was visiting friends in Flint at that time, and Messrs. Ripley, Gennett and Henshaw. The house was decorated for the occasion. Various stunts and games were indulged in during the evening, after which the hostess served dainty refreshments. Small baskets of candy were given as favors.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE AT BOYNE CITY

Thursday and Friday, Nov. 20-21 —
Charlevoix Teachers to Attend

The Teachers' Institute for Charlevoix county has been appointed by state superintendent Johnson for Boyne City November 20-21. Prof. Ira Beddow of Mount Pleasant was appointed conductor, and Miss May Stewart, local committee. The instructors are Miss Ethel Perrin, supervisor of physical training in Detroit, and Miss Katherine Martin of the University of Chicago.

Local arrangements are now being made for even more outside talent, for music, and for a county normal breakfast, as well as a teachers' banquet, which is the annual social feature of the Charlevoix county institute. Special features this year promise to be better than ever before. One of our speakers has a splendid exhibit to illustrate work done along theoretical lines, an illustrated lecture, and one will conduct a demonstration. We shall also wish to demobilize our honor roll with the service flag dedicated last year, and there are requests at hand for a roll call of the colleges. Look for the printed programs next week.

Every teacher in the county should plan to be present. She owes this to herself and to her community, to her profession and to her boys and girls. The interest, however, is extending beyond the school room walls, and we welcome all parents and patrons of the school who are interested in the school and its work.

Big clearance sale at The Hat Shop. A large new assortment of hats will be sold below cost. Wonderful values. Come while the selection is good. Beautiful silk velvet hats at only $3.00 and other big bargains. Adv46t1

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

On next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. the minister will speak from the theme "The Unity of Civilization." This is the first of two helpful sermons preparatory to the Thanksgiving season. Have you no other definite church home? Join us in the joy of our worship and service.

Special commendation should be made of the Primary department under the leadership of Mrs. Cross. It is a genuine pleasure to visit this department with its happy, busy groups of little folks. A suggestion: Wouldn't it be a splendid thing to start that youngster in the process of Christian character building?

Miss Bement will lead the Cecilia's at the usual hour next Wednesday evening.

The mid-week class in religious education will take up a survey of the work of Peter at its regular session at 7:30 Thursday evening. Bring note books and pencils.

At the Young People's society at 6:00 p. m. Sunday evening, the minister will continue the reading of Galsworthy's "Justice." A summary will be given, therefore you will be sure of getting the story, even though you missed the first evening.

Music lovers will enjoy the 7:00 to 7:30 hour with Mrs. LeLonde at the organ, as the prelude to the stereopticon lecture Sunday evening.

The subject will be "Paris, the World's Capitol." As the Art Institute slides will again be used, we are assured of a most enjoyable evening.

Thanks are due Mrs. Nellie Wood for the thoughtful way in which the flags provided by her added to the interest of our lowering of the service flag.

SURPRISED IN HER NEW HOME

Friends of Mrs. A. Powers Help Her Celebrate Her Birthday

Tuesday afternoon, November 11, about sixteen ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Alonzo Powers to help her celebrate her birthday, also to help initiate her new home. The ladies has prepared a pot luck supper which was served at six o'clock. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing cards, after which the guests departed with an invitation to return again next year.

Food Value of Nuts.
Pound for pound, walnuts or hickory nuts equal in food value a juicy steak, contain more protein (tissue building) food than white bread and but one-third less than eggs. In these days of food scarcity and high prices it is likely that the vast crop of native American nuts will receive the recognition that they deserve.—Popular Science Monthly.

Apptitude for Details.
"You know Johnson—great fellow for detail." "He is that! He's the sort of chap who would go and get married and be able afterward to tell you whether it was Mendelssohn, Lohengrin, or Tannhauser they played during the ceremony!"

Hard Work Needed.
If the power to do hard work is not talent, it is the best possible substitute for it. Things do not turn up in this world unless somebody turns them up. —James A. Garfield.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Moss Micka was arrested Friday by Chief of Police Crawford on a charge of larceny in the day time. He was charged with having stolen $38 from the Peabody residence in Petoskey. The man voluntarily admitted his guilt and has been held for trial to the Circuit court.

It is said the Indian purchased a suit of clothing with a part of the money and spent the remainder for auto hire, etc. It was all gone when he was arrested.

George W. Ulrieb, Petoskey and Louisville business man, and others have closed a deal whereby they become the owners of what is known as the Summerville farm, near Central Lake, Mich., which they will convert into a summer resort. Mr. Ulrieb's associates are A. B. Cornell, of Kalkaska, Mich., and A. J. Gibson, of Central Lake. The property consists of thirty-three acres of lake frontage. Plans are being prepared for platting the property and for the erection of summer cottages. The property is located between two other resorts. It is called "Walkwing," an old Indian name for heaven.—Louisville Times.

George Blood, age about thirty years, is being held in the county jail awaiting trial on the charge of breaking into the Jonas Carr summer residence at Rosedale.

The man was captured at the cottage about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon November 2, by Chris Mortenson, the grounds keeper of Rosedale, who has each cottage equipped with a burglar alarm system. When he heard the alarm ringing he says he immediately investigated and found one of the winter doors partly torn off. He sent his wife to Beaubien avenue for Night Policeman Carpenter who brought the man to jail.

Blood was taken before Justice Montgomery Monday forenoon November 3rd, for a hearing.—Petoskey Evening News.

Mrs. Lena Ebling, of Alanson, died at her home east of Alanson, as a result of internal injuries sustained in a runaway accident October 26. She was forty-eight years of age.

Severely injured by being thrown from her wagon as her team became unmanageable, Mrs. Ebling pluckily had her horse harnessed and completed her trip. Her injuries took a bad turn a few days later, death resulting in spite of best medical care.

The deceased is survived by two sons, Carl and Harold Ebling. She was an active member of the Royal Neighbors and Gleaners.

The funeral was held Tuesday, November 4, at the Alanson church at 2 p. m. Rev. G. A. Weaver officiating. Burial in Conway.—Petoskey Evening News.

An American eagle, seven feet between the wing tips, was shot in Kalkaska county by two Grand Rapids boys who were trapping muskrats. Missing the bait from their traps the boys watched their sets and finally discovered the big bird to be the thief. Only having a 22-caliber rifle they shot the big fellow in the head. He came down wounded and was killed with a hatchet. Ray Rosely and Claude Jackson were the trappers. They got the bird on the Manistee lake shore.—Petoskey Evening News.

Wencel Hubel, twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Habel, of Alpena, was drowned at the mouth of the river at Alpena Monday, November 3rd, and so far his body has not been recovered. The lad fell out of a launch in which he was riding.—Petoskey Evening News.

Frank and Joe Shakanaba, Friendship township Indians, are boarding with Sheriff Miller and sleeping on county boarding house cots for a few weeks as the result of their rampage in Friendship township a few days ago.

The men were brought before Justice Montgomery by Sheriff Miller and Frank was charged with breaking windows in the Cooper residence and frightening Mrs. Cooper. He drew a vacation of ninety days and an assessment of $50 and other costs. Joe was taken for being drunk and was fined $15 and costs or thirty days with the sheriff. He did not have the $15.

The men are said to have mixed their own drinks from wood alcohol and grape juice. The drink developed quite a kick. Those who know declare that wood alcohol if drunk in any quantity will kill an ordinary person, and if drunk a little at a time will soon cause blindness.—Petoskey Evening News.

The East Jordan and Southern railway is constructing a substantial depot to care for their growing business at Chestonia. The new building will be combined into a waiting room, freight house and ticket office. A part of the structure will be occupied by the family of the section foreman.—Charlevoix County Herald.

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try limesoda-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphates on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of limesoda-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

Trustworthy

It is a good thing to have a publication in the house that you can trust. You never have to think whether you can safely leave The Youth's Companion on the table. When you begin a Companion story you know you are not bound on a slumming expedition. You are being led up into the sunshine of the everlasting hills. The folks in The Companion stories are everyday folks. They are like your own townspeople: stambling, falling, picking themselves up, trying with some defeats and some difficulties to attain to their high ideals.

1920 will be a year of great stories for Youth's Companion readers. There are more than 250 of them in the year. Subscribe before Christmas and get the opening chapters of Charles B. Hawes' 10-chapter story, "The Son of a Gentleman Born," and all the extras of the following offer:

New subscribers for 1920 will receive:

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the color and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Finish the Kidneys at once when Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

David Ruch has left for Greenville where he expects to spend the winter.

Mrs. Frank Addis is in Traverse City helping to care for her sister who had an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Withers of Charlevoix, were visiting Sunday at the farm home of Mrs. F. LaLonde.

Gus LaLonde, who has been working the past two months for Allie Carr, returned to his home in East Jordan last week.

Fred VanGorder and family are settled on the L. O. Isman farm for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Isman expect to go to Detroit for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Allie Carr were pleasantly surprised at their home last Tuesday evening by a few of their friends. A pot luck supper was served and all had a very pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Miles of Chaddock district and Mr. and Mrs. Levi Metz of Rock Elm, took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. A. Miles last Monday and attended Allie Carr's sale in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Carr and little daughter, Genevieve, left for Bellaire Monday morning to spend the day with their sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Richards, and will leave Tuesday morning for Vermontville, where they will make their future home.

ANTRIM CITY

Have you had enough rain? Probably won't have much snow.

There is some talk of having a saw mill in this vicinity this coming winter.

Mr. McDowell and Mr. Brant butchered their hogs last week.

Mr. Simon was in Charlevoix with fish last week.

A number from Charlevoix were out this way hunting Sunday and took dinner at Fred Simons.

Mrs. Brant and Mr. Slater spent Sunday at H. Masons. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brower called in the afternoon.

Joseph Statt is enjoying chicken pax at this time. Too bad he could not have had it when the rest of the children did, so he could have had company. Misery likes company.

Better late than never. Our school opened Monday, Nov. 10th, with Miss McGaffin of near Kewadin as teacher. There will be quite a school, if all attend who are supposed to.

The Violet

(Composed by Howard Griffin of the Ellsworth schools.)

Down in a green and shady bed,

A modest violet grew,

Its stalk was bent, it hung its head,

As if to hide from view.

And yet it was a lovely flower,

Its colors bright and fair,

It might have graced a garden bower,

Instead of hiding there.

And yet it was content to bloom

In modest tints arrayed,

And there diffused its sweet perfume

Within the silent shade.

So let me to the valley go,

This pretty flower to see,

That I may also learn to grow

In sweet humility.

SEATER VALLEY SCHOOL NOTES

We found 790 Red Cross clippings last week.

We have received a new pencil sharpener.

Little Frances Zoulek visited school last Friday.

Our school has learned fourteen new games this year.

There were only two pupils absent from our school the past two weeks.

Margaret Hancy has been absent from school for two weeks on account of her mother's illness.

Thirteen of our new library books came last Saturday. We enjoy reading them.

We have all done our best to speak proper English this week and in this way observe "Better Speech Week."

AN ACT OF KINDNESS

A Charlevoix Resident Speaks Publicly for the Benefit of Charlevoix People

If you had suffered tortures from kidney trouble, had experimented with different remedies without relief;

If you were finally cured through a friend's suggestion;

Wouldn't you be grateful?

The following statement has been given under just such circumstances:

Mr. Herington has used Doan's Kidney Pills.

He publicly tells of the benefit he has received.

This is a simple act of kindness to other Charlevoix sufferers.

No need to experiment with such convincing evidence at hand.

Mr. Herington speaks from experience.

You can rely on what he tells you.

Barney Herington, cement contractor, 108 W. Garfield Ave., says:

"About eight years ago my back gave out on me. It became so lame and sore I could hardly bend or stoop. When I did, sharp, knife-like pains caught me in my back and I could hardly straighten. My kidneys were out of order, also. As I had often read about Doan's Kidney Pills I tried them. Three boxes cured me and fixed me up in good shape. Since then when I have had to use a kidney medicine, Doan's Kidney Pills have always done good work."

CONTEST CLOSED FRIDAY EVENING

Prizes Awarded—One Hundred and Fifty Present

The contest in the Methodist Sunday school inaugurated while Dr. C. W. Hewitt was pastor of the M. E. church here, came to a close at the Blue hall last Friday evening with a banquet for pupils and parents, and at which time the prizes donated by Dr. Hewitt were awarded.

The winners were decided by points, in which department, attendance, etc., were figured.

About one hundred and fifty were present and the evening was spent, following a bounteous supper, in games and music until the time arrived for the presentation of the prizes which was done by Rev. E. E. Clark with a few well chosen remarks.

The first prize, a ten dollar gold piece was won by Joe Williams. The second prize which was a six dollar fountain pen was won by little Henry Ruis, and Dee Nelson received a morocco bound New Testament for third prize. Dr. Hewitt sent seventy-five small testaments which were given to the other members of the Sunday school.

The only regret for the evening was that Dr. Hewitt could not be present on this occasion to see the joy and appreciation with which the children received their presents, and to hear their announcements of intentions to try for the coming year to do better and to attempt a more regular attendance than in the past.

WORK WAS STARTED THIS WEEK

On Addition to Ellsworth Garage—More Space Needed

Work was started this week on an addition to the Ellsworth garage and will be rushed as fast as possible. The addition is 35 by 25 feet, and is at the south end of the old building. This will make the garage 35 by 75 feet. The new part will be used mostly for a work room, leaving a space 50 by 35 feet which can be given over entirely to storage and show purposes and will also furnish a space capable of placing a few cars in case of necessity.

The business has grown so rapidly during the past year that more space became absolutely essential.

Happiness and Interests. Personal happiness is almost synonymous with personal interests; the wider the range of the latter the higher is the degree of happiness.—Lillian Whiting.

Danger in Water Drinking.

Dr. James H. Homan of the University of Chicago denounces coffee as a poison, tea as a shatterer of the nerves and water as responsible for increased blood pressure. He says too much water is exceedingly dangerous to persons suffering from hardened arteries, which means to most persons who have passed fifty.

Artificial Respiration

It must have occurred to mostly everybody that when the President and his Cabinet decided to fight the coal strike, and when the Senate and the House of Representatives by their unanimous votes declared their unqualified support to the Administration in the course it had taken, that under such circumstances the Government cannot be all wrong. It is an inevitable deduction that the men in this Government, selected as they are from every walk of life, and from every part of the country, are good men, as a whole, and are truly representative of the people of this great country.

These are self-evident truths, and upon the principles involved the life of the American government depends.

For perhaps the first time in the history of the United States popular government as it is regarded by a free people, has been challenged by a class of workmen; and the acts of the coal miners constitute a flat defiance to the government that has shielded and protected them.

There is no longer any question about the rights of labor unions to exist and enforce the demands of their members, and public opinion and the government has been standing back of them. But acting on the same principle that has brought about "trust-busting," the restraint of unfair competition, the dissolution of combinations, and the regulation of other methods of conducting business that are damaging to the public as a whole; the Government first sought to prevent a strike that would bring disaster to the whole country; and when gentle measures failed the drastic processes of maintaining the sovereignty of the United States were enforced. It was the policy Roosevelt defined when he said: "Speak softly and carry a big stick."

Facts as Opposed to Contentions

Declaration by a single member of the Interstate Commerce Commission that a new rate increase would add seriously to the cost of retail products has been sharply answered by writers on railway problems, one of whom, in the Railway Review, remarks editorially: "The claim that the cost of transportation is one of the greatest elements in the cost of living has been so often disputed that it is hardly worth attention. A pair of shoes which formerly cost $5 now costs, say, $12. The entire element of transportation in them, figuring from the steer on the ranch to the finished article in the store window, amounts to not more than 25 cents. The prices of manufacturer, wholesaler and retailer are not in the least influenced by the transportation element. If transportation cost is today doubled, the price of the article may go down tomorrow, or it may soar again without limit."

The estimate of 25 cent transportation cost in the retail price of shoes, of course, included the accumulated cost of transporting the hide, the raw leather, the semi-finished and the finished product. With all this included it is apparent that the increase in price can hardly be attributed to a freight charge increase of five cents (the freight charges having increased roughly 25 per cent, while shoes were going from $5 to $12.) It is an illustration of the recent statistics prepared by Julius Kruttschnitt, which showed that "1.3 cents in every dollar increase was caused by freight charges; responsibility for the remaining 98.7 cents must be sought elsewhere; it was not caused by freight charges."

How Will Increased Costs be Met?

Statistical charts show that the cost of living had increased rapidly before railroad increases were scheduled. In fact, when the higher freight rates became operative, the increase in living cost actually slowed up, thus indicating that the connection was remote and so slight as to be almost negligible. The plain fact is that the second year of government operation is showing about the same railroad deficit as the first year, and the roads are admitted by the Federal Railroad Administration to be in bad physical condition, requiring very heavy rehabilitation work without delay upon being returned to their owners. It is obvious that more revenue must be obtained, and the only alternative is between getting it from the shipping public, which gets the benefit of the railroads, or extracting it from the whole public, through the Treasury as at present. The roads prefer to be self supporting, and this view of the proper railway position is shared by the people's representatives at Washington. Nobody is keenly anxious to have higher rates, but the National Capital regards a railroad increase as preferable to railway stagnation, which is the only alternative. A small increase in rates is preferred to a large decrease in efficiency and service.

There is not much sympathy for loose conservation about "the advance in living cost sure to follow rate advances." Facts do not sustain that contention. On the contrary, they prove that living cost is only slightly, if at all, affected by the increase or decreases in railroad rates.

The Mahogany Board

Strike unionists and salaried officials of union labor organizations who started in by envying the mahogany tables around which the capitalists gathered to hold counsel, have for a long time been holding their own conferences around their own mahogany boards; and whether it is the influence of the wood or the same kind of intoxication that brought on the downfall of the autocratic capitalists of the country does not appear; but in any event capitalism has had its big day in American industry, and has been obliged to pass on to make way for more democratic methods in finance and business; and the same kind of bragging that class-capital did about "owning" railroads, giant industries, and "running" cities, counties and states, has been adopted by the professional plutocratic strike-unionists who have been trying to bluff the country into the false belief that a calamity in national industrial affairs is at hand.

The steel strike and the coal strike have demonstrated the fallacy of attempting to coerce the public and the Government; and regardless of the results as they affect the employers and the employees, these strikes are apt to be like the thunder shower that is followed by clear weather. It is not a time to feel too optimistic, because there are wide gaps to close between employers and employees, and big economic problems must be worked out. Nevertheless the "unrest" in industry appears to have had its origin principally around the mahogany tables of boards of directors of workmen's federations, brotherhoods and unions, and the warnings against "revolution" and the like seems to have pictured an imaginary, rather than a real menace. The refusal of the Government to be stampeded by the strikers in the coal mines, and the failure of the steel strike is not many have adjudged, a failure of union labor. It is a triumph for union labor since in the show-down it must be reasonably apparent to all people who think that two conditions exist in the labor situation of this country. First: That there are too many autocratic labor leaders sitting around mahogany tables. This is a very important disclosure which labor itself may be depended upon to remedy. Secondly: It has been clearly proved, in the course of these strikes, that the wage-earners of the country are wholly loyal to the Government.

True, a few strike-unionists and salaried officials of union labor organizations, by picking out industries filled with foreigners, have thrown quite a scare into the people of the country, but there is a clearing up of the showers right now, and it discloses organized labor massed shoulder to shoulder to sustain its rights and its principles, while at the same time there is a disposition to accord capital the privilege to "live and let live" that it claims for itself.

"Industrial unrest" appears daily to have been principally the artificial respiration of the mahogany-tabled gentlemen who have grown into ease and comfort as the "leaders" of labor.

DUMPING CROPS CUTS THE PRICE

Overtaxes Elevator Capacity and Reduces Profits

Dumping their beans on the market too soon, overtaxing elevator facilities and resources, Michigan farmers are injuring themselves by keeping the price of beans down to a point where it is almost impossible for either farmer or elevator man to make a profit, according to F. B. Drees, of Lansing, secretary of the Michigan Bean Jobbers' association in Saginaw to attend an informal gathering of bean jobbers of the state. They took no formal action of any kind. Mr. Drees said:

"When the farmer sells his crop, too soon, forcing it on the elevator, he overloads the market," said Mr. Drees. "He taxes the ability of the elevator man to take care of the crop."

"The elevator in turn is carrying too much burden, the banks which are financing them demand that they take up some of their loans. So the elevator has to sell some of the beans in spite of the fact that the market is already adequately supplied. Naturally this forces down the price."

"It is almost impossible for a farmer to sell his beans for a price that will even cover his expenses, if you figure interest on his investment. Nor can the elevator man make a fair profit. If it had not been that we had fine weather conditions the past year, a great many bean men would have gone broke."

"The farmer ought to help the general situation by leaving his beans in the bins, the way he does wheat, until conditions, prices and demand are right for its sale. In this way he can help both himself and the elevator and can save the bean industry for Michigan."

"Beans are the cheapest article of food we have, when their food value is taken into consideration. They are altogether too cheap, and the farmers are entitled to more money. Unless they get it the bean industry will die out here. And I tell you, if we leave bean growing to the Japanese they will make us pay for them every cent they are worth."

Poor Picker.

They were discussing the raising of children at the chamber of commerce show recently and Dr. Maude Wiley, in charge of the Welfare league, told an amusing story. Seems the little girl had been spanked by her father for disobeying. With tears running down her cheeks she ran to her mother, crying, "I think papa's perfectly horrid. Was he the only man you could get?"

DEAD MICH. SOLDIERS RETURNED

MEN WHO DIED IN RUSSIA HOME FOR BURIAL

Arrived in Hoboken on St. Lake Daraga Nov. 11—Special Train to Detroit

The members of the 339th Michigan Infantry that were killed or died during the Russian campaign of the recent war have been returned to this country for burial, the St. Lake Daraga bearing the bodies of those who died arriving in New York harbor at midnight, November 11. Men from all over Michigan were among those returned and relatives of the dead soldiers gathered in Detroit to claim the bodies on arrival there.

Services were held in Hoboken upon arrival of the ship by the government, U. S. Senator Wadsworth delivering the chief eulogy to the departed heroes. Major Ralph Duff represented Governor Sleeper, and delivered the address for the state of Michigan, while the funeral services there were under the auspices of three army chaplains representing the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish faiths.

A special train was secured and brought the bodies from Hoboken to Detroit. They were met in Detroit by a guard of regular soldiers from Hoboken. They were met in Detroit by a delegation of both military and civilian representatives and were taken to the Brush street armory in Detroit.

Here the final services were held prior to turning the bodies over to the relatives of the dead. Fr. Dunigan and Chaplain Atkinson of the thirty-second division officiated at the services. At each tier was a member of the 339th, and aside from these no one was allowed in the lower part of the armory. In the balcony were the relatives of the dead soldiers.

Members of the different Michigan organizations were present, and also a body of regulars stationed at Fort Wayne. On each tier was a wreath from the 339th bearing the one inscription, "Buddie." Floral offerings from all over the city of Detroit and Michigan were given and the section of the city near Brush street armory stood with bared heads as the final "Taps" were blown in honor of the departed heroes.

REINSTATEMENT IS ALLOWED

Service Men's Insurance May Be Brought Up to Date Easily

A series of decisions issued by the Director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury provides more liberal conditions for reinstatement of lapsed or canceled insurance.

The provisions of Treasury Decision No. 47, allowing eighteen months from the date of discharge for reinstatement upon payment of only two months' premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated, are retained. The decision is liberalized, however, by a new provision that men out of service are permitted to reinstate by merely paying the two months' premiums without making a statement as to health at any time within three calendar months following the month of discharge.

After the three months following the date of discharge have elapsed, a statement from the applicant to the effect that he is in as good health as at the date of discharge or at the expiration of the grace period, whichever is the later date, will be required together with a written application for reinstatement and the tender of two months' premiums on the amount of insurance he wishes to reinstate.

In order to give all former service men whose insurance has lapsed or been cancelled, a fair chance to reinstate their insurance, including men who have been out of service eighteen months or more, and who are therefore barred from reinstatement under the former ruling, a special blanket ruling is made which allows all ex-service men to re-instate their insurance before December 31, 1919, provided that each applicant is in as good health as at date of discharge or at expiration of the grace period, whichever is the later date, and so states in his application. Of course it is necessary that he tender the two months' premiums on the amount of insurance he wishes to reinstate.

Service men who reinstated their insurance by payment of all back premiums prior to July 25, 1919, when the decision requiring payment of only two months' premiums went into effect, upon written application to the Bureau may have any premiums paid in excess of two applied toward the payment of future premiums. For example, if after a policy had lapsed for six months, a man reinstated and paid six months' premiums instead of two, he may secure credit for four months' premiums.

The provisions for reinstatement do not protect a man until he actually reinstates. If he waits he may not be in as good health as he was at the time of discharge and consequently may not be able to secure reinstatement.

Don't put off reinstatement. Do it now!

FARMERS' INCOME TAX

MUST BE MADE BY FARMERS SOON

Lack of Definite Figures Makes Filing Out of Government Blank Difficult

Many Michigan farmers are already pondering over the details of the income tax reports which they must fill out during the next few months, and many of them are finding that the job is going to be a difficult one. The man who does his bookkeeping in his head is finding that the tax report sheets call for much more fact than he has at his command.

"These reports are simple," says C. H. Graves, farm management specialist at the Michigan Agricultural College, "if the farmer has kept an account during the year and taken an annual inventory. If he has no record of his year's business, however, making the report is a difficult process.

"Rulings of the Commissioners of Internal Revenue permit farmers to report on the inventory basis, provided they keep some system of farm accounts that is accredited by the department. This is by far the easier and better method, because each year's business is reported according to actual income and not according to the cash receipts."

Simple and practical farm account books, suitable for this purpose, can be secured from the county agricultural agents in any part of the state.

HELP CELEBRATE CRYSTAL WEDDING

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Bugbee Gather on Occasion

Give us friends Though other wants may wear our lives away,

And all the hours that intervene Seem cheerless, cold and gray. We will not question aught that fortune sends

When round us press a host of kindly friends.

And a host of friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. John Bugbee at their home on Nichols street on Wednesday of last week, the occasion being the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding.

With their usual courtesy and cordiality Mr. and Mrs. Bugbee welcomed their guests and smiled at the merry jests of old friends, some of whom had known them before they committed matrimony, and most all for the fifteen years of their wedded life; and this fifteen years was the ever recurring theme of conversation.

A bounteous pot luck supper was served, after which, with appropriate ceremonies, the bride was presented with a beautiful set of crystal sherbert glasses, and as a further memento of the occasion, the signature of all the guests present was written on the card accompanying the gift.

Cloud and sunshine, sorrow and joy shared together through life, these are the ties that bind and with our friends around us, gloom is changed to joy and sorrow to happiness.

The evening was spent in a social game of five hundred by some of the guests while others indulged in palmetto, conundrums and fancy work.

As the hours sped on and the desire to rest in the arms of Morpheus overcame the enjoyment of the occasion the guests departed after wishing their hosts innumerable more years of happy married life.

GASOLINE BOAT BLOWS ASHORE

Crouched in Big Wind Storm Tuesday Night

The gasoline boat, Helen Christine, owned by Arthur Zipp and used in raising logs in Pine Lake, blew ashore Tuesday night south of the beet factory in the gale of wind that swept the city on this date.

No serious damage was done the boat and she was pulled off shore safely Wednesday morning by the tug Fisherman.

W. C. T. U. MEETING AT CAMPBELL HOME

Entertain Teachers of Schools—Also Pastors of Different Churches

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. gave a reception at the home of Mrs. P. D. Campbell on River street in honor of the superintendent, teachers and school board; also the ministers of the different churches.

The following program, which was planned by Mrs. S. J. Alcox, was successfully carried out under the leadership of Mrs. E. E. Cross.

Crusade Psalm, Mrs. P. D. Campbell.

The Crusade and W. C. T. U., Mrs. S. J. Alcox.

Victory Song, Dr. Frank Wilkinson.

Sketch of Francis Willard's early life, Mrs. E. A. Stewart.

Declaration of Principles, Mrs. John Burns.

Demonstration of Department Work, Ladies of W. C. T. U.

Temperance in Public Schools, Mrs. Saltonstall.

At the close of the program Mrs. R. B. Armstrong spoke of the W. C. T. U. in connection with the public schools. She has been interested in the public schools for the past twenty-five years and in her estimation there has been no organization that has been of so much benefit or so willing to co-operate with the schools as the W. C. T. U.

It was of interest to many to learn that Mrs. Roxanna C. Marshall of Painesville, Ohio, mother of Mrs. B. P. Wilkinson, was a crusade member of the W. C. T. U. and an ardent suffragist.

Dainty refreshments were served to about sixty guests by Henrietta Baldwin, Helen Graves and Freds McMillan, after which the guests departed feeling that the meeting had been of much benefit to both the teachers and the Union.

BOYNE FALLS LAD ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

By Play Mate Who Thought Gun Was Not Loaded

Ford Pierson, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierson of Boyne Falls, was shot and badly wounded by a play mate Sunday afternoon, November 16th, near his home. The older boy was playing with a 22-calibre rifle which he did not know was loaded. The gun was discharged and the bullet struck the child in the shoulder, shattering the collar bone and causing an ugly looking wound.

The injured lad was taken to the Petoskey hospital where the bullet was extracted and the wound cleansed and put in as good shape as possible, and then taken back to his home in Boyne Falls.

HUNTERS CROWD UPPER MICHIGAN

NO MAN'S LAND HAS LITTLE ON UPPER PENINSULA

6,000 Hunters Cross Straits and Deer are in Danger—Women Join in Hunt

No Man's land had nothing — or very little — on the upper peninsula, according to the reports received from St. Ignace Tuesday.

Across the straits from the peaceful southern peninsula poured a motley aggregation armed to the teeth, the annual excursion of deer hunters. Only it is more than an excursion this year—it is a migration. Everyone came.

Loaded down with every conceivable accoutrement from anti-camouflage clothing to ammunition — In jugs—they arrived at the ferry. Everything was checked as baggage from cook stoves to deer hound. Trunks more than once were halted and viewed suspiciously when found to leak.

It was estimated that the total from the lower peninsula for the season would exceed 6,000. Last year only 3,504 crossed.

Nearly every camp has twice its quota and accommodations are at a premium. A conservative estimate of the number of game hunters in the upper peninsula is said to be 12,000, which includes the natives. If even a majority bag their deer, fears that there will be no hunting next year are not unlikely to be realized. There won't be any deer.

At that it isn't much more perilous for the deer than for the hunters while the present fusillade continues.

A majority of the hunters are veterans of the woods. Men seventy years old are commonly seen. Besides the veterans are many young men, some on their first hunting trip of this kind. They are more or less familiar with firearms, however, though they see little similarity between the Argonne and Luce county forests. All too many of them have made the tactical mistake of appearing in service uniforms, excellent in character, but very bad in color for this perilous hinterland.

The hunters are not all men, either, as will be protested by the women who have come. Three from Eaton county were among those to present licenses.

It will all continue, tramping, banging, perhaps even entrenching if the woods get much more crowded, until midnight, November 30th. Then must come that scrambling exodus enforced by the state rule that all game to come out of the woods must come out within forty-eight hours.

Thanksgiving Program

There will be a program and supper at the Clarke school house Wednesday afternoon of next week. The supper will be immediately after the program or about five o'clock. The proceeds are to be used for the Junior Red Cross. All are cordially invited to come.

OLD RESIDENT OF EVELINE DEAD

Henry Brock Found Dead Last Friday Morning

Henry Brock, an old resident of Eveline township, was found dead in his barn last Friday morning. It is thought that death came to him suddenly Thursday night as he was about to start his evening milking. He had the milk pail with him and from all signs fell dead from a standing position.

The deceased was born in North Cumberland county, Ontario, in 1867, and for a long time had been a resident of Eveline township, where he was well known and thought of by all of his neighbors. The cause of his death was pronounced apoplexy.

The funeral services were held from the home of Hiram Brock, Sunday, November 16th, Rev. Harold VanKirk officiating. Interment in Brookside cemetery. The deceased is survived by a brother, Hiram Brock, and a sister, Mrs. Chas. Coblenz, both of Eveline township.

$5,000 Investment to Yield $320.50

Here is a practical suggestion for a diversified investment of $5,000 among five securities, on the principle of not putting all the eggs in one basket.

From the list of issues we now hold, might be selected a railroad bond, a public utility note, two foreign government securities, and a utility bond.

Interest would range from 5½% to 7 per cent, to net $320.50 yearly. The investment would run from two year notes to 40 year bonds. All of the securities would be purchased below par value, with likelihood of increase in their market value before maturity.

Larger or smaller funds may be invested according to the same principles. Can we be of service to you?

FARMER'S TROUBLE CHART FOR GASOLINE ENGINES

Loss of Power

Ignition — Spark occurring too late; spark weak because of partial short circuit or battery becoming exhausted; dirty spark plugs; poor connections; dirty timer; poor or broken wiring in case of magneto; breaker points worn, oily, or out of adjustment; commutator brush dirty or oily.

Fuel — Mixture too lean or too rich; supply pipe partly clogged; inlet valve not opening sufficiently due to wear; water in gasoline; leaks around intake manifold.

Motor — Overheating in cylinder or bearings; gummy, inferior or insufficient oil; exhaust pipe partially clogged; governor out of adjustment; lack of compression, which may be due to worn, stuck, or broken piston rings; scored cylinder walls; leaks through and around head joints; valves sticking, worn, pitted, or not seating properly because of dirt; in cold weather engine and cooling water too cold.

Misfiring

Ignition — Weak batteries; poor connections; dirty timer; vibrator points pitted or dirty; dirty or cracked plugs; points of plug not properly spaced; make and break points not touching properly.

Fuel — Mixture too lean or too rich; gasoline passage partly clogged; water in gasoline.

Motor — Lack of compression; valves sticky or not working properly.

Pounding

Ignition — Spark too early.

Motor — Red-hot carbon deposit in cylinder; loose bearings; tight piston, due to lack of oil or lack of cooling water; hot bearings; loose fly-wheel; very loose piston (piston slap).

Backfiring

Ignition — Spark too late. (If motor backfires and stops, spark may be too far advanced); short circuit on primary wire; wires to wrong plug.

Fuel — Weak mixture; occasionally too rich mixture.

Motor — Leaky or stuck intake valve; red-hot carbon deposits; leaky manifold or carburetor gasket.

Explosions in Exhaust Pipe (Often occurs just after starting due to first charges not firing in cylinder and passing through into exhaust pipe, where burning gases from first few explosions will ignite them.)

Ignition — Irregular ignition; poor spark, or very late spark.

Fuel — Mixture too lean or too rich.

Overheating

Ignition — Spark too late, or very weak.

Fuel — Mixture too rich.

Motor — Insufficient lubrication; insufficient cooling water; circulation of cooling water impeded; pump not working properly; heavy carbon deposits in cylinder; water chamber coated from impure water.

Irregular Speed

Ignition — Loose connections, or partly broken wire; vibrator points rough, pitted or improperly adjusted.

Fuel — Supply to carburetor irregular; dirt on needle valve.

Motor — Governor gummy, sticky, out of adjustment or badly worn; valves sticky.

Smoke

Black smoke in exhaust indicates too rich a mixture. Bluish smoke indicates too much lubricating oil. Smoke from the crank case or open end of cylinder indicates leak past the piston; look for worn rings, rings stuck in grooves, or scoring on cylinder walls.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU

Mice and Rabbits Kill Fruit Trees

The trunks of young orchard trees need careful protection at this season of the year against injury during the winter from mice and rabbits. Fruit tree bark furnishes such a palatable food for these small animals that serious loss is very likely to occur in orchards that are not protected.

"Trees that have been grown in sod or that have corn shocks stacked between the rows are particularly liable to injury from mice," says Prof. C. P. Halligan, head of the horticultural department at the Michigan Agricultural College. "On the other hand, trees that are in the neighborhood of thickets or brush run the same risk from rabbits."

"There is no patent point or wish that we can recommend to apply to trunks of trees to prevent such injury. Many of the materials that are often recommended are very likely to injure the bark. The most desirable protection of the trunks is given by the use of 1/4 inch mesh galvanized screen. This should be wrapped around the trunk and pressed into the ground for a depth of from 4 to 6 inches. It should extend up to the frame-work branches.

"Protection of this kind will effectively stop the animals from feeding."

Cold Brings Loss in Potato Shipping

The fact that railroad companies are not responsible for freezing loss in potato shipments after November 1, unless shipment is made in refrigerator cars, and the added fact that a shortage of refrigerator cars always makes it necessary for Michigan growers to ship in ordinary box cars, are the cause of great loss to shippers unless adequate precautions are taken, declares G. H. Coons, of the botanical department of the Michigan Agricultural College.

Michigan weather is so uncertain that it is extremely dangerous to "take a chance" on the temperature, and shippers who are unable to get hold of the proper cars should always make special preparations to prevent freezing.

"The installation of false floors, lining with heavy paper, the use of straw, etc., and the use of portable heaters are necessary protective measures which must be taken if the losses from freezing of potatoes are to be minimized when ordinary box cars are used," says Dr. Coons. "An ounce of prevention means a saving to everyone."

"The problem begins with the grower, who must guard against freezing in the field and who must cull worthless from transportable stock. It also demands that shippers prepare their cars properly to withstand extreme temperature through which they are likely to pass; and finally, the carriers must handle shipments efficiently."

Light Straw Dressing Helps Exposed Wheat

"A light top dressing of straw or strawy manure is of great value as a protection against winter killing of fall wheat," says J. F. Cox, head of the farm crops department of the Michigan Agricultural College.

Rye and new seedlings of alfalfa are also helped greatly by such protection. While the benefits are worth while on any field, they are particularly valuable on fields that are exposed badly to winds. Snow is, of course, a very effective covering for these crops, but damage when there is only a light snowfall and after

The Road—In New Overland 4 on Three-Point Cantilever Springs

YOU expect a bad road to ride as it looks. It did, until the introduction of the Overland 4 Springbase.

Overland 4 does not change the road, but it does change the manner in which you can ride on it. It gives you comfort instead of discomfort. It gives you a smooth, sailing sensation instead of bouncing and swaying.

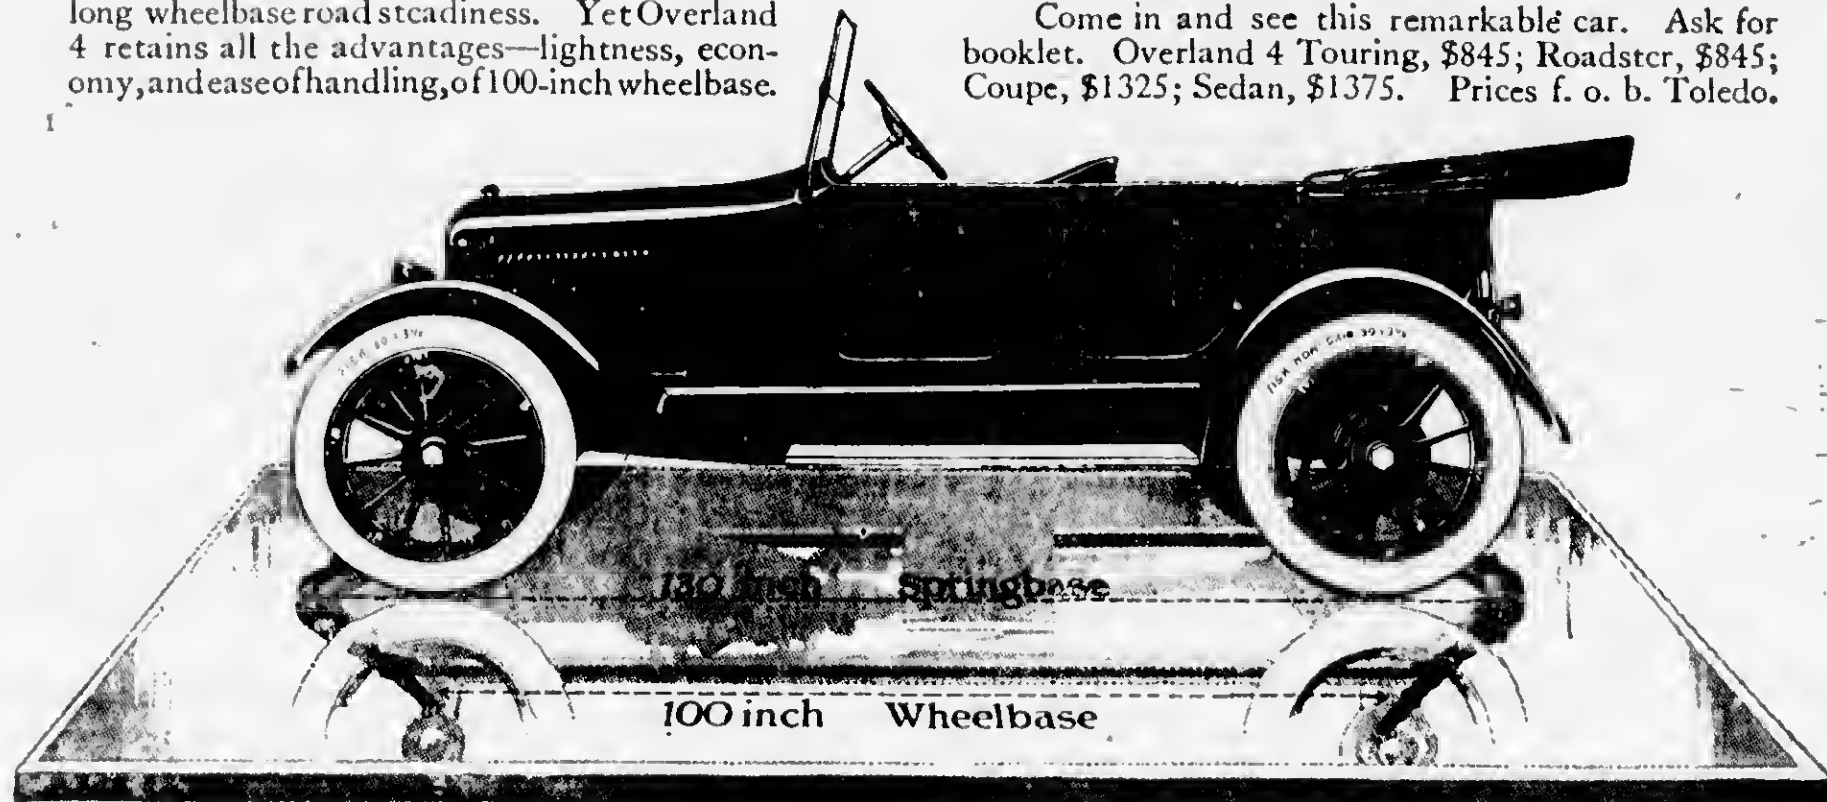

The Diagonal attachment of Three-Point Cantilever Springs at the ends of a 130-inch Springbase gives long wheelbase road steadiness. Yet Overland 4 retains all the advantages—lightness, economy, and ease of handling, of 100-inch wheelbase.

This means an altogether new standard of riding comfort, a noteworthy reduction in the wear and tear which lessens the efficiency of a car. The new springs give longer life to every part and thus minimize upkeep and replacement costs.

Tires wear longer because cushioned against hammering blows. Light weight means marked economy in gas, oil and running expense.

Overland 4's equipment is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Demountable Rims.

CLEAR THE TRACK!

The brutal Boches were the known and acknowledged enemy of all things American and all things civilized—and, without regard to nativity, color or creed, the hand of every right-thinking citizen of the United States was turned against them.

But when The American Legion met a German attack, it had a chance to fight back.

When, on parade in Centralia, (Washington), it was shot from an anarchist ambush, it had no chance whatever.

By just that much the American Bolshevik is worse than the European Boche; and if the Boche was universally accepted as a universal enemy, just that much more is the American Bolshevik an execrable menace to every decent thing in life and liberty.

The horrible "Armistice Day" tragedy—assassination successfully aimed at the boys who made the preservation of America possible—is the climax. It is the utmost possible example of the danger lurking in every phase and every phase of that red radicalism which wants to Russinize our Republic. Surely nothing further need be exhibited to convince the most tolerant, the most philosophical and the most timid among us that the big job ahead of the people of the United States right now is to clear the track for keeps of every agitator—whether of the rampant or the parlor variety—who by preaching or by practice is an enemy to established American institutions and American Government.

The campaign cannot be too drastic. Distinction must not be too nice. The apostle of discontent is often cunning—stealing the livery of Heaven to serve the devil in. Ninety-nine per cent of the people do not have to submit to exposure to the plagues proposed by a lonesome, filthy minority. The agencies of Government have a job on hand that calls for action—some of that same "direct action" which the anarchist loves to propose against the other fellow. Better ten thousand deportations—and, if necessary, firing squads—than that even so much as one American Veteran of the World War should be shot in the back by murderers whose real aim is for the heart of Columbia!

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

At the morning service at 10:30 a. m., November 22, the minister will speak from the theme "Programs, or Programs?" It is the aim of the morning service to clarify the aims of right thinking people in the present crisis. We cordially invite you to share our fellowship and service, if you have no other church affiliations.

The Cecilians, under the direction of Miss Bement, will meet at the usual hour on Wednesday evening.

At the mid-week class in Religious Education, the minister will present the work of Luke in relation to other early thinkers.

The class will meet in the church parlors at 7:30 p. m. We need the stimulation of your presence, and you need what, in continental terms, is called "mutual aid."

The Woman's Missionary society will meet Friday at 2:30 p. m., with Mrs. A. E. Mason. The topic will be "Mexico." Mrs. Geiken will lead. Mrs. Carey will have charge of devotionals. The deaconesses will meet at Mrs. Mason's on Friday afternoon at the immediate close of the Missionary society.

The Sunday evening lecture hour will be given over to a musicale. There will be no admission fee. The public is most cordially invited. The program may be found in another column.

The annual Thanksgiving service will be held on Thursday evening, November 27th, at 7:00 p. m. Rev. Rice of the Baptist church will be the speaker at this union service.

"If after kirk ye bide a wee
There's some would like to speak wi' ye.

If after kirk ye rise and flee,
We'll all seem cold and stiff to ye.
The one that's in the seat wi' ye
Is stranger here than you may be.
All here have to go their fears and cares—

Add you your soul unto our prayers,
Be you our angel unawares."

The Proof That Charlevoix Readers Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. R. M. Mekeel, 214 Mason St., Charlevoix, says: "I suffered for several months with kidney trouble. I was bloated quite badly and had a weak lame back. Doan's Kidney pills, procured from Meekal's Drug Store, brought relief."

FIVE YEARS LATER Mrs. Mekeel said: "All I have said in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills holds good today. Doan's completely cured me of kidney trouble and the cure has lasted."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Mekeel had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

MICH. TRANSIT COMPANY DIVIDENDS

Payments Have Started to Those Having Stock

Those who wisely purchased and paid for stock in the Michigan Transit Company, are rejoicing at this time. The company recently declared an annual dividend amounting to ten per cent on the common stock and seven per cent on the preferred. The payments are being made semi-annually, the first becoming due on January first and the second on July 1, 1920.

Checks covering the January dividends have already arrived and it is this premature payment that is causing the rejoicing.

Eyeglasses.

The suggestion of the use of lenses for the cure of eye defects was made by Roger Bacon, the great scientist of the thirteenth century. The making of the spectacles was carried out by Italians. Physicians of those days, however, did not know the true theory upon which they were based.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

During the recent fierce wind-storm the water in Little Traverse bay raised several feet, causing considerable damage to small boats along the shore and washing away considerable property. Local boat owners report considerable loss. It is believed the water raised between three and four feet.

Lighthouse Keeper Erickson reports having received instructions to close the Petoskey lighthouse December fifth for the winter season.—Petoskey Evening News.

With his jackknife Lyman Cater, eighteen, step-son of ex-Sheriff James Wilkins, at Ludington, carved his way out of the Ludington jail by cutting a hole in the ceiling of the cell in which he was confined. Having resided in the jail during his father's term of office he knew of a trap door in the roof of the attic. Reaching the attic by the use of the jackknife he got to the trap door and escaped by scaling the slate roof and stone wall of the jail. He was held awaiting arraignment on a charge of stealing an automobile tire. Officers are on his trail.—Petoskey Evening News.

William Green, of Bellaire, was badly cut to pieces late last Wednesday afternoon when he was run down by the afternoon Pere Marquette passenger train north bound to Petoskey. The accident happened on the curve about a mile south of Bellaire during a blinding snow storm. The man was walking along the tracks and because of the hard storm did not hear the train approaching from around the curve. The snow prevented the train crew from seeing the man until the engine was about to strike him. Mr. Green was about thirty-seven years old and single.—Charlevoix County Herald.

Jacob Young, of Munro township, Cheboygan county, whose farm home is just east of Brutus, was instantly killed Saturday, November 15th, when he was struck by a falling tree and his head crushed.

The man was working alone in the woods felling trees when the accident happened. A son, Coleman Young, is teacher of the Burt Lake school.—Petoskey Evening News.

Grant Harrison, lumber inspector for this district, received word yesterday that the steamer J. J. Nessen, belonging to J. O. Nessen, has run on a reef in Georgian bay while enroute to Harbor Springs for a cargo of lumber at the Crowl Lumber company docks.

The J. J. Nessen has made many visits to Little Traverse bay for lumber, having been in the lumber trade for years. The boat was running light. Just how badly she was damaged has not been learned, but in as much as Georgian bay has been swept by a fierce gale for several days boatmen here believe the ship may have been pounded to pieces.

It is believed another ship will be sent to Harbor Springs for the cargo of lumber.—Petoskey Evening News.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

What the County Normal Does. The county normal school offers a course of training for teachers which extends over one school year. It gives thorough instruction in the common branches and in professional studies. It prepares the student to teach a rural school efficiently. In order to do this the county normal maintains a school room in which the students are required to do practice teaching. The training in actual teaching given to beginners by the county normal is not surpassed anywhere.

Miss Stewart called at the normal rooms Thursday afternoon.

At the county teachers' institute in Boyne City, a county normal alumnae breakfast will be held in the banquet room of the Hotel Waverline, Friday, November 21. There will be a short program of tonets and music.

The normal rooms are open to visitors. Please come.

Moved by Ald. Levinson, seconded by Ald. Wood, that the tax return of the July Tax Roll be accepted and referred to the City Assessor to be spread on the December roll. Motion carried by following Aye and Nay vote: Ayes: Ald. Geniet, Levinson, Washburn and Wood. Nays: none.

Moved by Ald. Wood, seconded by Ald. Geniet, that the council adjourn. ARCHIE LIVINGSTON, City Clerk.

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGE SALE,

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Harriet Gensman, widow of Edward Gensman, to W. S. Davis, which mortgage dated November 18, 1910, and recorded in Register of Deeds office, Charlevoix county, Mich., in Liber 40 of mortgages, on page 60, and was assigned December 24, 1910, by W. S. Davis to John H. Dietz, assignment recorded in said register office in Liber 34 of mortgages, at page 523, and was later assigned by said John H. Dietz to the trustees of Aerie Number 1583, Fraternal Order of Eagles, of Boyne City, Mich., assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 34 of mortgages, at page 536, and was again assigned by C. C. Burnett, John H. Parker and Sabin Hooper, trustees of Aerie No. 1583, Fraternal Order of Eagles, of Boyne City, Mich., to Chester A. Hamer of Marion, Mich., assignment recorded in said register's office in Liber 53 of mortgages, at page 413, on which mortgage there is due at the date of this notice for principal and interest three hundred fifty-two and twenty-six one hundredths dollars ($352.26), and in addition thereto the sum of two hundred ninety-eight and sixty-six one hundredths dollars ($298.66) for taxes paid by said mortgagee, for which a lien is provided for in said mortgage, and an attorney fee of $15.00 provided for in said mortgage, and default having also been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Harriet Gensman to Chester A. Hamer, which mortgage dates September 11, 1911, and is recorded in the register of deeds office for Charlevoix county, Mich., in Liber 48 of mortgages at page 427, on which mortgage there is due at the date of this notice for principal and interest ninety-six and fifty-one hundredths dollars ($96.51), and an attorney fee of $15.00, provided for in said mortgage, both of said above described mortgages are now owned by the said Chester A. Hamer, and the total amount now due on both is $777.43, and no suit at law or proceedings in equity having been instituted to recover on either or any of said mortgages, the amount claimed due thereon or any part thereof, and the power of sale having become operative, now therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale provided for in said mortgage, and in pursuance of the statute in such cases made and provided, said mortgages will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described, at public auction to the highest bidder, at the front door of the court house, at Charlevoix, Mich., in said county of Charlevoix, on the 1st day of December, 1919, at one o'clock in the afternoon, the premises described in each of said mortgages is the same, to-wit: Lot forty-seven (47), in block C, in South Boyne addition now a part of Boyne City, Charlevoix County, Michigan.

LETTER FROM FORMER RESIDENT

Henry Brown Now Located in Long Beach, California

The following letter was recently received from Henry Brown, a former Banks township citizen, now a resident of Long Beach, California, written to G. C. Townsend:

Long Beach, Calif., Oct. 29, 1919.

Mr. G. C. Townsend, Ellsworth, Mich.

Dear Friend:

I thought I would drop you a few lines and let you know that we are all fine and trust you are all the same. My sister (Ida) and her husband have moved onto a ranch in Tulare county, about 40 or 50 miles north of Bakersfield. I am still working in town, but will take a day off and look around this coming winter.

It is a busy town. The building permits this year to date are over $5,000,000, the greatest in the history of Long Beach; pretty good showing for a city of 45,000.

The summer tourist has been gone about six or eight weeks and the winter ones from the northwest states and Canada are coming in to take his place.

There are 500 or 600 real estate dealers in this town, so a new comer can soon find what he wants. But for a person without money I would say stay away. Everything is high, but rent the highest of all. A house like the one we had on the farm would command $75 or $100 per month. Groceries are fully as low as in Ellsworth, but eggs are 80 to 85 cents per dozen, butter 75 cents per pound, potatoes 3 1/2 to 4 cents per pound, apples $1.75 to $2.25 per box. So you can see it takes a fat pocket book to meet the bills.

The weather is nice and sunny nearly every day but the nights are cool and the smudge pots are on every night in the orange groves. We can see the snow on the Sierra Madre mountains about forty miles away. We see the snow on the 26th for the first time and it will probably be gone again in a couple of weeks.

I had two rainy spells this season so far. The first one was the last three days of September, and we had a couple of rainy days last week.

I must close, so will say hello to all the Ellsworth folks.

Trusting to hear from you soon, I am

Your friend,
Henry E. Brown,

Farm Wagons at Cost Price

Hard to believe, isn't it. And you know as well as we do that prices are advancing all the time. But it is a fact, nevertheless. We have a number of JOHN DEERE AND WEBER FARM WAGONS that we will sell for less than they would cost us if we bought them on the open market today. Our reason for selling is that our money is tied up in them and we do not want to carry them over until spring. Buy now at the prices we are offering. You need a wagon—we need money—both of us will profit in the deal.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

Spanking Number Two

In old days great capitalistic interest assumed to run, manage and manipulate political affairs in town, city, county and state, and there was a popular impression that Washington was their lead-pipe snitch. This condition gave birth to insurgents in the Republican party, and "progressives" in both the Republican and Democratic parties, and there also appeared a lot of Socialists, and other radicals, all of whom had been running throughout the land, doing considerable good (and harm) through their various activities. The net result of all these changes in the public temper has been that popular government has never prospered more in the United States than during the past ten or fifteen years. The voters of the country literally took the capitalistic interests across their knees and paddled them good; and the intelligent observer must agree that the operation was a fine thing for the country.

The wage-earners of the country looked on at this performance and applauded heartily. When the chastisement commenced a few clever labor leaders started in to build up a great organization, and under the masterful leadership of Samuel Gompers they finally placed themselves in the saddle during the period of war excitement. American labor stood squarely back of the Government and was loyal to the core. It registered 100 per cent in helping to win the war.

Meanwhile while fighting for Democracy in Europe the conviction settled itself upon our nation that there should be a more equal distribution of it among the laboring men in the United States. A few labor leaders mistaking the desire of the nation to work out intelligent reforms in the industrial situation, thought that their individual leadership was getting all the applause, and in the cocksureness that they were "it" they came forward and defiantly threatened everybody and everything that stood in their path-way. The Railroad Brotherhoods were before congress and boldly threatened to "tie up the railroads so they never will run again" unless their legislative schemes (which Congress believes to be wholly visionary and unsound) were passed. The police of many cities, including those in the National Capital, became troublesome owing to their affiliation with the American Federation of Labor; and a brave Governor in the old Bay State handled the Boston situation in a way that was later overwhelmingly approved by the voters of Massachusetts.

In the hope of finding a better method than strikes and lockouts the president of the United States assembled the representatives of capital and labor in an Industrial Conference in Washington, and at a critical time in the proceedings President Wilson sent a message from his sick room appealing to the delegates to stick to the task and bring about a plan upon which employers and employees could operate the industries of the country without strikes, lockouts and other disturbances. Samuel Gompers and his group of labor leaders threw defiance to the president, to the Conference and to the nation, and bolted; with the result that the proceedings came to a close. The steel strike was at its height, and the only prospect for betterment of the condition of the wage-earners in that industry laid in the Conference itself. Next came the coal strike, and the Government again patiently counseled against it, and offered every facility to secure justice for disputants. The leaders of the strike defied the government and Mr. Gompers proved to be the worst hornet of all. This was the Samuel Gompers who has been pointed out as the "sane leader" and the "great patriot."

What happened is too well known to need retelling, and whether or not the Attorney General was justified in invoking "government by injunction" need not be discussed here. The final result is the more important, and the only conclusion is that the labor leaders blundered on, to their own undoing.

The labor leaders got the same treatment that was administered to autocratic capitalists years ago. It was Spanking Number Two. And they got it for the same reason that it was inflicted earlier in our history upon the capital. Autocracy of class is not "at home" in America.

Now perhaps since capital and labor have been brought to realize that they are not as big as the government of the United States, a little common sense may be injected into the struggle between these classes. Defiance of the United States government always has, and always will fail. A number of southern states tried it in the early sixties and found out their mistake. Eugene V. Debs tried it when he led the Pullman car strike in 1894, and even though he was backed by Governor Altgeld of the great state of Illinois, Grover Cleveland as president of the United States, gave a practical demonstration of federal power that should have been an object lesson to the strike leaders and champions in 1919, not to heap too many indignities upon Uncle Sam.

There are great object lessons to be deducted from recent events, since they have served to demonstrate that capital and labor have failed in settling the differences that exist between them.

Both of them played the "naughty boy" act until their patient old Uncle Sam lost his temper and gave them their deserved spankings. It now remains to be seen whether the Government itself, having demonstrated its power, and convinced sceptical people, that it, as the supreme Government of all the country, is bigger than any one class, or two classes, or group of classes, will find an intelligent way to put an end to the foolish strikes and lockouts that distress the country, and substitute therefor a sort of League of Industry to settle the problems of employers and employees; for strikes and lockouts, like those which have thrown between one and two million workmen out of employment during recent weeks, are nothing more than the militaristic notion that the world is trying to supplant with peaceful and constitutional methods.

Coal Miners Have Grievances

The coal miners have, without question, good grounds for complaint against their employers, since the conditions in the coal regions do not properly take into account the rights of the workmen. The popular impression that the miners are striking for a shorter day is wrong; since their contention is to provide steady employment instead of sudden shutdowns, which the operators order whenever the demand for coal slackens. This is one of the burdens that the miners do not believe they should be called upon to bear. Despite all sorts of denials it has come generally to be believed that the operators manipulate coal prices by juggling the supply, and this belief is borne out by voluminous figures and tables introduced into the congressional record by Senator Owen. The coal miners and the public are always the sufferer; and the miners want an end put to the practice of keeping them in needless idleness for long periods at a time. The Government recognizes that it has a solemn duty to perform in the coal regions, and if conditions are as they appear at this writing it is probable that even in the coal mines there will be beneficial effects from an era of "house-cleaning." The coal mining crisis appears to be clearing the atmosphere for better understandings between employers and employees, and if the labor leaders have thoroughly learned their lesson real progress in bettering the industrial situation may be expected.

"Rounding Up The Reds"

The usual periodical announcement that the "reds" of the country are becoming bold, and that they will be rounded up by the department of Justice; followed a few days later by the news that some one—usually nameless, has been taken into custody, has greeted all newspaper readers, who have found the story in detail under glaring headlines on the "first page." With sighs of satisfaction because they have been saved from being murdered in their beds, the citizens of the country turn to speculating as to when all the "Bolshevism" and unrest will be over. For who can help believing it exists when Attorney General and Samuel Gompers, who don't agree on anything else under the sun, are in perfect harmony when it comes to entertaining the ghost that has been scaring people, every now and then. Men while Col. Arthur Woods, formerly Assistant in the Secretary of War, has resigned his post of providing employment for returned soldiers because the normal per cent of these men are back to work as usual. At open season for "rounding up the" throughout the country find little call for their services, and court records show an abnormal per cent of lawlessness. It would seem that the open season for rounding up the "reds" is about expired.

AT THE MOVIES

Local theatre patrons will be given the first opportunity they ever had to see an authentic reproduction of the modern slave markets and harems of Turkey during the presentation, starting Tuesday, December 9, at the Palace Theatre, of "Auction of Souls," the sensational picturization of the amazing experiences of Aurora Mardiganian, sole survivor of 600,000 young Christian girls taken captive by the Turks when they ravished Armenia in 1915.

Up to the present time all film and stage versions of Eastern harem and slave market scenes—even those produced by the greatest directors—sought their inspiration from the stories of the Arabian Nights and from paintings which reproduced the harems and slave markets of a thousand years ago, and which are not true to the life in the twentieth century.

In "Auction of Souls," the producers have broken with tradition and in stage setting, costume and action, have reproduced not a conventional Arabian Night slave market and harem scene, but have taken as their models these places as they actually exist today or did exist before the British entered Constantinople.

Aurora Mardiganian, the beautiful seventeen-year-old Christian Armenian girl, around whose adventures the scenario is woven and who herself enacts the leading part in the film, was sold as a slave in one of these modern Turkish markets and was later a prisoner in a Turkish harem.

From her own personal experiences, and from the authentic reports from officials of the American and British Governments who have seen these things, the scenes have been reconstructed. The Armenian girls, like the Circassian and the Georgian, are much more refined and beautiful than the native Turkish girls, and when the Armenian massacres were renewed in 1916 the Turks made them a pretext for seizing the most beautiful daughters of the Armenian families and forcing them into their harems. Those whom the officials and officers did not keep for their harems they allowed to be sold in the slave markets. Thus it happened that hundreds of these unhappy girls were stood up naked and sold to the highest bidder, and in many instances there were so many of them, and human life was so cheap, that the price which a girl brought was even less than a single American dollar. Aurora Mardiganian herself was sold in one of these markets for 85 cents. "Auction of Souls," is not merely a story of slave and harem life in the East. These things are merely incidents. It is a tremendous and dramatic picture of the martyrdom of the entire Armenian nation, through which runs the thread of the personal experiences of the beautiful little seventeen-year-old girl who was finally rescued from her captors and brought to America.

Thousands of Newspapers Will Go
Out of Business Unless Relief
Is Found

For several years the publishers of weeklies and the smaller dailies have from time to time been warned of an approaching shortage in news print, but it is only within the last two years that they have really begun to realize the truth of these warnings. Two years ago, when news print advanced from two cents a pound or less to four and five cents, publishers began to wonder how they could pay their bills and make a living. Reluctantly and much against their wishes, weeklies as well as dailies, were forced to advance their subscription rates.

Most dailies have doubled these rates, some have even made them three times what they were. Weeklies however advanced about 50 per cent. When this was done, many thought it would be but temporarily. That when the war was over conditions and prices would again become normal. Not only have all who thought this been seriously disappointed, but publishers of all kinds of newspapers have seen the cost of production increase by leaps and bounds. Several causes have brought about this condition.

The price of print paper which was selling last spring for a little over four cents to weeklies and small dailies has now advanced to six cents and more. A month ago users of sheet print were paying six and a half at the mill in car load lots. And today no jobber of news print will make any contract for future delivery or guarantee any definite price. They will only agree to get the paper if they can at the going price then, whenever and wherever it is. It may be seven cents a pound or even ten or twelve cents, if it can be had at all. In other words it will cost the Courier or any other weekly or small daily from three to six times as much for the white paper on which it is printed, as it cost two or three years ago.

We have carefully distinguished in this article between the large dailies and the smaller dailies and weeklies. The reason is this. Some of the big dailies, like the Chicago Tribune, own their own mills, while in all cases they are able to contract for large quantities of print. This deprives the smaller papers of an equal chance as the big papers hog the whole output which they can get hold of, leaving the smaller papers to pay much higher prices and get along the best they can or not at all.

Yet even the big papers have their troubles, for a big Chicago daily has recently been reported as offering ten cents a pound for 1,000 tons of print paper and could not get a contract. A New York paper is reported to have offered as high as thirteen cents without success.

An investigation of causes shows according to the federal coal commission that there has been an increase of thirty per cent in production of news print within the last year. In other words the production is twenty-four per cent short of the consumption so that there is an evident shortage of print paper. Whether this shortage is due, as the paper makers claim to a lack of paper stock, i. e. spruce and hemlock which are the only successful news print basic materials, or to a combination of paper makers in cut down the production, increase prices and accumulate big fortunes out of the misfortunes of the publishers is of little practical moment. The great fact stares every publisher in the face, that he must increase his revenues or go out of business.

Nor is the enormously increased cost of print paper the only source of increased cost. The element of labor which is the most important single item going into the production of a newspaper has nearly doubled in cost, while machinery, type, repairs and all the incidental expenses have undergone a like increase.

So far as a newspaper is concerned, there are but two sources of revenue, the subscription and the advertising. Of these the subscription, while it is necessary, especially in the small daily or weekly, is by no means the most important. In other words no newspaper can live without a subscription list, nor can it live without advertising.

The present situation, as we said, calls for more revenue. One of these sources has been used, so it seems to most weekly publishers, to as great an extent as is now advisable when the subscription rate was increased fifty per cent. Some have increased their advertising rates ten to twenty-five per cent, but in few instances has the increase either in weeklies or smaller dailies kept pace either with the increase of subscription rates or of expenses. So it all simmers down to this, advertisers in weeklies as well as dailies must help to bear the increased expenses of the white paper and labor on these publications or the small town weekly and all but the largest dailies must close up shop thus leaving these towns still more at the mercy of the big city dailies and the big stores. Cut off the means of publicity and the unifying influence of the small city and village papers and you soon destroy the town itself.

But one way, then, seems to be open, and that is the way already taken by many papers both daily and weekly, a substantial increase in advertising rates.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT CENTRAL LAKE

Mrs. John Grafmiller Killed by Pere
Marquette Train

Another fatal accident occurred Thursday afternoon at the crossing at the Central Lake station making a total of three killed in the same place in the past few months.

The gorth-bound Pere Marquette train struck a Dodge car driven by Mr. and Mrs. John Grafmiller of Central Lake, instantly killing Mrs. Grafmiller and injuring Mr. Grafmiller. The car was a total wreck. The Grafmiller's were driving through the village and as they crossed the track their car stalled directly in front of the oncoming train. The locomotive struck the car squarely in the middle and carried it for considerable distance. Mr. Grafmiller remained in the car until the train stopped but in some manner Mrs. Grafmiller was thrown out and under the cars.

The body was badly mangled by the trucks of the cars that passed over it. The woman was thirty-nine years of age well known in Central Lake and vicinity.

BUT TWO FATAL HUNTING ACCIDENTS

Father Mistakes His Son for Deer and Kills Him

According to authorities stationed at Mackinaw City, there has been two fatal accidents during the hunting season, up to and including November 21. One hunter was carrying his deer on his shoulder when shot by a companion who supposed he was shooting at a live animal. The wounded man walked a mile and a half to camp, rode twelve miles in a wagon to Munising and later died while being operated on. The shot pierced the deer he was carrying and resulted fatally to himself. The other fatality occurred at Allston, where father and son were in the woods with a light in the evening, the father mistaking the son for a deer and shooting him dead upon the spot. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and no warrants were issued.

PETOSKEY WOMAN KILLED BY AUTO

Struck by Car While Trying to Cross
the Street

Mrs. David Benyas of Petoskey was killed late Saturday afternoon by being struck by an automobile driven by Clifford Willis of Petoskey, while she was attempting to cross Howard street, near the G. R. & I. freight depot. The woman was knocked down and the ribs on her left side crushed. Her skull was also fractured. She lived about two hours after the accident but did not recover consciousness.

An inquest was held Monday in the case of Mrs. Benyas and the coroner's jury returned a verdict that Mrs. Benyas met death in an unavoidable auto accident, and that in the opinion of the jury all persons should be exonerated of any blame in the affair.

NATIONAL GRANGE STRONG STAND

ENDORSE RIGHT OF SENATE TO STAND BY PROHIBITION

Oppose Government Ownership and Express Dissatisfaction With Its Trials

The hope of America is in the stalwart sons of toil represented in the National Grange which has just closed its sessions at Grand Rapids. On four great questions the national grange has spoken in no uncertain terms.

First, it showed its common sense by refusing to be represented in the labor conference to which Sam Gompers wanted them to tie up. They realized that their interests are not at all identical with those of the gang of foreigners and agitators who have seized control of the A. F. L. and propose to run the government or ruin it.

Second, the farmers have shown their patriotism and sound sense on the question of the League of Nations by the passage of the following resolutions endorsing the right of the Senate.

"First, the establishment of a League of Nations;
"Second, that we support the right of the United States senate to carefully analyze the treaty and League of Nations now before it and, if, in its judgment, the welfare of our nation demands it, to insist upon such reservations or amendments as may be needed;
"Third, that we insist that this great question is not partisan, but a United States problem, and urge the senate of the United States to confine itself to the merits of the question."

Third, the farms have again proven their clear title to the love and respect of the nation by the passage of this;

In the report of the committee on temperance, headed by L. J. Taber, the convention is warned that evils die hard and that as the grange had a large part in joining the adoption of the eighteenth amendment, it also has a share of the responsibility of seeing that the law is enforced. The report recommends that the enactment of the amendment be commemorated each year; that members of congress be lauded for their prompt repassage of the bill over the president's veto; that each state grange work for state enforcement of the act, and that citizens in general be urged to give their support only to men who pledge themselves to adhere to the amendment.

Fourth, they have again shown their sanity and patriotic conservatism as shown by the address of Prof. Rich of Harvard University on Railroad Transportation.

"I can heartily agree with the historic stand that the grange has taken for private ownership of public utilities, and especially in regard to government ownership of the railroads," said Prof. Rich. "If you will but consider the facts that have developed during the present regime in Massachusetts you will plainly see the reasons for my adoption of the view you take. Government manipulation of railroads in that state has been inefficient. The service has been poor and the funds have been handled in a wasteful manner."

Mr. Rich condemned the Plumb plan for operating railroads and intimated that the proposed plan as outlined in the Cummings bill should appeal to grangers, as its main features coincide with the ideals as set forth by the grange. A system whereby rich railroads should contribute to the making up the deficits of the poor roads was recommended by Prof. Rich.

KALKASKA BOY SHOT TO DEATH

Died Last Thursday Noon at Petoskey Hospital

Harold Downs, age sixteen, of Kalkaska, died at Petoskey hospital shortly after noon last Thursday from a gun shot wound in his left shoulder. The lad was wounded Wednesday with a shotgun and his shoulder nearly torn off. Just how the accident happened is not known as the lad was too weak to talk when he reached the doctor's office at East Jordan. He was at once taken to Petoskey by auto but died from loss of blood.

Game Warden J. B. Smith at Kalkaska reports that the boy secured a hunting license there and reported he was going hunting and trapping near Alba. The next heard from him was when he walked into Alba alone and badly wounded and boarded a train for East Jordan, saying he was going to a physician.

The lad's mother, Mrs. Martha Downs, is working in Flint and has been notified of her son's death.

COMMITTEE STILL HARD AT WORK

Charlevoix May Yet Land Fine New Industry

In the issue of the Courier published November 12th, there was an article as to a new industry for Charlevoix. At the time that the article was published the stage appeared to be all set for the entrance of this new enterprise into the community. In fact nearly everyone thought so, as many things go to indicate, but under close scrutiny by those about to become interested in the new factory it was decided that this type of industry was not exactly what Charlevoix wanted, thus the hopes of the founding of a woodenware factory died as suddenly as they originated.

The committee, however, who is endeavoring to bring an industry of some sort to this city, is busily at work and without a doubt the first good solid proposition that presents itself will be grabbed off at once.

As to the support of the town people, there is no doubt, as was proven in the past two weeks. That Charlevoix will support a good substantial enterprise is now a known fact, and such an organization delivering the goods would receive the hearty support of the entire district.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

"Christ Laws of Life: Righteousness," will be the subject of Rev. Henry Candler's sermon next Sunday morning. The church choir, which has been rendering such excellent music, will present several fine numbers.

Regular choir practice on every Thursday evening following the prayer service.

At a meeting of the officers of the Epworth League a new set of officers were nominated with Earl Shapton as president.

The Sunday school board which convened at the parsonage voted to have a Christmas banquet during holiday week for all members of the Sunday school. Christmas decorations will be used and a program presented.

Dr. R. J. Slee, the new district superintendent, will be in Charlevoix to preside over the first quarterly conference the 9th of December.

The new conference minutes have arrived. Several classes were entertained last week by the various teachers. The attendance at the Sunday school has been steadily increasing for some time.

Rev. Candler attended a group meeting of ministers at Bellaire last Monday. At this meeting arrangements were made for special evangelistic services to be held in the various Methodist churches in this section.

BLANKS FOR AUTO PERMITS

MOTORISTS GET PLATES AFTER
DECEMBER 1

Branch Stations Established Doing Away With Waiting Arrival of Plates from Lansing

Application blanks and other necessary literature has arrived at the branch office of the secretary of state at Petoskey. This branch office has been established to do away with the long wait that formerly had to be gone through with when applying for auto licenses at Lansing. The auto plate can be obtained from the branch office after the first of December.

This will be a great convenience to motorists, who will thus be able to secure their plates upon application, without the trouble of sending to Lansing headquarters and waiting days, sometimes weeks, for the same.

In the main, the application blanks are exactly like those of last year. The one important change is the increase that has been made in the cost of licenses. Heretofore, motorists have been taxed twenty-five cents per horse power and twenty-five cents per hundredweight was computed. This year, the cost per hundredweight has been increased to thirty-five cents, while fractions of a hundred pounds are not considered. It is an easy matter through use of application blanks, to figure out the amount of the tax. The horse power is figured on the number and diameter of the cylinders, through the use of a computing table. For example, in figuring the cost of license for a certain car, this method is followed:

Number of cylinders, four; diameter of cylinders, 3 1/2; horse power, 22 1/2; weight, 1500 pounds. The department computes as follows: 22 horse power at 25 cents per horse power, $5.50; 1,500 pounds at 35 cents per hundredweight, $5.25. Total, $10.75. This is approximately the tax that will be required for Ford licenses.

ROCK PRODUCT CO. SOLD UNDER HAMMER

Sale Closes Litigation Covering Period of Several Years

Tuesday forenoon at eleven o'clock at the court house the Charlevoix Rock Product Co., known in almost every state in the union and a concern that will be remembered by hundreds interested financially, was sold under the hammer for $95,000 besides other indebtedness and liabilities to be taken over by the purchaser.

An Infant War Industry

How the Ordnance Bureau of the War Department broke all speed records in the building of a young city and created probably the largest plant in the world to manufacture ammonium nitrate from the air, has been proving most interesting to Congressmen in Washington, who have been holding a sort of post mortem on war efforts trying to determine how big government undertakings created for defense, may be best turned into peace time industry. All the world knew of Hopewell, Virginia, as a city of 25,000 people, built by the Dupont's in 1914, to manufacture explosives; but the lid of secrecy was so carefully calked that the building of another city equally large, at the instance of our own government, attracted very little attention. Just how Germany "snooped" out so many things not intended for her to know about is hard to understand; but it is certain that the enemy was astounded when it found its own fine-spun plans for surpassed by the United States, which it knew to be a novice at the game. The Germans stood paralyzed with fear as they confronted the Aladdin like methods of Uncle Sam in pouring soldiers in upon their frontier, while at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, a plant had suddenly sprung out of the earth capable of producing thirteen per cent of all the high explosives needed by the Allied armies on all the fronts in the expected drive of the following spring.

Ground was broken for a permanent plant building at Muscle Shoals on February 16, 1918, and on the twenty-sixth day of the following October, or eight months and eight days later, the wheels of manufacture started revolving in the production of ammonium nitrate. The great plant that was completed, and which stands today as a monument to American enterprise and brains, is fitted to become one of the great sources of fertilizers for the land of the United States. It is this feature of the problem as to what to do with the big plant that is appealing strongly to the Congressmen; and in their belief that it should be put in operation along these lines they are supported by every interest in the Agricultural Department of the Government that has long been looking for a solution of the farming question in the south, where fertilizers and industry are needed to complete the setting made by nature, and to turn vast idle acres into productive agricultural areas.

From explosives to fertilizers is not a very big jump in industrial expansion; and of course high explosives was the prompting reason for the Muscle Shoals project. When the United States entered the war it was providing the enemies of Germany with explosives, and with four million of our own men added to the fray it became necessary to get quick action for enormously increased production. The principal raw material for explosives was nitrate of soda, and this had to be brought from Chile, four thousand miles away. Ship bottoms were so scarce that the Allied countries and the United States decided to sweeten themselves without sugar from Java, and that was only a thousand miles farther off than Chile. But nitrate of soda had to be brought in at any cost and at any sacrifice. And after it was brought here the necessary time had to elapse to permit treating it with sulphuric acid to produce nitric acid, which is an essential of ammonium nitrate. The sulphuric acid supply was reaching its limit and new methods of "delivering the goods"—or explosives were needed. The coke ovens were doing their level best, all over the country, in producing ammonia, but even at that their capacity was only a quarter of the demand. The Ordnance Department came forward with solution of the difficulty and it showed that cyanamid, a commercial fertilizer, had for some years been successfully manufactured at Niagara Falls under a German process, which had been secured by Frank Sherman Washburn, head of the American Cyanamid Company. Muscle Shoals was selected as the most available spot in the United States to put the war industry to work. How well the plan succeeded is shown by the foregoing.

Nitrogen From the Air

phrase in the minds of newspaper readers, it is explained that cyanamid is produced by extracting nitrogen from the air and combining it with calcium obtained from limestone and carbon from coke. By additional processes cyanamid becomes the basis for creating both ammonia and nitric acid and combining them into the explosive, ammonium nitrate. Mr. Washburn of the American Cyanamid Company, made the contract with the Government for building the ammonium nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, in November, 1917.

To have general supervision of planning and carrying out the work an organization known as the Air Nitrates Corporation was formed to net as agent of the Ordnance Department. This corporation provided the general designs, supervised all the work, and operated the camp, the town and the plant. It also installed all equipment in the chemical plant. The various other sections of the work were sublet to organizations that were specialists in the directions in which they were asked to help.

It was necessary to build a new town to house the laborers. For this job Westinghouse Church Kerr Company was called in as contractor. This company also built the buildings of the chemical plant. Within four months, 12,000 workmen had been assembled and a city capable of accommodating 25,000 inhabitants had been completed with lodging, restaurants, stores, offices, police headquarters, schools, fire department, motion picture theatres, electric light and sewerage systems.

The construction of the plant proper was begun on February 16, 1918 and as was stated above, was completed just eight months and eight days later, and began a steady output of ammonium nitrate. The plant contains 113 permanent buildings with a roof area of over 26 acres.

To provide the electric current it was necessary to build a steam-power electric plant, for it would have taken three years or more to complete the dam and hydro-electric station now under way. This plant, built by the J. G. White Corporation, is one of the largest steam plants for developing electrical energy in the world.

The output of the plant is 200 tons of ammonium nitrate a day, and this can be produced at Muscle Shoals at a cost less than one-half the standard fixed price paid by the Government for ammonium nitrate produced by other methods and one-fourth to one-fifth the cost of other high explosives of equal strength. Compared with the older process of making ammonium nitrate, the savings made by this plant would have paid the $60,000,000 cost of the entire plant is about one and one-half years of operation.

As a military weapon it is one of the wisest and most economical expenditures that the Ordnance Department has undertaken. As an agent in stopping the war and as a future protection of the country, its value is incalculable.

The "Public" Rights

The wage earners and employers who have accepted the responsibility of saying that the coal contained in the bowels of Mother Earth in theirs to barter and trade in, and to use and handle in ways resulting to their own best advantages, are gradually learning that there is a third party whose name is "Public," who has a very deep interest in the condition that has brought about a decrease in production and a threatened famine of coal. The owners of the coal

Overland

With Three-Point Cantilever Springs New Overland 4 Seems to "Sail Over The Roads"

THE new Three-Point Cantilever Springs of Overland 4, by their special construction and design, protect car and passengers from ordinary road jolts. Bumping, twisting, swaying and vibrating are wonderfully lessened. The blows of the road seldom reach you. There is less tendency to bodily fatigue after long rides.

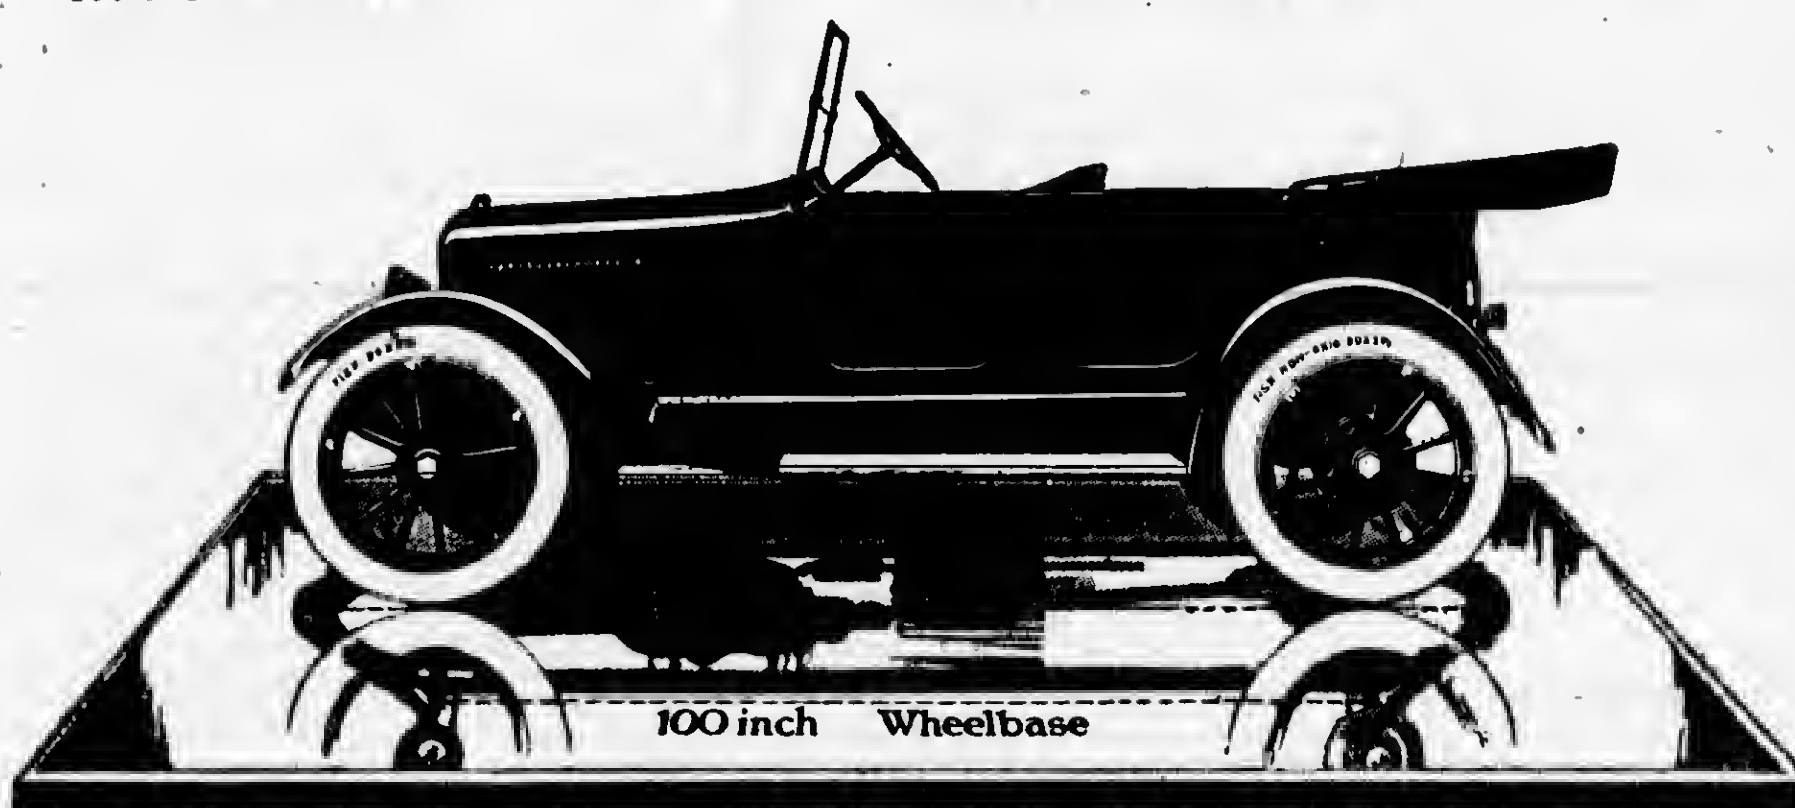

The springs of Overland 4 attached at the ends of a 130-inch Springbase give the riding comfort and road steadiness heretofore possible only with cars of long wheelbase and great weight, yet Overland 4 retains the light weight and economy advantages of 100-inch wheelbase.

Three-Point Cantilever Springs protect the car from the hammering and wear of road blows. They lengthen its life and reduce upkeep costs.

Equipment of Overland 4 is dependable and complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Tillotson Carburetor.

250,000 miles of test have made the strength and endurance of this car a matter of record.

THE WRONG KIND OF ONIONS

A Holland grocer who sold a customer mixed dry onions instead of the red variety she ordered was fined $16.15 by a Justice of the Peace. Here is a new kind of justice, natural product of the times in which we are living. And here also—in the woman who caused the grocer's arrest—is a new kind of housewife.

The right sort of merchant, of course, is always willing to exchange goods which are not satisfactory to the customer. Occasionally a housewife meets a short-sighted dealer who rather than inconvenience himself on a small order affronts her by refusing to make an exchange. The old-fashioned housewife under these circumstances usually changed dealers. She never thought of going in to court over onions, cauliflower, lard or potatoes. The courts were for larger problems. But today food is a large problem. Onions are onions these days.

There is a suggestion of comedy in the thought of a bushel of onions dumped out as evidence in a staid court room. But at present prices the housewife who gets bamboozled on a bushel of onions can see no comedy in the situation. Onions used to be sold as low as twenty-five cents a bushel. The Holland woman, who caused her grocer's arrest, paid two dollars for a bushel. She had a right to expect just what she paid for.

There's a lesson for other grocers, butchers, etc., in the affair at Holland. Probably most housewives will still refrain from calling upon the courts when their dealer sells them Ben Davis apples instead of Northern Spies or cisco when they order whitefish, but just the same housewives are likely to remember that in a pinch they can follow the example of the Holland woman.

"Birds fly on Sunday, so why shouldn't men?" said a Pennsylvania judge in acquitting an aviator charged with violating the blue laws. Birds also rob and kill each other and — what's the answer?

NORMAL NOTES.

Opportunities of the County Normal
Prospective teachers will find it to their advantage to attend the county normal school. Young people may often remain at home and receive one year of advanced training and thus avoid the extra expense to attend higher institutions of learning far away. At the county normal tuition is free.

The normal class and faculty enjoyed a bountiful Thanksgiving potluck supper Monday evening in the normal rooms. The table, beautifully spread, was decorated with appropriate place cards and yellow drapery. The evening was enjoyed by folk dances, stunts and games.

The adjective "tallest" was used in a sentence incorrectly and Miss(?) was asked to tell why it was incorrect. In doing so she said that one must find the principal parts of the verb "tall." Quite a bright student teacher. N'est ce pas?

The last message of Premier Clemenceau to the world is an appeal to it to go to work. The aged French statesman as usual goes straight to the heart of things and puts his finger on the vital point.

In spite of the fact that about half of the country seems to be trying to kill it, Time goes on.

Many thanks to whoever was kind enough to leave the manuscripts in the mail box of Mrs. Alden Chamberlain.

PRINTERS

Who They Are and What They Do

Printers deal in publicity and ink. They say their work is "the art preservative," which means it works like embalming and putting away in alcohol. Most printers chew tobacco or smoke a pipe. Others indulge in profane language on occasion and some while away the leisure hour on the banks of the Ambraw. Cub reporters smoke cigarettes, which are not furnished by patriotic ladies. Female printers are called angels, and the kid learning the trade is the printer's devil; both of them live up to all their names imply. Some printers set by hand, some manipulate the linotype, and others set by the stove and recall ancient days. Journeymen are printers who come into a town on a through freight. As soon as the train slows down to 20 miles, he jumps off, hikes to the nearest printshop and negotiates the price of a square meal. Then he comes back and helps along through the rush—maybe. The rush may mean hustling down a back alley with a can full of foam, etc. As soon as he earns enough to buy a pair of socks, he wipes the ink on his hands on the office towel, pulls his cap down over his ears and rides the bumpers to the next town.

The linotype is a wonderful machine. It was invented by Otto Mergenthaler (not an ally) who afterwards died of consumption. Many purchasers have suffered hemorrhages from consumption of raw material and supplies by the invention since then. It is a mixture of a type-writer and an old carpet loom. The engineer in charge is called an operator. He operates mostly on the payroll and upkeep column. He encumbers a chair near the floor at the front, and plays with nimble fingers on the keys when the letters "run" nicely. This kicks the m's out of bed and rolls them down stairs to the basement where they left dress till enough to make one "line of type" are in the ranks. Then the operator sets his paw on a lever and the assembled line is taken up stairs on an elevator and shoved across the hall and down on another elevator to the bathroom. Here they are given a shower bath from a pot of melted metal and then pulled out and dragged up stairs where they are hung out on the line to dry and drop, and wait the next draft.

Sometimes the operator strikes the wrong key or letter, but he never knows the difference until his wife reads it to him out of the paper. It is positively alarming the difference a missing letter or one letter in the wrong place will do to a lovely advertisement or the header for war news items. These mistakes occur, and no well regulated print shop hopes to escape them. They creep into society items, marriage notices, and editorials. They often enliven an otherwise dry and musty contribution to literature.

Some printers set their type by hand, with the wrong side up. The types are read by standing on your head and going from left to right like a Chinese laundry ticket. The reason is that a Hun named Gutenberg made the first movable type.

Gawd discovered "pi" fifteen minutes later. It is the printer's mess, but is not relished.

"Gooty" studied it all out in his head and made the letters out of wood. He met with great difficulties making a good impression. However he finally succeeded, and then died. Some have died since, who never made any kind of impression.

Printer's ink is a plastic liquid about as thick as sorghum molasses on the back porch on a zero morning. It is smeared on by a roller. Most of it found on the towel by the wash basin. It comes in different colors, and is noted for its tenacity. If you want to remove this ink from anything, just throw the mess into a red-hot furnace. There is no other way.

The type used is of different sizes from the kind used in setting up the delinquent tax list to the assortment of station letters, used on the front page for advance war news that sometimes proves false. Sale bills and road cards, used by candidates, always use the large kind.

The white space in advertisements is called furniture, plat or velvet. These terms need no explanation.

The pictures illustrating articles are called cuts. They are very helpful, if it happens they don't get in upside down.

Printers usually join several lodges, a church, band or a fire department to establish their mental poise. At odd times they serve on the school board and city council.

The printer's business is to set copy. It is none of his business where it came from nor where it is going. Nor, yet, who wrote it. Some copy is hard to decipher, especially a self-invidious notice for the front page as a news item. The waste basket is a necessity and many a literary gem has found its way to innocuous desuetude via this capacious convenience. Sometimes contributors with 1120 on the cerebellum rush into print and receive a merited rebuke from competitors whose spelling belongs to the kindergarten department. This brings loud guffaws from the readers, and the participants earn their merit tickets—Charleston (Ill.) Daily News.

SECOND NUMBER OF LYCEUM COURSE

Winters Company Here Next Monday Night, December 1st

The second number of the Lecture course being conducted by the high school will be given at the Palace Theatre, Monday, December 1st.

The Winters Company are booked to furnish the evening's entertainment and from all reports will be well worth going to see. Their program consists of musical whistling that surprises and charms, talking songs, piano solos, humorous and serious readings.

Mrs. Winters has a reputation that is nation wide for her ability to produce music by whistling and by her imitation of birds. As a concert attraction she cannot be surpassed.

Mr. Winters has earned a reputation for giving readings and character sketches that are so full of fun and laughter that they entertain all the while. His piano solos are features of the program. There is in addition to the substantial artistic attainments of the Winters Company, a note of fun and good cheer which will be greatly appreciated.

Single admissions for this number will be fifty cents. There will be no seat reservation.

The Spirit of Unrest

Reaction from the stress of war, the High Cost of Living, and the disturbed conditions in industry throughout the world have combined to lower the morale of workers in many lines.

In the factory, in the mill, the high degree of pep and enthusiasm is lacking and production lags. Even domestic service has caught the contagion, as every housewife knows.

We think the claim none too broad that employes of the Bell System have been less affected by the spirit of unrest than the majority of other workers. Yet its effects have been felt and will continue to be felt until the world begins to swing back to normal.

The telephone management is doing all in its power to remedy conditions and restore service to pre-war standards. It asks the patience and co-operation of the telephone users.

AT THE MOVIES

Armenia, during the period of the world war was subjected by the Turks to the greatest suffering in the history of the world. This superlative harbaric domination has been preserved for all time in the startling special feature attraction, "Auction of Souls," which will be presented at the Palace Theatre, Tuesday, December 9.

The brutality of Nero to the early Christians, the horrors visited during the Spanish Inquisition, the cruelties of the middle ages all are surpassed in the records of the Turkish outrages.

"Auction of Souls" first shows the Armenian people happy and contented on their hillside in the shadow of ancient Mt. Ararat. Then the Turks encouraged by the Germans, who found a technicality in that the Armenians were under Russian protection, decided upon deportation of hundreds of thousands of them.

Their homes are entered and pillaged, 1,000 of their men are incarcerated in one building, into which they have been lured with the story that they are wanted to cast a ballot, and commands are posted everywhere demanding an immediate departure for lands several hundreds of miles distant.

Young and old, weak and strong, a few of their possessions in bundles, are whipped into lines and march into the desert. Women unable to carry their crying children see the babies killed before their eyes. Men and women perish from thirst. Footsore and exhausted, the old are left to die in the torrid sun.

By night the drunken guards steal forth to seize and ravage the young girls, one of whom, Aurora Mardignian, is the heroine of the picture. After showing the horrors, which were visited upon the multitude by the Turks, the picture traces her adventures.

Separated from her lover, her parents, brothers and sisters killed, for eighteen months she is a fugitive upon the desert. Marched off with thousands, she manages to escape, and then is caught by the Kurds, the wild riders of the desert. Here she witnesses their terrible game of hurling living girls upon the swords they have placed in the desert.

She is taken to a city where she is sold in the public slave market, slightly clad, so as to attract the sensuous eyes of men. Then she becomes a member of the harem of a cruel chief, again escaping, aided by an English girl who is the companion of all her vicissitudes.

Once more in the desert she hides for months, once seeing the crucifixion of half a dozen girls who had defied the demands of the Turks. At last she comes to the English lines, whence she is sent to America. Aurora Mardignian actually passed through the experiences which she re-enacted for this sensational production. Every detail shown upon the screen is based either upon her own story or upon the report of Viscount James Bryce, the English diplomatist, who was sent to the East to investigate the Armenian situation.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Perry F. Powers, who recently laid down the editorial pen after many years of brilliant newspaper service, has been elected mayor of Cadillac without opposition. Time was, in Mr. Powers' active newspaper days, when he had as many enemies and as much opposition as any other newspaper man, and more than most members of the fraternity, for he stood boldly at the front in local option days, and like some other newspaper men drew the fire and the hostility of the liquor organization of America. As in the case of some others, the combination against him was willing to pay a good round sum for his ruin and downfall financially and in a business way. But he has seen the principles for which he unflinchingly stood prevail. Now that he has retired from newspaper work and no longer is discussing public questions in the columns of a well-read medium, his ability and virility are being appreciated and he is drafted for public service. A man's acts are looked at from a different standpoint as time passes and they become matters of history and he is weighed in the scales of justice.—Elk Rapids Progress.

The requiem of the small town newspaper is being sung. The combined high cost of living, and the piratical attitude of news print paper manufacturers and jobbers, is sending many a good, small town publication to the wall. The Empire Journal, published at Empire by Andrew Johnson, is the latest paper in the North Michigan region to suspend publication.

The village of Leland is making a move to build a dock, and apparently is doing it by selling stock. That lets a few stand the burden and a lot escape. We make the assertion without fear of successful contradiction that there is not a resort town of any consequence between Mackinaw and the Indiana line but has a dock and water communication. If we are going to develop our resort possibilities we will have to get in line with other towns and offer something for the money we expect to flow in.

Plans for the issuance early in December of forms for filing income tax returns are being made by the bureau of internal revenue. Taxpayers will thus be given the opportunity of making out their returns immediately upon the closing of their books for the year 1919, when accurate knowledge of their accounts is fresh in their minds. The normal rate of tax for 1919, provided for in the revenue act of 1918, is four per cent on the first $4,000 above the exemption, and eight per cent on the remaining net income. The tax for 1918 was six and twelve per cent respectively. The surtax rates, which range from one per cent on the amount of net income between $5,000 and $6,000 to sixty-five per cent of the net income exceeds $1,000,000, are the same as for the year 1918. The exemptions of $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons and heads of families remain unchanged. These rates apply to every citizen and resident of the United States. Alien non-residents receiving incomes from sources within the United States are subject to the full tax of eight per cent on such income in excess of exemptions.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Thursday, Nov. 27, 1919

As a community and a nation let us with one accord dedicate this great American Day to true thanksgiving.

Throughout the world no land is so blessed with productive power, no people so favored with natural resources.

Peace has opened up a future of golden opportunity which it is in our power to fully grasp.

With just cause for Thanksgiving, may we be worthy of our inheritance and together work, save, cooperate and produce in a manner worthy of America.

This institution will be closed all day.

ELLSWORTH LOCALS

Harry Cooper has gone to Chicago to spend the winter.

A. W. Carr made a business trip to Bellaire on Monday of this week.

John Prince and Gerrett Hennip are home again after a visit with friends in Chicago.

Miss Savilla Yettaw left on Monday of this week for Flint. She expects to be gone all this winter.

Ray Nelson is at home again after a few weeks spent at Flint, where he was employed in an automobile factory.

H. Hoogewerf left on Monday of this week for Chicago, where he will spend two weeks visiting relatives and friends.

Manager Mason of the Traverse Bays Telephone Co. was in Ellsworth the first of the week taking inventory of the telephone property.

Lewis Taylor is at home again after two weeks spent in the upper peninsula armed with a gun and a deer license. He brought back the gun and the license.

Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie of Prince Albert, Sask., Canada, arrived last week to spend the winter with relatives. Mrs. Ritchie was formerly Miss Elsie Larsen of Ellsworth.

Material has been placed on the ground for the erection of a stock yard near the depot here. This is something which has been needed for some time and will be a benefit both to grovers and shippers.

Mason work has started on the addition to the Ellsworth garage and a part of the wall is already up. Mr. Elzinga plans on employing enough workmen to finish the job by the tenth of December.

Evert VanDerArk sold his farm near Essex to his son, August, one day last week. Mr. VanDerArk is undecided as to what he will do, but thinks strongly of buying or building at Ellsworth and making his future home here.

Highway Commissioner Bradford and the gang of men who have been hauling gravel for the past week began work on the Brock hill near Essex the first of this week, but were forced to stop after one day by the heavy snow.

Miss Blanch Boss, accompanied by her friends, the Misses Burns and Bush, spent a few days of last week at her home here during a vacation at the Petoskey high school where the young ladies are students.

Word was received here recently by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davey that their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harry Davey, had recently underwent a very serious operation at the hospital at Ann Arbor, and was recovering very nicely. The Daveys are living at Lansing.

Charles, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Isa Alward, sustained a broken arm and other cuts and bruises when he fell from a tree while at play near his home last Sunday. Dr. Dieken of East Jordan was called and the boy is getting along as well as can be expected.

One party of deer hunters, consisting of Clarence Murray, Isa Alward and James Wilson have returned from the upper peninsula with filled license, Alward and Murray each bringing home particularly fine specimens. Mr. Moblo, also a member of the party, shipped home a deer but remained to visit relatives at East Jordan for a few days.

Another serious accident occurred at Central Lake on Thursday afternoon of last week, when the Pere Marquette passenger train north bound struck a car containing Mr. and Mrs. John Grafmiller, demolishing the machine and instantly killing Mrs. Grafmiller. Mr. Grafmiller was badly bruised and shaken up but will recover. The accident happened at the same crossing where two boys were killed by the resort special last summer.

Two weddings occurred in the Essex neighborhood during the last few days. The first was on Friday, November 14th, when August VanDerArk and Miss Jeanette, the daughter of County Treasurer and Mrs. Robert Morrow of Bellaire, were united in marriage, and the second was on Tuesday of last week when Miss Winnifred VanDer Ark and Joseph Hoffman became man and wife. Both young couple are wished health, wealth and prosperity by a host of friends.

MILES DISTRICT

A. W. Carr went to Bellaire Monday.

Joseph LaLonde of East Jordan is helping Albert Miles a few days. Mrs. Frank LaLonde went to Charlevoix Saturday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Withers.

Mr. and Mrs. Willet Simmerman and baby of Boyne City spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. B. Evans.

Thursday evening the stork left a little baby boy with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boyd. Name, Russell Howard.

mines and their employees have been notably careless in their attitude toward the Government, and the public. Nevertheless their quarrel has served a good purpose in that wage disputes are being discussed with a better understanding than they were a few weeks ago. The Public which "holds the bags," is interested in having the coal miners receive a decent wage. On the other hand if the operators' profits are excessive, and if these men are guilty of the things charged against them, there will be no popular indulgence voiced in their behalf.

In effect there is a new light breaking on the industrial world, and it is plainer every day that the "law of force," whether operated by the employers or the employees will not be supported by the public. The public has made it plain that it is not going to be stampeded by a multiplying number of strikes and lockouts. The handwriting on the wall indicates that it is time for everybody to lay off reciting the story of victories which they put across and to get back into the harness and help the United States to resume normal conditions in all its affairs.

Boysen Falls Youth Detained
Edward Sezhdpniak, 13, who shot Ford Pearson, 5, at Boysen Falls last Sunday, was brought before Prosecuting Attorney Ruessiger, in Boysen City Monday, by Sheriff Weaver. After an examination he was brought here by the sheriff and turned over Judge Correll of the Juvenile court. County Agent Cooper is investigating. Stories regarding the shooting seem to conflict and it is not yet definitely known what will be done in the matter.

ELLSWORTH HAS REPUTATION AS MARKETING POINT

Square Dealing and Top-notch Prices
Results in Trade Coming From Considerable Distances

That Ellsworth as a marketing center stands high over and above any of our surrounding villages is being demonstrated more clearly as each day goes by, and that the reputation of its business men for square dealing and top prices reaches beyond this immediate vicinity has been proven time and again, but never more clearly than last week, when the Ellsworth Produce Co. received produce from three sources, once from a farmer living less than one and one-half miles from Central Lake, once from one less than one mile from Charlevoix-East Jordan stone road, and once from a farmer living about four miles east of Charlevoix.

The last was a load of beans, brought in by A. Balser. Mr. Balser said while in town that although he had often heard Ellsworth recommended, he had always before hesitated on the long trip over poor roads, but his experience here on his first venture clearly proved to him that his former hesitancy had cost him money and that hereafter his produce would surely come to Ellsworth.

This reputation means much to our town. When a farmer makes a drive of from eight to fifteen miles and sells his goods, it is reasonable to suppose that his money or at least a part of it will be spent where it was received, and a dollar spent at any business place is a benefit not only to the person to whom it is paid, but to the whole town. The Ellsworth Produce Co. is also erecting an addition to their warehouse in answer to a popular demand for another cream station, and the machinery will be installed in time to begin taking in cream on or before Dec. 1st. A capable man will be in charge for the purpose of testing the cream that comes in.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Beginning with next Sunday the minister will present from the pulpit the first of a series of three "Conscience Calls." The schedule is as follows:

Sunday, November 30, "The Call of the Church."

Sunday, December 7, "The Call of the Home."

Sunday, December 14, "The Call of the Individual."

There is no finer time for a realignment with the church than at the Christmas season; no better opportunity for getting in tune with the infinite than to joyfully enlist for service. Have you no other church home? Avail yourself of this; you will be heartily welcomed.

What a splendid concert we enjoyed last Sunday evening! Every number met with sincere and hearty appreciation, and all credit and thanks are due to those who took part. It is hoped to make this departure a regular recurrence in our "Pleasant Sunday Evenings."

The Ceciliaans will meet at the usual hour Wednesday evening under the direction of Miss Bement.

The union Thanksgiving service will take place at 7:00 p. m., November 27. Rev. Rice will be the speaker of the occasion. Surely we can spare a little time out of the festivities of the day to give thanks for the blessings of prosperity and peace that have been ours in the year past. There will be special music.

At the Young Peoples' meeting at 6:00 p. m., the minister will continue the reading of Galsworthy's "Justice." Did you miss the last installment? There will be a brief summary. Come.

At the "Pleasant Sunday Evening Hour" the organist, Mrs. Madeline LaLonde, will again preside at the organ from 7:00 to 7:30 p. m. At that time the minister will lecture on "Historic England." The public is invited. There will be no admission.

The Youth's Companion Home Calendar for 1920

The publishers of The Youth's Companion will, as always at this season, present to every subscriber whose subscription ($2.50) is paid for 1920 a Calendar for the new year. The tablets are printed in red and dark blue, and besides giving the days of the current month in bold legible type, give the calendar of the preceding and succeeding month in smaller type in the margin. It is a rich and practical piece of work.

MICHIGAN'S REPUTATION

AS AN AGRICULTURAL STATE SUSTAINED

Corn Crop Largest in Years—Other Crops Close to Ten-Year
Average

The final report on late crops is more flattering than those made during the severe and protracted drought period of the summer, and sustains Michigan's enviable reputation as an agricultural state regardless of the varying weather conditions that are often experienced. While the fall rains were later than usual in arriving, frosts were also dilatory and permitted full development and maturity of corn, potatoes, beans, buckwheat, clover seed and sugar beets. The corn crop is the largest and best in years, the yield of beans, buckwheat and sugar beets are above the average, and the yields of others are very close to the ten-year average. Such is the nature of the joint crop report issued by Coleman C. Vaughn, Secretary of State and Verne H. Church, Field Agent, U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates. All these crops are of excellent quality and far better in grade than produced in the last three years.

The estimates of the acreage of winter wheat and rye will be ready for publication in December. Owing to extremely dry weather the seeding was slightly later than usual and the growth of these grains was rather slow at first. Since the fall rains began the growth has been more rapid, and both crops will go into winter in excellent condition and with about a normal top-growth. Early-sown fields of wheat in a number of southern counties are reported to be quite infested with Hessian fly. The amount of wheat marketed during October in the state is estimated to be 1,972,000 bushels, and the total amount marketed since the movement of the new crop began, 5,731,000 bushels. Twenty-six mills and elevators reported no wheat purchased during the month.

The corn crop matured with practically no frost damage and, notwithstanding the very dry season, developed an average yield of 38 bushels per acre, which is the highest in many years and 6.3 bushels above the ten-year average. The acreage was large and if all had been utilized as grain the crop would have been 64,866,000 bushels. 35 per cent of the crop went into silos and three per cent was utilized for fodder and other purposes, leaving 62 per cent to be husked, or a grain crop of 40,217,000 bushels. The yield of silage was 7.5 tons per acre, and more silos were completely filled than ever before. The amount of the old crop of corn on farms on November 1, is estimated to be 283,000 bushels, or 1.5 per cent of the crop.

The yield of buckwheat is placed 15 bushels to the acre, as compared to 10 bushels last year, and a ten-year average of 14.6 bushels. The increased yield over last year offsets the decreased acreage so that the total crop will be 780,000 bushels or the same as last year. The quality is excellent.

The total potato crop is estimated at 29,304,000 bushels as compared with 28,560,000 last year. The crop is of uniformly good quality and the yield is considerably better than growers' expected a few weeks before digging time. The crop is practically all harvested and was handled with almost no loss from frost or freezing weather.

Bean threshing is progressing rather slowly and late returns from threshers are reducing the average from that indicated earlier in the

ONE WEAK SPOT

Many Charlevoix People Have a Weak Part and Too Often It's The Back

Many people have a weak spot. Too often it's a bad back. Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night.

Backache is often from weak kidneys.

In such case a kidney medicine is needed.

Doan's kidney pills are for weak kidneys.

For backache and urinary ills. Charlevoix people recommend the remedy.

Mrs. R. S. Hammond, 207 Belvedere Ave., Charlevoix, says: "Several years ago my kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. At times my hands and feet were swollen and my face was bloated, also. I felt miserable all over. When I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills I began their use and three boxes removed all the trouble, making me feel like a different person."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hammond had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

season. The present outlook is for an average yield of about 12.7 bushels per acre, and a total crop of about 4,000,000 bushels. The quality is good and the pick is comparatively small.

The estimate of clover seed is 1.4 bushels per acre as compared with 1.5 bushels last year and 1.6 bushels the average for the past seven years. The acreage is relatively small being only 74,000 which, at the estimated yield, will produce a total of 103,600 bushels. Many sections of the state will not produce enough for local needs.

The estimated production of apples is 5,328,000 bushels, or 37 per cent of a full crop. The ten-year average is 54 per cent of a full crop and last year 68 per cent of a full crop was produced in the state.

Pears are found to be 60 per cent of a crop, or 724,000 bushels.

The outlook for sugar beets improved materially since the fall rains came, the condition being .92 per cent as compared with 86 per cent one month ago. Occasional yields of as much as 20 tons per acre are reported. The harvesting of the crop is nearly completed, and the beets are moving to the sugar factories as fast as cars can be obtained and handled.

WORKMEN MAKE WEIRD DISCOVERY

Unearth Remains of Skeleton While at Work

The workmen engaged in digging the foundation for the new house being erected by Earl Young, on Park Avenue, directly back of the Iddings residence, made a weird and interesting discovery.

Deeply imbedded under the roots of an old tree was found the skeleton of a man, or rather the remains of a skeleton. Bones of the skull, legs, arms and feet were intact, as were the teeth. Without a doubt the bones were those of some Indian or old trapper buried there years ago.

ABOUT THAT NEWBERRY CASE

WHY SHOULD HASTY JUDGMENT BE PASSED

Situation Should Not Cause Undue Excitement Among People—Speedy Trial Hoped For

The indictments returned by the federal grand jury in Grand Rapids as a result of its inquiry into some features of the last Michigan senatorial campaign, naturally cause a sensation. However, the people of the state can well afford to refrain from becoming excessively excited. It will be well to remember that an indictment is in no wise equivalent to a conviction. An indictment in a federal court means merely that a person has been held for trial on some specific charge. Later he may be convicted or he may be acquitted.

Nor is it any criticism of the court, which has proceeded with entire regularity and propriety, to point out that the investigation of the Newberry campaign methods was inspired and carried on by an openly hostile Washington administration working through its department of justice. This administration bitterly opposed Senator Newberry at the primary and on election day; and it supported his opponent who ran at the personal request of the president of the United States.

This of course does not prove the innocence of the men who are accused. But when one takes into consideration the intense partisan attitude of the Wilson administration, when one remembers the vast powers in the hands of the department of justice, there surely is enough in the situation to carry the suggestion that the people of Michigan can afford to withhold judgment on the accused until all the facts against them and for them are laid before a jury in open court. For, of course, the whole case at issue must now go on to a definite conclusion. The honor of the state and the rights of the individuals under accusation both demand this. It is the right of the people to know precisely what there is in the charges against the men indicted. This is a matter that touches most nearly. It also is the right of the accused to have a full and final hearing so that they may stand or fall by the records. And if they are innocent they will welcome such a hearing. Having carried the case so far, the department of justice will be doing its full duty, it will be conducting itself honorably, only if it follows its grand jury investigation with as speedy trials as may be humanly possible.

METEOR FALLS WEDNESDAY EVENING

Landed in Lake Michigan Near the City of Muskegon

Considerable interest was aroused last Wednesday night all over western Michigan and northern Indiana by the sudden appearance of a pillar of flame in the southwestern sky that seemed to light up the entire state for a moment.

It was believed to be a large meteor that fell into Lake Michigan near Muskegon.

This peculiar incident was noticed by several Charlevoix people and those seeing it stated that it was a wonderful sight, resembling a huge ball of fire followed by a long tail of flame dropping from the sky.

In southern Michigan two distinct explosions were heard and many people rushed from their homes in fear of an earthquake.

CHANGE MADE IN P. M. SCHEDULE

Two Through Trains, One North Bound and One South Bound

The change in the Pere Marquette railroad schedule from summer to winter took effect Sunday night at midnight.

This change does not make any difference in the Charlevoix schedule south bound, but it gives the city a forenoon train from the south. This train arrives at Charlevoix at 10:40 a. m., and is a stub run from Traverse City.

The evening train north has been discontinued but there are now two through trains from Grand Rapids, one each way. The new schedule as it now stands is as follows: Forenoon, south bound, 9:06; north bound, 10:40. Afternoon, south bound, 2:30; north bound, 4:07.

FIRE AT METCALF HOME SUNDAY

Blaze Starts From Oil Stove in Bathroom Upstairs

A fire that could have easily been serious broke out in the Metcalf home, on Park avenue, Sunday morning about nine thirty.

An oil stove had been lighted to heat a bathroom in the upper portion of the house and in some manner became overheated and the room was soon in flames. The fire was discovered by Mr. Metcalf who had to force entrance into the room through a window via the roof. With the aid of a garden hose and the Life Saving crew the flames were nearly subdued when the fire department arrived and the chemical made short work of the little fire that was left.

The bathroom was badly damaged and the adjoining rooms somewhat scorched.

GRAND JURY RETURNS REPORT

NEWBERRY AND 135 OTHERS INDICTED

Reported to Have Spent Between $500,000 and $1,000,000 on Election Campaign

At six o'clock Saturday evening the grand jury in Judge Session's United States Federal court rooms reported on its findings in the investigation into the campaign of United States Senator Truman H. Newberry, that has been holding sway in Grand Rapids for the past few weeks. The grand jury returned true bills against Senator Newberry and one hundred and thirty-five other Michigan men involved in the case. Conspiracy in primary and general election campaigns was charged, also that between $500,000 and $1,000,000 was spent in the campaign for Senator Newberry. The investigation has lasted over six weeks and more than four hundred witnesses have taken the stand. The names of fourteen men indicted by the jury were made public.

Three Charlevoix county men, John M. Harris of Boyne City, Dwight H. Fitch of East Jordan, and Lisle Shanahan of Charlevoix, were involved in the case and were mentioned in the testimony before the grand jury. The statements made in this testimony were as follows:

Said John M. Harris, on August 20, 1918, at Charlevoix, Michigan, gave Lisle Shanahan $40.

Said John M. Harris, on July 1, 1918, at East Jordan, Michigan, gave Dwight H. Fitch $45.

Robert H. Sherman of this vicinity was foreman of the grand jury that returned these findings.

It was a known fact that Ford investigators had been working in this county checking up the work of different persons in various sections of the county. Whether or not the men from this county will be included in the case before it is completed is not known at present.

CASES HANDLED BY CIRCUIT COURT

Guy Olney Found Guilty by Jury of Manslaughter

The circuit court is in session this week and several of the cases booked on its calendar have been tried and decisions reached.

The case of the People vs. Guy Olney, manslaughter, was tried Monday and Tuesday and Olney was found guilty of manslaughter by the jury, who asked that the judge be lenient in the case.

The case of the People vs. Alva Stone, Stone pleaded guilty on appearing before the judge.

Oscar Reitzel of East Jordan pleaded guilty to the charge of manslaughter and the case was suspended until next term of court.

Joseph Erforth pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny and sentence was suspended. In the case of the People vs. Frank Gorman, violation of the liquor law, sentence was suspended.

The case of the People vs. Frances Norton, assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder, is now before the court.

INCOME MAN COMING SOON

ANNUAL INCOME TO BE CLOSELY SCRUTINIZED

Those Sleepless Nights of 1919 When People Figured and Worried Will Soon Be Here Again

The income tax will soon be with us again, the income tax man says. "You men who spent sleepless nights in that terrible period of time when you were last filling out an income tax blank, wondering whether or you were married or not, counting your children and computing the consequent exemptions, seeing the penitentiary yawning before you if you did not, and beat the government out of its just tax on the 67 cents which you won from Bill Smith playing 'rummy,' will have it all to do over again."

"Taxpayers are to be given an opportunity to make out their returns for the year 1919 immediately upon the close of the year's business, when the profit and loss part is still fresh in their minds. The regular period for filing is from Jan. 1 to March 15, 1920.

"If you are one of the bloated fortunates who counts his income beyond and above the $3,000 mark, your worries are increased. For individual incomes below $3,000 form 1040A, which sounds innocent enough, will engage your attention. Form 1040 will take care of your income in excess of $3,000.

"The income tax rate will be slightly reduced this year. Incomes up to $4,000 above the exemption is 4 per cent. On the remaining net income a tax of 8 per cent is requested by the government. The surtax rates, which range from 1 per cent on the amount of the net income between $5,000 and $8,000 to 65 per cent of the amount by which the net income exceeds $1,000,000, are the same as for the year 1918. (Planners and coal miners please take notice.)

"Exceptions remain the same. If your income is $1,000 and you are single, you can go about your way, and if you should chance to be married with an income like that, the only thing which probably interests you at the present time is a square meal.

"An income of $2,000 is exempt from taxation if the one earning it is married or is the head of a family. "But just take a look at what it means to be a married man:

"The regulations under the law require the exemptions to be divided fractionally by the month as they relate to the period of taxation. In other words, if a married man was married on July 1, 1919, he would be entitled to only a fractional part of the $2,000 exemption as a married man, because of the fact that he was not married for a full year. He would have an exemption of one-half of the $1,000 for the first six months of the period, and one-half of the $2,000 for the last six months of the period, or a total exemption of $1,500.

"Perhaps you didn't know that there was such a thing as being fractionally married, and if you ask your wife, she is very likely to deny it right now. However, remind her that you often speak of her as your better half, which makes you a fraction, any way you look at it.

"And presumably the same thing holds true if you were divorced during the year. Part of your exemption counts and part doesn't. And if you are living in one of the states where you could both be divorced and re-married within the year, and to further complicate the situation, if any of your children attained the age of dependency during the year, then you'd better step right out and hire a corps of bank clerks and three or four certified accountants. And when you get through totaling up what belongs to the government and what belongs to you, you are entitled to a wound-stripe and several citations 'for great bravery under severe mental distress,' whether you get it or not."

First Church of Christ, Scientist—Vnn Pelt Hall. Sunday service at 10:45 a. m. Subject, "God, the Only Cause and Creator." Wednesday evening service at 7:45 p. m. Reading rooms open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons from 2 to 5 p. m.

WAR TIME COAL RESTRICTION ON

GOVERNMENT HALTS COAL TO INDUSTRIES

Local Coal Situation Is Now Reaching Point Where It Can Become Serious

War time restrictions on the consumption of coal were ordered into effect Monday night, December 1st, for the period of the present strike emergency.

Fuel Administrator Garfield, acting in conjunction with the railroad administration, announces that only the industries included in the first five classes of the priority list established during the war would be furnished coal and that public utilities would be asked to discontinue furnishing power heat and light to non-essential industries.

The industries to which coal will be furnished will be railroads, coastwise and inland shipping, army, navy and other government departments, state and county departments and institutions, public utilities including newspapers and retail dealers supplying household consumers.

State and local authorities, Garfield said, will be asked to co-operate though the rationing of coal will be done through the regional coal committees set up by the railroad administration.

Railroad administration officials conceded that the application of the order would mean an industrial shutdown of considerable magnitude, but decline to undertake an estimate.

Industrial establishments operating from their own power plants, it was said, would probably have to stop when their present supply of coal is exhausted.

Industries operating on power supplied by public utilities companies may continue unless the management of the public utilities companies supplying them and the local authorities rule that they are non-essential. For the present the railroad administration will not attempt to lay down a rule as to what is an essential industry.

The coal situation in Charlevoix can easily become serious if the coal problem is not soon relieved. The present supply on hand to be obtained through the local dealers has practically been finished, and no more coal is in sight. All of the dealers have large orders in and have had for some time, but whether or not the orders will be filled is the question that no one seems to be able to answer. Outside of the coal already in the hands of the local consumers, the coal situation is at a stand-still. Without a doubt the city will soon be under war time restrictions as in the past winter.

CHRISTMAS SAVINGS CLUB SUCCESSFUL

State Bank Sends Checks to Three Hundred Members

The Christmas Savings club at the Charlevoix State Savings bank for 1919 closed a successful year.

Checks were mailed by the bank to over three hundred members of this year's club December 2nd, thus closing the largest club in the history of the bank.

The Christmas Savings club for 1920 will start and be open for membership December 10th. With the prevailing high prices of food stuff and all necessities, the insurance and taxes to meet at this season of the year, this method of saving makes it very easy to accumulate a nice sum of money to be used around Christmas time.

The bank is looking forward to an even larger membership for 1920, and urges the old members and their friends to join early.

THANKSGIVING BLAZE ON BRIDGE STREET

Building Occupied by Pearl Barber Shop Burns

A fire that did serious damage broke out Thanksgiving in the building occupied by the Pearl Barber shop on Bridge street, about two o'clock in the afternoon.

The blaze is reported to have started in the adjoining building which was being repaired prior to the entrance of a bowling alley to be operated by Glen Beard.

Due to the cold weather, considerable time passed before the firemen were able to get water on the building and the flames had gained a good start. The fire was finally extinguished, but not before it had done serious damage to both sections of the building, making them unfit for occupancy.

This is the second time in the past year that this building has been seriously damaged by fire.

BUSINESS TO CHANGE LOCATION

MOVE TO BE MADE FIRST OF NEXT YEAR

New Headquarters for Abstract Office and Loeb Farms in Falkner Building

R. F. Sloan, manager of the Loeb farms of this city, has announced that the first of the year will be the time set for the change that will be made in the location of the offices used by the Loeb farms and the Charlevoix Abstract and Engineering Company.

At present the offices of these concerns are located in the Van Pelt building over the Levinson clothing store, and have proven inadequate to handle the business.

The plans for the new arrangement will move these offices across Bridge street into the Falkner building, now occupied by L. P. Adams. This move will give the Loeb farms a downstairs office, adding convenience as well as appearance.

This building will be thoroughly remodeled and completely equipped for office work. The installation of a new heating plant is part of the program now arranged. New fixtures and interior decorating will make this new office one of the most attractive places of business in the city and will greatly add to the appearance of Bridge street.

FIGHT ON OVER DEER SEASON

UPPER PENINSULA WOULD HALT HUNTING

Lower Peninsula Sportsmen Say Deer Are Increasing Rapidly in Number

Upper Michigan is not exactly wild over the fact that annually 7,000 deer hunters invade the deer territory and have gone on record as favoring the closing of all counties across the straits.

Dubbing the hunters "this kerosene crowd," and calling the invasion of the deer slayers an "outrage that should no longer be tolerated," the Iron Mountain Reporter says the following:

"Not only Mackinaw county but every county in the upper peninsula should be closed to the horde of hunters who come here from the lower peninsula. It is roughly estimated that 7,000 hunters from below the straits are in the upper peninsula woods at the present time. This is an outrage and should no longer be tolerated. If we wait for the legislature to give the assistance needed, nothing can be done until the winter of 1921, and then it is doubtful if the legislature will pass a bill giving us a closed season. Therefore it is simply up to the boards of supervisors in the various counties of the upper peninsula as provided by statute, to get the public domain commission to declare a closed season for a few years, as they have tried to do in Mackinaw county. Iron county should be one of the first to go on record for a closed season, for this county is over run right now with fellows from below the straits. Let's get busy and put a kibosh on this kerosene crowd."

Many southern Michigan hunters are of the opinion that the agitation across the straits for closing is proposed for more or less selfish reasons. They claim that the deer were more plentiful this year than ever before and that they will continue to increase owing to the shortened "open season." They also assert that hunters from southern Michigan appearing before northern Michigan justices charged with violating, have received heavier fines than one of the "home boys" charged with the same offense. A bitter battle looms up over the situation.

STORM DOES CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE

Western Union Connections Severed—City Without Lights

The storm of Saturday and Sunday last was one of the severest experienced by Charlevoix and Northern Michigan for some time.

Considerable damage in this section of the state resulted. The Western Union reports from all over Michigan state that many wires were down and that all communications were slow due to over loading of remaining lines. All wires between this section and Detroit and Chicago were down. One wire remained to Grand Rapids but from there on connections stopped.

At Petoskey considerable damage was done to the breakwater from the heavy wind and seas that swept up the bay. Many windows and chimneys were displaced and broken.

Charlevoix spent most of Saturday night and a goodly portion of the day Sunday without lights as a result of the storm.

MARRIES AT GRAND JUNCTION, MICHIGAN

Groom a Charlevoix Boy—Pere Marquette Railroad Operator

Word has been received from Grand Junction that George Burns formerly of Charlevoix, now in the employ of the Pere Marquette Railroad and located in Grand Junction, has been married to Miss Dorothy Wauchek of that place.

The groom is well known in Charlevoix. He was a member of Charlevoix high school and later went into the employment of the P. M. R. R., here about seven years ago, being transferred to Grand Junction as operator. He has been with this railroad since then except the time served in the U. S. Navy during the war. Miss Wauchek is well and favorably known in Grand Junction.

Mr. and Mrs. Burns will be home in Grand Junction after a short trip to Chicago and Whiting, Indiana.

CLARK SCHOOL DISTRICT

We are looking forward to an open winter this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark were in Charlevoix Monday of last week.

Mr. Rebedew hauled wood to the school house Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Christmas will soon be here. The little play "A Christmas Dream," has been sent for to use for the Christmas entertainment.

School was not closed for the institute the 20th and 21st as there seemed to be no convenient way to get to Boyne City. School was closed, however, the 27th and 28th for Thanksgiving.

We wish to thank the parents and friends in our district for the co-operation shown Wednesday night at the social. Although the children in the program were not charged any admission, we received $6.45. About eighty cents will be taken from this amount to pay for plates and coffee.

The Charlevoix State Savings Bank will handle your auction sale notes on a very liberal basis. 40tf

War and After War

For one year the Bell Telephone System, as well as other telephone, telegraph, cable and radio systems, was under control and supervision of the government of the United States. This was a war measure, designed to give the war agencies of the country the fullest use of all facilities of communication.

During this time the normal development and expansion of all telephone systems was necessarily subordinated to governmental needs. Materials and equipment had to be utilized first in the construction and maintenance of lines for war purposes. Ordinary development and expansion waited.

The Bell Telephone System is making headway in its effort to overtake the demand for service which developed during this period of suspension, but some time will yet be required before the expansion of the business can proceed at normal speed.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

By J. E. Jones

The Congressional Log-Jam

That there are other worlds to conquer, besides Europe and Caranza-land, is apparent from the most casual survey of the "jumpy" machinery of "domestic problems." If Congressmen were garage men, find the gears and spark plugs all gooped up, and that the legislative machine had been running on too rich mixture of foreign gas.

It has been said that before it adjourned Congress "got a running start" with some of the big problems of domestic legislation, but aside from having practically failed in carrying out "reconstruction" program "running start" must have been along a sticky pathway, since the permanent military establishment, the National guard, and compulsory universal military training have not made any more progress than other classes of legislation. Even the "regular army" with its dazzle and splash of splendor, seems to have been unable to get bills through the log-jam Congress. This is not like the days b. t. w., before the war.

The Senate has been persuing the policy of "do one thing at a time," with the tail end of the proverb, "and the one thing well," omitted. In the meantime the House has been grinding its grist, and sending it along to the Senate, where the legislative bins have been running over. For there is the unsolved railroad measure to return the lines to their owners. The merchant marine, started on its way during the war time, is floundering in the choppy seas of law making. The "budget bill" which offers a new way for making Government appropriations, has passed the House and is in the Senate. When Mr. Taft was President he opined that the country would well-nigh be saved if the scheme was enacted, and now that he is back college-professing again, some of the Congressmen are following the lights he left burning on the altars of good government. The oil leasing bill is in conference, the water power bill went through the House once again, to be stalled, as usual, in the Senate. Other legislation hanging fire, largely because the Senate spent from June to November in ceaseless talking, includes bills to repeal the taxes on soft drinks, the regulation of the manufacture and importation of dyes; the bill to furnish aid to and co-operation with the states in vocational training and re-habilitation of those injured in industry, including agriculture and transportation; the bill to amend and strengthen the War Risk; the bill for a comprehensive plan for the regulation of cold storage; the bill for deporting undesirable aliens.

Among the other high-spots of legislation, resembling ships that passed in the night—except that the legislation wasn't "passed," is a poor little bill for the regulation of the packers.

These are a few of the things that were "left over" by Congress. And still, Speaker Gillett predicts that they will all be gotten out of the way, and that after passing the appropriation bills, the sessions of Congress will finish next June. Evidently Mr. Gillett is likely to pan out as a poor guesser on "futures."

Farms and Fertilizers

"There can be no wiser investment that a nation can make than to add to its territory by taking from desert and waters and desolation, land that is now useless," was the comment of Secretary of the Interior Lane, upon a recent occasion.

We have had irrigation projects without number in our country; and when the mortgages got so big that they plastered the farm all over, the Government came to the rescue by passing the farm loan act, in order that the farmers might get still more money on their lands. Good, roads, daily mails, telephones and guaranteed prices for wheat have been among the fruits shaken from the plum tree that have dropped into the farmers' laps.

Naturally everyone is interested in the success of farming, since it represents the pinnacle of production. But strangely enough the comments on the fact that in the United States we are literally "mining" our farms, are rare indeed. Contrasted to the lands of Holland and other parts of Europe that have produced every season for a thousand years, and are still richer than they were in the beginning, we have "worn out" and "abandoned farms" on which the buildings show very little signs of age. And at the same time the hue and cry go up from all over the country demanding the "drainage of land," "irrigation," and divers other methods for placing new land into harness. And all this is well enough; but it is rare that one hears the voice of protest raised against the neglect of the soil to such an extent that corn in the Mississippi Valley yields less and less per acre as the years roll by. Europe has learned the need of constantly caring for its lands—in this country we have not.

Cheapering the Price

Occasionally the question of providing against the neglect of our farm land comes up in Congress, and at one of these times Representative Switzer of Ohio, made a plea favoring the production of all the nitrate possible, in order to provide cheaper fertilizers. He doubtless unconsciously put his finger on the agitation that has been set in motion attacking the Muscle Shoals, Alabama, nitrate plant, which those in Washington who have followed the course of procedure of the Ordnance Department and the work done by the Air Nitrates Corporation, believe to be as "clean as a whistle." The fact referred to, and to which the Con-

the national joy smoke

ROLLING your own cigarettes with Prince Albert is just about as joy'us a sideline as you ever carried around in your grip! For, take it at any angle, you never got such quality, flavor, fragrance and coolness in a makin's cigarette in your life as every "P. A. home-made" will present you!

Prince Albert puts new smokenotions under your bonnet! It's so delightful rolled into a cigarette—and, so easy to roll! And, you just take to it like you been doing it since away back! You see, P. A. is crimp cut and a cinch to handle! It stays put—and you don't lose a lot when you start to hug the paper around the tobacco!

You'll like Prince Albert in a jimmy pipe as much as you do in a home-rolled cigarette, too! Bite and parch are cut out by our exclusive patented process. You know P. A. is the tobacco that has led three men to smoke pipes where one was smoked before. Yes sir, Prince Albert blazed the way. And, me-o-my, what a wad of smokesport will ripple your way every time you fill up!

ATWOOD

Real winter weather. A man from Grand Rapids says he will build a garage in Atwood next spring.

Rev. Pickart is confined to the house with one of Job's comforters on the back of his neck. Hope nothing serious, however.

It is stated from good authority that our Henry Elzinga will join his brother, James, at Ellsworth in the garage and car business. Wonder how many more good Atwoodites are going? Well, success to them; any way.

TIME TO STOP IT

Government authorities declare that dangerous alien anarchists are being smuggled into this country at the rate of a hundred a day. They are coming from Russia and other countries where the dangerous doctrines of anarchy have gained a firm foothold, and they contrive to reach this land despite the immigration laws intended to keep them away. Such restrictions are evaded by smuggling these undesirable citizens across the American border at unprotected points, it being stated that many of the newcomers are arriving by way of Mexico.

One naturally would suppose that the federal government, being aware of this movement, would take steps effectively to stop it. Presumably the government is making such effort, but the task is more difficult than many may realize. Along the thousand mile stretch of international boundary between this country and Mexico, for instance, there are innumerable opportunities for evading the vigilance of officials and guards, and even if the offenders are detected they only can be turned back, giving them further chance to repeat their attempts at some other place, or at another time.

Nevertheless the danger of the invasion by red radicals is so obvious that it calls for increased vigilance and more active efforts to check this menace. The country is cursed, with too many of this class already, and the efforts of the government to get rid of those already here have been widely commended and approved. It will do little good, however, to deport a few scores, or few hundreds, of these criminal anarchists, only to have their places filled by fresh arrivals. The magnitude of this movement, moreover, is rather significant. It looks as if there was some kind of organization back of this effort, and as though funds were being supplied from a mysterious source to carry on this movement. And probably this is the truth, which makes it all the more important for this nation to provide better safeguards to prevent this invasion by radical reds and trouble makers.

"SAVE OUR SOULS"

The Democratic National Committee is engaged in an inquisitorial search for a campaign fund of $10,000,000 to be used in next year's election. They have granted a plenary indulgence to all tainted money, and there is no limit to the amount they are willing to take from any man or corporation. Their cry is "Save our souls!" It is too much to expect that this committee has not one the envied property and the stored every sack, but at the $10.

board sugar refiners have not been tapped for a fat contribution to their campaign barrel then the committee's treasurer should be railroaded for dereliction of duty. Those refiners were for years the bitter opposers of a protective duty on sugar, because by getting their sugar into this country from Cuba free of duty they were able to add to their margin of profit. The prices at which sugar has been selling during the past two years must have availed that margin to heights undreamed of by the refiners in the days when they were trying to down the western beet and Louisiana cane sugar producers, and they ought to be good sports and come across handsomely to the party which has filled their coffers at the expense of the housewives of the land.

"DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP"
Says the Herald-Examiner: The Emperor, a great German ship, in American waters and in possession of the United States, is turned over to England at her demand. It goes to the Cunard company.

A collection of ships belonging to the American Standard Oil Company are seized and held by England on the ground that they had been sailing under the German flag. The new American motto would seem to be, "Don't Give Up the Ship—Unless England Wants It."

A Connecticut newspaperman running for mayor of Bridgeport filed as his campaign expenses the giving away of one seven-cent cigar. The wrapper was probably broken.

That old lady who lived in a shoe certainly deserved to have her rent raised, living in such a costly apartment.

And on the other hand, if you have nothing you can't venture it.

John Eastwood and Wm. Hughes were in Boyne City Friday on business.

Arthur Crego had the good luck to catch a fine fox one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clark and family, also Miss Josie Hammond were Clarion visitors Thursday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Clark.

Miss Jessie Skelton and brother, Max, also Russell Hughes, who spent their Thanksgiving vacation at home, returned Monday to their school duties in Boyne City.

Harry Smithengill attended a party in Clarion Saturday night.

Arthur Crego spent Thursday in Boyne City with his daughter, Miss Iva.

Kenneth Hall of Kalkaska, deer hunter, has returned from the upper peninsula minus a deer, but possessed of a resolution never to go hunting again. Mistaken for a deer by an excited animal, six shots were fired at Kenneth. His sweater and cap look like a deer. Kenneth sold his eighty-acre farm during the war for $10,000, but was not accepted.

"Auction of Souls" Sets Unheard of Records in State

Although some of the showings of "Auction of Souls" have been made at towns in the state with only a few days' advertising notice, capacity attendance is being recorded at nearly every performance. The film is proving itself of the most widely known and best attraction in the state.

The men traveling with the various shows in the upper and lower part of the state write the First National office that small seating capacity is the biggest contention in every town. Matinees have been drawing in towns that never before thought of staging them, while the evening houses are literally overwhelming all attempts at the rules and regulations.—Michigan Film Review.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Continuing the series of "Conscience Calls," the minister will speak on "The Call of the Church" at 10:30 a. m., Sunday, December 7th. Have you no church home? Join us in the joy of our fellowship and service.

The Cecilians will meet at the usual hour Wednesday evening under the direction of Miss Bement.

At the meeting of the mid week class in Religious Education, the minister will continue the presentation of the work of Luke. This will complete practically the survey of the New Testament writers.

The Endeavor society will give a social on Tuesday evening, December 9th. Everyone will be made welcome.

The young people of the church will meet at 6 p. m., Sunday, December 7th. In addition to the regular program, the minister will continue the reading of Galsworthy's "Justice."

Mrs. Madeline LaLonde will prelude the "Pleasant Sunday Evening Hour" by a half hour at the organ, and at 7:30 the minister will give a stereopticon lecture on "Pennsylvania and the Coal Industry." In view of the present crisis of labor in the mines, this should be most timely. Art Institute slides will be used, and there will be no admission.

The Charlevoix, State Savings Bank under supervision of the State of Michigan offers you every protection for your savings. Open your ACCOUNT before December 10th, it will draw interest from the 1st. 49tf

COUNTY NORMAL NOTES

For the Monday morning exercises Miss Bates is giving art talks. Beginning with early Egyptian art, she is tracing the development of sculpture, painting and architecture up through the ages, and before the study is completed, the class will have studied about the present day art, especially our American art.

Miss Stewart observed at the normal rooms Tuesday.

Miss Morrison, in the present critic meetings, is giving instruction in weaving and all forms of seat work which may be used by the primary pupils in the rural schools.

The Misses Beryl and Dorothy McDonald spent Thanksgiving at their home near East Jordan.

"Why does Mr. Bruin hibernate every winter?"

"I suppose he finds it too cold in his bear skin."

gressman called attention, was the activity of a nitrate importing company in New York that in the first instance insisted that the United States could not produce nitrate, and then when it saw that the Government was ready to back enterprises along that line, bent its efforts to prevent the development of Muscle Shoals, which it was compelled to admit would interfere with its importation from, and trade with, Chile.

Congressman Switzer, like many other thoughtful men from agricultural states, recognizes the fact that the success of agriculture, and the maintaining of the value of farm land at several hundred dollars an acre, demands an abundance of fertilizers. And the way to produce an "abundance" in anything is to make it cheap to the consumer. The achievement at Muscle Shoals, which has been hitherto described in this correspondence, is likely to help in solving the fertilizer problem for the American farmers, and the fact that we have become as highly skilled in the art of taking nitrogen from the air as Germany in the days when she boasted so loudly of efficiency, is another case where history has repeated itself, and the Muscle Shoals plant is a physical evidence of the truth that "the people who said it can't be done have been interrupted by those who went ahead and did it."

Letting "Uncle" Do It

The habit of "following the President" has been rudely shattered by the action of the Senate with reference to the treaty. And the manner in which the Government has been disappointing soldiers and citizens who have flopped over onto it in absolute faith that it would look after all their affairs, including insurance, farms, jobs, etc., has been shocking, indeed!

No matter what has turned up—be it a lynching in Illinois, attempts to free a bomb-thrower in California, or protection for stock gamblers in the exchanges, the interested parties have all "held the thought" that the Government would do the thing needed to make the world's affairs exactly according to their liking. The old problem of the cost of living has been subject to many forms of correction, and most of the branches of the Federal Government have produced men and schemes for experimenting; but there have been, as a rule, indifferent results.

Wage labor disputes which were formerly capable of adjustment between employers and employees are now all brought to the Capital; and the Cabinet, the Administrators, the prosecutors, the courts, and committees of Congress, all offer their forms of solution. As if there were not cooks enough to spoil the broth, there is occasionally added in lengthy telegrams, the voluntary advice of ex-treasurers and the opinions of other exes of lesser importance. The habit of letting Uncle Sam do it all has not been fruitful of expected results. So many people have been disappointed in their expectations that they have turned to the study of Jefferson's observation that people are governed best who are governed least.

TO AILING WOMEN

A Little Sound Advice Will Help Many a Sufferer in Charlevoix

No woman should consider herself healthy and well if the kidneys are weak. Poisons that pass off in the secretions when the kidneys are well, are retained in the body when the kidneys are disordered. If the kidneys and bladder become inflamed and swollen worse troubles may quickly follow. This is often the cause of bearing-down pains, lameness, backache, etc. Uric poisoning is also frequent cause of headaches, dizzy spells, languor, nervousness and rheumatic pain.

When suffering so, try Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has proven effective in thousands of such cases. Let a Charlevoix woman tell of her experience.

Mrs. Wesley Staley, 211 Mason St., says: "I can consistently recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a fine kidney medicine. My back was lame and I felt tired and languid. My kidneys troubled me. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Hines & Co.'s Drug Store, completely removed the trouble."

Price 60¢, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Staley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

We want every woman in Charlevoix to see our line of all-wool sweaters. They are bargains and just what you have been looking for. Benj. Brown. Adv48tf

ATWOOD

MICHIGAN

Rev. E. E. Clarke spent the first of last week at Pige Lake, attending a meeting of the ministerial association.

John Becker left on Tuesday of this week for Grand Rapids, where he will meet his mother who is returning from New York City.

John Parsons, Sr. has been confined to the house lately due to injuries sustained by a fall on the icy walk on Thanksgiving morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Speckmann left last week for Chicago, where they will visit relatives and friends for a few weeks.

Roscoe Mackey of East Jordan, was an Ellsworth visitor one day last week. Mr. Mackey has secured the Ford agency for Antrim county, formerly held by Smith & Sons of Central Lake.

The recent change in the schedule of trains on the Pere Marquette leaves the leaving time for trains at this station as follows: North at 9:52 a. m. and 3:38 p. m. South at 9:29 a. m. and 2:44 p. m.

Thanksgiving Day will be long remembered by the Weiss family, as the home was filled with guests during the entire day. They entertained Louis Goldstick and family of Petoskey during the day and the Horrenga family of Ellsworth in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parsons entertained a party of twenty-six on Thanksgiving day, among whom were the following guests: Mrs. I. L. Dice of Charlevoix, Isa Alward and family of Ellsworth, Charles Greeley and family, Mrs. George Haskins and Sam and Russell Alward of Norwood.

Local fox hunters have been busy for the past few days with the result that four foxes have "bit the dust." James Elzinga and his brothers, Albert and Henry of Atwood, captured a fine specimen on Wednesday and another on Saturday and the Alward boys secured one on Thursday and another on Friday.

The Ellsworth section of the Camp "Annals" deer hunters, consisting of

L. VanSkiver, E. H. Boss and H. S. Peebles, reached home last Sunday night, coming from Petoskey by auto. The Taquamenaw river, where they were camped, froze up and the party were forced to walk the thirty-five miles to Eckerman on their way out. Each member of the party secured a deer however.

ANTRIM CITY

Too bad it rained and spoiled our good sleighing.

Mrs. Stott and the baby are not very well.

F. Mason and family spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Mason's mother, Mrs. Martha Glazier.

G. Stotel and family and the Brant family spent Thanksgiving at J. Simons.

Mr. Stott has been at Norwood tearing down some buildings he purchased there.

A number around here enjoyed a marshmallow roast at Simon's Friday evening and all report a good time. Who said Antrim City was dead?

ESSEX

John Wieland spent Thanksgiving with George Dekkenga.

The Tillotson family spent Thanksgiving at the Wieland home.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Dekkenga were at the Nickola home north of Ellsworth last week on Monday.

Miss Bessie Prince of Pleasant Hill spent Thanksgiving visiting her cousin, Martha Dekkenga.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Torenga and family of Ellsworth spent Thanksgiving at the Hennip home.

Mr. and Mrs. Abel Speckman left last week Friday for Chicago to visit friends and relatives for a few weeks.

MILES DISTRICT

Boyd Slack is working for Clarence LaLonde.

Kate Moblo spent the week end at her home.

Chas. Hillman is home from Detroit. He returned last Monday.

Mrs. Russell Dean left for Flint Wednesday morning.

Ether LaLonde spent Thanksgiving at East Jordan with the Stewarts.

Henry LaClair of East Jordan spent Thanksgiving at Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moblo's.

Considerable damage was done to shade trees and small buildings during the heavy wind Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reed and family of East Jordan spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Reed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Moblo.

Mr. and Mrs. James Richards and daughter, Vivian, of Bellnre spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Richards' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carr.

Mrs. Frank LaLonde returned from Charlevoix Wednesday after visiting a few days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Withers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Courier and family of East Jordan took dinner Thanksgiving with Mrs. Courier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Cincush.

FAIRVIEW-BANKS

Snow storm every day.

The wind-storm of Saturday night did considerable damage.

Miss Helleman, teacher of the Mitchell school, spent Sunday at home in East Jordan.

Ennis Schaver left for the south with two cars of potatoes for the Banks Township Marketing Association.

The telephone line is out of order this week on account of the storm.

John Timmer returned from East Jordan Saturday.

Mr. Smith of Detroit, called on Mr. G. Oosterbaan one day this week being in search of a good farm. We have not heard any particulars to date.

The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Miner Wielenga died last Saturday afternoon, after a short illness. Funeral took place from the home Tuesday at 1 o'clock. Rev. Beute officiating. Interment in the Boss cemetery.

The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the whole neighborhood.

WILDWOOD

Alex Sinclair is working on the Loeb farm at Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Haddock called on friends here one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson entertained several friends at dinner on Thanksgiving Day.

Fox hunters are much in evidence these days. Several fine specimens have been captured.

Variegated weather, plenty of it, but no chance to blame it to the administration as we can see.

James Wilson returned from his deer hunting trip to the upper peninsula with a nice deer as a trophy of the expedition.

Miss Jayne Crawford is home from Washington, D. C., for the winter, having resigned her position in the War Risk Department in that city.

Word from Emrey Wilson, who is in Detroit states that he has a position as chauffeur for an Electrical company in the metropolis of Michigan.

We are willing to match the ability and persistence of our postman with any other rural carrier in the state when it comes to getting over bad roads, in bad weather. If he doesn't vent his good, kind, disposition on the depositor of pennies in the postal boxes it is because said depositor escapes his sight and voice by getting into the house before he reaches the mail box. Of course he often makes mistakes, but he'll own up to his faults and probably will smile and ask the complainant if he is immune from the little crimes.

Mrs. W. L. Scott left last Tuesday for a visit with relatives in Harvey, Illinois.

Our school will be closed for several weeks on account of Miss Kerry's illness.

E. R. Stallard returned to East Jordan on Sunday after spending several days at his home here.

We are sorry to hear that Miss Muriel Kerry is ill with scarlet fever at her home near Boyne City.

Robert Wilson is helping with the work at the Stewart farm for a few days on account of the illness of Charles Dean.

Mrs. Richard Hosegood and son, Oswald, returned home last Saturday from a three week's visit with relatives and friends in Canada.

ROCK ELM

There is talk of another social after the holidays.

Barton Henry has been absent from school for a time on account of sickness.

Jesse Lawton returned to school Monday after an absence of a few weeks on account of work.

The social at the Grange hall Wednesday evening was well attended, and enjoyed by all. A good literary program was given by the pupils, after which the boxes were sold at auction, Mr. Joseph Whitfield acting as auctioneer. The boxes sold well and about twenty-four dollars were cleared. The money is to be used for the purchase of a victrola for the school.

PLEASANT HILL

Anna Prince visited Dorothy Powell Sunday.

Alex. Sinclair is working at the Loeb farm near Charlevoix.

John Powell left Tuesday for Chestonia to work in the camp.

Mr. H. H. Fales, who has been up north, was home for Thanksgiving.

Mr. Newberry and son, Otto, are working in a camp near Chestonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthews Rubingh visited at the DeYoung home Monday.

Mrs. Ben Powell and children from Bellaire visited at the John Powell home from Saturday until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fielstra and daughter, visited from Wednesday until Friday at the Nick Prince home at Bellaire.

INTERESTING BITS OF INFORMATION CLIPPED FROM OUR EXCHANGES

Nearly all of the deer hunters from this city were successful in filling their licenses, says the Boyne Citizen, but it was Fred Benham, superintendent of the Boyne City Lumber Co.'s mill, who brought home the bacon. Not exactly the bacon, but a fine large specimen of a grey timber wolf.

Mr. Benham had just finished hanging up a buck, which he had shot when he was attracted by a noise in the rear. Upon investigation he found that he was being followed by a large wolf. It is probable that the wolf had been attracted by the smell of the fresh deer meat.

Mr. Benham's first shot took effect, but did not prove fatal. The second shot followed immediately and entered the head of the animal ending his earthly career in short order. Mr. Benham hunted in Gogebie county.

You will probably see something in your paper you cannot endorse. Even the Bible is rather plain and hits some hard licks. If you were to get mad and burn up your Bible the hundreds of presses would still keep on printing them. Call the editor all sorts of names, and the newspaper will still be published, and what is more you sneak around and borrow a copy from your neighbor. It is better to keep your vest pulled down and your subscription paid up. —Sentinel, New Leipzig, Ohio.

The board of directors of the Potosky Portland Cement company of Potosky will hold a meeting early in December, at which time the board will take up the matter of machinery for the cement plant. It is likely that instructions will be given to place orders for this machinery at once.

Under present conditions it takes from three to six months to get delivery on heavy machinery, and it appears likely that it will be early spring before the machinery arrives. Construction work on the buildings will be started as early as possible in the spring and it is the opinion of Mr. Buckbee, the construction engineer, that the plant may be ready for operation by August 1, 1920.

Beginning January 1st dealers in automobiles, owners and operators of garages must keep a full and complete record of all sales and purchases made, and the cars taken in exchange, specifying the date of sale, name and residence of the purchaser and vendor, and the make, serial number and motor number and description of the vehicle. Duplicate copies of such records must be furnished on the first day of each month thereafter to the department of state. First reports are due February 1st. The department is supplying prescribed forms to garages for the work. It is thought these restrictions and requirements will make it much easier to trace stolen cars.

Mrs. Lucile Bixby of Boyne City was out of funds and she did so want to go to Flint. A wrist watch is a very neat and attractive article of jewelry and also easy to pawn, so she just picked it up and walked away. She packed the watch and went to Flint, but for some reason, best known to herself, after a six week's sojourn, she returned. Officers who had been working on the case met her with a welcoming smile and a warrant for her arrest issued by Prosecutor Rueggesser. She was taken before a local Justice of the Peace, where she plead guilty to the theft of the watch from Mrs. Clara Bailis. As it was impossible for the Bixby woman to redeem the watch she had taken she was forced to buy a duplicate and pay a fine and costs amounting to $50.00.

"Run or I'll shoot," said Virgil Morgan of Cadillac to Earl Bell of the same place late Sunday afternoon.

Bell, who is but fourteen years old, ran a short distance, then stopped. Immediately Morgan, nineteen, raised a double barreled shot gun and fired both barrels into the back of the younger boy. The victim is in Mercy hospital and Morgan is being held in the county jail.

The boys, in company with several others near the same age, were hunting in Kenwood grove, on the outskirts of Cadillac, and coming home they played at soldiering, with Morgan in the role of commander.

When arrested Morgan could give no reason for shooting the Bell boy. At first he asserted the shooting was an accident caused by the hammer of the gun catching on a twig. Direct questioning broke down his story and he admitted the point blank shooting of the smaller lad.

Should Bell die it is probable Morgan will be charged with murder or with manslaughter.

NOW RELEASED FOR PUBLIC EXHIBITION AT POPULAR PRICES

IT PRESENTS THE PICTURED TRUE STORY OF THE SOLE SURVIVOR OF HALF A MILLION ARMENIAN GIRLS

AURORA MARDIGANIAN, herself

She is the Armenian beauty who escaped to America after two years of unspeakable adventures in the hands of Kurdish Raiders, Slave Markets and Turkish Harems. Although the newspapers have given her story pages of space the National Committee chose the screen as the most vivid medium of bringing home to the American people what their Christian sisters endured in ravished Armenia. The resultant screen epic has been truly called

"Auction of Souls"

From the book "Ravished Armenia" which is Aurora Mardiganian's own story substantiated by facts from official reports of Viscount Bryce, the British Investigator, Henry Morgenthau, the American Ambassador and the American Board of Foreign Missions.

Hour Sensation Monday—Much Alive, Now

To be adjudged dead by your friends, have the coroner notified of this fact and to unwittingly throw the entire neighborhood into a flurry of excitement, is an experience few men have had the pleasure, if there could be any, in happening to them.

This is just what occurred to Gib Holland, an eccentric resident of Eveline township. Gib lives by himself in a portable house on wheels. In fact, his home is where he happens to be at work. If he works for one man, he usually moves to that place, and when through with his job or decides to make a change, he moves, both himself and entire outfit.

At the present time Gib's residence is near the home of Ed. McClannathan, on the Charlevoix-East Jordan road near Ironton. He works some and hunts more. Also does some trapping. Sunday he hunted all day and visited a friend until a late hour. He arrived home about daybreak and went to his house on wheels. Having a severe headache he went to bed.

During the early hours of Monday forenoon, Hi Brock, a near neighbor wanted Gib to help him load some hay. Brock went to the McClannathan home and inquired if Gib was home. He was told he was, and Mrs. McClannathan called several times to Gib, but received no answer. Thinking this somewhat strange, as Gib usually is a light sleeper, she and Mr. Brock went to Gib's portable house, found it locked and no effort on their part could arouse the man inside.

The door of the house was, however, locked from the inside. This the visitors succeeded in unlocking, and Mr. Brock went inside. Gib was lying on his bed, covered with five or six blankets. Brock called to him, then uncovered and shook him, but could not arouse him.

Brock shook him again, yelled until the windows rattled, turned him over, and then pronounced him dead.

Dr. Armstrong was notified by telephone, also relatives of the supposedly dead man. Some thirty or forty minutes later, Brock, in company with Mr. Dean, a neighbor, went to Gib's house, and upon nearing it, noticed smoke coming out of the chimney. They then supposed other neighbors had arrived, but upon entering the house found Gib sitting on a bench, complacently smoking his pipe and cooking his breakfast.

We are unable in this article to express the surprise of the men who had gone to the shack to stay with the corpse until the arrival of the doctor and relatives. When told of what had transpired, Gib stated he had heard no one—knew nothing about the commotion he had created—but would like to meet the man who broke in his door.

By this time the entire neighborhood had been aroused and many were on their way to see the dead man, and when told that he was alive and cooking his breakfast, continued their way to Gib's home to learn from him the details of the affair and judge for themselves whether he was dead or alive.

Gib was much alive, however, and

"135 CLUB" WILL WEAR BUTTONS

State Representative Geo. W. Welsh, one of the 135 indicted in the Newberry investigation, at Grand Rapids, has announced plans for an organization of respondents to be known as the "One Hundred Thirty-Five club of the Republican party."

Buttons with the inscription, "I Helped Defeat Henry Ford," will be obtained for each member whose qualifications for membership must be that he was indicted.

Plans provide for the establishment of commodious club rooms in the Hotel Pont-lind and these will be used as headquarters for the indicted Newberry followers during the trial of the case.

within an hour was busily engaged in loading hay for Mr. Brock.

The explanation to Gib's conduct still remained a mystery until it was learned that upon retiring, suffering from a severe headache, he had bathed his head and face with some liniment containing chloroform. He not only bathed himself with it, but covered his head and face, and upon retiring covered his head with quilts, and when found by Mr. Brock his hand was over his face. When Mr. Brock uncovered him, his hand fell from his face, and during the short time before Brock returned, the cold air revived him.

Thus ends the sensation, and Gib, although adjudged dead, is on the job again, but says he will be careful when he used any kind of liniment.

END OF WORLD NOT IN SIGHT

Prediction of French Observer Contradicted by Yerkes Man

Christmas shoppers may go ahead with their purchases. The report that the world is coming to an end before the holidays turns out to be an exaggeration. Astronomers today assured the race that its course would not be appreciably shortened by the conjunction of planetary forces in which Prof. Albert A. Portia of the University of Michigan is said to see a general catastrophe.

A French observer has gone so far as to predict the end of the world. The reports have terrorized ignorant people in many parts of the earth. In Mexico particularly the story was widely accepted and there have been numerous suicides. Astronomers at the Yerkes observatory, Williams bay, declared the predictions unworthy of notice.

THIN ICE CAUSE OF MANY DEATHS

Parents Urged to Keep Children
Away from Lakes and Streams

Do you know the mortality scale, each year, of people who foolishly trust their lives to thin ice. We could not begin to tell you, but this we know. Every year, from this time until Christmas, the newspapers all over the country will be full of fatalities due to careless venturing on fragile ice.

Through the thoughtlessness of the children and the carelessness of their elders the death list runs into big totals annually.

By a proper warning to the children and a little watchfulness on the part of the parents these accidental drownings through the ice can be substantially reduced.

Once through the ice and you are gone. Very few people are ever rescued from a frozen lake or pond. The safest plan is to restrain your children from playing on the ice until you are certain it is perfectly safe.

COAL SITUATION BECOMES ACUTE

Local Dealers Sold Out and No Supply in Sight

The local fuel situation is becoming more acute every day and unless relief in some form or other comes within a short time, many families will be entirely without coal and the suffering will be intense.

A canvass of the situation among local dealers reveals that the Charlevoix Coal & Wood Co. are entirely sold out. G. C. Guken of the People's Wood and Coal Co., will be sold out by the last of the week. Harry Willisfield has a few tons of soft coal and many orders he will be unable to fill. The Argo Milling Co. is also practically sold out.

L. S. See had a car released the first of the week and it was sold within an hour. Harry Willisfield also received a car which he utilized to fill orders booked some weeks ago.

The demand for coal far exceeds the present supply, and when the few tons now on hand among the local dealers are disposed of, there may not be any shipment here for an indefinite time. This is the situation at the present time, and unless relief is given, many families in the city will be entirely without fuel.

NEWBERRY FACES JUDGE SESSIONS

SENATOR STANDS MUTE WHEN ARRAIGNED

Trials to Start Jan. 27 and Special Venire of 150 Jurors Ordered to Hear Case

Senator Newberry stood mute when arraigned before Judge Sessions in the United States District court in Grand Rapids yesterday afternoon and was recorded as pleading not guilty after his counsel had explained the United States senator was not guilty but desired to stand mute in order to take advantage of certain legal questions that might be raised as to the validity of the indictments.

The senator and thirteen others of the men indicted by the grand jury which conducted the investigation into the so-called Newberry election scandal were arraigned under two indictments. There were eighteen mentioned in the second indictment as well as among the 136 indicted under the first true bill.

Those in the first group were Senator Newberry, John S. Newberry, Paul H. King, Allan A. Templeton, B. Frank Emery, Charles A. Floyd, Hannibal A. Hopkins, Frederick Cody, Milton Oakman, H. O. Turner, F. P. Smith, Clarence Sibben, Mark T. McKee and James F. McGregor.

Those arraigned in the second group and who followed suit in the manner of the first contingent were as follows: Roger M. Andrews, Richard H. Fletcher, Benjamin F. Reed, William M. Calton, William T. Hosner, F. W. Castator, Guy L. Ingalls, John Cawood, George W. John, Edwin Goodwin and Zalie Clogio.

Judge Sessions also directed that a special venire of 150 jurors be summoned for the election scandal trial Tuesday, Jan. 27. He directed, too, that on the back of each summons there be printed an order from the court directing that prospective jurors refrain from any discussion of the case and permit no one to discuss it with them or in their presence.

Before court adjourned four more of those indicted under the first true bill appeared before Judge Sessions and stood mute. The court directed pleas of not guilty. These respondents were F. A. Gilbert, Bay City; Fred Henry, Flint; Benjamin Cero and Frank Guignon, of Manistique.

NEW GARAGE IS WELL UNDER WAY

Additional Floor Space Badly Needed for Some Time

Work on the new addition to the garage building of Henry Block, corner Antrim and State streets, is well under way, and unless prevented by extreme cold weather, it will be completed on schedule time.

The additional floor space has been badly needed for some time as the repair business has more than doubled in the past year. The floor space of the new addition will be utilized entirely as a repair shop, and the rooms of the old building for the display of accessories and electrical equipment.

CLARION GROCER DIES AFTER YEAR'S ILLNESS

Former Resident of Chandler Township and Well Known Here

Lynna Clark, Clarion grocer, died Friday night of last week at his home there following a year's illness. Mr. Clark formerly resided in Chandler township and went from there to Clarion some years ago. His health began failing and for the past year had been forced to give up all work. He was thirty-six years of age.

Besides his wife and mother he leaves one small son. Funeral services were held Sunday from Clarion, burial at Clarion cemetery, Rev. Samuel Brooks, pastor of the Clarion church, in charge.

Charlevoix Grange

Charlevoix Grange met Monday evening in their new hall on Antrim street, with a good attendance. Three new members were received besides several applications for membership. The next regular meeting will be held on Monday evening, December 21.

GRAND RAPIDS NOTICES WAGLEY

EMMET PIONEER CALLED IN NEWBERRY CASE

Indicted Man Has Eventful Career as Sailor, Hunter and Farmer
at Cross Village

No more picturesque figure has appeared in federal court at Grand Rapids in connection with the Newberry election investigation than John Wagley, of Cross Village, indicted by the federal grand jury as a participant in the alleged conspiracy to seat Truman H. Newberry in the United States senate. Wagley is under $500 bond to reappear in court when the case comes to trial.

Wagley presented a striking picture when he stepped before Judge C. W. Sessions in United States District court Wednesday morning and unflinchingly answered "Not guilty" to the charge against him. Despite his seventy-one years he is powerfully built and six feet tall, a man of the pioneer type for which this state is famous.

Having lived all his life in the north part of the state where the Indians held sway until recent years, he has had many a thrilling experience as a sailor, hunter and fisherman who was always fearless and rugged. He has braved the dangers of a gale on the Straits of Mackinac to rescue five men from an overturned schooner and he has tracked down many a deer in the north woods. Latterly, however, he has been a politician of the republican persuasion and has held office as a supervisor of Emmet county.

Wagley started sailing the lakes in '62, when a lad of twelve, his father being a sailor. It was ten years later that he went out with his boat in the teeth of a bitter gale to the aid of a schooner that had grounded on the Mackinaw shoals. The tug that had pulled the steamer free was in difficulty for the towline had caught in the wheel. The tug was forced to cast loose from the schooner, which had filled with water and toppled on its side, endangering the lives of the sixteen men aboard. Before Wagley could get his little craft to the scene eleven men were washed away and drowned, but he took the five survivors aboard and bucked the gale until he had landed them safely.

"I always go straight to the point I set out to make," was Wagley's characteristic comment in telling the story. He said he left Mackinaw a number of years ago to make his home in Cross Village. — Petoskey Evening News.

CITIZENS PLAN COM- MUNITY XMAS TREE

Project a Good One and Should be Librally Supported

A number of the business men of the city have been busy the past week endeavoring to instill a little pep in the vicinity. The latest project under way is the community Christmas tree.

This proposed Christmas tree would be placed in the corner of Bridge and Clinton streets and would remain lighted and in place the entire holiday period.

R. F. Slonn has volunteered to get the tree from the Loch farm. Wood Brothers have offered to wire the tree and take care of the lighting, the power for which will be furnished by the city.

There is no reason why Charlevoix cannot be like other cities and put this community Xmas tree across. It builds up the general spirit of the people and brings them closer together and betters the co-operation of the city.

Let's pull together and make a success of this project.

NEW DOG LAW EFFECTIVE JAN. 10

Declared as "Public Nuisances", If Without License Tags

After January 10, any dog not wearing a license tag, which may be found anywhere except on the premises of its owner can be killed by any officer or any person.

Under the new law, after January 10, a dog that is not licensed is defined in the law, as a "public nuisance," and any person is privileged to take the dog's life as explained above.

The license tags can now be procured from the city and township treasurers. They will cost $3.00 for a male dog, $6.00 for a female dog, and $2.00 for an unsexed dog.

The license tag must be attached to a collar and worn by the dog constantly while the dog is being used in hunting game.

This law should be thoroughly enforced and if it is, it ought to mean a big reduction in the dog population and give farmers a chance to keep sheep again.

MICHIGAN GRAINS WIN HONORS AT BIG SHOW

Majority of Rye and Wheat Prizes
Brought Back to State

Eight out of the sixteen prizes awarded for samples of rye, more than half of all the premiums given out in the class for wheat, and high awards for other crop exhibits, are among the notable victories scored by Michigan farmers at the International Grain and Hay show, which closed its week of display on December 6, at Chicago.

In their class for wheat (soft red winter) Michigan growers competed against the entire United States and Canada, such famous wheat states as Kansas and the Dakotas being included. In spite of the high class of competition met, state farmers came off with flying colors, as their total of more than half the prizes indicates.

There was but one class for rye, including entries from all the states and Canada, but Michigan men succeeded in pulling down 8 of the 16 prizes offered.

Another feature of the exhibits which is regarded as a triumph for Michigan farming interests is the fact that Rosen Rye and Red Rock Wheat, varieties developed and introduced by the Michigan Agricultural college, stood head and shoulders over any thing else at the show. Rosen Rye took first, fourth, and fifth places among its total of nine awards out of the possible sixteen, while no other variety of rye entered succeeded in cornering the prizes to any extent at all.

The same was true of wheat. Red Rock took the first three places in its class, along with many other lower awards, and was easily the outstanding wheat of the show. Although first place was lost to Michigan in the wheat entries (John Dunbar, of Rudyard won second honors), local growers take consolation in the fact that the Ohio man who carried off the blue ribbon did it with a Michigan product—Red Rock.

The Michigan Educational exhibit at the show was the largest and best entered, the Michigan Crop Improvement Association, the Michigan Potato Growers Exchange, and the Michigan Agricultural College uniting to prepare the display. A large map of the state upon which were posted views of the varied farming industries, a mound of selected Petoskey potatoes, bins of Rosen Rye and Red Rock Wheat, and a special display for the Uppen Peninsula were features of the state display.

"Practically all the Michigan exhibits which were at Chicago will be on hand for the Crop Improvement show during Farmers Week at the College, the first of February," says J. W. Nicolson, secretary of the Michigan Crop Improvement Association. "Other growers who did not exhibit at the International will get into the game at this time and see how their samples compare with the best in the state. The result will be one of the best grain shows ever seen in Michigan, or any where else, for that matter."

Nearly 5,000 Deer Killed

So far the total number deer reported expressed across the Straits has mounted to 4,705, of which 2,408 were bucks and 2,297 were does. There were thirteen moose and several bear shipped across the Straits.

Petoskey to Save Daylight

The Petoskey city council has voted unanimously to turn the hands of the city clocks ahead one hour. The vote on the daylight saving plan followed the presenting of a petition to that body signed by practically all the industries and commercial enterprises of the city. The change took place at 2 a. m. last Sunday morning.

Must Be Labeled

"Persons selling storage eggs or 'held' eggs without properly labeling boxes or telling customers what they are getting will be prosecuted under act 69 of the public acts of 1919," Assistant Prosecutor Allen P. Cox at Detroit announces. "Violation of the act constitutes a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine of $100 or three months in the county jail, or both. Investigators are out in various parts of Michigan."
